The Sorors and members of the Rho Club of the Rho Psi Phi Medical Sorority, held their annual Garden Party to the public Sunday afternoon at the Sorority House from 3 to 7; during those hours about one hundred friends called. A very interesting program consisting of two musical selections by Mrs. Laura Smitherman, a reading by Mrs. Lizzie Hill, two vocal solos by Mrs. A. T. Jones, violin solo by Mrs. R. Smith, the history of the sorority by Dr. Georgia Offutt, two vocal solos by Mrs. Evelyn Warren were all well rendered. Delicious refreshments were served during the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Miller, 840 Worchester Avenue, Pasadena, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Anderson, 857 N. El Molino Ave., Pasadena, had a delightful motor trip to San Diego. Spending Sunday and the holiday, returning safely back to the Crown City.

The Y. W. C. A. received Sunday afternoon from 4 to 7 in honor of their new Secretary, Mrs. Mattie Nelson and Miss Edwards the retiring Secretary, who will teach at Watts this winter.

La Golandrina Club girls met at Miss Evelyn Daniels, 1472 Central Avenue. The meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Thelma Lowery.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved. Miss Katherine Bass was elected reporter of the La Golandrina Club. "Well I ain't yet". Plans on preparations are being made for the Toonerville Carniville in the near future.

K. B.

Mrs. Holmes entertained the Pleasure Seekers with a Kiddie Party on Wednesday 24th. The afternoon was very well spent. Most of guests wore kiddie costume. Games were played on the beautiful lawn of the hostess' home. Then a very delicious luncheon was served on the lawn after which whist was played for an half hour. Prizes won by Mrs. Bill; Mrs. Rhemm and Mrs. Trice. The guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Bill, Mrs. Trice, Mrs. Rhemm, Mrs. Johnson.

The Topeka, Kansas, guests at the Allen Hotel this week include: Mesdames Charles Davis, A. E. Valuzette, W. H. Washington, Alice Bailey, John R. Hicks, R. J. Norman and Thomas Wilson.

Accompanied by Mrs. Allen, proprietress of the hotel, the guests visited the Eagle plant Wednesday morning.

The Just Us Whist Club on last Saturday night was entertained with a tacky party. There was a prize to be given for the tackiest costume which was worn by Miss Johnson. After the prize was given the guests were served a delicious refreshment.

Miss Verda Reed entertained the Abovita Whist Club at her home last Wednesday evening. Decorations were pink and green. Delicious refreshments were served. Prizes were won by Mrs. Harrison, 1st; Mr. Cecil Cathcart, 2nd; Mrs. Leslie Harper, booby; Mrs. Pauline Whipple, guest prize. Miss Reed proved a charming little hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Rollins formerly of Santa Barbara motored through Los Angeles en route to San Diego, their future home last week. Mrs. Rollins was formerly Miss Junnetta Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Cole of this city.

Hot dogs and roasted marshmellows, but didn't the E. Pluribus Unum Club have a good ol' time on their weiner bake at the Palasades last Friday? And the watermelon gave all a juicy good time, too. Ask big hearted Al, he knows. The only thing that spoiled the party was a little shower from above.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Harvey of 1349 W. 37th St. and the Misses Mary and Corine Stovall of 1300 Fleming St., are home after spending a while at Big Bear Lake.

Miss Helen Wheeler was hostess last Friday evening at a beautifully appointed dinner party honoring Mr. John Riddle, who sailed last Saturday for Honolulu, where he will coach a professional football team, and assume duties with an architectural firm. Covers were laid for ten.

LA VOLUNTE FAIRE

The regular meeting of the La Volunte Faire Club was held at the home of Miss Marguerite Coche on Saturday, August 27, 1927. Plans for a play to be given in the near future, were discussed. The next meeting will be held at the hame of Miss Emma Carter on September 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Witherspoon, prominent Angelenos, motored to Elsinore to spend a quiet vacation. After a sufficient rest they planned motoring to San Diego to visit friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Watson entertained their sons, Arnold and Edward with an unusually appointed dancing party at the beautiful home of Mrs. A. J. Prosper on East Adams St. The spacious halls, large garden was enjoyed every minute of the time by some two hundred of our younger set. Edward and Arnold are being heralded as wonderful hosts for echoes of the party are still being heard.

The stork made a visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Boggs at 2310 Hooper Avenue, Friday, August 26, and left a bright-eyed baby girl, little Lenitia, 7 pounds and 7 ounces. Mother and baby are doing well.

NOTICE TO UNIVERSITY WOMEN

Accommodatons can be had at the Rho Psi Phi Sorority House, located at 1259 W. 36th Place, EMpire 4864, five blocks from the University of Southern California and two blocks from Vermont car line for $12.00 a month, two in a room with the privilege of washing, ironing, cooking and the use of the telephone and piano. Special arrangements can be made to board with the matron, Mrs. Rosa Henry.

VISITORS AND FRIENDS GUESTS OF MR. AND MRS. C. E. PEARL ON HOLIDAY TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Pearl were host and hostess to a party of friends and visitors on a week-end and holiday jaunt to San Diego on last Sunday and Monday. Their beautiful Locomobile transported at this time Mrs. F. A. Scott and son, Norris, of Houston, Texas; Miss Ora Scott; Mr. L. Westbrooks; J. E. Prowd and the very congenial host and hostess. Upon arrival in San Diego the party was the guest of Mrs. Johnson, who made everything most pleasant for all. Mr. Prowd was also the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson of Coronada over Sunday and the greater part of Labor Day. Everyone returned safe and sound to Los Angeles late Monday evening, expressing the very pleasant time had, and with many thanks to the hospitable Mr. and Mrs. Pearl.

DIRECTRESS GIVEN SURPRISE PARTY

Sunday afternoon, September 4th, Mrs. Mozelle Te Outley, directress of St. Paul Chdir and eminent piano teacher of the city, was given a surprise party honoring her birthday, by the members of the choir at her home, 912 E. 54th Street.

It proved to be really a complete surprise and an extremely pleasant one at that. The choir members went to her home directly after church service to prepare for her arrival. By careful planning, Mrs. Outley was kept away from home until everything had been put in readiness.

Upon her arrival, she was greeted with a song "Happy Birthday to You" sung by the choir and was presented with a large basket of flowers.

A lovely musical program followed, which was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Outley gave a few remarks of appreciation. After which, a dainty two-course luncheon was served.

Mrs. Otuley was the recipient of some beautiful and useful birthday gifts among which was a large birthday cake decorated with candles.

No! She didn't tell her age.

HONOR GRAND OFFICERS

Mr. and Mrs. S. Oliver of 935 E. 33rd street entertained in honor of Grand Officers and Past Grand Officers of U. B. F. and S. M. T. at a beautiful breakfast Saturday, August 27, at 10 o'clock.

Covers were laid for 24. Those present were: Mr. E. R. Swain, Grand Master; Rev. J. E. McCorkle, Past Grand Master; Mrs. Lucy Norwood, Grand Princess; Mrs. Mamie Hicks, Past Grand Princess; Mr. Morgan T. White, G. Counsellor; Mrs. S. P. Shores, Grand Empress; Mr. I. Lawrence Bennett, Grand Secy., U. B. F.; Mrs. W. L. Willingham, Grand Treasurer; Rev. J. W. Jordan, Grand CounseHor; Mrs. Ida Robinson, G. Secy., S. M. T.; Mrs. A. E. Seldon, Grand Auditor; Mrs. Irene McCorkle, Grand Organist; Mrs. Winnie B. Pope, Grand Trustee; Mrs. Hattie B. Williams, Grand Zilia; Mrs. Etta Daggett, Vice-Grand Mother Matron; Mrs. Mary Cole, Ass't. Secy., Grand Juvenile; Mrs. L. Haynes; Mrs. Leola Flory; Mrs. Ida Mae Harris.

During the breakfast hour a round table talk was had interspersed by musical numbers.

The host and hostess were thanked for their generous hospitality by all present declaring this to be the most pleasant affair of the past Grand Session.

MISS MACKLIN SPENDS WEEK-END AT BIG BEAR LAKE

Miss Della Macklin and Mr. Lawrence Norton were guests of Mrs. White for a week-end holiday party at Big Bear Lake. All are loud in their acclamation of the wonderful time had and report accommodations and fecilities for camping, etc., good.

SOME OF THE MANY AFFAIRS TENDERED MRS. CRAW

Some of the outstanding affairs given in honor of Mrs. J. L. Craw and son, Floyd Covington, while sojourning in our midst, was a well appointed dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Johnson, assisted by their sister Miss Nellie Johnson, at the home of the latter.

The dinner party was an elaborte one indeed. The service was buffet style with small tables placed throughout the living and dining rooms. The house throughout was a profusion of the fall's most beautiful cut flowers.

The guests were: Mrs. Lillian J. Craw and sister, Mrs. Maud Gentry, her little daughter, Ella Lillian, all of Topeka, Kansas; Mrs. Brinson; Jessie L. Terry; Misses Emma L. Sayers and Nellie Johnson; Mother Johnson and Baby Marie; also Messers. Nathaniel Smith, Floyd Covington, Ralphe Bunch and Thomas L. Johnson.

A private picnic, given at Echo Park by Mrs. Jessie L. Terry, assisted by Mrs. F. W. Conway, in honor of Mrs. J. L. Craw and Mrs. Maude Gentry of Topeka, Kansas and Mrs. Davis of Houston, Texas, who is the sister of Mrs. Wm. D. Miller and Mrs. Sykes of Chicago, Ill., proved to be very delightful.

Oakland Entertains Golden State Officials

Several officials of the Golden State Guarantee Fund Insurance Co., who spent their vacations in Oakland and San Francisco, were royally entertained by the people of the northern cities.

Mr. Wm. Nickerson, Jr., the president of the company, delivered several enthusiastic addresses that have inspired the people of that community on to greater business activity.

Dr. H. H. Towles, Chief Medical Examiner of the company, gave a splendid address on "Longevity of Life." Mr. J. H. Shackelford, Vice-President, Mr. A. Hartley Jones, member of Executive Committee and Mr. E. T. Banks, Director, are the other officials of the company who enjoyed the hospitality of the northern cities. These executives have all returned and have again assumed their respective duties with renewed vigor. They report a glorious vacation and are unstinted with their praise of Northern California.

MR. AND MRS. CLARENCE E. MILLS ADD NEW MEMBER TO FAMILY

Mr. Clarence E. Mills of Pasadena, editor of the "Informer," mouthpiece of the Friendship Baptist Church of that city, is passing the cigars and wearing a smile that almost beams. The cause is that Mr. Stork paid the Dunbar Hospital a visit and deposited a fine bouncing baby boy into the arms of Mrs. Clarence Mills. The mother is doing nicely and the new addition is already crowing louder than the father. Congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. Mills.

The Pyramid Social Club entertained about seventy-five friends with a delightful outing in Monrovia Canyon on Labor Day.

GLADYS GREENAWAY

Well, we spent all day Tuesday getting the dust from the roads out of our eyes and our throats. Don't misunderstand us—we stayed at home Monday, (Labor Day) but so many Eureka buses, not to mention cars of all makes and years, passed our house, that dust lay spread over our velvety lawn like a lace curtain. In the wee sma' hours o' the morning (Monday) we could hear "Tia Juana beah I come." And we guess they got there.

We will now write a more complete report on the Lone Wolf social which was held August 31st at the home of Mr. Bobbie Britt on W. 36th St. The members of the club first held their meeting and then entertained thirty or more guests with cards and dancing. Mr. Houston Dials tickled the ivories. A splendid program was rendered, spokesman for the evening being the ever-popular Mr. Andy Thomas. The president of the club spoke on the aims of the members to make the club 100%. Guests from out ow town, as well as Los Angeles, were present. Everyone enjoyed the hospitality of this club to the highest and wish it much success.

Ocean Park is proving very popular with the colored folk. One must not be startled to see two or three hundred climb out of their cars and amble up Pier Avenue for Rene and his Syncopators play at Ocean Park every Sunday.

The Beauty Contest staged by the N. N. B. (Nil Nisi Bonum Club) went over with a "bang" at 15th and Main dance pavilion, September 1st. A record-breaking crowd assembled to view the beauties and dance to the goodly strains of Rene and his syncopators. The five who settled the momentous question of "who will be first," was Carolyn Snowdn and Messrs. Geo. Godfrey, Geo. S. Grant and Leroy Hart. The judges picked as winner of the large silver loving cup, petite Miss Ruth Givens, whose graceful manner and symmetry of form won the crowd instantly. She entered the contest as "Miss Seattle." The second prize, a small silver loving cup was won by Mrs. Bain, representing the "Silver Fox Club." She looked very charming in a silk bathing suit and wore a bandana of the same material over her long bob. A silver vanity case was presented to Vina Stovall as winner of the 3rd place. Mrs. Stovall wore a red bathing suit. Miss Snowden and Mr. Geo. Godfrey were widely acclaimed by the crowd, and deafening applause greeted both. Miss Snowden will give lucky Miss Givens a six weeks' contract. And so the contest closed with success written all over it.

The paper says "Jam Consumers newest rage." We wonder where they get the news, it's new. As long as we remember jam has always been very popular.

Mrs. Mary Lott Fryer of 1936 Hooper Avenue, gave a birthday party Monday, September 5th and many friends enjoyed the evening. Among those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. R. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Washington, Mr. and Mrs. O. Davis, Miss E. Lester, Miss R. Young, Mrs. A. Greenwood, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Leola Chatwick of Houston and many others and many beautiful presents were received.

Surrounded by her son, daughter, granddaughter, relatives and a host of friends, Mrs. Rozella Cooper of 1736 E. 51st St., was the recipient of many congratulations and gifts on the celebration of her 74th birthday, September 3, 1927.

ROBINSON-ALRIDGE NUPTIALS

Wednesday, the thirty-first of August, at high noon, marked the date of the most beautiful wedding that has taken place in Los Angeles society for many a season. Miss Robinez Robinson, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Robinson of 739 East Thirty-first street, was given in marirage to Aubrey Alridge.

The bride, a demure and talented little lady is a graduate of Los Angeles High School of '22 and attended the college of Music of U. S. C.

The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, with the living room converted into an altar, banked with white and yellow flowers and lighted candles. The ceremony was read by the Rev. Mr. N. P. Gregg.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white satin and lace, beaded with pearls and rhinestones, made period style. Her veil of tulle was edged with silver lace and held by a coronet of pearls. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds and sweet peas.

The bride's attendants were the Misses Dolly Townsend and Ella Matthews, maids of honor and Mrs. Cornelia Bradford, matron of honor. Miss Townsend, entered first, wearing a beautiful creation of green organdie over satin made bouffant, trimmed in lace and tiny rose buds and cut extreme period. Mrs. Bradford followed in a lovely gown of orchid and lace ruffles with basque effect. Miss Matthews wore pink organdie trimmed with flowers of various pastel shades. The three attendants wore slippers to match their gowns and carried huge bouquets of American beauty roses and sweet peas, tied with huge tulle bows. Little Miss Emily Josephine Brown, flower girl, was dressed after a fashion of the early '70s.

Mr. Lloyd Griffith acted as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Alridge left immediately after the ceremony for Phoenix, Arizona, where Mr. Alridge is principal of one of the city schools. Mr. Alridge is an alumnus of U. S. C., and a member of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Galbreath of Corona, Calif., the members and friends of the Friday afternoon club enjoyed a picnic Labor Day. About sixty left Los Angeles and Hollywood by motor. Games were played and enjoyed, and prizes given.

Woman Found Dead In Bath Tub

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Boston, Mass., Sept 7.—The body of Miss Marie Adams, 40, was found in the bath-tub of her room in a New Port, R. I., rooming house last Sunday. State Medical Examiner Hawthorne pronounced her death as due to a heart attack. No one seems to know how long the body had been in the tub when discovered.

Miss Adams had lived with Mrs. Glover of Dartmouth Street, Boston, a number of years. The two women worked each summer at the Jamestown, R. I., inn, and on their off days visited Newport, where they had rooms.

The deceased woman had no relatives. The body was shipped to Boston and buried in Mount Hope Cemetery, Tuesday.

REVIVAL

Now going on at Phillips Temple C. M. E. Church, 371 East 42nd Street, September 4th ending September 25th, 1927. Hear Mrs. Blanche Blakes, the Evangelist of Kansas City, Mo. She has a message for you. The public is invited to attend these services.

R. W. UNDERWOOD, Pastor.

TEACHER COLLECTS DAMAGES

While in attendance at Mills College, Miss E. Gertrude Chrisman was injured on an Oakland street car. In falling against an iron rail inside the car the tenth rib was fractured without misplacement. Very satisfactory damages were recovered through the co-opertion of Atty. Augustin Donovan of Oakland and his sister, Dr. Monica Donovan, an X-Ray specialist of San Francisco.

Miss Chrisman returned home last Friday on the Owl and will resume her duties in the Americanization Dept. of the L. A. City Schools on Sept. 12.

District Grand Master's Address to Annual Grand Session

RECOMMENDATIONS

The one master passion that has possessed me as your Grand Master, has been a desire to build up a great and strong and progressive and aggressive Jurisdiction. To that end we must counsel, plan and work.

New occasions teach new duties
Time makes ancient good uncouth.
They must ever on and upward
Who would keep abreast with youth.

New and aggressive ideas must be conceived and materialized to make a stronger appeal to the uninitiated. With this thought uppermost in mind and after a careful and prayerful consideration of the whole situation, I do recommend,—

1ST—A SCHOLARSHIP FUND

It is or should be the chief aim of Odd Fellowship, to serve both the old and the young, in the best ways possible. Already, we have begun to work along lines that will, when materialized, shelter and protect the aged. But, as far as I know, no organized effort has been made by the order, purely, for the benefit of our young people.

A small fee, say, ten cents per member, per year, would yield the sum of $150.00, which should constitute a scholarship fund, to be offered to the children of Odd Fellows, or to those belonging to the Juvenile branch or to the public, if the Grand Lodge so elects. This scholarship should be awarded upon a competitive basis, say, to the boy or girl finishing high school with the best rating both in scholarship and deportment and should apply on the said student's college course. It is impossible to enumerate the wonderful results that would accrue to the order from this small investment. Besides helping young Negroes to secure higher education, Odd Fellows would profit by the publicity which would result. The Odd Fellow Scholarship would be much sought for prize and in as much as this would be the first of the fraternities in the West to take such a step, it would serve to impress the public with our unselfish desire to help, outside the fixed limits of the lodge room. To my mind it would be as bread cast upon the water.

2ND—AN INTER-FRATERNAL CONGRESS

It is a fact that the Odd Fellow Fraternity is, rightly, called a "Friendly Society." Let us go a step further and make that term apply to our attitude toward all other fraternal societies. My recommendation is that plans be laid and steps taken to secure the co-operation of all other fraternal organizations in coming together for the purpose of organizing a great inter-fraternal congress, that will be big, strong and influential enough to take care of the interests of and defend the rights of our people.

One of our baby lodges, in Blyth, Calif., is undertaking a community survey, for its group. That only indicates what might be undertaken by the fraternities united as a whole and working together in each and every community.

The heads of the fraternities should be brought together as an Inter-fraternal working committee, acting upon a fixed program, for the best interest of the race, in all matters. This would save much duplication of effort and focus our energies and efforts. This is an age of organization and coordination. One great organization working on a big, broad racial program could accomplish a hundred times more than all working as separate bodies.

We, indeed, have enough opposition to force us to get together. And I do believe that such a movement would do more to unite our group than any other social factor among us. No proposition would be too big for such an organization to handle. Matters of business, social affairs, and questions affecting our well-being such as segregation, prejudice and the like should be the topmost concern of the Inter-fraternal Congress.

3RD.—I recommend that we put on a six-months' intensive membership drive. That same be advertised in the Northern and Southern Race papers, calling attention to the big dispensation and giving names and addresses of the P. S., in different localities from whom information may be had. The bill for this should be borne by all the lodges in as much as all would share in the benefits and, too, the cost upon such based would be very small.

4TH.—I recommend the adoption of a uniform code of by-laws for lodges, this, however, to be subjected to the approval of the subordinate lodges, with blanks where necessary to be filled to suit local conditions and requirements. This would give Grand Officers the advantage of knowing the law, as they travel from lodge to lodge and not subject them to the humility of having to confess their ignorance of the law governing this or that local condition.

5TH—I recommend that all lodges, having one or more death during the year, hold Annual Memorial Services, as near the National Memorial Day, May 30th, as possible. Where and when convenient these services should be made joint affairs.

6TH.—I recommend that this district Grand Lodge carry a roster of its Grand Officers in the race papers of San Francisco, Oakland and Los Angeles.

7TH.—I recommend that there be appointed efficient persons conveniently located to be known as Supervisors, whose duty shall be to instruct, assist and encourage small and weak lodges.

I suggest that all the delegates on going from this Grand Session, see to it that the P. S. and Treasurers of their respective lodges, give good and sufficient bond. Experience has taught us that a stitch in time saves nine. Further, that wherever it is possible, that all bills be paid by bank check, bearing the names of at least two officers.

I would also suggest that our Executive Board become an active body. Actively functioning in its legal capacity, during the year and rendering to each Grand Session a full statement of its official acts. If time permits, I hope to give our Executive Board an opportunity to make such a report, before this session ends.

CONCLUSION

And, finally, my brethren, after a hard year of uphill struggles, I return to you, untarnished, the mantle of authority which was placed about my shoulders, at the last session. I may not have accomplished all that either you or I anticipated one year ago, but under the circumstances, I have done the best that I could. In my actions, in all cases, I have kept the interest of the order as a whole in mind, rather than that of any individual. I have had no foes to punish and no friends to reward. I have used my best efforts to be a big brother to every Odd Fellow, rather than assert my authority as his Grand Master. It is my policy to rule by love rather than fear. If I have made mistakes, and it is but human to make mistakes, remember and be assured that they have, in all cases been mistakes of the head and not of the heart.

I now commit to your wisdom, judgment and discression the record of my year's work as well as the business of this important session.

May peace spread her broad wings above you as you deliberate; may happiness possess your hearts as a result of your conscious efforts to act wisely and to deal justly, in all matters and may prosperity abound throughout the coming year as the immediate efforts of your judicious actions in such matters as may come before you.

And now, with malice toward none but with the very broadest and deepest and best spirit of goodwill toward all, I submit myself as,

ISAIAH ROBINSON, Grand Master

P. S.—So let our slogan be for the coming year—"Don't put it off, but put it over."

race man.

He was peaceful, kind, unassuming and well liked by all who knew him. He was a christian gentleman being a member and one of the founders of Tabernacle Baptist Church.

The funeral was held Thursday (yesterday) from the Second Baptist Church with Rev. J. D. Gordon, pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist Church officiating. Assisting ministers were: Reverends H. D. Prowd, W. R. Carter, W. D. Miller, A. P. Shaw, S. M. Beane, J. Madison Young, R. Underwood, E. Driver, L. M. Brown and Father Cleghorn. Remarks were given by Atty. Hugh E. Macbeth, Secy. T. A. Greene and Mr. W. A. Brown. Music was furnished by the Tabernacle Choir and solos rendered by Mrs. Naomi Pharr, Messrs. J. B. Jones and Emanuel Hall. Obituary read by Mrs. S. Strickland.

The church was packed to capacity and it was the largest crowd seen at a funeral for years. All of the race undertakers co-operated in making the funeral arrangements.

Mr. Roberts is survived by his wife, Ellen W. Roberts, one daughter, Mrs. Estelle Saunders, two sons, Frederick M. Roberts and W. C. Roberts, one sister and four brothers, grandchildren, other relatives and a host of friends.

Interment was at the Evergreen Cemetery.

NEWS OF THE CHURCH

Rev. Fletcher Wins

BY: BENJ. W. INGHRAM

St. Paul's African Methodist Episcopal Church in final closing for the year. Efficient ministry brings Dr. Flutcher to the top. His record for San Bernardino appointment places him before the eyes of the Church World, and particularly the Annual Conference of which he is a part. The age of dreamers is past and the hour for Workers is at hand, and truly the hour calls for Ministers who can work—but Church work calls for a Will backed up with knowledge, Preparation for the ministry will save African Methodism.

Dr. Flutcher studied San Bernardino's problem from every angle, then attacked the problem. Solving problems is the secret of Ministerial success in all Negro Churches. The minister must be larger than the situation. A minister without a church policy is powerless in the hands of the church officers. It is not a sign of friction if the minister has one view and his officers have another. But it is a sign of progress, because when men think, Men act. A minister must be intelligent and business-like. The hour calls for just this and nothing else. Fletcher and the Young People. The Prime cause of the Christian Church is to save, but that in itself will not do. The Church must be prepared to keep the boys and girls saved. Rev. Fletcher is succeeding well in this. I believe the record will show he has doubled his membership. He has established the good-will of the church in the eyes of all the people. He has painted the Church on the exterior, and redecorated the interior. He has placed the whole church on record with number A-1 A. M. E. Churches. St. Paul is looked on as such by the Conference. He has refinanced the church, and the membership has suggested that he remain in San Bernardino, the full time that the conference will permit.

Rev. Flutcher goes to the conference with a full round report. The rally to his support comes for three prime causes: Moral Worth and Sterling Character; Pulpit Decorum and Church Pride; His business and financial ability; third, his Ministry. We could speak at length on this, for he is a trained African Methodist and follows the discipline. His preaching is strictly Biblical and forceful, and with it is the dignity which becomes the minister. He is a man with great pride yet sometimes misunderstood. If you would love and respect this great Methodist, get close enough to him to know him.

Distinguished lecturer, educator and author of the University of California, Friday, Sept. 16th at 8 P. M. sharp. Dr. Woellner advocates equal justice for all races. Randolph to Tour Country in Interest of the Pullman Porters

A. Philip Randolph, General Organizer of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, nationally known economist, orator and labor leader, is beginning a nation-wide tour to put the finishing touches on a piece of labor organization work that has occupied the attention of the whole country and particularly labor and industrial circles for the past two years. The Pullman Porters are the first Black Americans to organize into a labor union, and so well has the organization work been done that the Pullman Company, fighting desperately, with its back to the wall, has been forced by fear into a dangerous position. The Pullman Company is refusing to mediate, arbitrate, or even discuss the Porters' demand for recognition and a living wage. Knowing the weakness of its case, the Pullman Company realizes that it would lose before any impartial tribunal which had the power to decide the matter.

The tour of Mr. Randolph is for the purpose of forcing the company from its dictatorial position. According to the Pullman Company the whole world is upside down. They seem to contend that the law is wrong; porters are children who do not know their own minds; the public is a bunch of nuts because they do not wish to continue paying the porters' wages through the tipping system and therefore they, the public, are supporting the porters in their fight for a living wage.

The next move of the porters will be to take the fight directly to the President of the United States through the systematic and effective mobolizing of the already existing public sentiment against the "Simon Legree" attitude of the Pullman Company. As soon as the porters have proven to the President that the Pullman Company's refusal to deal with their employees according to the law constitutes a national emergency, the President must then, under the law, appoint an Emergency Board which will investigate the matter and decide the controversy. This decision will be mandatory upon the Pullman Company.

Mr. Randolph will be accompanied by A. L. Totten, Ass't. General Organizer, and their tour will bring them to Los Angeles, October 2nd, where they will remain and hold a series of meetings until October 7th, departing then for Oakland and points North.

Prominent Speakers At First A. M. E. Zion Church

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 11TH "MEN'S DAY"

Those who for the past few years have attended the "Men's Day" exercises at the First A. M. E. Zion Church corner of Pico and Paloma sreets, will recall that these exercises have attracted wide public attention. This is because "Men's Day" at the Zion Church is more than a mere church occasion. It is a community event. It is the annual occasion on which this church offers to the people of Los Angeles the opportunity to hear discussions on vital human problems, by speakers whose broad culture and high position in world affairs make them authorities upon any subject they may elect for public address. The public will recall the fine address delivered a year ago by the Japanese Consul.

Next Sunday, the 11th, two speakers of equal distinction will be presented. One at the 11 o'clock service Sunday morning, and the other at the night service, at 8 o'clock. One from the Orient and one from the Occident. In other words, we shall have at morning and evening exercises reflections of the culture of Asia and the culture of America, respectively.

HINDU SCHOLAR AND ATTORNEY ON WORLD DOMINATION

Mr. S. G. Pandit, a prominent attorney and native of India, will speak at the 11 o'clock service. His subject will be "The End of the White Man's World Domination." Besides his prominence in the legal profession, Mr. Pandit is a writer, lecturer and scholar of international reputation. Everyone who is interested in what is happening in the world today, should hear Mr. Pandit. It will be a rare privilege.

DEPUTY DISTRICT ATTORNEY DENNISON TO SPEAK AT NIGHT

Deputy District Attorney E. J. Dennison, chief criminal prosecutor of the District Attorney's Office of Los Angeles County, is an outstanding character in Southern California. He probably knows more about the weak places in human society than any other public official in Los Angeles. Mr. Dennison will speak Sunday night. He will deliver a straight and forceful message which every citizen should hear.

The public will be welcome at both the morning and evening programs. A feature will be specially selected music directed by Prof. W. M. Byrum of the Zion Church Choir.

CLASSES FOR ADULTS AT LAFAYETTE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

The English Classes for adults will organize at Lafayette Junior High School, Corner of 12th street and Naomi Ave., Room 16, Wednesday, at 9 A. M., Mrs. Murdoch in charge. Both beginning and advanced reading, writing, spelling, grammar and arithmetic will be taught if there are enough people wishing to enroll.

The vocational cooking class for adults will not be organized for a week or two. Watch for announcement regarding it. If there is enough demand sewing, hand-work and millinery classes will be organized a little later.

Mrs. Murdoch is back from her leave of absence and will have charge of the adult work as she has in the past. She is especially anxious to have a good English Class from the first of the year and will appreciate it if everyone reading this notice will give it as wide publicity as possible, especially among their friends who do not read and write & whose prevous educational opportunities have been limited. If there is large enough enrollment, beginning and advanced classes will meet at different times which will be more satisfactory to all concerned.

DON'T FORGET

When! Wednesday, September 14, 1927—9:00 A. M.

What! Organization meeting for all English classes for adults.

Who! Mrs. Murdoch in charge.

BUSINESS SHY

The tendency of our local forces who essay to do business and their woeful lack of co-ordination to put the same over is pitiful to the extreme. True we have quite a few businesses which are successful in a way and this fact is only the greater reason why a business league of some sort or fashion should function to the utmost. It would mean a continued advancement for more business and bigger business along all lines of effort. In this situation it is apparent that our local business men are asleep at the switch or in other words they essay to do business but are absolutely "Business Shy." With business galore all around them and about them, they are passive and as it were are looking out the window as the procession of business activity passes by.

The utter failure of our local Business League to function is not only a tragedy but a reflection upon the capacity and ability of our men and women to do business, above all others there is no excuse in the premises to organize for business purposes and demonstrate the business acumen of our folk. Fifty thousand of our group without one organization functioning to corral at least a portion of the business thereof is a sad, sad reflection. Oh ye embryotic business men and women of Los Angeles, ye sluggards of business effort, wake up and do something or forever renounce your claim as a part and parcel of the procession of progress.

FEDERATED CLUB EFFORT

We cannot fail to call attention to the progress thus far of the plain, common, everyday people who gather from time to time in their effort to concentrate on a drive to procure recognition for our group along all lines of effort. The movement has thus far withstood the fire of the malecontents which would hamper and destroy it and goes on its way nourished and supported by this the ordinary, everyday, plain, common, average persons. You will not find the professional men present at its meetings, likewise you will not find the politicians and self-appointed leaders. This to our mind is a good omen for after all if we are to make progress, it has been long since demonstrated that it is the people themselves who will bring the same to pass. Therefore the Federated Club in its mission for recognition is filling its niche and truly is deserving of the most splendid support which it has received up to this time.

EQUIPPED FOR SERVICE

The writer at this moment is in the city of Oakland in the office of one of the progressive and leading physicians and we are much impressed with the mighty strides of Dr. O. W. DeVaughn in his profession, his up-to-date and modern equipment puts him in the front rank as equipped to serve the populace. His progress is attested by the endless line of patients who await their turn in his consultation room. There are no frills about Dr. DeVaughn, he has demonstrated that he is here for service and the people of Oakland show their appreciation for this trait by giving to him their hearty support.

REWARD TO THE FAITHFUL

Strong in the faith and eternally faithful to a trust, John H. Taylor is in a position to reap his reward as one unit of a force which swept the present State administration into office. This writer stopped a moment at the great Ferry Building in San Francisco last week and found Mr. Taylor perched in his former concession and with an extra one in progress of completion; he is in a position to not only reap a reward for service rendered but at the same time through employment of assistants to help others to earn a living wage.

This is indeed a trait of character well worthy of emulation and demonstrates the efficacy of honest effort for Taylor, through thick and thin, was ever loyal to a cause and contributed to the best of his ability for the success of those who ascended to power and they did not forget him and rendered their reward to the faithful one.

DREAM AND SUCCEED

Dreams are made of star dust, we are told, but a better recipe is suggestion and imagination. Those who can look at a brick and see a castle are builders of a bigger and better world.

To be serviceable an imagination must be exercised. Do you want a suggestion? Look about you; a weed becomes an industry. If you want more encouragement turn to the classified advertisements and there you will find an ever changing department store full of them.

The business manager advises you to read classified advertisements when you want a job, an automobile or a candlestick, but these things are all at the main entrance of the store. Visit the bargain basement and the upper floors where great treasures are stored: uncensored news of human activities, relative values in parallel columns, heart-throbs and character studies to educate and entertain. Best of all, however, is the stuff that keeps dreams alive.

There are only three kinds of dreams; those that are forgotten, those that never change and those that come true. Mount your wishes on thought and effort and they will ride to realization.

A man in love will do anything, but he usually does nothing.

Nothing hurts your luck as much as thinking you haven't any.

All compliments received are the property of the person giving them and should be returned.

COMMENTS

BY: W. J. WHEATON

It was predicted that the big annual session of the I. B. P. O. E. which convened in New York City, August 22nd would develop into a political "pow wow." It did. We know the caliber of the men who are seeking to further political aspirations. Fraternalism was forgotten in the mad scramble to get a firm hold on the reins of the Order. "Human greed" the parisite which saps the vitality of the fraternal plant, is hard to eradicate. Selfish motives which kill the seeds implanted by Charity are hard to kill when once they gain root. Men, in the mad scramble for pelf forgot the splendid attribute of benevolence, and the lust of power obscured the spiritual vision of fraternal brotherhood. The acting mayor who welcomed the Grand Lodge had the sense to eschew all reference to politics.

State politics in California are quiet. All interest is centered in the harmonizing of the interests of the States in the Boulder Dam project. The governors of the States effected held a conference in Denver and sought to come to some agreement as to the allocation of the waters of the Colorado when impounded. At this writing there is an "Empasse" in the clash of the California, Arizona claims. It is to be hoped that some way will be found for a successful ending of the controversy as the building of the Dam means volumes to the prosperity of the States traversed by the Colorado River and its tributaries. If State politics are quiet the same cannot be said for the City of San Francisco. Then, the contest for the Mayoralty is beginning to wage with fervor. We hope that the voters will keep an "Eagle Eye" on the candidates who would be supervisors. Tremendous power is vested in that group of city officials. They govern or make provision for governing the city. The Mayor can but veto. Keep an eye on them.

There should be some concentrated effort on the part of the Colored vote. A division of interest cannot avail of any good politically. You must show the victor that you were a potent factor in the victory before you can assume to ask or demand recognition for "services rendered." There is one Race man in whom the politicians place absolute confidence. They never question the loyalty or integrity of "Honest" John Taylor. John doesn't aspire to leadership, political or otherwise. He has won his way by simply adhering to the path—which few politicians follow—HONESTY. If that path was more frequented by those who seek to direct our political destinies the Colored voters of California might have something to show. Down in Los Angeles they threaten to inaugurate a Recall for Mayor Cryer. Funny to say, but the "Angel City" has been more prolific of municipal scandals than any "Burgh" in California. It might be, we won't say for sure, that the proximity of Hollywood and its movie stars, who revel in publicity stunts, is responsible for the many activities that keep Los Angeles celebrities on the front page. It's either politics or religion with some big financial scandal sandwiched between.

Really: the most beneficial conference, that is judging from a humanitarian standpoint. The constructive deliberations and plans for scientific research if carried out will mean much for the physical health and material wealth of the race. Hospitals were planned, and a survey was ordered for those already existing. It was made known that many of the so-called hospitals are merely dumping places or boarding houses without any scientific appliances for research or the battling of disease. The Negro physician works under a great handicap. He is barred, practically, from the exercising of his theoretical knowledge by the prejudice of color. We believe that the scientifically equipped physician is one of the biggest assets of the Negro group. Upon him depends the health of the Race and upon the volume of health depends our progress.

The city of San Francisco is in a triangular fight, for who shall be mayor. It is an interesting fight and has attracted the attention of the nation. Somehow, ever since the national election of 1916 the voters of California have been in political spotlight. One can never tell. In the municipalities as well as throughout the State, there is a silent vote which only makes a noise after the ballots are counted. The Uhl platform is one of personal sacrifice. Just what appeal it will make to the voter remains to be seen. That shrewed political forecaster, John Taylor is casting his fortune on former Postmaster, James Powers. Taylor is known as an ardent Race advocate whose honesty of purpose and integrity cannot be questioned. The espousal of the cause of Powers by Taylor, should give to the former a splendid Race following and vote.

Could Calvin Coolidge have been re-elected president of the United States? President Coolidge is a canny politician. His trip West without doubt, opened his eyes and he could view the Western farm problem from a different angle, and the lack of enthusiasm, other than that accorded as the nation's chief maxistrate, was evident. That Hauges-McNary Ghost would not down. The absence of the Western leaders of the party was notable. A very apt phrase was used by that farmer who said, "Us Westerners are wondering that if, after all, we are but just stepchildren of the Republican party." President Coolidge was wise

GIRL WINNER IN LAKE MARATHON

Just 37 seconds behind Miss Smith came Emma Shemaitis, who won the event last year. Miss Shemaitis, representing the I. W. A. C., beat her sister, Mary, by a few seconds. Of the 242 girls who started, 205 finished the course.

Along Fisticuffs Row

COLORED BOXERS IN LIMELIGHT THIS WEEK

Each week brings Los Angeles nearer to being the pugilistic capital of the U. S., for there are more and better bouts here in one week than anywhere in the country. We might go farther and say in the whole world for California alone furnishes more contests weekly of the manly sport than many European countries do yearly. With the Owens-Lomski battle now history, the Roy Moore-Mike Hector battle at Wilmington over, the Hess-Licon fuss at Ocean Park all quiet, the week-end finds this on tap as we go to press.

THURSDAY

CULVER CITY—George Godfrey vs. Henry Van Patten, main event, ten rounds; Gene Baker vs. Walter Hoffman, semi-windup, six rounds; Joe Clark vs. LeRoy Kinney, six rounds; George Wilson vs. Nathaniel Hogan, four rounds; Billy McGowan vs. Eddie Darden, four rounds;

PASADENA—Neil Clisby vs. John O'Brien, main event, ten rounds; Frankie Tondorf vs. Joey Flores, semi-windup, six rounds; Nash Calderon vs. Sal Lopez, four rounds; Dud Eades vs Eddie Van Stane, four rounds; Mickey Jennings vs. Young Joe Jeanette, four rounds.

SAN BERNARDINO—Tony Fuente vs. Vic Alexander, main event, ten rounds; Hank Gatton vs. Raymond Regaldo, semi-windup, four rounds; Gene Eddy vs. Sammy Parker, four rounds; Otis Curry vs. Eddie Hanks, four rounds; Cecil Balding vs. Pat Patrick, four rounds; Louie Ferguson vs. Geo. Prieta, four rounds.

FRIDAY.

HOLLYWOOD—Harry Goldstein vs. Boy Wally, main event, ten rounds; Eddie White vs. Jimmy Borde, semi-windup, six rounds; Jimmy Murphy vs. Wildcat Evasco, six rounds; David Boyd vs. Joe Abramson, four rounds; Young Firpo Elisa vs. Tony Pino, four rounds.

COLORED BOXERS are getting good breaks this week and they well deserve them for most of them fight hard, long and faithfully to reach the top. Three main events—Pasadena, Culver City and San Bernardino—are held by colored fighters.

Clyde Calvin promising heavyweight holds a spot at Ocean Park.

THIS WEEK IN PICTURES: Nathan Curry and Oscar Smith at the Laskey Studio, in a Comedy Drama titled, "She is a Sheik," starring Bebe Daniels. At Metro Goldwyn Mayer, Carolyne Snowden and Lincoln Perry are still holding down their roles in "Old Kentucky." At Universal Studio, Harry Tracey, Gertrude Howard and George West, have been assigned small parts in a Southern story, the screen title to be "Virginia." This picture, like "Uncle Tom's Cabin," will call for the employment of a large number of our people. Hayes Robinson and Richard Colman are being carried by Director Pollard for some follow-up scenes for "Uncle Tom's Cabin." At the Chadwick Studios, Spencer Bell, one of our leading comedians has been given some swell comedy roles. The First National Studio tops this week with the greatest employment list. Nearly ninety people have earned their bucks there in the past week. Sixty members of the Bronzan Club were employed in the making of the picture, "Nowhere to Go." They worked three days and are expected to be called back any moment, for a continuation. The rest were called from the Cinema Auxiliary twenty-four having been assigned to begin in the picture titled "Lovelorn." This picture also gives promise of the use of a large per cent of our people. Among those whom so fair have been promised parts are George Reed, Raymond Turner and Reginald Washington.

Floyd Shackelford of considerable screen prominence, has for the present forsaken the screen and has gone to the legitimate stage. He has been signed for sixteen weeks by John Stevens McGroarty, the celebrated author of the "Mission Play" for a very important part in his next play, "Babylon." As Floyd is equal clever also in the story, Mr. Shackelford has a sufficient and suitable part to play. A promise to be highly interesting. Mr. Shackelford is quite familiar with this role, having once played it on the screen, consequently he should be a huge success. Should he prove a success Mr. McGroarty assures us that he will have another part for him. So we all wish you good luck Mr. Shackelford.

CLISBY TURNING BEST GUNS ON JNO. O'BRIEN

NEIL CLISBY

Entering ring to add John O'Brien's scalp to his list as we go to press.

Just as we go to press the history making Pasadena A. C. directed by the great promoter Morrie Cohan is showing Neil Clisby again to the welcoming fans. Clisby has made himself a great card over there by his impressive showing of straight wins by knockouts. Two of these were over Mack House the former idol there and latest over Wild Bill Kusick of Oakland. This time Tom Jones the champion maker has consented for his star to go against John O'Brien the colored boy who has been knocking them over in the Beach cities. Clisby never holds any one cheap but in this case he realizes he will have to throw in his heaviest artillery. With his speed, cleverness and hard hitting he should win.

Lomski-Owens Battle Gets The Razz At Olympic

If popular opinion had settled it the verdict on the battle between Leo Lomski and Ernie Owens would have gone to Leo by a mile. Leo put up a much better battle than it was expected although he was doped out to win. He showed an improvement in boxing skill and greater accuracy than in his other bouts. Ernie seemed a little doubtful at first but stretched on out later and got over his famous right several times.

Bud Taylor-Joey Sangor Bout Postponed

Bouts which fighters seem addicted to from fineness in training has been the cause of the Olympic having to pull a dark horse next Tuesday, Sept. 13th. The proposed battle between Joey Sangor and the Blonde Terror, Bud Taylor, is moved up to Sept. 20th. Both boys will have to miss the big Dempsey-Tunney match in Chicago, but a capacity house will see their much heralded battle here.

Jake Kilrain Matched With Tony Fuente

Jake Kilrain who claims the light heavyweight championship of the West by virtue of his Godfrey battle has been matched with about as dangerous an opponent as can be found on the Coast. Tuz is (General) Tony Fuente. Fuente recently K. O'ed Long Tom Hawkins, Leroy Kinney and other good boys but Jake figures to be able to put a crimp in his winning streak. They fight on the 16th.

Rehearsal has already begun and the show opens October 16th at the Spreckels Theatre, San Diego, for two weeks run. Then it goes to the Mission Playhouse at San Gabriel for 26 weeks. There are 66 people in the cast.

WRIGLEY FIELD TO BE THE BATTLE GROUND

A match for the welterweight championship of the world between Ace Hudkins, (now our own Ace) and Joe Dundee present holder is a foregone conclusion. The only hitch to date is the high price of $100,000 which Dundee for taking a chance on getting his kingly bonnet clawed off by the "Nebraska Wild-Cat." This it most surely will so Dundee will need the 100 grand to retire into the fireside. Meanwhile the Western Tex Rickard, known as Dick Donald and his right hand bower Frank Kerwin have been trying to coax and cajole Paulino Uscudin, Jack Sharkey and Company to come West and shake glad hands with Mr. George Godfrey. But seeming to have more dread of the Black Shadow than either Clisby or Kilrain they have so far hung out the "Nobody Home" sign.

DUNDEE SAID TO BE SLIPPING

If all reports are true Ace will not have nearly as rough a time defeating Dundee as would be expected as the champ is said to be going into reverse.

Are the "Bright Lights" getting the new welterweight champion of the world? According to reports from Baltimore Joe Dundee has possessed himself of a high-powered car and recklessly speeds up and down the country highway cutting nearly for anyone. And if further rumors are correct Joe is toying wildly through a fortnight visit of drunk. The championship has gone to the head of the Baltimore Italian and he is also said to have acquired a bunch of down at the heel friends, who will promptly desert him when the break comes.

Main St. A. C. Has Great Saturday Night Double Main

Carlo Curtis, the Kid Promoter has rigged up a novelty for his fans for the coming Saturday night's program. This is in the form of a double main event on one of which Johnny Fernando, one of the most promising youngsters of the Coast is appearing. Geo. Savage, a rising colored fight appears on another event. The whole card is as follows:

Young Bello vs. Johnny Fernando, main events, 8 rounds.

Bobby Hayers vs. Kid Payo, main event (semi-windup) 8 rounds; Joe Bitto vs. BillyKassabbarian, 6 rounds; Geo. Savage vs. Cazzarunias Arnand, 6 rounds.

THE BLACK AMERICAN ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION RULING COMMISSION

This Commission representing the four leading young men's clubs of the city—the Nit Nist Bonums, the Wilshire Olympics, the Merry Makers and the La Premiers, hereafter known as the BIG FOUR, held their third meeting at the residence of Mr. Chas. Martin. The officers for the forthcoming year were elected as follows: Pres., Chas. Martin; Vice Pres., and Secy., Peter Thompson; Treas., Stonewall Towns; Bus. Mgr., Bruce N. Jackson.

The question whether the Jefferson High Campus could be obtained as their playing field was roundly discussed and it is highly probable that it will be obtained.

The fast Merrymakers, 26 champions, will tackle the Nit Nist Bonum in the initial game, Sunday, October 2nd. The Relief Commission has set Friday, September 30th as the date for a huge benefit program at 15th and Main.

RUDY STEINER—KNOCK-OUT KING

When a mere boy has a hard time defeating a tough seasoned fighter in a long match, then a couple of weeks later shows himself a perfect master of that same opponent by knocking him cold in about 1 min. 27 sec., then that boy must have improved faster in those two weeks than the average coming fighter does. Yet this is the performance that Rudy Steiner pulled off at the Main St. A. C. two weeks ago against Vincente Aguilar, as tough and hard hitting a Mexican battler as ever brought a swing from the floor to his unprotected jaw. This fight was the sensation of the evening although the Nit Nist night was replete with sudden endings. Bitterly determined to wipe out the previous defeat Aguilar rushed from his corner at the opening bell determined to annihilate the Steiner boy and end his rapid rise. But Rudy met him with a one-two that stuck him halfway across the ring on to the canvas. Seven times the game fighter struggled to his feet and each time Rudy walked in and each time received the same dose until finally he stayed down and out, and that for 10 minutes. The whole contest lasted 1 minute and 27 seconds of the first round and brought everybody to their feet. This makes the 24th straight victory for Rudy promoters of the bruising battle in preparation for the men of the ring have nearly decided that he is practically the best light heavyweight prospect on the Coast.

DEVELOPED BY CARL BRANDAGEE

The man primarily responsible for Rudy's rapid rise in the fistic world after he had his head and soul interest in the boy, Rudy says his improvement four months ago, he was pegged the beginning of the Jimmy Goode at Fairmont Park and the two boys definitely agreed upon their fists would be of nearly perfect fighting style standing them in the whole world of fisticuffs.

OF THE Boxing Game.

AS INTERPRETED by the Marquis of Queensbury, and revised by Wm. Fox.

ARE SIMPLE enough to understand, but do you know not even ten per cent of the average crowd of fight fans has ever seen them or know what they really are?

IT SEEMS that if clubs would take some steps to educate their patrons to the true rules by which the bouts are held it would furnish more enjoyment for them and make it easier for boxers, referees and promoters to give satisfaction on Fite Nite.

A TIMELY suggestion would be a printed set of rules on the programs, an occasional run of them in the papers, or a set printed on calendars or other holiday gifts. Then while we are about it why not teach the rules to some referees who don't know when a man has won; fighters who don't know what "contest" means, or managers who don't know what the words "fair" and "square" mean. This would do away with a lot of crazy booking decisions, less booing when a boxer has really lost; less foul claiming; more appreciation for boxers who have done their best, and a better time to be had by all.

Local fishermen have conceded the top tally as Disciples of Izaak Walton to Dr. Albert Baumann and Mr. Titus Alexander, noted speaker, politician and recent contestant in the State Assembly race. They have surpassed all records this season in the executing and difficult sport of mountain trout fishing. Dr. Baumann recently returned with family from an 800 mile jaunt into the High Sierras where after trekking 18 miles on horseback, he caught a large number of the speckled beauties 10,000 feet up in the lakes and streams above the snow line.

Mr. Alexander has made several trips this summer to Mt. Whitney where he has always caught the limit by shorter, but water fishing has been especially good this summer. Zane Grey making the prize catch of the season. A 13-year old girl caught a 42 pound Halibut last week and Cadillac fishermen are vieing with each other to make a prize catch for Secretary Hoover.

Baby Joe Gans, promising lightweight of Southern California received a terrible setback in his fight with Jackie Fields. Gans put up the worst exhibition of a fight that has been seen here in many moons. Gans may have been out of condition or stale from over-training, but to the 8,500 fans who crowded the Olympic, it seemed as if Gans was deliberately throwing the fight. The referee would have done Gans a favor if he had stopped the fight and called it "no contest". Here are the points that stand out vividly in the fight that makes it have a well-known smell, known as "there's something rotten in Denmark." Up until the fourth round Gans held on and made absolutely no attempt to make a fight of it. In the fourth round Gans showed his real self and beat Field to every punch. The sixth round rolled around and Gans crawled into his shell again. The fight ended with Gans holding and Fields jabbing his head with his left and receiving no punches in return. Again I say, "there is something rotten in Denmark."

Let's look back a few weeks and up until the present time and see what the black boys of note have been doing to make a name for themselves in the squared circle. Of course we head the list with George Godfrey's one-round K. O. of Jim Maloney. Then Alley-town Joe Gans loses to an Easterner on a foul.

Jack McVey, that promising welterweight, whose name has appeared in this column before, was awarded a draw with Pete Latzo, ex-welterweight King. Latzo outweighed McVey 12 pounds.

Tiger Flowers beat Jack Malone up in Portland and then stole some of trans-Atlantic fliers stuff by flying from Portland to New York to fight Joe Anderson, the Kentucky boy wonder. Flowers administered him a terrific pasting. The cagey old Tiger was absolutely too smart for the boy from Kentucky. In the ninth round Flowers taught the youngster a lesson in kindness. Flowers caught him with a smashing left coming in but failed to follow up his lead and let the boy recover to stay the limit.

Out here on the Coast the boys aren't doing much in a fistic way. Four weeks ago Neil Clisby knocked out Wild Bill Culsk in eight rounds. Santiago Zorilla lost a ten-round decision to Joey Sangor. And then to top it all off Baby Joe Gans squared off with Jackie Fields and fought a fight that smells as fishy as a fish shop on Friday.

All eyes, speaking politically, are focused on California. This state has two outstanding presidential possibilities in Herbert Hoover and U. S. Senator, Hiram Johnson. The name of Hoover is received with favor among all classes. We are inclined to the belief that should he not oppose the re-election of Senator Johnson and use political judgment he can receive such a momentum from his native State as will go a long way in assuring the success of his candidacy. It was rumored that Lieut. Governor Fitts had senatorial aspirations. There is no finer character in California's political life than Buron Fitts, able, courageous, and popular with his fellows; but the political game is one of cold, bloodless calculations. The Governor is a young man and has a splendid political future. He can afford to abide his time. The time is not the present, but when the opportune moment comes, whatever the office, he will win!

Sacramento is about to vote for the issuance of bonds to develope a water system. The present system is inadequate for the needs of such a fast growing city as California's capital. In fact, the system is rather obsolete and the source of supply is open to criticism. But in voting those bonds we wonder how many of Sacramento's race property owners and taxpayers have made an intelligent study of the subject. The City Council voted to raise the rate of taxation 8 cents. How many voters will be sufficiently interested to study and investigate; why the raise? It is sad but true, that the majority of us take programme without giving a thought to the circumstances.

Recreational service is essential to the Social Welfare of any community. Men and women who are trained to supervise activities are a factor in our community life. With the congested life of the city, children are thrown together promiscuously. It takes tact to interest a child and mingle with its play painful knowledge. The reading camps must be made interesting if their popularity is to be maintained. Health must be conserved and satisfaction taught. In the winter when out-door activities are curbed the community is benefited greatly when its recreation is directed along lines of pleasurable occupation.

We often hear the remark, "when I was a youngster we never had all this fuss about bacteria and food germs." Yes, but when you were a boy, or she was a girl, there were few congested apartments and such. Most people lived in homes; they had gardens from which they gathered their fresh vegetables. Orchards from which they plucked choice fruit. There was not time for food to deteriorate between the garden and the table. How different now. Milk is brought a year's success. He has been able to give to more than one hundred applicants through the hearty co-operation of his assistant teachers, whom many of the prospective students selected as their teacher.

Out of over one hundred enrollments only five will be unable to continue with Mr. Wilkins or his assistants. Everyone has expressed their sincere thanks and appreciation for Mr. Wilkins' generous offer. Here is one of the many letters of appreciation received:

Los Angeles, Calif.,
August 27, 1927

DEAR PROFESSOR:

Let me know when you have given the children the ten lessons. Let me know when I can see you and make arrangement.

I am very much pleased with the progress they have made in such a short time.

You can call at the house after 6:30 o'clock any night but Tuesday.

MRS. V. J. TIBBS,
1232 E. 37th St.

Mr. Wilkins now announces that with the help of his teachers he will give from September 1st to September 15th, ten free lessons to the first twenty applicants who apply for them by phone AXridge 8549 or at the Academy, 4600 South Central Ave. He further announces an offer of five piano lessons absolutely free of charge with no other obligations with the assistant teachers—Lucille Banton-Blayechettal, chief assistant to Mr. Wilkins and pupils for more than 9 years; Myrner Shivers, assistant and pupil for over five years; Myldred Sennett, pupil and teacher, five years; Gilbert Allen, Music Dept. of U. C., Southern Branch, pupil five years, teacher three years; Samuel Brown, theory and organ, U. S. C., pupil of Thilo Becker, pupil of Wilkins, nine years, teacher over four years; Thelma Lowery, Music and Theory, U. S. C., pupil of Mr. Wilkins over nine years, teacher four years; Jennie Walker, pupil of Mr. Wilkins three years, teacher two years.

All eyes, speaking politically, are focused on California. This state has two outstanding presidential possibilities in Herbert Hoover and U. S. Senator, Hiram Johnson. The name of Hoover is received with favor among all classes. We are inclined to the belief that should he not oppose the re-election of Senator Johnson and use political judgment he can receive such a momentum from his native State as will go a long way in assuring the success of his candidacy. It was rumored that Lieut. Governor Fitts had senatorial aspirations. There is no finer character in California's political life than Buron Fitts, able, courageous, and popular with his fellows; but the political game is one of cold, bloodless calculations. The Governor is a young man and has a splendid political future. He can afford to abide his time. The time is not the present, but when the opportune moment comes, whatever the office, he will win!

Sacramento is about to vote for the issuance of bonds to develope a water system. The present system is inadequate for the needs of such a fast growing city as California's capital. In fact, the system is rather obsolete and the source of supply is open to criticism. But in voting those bonds we wonder how many of Sacramento's race property owners and taxpayers have made an intelligent study of the subject. The City Council voted to raise the rate of taxation 8 cents. How many voters will be sufficiently interested to study and investigate; why the raise? It is sad but true, that the majority of us take programme without giving a thought to the circumstances.

Recreational service is essential to the Social Welfare of any community. Men and women who are trained to supervise activities are a factor in our community life. With the congested life of the city, children are thrown together promiscuously. It takes tact to interest a child and mingle with its play painful knowledge. The reading camps must be made interesting if their popularity is to be maintained. Health must be conserved and satisfaction taught. In the winter when out-door activities are curbed the community is benefited greatly when its recreation is directed along lines of pleasurable occupation.

The people down South are having an epidemic of flogging. Georgia is in the lead with Texas and Alabama runners up. Strange too, the victims of the floggers are mostly "Nordics" and all of that ilk are supposed to be 100 per something or other. But, "Great Scott!" the floggers claim, that the flogged have either broken the 7th Commandment or toyed with the 18th Amendment. Glory be! The attention that used to be paid to the whipping of blacks have been transferred. One thing, the courts have begun to take a hand and several have heard the prison doors clang behind to feel the lash, even though laid on by one of their kind. How different a little color makes. Too bad they don't keep flogging 'till the pens and jails are full of them.

The death of Charlie Pickert reduces the ranks of the old guard of politicians one more. Unlike Wright Cuney, Link Johnson and others who won fame in the arena of Republican politics, Pickert was not agressive. He was a counterpart of Ralph Tyler, preferring to accomplish his point through the medium or least resistance. Quietly, without blare of trumpets or band accompanyment, he did more in actual benefit for his people than any others who essay the role of political leader. It will be hard to find his equal to fill the gap created by his passing.

President Coolidge has ordered young Marchbank to report for his final examination for entrance to the West Point Military Academy. This will take place in the month of March. We have every hope of success for Vance Marchbank. Coupled with his University training in his natural bent for a military life. His has been a soldier's life. In infancy he was lulled to sleep by the bugle and awakened by the reveille. Let us hope that the obstacles which have been obstructions to the Negro aspirant between appointment and entrance will be overcome. We know the insidious means taken to discourage the military ambition of our youth, but if Young Marchbank is a chip from the "Old Block," which we believe he is, there will be another exemplification of the "Young Spirit," whose indomitable courage won the respect of his fellow students at the Academy.

there is a bedroom; to the rear of this bedroom there is another bedroom.

Q. How is it entered from the rear?

A. Through the small porch. You go through the bedroom and into the kitchen.

Q. Is there a screen on that door?

A. Yes sir, a screen on the bedroom door.

Q. On the east side of the house are there any windows?

A. There are. They are represented on this diagram.

Q. Is there a window looking into the living room?

A. There is.

Q. Do you kno whether there is a screen on it?

A. There is.

Q. Into the dining room?

A. Yes sir, there is also a screen there.

Q. How about the kitchen?

A. I am not sure whether there is a scvreen on the kitchen window or not.

Q. How about the pantry?

A. There is a window but no screen. That pantry opens onto the bedroom. This room on the southeast corner was formerly a porch, changed into a bedroom.

Q. How about the east of the house? Is there a window that looks out to the east from rear bedroom?

A. Yes, there is four windows.

Q. Screen over them?

A. Yes, there are.

Q. How about on the west side of the house?

A. There is a window in the bedroom—both bedrooms that lead off from the bathroom, but there is no window in the bedroom in the south west corner of the house.

Q. When you made this map, were there photographs taken at the same time?

A. There were.

Q. By Mr. Dozier?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Were Mr. King and Mr. Wynn with you at that time?

A. Just Mr. King.

Q. Did you find any bullet holes?

A. We did.

Q. Where did you find them.

A. There is a bullet hole in this door leading from the dining room to the kitchen. The elevation of the bullet hole from the floor is 3.87 and the hole on the southside of the door is 11-100 from the east edge, and on the dining room side the bullet hole is 24-100 from the edge of the door, showing that the bullet was fired where the door was approximately as shown by this line.

Q. That is, with the door pointing into the kitchen?

A. The door was swinging, or in a standing position as shown on this diagram.

Q. What was the course of the bullet?

A. Apperently from the kitchen in to the dining room.

Q. How was that determined on the door?

A. By the way the door was shattered.

Q. Now, did you find any other bullet hole?

A. Yes, there is a bullet hole leads from the bedroom south of the bathroom. The bullet hole is 1.2 from the edge of the door, and 3.15 from the floor.

Q. Any other bullet holes found?

A. That is the only two.

Q. Was there a search made through that house for bullet holes?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And the officers wth you?

Q. Yes sir,

Q. You were directed to take a memorandum of any bullet holes you found?

A. Yes, any I found in the house.

Q. I want to show you a photograph and ask you if you recognize that, and what it is.

A. That is a door that leads from the bedroom to the bathroom showing the bullet hole in the door.

Q. That is the last bullet hole you have just described?

A. Yes.

Mr. Dennison: May that be marked exhibit C?

A Juror: Mr. Dennison, when he said 3:15 from the floor, did he mean feet or inches.

A. Three feet and 15-100 of a foot.

Mr. Dennison: On the kitchen side?

A. 3.15 feet was the elevation on the door that leads from the bathroom to the bedroom.

Q. Now, I show you another photograph and ask you if that shows the swinging door between the kitchen and the bathroom?

A. Yes sire, that is a view, taken from the dining room looking south into the kitchen, showing the swinging door between the kitchen and the dining rom.

Q. Does that photograph show the bullet hole that you have described?

A. Yes sir, it does.

Q. That is in the door?

A. It shows it, yes sir.

Mr. Dennison: May this photograph be marked as Exhibit D?

A Juror: What does the course of that bullet indicate in the bathroom door?

A. Right there (Indicating)

Q. Can you indicate the position of the door?

A. I would say the door was in a closed position when it was fired.

A Juror: How was it fired, from which room?

A. From the bedroom north.

Mr. Dennison: Where did the bullet go?

A. I could not say.

Q. Did you see anywhere that it went?

A. No, there were no marks; after it went through that door I could not say where it went.

Q. Did you see anywhere that it went?

A. No, there were no marks; after it went through that door I could not say where it went.

Q. Did you see any mark on the wall?

A. I believe there was a mark on the wall, but I am not sure.

Q. Look at this photograph and see if it refreshes your recollection?

A. Yes, there was a hole in the wall there.

Q. You didn't mark that on the map there?

A. No, I did not.

Q. I will show you another photograph and ask you if you know what this is?

A. That is the swinging door between the dining room and the kitchen, showing the bullet hole in the door.

Mr. Dennison: Will you mark that Exhibit E?

Q. Now, I show you another photograph here and ask you what that is?

A. That is the door that leads from the living room into the bedroom on the northwest corner of the house.

Q. Can you point that out on your map?

A. Yes, this door here, shown on the diagram.

Q. Referring to the door—

A. From the dining room to the bedroom.

Q. From the dining room—

A. To the bedroom.

Q. By "dining room" you have reference to—

A. It is marked here on the diagram.

Mr. Dennison: Will that a marked as an exhibit?

Q. Now, I show you another photograph and ask you what that is, and if you know, point that out on the map?

A. That is a view taken from out on 51st street looking south at the house.

Q. Showing the driveway?

A. Showing the driveway, the house, the hedge, the front sidewalk, a portion of the curb and also a portion of the house in the rear.

Mr. Dennison: That is next in order of Exhibit G.

Q. Now, I show you another photograph here and ask you what that is?

A. That is a view taken from the sidewalk showing the porch, the door leading into the living room, the screen door and a portion of the hedge.

Q. Now, this diagram that you have made and the pictures that I have shown you truly and accurately represent the conditions as you saw them there that day, do they?

A. They do.

Mr. Dennison: Will that be an exhibit?

Q. You say that scale is what?

A. One inch equals two feet.

Q. What is the width of the dining room in feet?

A. 12 feet wide.

Q. And what is the length of dining room and living room?

A. 20.6 feet.

Q. Have you any memorandum of the furniture in that room?

A. In which room?

Q. In the living room?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Was there a table?

A. No table in the living room.

Q. Was there a table in the dining room?

A. There was.

Q. Where was it?

A. In the center of the room, directly in the center of the room. It is a square table, four feet by 3.5.

Q. Do you mean in the center of the dining room?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Will you indicate it on the map with a lead pencil?

A. Yes sir, I have a colored pencil that will show it better.

Q. All right (Witness marks). Now, did you find a daybed in there?

A. Yes sir, I did.

Q. Indicated by a red parallelogram, I guess it is.

A. Yes sir, I did. I will mark it.

Q. All right, mark it. (Witness marks.) What fruniture was in the living room?

A. There was a piano.

Q. Where was the piano?

A. (Witness draws on map.)

Q. What was it called a dufold or davenport there?

A. Yes, there was.

Q. Where was that? (Witness draws on diagram.) Now, on the east side of the living room, was there any furniture?

A. There was.

Q. Where was it?

A. There was a rocker in this position, and a Victrola immediately south, along the wall, and a chair in this position.

Q. Any cabinets or any kind on the east side.

A. On the east side?

Q. Yes.

A. No sir.

Q. What is that little square that is marked there?

A. It divides the living room from the dinin grom.

Q. A book case is it, or is it anything?

A. I don't remember exactly whether there were books in that or not.

Q. Do you know whether there was any door?

A. I am under the impression there was not.

Q. Any curtain?

A. No sir, no curtain. It was about three fet high.

Q. What was on the west of the dining room?

A. No furniture along the west wall.

Q. Was there a built-in cabinet of any kind?

A. No sir.

Q. A china closet or anything like that.

A. There was a china closet, a buffet built on the south wall.

Q. That is shown on the map?

A. Yes, with a fireplace immediately west of the buffet.

Q. Now, did you give me the course of the bullet hole through the dining room door?

A. The course?

Q. Yes.

A. Well, it was parallel with the west partition wall of the house; in other words, this wall that divides the house in two portions. It was parallel with that wall; in other words, the course of the bullet was due north and south.

Q. That is, from the position in which it swung the door?

A. Yes.

Q. What was the course of the bullet fired through the bathroom?

A. I would say it was on an angle maybe 45 degrees from the west wall of the house.

Q. Would you say it had been fired by somebody standing in the kitchen?

A. I doubt it.

Mr. Dennison: All right, that is all.

A Juror: What was the course of that bullet that went through the door between the bedroom and the dining room? From which side was that fired?

Mr Dennison: It was fired from the kitchen.

The Juror: The one that went through the bedroom door between the dining room and bedroom?

A. There was no bullet hole in that door.

The Juror: Oh, I understood there was.

Mr. Dennison: No, the bullet was between the bathroom—

A. Between the bathroom and the bedroom door, and between the dining room door and the kitchen.

Mr. Dennison: That is, there were two bullet holes?

A. Two bullet holes.

Q. One found in the door which opens into the bathroom?

A. That is it.

Q. And another bullet hole found in the door which swings between the dining room and the kitchen?

A. That is correct.

Q. And it swings both ways?

A. That is a swinging door, swinging both ways.

Q. Did you find those bullets?

A. No sir.

Q. When was this memorandum or diagram made.

A. It was made this month, the 4th day.

Mr. Dennison: That is all.

HERE IS A TRUE STORY

There was a man who bought an expensive big Sedan automobile and ran it for a while—and after a while, returned it to the dealer that he bought it from—complaining that there had developed a growling or humming noise in the rear end which reverberated through the whole car. The dealer was anxious to please this particular customer for obvious reasons, so his mechanics took the whole rear end down and couldn't find A THING wrong—nothing out of balance or proportion—not even a scratch on a gear, and so assembled the parts again, and turned it over to its owner again, hoping that by having taken it down, and assembling it again that the objectionable noise would have been eliminated. BUT NOT SO GOOD. The growling and humming noise was still there. So the car went back to the factory and an explaining letter was written. The dealer was quite an important one. Factory engineers got on the job and tore it all down, and out, and everything was found absolutely in order. While they were trying to figure it out, one of them, who had knowledge of tires, suddenly said "Let's take THAT tire (pointing to it) off the rim and put a new one on. They did so, and reassembled the rear end of the automobile, and ran it. The objectionable noise was gone. The tire that had been removed was found to contain a thick heavy repair that threw the tire out of balance. That thick heavy spot in the tire interrupted the Flexing Wave and it went bump—bump—bump as it rolled. It set up the vibration that was the cause of that browling and humming sound.

MORAL—Many a motorist has spent time, money, and worry to find noises and knocks caused by thick heavy unbalanced tire repairs.

Road Into Mexico Now in Good Shape

The road from Tia Juana to Ensenada is in good condition as far as Rosarita Beach, according to recent information received from the Touring Department of the National Automobile Club, but not advisable south of that point. Numerous rough, cross washed sections will be encountered on the remaining 56 miles to Ensenada. However, the road is scheduled to be put in good condition at an early date. A trip to Rosarita Beach is an enjoyable one for bathing is good at this point, meals are served and dancing may be enjoyed.

Alibi of Motorist Sets New Record

The alibi of the motorist who is sought by the traffic cop out on the open road is a commonplace. Few drivers there are who are halted by traffic officers who cannot present some type of excuse for violating the law.

Back in the middle west, the other day, according to the National Automobile Club, a girl of twenty-three was halted while driving fifty miles an hour and she was asked whether or not there was any liquor in the car. She replied that she had some which was being taken to her mother who was ill. After a thorough search of the car the officers reported that they found eight gallons of whisky, ten gallons of moonshine and four cases of bonded whisky.

The editorial comment on this affair was that the mother must have been not only seriously ill but probably was preparing for a somewhat protracted siege of illness.

FAMOUS SAYINGS

The difference between a traffic officer and a woman, is that when a traffic officer says stop he means it, says Payne Middleton.

If something must be bragged, let it be the carve, not the driver, says Cornelia Edwards.

Thelma Dials says the smaller the town the more girls can crowd into a jitney.

Autos and men are alike in that they both go faster down hill says the old Woman with the goggles.

Automobiles wouldn't be dangerous enough Dr. Shaw if the horsepower of the engine was proportioned to the horse sense of the driver.

Most fellows never come to life until their engines go dead, say Eddie Baker.

Wonder Why

But I saw him yesterday without it.

That so? Where was he?

Travel Record Broken; 7000 Cars Register

Travel to Sequoia National Park during July broke all previous records when 6572 cars, carrying 21,774 visitors, passed the Ash Mountain checking station to visit the big trees and mountains of the park. Cars were registered from forty-two different States, Hawaii, Panama and Canada.

Gen. Grant National Park also reports an increase in travel with 4543 cars, carrying 16,691 visitors, entering the park during the month.

TRAILS IMPROVED

The scenic wonders and fine fishing in the back country of Sequoia National Park are becoming increasingly popular and famous. The National Park Service has repaired and improved practicaly all of the trails and they are now in excellent condition to the Big Arroyo, Kern River Canyon, and the high Sierra region around Mt. Whitney.

Fishing is now good in the park, with limit catches frequently reported in many of the higher streams and lakes. On a recent inspection trip to the Kern River district Supt. White caught a three-pound rainbow trout, and several others almost as large, and the party was easily kept supplied with fish throughout most of the trip.

BUTTERFLY GIFT

Judge Fry of the Giant Forest Museum is rejoicing in a fine case of butterflies just presented to the museum by Sydney Allen of Lindsay. The Park Service is much indebted to Mr. Allen for this generous contribution. It is interesting to note that since the Giant Forest Museum Association was organized, five years ago, it has collected from all sources through contributions, plays and memberships, $1515.75. This fund is used for the purchase of specimen cases and for the preservation of exhibits. It is hoped that through further contributions the museum may be enlarged and that in time a fireproof building may be erected to house the collections which have already outgrown their present quarters.

RUBBER PROCESSES SEEN

A series of window displays showing important steps in the history of rubber from the planting of the tree up to the manufacture of a finished article is now attracting unusual attention at the Los Angeles branch of the United States Rubber Company.

The foliage of the rubber tree is used liberally in decorating the seven display windows. The background in the first window has three panels. The first shows the clearing of the jungle, the second portrays the planting of rubber trees, and the third is a tapping picture.

The United States Rubber Company has been growing crude rubber for fifteen years. Its plantation holdings in Sumatra and Malaya total 113,919 acres, of which 75,433 acres have been planted. The planted area is more than five times that of Manhattan Island.

When a rubber tree is tapped, a milk-like fluid—called "latex"—flows out of the cut in the bark. Native workers collect this latex in cans and carry it to collecting stations.

One of the most important steps in the production of crude rubber is the extraction of the rubber from the milk (latex) of the rubber tree. A great achievement of the United States Rubber Company is the recent development by the company of a revolutionary new method of extraction that gives the finest quality of rubber known to the commercial world.

United States Royal Cord tires are made by the flat band process—a method patented by the United States Rubber Company. In the flat band process the tires are built up layer by layer on a flat drum, with the various plies of rubber and cord fabric lying flat. When the building has been completed, the tire is brought into proper shape in a shaping machine and then vulcanized. This process produces a tire in which every cord lies at the proper angle and ready to bear its proportionate share of the work when the tire goes into service.

UPTON'S RAILROAD CLATTER

By Chas. L. Upton

The Railroad Clatter congratulates the following porters on the anniversary of their birth this month: (your birth stone is the Sapphire, symbolic of antidote for madness) Wm. Wynodan, H. E. Fry and L. C. Busby.

J. A. WORTHAM IN WEST COAST LIMITED TRAIN WRECK

Observation Car Dragged Thirty feet On Side

Porter J. A. Wortham of this district was put to the acid test last Thursday night when the crack "West Coast Limited" was derailed near Lancaster. Wortham had charge of the observation car which was dragged for thirty feet on its side before the train came to a standstill. Several passengers were injured, but Wortham escaped unscratched which is considered a miracle. Official inquiry to determine the exact cause of the derailment was started Saturday morning. Division Supt. A. F. Bowles summoned railroad men and citizens who will make up a board of investigation. The witnesses who will appear before the board of Lancaster will include Engineer Willie and Conductor Wilson in charge of the train and members of the crew.

AIR EXPRESS EARNING PROFIT

A 2 per cent dividend to stockholders of record September 15, will be distributed by Western Air Express, Inc., on October 1, according to action of the local air carriers board of directors, announced by Harris M. Hanshue, president and general manager.

This is said to be the first instance in aeronautical history where an air transport company engaged solely in commercial operation of airplanes and dependent upon earned revenue for its entire income has paid its stockholders a return from surplus upon their investments.

Western Air Express, Inc., carrying nearly 40 per cent of American air mail in its planes between Los Angeles and Salt Lake City daily, is reputed to be the world's first economically successful venture in air commerce. Its planes have flown an aggregate of more than 660,900 miles with a performance rating of 99.86 per cent. This dependability of service is said to have a potent factor in developing in Southern California, the world's heaviest per capita air mail service. And the Clatter says it behooves the railroad man to watch the progress of air transportation, when it has reached a state of perfection it will most certainly have a decided effect upon land travel of which we are the most interested in a new competitor has entered the field of transportation and soon its rapid progress will be felt by the Pullman Porter and waiter.

T. D. YANCEY RESIGNS FROM SERVICE

We were surprised last week upon looking over the roster to find T. D. Yancey's name scratched off the list of this district. The Clatter has known Mr. Yancey for some years as a Pullman Porter operating out of the Los Angeles District. Mr. Yancey for some time has been contemplating leaving the service, but it was not expected so soon. Just what particular line of work Mr. Yancey will attempt to follow from now on has not yet been found out, but whatever venture he should decide to undertake in the Railroad Clatter wishes to go on record as wishing him the greatest of success.

E. WOODS GETS MARRIED

Porter E. Woods, a new arrival in this district, but an old timer as far as the city is concerned, took unto himself a bride for better or worse recently, after which the cruel Mr. Ross in order to make it a most successful honeymoon sent Mr. Woods on a long, long trip to Florida. We admit this was a rather hard pill for a newly married man to swallow, but our friend, Mr. Woods, took the count with a smile. As yet we have not found out just what opinion Mrs. Woods has formed of railroading, but it is thought that she will endeavor to use her feminine traits to persuade Mr. Woods to get a job in town. Just the same the Railroad Clatter offers its congratulations and gives its advice that the first few years are the hardest.

BIDDING

Bidding on the different lines in this district seems to be quite an art and it takes an expert to be able to get what he wants. Many good lines are constantly being overlooked for the simple reason that a man seeing other porters names on the list much older than him in seniority will not bid, thinking it useless. I have known many good opportunities to be passed up in this fashion by the man older than you to withdraw his name at the last minute. There are young men in this district now holding good lines because they bid on lines and left their names stay even though there were older porters bidding and as luck would have it they got what they bid on by someone dropping out. Now they are there until someone who is older has a bump and takes them; this just does not happen so often and in this way they are holding such lines. All one night runs and men holding them not over five years in the service; some of you porters that are always sleeping like Rines, better wake up.

A. MOORE SHEARIN GETS HIGH POSITION

Moore Shearin, General Manager. My! says I to myself that cannot possibly be the same Mr. Shearin that went with me a few years back on the Los Angeles Police Special which the Honorable Mr. Marco Hellman coughed up in the neighborhood of $40,000 for?—and then I read on further. It went on to say that at last he had arrived. Now, Mr. Shearin has climbed the ladder of success from a Pullman Porter to General Manager of the Southern Fidelity & Surety Co. He, as the writer remembers, was never satisfied with being just a Pullman Porter and directly after returning from the tour with the Chief of Police, he resigned from the Pullman service and entered the Post Office. He left that position for a position as auto salesman. After trying his hand at that for some time he got married and disappeared. This is the first the writer has heard from him for over a year, and from the tone of this letter he has made some speed. In part it states —Have had good luck since we last et, and now I can safely say that I am on easy street. Have just completed a Spanish California home, and have charge of the above named bonding company, the only Negro bonding company in the world, says I to myself. That's quite a record for a humble Pullman Porter and the Clatter wishes him a life of continued success.

MR. WALSH PUTS END TO GAME AT MOJAVE

When a game is going on quietly, and just as suddenly broke up, it does not always have to be the police to turn the trick. The West Coast crews have recently found this to be a fact. When the powerful butter and egg man, Mr. Walsh called every tub on the social games they have been holding lately. So now the bunch hangs out on the corner, all dressed up and nowhere to go.

A. J. KIMBRO, PULLMAN PORTER, ANSWERS QUESTION

What suggestion can you make for the improvement and happiness of the colored race? The following is the answer to the above question asked a Pullman Porter by the name of A. J. Kimbro, residing on E. 58th street.

My first suggestion for the improvement and happiness of our race would be co-operation in the fullest sense of the word. 2nd, that our men of wealth establish factories and other industries that will give our young men and women clean, upright and honest employment. 3rd, that we strive to own property and then beautify it so it will be equal to any other race's; plant flowers and vegetables where we have room for such; train our children to seek everything in life that is good, rear them in such environments, so that they will seek only the best. One of the most important suggestions is that we have morally clean homes. Keep down strife, rear children in peaceful surroundings.

Next week the same question will be asked of two ladies, and will be published in the Clatter in the succeeding weeks.

DAN CUPID HITS PART OF EAGLE STAFF

By the time my readers will be reading this, it will be the zero hour for Miss Ernestine Jones the sweet little lady who takes your ads at the Eagle office and greets you with a smile when you're not expecting it. For, as I am informed, the charming little Miss will cast her lonesome lot with one T. Hyde Wade. Mr. Wade will, from Sunday on, endeavor to WADE through life with Miss Jones, which by all means should not be a terribly hard thing to do. The writer has seen worse. The Railroad Clatter wishes them a joyful success on their new venture in matrimony and to Mr. T. Hyde Wade we are pleased to inform him that the Eastern Outfitting Company is on Main between 6th and 7th with anything from a cradle on up for a $1 down and a $1 per week. God bless you both.

PILLOW SLIPS

R. Hicks operating on the San Diego "Owl" had the honor of giving service to the Hon. Curtis D. Wilbur, Secy. of the United States Navy.

H. L. Armstrong had the pleasure of serving one of the famous team of the Two Black Crows, Mr. Moran, when he called him for Los Angeles in the morning and told Mr. Moran that the train was on time, Mr. Moran wittingly asked Armstrong, "What causes that?"

The degree of Dr. has been conferred upon Daddy Jack now operating to San Diego. The boys are calling him the medicine man, and are looking forward soon to seeing him nail up his shingle on our 750.

That man King now operating on the tourist car to San Diego was formerly an ice man for the Santa Fe. By being named King, naturally he is considered as king on the good ship S. monarch of all he surveys.

Did you know that L. Hill now on the San Diego tourist cap is a decorator? They tell me that he really knows his stuff.

Mr. John Hackshaw please get your mail at the Eagle office, addressed J. H.

There has been quite a deal of gossip recently as to a new time card, same to become effective August 24th. Time cards are somewhat similar to styles always changing, nevertheless a new grip is to be shown as "The Angeles Limited" is the latest single Pullman to be of Santa Fe origin. Los Angeles and Chicago, the gateway to scenic splendor of colorful panorama, Grand Canyon, observation, compartment cars.

Five waiters were dropped from Omaha to Portland to be used in the Pendleton Round Up, a yearly event. No doubt the boys will get wet.

E. Maple (red-eyed Mack) and Cabaret club owner has been lobbying around in the window of the "Mail" having an alibi that he wants to get to Chicago to see the fight.

The Silverman on Diner 304 should at least have his Beverley Hill address so he could be found when Omaha goes to the expense to bring him long distance.

ON THE WING

In our swing around the circle leaving Los Angeles on the 31st inst. we arrived in Oakland the morning of September 1st. We crossed the bay and passed out of the Ferry Building to the environs of John Taylor's Shining stand at which he was watching the many cash customers and at the same time superintending the erection of another lunch stand not one hundred feet distant. For his loyalty and great service these concessions have been his reward by the present state administration. Be it known also that this recognition is not to be passed lightly for in dollars and cents their valuation runs into the thousands of dollars.

Passing on we found the new location of Attorney Oscar Hudson on Merchant street. After his memorable trip to Monrovia this eminent barrister is getting located and hitting his former stride practising his profession.

WEDDING EVENT OF SUNDAY WEEK AGO

COUPLE SPENDING HONEYMOON AT SAN DIEGO

Mr. and Mrs. T. Hyde Wade, whose wedding was one of the season's brilliant events, are spending their honeymoon at San Diego, California, and, after their return will make their home in South Los Angeles.

Mrs. Wade was formerly Miss Ernestine Cleopatra Jones, very attractive daughter of Mrs. Geneva Jones of 1246 East 52nd Street, the double ring ceremony being performed at St. Odelia Catholic Church, Father Schlecht officiating.

The bridal party consisted of: Mrs. Geneva Jones, Misses Cornelia Edwards, Thelma B. Porter, Emma Lee Sayers, Esther and Anna Mai Griffith, and Erma Jones; Mr. and Mrs. Heflin; Messrs. Gonza Wade, Leon Edwards, John Prowd, J. B. Bass, Mattison and Virgil Morrow, and after the ceremony occupied the guest table at the Christian Tavern where an elaborate reception was in order.

The bride was charming in a frock of white crepe de chine heavily beaded in rhinestones, pearls and silver beads and wore a veil of tulle and orange blossoms being caught into a horse shoe and held in place with a cluster of pearls. She carried a large bouquet of white sweet peas, orange blossoms, and lillies of the valley.

The maid of honor, Miss Cornelia Edwards was dainty in a frock of green trimmed with orchid plumes. Gonza Wade, brother of the groom was the best man.

Upon the arrival of the bride and groom, they marched into the Tavern to the familiar wedding march played by Miss T. B. Porter, after which "O Perfect Love" was sung by Miss Anna Mai Griffith. The bridal party then repaired to the bridal table.

The Christian Tavern, scene of the reception, was beautifully decorated in white and pink sweet peas—directly over the bridal table hung a great white horseshoe of white sweet peas. The service was carried out in horseshoe style, the ice cream being in horse shoe shape with "good luck" inside.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade are highly respected young people of this community. Mr. Wade is a landscape gardner and Mrs. Wade, before marriage, secretary for the California Eagle.

The many friends of the bride living in and out of Los Angeles are wishing her a "happy matrimonial voyage."

WILLIAMS LEADS BAPTISTS AGAIN

(By: A. N. P.)

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 14—For the sixth successive term, between ten and twelve thousand Baptists, members of the National Baptist Convention, incorporated meeting for its 47th annual session, elected Dr. L. K. Williams, pastor of Olivet Baptist Church, Chicago, president, and placed in office again all the other executive officers of the convention, at a meeting held here Thursday morning.

The custom of electing the president at the afternoon meeting of the first day was not adhered to this year, although there was no noticeable opposition to Williams' continuance in the office. Some of the insiders asserted that the state caucusses had not been held and that that caused the carrying over of the election from Wednesday to Thursday.

"There is no opposition to Williams," one delegate pointed out, "but we have got to meet so that we can see how we can govern him."

Government of the president of the convention, the correspondent later

Society Gets A Thrill From Perry-Gordon Marriage

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 15.—Society here was astounded by the recent announcement that Mrs. Mae Walker, heiress to the Walker millions, has been married to Marion Perry, one of Pittsburgh's most prominent and promising attorneys. Mrs. Mae Walker Gordon Jackson was the former wife of Dr. Gordon Jackson. The quiet wedding which joined the couple has been contrasted with the famous, and some are bold enough to declare "ill fated", million dollar wedding held when Miss Walker was joined in wedlock with Dr. Gordon Jackson, a few years ago.

While friends are congratulating the couple and wishing them all of the prosperity and everything, a few intimate friends of the groom are felicitating him upon finally "landing an heiress". It was whispered a few years ago that Mr. Perry was making a strong bid for the hand of an Oklahoma Sooner, but a "fraternity brother of his won the fair lady."

The American Woodmen Launches Membership Drive

DISPENSATION IS GRANTED LOS ANGELES CAMPS

BY: ATTY. CURTIS C. TAYLOR
(Commander Camp No. 5)

The annual membership campaign of Los Angeles camps of The American Woodmen was launched September 1st, and will continue for three months closing November 30th with a mammoth log rolling and "Feast in the Forest" at which time it is expected that between three and four hundred new members will be inducted into the realm of Woodcraft.

The growth of the American Woodmen since its advent in Los Angeles has been almost phenomenal for since September, 1923, approximately eighteen hundred members have joined the Order in this city and has made necessary the organization of three camps to facilitate the local activities. ON THE SIDEWALK

By C. A. B.

Sept. 10, 1927.

To the Editorial Staff,

California Eagle:

At last, you have awakened the large down-town business establishments to the real value of Eagle Advertising. The large display advertisements of such firms as' F. W. Woolworth Co., Yellow Cab Co., New York Hat Store, Typewriter Inspection Co., and many other critical advertisers are indeed a splendid sign of progress. What about this increase? What is causing it? Don't worry. "There's a reason."

Such firms as those mentioned above have long ago ceased to experiment with advertising. Their trained advertising men place ads. only where they know results will follow. Why did they select Eagle advertising? Here is the reason: The trained eye of the Publicity Expert needs only to peruse the reading columns of "The Soaring Eagle" and therein he finds reasons galore for his just decision. His inspection reveals the intricacies of a full and well balanced first-class newspaper. An interesting, reliable informer of the people it represents. Their joys, their sorrows, their hopes, their ambitions, their social and business activities; and last but not least, a paper with a distinct editorial policy—"The race: First, Last, and Always." A kaleidoscope of intensity, the heart-throbs of a people, the life of a community.

Is it a wonder that he selects The Eagle in preference to other mediums of advertisement? Is it a wonder that the community at large is heralding "The Soaring Eagle" in her upward flight? Nay, nay, my friends, your persistent efforts of the past twenty years have justly earned this meager expression of confidence. Soar on, Old Eagle! We're with you! Your thousands of admirers are watching you, nd when you reach the highest pinnacle of success, deep down in history we'll place a mark: Success—faithfully deserved, creditably earned, and justly attained. The faithful Old Eagle and its staff of efficient co-workers, we are indeed proud of you! You are really doing things that make of us a better Race and incidentally you are serving as a beacon light for the future generation.

Yours for more Salient Successes,
GEORGE W. CALDWELL.

IF it were not for such expressions of appreciation from the keenly alert, such as George W. Caldwell, we would at times feel that our efforts, at least in part, had been in vain.

Realizing that this note of recognition is not prompted by any selfish motive but is merely a spontaneous outburst from one who is ever ready to give credit when and wherever it is merited, we receive it in the same spirit in which it is given—and we pass it on, Mr. Caldwell, with the hope that others just now aspiring to do something for the Race in a business way may also be inspired to persevere, because of the encouragement you give so freely.

We are thinking of firms and individuals making the same strides towards the goal which we seek to reach—and what we hope for ourselves, we hope for them.

WHILE on the side-walk this week, starting at 9th and Central Avenue, we looked in on Baumann's Drug Store, No. 1, sodas were going freely and business on the whole seemed to be good. Just across from Baumann's on the Southwest corner of 9th and Central is a hat shop, owned and manned by a Jew who came over from Hollywood more than a year ago, and seeing the possibility of filling a need that had been entirely overlooked by members of the group in this section got busy, the store room on this corner was renovated, neatly painted—bright red, green and other attractive colors—hats galore filled the windows, a little announcement advertisement appeared in the local race papers. "That's all I need," says the Jew, "we don't have to advertise in Negro papers, to get Negro trade, just grin at them and they are yours for keeps."

THE HERALD—Are there not an hundred women in the race with a hundred dollars a piece who are red-blooded enough to protect our economic interests in this kind of hat making?

Mother Of Elizabeth Ross-Haynes Passes

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 15.—Mrs. Mary Ross, mother of Mrs. Elizabeth Ross-Haynes, died at the Hale Infirmary here this morning after an illness of several months. At her bedside were a sister and Mrs. Haynes, her only living daughter. During reconstruction days, Mrs. Ross and her husband bought a farm of about seven hundred acres in Lowndes County near this city and here she lived until her recent illness, managing the farm since her husband's death about twenty years ago.

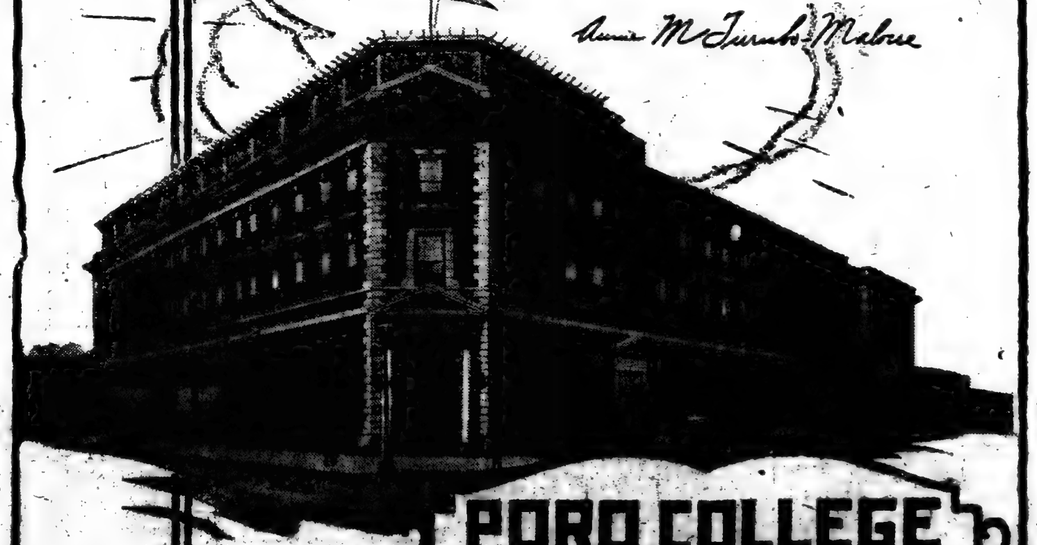
I Am Grateful, Friends

I WISH to thank the Pulpit, the Press, and the Public for your unselfish support given me in the recent crisis through which PORO COLLEGE has passed.



No less do I wish to express my appreciation for the many messages of interest and sympathy which have come to me; for the tender spoken word; and for the prayers of the faithful that an Institution dedicated to my race might stand untouched.

And I am grateful for the unprecedented demonstration of racial solidarity presented.

Your friendly interest, loyalty, and prayers during the recent upheaval have lightened, more than any other agency could have lightened, the way to bigger endeavor.

In recognition whereof, I rededicate to my people, PORO COLLEGE, and reconsecrate it to the loving service of Negro Womanhood.

POPULAR S. C. CO-ED ACCEPTS POSITION

Last Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m., about one hundred and fifty of the Los Angeles intelligentsia gathered at the Southern Pacific Depot to bid bon voyage to Miss Portia Louise Broyles, a recent graduate of the University of Southern California, who left for Tuskegee Institute where she will teach English and Education. Miss Broyles is well known as a leader in college circles and is very largely responsible for the group action which has taken place in the past four years among the Race students of the University of Southern California. She is a charter member of Upsilon Chapter, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, and of the Belles Lettres Club as well, both of which organizations she served with unceasing devotion from the day they were organized until the day of her departure. Her loyalty to college campus organizations, however much they may bespeak of her zeal to encourage group action among Race students, is by far excelled my her efforts and statue as a student. She has a remarkable scholastic record. One which stands as a tribute to the efforts she has made to receive a college education.

BIG MASONIC MASS MEETING F. & A. M.

LOS ANGELES JUNIOR SET HONORS LOUISIANA VISITORS

The hospitality of the citizens of Los Angeles shall long be remembered and appreciated by the recent visitors, especially those from Louisiana. Los Angeles Junior Society has demonstrated its ability in entertaining its most sedate and fastidious guests.

Paramount among the recent parties honoring visiting guests was the reception given by Miss Yolando Collumb for her house-guest, the Misses Edith and Thelma Coffey of New Orleans, at her beautifully appointed home, 752 E. 52nd Pl. The charming guest were most engaging and with all the rushing, on the part of the club collegiate youth, were quite able to provide smiles and dances for them all. The hostess emphasized her ability as such, by supplying such excellent music for dancing; such delicious refreshments and such qualifying solos for the occasion. Among the other visiting Creole belles present were the Misses Billings of New Orleans and Alsori and Leora Turnbul of Baton Rouge.

GLADYS GREENAWAY

Well "we don't choose to write" much this week so we suppose the long suffering public will clamor aloud and articles in newspapers and magazines will appear to the effect that the Miss Greenaway does "not choose to write" ala the President.

All foolishness aside, we would like to say it looks like rain on the Westside while on the Eastside one can even see coal all up and down the street.

Miss Mabel Barnes of E. 42nd St., entertained a few guests at a house party last Monday, the 12th, in honor of Messrs. Pete Webster and Waffel Taylor, both from Waco, Texas. Delightful refreshments were served and two very clever soft shoe dancers, Messrs. Bobbie Evans and Chas. Weaver entertained the guests. Everyone enjoyed themselves and wished the gust of honor a pleasant visit.

Time—Any old hour.
Place—On road from Waco, Texas, to Los Angeles, Calif.
Principals—Two young men.
1st Walker—"Man, I shore feel hongry."
2nd Ditto—"Oh' but this is good for the waist line."
1st (as before)—"Heck, yes, my waistline'll be gone. Only be a line left."

The "Laddies" Club celebrated their first anniversary dance at the Masonic Hall, Thursday, September 15th. The dance was rated as one of the most successful affairs. The personel of the club consists of President, Mr. Sherman Hudnell; Vice-President, Mr. Alvis Parrish; Secretary, Mr. Chas. Schaeffer, and Treasurer, Mr. Oscar Williams. The members of the "Laddies Club" rate 100 per cent with the young people and their affairs always go over the top.

Miss Lulah Bartes radiografts that she hopes to be back in L. A. in a month or so. Here's hoping she's not teasing Frank.

Agnes—"He strongly objects to my dress".
Mildred A.—"What did you do?"
Agnes—"Oh, I laughed it off".

We get lots of checks thru the mail and they aren't rain checks either. But we can't cash 'em. They come from every $1.00 down and $1.00 a week shop in town. Checks only are good when buying. Oh, Death, etc! etc!

The Circus is now in town. As Barnum once remarked "There's one born every minute". Judging by the crowd there are now two born every minute.

Altho' we are not in a position to bet on the forthcoming championship fight, and seeing we were not asked by the "Eagle" to represent the paper in dear old Chi, yet we feel our sporting blood racing like a comet. Who takes our bet of one penny? Any-one! Send on names over the phone and we will refer you to our baker who takes care of all our financial transactions.

Mr. O'Neil De Buclet is one of the freshest of the freshmen over at So. Calif. this term. One may see O'Neal any afternoon working off steam at Baumann's Pharmacy No. 2.

Mr. Millard Johnson is back in town after a tour of the Eastern and Southern States.

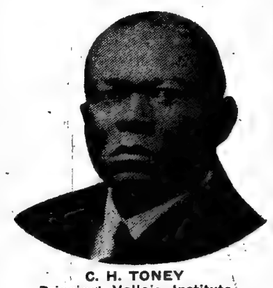
Miss Earnestine Jones, able stenographer of the "Eagle" became Mrs. Mrs. T. Hyde Wade, Sunday last, and is now honeymooning. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Wade all success for their future life together.

Well, "gentle readers", we have come tothe end of our pad and seeing as we cannot write on air we are leaving you 'till next week.

Visitors to Ely, Nevada, and Weldon, Arizona, will find two brand new hotels now being built by John R. Payne of the Golden State Mining Co. and managed by Los Angeles people and catering to every one.

CHARLES ROBINSON,
1302 East 7th Street.

Mr. John Williams of Houston, Tex., is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Davis of W. 35th Street.



The Eastside Mothers' Club, honoring Mrs. Hattie Baldwin, treasurer, and Mrs. Lelia Follis, recording secretary, is holding a reception Thursday, September 22nd, from 3 to 7 p. m., at the Eastside Mothers' Home, 1657 East 22nd St. Mesdames Baldwin and Follis have recently returned from an extended eastern trip and the reception planned for them is an expression of the high esteem in which they are held by their co-workers.

The Eastside Mothers' Club has paid the last dollar on their splendid property at 1657 East 22nd Street, and will celebrate that important event by "burning the mortgage" Thursday evening, September 22nd, at 7:30 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to witness the happy ceremony, and a special invitation is extended to all who have in any way contributed t othe accomplishment of this charity.

CLUB ENTERTAINMENT PLEASES

Sunday afternoon the Central Avenue Gardens Industrial Club attracted a host of elegantly gowned ladies and fashionable men to their green and gold Tea given at the home, of the president, Mrs. L. H. Fisher of Pace Avenue.

South Los Angeles opened the eyes of many old-timers and those-who-know-a-few-Things in the art of entertaining, for theirs was the last word in tea giving.

More than a hundred persons partook of the club's hospitality and enjoyed the afternoon of continuous program and tea sipping. Mrs. Fisher, president, won the club's prize for greatest number of guests present, having twenty-five.

The club's membership consists of twenty-one neighboring women.

Dr. W. A. Washington Honored

Dr. W. A. Washington, pastor and founder of Bethel Church of Christ (Holiness), corner Hooper Avenue and East Adams Street, has returned to this city from a trip which took him through Arkansas, Illinois, Kentucky, Virginia and Washington, D. C. He attended the convention in Church of Christ Holiness which brought about the union that will reach from coast to coast and from Illinois to Texas.

He returns to us from the National Convention of the Church of Christ, Holiness, which was held at Norfolk, Virginia, as Bishops W. A. Washington of the Western Diocese which territory extends from Texas north to Missouri, and all the Pacific Cost. He will be given a banquet by his congregation and friends Friday, September 23rd. Everybody is invited to make the welcome be what it should for one who has so well merited this honor after having been honored by the brethren all over the country.

Dr. Washington also has the distinction of being president of the Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance.

Who said the Woodmen couldn't do it? Well we are doing it. Join now for $4.00. That includes everything. See us today. 1400 Central Avenue. Phone WEstmore 3479.

California Council, No. 1, I. P. P. O. E. of W., met at the home of Special Deputy Loyal Dt., Edna V. Elgin.

The session was called to order by Deputy Loyal Dt. Bertha Triplett. After roll call the business of the Council was taken up. Loyal Dt. Minnie Blackshear reported still on the sick list. Dt. Ella White was made a Loyal Dt. in the Council. Dt. Elgin was elected delegate to the Grand Lodge in N. Y. City. No further business the Council closed to meet at Loyal Dt. Willie E. Jones. Loyal Dt. Elgin very charmingly entertained the Dts. and served delicious refreshments during the social hour. Loyal Dt. S. A. Adkins, Chm. Pub. Com.

SEASON'S MOST BRILLIANT EVENT TO BE MORE ATTRACTIVE THAN EVER

Ocean Park's eighth annual Kiddies' Floral Parade will be held on Sunday, September 25th.

The one great event that grows more beautiful and popular every year will, this season, eclipse all previous pgeants. More than one thousand children are expected to participate this year and with a prize fund of $1,000, the costumes, floats and presentations will be greater than ever.

As usual the pageant and prizes will be divided into classes with special awards in the following classifications: Decorated Floats, Decorated Baby Buggies, Prettiest Costumed Child, Prettiest Doll Buggy, Best Decorated Kiddies' Auto, Best Decorated Kiddies' Wgon, Prettiest Twins, Prettiest Triplets, Prettiest Fashion Plates, Best Decorated Bicycle, Best Decorated Kiddies' Car, Prettiest Kiddies' Car and the Finest Civic and Commercial entry.

The Kiddies' Floral Parade is one of the most beautiful spectacles presented any palce in the world and in past years it has rivaled the Pasadena Tournament of Roses for number of entries and the beauty and originality of costumes and floats. The many thousands who have witnessed the event in the past are enthusiastic in the commendation.

Hundreds of tots, ranging from one year to twelve are entered in the parade. Colorful costumed and mounted on all conceivable kinds of vehicles from baby buggies to trams and miniature automobiles, they pass down the Ocean Front Promenade from Fraser avenue to Rose. Passing the reviewing stand in front of the Municipal Auditorium, they are judged and noted for prizes.

As usual the parade will be headed by the famous Santa Monica Municipal Band and there will be several other bands, including the Santa Monica Bay Boy Scouts Band, in the line of march. Prominent public officials as well as the best known club women of the Bay district will act as judges.

The parade this year, as usual, will be under the complete management and direction of Mrs. Earl Fraser. Starting with an entry list of ninety children eight years ago, Mrs. Fraser has worked tirelessly to make the Kiddies' Parade the gorgeous spectacle it is. Each year has seen the event grow in public esteem, so that now it is booked upon as the one great event of the season. Mrs. Fraser has established headquarters in the Ocean Park Plunge, where she is receiving entries and attending to the thousand and one details of the parade. This year she will be assisted by Miss Helen Lamb. Already over 100 entries have been received. Invitations have been mailed to hundreds of children in every part of the state and the number entering is expected to be greater than ever.

Ocean Park is proud of its annual Kiddies' Floral Parade. The Ocean Park Business Men's Association which is co-operating in the promotion of the parade, take a great deal of pleasure in offering this beautiful festival to Southern California. It extends a most cordial invitation to every one to witness its great pageant.

The parade starts at 1:30 p. m. Sunday, September 25th, and if you wish a day of wonderful enjoyment either motor or take a Pacific Electric train to Ocean Park, where the Kiddies Parade offers you a colorful and brilliant pageant.

Walter L. Gordon Co. Building Own Home

WILL MOVE SEPTEMBER 25TH

The announcement this week that the Walter L. Gordon Realty Company of 3617 Central Avenue of which Mr. Walter L. Gordon is president and his talented and esteemable wife, Mrs. Vertner L. Gordon is secretary, will move into the company's own new building now being built at 4005, 4007 and 4009 Central Avenue about September 25th, is indeed very pleasing to the many friends and clients of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon as well as those of other members of this well established and successful firm composed of C. Eugene Houston, manager of sales; Albert J. Bass, manager of rentals; William Mells Watson, advertising manager; Charles L. Eason, Carry J. Smith; George H. Duncan, Carl D. Towns, J. B. Bowman and Paul Goodall.

Nearly four years ago, October 9, 1923, Mr. Gordon laid aside Uncle Sam's mail bag and entered the realty field as a junior partner of the Climax Realty Co., then at 2517 Central Ave. With earnest effort, fair and square dealing so well did he progress that in 1925 he founded the Walter L. Godon Company and will, on October 9, 1927, celebrate the fourth anniversary of his business career in the company's own building, 4007 Central Ave.

This firm's splendid new building is now under course of construction and marks a forward step in the race's business vision and progress on the East side.

With "TRUTH, HONESTY and SERVICE" as its watchword, so rapid has been the growth of the Walter L. Gordon Company and its volume of business that it has entirely outgrown its present quarters and was forced to scure larger office space and rather than to "Pay the Rent to The Other Fellow" and longer and in order to carry out the company's "Own Your Own Home" program the purchase of a large lot on Central Avenue just south of 40th Street was made and the construction of a great three store room building begun, two have already been spoken of for leasing and the other will be occupied by the Walter L. Gordon Company with sufficient space to house the various departments of the firm's growing business and to continue to give True, Honest and efficient service to the many clients that flow into the office daily. Watch this paper for the announcement of the grand opening.

EXCITING DAY AT FORUM SUNDAY

SENDS GOVERNOR YOUNG STRONG RESOLUTIONS AGAINST EXTRADITION OF ED GLASS TO OKLAHOMA AUTHORITIES

The great address of Garland Anderson, far famed author of "Appearances", on his master subject of psychology, and the keen interest awakened thereby, was a stepping stone to the mission which the body launched out on, that of human rights. The Eagle editor was present fresh from the scene of combat at the hearing before the Governor. He related the history of the case and the efforts put forth by the committee of which he was a part and the Forum joined in whole heartedly by passing the following resolutions which were immediately wired to Governor Young at Sacramento, who was scheduled to give his decision on Wednesday.

"To His Excellency,
Gov. C. C. Young,
State Capital Bldg.,
Sacramento, Calif.

The Los Angeles Forum in regular meeting assembled Sunday, September 11th, passed the following resolutions:—

"WHEREAS, this organization stands for law and order,

"WHEREAS, the record of Oklahoma is notorious for mob law, violence and lynching,

"WHEREAS, reports from Sapulpa are to the effect that Glass will be promptly mobbed and lynched on his return to Sapula, therefore, be it

"RESOLVED, that the Forum hereby petitions and prays our Governor to refuse to sign the papers turning over the prisoner to the officers from Oklahoma. Be it further

"RESOLVED, that the precedent established by other governors of northern states where there was a probability of a returned prisoner being the victim of a mob be followed in this instance by your refusal to honor Oklahoma's request for the person of Glass whom we feel, if returned will be mobbed and lynched.

"J. A. DUNCAN, President.
"A. T. CHAPPELLE, Secretary."

Another Episode Enacted In House Of Tragedies

(By The Associated Negro Press)

New York, N. Y., Sept. 15.—For the second time in less than three months, tragedy stalked through the house at 95 West 134th Stret. Shortly before seven o'clock Saturday night, Joseph Jenkins, 30, a roomer at that address, either jumped or fell from a second story window to the courtyard below.

In the same house on June 12 police discovered the dismembered body of John Henry, for whose murder, Chicora Glascoe has been indicted and is now awaiting trial in the Tombs prison.

According to Mrs. Francis Parks, landlady of the rooming house, she was summoned to the room occupied by Jenkins in answer to the cries of his roommate, George Shelton. She entered the room just in time to restrain Jenkins from leaping from the window, she said.

Mrs. Parks said that Sheldon aided her in quieting Jenkins, who remarked that he was "awfully nervous". According to Mrs. Parks, they managed to get him into bed, when he suddenly leaped and plunged over the window sill.

The landlady said that she was able to grab only his necktie which slipped from his collar as he struggled, permitting Jenkins to fall to the cement yard below.

Jenkins was removed to the Harlem Hospital, where it was discovered he was suffering from a fractured skull. Little hope is held for his recovery.

Young Author To Travel To Foreign Countries

Emmett Moses Sims, 21 year old author of Riverside, California, is going abroad to get new and more complete material for his book and to place it before foreign authorities.

His travels will include Mexico, South America, Europe, Asia, Panama, Costa Rica, England and India. He will visit the National University at Mexico, University of Paris, Oxford University and St. George's College and have interviews with Pres. Henri Fairfield Osborn of the American Museum of Natural History and our own Dr. W. E. B. DuBois.

The title of his book is "The History of Creation" and includes from the time the burning globe thundered through time and space with an unmeasurable speed up until Colonel Chas. Lindberg, the lanky peace-time ace, flew from New York to Paris and deals with the organic forms of life from protozoa to homo.

We are glad to see our youth so interested and working towards the worthwhile things of life and think Mr. Sims should be encouraged in this splendid effort.

Pope Sends Greetings To Colored Catholics

(By The Associated Negro Press)

New York, Sept. 15.—Greetings from Pope Pius were read to the delegates at the third annual convention of the Federated Colored Catholics of the United States Sunday at pontificial high mass celebrated in St. Charoles Borromeo's Church.

The message read: "The Holy Father sends to the convention of the Federation of Colored Catholics his good wishes and paternal benediction."

The Rt. Rev. John J. Dunn, Bishop Auxiliary of New York, was celebrant. The sermon was by the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Thomas M. O'Keefe, pastor of St. Benedict, the Moor Church.

Thirty-six colored Catholic organizations are represented at the convention which opened Sunday for three days. Delegates are from the District of Columbia, Maryland, Ohio, Illinois, Massachusetts, Virginia, and Louisiana.

Among the more prominent Catholics taking part in the convention are Prof. Eugene A. Clark, assistant superintendent of colored schools, Washington, D. C., Elmo M. Anderson, secretary of the Colored Catholic Board; Arthur A. Schomburg; and Mrs. M. V Boutte.

The afternoon session was held at Sr. Marks Hall, where addresses were made by Counsellor Myles A. Paige; Mrs. Eloise Bibb Thompson; Fred R. Moore and Dr. E. P. Roberts.

According to figures released by the convention, there are 250,000 colored Catholics in the United States with the largest numbers in Maryland and Louisiana.

Says Death Rate Among Negroes Decreasing

New Orleans, La., Sept. 12. (By The Associated Negro Press)—Five hundred delegates and visitors attended the convention of the Ladies and Knights of Honor Order, which was held in Plaquemios, La. Frank Young was re-elected grand dictator and protector of the Order for the ensuing year.

Dr. J. H. Murray of New Orleans, who spoke on the subject of "Health" at the Chautauqua at the convention, asserted that the death rate of Negroes in Louisiana has decreased in the last few years. J. B. Craig, E. D. Burke, and Rev. Buchanan represented Buchanan Success Lodge No. 35. J. B. Craig, in a speech before the convention, stressed the necessity of the colored people of the state assisting flood rehabilitation work.

Bishops See And Praise Gulfside

(By: A. N. P.)

Waveland, Miss., Sept. 15.—Bishops, ministers and laymen inspected Gulfside Wednesday and congratulated Bishop R. E. Jones upon establishing what was declared to be the nucleus of the greatest religious and educational center in the South and the leading resort of Negroes in the country.

Bishop W. P. Tirkield, Bishop M. W. Clair, of the M. E. Church and Bishop I. B. Scott and Bishop W. J. Walls were among those who gathered at the dedication exercises and joined in with college presidents and business and professional men in singing the praises of Bishop Jones and the success of his project.

Excursions were run from various points including New Orleans, Mobile, and Montgomery, and hundreds of people were here to take part in the exercises and to take a "dip in the Gulf". The beauty of the place, the modern facilities and the up-to-dateness of the institution came in for much praise.

learned, means seeing to it that he disposes of the little favors he has to offer in an equitable manner. Each state delegation, as a rule, comes to the convention hoping to get something, and it barters its support for this objective.

Williams' annual message proved to be a highly statesmanlike paper. It considered practically every phase of Baptist endeavor and was filled with sound recommendations which the convention adopted.

Some of his recommendations concerned the convention and Baptists particularly and others were of interests to the entire race. Among those of interest to Baptists was one emphasizing the necessity of having the auditor of the convention audit the books of the various boards and departments. It was plainly stated that this central auditing authority was necessary to impress the boards that they were subordinate parts of the convention. E. D. Pierson is auditor and made an exhaustive report concerning his work. In the last three years he has saved thousands of dollars for the convention through the installation of proper bookkeeping systems and the elimination of waste.

It was revealed that Negro Baptists have been accorded equal recognition with white Baptists when Dr. Williams called upon the convention to fulfill its pledge, amounting to about two thousand dollars, to the Baptist World Alliance which meets in Toronto, Canada, in June of next year. This is expected to be the largest gathering of Baptists of all colors and races in history, and the Negro Baptist Convention of America will be the largest single group represented.

Prior to the president's address, Dr. Roscoe C. Giles of Chicago presented a request from the National Medical Association to the effect that the Baptist Convention appoint a committee to meet with a commitee from the medical association to plan ways and means of building a large hospital for Negroes in the South, and one in the North. Dr. Giles impressively stressed the Negro's health needs and the urgency of providing training schools for young physicians. All his recommendations were concurred in by the convention and the question of health was further discussed in the president's message in an appeal that Baptists unite for the building of a tubercular sanitarium.

Baptists seem to be recognizing the need for a trained ministry. No other part of Dr. Williams' address received the applause accorded his plea for education and the means of education. He denied that the minister of today can get along without training, and emphasized the urgency of providing support for the denominational schools.

An interesting and involved situation has devolved in respect to the Training School for Women and Girls in Washington, D. C., of which Miss Nannie H. Burroughs is president. The leaders of the convention claim that the school was founded under the auspices of the women's auxiliary to the convention, and that, after Miss Burroughs was made president, the convention rendered support to the school.

Since that time the institution has been incorporated under an independent board of trustees who refuse to accord the convention any voice in the management of the school. Miss Burroughs, who is secretary of the women's auxiliary, refuses to recognize the interest of the convention, and is felt to have been the chief influence in promoting the present estrangement. The officers of the convention, men and women, feel that they could go to the civil courts and prove they have an abiding, legal interest in the affairs of the school, but it is privately reported that they hesitate to make such a move for fear that their motives would be misunderstood and they might be accused of persecuting a woman. They are hopeful that Miss Burroughs will change her mind, but meanwhile she just laughs them off.

One of the most important phases of convention work is the activity of the laymen. The male laity of the church is being organized by John L. Webb, supreme custodian of the Woodmen of Union, with headquarters at Hot Springs, Ark. Mr. Webb has associated with him many of the Negro's leading business men, who attend the convention and offer their services in promoting the objects of the lawmen. Anthony Overton, president of the Victory Life Insurance Company, and the Douglass National Bank, Chicago, made a very effective speech at Thursday evening's meeting. The laymen are trying to increase preacher's salaries, aid the education of young ministers and put business systems into church management.

Detroit has been hospitable indeed to its religious guests. Wednesday morning the delegates were welcomed by Mayor John W. Smith, and leading white and colored citizens of the city. Bishop W. T. Vernon spoke in behalf of the Methodists.

The convention sessions are being held in the Light Guard Armory, which seats scarcely half the delegates, but is claimed to be the city's largest auditoriums. The women's auxiliary holds its meetings in the Second Baptist Church of which that great Baptist leader, R. L. Bradby, is pastor. Convention sidelights include a boat ride and a trip to Niagara Falls. The local committee has published a daily paper of the convention happenings, cooperating with the Detroit Independent, local weekly. This is the first time such a step has ever ben taken.

Recognition of the Negro press of the country was made Wednesday afternoon when a motion was passed directing that a copy of the president's address be sent to every colored newspaper in the country.

PATRONS FILL NEW RESTAURANT WITH FLOWERS

The progressive idea in business will, almost invariably be appreciated by a discerning public.

Prior to the time that fire destroyed the old frame building which housed their business in the eleven hundred block on East 12th Street, the McCloneys had only considered themselv fairly successful. They, in order to successfully compete with other cafe owners in the immediate vicinity, and who were much better situated by having more up-to-date shops and equipments, had to resort to a more systematized effort to serve a better cooked meal, maintaining higher quality of service, at reasonable prices. All these things they managed to do. Thanks to the efforts of Mrs. Elnora McCloney, whose genius in managing and supervising the kitchen output was a piece of art in restaurant economy, and service. She made a multitude of friends. Many hoped she would get a more attractive place.

The new building which has replaced the old ramble shack, is indeed a credit to the colored business district. The store that houses the restaurant at 1173 E. 12th St., is second to none on East 12th Street. There is plenty of room for the lunch counter, tables and booths. The walls are immaculate; the ceiling high, which gives assurance that the atmosphere will not be dense with kitchen odor. The kitchen like the dining room is large and spacious. The equipment in both, dining room and kitchen is the latest word in modern use. It is open night and day. The employment list is large. A total of nine girls being employed to give service in the dining room.

Among the large number of handsome bouquets of beautiful flowers that fairly swamped the place, was one from Mr. William Robinson, proprietor of the Entertainers' Cafe. Their respective restaurants are directly opposite the other. Mr. Robinson said in paying their respects: "To a most worthy competitor, my regards." Can you beat it, rather unique, what? Nevertheless a most commendable gesture to colored business people.

EDITORIAL

WHAT DOES HE MEAN?

Mother arises in the morning, gets breakfast for Father and the children, gets the children off to school and Father off to work. Father spends the day earning money. Mother spends it sewing, mending, washing, ironing, preparing a hot lunch for the children, seeing that they are clean as they go back to school, supervising their play and study after school, correcting what she considers injurious habits, checking up on bad grammar and bad manners, getting and serving dinner.

When Father comes home, he plays his part in the family life. He consults with the children about school problems, lays down the law with authority on points where Mother thinks she has not been sufficiently impressive, and adds the weight of his words in seeing that next day's school work is prepared, and finally in getting the reluctant youngsters to go to bed.

At last a few minutes of peace. Mother picks up the evening paper and reads:

"The home is the weakest spot in America's social fabric of today", Dr. W. A. Trettien, professor of psychology in Ohio University, declared. "Its influence should be much greater than it is. We should be forced to work out our domestic problems instead of sidestepping them."

It puzzles Mother. She doesn't quite see what more she could have done. She reads the item to Father. He is equally in the dark.

SHRINKING GREENBACKS

Americans next year will have a little experience of their own with shrinking money. But, while marks, francs and rubles shrank in value, the dollar's shrinkage will be in size. The new bills, one-third smaller in size than those now in circulation, will be placed in distribution shortly after the beginning of the new year.

Although the average citizen has personal reasons to doubt it, about $450,000,000 in bills is outstanding. When the new bills are ready the banks will issue them and send to Washington the large ones that come into their possession.

When the new money has driven out the old it will be found that everybody has been benefited. While the two sizes are in circulation only bankers and magnates will be inconvenienced and lose a few of the smaller type between larger ones. But when the last of the large bills has disappeared from circulation the government will save money, the wad will make a smaller bulge in the pants pocket or silk stocking and paper money will be more mailable as well as portable.

Small enough to be placed in a wallet or envelope without folding, the diminutive currency will remain cleaner and will live longer. Moreover, Secretary Mellon says the new bills will be harder to counterfeit and handsomer than the old. If anybody is a better authority on money than Mellon, let him be produced. And if he is not complaining about the trouble of counting two sizes of bills nobody should, for few have more in their own name and none has more under his official control.

ALERT TO ALL SITUATIONS

We compliment the Forum upon its alertness in coming promptly to the forefront in the Glass extradition case by passing suitable resolutions and forwarding the same to Governor Young at Sacramento. The Los Angeles Forum is broadguaged and composed of the real forces of progress and stands firm for law and order at all times.

Y. M. C. A. TO THE FOREFRONT

We note in the "Y Men" Eulletin sent out by the Central Branch of the Y. M. C. A. of this city; the forward step of progress by this great institution and in the same report we also note the due credit given to the 27th and Paloma Street Branch. It will therefore be readily seen that the broadguaged spirit of real brotherhood as demonstrated by the Central Branch has not been in vain, for surely the appreciation of fair and square dealing not only helps one side but helps all.

More power to this great body and may it ever climb onward and upward to the highest possible heights.

NOT COSMOPOLITAN

In our local county government the District Attorney's office had quite a shake up during the past week and fired quite a few of its investigators. This is only of passing interest to our particular group of citizens for this particular office is far from cosmopolitan and remains such until just before election time.

Pioneer Citizen of California Crosses the Great Divide

James H. Griffin, one of the pioneer citizens of California, who has been conducting a prosperous business in San Diego for the past 20 years, passed away in that city on September 14th, after a brief illness.

James H. Griffin was a well known as well as picturesque character whom everybody held n the highest esteem. "Griff", as he was familiarly and lovingly called, numbered his friends by the thousands. He was the friend of everyone. He was one of a most highly respected family most of whom live in Pasadena wwhere he lived before going to San Diego.

He leaves to mourn his passing two sons, a daughter, a host of relatives, and a legion fofriends. His body will be brought to Pasadena on next Monday the 19th and funeral services will be held from the Friendship Baptist Church at 2 P. M. of that day. Funeral Directors of Connor & Johnson in charge.

The management of this journal aside from the near relatives and friends, in the passing of Mr. Griffin, feel they hve lost one of their most loyal friends. eW have known him ever since we set foot in thie community, and have ever known him to be faithful, honorable and true. We acknowledge his wonderful interest in our success ,and he was ever ready and in line for encouraging our efforts along the lines of our chosen profession. Few men have we met in public life who were so sincere and earnest in their efforts as was James H. Griffin, OUR FRIEND, whom we mourn. Peace to his ashes.

YOUTHFUL CRIMINAL ON WAY TO PRISON

Last Sunday when the chimes were pealing forth for the hour of Sabbath School, young Hugh Adms, instead of wending his way in that direction, made his initial move along the long lane of crime that leads behind prison walls.

In company with his sweetheart, Fannie Lee Iess, who refused to give up more cash according to her habbit and threatened to go home, he slapped and beat her. After she managed to break away from him and was running downstairs, he shot her in the back inflicting a very serious, if not mortal wound, so says the attending physicians at the General Hospital.

In spite of all of this, Mrs. Less is reported to have said that she doesn't know whether she wants to prosecute him or not.

Mrs. Ether R. Sims attended the National Grand Temple of U. B. F. and S. M. T. held in St. Louis, Mr. Mrs. Sims was re-elected Chairman of the National Art Department and she will begin her work at once.

Harlem Realtor Flees Bankruptcy

(By The Associated Negro Press)

New York, N. Y., Sept. 15.—John Matthews, widely known in Harlem real estate circles, failed in business last week and fled the city to escape the debts and alleged embezzlements pressing him.

It was said at his former office, 646 Lenox Avenue, that his whereabouts are unknown. Information from his friends denied the failure, but from other sources, it is said that his total losses are more than $50,000 for the past two years.

Mr. Matthews was known to have invested $30.000 in cash in the business some years ago. All this is reported gone. Restitution from unknown quarters of the most serious obligations has been made partially, it is said, in the last few days.

Collects "Back Taxes" With A Brick

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 15.—Mrs. Eadie Mayfield is out of $25.00 and has a lump on her head, all because she "trusted a man". Mrs. Mayfield was en route to the court house Monday morning to pay her "back taxes". She met a man on her way who inquired her mission. After hearing that she was going to pay taxes, the gallant gentleman offered to get her a little discount. When they arrived at the courthouse, it was closed, so they started in the direction of the woman's home, but after a short walk, the man struck her over the head with a brick and when she regained consciousness the man and her $25.00 had disappeared.

Here we also met the hustling and genial Col. Wm. McLemore who was one of the cogs of the works which landed the Hon. S. M. Shortridge in the Senate for his second term. We look upon Mr. McLemore as a live wire and very energetic worker for all racial movements.

We looked upon the Hon. Alexander McCabe who treated us courteously and discussed with him things in general, he informed us that while he was strictly a private citizen that anything he could do he was at our service. At this moment he was in touch with the Governor's office, to make appointment for the officers of the Oakland N. A. A. C. P. for a conference with Governor Young.

Following this we visited the office of Sheriff Thomas H. Finn, one of the squarest and fairest officials which we have ever met, a man who believes in men and who will go out of his way to do a favor. We shall not soon forget the ttitude of the genial Sheriff at all times toward our group and the many favors which he has rendered to them during his official career.

At the close of fuse another day we journeyed back to Oakland and accepted the standing invitation of our good friend Dr. O. W. DeVaughn as his guest and at his home did we park during our stay at the big Bay Cities. The doctor in a modern and pretentious home near Berkeley and under the guidance of his devoted helpmate, it is a home to be envied, we are under many obligations to Dr. and Mrs. DeVaughn who spared no effort to make our sojourn a pleasant one.

We also met many of Oakland's leading and progressive citizen among whom were Dr. Purnell, Walter Butler, Major W. H. Loving, E. B. Gray, Wm. Bridges, W. D. Jackson, Chas. Tilghman, Jr., Father Wallace, Attorney Drake, Chas. Jamison., Dewitt Moss, Madame Jones, the prima donna and others too numerous to mention.

We visited the plant of the Western American which is owned by Mr. Dewitt Moss, formerly a linotype operator for the "Soaring Eagle" and noted with a deal of pride that he has established and is publishing a newspaper which is indeed a high credit to the fourth estate. It being press day it made us think of home and, press day around the Eagle shop. Mr. Moss and his very estimable wife and happy children who were right by his side are indeed a distinct asset to the city of Oakland.

On Sunday we worshipped at the historic 15th St. A. M. E. Church in company with Dr. and Mrs. DeVaughn. We enjoyed very much the masterly sermon preached by Dr. Nelso Pryor who is serving his fifth consecutive year at this point.

On Monday which was Labor Day, we visited the very splendid Elks Rest and joined in the feast which the antlered herd had provided for the populace and from here we journeyed out to the Tennis Tournament and watched the championship contests. Of course we pulled for Southern California to win the events in which she was entered and our players did not fail for Miss Harris and Miss Stocks were outstanding and could not be headed in any of the events in which they entered.

N. A. A. C. P. PULLS BIG DRIVE

On Tuesday evening we attended the closing of the big membership drive of the National Association which was held in the Auditorium of the Civic Auditorium. It was featured by a song recital by a real artist, Mme. Hughes, who endeared herself in song to the vast concourse of people who turned out for the occasion. She was superb in song and was encored time after time. The meeting was a brilliant success.

On Wednesday on invitation from the members of the Oakland Branch of the N. A. A. C. P. we formed a part of the committee which waited on Governor Young at Sacramento to protest against the granting of extradition of Mr. Glass to the Oklahoma authorities on the ground that if granted he would not receive a trial but would be mobbed and lynched. The governor received the committee very cordially and told us that if such conditions were true it was intolerable and set the hearing for Friday assuring us of every consideration.

We journeyed back to Oakland spent Thursday on routine business. On Thursday evening we again had the pleasure of hearing one of Oakland's song birds in the person of Mme. A. B. Jones in recital at the M. E. Church in Berkeley and allow us to say that she indeed is a wonder. She presented a most elaborate program and proved herself as second to none as a songster of real worth and merit. She had everything on this occasion that a singer is supposed to have—voice, stage appearance and costume—which would do credit to any time or place. We suggested to her manager with such a wonderful rtist as Mme. Jones she should not fail in presenting her to a Los Angeles audience.

Friday found us again in Sacramento to lend our presence at the hearing for the extradition proceedings for Mr. Glass. The same was held in the Senate chamber and was conducted by Mr. Carli, the Governor's Executive Secretary, advised by the Assistant Attorney General. Attorneys A. B. Mabson of San Francisco and Drakes of Oakland represented the defendant. Attorney Mabson in a masterly manner presented the legal reasons why extradition should be refused and was followed by Attorney Drake. The other side followed with the reason why he should be extradited and the Attorney General strongly represented the Oklahoma officers. Whether our readers would believe it or not, the Sheriff from Creek County, Oklahoma, was so hungry for his prey that he made the bold statement that Glass, upon his return, would get just as fair a trial in Oklahoma as he would here in California. Despite the fact that the Executive Secretary had stated at the outset of the hearing that only the legal representatives would be heard on behalf of Glass, at this juncture your writer arose and stated as the editor of the California Eagle, Vice-President of the National Negro Press Association and speaking for a large part of the Colored people of Southern California, he would like to be heard. The Executive Secretary granted the request and we called attention to the long line of precedents of northern governors who had absolutely refused to turn over to the Southern mobs prisoners when there was a probability of violence without trial or jury. Speaking directly to the Sheriff from Oklahoma we told him of the black record of Oklahoma for mob violence, that in fact, it was as black as the hinges of midnight and urged as forcefully as we could the denial of extradition. The case was adjourned at this point to allow the National Association through its attorney to make further showing on points of law and the probability of mob violence on Tuesday, 13th inst.

VISIT TO STATE FAIR

Our next visit was to the State Fair which was in full sway. We found highly creditable exhibits from all sections of the state—agriculture, horticulture, mining, live stock and manufactures—they were illuminating and inspiring. It was a real old time and worth while State Fair.

Back to the city we met many of the leading citizens, Taylor Walker, Robert Pankey, the old war horse, Hon. Jake Soreas, J. W. Mills, premier real estate dealer, his partner S. N. Crawford, Dr. W. E. Richardson, formerly of this city, our former correspondent Mrs. J. W. Scott and many others.

Our time for being away from home by this time and jury duty before us, we boarded the flyer at five-thirty Saturday, arriving home Sunday at 9:30 A. M.

SAN FRANCISCO POLITICAL NEWS

The Colored Progressive Republican Club held a meting Tuesday evening at its headquarters, No. 1896 Sutter St, and unanimously endorsed Col. James E. Power as their standard bearer for Mayor of San Francisco; Thomas F. Finn, Sheriff; Russell Wolden, County Assessor. They also endorsed Judge Mathew Brady for District Attorney. Other nominations were laid over until its next regular meeting.

Registration office will be open in the headquarters Monday, September 19, 1927, so that all voters will have an opportunity to register and do their civic duty; speeches by various members from the floor; the Press will keep the public informed from time to time until election of the various candidates.

COMMENTS

BY: W. J. WHEATON

All who toil for their daily wage should read and take inspiration from the address delivered on Labor Day by U. S. Senator Hiram Johnson at San Diego, Calif. It was logical, pregnant with truth, and visioned an ideal for Labor which is practicable. Time has not lessened the interest of the Senator for the Toiler, nor has he lost any of the high ideals which enabled him in the past to cope with "predatory interests. He believes in the dignity of Labor, and cites it as the "backbone of the nation." Honest toil should be rewarded by an honest wage. The solidarity of labor has raised the standard of living and raised it from serfdom to an honorable and dignified position.

How many Californians know their State? The State Fair or Exposition of the State's resources was a revelation to inter-State visitors. They marveled at the diversity of its natural products; minerals, precious metals and gems. The diversity of fruits, of grain and food staples, scarcely anything for human consumption, grown on the face of the earth, that was not exhibited. Fine stock of pedigree, game poultry of known variety, added to the total wealth of gold, silver, copper, and the minerals used in the industries. But great was that exhibition which showed the wonderful facilities of California's educational system. The vocational work of students, handicraft, which would do credit to the most finished artisan, vied with the literature and works of art. In the educational exhibit one could follow the creative wor kof students from the kindergarten on through the elementary schools, high and universities. "Marvelous!" was the exclamation heard from all. Know your California.

What comprises leadership? We often think that one of the drag-chains of racial progress, is that mooted question of leadership. "He wants to be a leader," is always asserted when any individual has the temerity to step out of the ranks for some accomplishment and forthwith every blacksmith shop and hardware establishment is raided for hammers. There was a very recent exposition of this temperament; the liberty, possibly the life of an individual was at stake. There was a delegation of "representative" citizens who planned an audience with the State's chief executive. The name of a man who is not "representative," but has the knack of getting in touch with executives, was suggested. It was like flaunting a red flag in the face of a "He cow," but if the man is saved from extradition it will be through the influence of the non-representative citizen, and, he doesn't essays to leadership.

We hope that the Negro in the United States will always have something to strive for; to fight for. Extreme happiness is ruinous to accomplishment. Stagnation, which is but one degree removed from decay, is the inevitable result of contentment. To overcome obstacles requires energy. It is the concern of the abrogation of our rights as citizens which has helped the forward trend. Attempt to bar the race from industry has awakened the spirit which is fighting to gain a footing in the sphere of economics. As we overcome the barriers of discrimination, racial ostracism, mob violence and racial hatred we hope for other mountains to climb, other obstacles to surmount, so that the spirit to do will never die. It is only by strife that an objective can be gained, a thing accomplished. A common danger is the one thing only, which will bring about a co-ordination of effort. Remember, that a satisfied cat slumbers while the rats destroy. Eternal alertness is essential to our racial life.

There are two things that should be encouraged by the Race—AVIATION, which is a factor in world progress, and SCIENTIFIC FARMING, which is the foundation of our national wealth. Pioneers in the field of aviation are few. While our youth have shown no lack of courage in the facing of ordeals. Such as is exhibited in battle, looking with serenity in the face of death, they seem to show timidity in exploring etheral heights. But we no fear the Race will yet develop "pilots of the air" dauntless, unafraid. A woman of the Race pioneered the way. As is the way of all who pioneer, she paid the cost. Death: But that should be no deterent; it's the price. Then, back to the land: the farm; the men and the women who supply the world's needs. We want t osee them go there with an intelligent conception of the work. How to wrest from "mother earth" her secret of production. It is the farm which will help solve some of the perplexing race questions. It is the cradle of human democracy.

Son Of Prominent Man Held; Murder Charge

(By: A. N. P.)

Louisburg, N. C., Sept. 15.—Henry Clark, son of one of the most prominent farmers of this section, was arrested on a charge of murdering Eugene Porter near here Monday afternoon.

Young Clark came to the city Monday afternoon and surrendered, declaring that he had stabbed Foster in an altercation, the cause of which he would not state. The knife blade penetrated the lung and death followed. At a preliminary hearing Tuesday afternoon Clark was released on a $5,000 bond.

Attention: Mrs. Bass.

Dear Madam:

Study here shows that Chicago bail bond system is all wrong. Failure of the courts to exercise discretion on bail matters and general maladministration of criminal justice has resulted in a breakdown of bail system in Chicago, according to survey of Prof. Arthur L. Beeley, issued by the University of Chicago press yesterday.

The study was made in co-operation with the Chicago Community Trust, as a part of Prof. Beeley's survey of Cook County Jail.

Large number of accused, but obviously dependable persons, are needlessly permitted to jail, while many others, just as obviously undependable, are granted a conditional release, never returned to stand trial.

MOSTLY NATIVE BOYS

We found that unsentenced jail population is made up largely of native born white unmarried young men. About two-thirds of these are under 31, and a third to a half under 21. The assumption that the unsentenced prisoners are habitual offenders are transients were shown to be a fallacy.

NEEDLESSLY IN JAIL

Study of 170 unsentenced jail prisoners indicated that sixty-five were imprisoned while awaiting a verdict, when modified bail requirements would have secured their presence at trial.

Failure of the police to apprehend the more obviously guilty individuals, unnecessary arrests, political pressure in getting insecure bail approved for favored individuals, multiplicity of local courts and general overlapping of uthority is blamed by the Professor in his study.

Yours truly,
H. B. BRADY.

AMERICAN WOODMEN LAUNCH GREAT MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

ham, an efficient and trained executive and assisted by Deputies J. E. Rector, H. K. Watkins and Chas. L. Daniels have been instrumental in adding to the Los Angeles camps insurance approximating seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Camps have also been organized by the supervisor in other California cities.

The rise of the American Woodmen as a national Order has been rapid due to the very careful management on the part of its able Supreme Camp officers headed by Supreme Commander E. W. D. Abner and Supreme Clerk L. H. Lightner. In 1909 the Order had about three thousand members with assets of less than fifteen hundred dollars. Within the short space of seventeen years the Order has a membership of seventy-five thousand with assets on January 1st, 1927 of over one million, six hundred thousand dollars. Over a million and a half dollars has been paid in benefits while six hundred thousand dollars have been loaned to members of the race to lift mortgages on their homes and in making other improvements. The Order employs more than a thousand members of the race and should merit the co-operation of race loving Negroes everywhere for what it is doing to raise the economic status of the race. The dispensation allowing four dollars joining fee to the Los Angeles camps makes it possible for those who have been waiting for this opportunity to become affiliated with the "Giant of Negro Fraternals."

PROMINENT PASTOR HONORED

On Wednesday evening, September 7, 1927, the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Graham, 1431½ W. 35th St., was the scene of a beautiful lawn fete given by the Ladies Club of Providence Baptist Church.

The lawn was converted into a veritable flower garden and was lighted with beautiful Japanese lanterns. A large crowd was present and spent the evening very pleasantly.

At the close of the fete, their efficient pastor, Rev. J. A. H. Eldridge, was presented with a handsome purse which was graciously received and acknowledged with appropriate words.

Pickens Composes New "Talladega Song"

(By The Associated Negro Press)

New York, Sept. 15.—In compliance with a request from the officials of Talladega College, William Pickens, field Secretary of the N. A. A. C. P., and contributing editor of the Associated Negro Press, has written the words for "new Talladega Song". Several years ago Mr. Pickens wrote the words of "Crimson and Blue" which was adopted as the official college song. Recently there has grown a desire for another, and it was but natural that Talladega should turn to its most distinguished and illustrious alumnus for the words. The music will be arranged later.

Protect yourself and loved ones by joining the American Woodmen. Pays while you live. Pays when you die. Joining fee now $4.00. Can you beat it?

GIRL-ETICS

By: GLADYS MATHONICAN

Everyone is eager to know how the local girls came out in the Annual Pacific Coast Tennis Tournament which was held at Mosswood Park in Oakland. From all remarks heard about the tournament, it was a regular society day and proved to be the most successful of all the tennis tournaments, formerly held on the Pacific Coast.

Our own Juliaette, consistent and flashy player, was the fortunate winner of the beautiful silver cup donated by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce for the Ladies Singles. Miss Harris has hld the title of Women's Single Champion for six years and is the possessor of two other championship trophies.

Residents of Pasadena also have cause to be proud since their favorite Geneva Stocks was also the recipient of a beautiful cup, by winning the Ladies Doubles in which she was coupled with our Juliaette.

Other players deserving honorable mention were the Mrs. Josephine Brown and Miss Victoria Shorey.

Jack Dempsey Fires Neil Clisby

And thereby hangs a tale. Here it is. While the great ex-champion was out here this Spring he heard a lot about Neil Clisby's speed and cleverness and the streak he was cutting through the boys on the Coast. So he personally sought an interview with Tom Jones, his champion-maker manager and offered Neil a job as chief sparring partner to prepare him for his battle with Tunney. He expressed the fact that he needed men like that who could not only box but hit. But he made this provision that Neil must remember that he is working out and not fighting. If his work was O. K. he would get something like $4000 and a spot on the big card. Yet when time came to leave he left without Clisby, and did not send back for him. A few days before leaving although Jones had promised Dempsey that Neil would obey orders and not try to knock Dempsey in the workouts, not seeming satisfied he also asked Bob Cronin about Clisby. "Say, that boy is a "fighter"; fast as lightning and hits like a Georgia mule's kick," answered Bob. Did Cronin's answer spill the beans? At any rate Clisby was technically "fired" forthwith and did not get his great chance. Nevertheless he will be leaving soon to invade the East, with Tom Jones and co-manager, Mr. Bonsor.

MAIN STREET A. C. BOUTS END QUICKLY

The referee's final instructions at the Main St. A. C. before the Saturdays bouts are, "Now boys, get this over quickly; the customers want to go home and take their baths. That is why the fight fans who flock to Carlo Curtis' Punch Palace save their shopping, baths, parties or what have you, till after the fights. They most all end in knock-outs and everybody goes home happy. For instance, Saturday, September 17th:

Colored Long Beach Golfers Draw Big Gallery in Match Game

Overton R. Jackson and Harry W. Moore, were the center of attraction at the Long Beach Municipal Golf Links, Sunday, Sept. 4th. Both players being on the top of their games and shooting par, golf, the remarkable long drives of the boys featuring the play. These boys are very anxious to get a game with some of the best eastern golfers, like Robert P. Ball and Walter speedy of Chicago. Moore who is formerly of Chicago, is trying to get a game with the Easterners to be played in Los Angeles. This would prove a very interesting game, as Jackson recently won the Los Angeles mid-winter championship; and Ball is the Chicago district open champion.

Emmet Curtice May be Second Ketchel

BY: FAIRDEAL

While browsing along Broadway recently the writer happened to meet one of the oracles of the boxing game, E. W. Dickerson, of Grand Rapids, Mich. Not that "DICK" as he is known in sporting circles, is not a national figure in other lines, having been President of baseball leagues, organizer of them and a referee of world renown. Dick's Dope has become an institution in many parts of the country and he has been associated with boxing since the palmy days.

During the course of our conversation, while dwelling on the glories and past achievements of that never to be forgotten trio that his native state produced, all of which won worlds titles. Kid Lavinge, Stanley Ketchell and Ad. Wolgast, he said.—

"I may be partial to my own state, but the accomplishment of fights past and present, fail to convince me that they have ever in any state turned out three such champions, as this famous trio. I have been in all parts of the country during my many years connection with the boxing game, in the old West when it was the cradle of pugilism, both in the capacity of sport writer, referee and spectator but there is a youngster up at Fremont, Mich., who I do not hesitate to say, is the greatest looking fighter I have ever seen. His name is EMMETT CURTICE and while he has only had a few more than a dozen fights professionally, I look for him to surpass Stanley Ketchell."

der the flood lights of Olympic Auditorium, Tuesday night, history will be in the making. Together at last will be the expression from the 15,000 or more fans who will pay $37,000 or more to see this great match. Bud Taylor, the bantamweight champion of the world, and one of the greatest of champions in that weight, is facing a boy worthy of his mettle. Joey Sangor has almost as sensational a record as the king pin. Taylor, his latest big triumph being a decisive win over Santiago Zorilla, the wonder boy from Panama. Both boys are toeing above the bantam weight limit, for although the champion of that division, Taylor fights out of it except when the big price hold out for his services tempts him to make 118. They will fight at 118 while in the best weight for both.

The match is predicted as a pell-mell and will be one of the hardest contested battles in recent history. A good and exhilarating card is run off up to the match.

This Week in Pictures

Universal Film Co. in the course of making the premiere picture, titled, "Use Your Feet," starring Reginald Denny and Barbara Worth, employed 28 people of our group. In this picture there are some excellent gags woven around parts played by Harry Tracy as a cab driver; Laurence La Mar and Spencer Bell as baggage men and Gertrude Howard as a 'Mammy,' Directed by Neymyer. Also on the same lot, are the Bilbrew Trio, with Howard Patrick and his banjo and Hazel Jones.

At the Fox Studio are, Marie Prade, Mildred Boyd, Daisy Bufford and Sam Langford in an untitled production. Director, McDonnel. Also on some lot, Webb King, for Director Done.

At the United Studio: Madame Sul-Te-Wan, has been assured of a very important part in a forthcoming production, as yet untitled, Odel Conley nd Sol Langford have in it parts as pages. D. W. Grimth director.

At First National Studio: Picture titled 'Louisiana' under the direction of Fitz Maurice, 14 of the boys saw service before the Camera; eight as waiters and six as musicians. The boys were all elegantly outfitted for the occasion. The setting for the scenes were of the early eighteenth century, when Louisiana was a territory under the rule of the French King. The musicians were, 'Pink' Harris's string band. The waiters were, Art Collins, Hayes Robinson, J Swan, Ed. Brown, Clarke Moore, Ernest Wilson, Laurence La Mar and Aundis (Dad) Vane, as head-waiter.

Owing to some complaint made by the traffic authorities because of the large crowd standing in the middle of the street in front of the California Eagle office on the day of the Dempsey Sharkey battle, this publication will use its hall, just across the street from the office at 9th and Central. There the eager hearers will listen to the returns blow by blow and illustrated by Eagle Thomas and Young Sam Langford. Celebrities of the ring, Lightning Davis, Mack House, Young Jack Thompson, Baby Gans, if in town, and several others will assist in announcements and putting over the news for the Eagle patrons. The news will arrive by direct radio from the ringside. The small admission of 15 cents will be charged to cover the cost of the preliminary entertainment. Don't forget the place, 822 South Central Avenue.

Dr. Bell's great super-radio will be used.

BALL OF CHICAGO WINS GOLFING CHAMPIONSHIP

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Boston, Mass., Sept. 15.—Robert Ball, open golf champion of Cook County, Chicago, won the National colored open golf championship in the tournament played on the Mapledale Club golf links at Eton, Mass., Sunday and Monday. His score was 293, 20 points better than Jesse Shippen's of Washington, D. C., who finished second with a 313 score.

Joe Diaz Now Three Time Champion!

CUBA, MEXICO AND SOUTH AMERICA CROWNS HELD BY PASADENA'S THURSDAY TOP LINER

A black boy who could not speak a word of English came from his native home, Havana, Cuba, to annex another title to the two he already holds. This is Joe Diaz, featherweight champion of Cuba and all over the republic of Old Mexico. Diaz knocked out Estudillo in a pair of sessions thereby annexing his title of champion of South America. At Morrie Copan's Pasadena arena where the bout was held a surprise and wonder was thrown into the fans by the lightning like speed of the boy from the tiny little isle. Morrie had been trying to get the boy here for two years but a delay in receiving passports is all that has kept him out of the U. S. fight horizon. But while waiting he has been very busy.

Artie O'Leary, Frankie Ray, Frankie Romo, Tarzan Joe Lopez, Kid McQuillan, and many others succumbed to the lightning-like blows of the 150 pound Cuban Tornado.

After kayoeing Astudilla, he was then thrown in with the tough Kramer, one of the best boys in the country. This ended in a draw only because Diaz hurt his firing hand. Thursday, Sept. 14th finds him pitched against another dangerous fighter, Joe Pimenthal. The card follows:

Jose Diez vs Joe Pimenthal, main event, ten rounds; Ham Jenkins vs. Manual Vasques, semi-windup, six rounds; Ruby Schlocker vs. Young Larry, four rounds; Henry Walker vs. Al Hamilton, four rounds; Art Rupp vs. Bert Sumson, four rounds.

UPPER-CUTS & BLOCKS

BY HARRY LEVETTE

A LITTLE HISTORY.

NOW and a few reflections.

JUST a little over a year ago yours truly began writing this section, with this column as a Sports Editorial. As will all Upper-Cuts, my remarks sometimes landed solidly, sometimes glanced off and other times missed entirely.

For these remarks I have been stung, and criticized, cussed and discussed at times when my line of chatter did or did not suit the judgment of our gentle readers. But my aim all through has been to carry out the policy that the Soaring Eagle follows in all its departments, i. e., to tell the news as is; to foster clean Sports of all sorts, and to encourage and defend the Negro athlete when worthy. When he is not to slam him on his beak and wake him up so he will get busy and be a credit to his race. So I often wonder how much good we have done towards helping the betterment of Sports. And if at some time in the near or distant future through auto speeding, plain crash, rival's bullet, the ax, or promotion to the White House at Washington, I should see more be part of the California scenery, would yours truly be missed? I wonder.

Jimmy Murray's Culver City Stadium Gaining In Fame

BIG CARD THURSDAY

A sell out last week for the Godfrey-Van Patten fight, and a great gathering of celebrities and well pleased fans put another feather in the bonnets of Murray Lykke and Co., of the Culver City fight factory. Every card is a winner and this week's is no less. How's this for a top spot? Newsboy Brown vs. Frankie Movie and a splendid supporting card as follows: "Terror" Don Long vs. Young Joe Rivers; Frankie Holler vs. Albert Dozier; Harry Roemler vs. Al deChainie.

Wildcat has gone across the desert seeking his prey. He meets Rivers in Phoenix, Arizona, Friday night, September 16th. Ace is just like his namesake always restless, never content to stay idle but his greatest restlessness at present is due to the fact that he is just "rarin to go" in a match with Joe Dundee for the welterweight championship. This will take place late in October or all that is necessary is to get Dundee and his manager's name on the dotted line.

THE BLACK SPORT WORLD THROUGH THE EYES OF ART HAMILTON

George Godfrey, that much feared heavyweight, jumped back to the East after knocking over Hury Van Patten at Culver City. Godfrey has a match with Monte Munn. It seems as if the only fighters willing to fight the Black Shadow are fighter looking for easy money and a chance to win on a lucky punch.

Sid Zif, Frank Kerwin, and Tom Lowry Leave for Big Battle

Sid Zif, Tom Lowry and Frank Kerwin left on the "Chief" at 6:00 o'clock Wednesday for Chicago and the big battle between Dempsey and Tunney. No explanation needed as to what these gentlemen are or the object of their visit, but, mention is due of the fact that Kerwin may be the opponent in the big event. Nothing down to the finish of the many applicants for Kerwin is prophesied as the one pretty sure to get the signed contract. Leaving Chicago, after battle they will go to New York to make final arrangements with Tex Rickard for a championship bout with Jim Hoffins at Wrigley Field [illegible] October.

A. My occupation is for years I have been working for the city.

Q. What do you do for the city?

A. I am working in the engineering department.

Q. Who is your immediate superior?

A. Mr. Lowry.

Q. What do you do, labor?

A. Laborer.

Q. Have you ever been in any trouble of any kind?

A. Not in my life.

Q. Do you remember the night—You had a boy by the name of Sam Faulkner, did you?

A. Yes sir.

Q. He is now dead?

A. Yes sir.

Q. And you attended his funeral?

A. Yes sir.

Q. You were a witness at the Coroner's inquest

A. Yes sir.

Q. Now, can you tell this Grand Jury just what took place that night?

A. Yes sir, I can tell them.

Q. Where were you?

A. About 9 o'clock I and my boy were sitting in my house at the back, at the rear, about 9 o'clock, and I was reading a doctor book, telling him how to eat and be healthy, and so he sat there a little while and he said, "Mamma, I believe I will go to bed—no," he said, "I will go to church." And he said, "Have you went to church today, Mamma?" She said, "Yes, and several of them joined." He said, "When I go again I am going to join myself." So he said to her, "I believe I will go to bed. That is the best place for me. I have got to do a hard day's work tomorrow and I will go to bed," so he gets up and washes his little baby's face and puts his night clothes on and put him into bed and kisses him good night, and then went on in with his wife in the front room, and he was going to bed about, I suppose, four or five minutes, maybe ten minutes; I don't know just exactly, and after he was gone out I sat for a little while and I pulled off one of my shoes and I was fixing to go to bed. I had off one shoe and my wife was talking about going to bed, too. So he called me. He said, "Daddy, Daddy, there is something going on wrong in sister's house. Somebody is killing sister or murdering her or something," and I jumped up with my shoe off and went to the door and I did hear a rumbling. He is about deaf in one ear and he has been deaf in one ear long before he was married. It must have been an awful rustling for him to hear it, because he can't hear in one ear. He had the meningitis. So I jumped up and ran to the porch and I heard the rumbling and I grabbed my shoe and put it on, and he came with me. We goes to the east window.

Q. When you came out of the rear house you came out on the porch?

A. We got a porch there, and his room is on the porch.

Q. What did he have on?

A. He had on his bathrobe and his pajamas and he had his house shoes on.

Q. Did he have any gun or anything?

A. No gun at all.

Q. All right.

A. So we ran to the east window.

Q. That is, you went along the driveway?

A. Along the driveway.

Q. North?

A. I call it east.

Q. All right, you went along the driveway.

A. Yes. I peeked in the window. The curtains were down. I peeped in the window, I and him both.

Q. What window was that?

A. That was the east window, coming in from the east side.

Q. Was it a window in the living room or bedroom or dining room?

A. It was in the dining room window.

Q. Now, John, we have a map here or diagram of that place. This is 51st street up here; this is north. The driveway goes north and south. This indicates your house; this indicates the driveway and this is the dining room and this is the living room. Now, can you indicate on the map what window you went to, this being the dining room?

A. The house is sitting on this side of the driveway? It seems to me like the driveway ought to be on the east side.

Another Juror: Turn the map upside down and he will understand it.

Mr. Dennison: This being the driveway, you looked in the window into the dining room?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Was there a screen on the window?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Was the curtain up?

A. The curtain was down.

Q. What did you see when you looked in?

A. I couldn't see nothing. I still heard the rumbling. I said, "What's the trouble?" The boy was with me then. He/she didn't give me an answer. I just heard the rumbling and it looked like somebody was fighting and throwing chairs.

Q. You couldn't see it, could you?

A. No sir, I couldn't see a thing in the window.

Q. All right.

A. We went around to the west of the house.

Q. On to the porch?

A. On to the screen porch. I took my hands and tried to unbelt the front door to see what was going on.

Q. Was there a screen door on the porch?

A. Yes sir, there was a screen door on the porch.

Q. Was the screen door open?

A. The screen door was shut and I got hold of the knob and couldn't open it.

Q. Could you open the door?

A. I could not open it.

Q. Did you try to?

A. I tried to, but it was locked fast and tight.

Q. Where was the boy?

A. The boy was with me.

Q. Then what did you do?

A. They have got a big window on the west side and the screen was off of that window and a light was in the bed room. I and the boy crawled over to the bedroom.

Q. That is, you crawled through the window?

A. Yes. He was with me and I was with him and the door that went into the dining room was just about half shut and he peeped around that door and said "Hey," and when he said that before he could say it, there was a bullet struck him and he fell down by me and I slammed the door and jumped out of the window and ran to the driveway and told my wife, "They murdered my child."

Q. Where was your wife?

A. My wife was down the driveway, back toward my house.

Q. How near was she to the house?

A. Sir?

Q. How far was she from your house?

A. I don't know, but when the shooting started she was close enough to hear me tell her that they had killed my child.

Q. When you told her that your boy was killed, what did you do?

A. I ran to the front door and stuck my head in the door.

Q. Do you mean the front door of the living room?

A. Yes, the front door, and the bullet came after me. Where the bullet went I can't say. I saw a man dressed in light clothes, a great big stomached man. He was the man that threw the bullet at me.

Q. Where was he standing?

A. Right at the kitchen door.

Q. Was he in the kitchen or in the dining room?

A. He wasn't in the dining room. The door swings open and he was standing right in the edge of the kitchen.

Q. In the doorway?

A. Not in the doorway, but back from the door in the kitchen.

Q. Did he fire at you?

A. Fired at me. My head was right over the piano. He cut down on me that way, and I broke and ran.

Q. Did you know who this man was that fired the shot?

A. I didn't know who they were, not a thing about them, until I went down and got a man to ring the police station and tell them there were some burglars or murderers, and they killed my child, and to send a carload out there. When they got there I entered the house.

Q. When you went into the house you went in the front door?

A. I went in the front.

Q. Did you see anybody there?

A. I saw these two men and all the policemen.

Q. Did you see your boy?

A. Yes, I seen him laying down.

Q. Where was he when you saw him?

A. Lying right where he fell when he was killed.

Q. What room was that?

A. That was in the west room.

Q. Was that a bed room?

A. A bed room.

Q. The west bedroom. How far was he from the door?

A. He wasn't any distance from the door at all.

Q. That is not answering my question. How far was he from the door?

A. He was not exactly right at where the door shut. I didn't measure it. He was lying right at the door, but he wasn't in the door.

Q. Was he in the bedroom?

A. He was in the bedroom.

Q. Which way were his feet?

A. His feet was lying north.

Q. That is, towards that street?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Was he dead?

A. He was dead before I left the house. I jumped out of the window. He died right immediately.

Q. After you had run out and saw your wife there and told her the boy was dead and ran back and stuck your head around the piano, you saw the man fire a shot at you?

A. I saw a big stomached man. The door was all open.

Q. Under lighted?

A. The light in the kitchen was shining inside.

Q. Did you know what they were doing there at that time?

A. I didn't know what the trouble was, gentlemen. I didn't know what the trouble was and I wanted to see if we could locate the trouble and I would run along side policemen to them and show the officers and get them to come out there and settle them.

Q. You didn't have a gun, did you?

A. No sir, didn't have a gun.

Q. Did your boy have a gun?

A. He didn't have a gun.

Q. Your boy lives with you?

A. Lives right with me. He never had a gun at the time.

Q. When you went in the house did you take any weapon with you?

A. No sir, I didn't have a sign of a weapon, didn't have nothing, no kind of a weapon. I wasn't going for no trouble.

Mr. Dennison: Does your daughter sell liquor at that house?

A. She never did. That is something I didn't allow them to do, to violate the law, and I know she never sold any liquor in that house. I try to live a citizen everywhere I go, and I try to raise them to do the same thing. That boy of mine, he didn't do anything to anybody.

Q. Have you seen the officer that fired at you?

A. I haven't seen him since that night. I haven't seen either one nor more than—

Q. Did you see the officer at the Coroner's Inquest that fired the shot?

A. I seen the one that had on the same light clothes at the Coroner's office.

Q. Did you recognize that officer as Officer Sheffield?

A. That is the one that done the firing.

Q. You hadn't offered to shoot him, had you?

A. I hadn't offered to do him a bit of harm.

Q. Did he have any provocation to shoot at you when you came in the front door?

A. Not a bit. He claims he shot at me three times, but I claim he shot at me once.

Q. Once was enough?

A. He claims he shot at me three times.

Q. He didn't claim that to you did he?

A. No sir.

Q. You must not tell what somebody else told you. Is there anything else you want to tell us about this. Have you told us all you know about it?

A. Yes, I have told you all I know about it.

A Juror: Mr. Dennison, there is one thing, he stated that the first time they went to the front door of the living room they could not open it.

A. Yes sir.

Q. The next time it was unlocked?

A. It was opened after the shooting took place. There was several shots made and I didn't pay any attention to them because I thought it was my time next.

Q. By Mr. Dennison: After you jumped out of the window, did you hear any shooting?

A. Why, certainly, they were shooting after I jumped out of the window.

Q. I have a plan here. This is the front porch; this is the west bedroom; this is the door that opens—this door opens into the bed room, does it?

A. Yes sir?

Q. Was there a bed along in front of that window?

A. Yes sir, right along in front of that window, but the way you got that drawed, I could show you better than the way that is drawed.

Q. When you went in the window—

A. I crawled over the bed.

Q. You had to crawl over the bed?

A. Yes.

Q. When you crawled over the bed where did your boy go.

A. Just peeped around here and I was standing right beside of him and the bullet struck him right there and he fell and I jumped. That is just the way it happened. He didn't have a sign of a gun, nor I either, and wasn't expecting any trouble and didn't know there was any officers about the place, and if we had known there was any officers around there we would not have been any trouble to them. I wanted to get the officers, that is what I wanted, to find out what was going on at my place.

Q. All that you testified to took place in the County of Los Angeles.

A. Yes.

Q. You don't know who was in the house when you got there?

A. No. I rang the officers.

Q. No, I mean the officers that shot your boy?

A. No.

A Juror: Whom else did you see in the house besides the officers?

A. After the officers came?

Q. No, while the shooting was going on. When you poked your heard in over the piano?

"AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF AN EX-COLORED MAN"
By James Weldon Johnson

Published by Alfred A. Knopf, Inc., 730 Fifth Avenue, New York City. Price $2.00

This book was first published anonymously in 1912. There was controversy among its readers as to whether or not it was really autobiography. The anonymous character of the book, the opening: "I knew that in writing the following pages I am divulging the great secret of my life, gave it the stamp of a true life history. Some reviewers classified it as biography. Many were the queries as to who the writer was, the story was strange, as it seemed to be unbelievable. The author, James Weldon Johnson is above the certain caste prejudice, added to the sense of reality. The book was much talked of for a time and then was relegated back to us again in the Jade Library, a series bearing Knopf's imprint, beautiful from the standpoint of the printer's art, and in such distinguishing company as Theophile Gautier's "Romance in Spain" and the "Letters of Abelard and Heloise."

That the "Autobiography of An Ex-Colored Man" is pure fiction, is quite evident to us now as we read the name on the title pages and the two prefaces. Mr. Johnson has played with the idea of a colored man at times "passing", again a Negro in a Negro world. He rescues the child living in a small town of the North, the youth, expecting to enter Atlanta University, but, robbed of all his money, turning to self-support at Jacksonville as a cigar maker, and finally the man with an entertaining career in New York and on the Continent But while the story is a story, and not a life history, the ideas in it, the discussion of the race problems, the evaluation of white and black, the dissertation on rag-time, and colored music in general, are the author's own, and it is this phase of the book, I suspect, that has lead to its reprinting.

I however, should be the last person to say this for I was so engrossed in the story, when I first got hold of the volume, as to lose an important business meeting and ten cents in car fares! I began it on a subway train on my way to Brooklyn. I had to change at Bowling Green from a South Ferry to a Brooklyn train. My car was slow in coming and as I waited I went on with the "Autobiography". A train drew up, I forgot to look at the sign, boarded it, continued reading, and found myself at South Ferry! I laughed at the mistake, walked back, paid a second nickel and again waited for the train. The book was in my hand. I could not refrain from peeping in it once more, and at once my absorption was complete. A train thundered in, I boarded it again absentmindedly, and again was dropped at South Ferry. When I returned to wait on the platform the third time, the "Autobiography was closed and I was wondering whether the guards who looked at me curiously would think me a detective or only a lunatic. There is something very engrossing about the easy flowing narrative, written in the first person. One must read on to see what the hero will do when one turns the page. It is really far more entertaining than a highly wrought mystery tale.

When the book first appeared I remember there was a criticism of the portrayal of the Negro as at times leading a naughty life: The hero of the "Autobiography" was for some years a gambler and a frequenter of dance halls. He should instead have been always virtuous a pattern for the white reader. We hear the same criticism to-day, but with less certainty. The realization should be that a work of art and not a Sunday School treatise is growing with colored readers. Propoganda, if it is to appear at all, must be subtle. But while the "Autobiography" depicts the underworld it does it with the restraint of the days before the war, not with the gusto of these bootlegging times.

To be placed in the Jade Library means to be in a series that is likely to continue for may years, a series whose books will remain for a long time in print. We can all be proud that a novel by an American Negro should be chosen for such rare distinction.

Negro Transcontinental Aviator Starts School

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 12.—Ace Foreman, the Los Angeles boy who was the first colored aviator to attempt a trans-continental flight, is preparing to open a school of aviation here. Foreman is very capable of instructing prospective airmen, as he received his education in aeronautics at Aeronautic without any finder. Due to illness of Neeta Longbrake, one of the West's best airmen.

Owing to the world-wide interest in aviation, a considerable number of Negro boys and a few girls have announced their intention to enroll in the school. The tuition will be low and a pupil will have to practice one hundred hours of flying under the instruction of Ace before he is considered to fly alone.

Foreman started from here this past winter for a flight to New York under the auspices of the N. A. A. C. P., but having a poor plane, was only able to reach as far as Chicago, from whence he returned by rail.

TEXANS, ATTENTION!

Dr. H. H. Williams Preaches at Second Baptist, Sunday

Texans throughout Los Angeles are happy to learn of the visit of Dr. H. H. Williams, pastor of Avenue L Baptist Church, Galveston, Texas. Dr. Williams is one of the leading Baptist ministers and pulpit orators of the Lone Star State. He will preach at the Second Baptist Church, 24th and Griffith both morning and evening services, Sunday. All Texans and their friends are especially invited to be present at both services.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my beloved brother Connie A. Williams who passed away September 17, 1926.

You left behind broken hearts that loved you so sincere, I think of you daily and will till the end. God causes no wounds that he cannot mend.

Keep Road Clear!

BY: OSCAR H. FERNBACH

Parked by the shacks where the hamburger reigns,
Pausing, of hot dogs to bolt the remains,
Loafing in front of some vendor's road.

Close to the highways they're planting the stands;
Facts overlooking, that safety demands!
If down the pike we approach on the fly
How in the deuce are we going to get by?

Keep 'em from building those places too near—
Traffic depends on a roadway that is clear,
Hence regulation much needed is in view,
Swift for our Highway Commission to do!

Dr. Bell says the pedestrian usually knows what the motorist is driving at.

Turning the Tables

Three gallons of gas, please.

Yes, sir. Want some cylinder oil, too?

No, just gas.

Do you want some paint? Your car needs it, and we've got some dandy paint—heat proof, dirt proof, guaranteed to wear long.

No, I want only gas today.

Then you want your car washed?

I said that I wanted only gas.

You want a tire, then. We've got some good non-skids. Only $40 a piece. Want one? Yours—

I tell you I want only gas today!

Yes, sir, but—say your rear lights are all shot to pieces. You need new ones. We just got in some dandy new crack proof celluloid lights. Shall I put one in?

No! I want only gas, do you understand?

Your magneto needs adjusting—didja hear that funny noise in the motor when you stopped; it needs adjusting. I'll fix it, what?

NO! I want only gas, gas! Do you hear?

Yes, sir! And with the gas obtained the exasperated motorist drove angrily away. But for once the garage man had gotten even with Ponce Barrios, his barber.

Gas Tax Proportion Is Made; Funds Available In December

Sacramento, Sept. 13. (A. P.)—Allocation of $1,039,000 in new highway construction funds derived by the State from the increase in the gasoline tax by B. B. Meek, director of public works, was announced at the highway quarters today.

The funds, however, will not be available before December 1, but Meeks thinks it advisable to begin planning in advance for the work that is to be undertaken when the finances are paid over.

It is estimated that approximately $2,250,000 will be realized by the State under the gasoline-tax increase involved by the last Legislature to provide funds for new highway building. Under the old tax, half went to the counties and half to the State for highway maintenance. The first allocation will be made by the Board of Equalization about November 1 and will be ready for highway disbursement within the next thirty days.

The work to which Meek has allocated funds when they are received include:

Del Norte county—Grading and rock surfacing of a redwood highway unit from a point three and a half miles from the south county boundary to Richardson Creek, $209,000.

San Mateo county—Extension of the Bay Short Highway from Burlingame to San Mateo, $150,000; surfacing of highway already graded between South San Francisco and Burlingame, $150,000.

Fresno county—Construction of Herndon bridge across the San Joaquin River on the Fresno-Madera route, $150,000.

Los Angeles county—Rock surfacing and oiling of thirteen miles thru the Rindge ranch on the South Shore Highway, $200,000.

San Bernardino county—Co-operation with the Bureau of Public Roads on the Crest Route, $150,000.

GERMANY PUTS ARTIFICIAL FUEL ON MARKET

Gasoline is about to be relegated to the trash heap unless the Standard Oil or Shell interests concentrate on Germany enough with financial strength to force her new synthetic product, a substitute for gas, off the market. Already both interests have purchased enough stock in the new enterprise to make one's head swim.

Germany's entrance into the world oil war is set for Thursday. On that day the German railroads will begin transporting artificial oil and benzine made by a secret process of breaking down lignite coal. This revolutionary invention, the Germans believe, eventually will place the country on a par with the natural-oil-producing nations.

The Standard Oil and Shell groups' effort to make a deal with the German chemical trust whereby Germany's production of artificial benzine would be postponed two years have failed. However, the Standard Oil and Shell will become large owners of stock in the Motalin Company, which is handling the synthetic products.

It is proposed to sell artificial benzine considerably below the European market prices for natural benzine and perhaps drive the American and British competition out.

Although the greatest secrecy attends the manufacture of the new benzine, preparations to increase production on a vast scale are being made. New generators using up to 4000 tons daily are being installed. The production of the nearby lignite mines has increased to 24,000 tons daily. The workmen employed total 30,000.

Contracts have been received for 120,000 tons nd it is expected to manufacture 300,000 tons the first years.

Two other plants also are manufacturing the synthetic product.

NEW MODEL MONTH

It seems as if this is new model month in auto terms. Packard and Cadillac are spreading the news. Ford is due out and several other makes are crushing the air with similar information.

Each year the public is fed up on new models. Begins to look like the time is ripe for autos to be perfected to that stage where only old age will make it necessary for to discuss a reason for buying a new car but the manufacturer is too shrewd for that. There will be yearly models as long as there are autos we guess, if it only requires the tacking on of a 10c horn to last year's design to make it.

Chauffeur Held On Liquor Charge

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Portland, Me., Sept. 15.—The arrest of Fred W. Hopler of New York City, a chauffeur for Mrs. Isabella Loring, a wealthy New York woman, halted the sales of liquor at Frout's Neck, summer colony of millionaires, federal dry agents said last Tuesday.

Hopler, charged with sales of rum to agents and possession and transportation of liquor in Mrs. Loring's $5,000 limousine, waived hearing and pleaded not guilty before United States Commissioner, Jacob H. Beerman. He gave $1,500 bail to the September term of the District Court.

Dozing Almost Proves Fatal

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Boston, Mass., Sept. 15.—While standing in front of 425 Union Street Tuesday waiting for a street car, James E. Byrne of 846 Washington Street, Lynn, leaned against a telephone pole and went to sleep. He lost his balance and fell, striking his head on the curb stone; as a result he is in the Lynn Hospital with his name on the danger list suffering from a fractured skull.

Location of Receiving Hospital Changed

The Receiving Hospital is now located in the new Georgia Street Police Station, 1337 Georgia Street, telephone WEstmore 0223. This hospital will take care of all work for the Police Department that is at present done at the Hill Street branch and the White Memorial Hospital. All persons from any section of the city South of Seventh Street who are injured will be taken to the Georgia Street Hospital, even though the injury is a minor one. No serious cases whatever will be handled at the old Receiving Hospital headquarters on Hill street although it will be open week-days between the hours of 7:00 A. M. and 9:00 P. M. to care for minor injuries. All follow-up treatments will be rendered at the main headquarters of the Receiving Hospital in the Georgia Street Police Station. The Hill Street office will be operated merely as a branch of the Receiving Hospital and all serious cases should be taken directly to the Georgia Street Headquarters.

Negro Settlements Discovered

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Sukhum, Caucasus, Sept., 15.—An expedition sent out by Moscow University has reported the discovery of a number of Negro settlements in the Kodorsk District. The inhabitants are said to be primitive Negros, having retained the distinct identity as to type, language, and customs. This is peculiarly true, for it is generally known that these Negroes have partially assimilated with local Caucasian tribes.

It is said that many years ago their ancestors were brought from Africa to the Black Sea coast by Europeans. They use a language characteristictlly their own, a mixture of African and local dialect. These people have until recently maintained a hostile attitude toward all intruders, but that attitude is said to be gradually changing.

Shoots Man About Dog

(By: A. N. P.)

Boston, Mass., Sept. 5.—No probable cause was the decision of the Third District Court, East Cambridge, Thursday in the case of Russell C. Burke of 20 Jay street, who had been charged with murder in connection with the death of Thomas Digman, white.

Testimony of the police was to the effect that a man had kicked Burke's dog on the street and that when he resented it a number of white men followed him to his home, where he got a pistol, came out and fired. Digman received a supercial bullet wound on the chin. He died several days afterwards in the Cambridge Relief Hospital.

Medical Examiner Charles Cutter testified that Digman's death was not due to the bullet that hit him on the chin, alleged to have been fired by Burke, but was owing to pneumonia.

Burke, however, was held in $1,000 bonds, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon, with intent to murder.

The whole affair, police say, grew out of intense racial feeling which had existed in the Jay Street Community since several slashes between whites and blacks two weeks ago and in which John J. Hayes, white, received wounds from an ice pick.

Kills Rival With Razor

New Orleans, La., Sept. 12. (By The Associated Negro Press)—Classie Jackson killed Anita Lee by slashing her across the abdomen with a razor. The women quarreled over the affections of Joseph Woods, Anita's common-law husband, according to police reports. The woman was dead when the Charity Hospital ambulance arrived, Classie Jackson escaped.

SHASTA LIMITED LEAVES TRACK

Running an hour and five minutes late, the Shasta Limited, crack train of the Southern Pacific lines was wrecked at Zamora, twelve miles north of Woodland last week. One passenger was seriously injured and dozen suffered bruises and contusions from the severe shaking they received as seven steel coaches went over on their sides. The breaking of six feet of steel rail was believed to have caused the accident local Southern Pacific officials declared after receiving reports of preliminary investigations. Six feet of the ball or top of the rail, were reported ripped away from the base of one track. The fact that the engine and one baggage car had passed over the track without mishap gave rise to reports that the train was traveling at unusual speed. This makes the second wreck within two weeks on the Southern Pacific lines; the first one was that of the West Coast Limited, and was mentioned in this column last week. Both trains operate to Portland and Seattle. The West Coast out of Los Angeles and the Shasta out of San Francisco. The two wrecks coming one after another brings to mind that on August 29th two separate wrecks occurred on the Pennsylvania, The Broadway Limited, Chicago to New York De Luxe train was wrecked just east of Gallitzin tunnel, 12 miles east of Altoona, Pa., and shortly thereafter the Westbound Broadway Limited was wrecked at Wilmore, Pa. In these wrecks two enginemen were killed and a score of persons injured. The traveling public are beginning to wonder where, if any, place will they be safe. If they go by air they are subject to fall and get killed; if they go by train it might happen in the East as well as the West; if they go by auto they are subject to going over some ravine; if they walk they are ll able to get run over. So many have come to the conclusion that the safest way is to stay at home and even there, if they live in Illinois, they are in fear of a cyclone, if they live in the West, they are afraid of an earthquake and if they live down south the great flood disaster is kept constantly before their minds. It apparantly seems to be merely a matter of which way you want to die. SAFETY FIRST men, PLEASE COPY.

FIGHT SPECIALS KEEP PORTERS GUESSING

The Fight Special itinery continues to be a mysetery as far as the porters are concerned. Many have given their names in for the choice bit of travel but so far as having a bonified guarantee that they are going is a horse of another color. If all of the porters I have heard say are going on these fight special, Mr. Ross better close up the Los Angeles district until after the fight, because he won't have porters enough to run it. The writer thinks that there will be a many disappointed porter on the 18th when the specials start their race to Chicago. Somebody's got to keep house, and the worst of it is that mysterious Mr. Ross will not divulge who that somebody is.

BOYS WILL BE BOYS

The writer was driving by Ringling Bros. Circus the other night when he noticed a trail of peanut shells on Washington Blvd. Being curious to know how far and long the trail of goo goo peas would go, he followed them with an eagle eye. On and on they went, until finally they led him right up to his friend King's door. Mr. King is now the headman on the San Diego tourist car, that is, since Mr. L. High vacated the throne for the Fresno line, so naturally there was no other conclusion to come to but that Mr. King went to see the White elephant, and while therein feasted on goo goo peas until he arrived home sometime during the night But then, boys will be boys.

KING HIGH MAY TAKE BACK TOURIST CAR THRONE

In the mighty struggle for existence the vast territory which the former tourist car King, L. High, took in a hard fought battle of bidding namely, the Fresno line, is being threatened daily by the enemy. In the last skirmish fought F. A. Neal was bumped, which greatly weakened King L. High's forces. It is thought that the skirmish came powerful sich tottering King High from the Fresno throne. The blood thirsty battle cry of—It won't be long now!—is constantly ringing in King High's ears, and as it is positively certain that time of the year when his former Kingdom shall commence to keep a still harrag, the King's eyes are fondly gazing on the (illegible) Tourist car. However, we don't know King High will not resume (illegible) by a large majority battle on the extra board. At this writing the enemies are in the first line trenches and King High, brave man, is calmly waiting for the zero hour. It Won't Be Long Now!

UNION PACIFIC GOSSIP

By: J. R.

Death Valley tours via Union Pacific Railway and Tonapah and Tidewater Railway will again be inaugurated beginning November 15th. This is a wonderful trip and I will tell you more about same in a later issue. Travel via Union Pacific Ry. has been heavier East bound this summer than last summer. There were a great many movie picture corporations that shot scenes in Zion National Park and in the vicinity of Cedar City. Travel to Zion National Park by the Union Pacific has been 20% better than last summer. The installation of the new block system between Salt Lake City and Los Angeles at a cost of $70,000.00 has added much to the service of this road.

Here and There

Mrs. Alma A. Powell of San Jose, Calif., who has been the house guest of Mrs. Hazel Lewis in Normandie street has returned to her home reporting having had a wonderful trip.

Ten diners of the very latest type have arrived in Omaha and will be shipped equipped to Los Angeles to be operated out of this district.

Granville Adamson of Car 377 has been off for a trip.

Friday was pay day, early dawn found some already at the post having formed a heavy line some few hours in dvance of the porter unlocking the doors, others began to appear on the scene in taxis, buggies, trucks, wheel barrows and on foot. Some were accompanied and others were unaccompanied; after all it was just another pay day.

E. Hargroves of Diner 308 has severed his connection with the system to accept a position as instructor of mathematics in the High School of Fort Worth, Texas. The Gossip and his friends wish for him much success in his new undertaking.

Odell Duncan was slightly injured while alighting from the "P" car in front of commissary.

Mrs. Hazel Rakestraw, daughter Elsie and son Joe, returned Sunday on the "Daylight Limited" from San Francisco having been the house guest of Mrs. S. M. Hughes and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rippteau.

They Say:

That Andy Coleman is trying to win first place in the heart of a school maam attending U. S. C.

That Maid Alma Hayes has returned to her home, Chicago, upon the advice of her physician.

Perry Rings Wedding Bell

Hywood Perry led Miss Francis Williams to the altar on Sunday last, the services of Fleetwood Scales who has been acting in the capacity of Manager has been dispensed with as Mrs. Perry feels fully capable of taking care of hubby the couple will reside at 1529 E. Jefferson street.

Sleeping Car Porters To Receive Assistance

COMMITTEE OF PROMINENT CITIZENS TO ASSIST BROTHERHOOD OF SLEEPING CAR PORTERS

A committee of one hundred of Los Angeles' most prominent men and women are to assist the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters in their movement to secure a living wage from the Pullman Company, which will permit them to support their families without depending upon tips. Some of the most wealthy and most prominent families in Southern California will be members of this committee, and their influence will be exerted in the Pullman Porters' behalf.

This movement of the men for a living wage has met with strong support all over the United States. The Pullman Porter, by his unfailing courtesy and willingness to serve, sold himself to the public and everyone who rides the Railroad in Pullman cars, has had the opportunity to observe the hard work and long hours which the Pullman Porter, are up against. Many a passenger will remember time to tip the Porter, for he knows that the man is not paid a living wage and must depend on tips for food and clothes. The serious situation of these circumstances is evident to the public, and when Porters, throughout, formed an organization, the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, a great deal of sympathy and real support from the public has been forth-coming.

The Los Angeles district is expecting a visit from the General Organizer of the Brotherhood, Mr. A. Philip Randolph, also another, with the Asst. General Organizer, A. L. Totten, is making a tour of the entire country, Mr. Totten and Mr. Randolph will reach Los Angeles on October, and a monster mass meeting will be held, a number of speakers in the interest of the Brotherhood.

FEDERAL COURT HALTS EXTRADITION OF GLASS

LINDBERG COMES TO TOWN

NOTED AVIATOR PAYS L. A. OFFICIAL VISIT

BY: E. L. DORSEY

Last Tuesday the citizens of Los Angeles had the opportunity of seeing Colonel Lindberg, the young man who has, overnight, so to speak, risen to fame and fortune by flying from New York to Paris unaccompanied and alone. Recent attempts to duplicate the feat by others have in two instances met with partial success and the balance of the attempts have not only been marked by utter failure but loss of lives. On the Pacific but three planes have reached Hawaii of several to start and 10 lives have been snuffed out. The world loves a winner, a hero and this is what Lindberg is—A HERO; hence the madening rush and stampede, the parading of decorated streets in town after town. Banquet and speech making. Perhaps 'twill be a long time before his fete is duplicated and when it is he'll still be a hero because he was the first to attempt the yet to be equaled feat of spanning the Atlantic single and alone.

Did you ever see such a mash, such a jam, folks from all walks of life, the old and young, gathered to pay homage to this unassuming young man. Honors have not swelled his head. Today, as yesterday, you find him the same affable, unassuming individual, unspoiled by the call of Kings and President, the school children's idol. Los Angeles turned out by the thousands to get a view of the young daredevil himself and as the parade passed and each got a glimpse of him it seemed at times as if one would go deaf from the noise.

'Twill be a long time before Los Angeles again witnesses such a celebration and in the meantime Charles Lindberg goes on his way doing good and destined to some day rise to the head of some great organization that will have for its purpose safe and sane flying.

of Los Angeles, and has well proven his ability to bring things to pass, in the way of great accomplishments by what he has done for himself.

He is one of the leading, and most substantial acquistions to our citizenship group, as well as one of the oldest by way of residence; having come to Los Angeles, some twenty-seven years ago. He has by simple manhood, ability, industry, and strength of character, made for himself a lasting place in the religious, economical, and civic spheres of our wonderful city.

He takes this method of informing his many friends, and acquaintances of his new field of endeavor.

We predict for him a great and successful future, and the Climax Realty Co. is to be congratulated upon their having secured the services of this splendid man in their organization.

He invites his friends, all, to visit him at his business office, 2701 South Central avenue.

We have as splendid an organization as can be found in California. Handling any and all kinds of Real Estate transactions, sales, rentals, financing, fire insurance, loans, on city property, anything in Real Estate line.

Porters to Stage Mass Meeting in Big New Theatre, Sunday, October 2nd

RANDOLPH TO RECEIVE BIG WELCOME IN L. A.

The new Lincoln Theatre at 23rd and Central, the last word in modern, fire-proof, electrically controlled theater construction, is to be the scene of a monster mass meeting, Sunday, October 2nd, five days before the day set for its formal opening. The occasion will be an address delivered by A. Philip Randolph, prominent author, orator, labor leader and economist, General Organizer of the Brotherhood Sleeping Car Porters and Editor of the "Messenger Magazine." The Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters is intensely engaged in a campaign to build up the already strong public sentiment in favor of their cause. The management of the theatre, (which is situated in the heart of the colored district) has generously donated the use of this splendid auditorium for this occasion. Many prominent citizens will be on hand to greet Mr. Randolph upon his arrival, and addresses of welcome will be made at the mass meeting by a number of representative business men and civic leaders.

This action by the management of the Lincoln Theatre in donating this edifice to assist the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters in their struggle, is in keeping with the policy which the management has outlined and propose to follow and which policy includes the hiring of colored people entirely, from the manager to the janitor. Mr. Curtis Carpentier who has been employed to manage this large enterprise, is an old hand at the show game, and an executive of proven ability. He intends to make this theatre an outstanding success in its presentations and popularity as it is the acknowledged last word in mechanical construction.

A. Philip Randolph has won much fame as an orator, his greatest achievement perhaps being chosen as Sesqui-Centennial orator on the opening day of that great exposition.

Lyric Soprano in Recital

The Club of Flaming Youth is presenting Mrs. Anna Spicer Range, lyric soprano, in Song Recital at New Hope Baptist Church, 1623 Paloma avenue, Tuesday evening, September 27, 1927 at 8:15 P. M.

The following is a letter telling of her ability as a vocalist:

"Mrs. Anna Spicer Range is endowed with an unusually high and brilliant soprano voice, in the use of which she has developed a range, flexibility and control that places her in the artist class.

She has been very successful here and in other California cities in her recital programs, and has been received with enthusiasm wherever she has sung. Her repertoire includes many of the best arias, together with a large number of the best church and concert numbers."

(Signed) J. B. TROWBRIDGE,
Head of Music Dept. Bible Institute, Los Angeles."

Mrs. Range will be assisted by Ronald Wharton, a violinist of no mean ability.

Remember Tuesday, Sept. 27, at New Hope Baptist Church. Admission 50c.

Secret Evidence Given Before Grand Jury in The Sheffield Case

JOHN FAULKNER STILL ON STAND

A. I didn't have time to see nobody. I stuck my head in there and it seemed to me like there was a man standing between me and him; as soon as I stuck my head in I seen him pulling down and I jumped.

Q. You didn't see any woman in the house?

A. Any woman in the house?

Q. Anybody but these two officers?

A. I didn't see but one. One shot at me. He was away back in the rear.

Q. Had the police ever been to your place before?

A. There was some white police there last year or some time. I don't know just what time, but they told me that they came out there, the girl did, looking for whiskey, and she let them go through and they didn't find anything and didn't get nothing. They said they would have to go further than that to find anything.

Q. Where was your daughter during the shooting.

A. They was all in the dining room and the living room. They was all in the house.

Q. Did you see your daughter when you stuck your head around the piano there? Where was she?

A. I didn't see her. I just seen the man in the rear. I wanted to see what was the trouble.

Mr. Dennison: He just saw the gun.

A. I saw the gun and when I see a gun on me I am gone. I am too old a man to stand up and let somebody shoot my brains out.

A Juror: You didn't see your daughter?

A. No.

Q. You don't know where she was?

A. No, I don't know who was in that room or what was going on until I got the police officers from the station.

Another Juror: Who lives in the house?

A. My daughter lives in the front house.

Q. Who else?

A. She had a lady roomer, but she was not there.

Q. Just those two women occupy that house?

A. Yes.

Hamilton M. E. Church to Have Closing Services of Year

Hamilton M. E. Church, E. 18th and Naomi, will close the most successful year in its splendid history on Sunday, Sept. 25th. The pastor, Rev. S. M. Beane will preach the closing sermon of the year, historically known as the "Farewell Sermon," at eleven o'clock A. M. There will be a special program, musical and literary, at the 7:30 P. M. hour. At this service there will be special speakers, dealing with the years work and the future program. Reports for the year will be read. The public is cordially invited to attend these service and help us close so successful a year.

Pastor of Hamilton M. E. Church

AT SACRAMENTO

As stated in our last week's article, "On the Wing," we found the people at the State Capital on the even tenor of their way moving on to better and greater things.

We met Mr. James Brindson, pioneer citizens and a fixture with the historic Sacramento Hotel and withal one of the state capital's foremost citizens, stands high in both church and fraternal circles. We met the great and only Taylor Walker who has made a commendable progress along business lines and is rated as one of the substantial citizens. Also Robert Manley who is a trusted employee of Mr. Walker. We had the pleasure of meeting one of our former fellow citizens in the person of J. W. Mills and his associate L. N. Crawford, who conducts a real estate business with offices on the main street of the city. Also Mr. E. W. Robinson who conducts a thriving and prosperous laundry business.

We had the good fortune to visit the office of Dr. Wm. Richardson who formerly held forth in Los Angeles. He is nicely situated in Sacramento and from all signs enjoys a lucrative practice. His clientile appears to be thoroughly cosmopolitan for during our short stay we witnessed as his patients at least five different groups of persons. Dr. Richardson is a strong spoke in the wheel of progress and stands four square for race enterprise. He would not let us leave before giving us a job of printing which he was desirous of coming out of a shop which is conducted by his own race.

We also had the privilege of visiting the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Scott who have only recently moved into their new and commodious home and we congratulate them upon this sign of progress and proving their worth as useful citizens of their community. Mrs. Scott will be remembered as the former efficient and interesting correspondent of this paper for Sacramento.

Dones in Sensational Cross-Complaint

Sydney P. Dones, real estate man, loan broker, promoter and erstwhile motion picture star is once again in the legal spotlight as the results of the recent filing for divorce by his wife.

The redoubtable Dones who is perhaps the best known and most widely advertised man in Southern California, is once again having his marital woes aired out in the courts.

Some days ago his wife, Willette Dones filed a divorce complaint against him for desertion and cruelty, and the complain which a "long winded" one charged Dones with many and divers things, but the "ever ready"

THE DONES FAMILY

Sid, Sr., Sid, Jr., and Sidnetta Dones.
Mr. Dones charges that the support of children is his highest duty.

Dones has staged his usual comeback with a sensational cross-complaint in which he charges that his wife represented herself to him prior to their marriage to be a woman of great wealth, education and social position, and that after the marriage she sought to induce him to transfer certain of his property over to her, and after his refusal their marital raft began to strike "muddy waters."

Mr. Dones also charges that he explained to her befor their marriage that his income was not sufficient to support her inasmuch as he was under the responsibility of supporting two minor children by a former marriage and that she consented to marry him on these terms, but she made an "about face" soon after the marriage ceremony had been performed.

Interest is running high in the case because of the prominence of the parties involved, Mrs. Dones coming from a well-known family of the South while the versatile Dones is known not only in California, but throughout the East and Middle-West.

Mrs. Dones has retained a battery of defense attorneys headed by Atty. Curtis C. Taylor, chief counsel in collaboration with Atty. William Posey, and sensational developments are expected to be brought out at the hearing which comes up in the Superior Court on September 28, 1927. There probably will be a large crowd present at the proceedings.

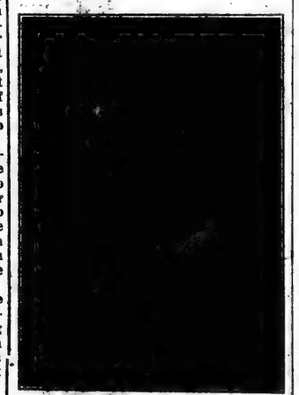
N. A. A. C. P. To Rescue

TO MEET AT 8TH AND TOWNE AVE. CHURCH

The case of Ed. Glass now being held in Oakland jail on a warrant from Oklahoma should make all of us support N. A. A. C. P. to fuller extent.

The Oakland branch is making a gallant effort to save this man from either a violent death or a legal lynching.

The trial if one were held could only be a mocking in that state.



Our next meeting, October 9th will be at 8th and Towne Avenue Church.

THIS IS YOUR FIGHT.

THE BRILLIANT DR. W. D. MILLER

With the convening of the Annual Conference at Eighth and Towne Ave., September 28th, speculation, as is the custom, is rife, as to the ultimate outcome. This will be one of the most important annual conferences in our history, in that it is the year delegates are elected to the General Conference which assembles in Chicago in May of 1928. Who will be the delegates from the California and Southern California Conferences are queries heard on every hand. Who are entitled to represent the conferences above mentioned? Who are qualified to go? These same questions are asked every four year.

If every man who imagines himself qualified, could be sent to the General Conference, there would not be found a building large enough to house the delegates to this body. But delegates are usually selected according to their work in which they are engaged. The work of the church is a peculiarly sacred work and its effect ramify to every portion of the community, the state and nation. The pastor who sees an opportunity to labor only in his immediate pastorate is far from being General Conference timber. The problems of the General Conference of the

W. D. MILLER, D. D.
Pastor of the 1st A. M. E. Church

A. M. E. Church, have always been, and are still, those perplexing problems which pertain to the life and well being of the home, the race, in fact the entire nation. True there is a false race philosophy which is going the rounds in certain quarters tending to minimize the influence of the church in the body politic, but such a position is most harmful in effect, erroneous in deduction.

GOD AND HUMANITY

Recent experiences have taught us that the church generally, and the A. M. E. Church in particular, does not take sufficient interest in the common everyday problems which underlie out national well-being. That is to say, we do not individually delve deep enough into those intricate problems of civic and economic origin which are engaging the time and efforts of our nation. We are wont to refer to our country as a Christian nation and in the next breath we would relegate every Christian participant to a back seat in the actual consideration of the affairs of the nation. The place of the church in our civic and political life has long since been defined. Since Richard Allen and his manly attitude resented the un-Christian conduct of the supposed Christians of his day, African Methodism has been recognized in our country as a positive vital force. African Methodism signifies service, civic, economic and Christian. The delegates to our General Conference should be men of broad minds and sound reasoning. They should be men who represent the church of Allen in its highest and best life, the spiritual; and the Southern California Conference has no better candidate for representation than Dr. W. D. Miller, pastor of Eighth and Towne Avenue—First A. M. E. Church. Dr. Miller is a preacher of the rarest qualifications in this his greatest asset as a gospel minister is the spiritual force with which he dispenses the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. Dr. Miller has great administrative ability, accomplishing volumes for his church with an ease and effectiveness which appear almost magical.

The elevation of such a high, clean, christian character to the Episcopic would tend to bring the entire church back to the spiritual moorings from which she has drifted. The Southern California Conference will reflect great credit upon the Christian fraternity by electing Dr. W. D. Miller to the General Conference which meets in Chicago next May.

ON THE SIDEWALK

By C. A. B.

ON the Sidewalk lead us just across the street from where we left your last week, on the North-west corner of 9th and Central into what is called the Peoples Dry Goods Store, owned and operated by Mr. Cohen. Now, it is needless for me to tell you who Mr. Cohen is as to nationality for his name easily betrays his racial identity.

Tradition tells us that Jesus was a Jew, but that our Savior preached out of the new dispensation, which he represented to the Jew and gentile alike. In fact He made an appeal to all mankind, saying, "Come, take of the water of life freely." Hence according to the doctrine of Jesus we would not preach race hatred, but LOVE nevertheless according to the Divine plan of Creation the peoples of the Earth, though one family are divided into races, and groups, and as such adhere to a sort of race or group pride, and it is a great portion of this group pride that we find lacking in our particular race, and we lament the same.

These Jews who people Central avenue offer you nothing in return for your trade except to once in a while use you as a cat's paw to scratch in other customers of your racial group.

Mr. Cohen of the People's Dry Goods store gets his support almost entirely from Negroes and yet he does not even advertise in one of the three race papers.

THE REMEDY—If one hundred Negroes who own high-powered automobiles would turn them in and establish one up-to-date dry goods store with ladies', gents' and children's furnishings on Central avenue in which at least an hundred young men and women might be employed as saleladies and gentlemen, street walking in bungalow aprons might be reduced and the establishment of an economic foundation would be started.

IN spite of the fact that Governor Young on last Saturday signed papers which so far as he, the Governor, is converned would permit the Oklahoma authorities to take Edward Glass back to Supulka, Oklahoma.

Five years ago Glass escaped from an army of lynchers bent upon destroying the black man who dared to be too progressive in the way of getting real estate properties, establishing and operating several business enterprises.

We are glad to note that up in the northern part of our great State there is a judge who dares to take a stand.

"Alleged Slayer's Extradition Stayed

"An order was issued yesterday by Federal Judge Frank H. Kerrigan staying the extradition of Edward Glass, an Oklahoma Negro charged with the murder of a police officer in Sapulka Creek count, Oklahoma. The judge also issued an order to show cause why a writ of habeas corpus should not be granted.

"The petition was filed by Edward Mabson, Glass' attorney. The application claimed that Glass did not kill the officer, and fled to save his life from a mob intent upon lynching him."—Examiner.

And with this encouragement the black people of San Francisco, Oakland and in fact all California are going to use every speck of influence to save this man from Oklahoma's bloodthirsty mob.

In delegating forces to work in behalf of at least a fair trial for Mr. Glass, we hope that a detachment from the Army of Justice seekers will train their guns on the BLACK PIRATE who betrayed Glass and at least make California too hot for his ilk.

May Colored Girls Train In County Hospital Here? Raises Racial Discussion

SUPERVISORS WILL DECIDE QUESTION OF LONG STANDING MONDAY AS DISPUTANT FACTIONS PRESENT ARGUMENTS FOR AND AGAINST ADMISSION

FACTIONS SAY THEY WILL WIN OR FIGHT

Hospital Superintendent Says Objection Not Based on Race Prejudice But Doubt of Benefit to Girls After They Have Ben Trained

[We are publishing extracts from an article that appeared in the Friday, August 26th issue of the San Diego Sun.]

Final decision in the controversy over the admittance of colored girls to the County Hospital nurses' training school probably will be announced by the board of supervisors Monday.

MAY REVIVE ISSUE

Dennis V. Allen, president of the San Diego branch of the association, declared that if the decision is negative, he will revive the issue again and again until colored girls are allowed to train in the County hospital.

"There are more than 2500 colored people in San Diego", Allen said, "and a great number of them are property owners. Their tax money is not refused when given to aid in the upkeep of the hospital. If our girls are not admitted tothe nurses' training school it will be a plain case of 'taxation without representation'."

Allen declared that colored girls possess every requisite possessed by white nurses. He said they are intelligent and refined and know sanitation. Any restriction against them could be only a color restriction, he asserted.

ATTORNEY ANGRY

A. Haines, San Diego attorney, who represents the colored people in the matter, said there was no discrimination recognized or permissible to exempt colored taxpayers from being taxed for the support of the county hospital.

DENIES PREJUDICE

Dr. Roy Stevenson, superintendent of the hospital, said the chief objection last year was the question of living quarters. He feels that this problem is a minor one, however, and can easily be solved if necessary.

"Of course, I have no authority in the matter," Dr. Stevenson said, "but my staff of some 75 of the best physicians and surgeons the county has to offer, should have some voice in the matter. They give their valuable time to the hospital without any remuneration. If they have arguments against having colored women in the training school here, they should be allowed to present them.

"It is not a question of black and white with me. My hesitancy is due to sincere doubt as to the benefit colored girls will obtain through this training.

"Los Angeles county hospital has been admitting colored girls to its nurses' school since 1919. During the period of eight years it has graduated only 12 colored nurses. Of the 12, only a very small number were placed. Most of them were employed in the hospital as there was no demand for their services. I feel there will be less demand for colored trained nurses here."

The colored principals feel differently about this. Mrs. Martha Tate Dodge, former state president of the Colored Women's clubs, stated that she he received a number of requests for colored trained nurses from well known persons, both colored and white.

"I am confident that any girls who are graduated from the nurse's school will receive steady employment", she said. "Why shouldn't they? The yare just as competent. If one cares to recall earlier days, it will be remembered that when there were few hospitals and nurse's schools, colored women were much n demand and were the best nurses we had."

Allen says of this phase of the issue: "Maybe the girls won't find employment at first. That is a thing the people have to be educated to. But we must start somewhere. Why sit with our hands folded and wait for people to rush at us and beg for our nurses, before we are prepared? We want to show them what our girls can do first. Then the demand will be created of itself. It may take ten years or more. But what is a mere ten years when each year is a step forward?"

Crowning Success

BY: LOUIS MICHEL

Efficient Piano teacher has distinctively successful annual recital with 30 numbers on the program. A good teacher, she is, however, greatest as a singer. Sang her best song at John Gray's Farewell Recital recently.

On August 23rd, 1927, that sterling and highly reputed young matron, now Mrs. Mayme Lowe Payne, held forth in gallant and quickly noticeable usefulness as a Piano pedagog at that modest marvel of distinctive architecture—the Wadsworth S. D. A. Church, where 500 people had come to witness this beloved and pace-setting girl-woman-teacher handle her growing class of pupils.

The program was big, varied and artistic, in two large parts with 16 numbers to Part I. and 14 number to Part II. The scholars were not only well-trained, secure in their fundamental conceptions, their musical developing instincts and practices, but every one of Mayme Lowe's children showed highest decorum toward their parents and friends, deepest respect for their charming teacher and especially imparted poise and best regards for the whole public that listened to them. There were solos, duets, and trios, there was a violin duet by the Cummings children, brother and sister, accompanied by Virginia Cummings. A very finely rendered clarinet solo revealed the good mastery of the Indianpamed youth—Pannattan Hannah, a demonstrative specimen of three-racial, most pleasing ability.

The pastor of this model church, with the happy lighting effects, the comfortable seats ,the inviting beauty of good taste and patriarchial simplicity, Rev. P. G. Rogers, made several neat short speeches and announcements that were relished by the intelligent audience. Two pupils won especial prizes for selling individually the most tickets: Miss Ruth Stapler $5.00 for selling 54 tickets and Miss Alic Atkin for selling 45 tickets.

The following young women proved very effective and polite ushers: Mrs. N. Stapler and the Misses Martin, Armstrong, Flint, Abrams, Perkins, Smith, Montgomery, Hendricks, Patton.

Of Mayme Lowe Payne can be said that she is a most punctual, motherly, capable teacher who lacks no needful traits to make the parents absolutely happy with the supreme thought that their children are in safely guiding hands with Mrs. Lowe at the helm. This teacher stays at the bottom of public life in proper child teaching as to conduct and rises to the heights of musical instruction by giving to all of her pupils what is best in her.

The greatest and most notable artistic individual efforts that Mayme Lowe ever made in her young and crowded musical life—the noblest thing she ever accomplished, however, was the superb rendition of that beautiful song "Nightingale" at John Gray's farewell benefit at the Independent Church a few weeks ago. Better singing has never been heard in this city, nobler notes were never evolved out of the human throat—it was such marvelous singing that would have made Mayme Lowe internationally famous, if destiny had placed her at these artistic moments before the international critics.

Such singing cannot be surpassed, it was, with Madame Murdock's gorgeous violin solos, the finest thing ever heard in years of a capable Negro artist.

Louisiana Office Seekers Disregard Negro Question

(By The Associated Negro Press)

New Orleans, La., Sept. 15.—Politics, despite the fact the election for governor does not take place until January, is beginning to reach the boiling point with four candidates already in the field. Each has his pet hobby for the "dear people" from free text books, flood control and heaven on earth for the laboring man, and the continuance of heaven on earth in Louisiana for the descendants of slave holders, past and present, but up to date no candidate, political party, or newspaper has even whispered as to any benefit to the colored man or woman of the state whose vote will control the faction or either of the political parties.

Colored men and women own property, pay taxes and are in the same condition as the early colonists who revolted against King George's polley, "taxation without representation". The United States Constitution gives the right to every man regardless of color, race, or religious affiliation, to cast their ballot at each electon. The Constitution of the United States and the bill of rights South of the Mason and Dixon line, to a certain extent is an unknown quantity.

Mrs. Minnie Johnson of Oakland, who has been visiting with her sister, Mrs. E. Houston on 35th St., for a couple of weeks returned to her home in company with her mother, Mrs. Liza Flood last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jackson were host and hostess at a very pretty dinner party Friday evening, August 16, 1927, at the Lo Republica Tea Room, 1710 Central Ave., honoring their sister, Mrs. Author C. Lowe of Beaumont, Texas and Mrs. Butler Watts of Shreveport, La. A lovely 5-course dinner was served.

DINNER DANCE GIVEN VISITORS

Honoring Mrs. Marion Watts of Shreveport, La. and Mrs. A. Lowe of Beaumont, Texas, Los Angeles lived up to its reputation Monday night when more than 200 of the very elite responded to invitations to share in heir honoring at a dinner dance at La Republica Tea Room, 1710 Central Avenue.

The place was beautifully decorated for the occasion with an entire profusion of colored lights. The honored guests and ladies of the party were most beautifully dressed.

Mrs. Ethel Hunter, Mrs. Elmira Kelley and Mrs. Lillian Johnson served as hostess.

GLADYS GREENAWAY

Lindy seems to have copped all the publicity so what we would say in his honor would scarcely be notice. Anyway, we are glad Lindy's young because now the members of the past generation of young folks can't say that the young people of today are going to the dogs. Young people are worth while if one just takes the trouble to look for the worth while points instead of the bad ones.

The game between the Merry Makers Club and N. N. B. club will open the football season, Oct. 2nd, at Jefferson Field. We hope that all would-be suiciders, enranged sweet-hearts and er-er—bootleggers will keep away from these games. Last year a number of people made it very unpleasant during the games with recitals of their own wrongs. This is good, clean, football and the teams need rooters and boosters and no drawbacks.

We gretly sympathise with Mr. S. P. D. who will soon be paying double alimony and costs. Mr. D. will soon be saying, "It won't be long now," as he looks at his diminished pocket book.

The Arkansas Club, No. 1 entertained informally in honor of the 37th birthday of its president, Mr. W. Walker last Thursday night at the residence of Miss Mahoney, 1350 E. 43rd St. After many games were played, refreshments were served and a jolly good time was had by all present.

RED HOT CAMPAIGN ON IN SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF.

SHERIFF TOM FINN MARSHALS FORCES FOR POWERS FOR MAYOR

(BY: J. B. BASS)

San Francisco at this time is in the throes of one of the greatest municipal campaigns of its entire history. Mayor Rolph who has served four terms of four years each is seeking the fifth term. Though entrenched with his mighty power former Postmaster Powers essays to wrest the position from the Mayor and from the vision of this writer seems fair to succeed.

COLORED VOTE A FACTOR

The issues of the campaign are so closely drawn and the factions so evenly matched, it is freely predicted that 3500 Colored votes will be the deciding factor. As far as political recognition is concerned during the entire regime of 16 years of Mayor Rolph's tenure in office they have failed absolutely. So to get anywhere at all along this line of effort not even a janitorship in the City Hall. Therefore in supporting Powers if he is elected they can not possibly lose anything and on the other hand they have a good chance of gaining recognition. Powers is ambitious, knows the political game and there is not much doubt but that he will see to it that all elements of the city's population will be recognized.

FINN STRONG SUPPORTER OF POWERS

Then again they have in the forefront as the leader of the Powers forces the doughty and resourceful Tom H. Finn, Sheriff, at the helm and Tom Finn is a square shooter whom our folk can well afford to play with. This writer has been a strong supporter and admirer of this astute and high class gentleman ever since coming to the state and we have never had cause to regret it. He has been fair, courteous and would go the limit to favor the people of whom we are a part and parcel. We are strong for Fnn and as a consequence will be on the sidelines boosting for Powers.

Keeping in spirit the general trend of organized effort by our people throughout the state, with an interest in common it would indeed be the right and proper thing to give a united support to Powers for Mayor of San Francisco.

What Thoughtful Parents Are Reading

Oftimes parents fail to realize what a tremendous problem the education and training of the child presents. How many parents ask themselves such important questions as the following: Do I understand my child? Is he normal? What does he need in the way of training and education? Famous psychologists and child specialists have spent years of tireless effort on just such questions as these in order that parents might be properly equipped to rear their children intelligently. The result of their years of experiment are found in precious volumes which may be borrowed from the Public Libraries.

Thoughtful parents are realizing more and more that too much time cannot be spent on such an important subject as their child's future welfare. The librarian of the Jefferson Branch Library says that every day more parents are asking for books on this subject. The collection at the Jefferson Library includes the following titles: "Schools of tomorrow," by John and Evelyn Dewey who tell about education as a natural development; "School and Home", by Angelo Patri; "The child; his nature and his needs," a survey of present day knowledge concerning child nature and the promotion of the well-being and education of the young, prepared by the Children's Foundation under the editorial supervision of M. V. O'Shea; "The Psychology of Childhood," by John J. B. Morgan; "The Mental Growth of the pre-School Child," by Arnold Gessell, professor of child hygiene and director of the Yale University psycho-clinic; and "A Practical Psychology of Babyhood, by Jessie C. Fenton. Mrs. Fenton was for a number of years assistant to Professor Reman, the eminent authority on child psychology at Stanford University, and her book is based on observations of her own baby and her application of the theories of the University to her individual problem. This has resulted in an unusually practical book which will be helpful to any mother of children under two years old.

All these books may be borrowed from the Jefferson Branch Library, 2211 West Jefferson St. Hours: 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

Shoots Estranged Husband In Self-Defense

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 15.—Mrs. Lois Smalley is being held in jail here pending the condition of her husband. Lloyd Smalley, whom she shot early Sunday morning. According to Mrs. Smalley, her husband from whom she has been separated for sometime, threatened to kill her if she did not return to him. Sunday morning he attempted to carry out his threat and she shot him in the abdomen. Smalley is in the General Hospital here and his condition has been declared critical.

McCRAY—WHY NOT GARVEY

BY: Wm. PICKENS
(For the Associated Negro Press)

The Associated Press on August 31, 1927, says: "Warren T. McCray, former Governor of Indiana, having completed one-third of a ten-year term in the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary, is expected to be released on parole from the prison late today." It is further stated that the Parole Board recommended his release and that Attorney General Sargent approved it.

American Negroes, take notice: here is a big American white man who was a sure-enough criminal, and no doubt anywhere about it. He used the mails to defraud, not out of ignorance of the law, but to cheat the law, deliberately, knowing all about what he was doing. He sought his own personal business. He was, of course, seeking glory in a visionary cause, and it is most likely true that he hardly understood the legal import of his stock-selling.

Garvey has served more than one-third of his term, for he not only went to prison before McCray, but his term was only five years, while McCray's was ten years. McCray went in last and comes out first,—although McCray's term was twice as long as Garvey's!

Garvey was a bigger man, better known around the world than McCray ever could have been, more famous than all the governors of Indiana put together.

And yet Garvey is still in prison while Attorney General Sargent religiously recommends the release of the white man who had ten times more chances than Garvey to "know better," and who was a far greater criminal.

Garvey was right: this is certainly a "white man's country."

Whatever Negro editors and other leaders may think of Marcus Garvey, there is but one way for the human brain to think of this obvious partiality of our Department of "Justice." Garvey in this case is not an individual but a symbol. At the very lowest estimate he deserves as much consideration as McCray, former "Governor of Indiana."

Memphis Almost Has A Riot

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 15.—Memphis had a race riot Monday night. The trouble arose when Deputy Sheriff J. R. Johnson struck a drunken colored man over the head at an amusement park. The friends of the man declared that it was not necessary for the officer to use such means as the man was too intoxicated to resist arrest and further threatened to "teach the officer a lesson".

Sensing the seriousness of the situation as the crowd continued to grow and the threats becoming more menacing, a special officer at the park sent in the riot call and the disturbance was quelled. During the trouble the drunken man over whom the trouble started, strolled nonchalantly away and has not been seen since.

Holds Woman Sweetheart For Murder

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Springfield, Tenn., Sept. 15.—Charlie Shearon was arrested and charged with the murder of Miss May Parham, a young woman, whose body was found near her home Sunday morning.

According to testimony in the hands of the police, Shearon, who has been living in Mt. Vernon, Illinois, returned to Springfield recently and began paying attention to Miss Parham, a former sweetheart. Saturday night the young woman went out with one Will Hughes, who was also a suitor, and Shearon, angered by the rebuff went home, secured a shot gun and waited the return of the couple. When Hughes and the woman appeared on the scene he fired killing Miss Parham and putting Hughes to flight. The body was found Sunday morning and Hughes was located Monday night.

Officers say that Shearon has confessed to the killing and declared that if Hughes had not been so fleet of foot he would have killed him.

NEWS OF THE CHURCH

FACTS CONCERNING THE ST. PAUL SPLIT

By PASTOR HOLT

I am forced to this by reason of many erroneous statements made by some unscrupulous characters who would, at this time, uncork their abominable gall bag and emit their invectives upon one who has served, bled and almost died to make the St. Paul Church what it is today.

With malice to none, but winking at the ignorance displayed in the whole panorama, I venture to set at rest forever the statement that I HINDERED the financial progress of the Church.

Ten years and five months ago, I came to St. Paul Church. A shattered fragment of what might be termed a bad dwindling away. They reported to me thirty-five members, but only 12 answered the roll call on the first Sunday I was there. They had an indebtedness of nearly eight hundred dollars. We took this bunch at a salary of $65.00 per month and paid $15.00 per month house rent out of this.

We, in less than nine months, paid the debt and burned the mortgage on the church. We next decided to build. Bro. Hammock and I purchased a lot adjacent to the church. This was held by Bro. Hammock until the church could "study" herself to take it.

Meanwhile, I passed the present site of St. Paul. The spirit led me to investigate the probability of buying the same for St. Paul. I led Bro. Hammock past this place and he expressed himself in terms like this, "If we had a church like that we would be going some". I placed a letter in the mail box of the church addressed to the Trustees. This letter remained there so far as I know, for five months. When a certain man came to my house and informed me that he was ready to talk business concerning the church.

We went to a trustee of the church and made a tentative agreement. At this time no one of the men of my church knew anything about it. Later, Bro. Hammock, then Bro. Coles, and Bro. Powell, were informed of what I had done and now we must tell it to the church.

We met, I preached as never before. Told the people what we had found and what I wanted them to do. We took a vote on selling the old church. All voted for it exceupt a few; one of whom still lives and has knocked my plans.

We closed the deal, but had to go in Escrow, when we had no money. $100 was needed. I gave $90 of that. We were to raise $1,000 in 90 days. We set to work and in 90 days had the money.

We continued to pay on the debt for some time. (Now why do we owe $6,840?) Some seven years ago, as the record will show, I appointed Bro. Hammock, chairman of trustee board, to see to having the church exempted from taxes. He went and said it could not be done as tickets were sold at the doors. He refused to "Tell a story" then. So the taxes ran on. We had now paid the principal debt to $4500.00 in 1925. We, a year or more ago, noticed that the property was sold for taxes and that we owed $1900.00 taxes. Whereupon, there arose a disturbance in our church that the trustees had not done their duty and our finance began to fall off. We borrowed $7,600.00 with which to pay off the principal debt and the taxes. This being done, we now owed $7,600.00. Now to paint the church, we proceeded under contract, and found that we are to give notes to $8,130.00; and to repair the hall $500.00; making a total of $8,630.00. These things were a stunning blow to our finance and many mistrusted us. Later, one Mr. Gurley asked that an auditing committee be appointed, after some delay, I appointed the Committee. The Committe reportd that thre was a discrepancy of some $1,000, not accounted for. Now this threw a chill on all. For months, We strove to correct the report.

But all had formed an opinion that the pastor, Daniels and Powell had done some crooked work. We finally, after many had withdrawn and others refused to pay, corrected the report of the Ex-Secretary, Bro. Daniels.

To date we owe $6823.50, having paid $1790.00 since 1925. It is to be remembered that from the secretary's record to day that those who push this machine today have paid less than many of the widow women in the church, and some boast that they have not paid anything for years.

Now comes the crash. The church is well organized. Any man who comes will find a skeleton upon which to build. But, I had none to execute my plans. I organized every department known to a Baptist Church but it dragged along because I had no one to push the machine.

Now, as for accusations, I have no accusers. Only those of the mole kind that skulks under the crust. I need not say that I have been worth some thing to the denomination in this state as well as to the people of St. Paul. But, the time came when we must part. I was determined to hold my place as a man who had suffered for the influence which a few culprits tried to kill. And having discovered their hand some months ago, I planned to leave the church and city. I made reservations in another city. Also gave another preacher the address of the chairman of my deacon board and had him to write him.

But some of these men, so bloodthirsty, could not wait. So when the meeting was called and due notice given to all that might have a say in the church, these good brothers and sisters, 31 in all, met at the church at 7 P. M., one hour before time of stated meeting, declared the pulpit vacant and attended to other business. At 8 P. M. the church came in, and not all, for as you know, most of the people work. And after the ruling monarch of many church battles refused to hear anything, Bro. Powell stole an opportunity to put a test to the house. He asked all who wanted Rev. Holt as pastor to stand on their feet, whereupon, three fourths of all present stood. Not desiring to push a fight, for many were blood thirsty and were now stunned, Pastor Holt arose and from the platform announced to all who stood that he would preach at the U. N. I. A. Hall at seven o'clock Sunday. And said let's go and these wheeled out of line.

And we went to the hall on Sunday, preached to a packed house, later moved to our present quarters where we have enrolled some 150. Now this is the whole truth of the St. Paul Split. This can be verified by the records of the church and the secretary's reports.

Now let the public say who was in the way, the preacher or those to whom he committed the task. I have nothing to say other than this, I have no ax to grind, I have nothing to regret, but feel happy and am living well, knowing that I did the best thing for all concerned. I WALKED OUT.

Now, to those of the St. Paul Church: I don't wish to persuade one member from your rank. I mean to build out of the timber I find in the bushes as I did St. Paul. All we ask of you is TO BE LET ALONE. These who are here know why they left, don't need any sugar. We are all on friendly terms and when some of you repent, I can shake your hand better. If you have what you want, let these go. You need not dodge us we are on good ground, we must still live in the same town and on the same street. If we have anything you want, ask us, if we need you we will do the same. For I know that all of my friends are not of St. Paul.

Now as stated, this comes because of the lie told by some to deceive the public and to cover their evil deeds.

GETTING DOWN TO BRASS TACKS

After all is said and done the great big proposition which we have never ceased to advocate of bigger and better business should ever remain at the very forefront and receive the hearty support of this people.

We never grow weary in singing the praises of the valiant group which formed and put forth the great Golden State Guarantee and Insurance Company, likewise do we support and sing the praises of any and all efforts that seek to build up the race along business lines.

THE VALUE OF DISCONTENT

As paradoxical as it may seem there is much value in discontent. In every age men have lamented the spirit of discontent. Yet contentment is stagnation, the next step to decay. Contentment never did anything worth while. Discontentment has always meant progress.

"Happiness is ruinous to accomplishment. Few men can do first-rate work when they are bathed in a mood of expansive cheer. A touch of unhappiness, of concern, of discontent, is essential to vigorous enterprise and achievement. When everything is going with beautiful smoothness in a man's daily life, his work immediately shows the effects of it. He slacks up a trifle; he takes a bit too much for granted; he slides back, however imperceptibly. It is when things are not exactly hotsy-totsy with him that he produces the best that there is in him".

The satisfied person never planned a new bridge, or dug a new tunnel, never drained a swamp, nor composed a new song. Every invention is the product of discontent. Howard Payne, homeless, broke, wrote "Home, Sweet Home". The author of "Quiet Moments" lived next door to a boiler factory.

Our own country, America, is the child of discontent. The desire for more land—more knowledge and shorter voyages—a larger life discovered it. A longing for a better government established it, and our dreams of grand destinies preserved it.

Discontent is nothing more than human protest against the inevitable demands of progress.—Sacramento Union.

COLLEGE EDUCATION PAYS

College campuses from Maine to California and from Florida to the frozen fastnesses of Northern Canada have blossomed forth in the early autumn with a brilliant crop of green, perhaps the only example of nature's handiwork which does don a coat of green at the time of the first frost. Thousands of boys and girls as well, products of last June's high school and preparatory school graduating classes, have entered upon the most important period of their education. Their motives for entering college are many and varied, and range from the desire to "make" the football team to spending four years in what seems a prison where learning is forced upon unwilling neophytes in allopathic doses. It is only fair that the freshman should know what he is going to receive in college and to what extent he will be benefited.

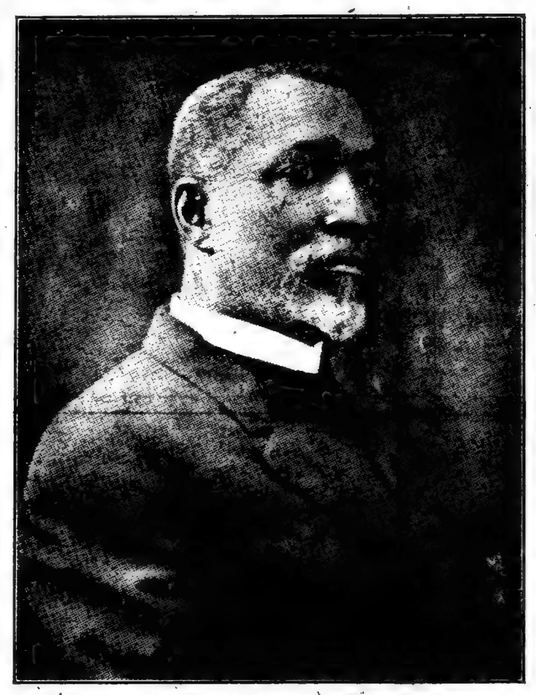
His association in a more or less intimate friendship with members of the college faculty should beget in him a proper respect for intellectual prowess. He will meet men who through long devotion think their lines of work outshine all others. Thus a capacity for judgment is formed in discerning the more important from other degrees of importance. Tradition gives the faculty collectively and individually the characters of tyrants and oppressors who make the otherwise pleasant days of college life drudgery and torture. But any man several years out of college can look back with pleasant smiles to some one or two professors whose guidance and kindly encouragement have made hard roads easy.

Constant mingling with his kind in all manner of college and extra-college activities has a large effect upon the forming of character in the young student. A man who can meet men upon a common ground of intelligence and good judgment, discuss the problems of the day in the manner which he learned in college circles, stands higher in the opinion of his fellows. But character and personality without learning do not constitute a college education, nor does a pedantic belief that "book knowledge" is sufficient. Athletics, class room mental vigor and campus activities all contribute toward the finished product of a college graduate. A college man has learned to think, to concentrate upon a question and delve into myriads of conglomerate facts and extract those applicable to the subject.

AUTUMN

The first suggestions of autumn are not so much seen as felt. They are vague and indistinct, yet real. The fading of summer into fall resembles the subtle changes that overtake one at middle life, in that it is slight, gentle and unobtrusive. There is a little lessening of vision, and the eyes are weary after extended reading. So comes the resort to spectacles, not of course that they are really needed, but as "an aid to reading, a preventive only". There is a slight slowing up of physical activities, a resolution not to overdo; a feeling that one has earned the right to slacken the pace and relax a little oftener. Yet there is still zest in living, and charm and color and melody continue to allure. Thus slowly, almost imperceptibly, but surely, comes the knowledge that one has reached the high noon, and the shadows must of necessity lengthen toward the East.

It is in the month of September that summer fades into autumn. The tokens at first are not numerous, but they are there. Something in the air is alien to August, a certain crispness that is tonic. There is a slight haze on the horizon. The greenness of the earth and trees is subdued, and there are faint tints of brown appearing here and there. There is a shimmering and a shriveling in the corn fields, and the process of ripening is quickened daily. A few of the birds have already answered the call of the Southland, but many linger to gladden the eyes of the wayfarer and cheer his heart. Winter still seems a long way off, and it is good to know that between September days and flurry of rain and wind are the flaming splendors of October.



September is a month that has much to offer to those who are in love with life under the open sky. The days are cool, but not too cool for comfort. The rays of the sun are genial, but not unpleasantly warm. The early mornings are bracing, and the early evenings have in them a quality of dreamy ardor. The leaves are falling, but not in profusion. Summer fades slowly, almost as imperceptibly as the charm of a beautiful woman in her early forties whose eyes are still eloquent, and with healthful fervor undiminshed. Such is September, standing midway between the purple maturity of midsummer, and the old gold and crimson of the crowning days of autumn.

IT IS FALL

Lodges are getting their winter's activities under way. Young folks are wooing Terpischore again. There is a smell of camphor in many homes as mah Jongg sets are being opened up. New loud speakers are being installed for the radio. Study circles are resuming. There is hot competition around the reading lamp for possession of the home town paper. Bridge is still played. There is some demand for corn-poppers. The ice man looks a little glum but the electric-light meter reader wears a smile like a split watermelon as he sets down the figures.

It has been a wonderfully fine summer with more than usual opportunities for outdoor enjoyments, because of the unbroken sunshine which continued for so long. But it will be fine to have the fall rains, too, and later the nip of frost. Just as one of the fine things about going away from home is to come back there, so one of the fine things about a prolonged summer is that finally we come to its end and to normal change. Seasons lend variety and prevent monotony. And each of them in California is enjoyable.

Nursing at Lafayette

A class in Home Nursing and Child Care will be organized at Lafayette Junior High School, corner Twelfth and Naomi, Room 16, Friday, Sept. 23, 1927, 9:30 A. M. to 11:30 A. M. The class will meet once a week at the same time and place. It will be under the extension department of Polytechnic Evening High School. The regular Red Cross Home Nursing Certificate will be given upon the completion of the course. We are particularly anxious to reach young mothers or those who have the direct care of babies and children. The course is designed for the home maker although anyone interested in nursing will find it very helpful. Mrs. Murdoch is in charge of the organization and Miss Humphreys will conduct the classes. There will be no charge except for the text book which will be sixty-five cents. An enrollment of twenty is required in order to maintain the class so we hope that we may at least have the names of persons interested as soon as possible so we will know whether we may expect the class to continue. New members will be accepted for several weeks but it is important to enter as soon as arrangements can be made because the granting of certificates depends very largely on attendance.

Remember—Friday, 9:30 to 11:30, Room 16, Lafayette Junior High School, corner Twelfth and Naomi.

Mrs. Wm. Sanders of 1328 E. 40th St., entertained at breakfast Sunday, September 18, in honor of Mrs. C. E. Coleman of New Orleans, La., and Mrs. I. N. Whitten of San Bernardino, Calif. The table was artistically decorated with beautifully cut flowers and a gorgeous menu was served. Those present were Mrs. Wm. Sanders; Mrs. C. E. Coleman; Mrs. I. N. Whitten; Mr. C. L. Grace; Mr. N. E. Howard and Mr. Willie Wilson. Mrs. Sanders proved herself an ideal hostess.

Mrs. Chas. N. Laverrien and Mrs. Willie White will leave Sunday, September 25, for New Orleans, La. Mrs. White has been the houseguest of Mrs. Laverrien for the past month. While in the city Mrs. White has been the recipient of many social courtesies.

On her return trip Mrs. Laverrien will visit her aunts in Baton Rouge, La., and Helena, Arkansas. She will be the house-guest of her aunt, Mrs. Mary Sims, while in New Orleans, La.

The Just Us Whist Club met last Saturday night on special business. New plans were made. All of the members were present but one and so a new member was added to the Just Us. After meeting was over the rest of the evening was spent in pleasure.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy in our sorrow, the death of our husband and father.

MRS. I. MURPHY, DAUGHTER AND SON

"How are you getting on at school now, Alec?"
"Fine! We're learning words of four cylinders now."

Wife—"Can't you give him something to make him talk more distinctly?"

Sunday evening, September 11th, The Pleasure Seekers entertained the husbands at the home of Mrs. Washington with a whist party. The girls served a very dainty lunch after which the prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Washington, first; Mr. and Mrs. Holmes, second; Mr. and Mrs. Wyndom, Booby. The guests departed declaring they had spent a very delightful evening.

Miss Mary Wilson entertained the Abovita Whist Club at her home last Wednesday evening. Delicious refreshments were served. Prizes were won by Mrs. Martha Fried, 1st; Mr. Cecil Cathacart, 2nd; Miss Verda Reed booby; Mr. Howard Jefferies, guest's prize. Miss Wilson proved a charming hostess.

This Misses Charlene and Helen Wharton entertained in honor of Mr. Emmett Moses Sims, Wednesday evening, September 14th at their residence with an informal dinner. Mr. Sims left Monday the 19th for a trip around the world. Recently he completed a book "From Alpha and Omega" in which he briefly discusses history, composition and dimensions of the universe and origin and evolution of the solar system.

Those present were Misses Leila Scott of Kansas City, Clara Diggs and Alberta Muse of Santa Monica; Messrs. David Denton of Beverly Hills, Eugene Johnstone of Havana Cuba, Frederick Clark of London England and Reese Campbell of Denver, Colo.

The house was profusely decorated with fall flowers.

PIANO RECITAL

Mozelle T. Outley announces the Piano Recital of her pupils, Thursday evening, October 6, 1927, St. Paul Baptist Church, 21st and Naomi street, 8 o'clock.

The public is cordially invited.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY HUSBAND, WILLIAM SMYER WHO PASSED SEPT. 6, 1927

Of you dear one I am thinking—thinking of the long, pleasant years we spent together—pining because of your vacant place in the home, but then, O! then, I have the satisfaction of knowing that you wrought well for humanity while here and so I am making God's will mine, hence looking to the day and time when we shall again be united.

To the friends who offered kind words of sympathy and others attention, I thank you.

Loving and obediently,
(Mrs) SARAH SMYER, wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde J. Maddox and daughter have just returned from Elsinore.

Mr. Thomas Edward Taylor, executive secretary of New York Y. M. C. A. was the guest of the Hon. Titus Alexander between trains.

THE ACME OF SUCCESS

The Burdette Pie Shop located at Newton and Central avenue, is a practical demonstration of building a worthwhile business, by striving in every way possible to give to the people real service and the production of food which pleases and at the same time healthful and in keeping with the tenents of the real epicurean.

The setting of the Burdette Cafe with its large and airy dining room and tabls covered with spotless linen is being added to by the creation and exclusive ladies dining room containing a seating capacity of 50 personse. This will be known as the Rose Room and the decorations will conform thereto. Suffice it to say this added unit will be up to the Burdette standard and every modern convenience will be provided. This unit will be thrown open to the public Thursday, Sept. 29th.

Aside from the regular service, the Burdette Cafe will henceforth cater to banquets, private parties. There will be music every Thursday and Sunday evenings. Other evenings by request.

L. A. Colored Man Owns Oil Property in New Field at Long Beach, California

Mr. Clarence R. Bailey, of Los Angeles is the owner of one and one-half lots, located in the rapidly developing oil field known as the Alamitos Heights Field at Long Beach, just east of the city of Long Beach, and said to be a continuation of the Signal Hill structure of oil sands. Mr. Bailey purchased this property in 1918, with no idea that oil would ever be found on or near it, but recent developments around the immediate vicinity of this property have place this property in the category of proven oil land. There are several producing oil wells within one hundred yards of his property, there being one well within about 60 feet of this property, said to be producing more than 1000 barrels per day. On the proprty immediately adjoining his lots, the Pan American Petroleum Company has a crew of men drilling night and day, at the present time they are down about three thousand feet.

Mr. Bailey plans to dispose of one-half interest in this property to his acquaintances and thereby place himself in a position to immediately drill a well as soon as satisfactory arrangements have been completed.

Attorney Afue McDowell has been busy for the last several days working on the legal end of the situation. Mr. Bailey is very cautious and is proceding very carefully as he realizes that there have been many failures in oil speculation, but he stoutly maintains that he is not going to attempt to promote a stock-selling campaign or any under-cover methods of promotion: but each person who becomes associated with him in this venture will receive for their money a deed entitling them to a substantial proportionate ownership in the property.

At the present time the office of the Eastside Realty Company, 1136 E. 12th street, is being used by Mr. Bailey as his headquarters, and it is reported that he has closed a deal whereby credit has been obtained for the purpose of expediting the date upon which actual drilling operations will begin on this property.

At present all of Mr. Bailey's time is being taken up making arrangements with drillers, oil well supply companies, and making escrow arrangements preparatory to carrying out his intentions, as above set forth. Anyone wishing to look into the proposition from an investment stand point, are referred to the Eastside Realty Company at 1136 E. 12th St., MEtropolitan 0647, whose advertisement will appear in next week's issue of this paper.

$250 Reward Offered

A reward of $250 will be paid to the person having information, upon which prosecution can be made, disclosing the identity of the person or persons who made the false report about liquor being in my restaurant and sent the police to make a raid.

SENSATIONAL DIVORCE SUIT

The public was served with a spicy bit of news when Rev. J. A. H. Eldridge, Pastor of Providence Baptist Church, formerly Pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, won for the second time complete exoneration in the Superior Court in the divorce case filed by his wife. The judge who heard the case for one whole day and a half used five minutes in announcing his decision against Mrs. Eldridge. The court decided in substance that there was no foundation whatever for any of the disgraceful and slanderous charges made by Mrs. Eldridge against her husband. The same case was tried about a year ago and the Rev. Eldridge at that time won a decisive victory against the slander to his character and good name. And the case was re-tried on September 7, 1927, and won for the second time against Mrs. Eldridge.

It is very pleasing to note from the disposition of the Eldridge divorce case, that the courts of this state are not disposed to aid in the slander and destruction of one's character even in divorce proceedings where the person responsible for such slander is seriously disturbed with physical and mental disorders resulting from a change of life.

Rev. Eldridge was legally guided by the very keen, analytical, and masterful mind of his attorney, Chas. S. Darden.

U. C. L. A. CAMPUS

THE AGENDA AWAKENS

Amidst the hurry and bustle of students and the awakening activities of organizations, the Agenda Club of U. C. L. A., our group's organization sets forth upon the semester's work.

This organization, of one year's birth, was instigated by Ralph Bunche, '27, and is now being guided by Grant Venerable '28. Already it has won the distinction of being one of the foremost clubs of the Campus, according to the comments from the U. C. L. A. board of organizations, control and others. Membership in the University list of organizations was quickly granted and today the Agenda stands at the threshold of a new semester

U. S. C. WILL MISS BRICE TAYLOR

OPENS FOOTBALL SEASON AGAINST OXY, SAT. 24th

The call to the gridiron gods throws all local, and national interest now free from the counter attraction of a world's heavyweight championship prize fight, on to the boys who will battle for this season's football honors.

The first local contest brings together two of our gridiron prides—Troy's Trojans and Oxy's Tigers—at The Coliseum. For the University of Southern California it will be the first test for a trainload of new and promising material. For Occidental it will be a chance—a fair chance—to gain national fame by the top-notch aggregations of the country.

U. S. C. is bemoaning the fact that it goes to the post this season without its famous star Brice Taylor, a boy who could be depended on to bring victory to the Trojan ranks.

Brice Taylor, after a cross-continent motor drive from Los Angeles, began grid practice at Claffin college.

Assistant Coach Sarreals of the University of Michigan arrived on the following day and was also ready to whip the gridiron warriors into shape for their hard schedule.

BIG CHANGES IN RULES

Big changes in football rules promise big changes in the plays especially in the use of the lateral pass and the addition of more rugby tactics to the revised game. Of this Coach Warner says:

"There are only two real chances, in my opinion, to use the lateral pass in the open field in a practical way. These chances are likely to occur in handling and running back punts and in returning kick-offs."

Exendine plays Warner football so the Trojans will get a taste of what is to follow less than a month away when the big Stanford game comes up on the boards.

De Hart Hubbard Makes New World's Record in Broad Jump

Cincinnati, Sept. 17.—Dehart Hubbard, Cincinnati Negro athlete and holder of the world's record for the running broad jump, set a new mark when he cleared 26 feet 2¾ inches at a municipal track, meet here. His former mark was 25 feet 10⅝ inches. Hubbard also equalled the world's record of 9 3-5 seconds for the hundred yard dash in today's meet.

TOGETHER AT LAST!

KILRAIN AND CLISBY BATTLE FOR COAST HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP; CLISBY GOES EAST

Too bad we go to press too early to give the results of the memorable battle at Morrie Cohan's Pasadena arena between the only two men in the West who have the right of battling for the heavyweight championship of the Coast. They are Neil Clisby, Tom Jones, San Berdoo sensation and Jake Kilrain, former Rocky Mountain champion with a long record in the East and a list of 25 wins around Frisco and Oakland. Clisby with a recent string of quick knock-outs has drawn the attention of the sporting world of both the East and West. Fight experts frequently say that two good colored fighters should never be matched as it kills the career of the loser in the very popular mixed matches. But these two men had to be matched, there was no way out.

BOTH TESTED ON GODFREY

George Godfrey is a big 225 pound test for all light heavyweights and a lot of the big ones. So both Clisby and Kilrain weighing around 185 fought Godfrey and both put up better fights than any other heavyweights recently either East or West. Clisby carried the light to him for 7 rounds, socking him so hard that Daugherty got uneasy. Rabbit punches were all that overpowered Clisby and brought a storm of protest from the sporting press all over the country. Kilrain fought him ten grilling rounds at Culver City, to a chorus of cheers for himself for his game stand. So with interest at fever heat Morrie Cohan grabbed the "natural."

The supporting cards for the heavyweights will be:

Six rounds, Marcelino Lomeli vs. Oriel Astudillo, 128 pounds; four rounds each, Mike Cordova vs. Art Molina, 120 pounds; Kid Moreno vs. Joe Porras, 130 pounds; Henry Walker vs. Willie Conner, 135 pounds.

As an added feature for Pasadena fans, Manager Morrie Cohan threw open the arena doors at 5:45 o'clock and gave free the returns from the Tunney-Dempsey fight.

Culver City Stadium Opens Heavy Tourney

Jimmy Murray, matchmaker for the rapidly advancing Culver City Stadium has responded to the trend of interest in heavyweight matches so has lined up a tournament by which to ascertain the best championship prospects among a flock of good, bad and indifferent heavies on the Coast. Of course Jimmy never picks any but the best so this is what he had lined up for his Thursday's start of the elimination tourney.

Walter Hoffman, 190 pound youngster, is in the windup with Kayo Babe Brown; Sam Baker in the semi-windup with Henry Van Patten. Oscar Baker, a Venice youth, who has been kicking over all opposition in one and two rounds, in the third fight with Nathaniel Hogan.

Clyde Colvin and George Trenkle meet in a preliminary. Dutch Hornsmiller and Eddie Duisden in the opener.

"MENDEZ WAS ACE OF COLORED PITCHERS"

BY: ALVIN J. MOSS
(For the Associated Negro Press)

As we write this epistle dedicated to one of the most colorful luminaries that ever trod the diamond, our one regret is—he was never given the opportunity to exhibit his wares in "fast company" (American or National Baseball Leagues). Oldtimers may argue that Andrew (Rube) Foster, Wickware, Whitworth, Redding, "Smoky" Joe Williams, Buckner, Lindsey, Taylor, et al, are deserving of the honor we bestow upon the stormy petrel who hails from the "Pearl of the Antilles"—but this writer holds to his opinion, and will back it up with facts hard to discount. Cuba, has sent many great ball players to the States, many of whom have written their names indelibly into the archives of the national pastime to wit: Miguel Gonzales, who assists 'Gabby' Hartnett of the Cubs in the catching department; Angel Arragon, substitute infielder with the Yankees of some years back; Palmero, thin-faced descendant of Cortez who labored for a spell with McGraw's New York Giants as a twirler; Armando Marsons, —fleet footed outergardner with the Cincinnati Reds who batted 298 for the Cincy crew back in 1914, and was a consistent 300 hitter thereafter; Jose Acosta who saw both Minor and Major league service; and Adolfo Luque, tempermental pitching star also with the red stockings. But greater by far than any of the aforementioned galaxy of diamond greats, in the humble opinion of this writer was Joe Mendes.

Clarence Hutchinson Opens World's Finest Recreation Rooms

(By: A. N. P.)

New York City, Sept. 21.—Colored Harlem may well be proud of the "Hutchinson Recreation Academy," for nowhere the length and breadth of these United States of America, is its equal to be found.

Ernest C. Hutchinson, brother of Clarence Hutchinson, one of the leading realtors in greater New York, is the proprietor of this, the most magnificient recreational enterprise ever put over by a colored business man. The room as it stands represents an outlay of close to $50,000 and is fitted out with the finest pocket billiard, and balkline billiard tables turned out by the Brunswicke-Balke Collender Company, the oldest and most reputable in America.

MITCHELL KAYOES SAMPSON

(By: A. N. P.)

—The Renaissance Big Five.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 20.—Roy Mitchell from Novia Scotia knocked out K. O. Sampson, "dangerous" fighting man from Philadelphia, in the first round of their scheduled 10-round bout of the Suffolks A. A. boxing show at the Boston Arena, Monday night.

The clever, hard punching boy from Halifax, after knocking the K. O. lad from Philly down for the count of three, snapped a terrific right to the heart and Sampson went out in the first round.

This was Mitchell's second K. O. victim within as many weeks. Just two weeks ago he made short shift of Tex McEwan of Philadelphia by the K. O. route in three rounds.

Monday night, Mitchell and Sampson fought in the semi-final of the feature bout between Al Mello and Hobby Brown, both welters from Lowell; Mello was given the decision after ten rounds of super boxing. His weaving style proved puzzling to Brown who had recently beaten Meyer Cohen and Italian Joe Gans.

Experts believe it is going to be a hard task from now on to get fights for Mitchell. He is one of the best in the game. The ring generalship and heavy punches are reminiscence of Tom Gibbons. The colored boy from the north woods works with all the smoothness of Tiger Flowers, minus the Georgia Deacon's clownishness and his right hooks are poison to the core.

Main Street Winds Up A Big Week

After a week of air heroes, championship battles, etc., fans who want to relax by watching some good old fashioned knock-down and drag-out, slugging and fast scientific boxing will end the week by dropping into Carlo Curtis' Punch Palace, the Main St. A. C. Top-notch boxers who show their skill at the bigger clubs, etc., display their wares at the Main St., while boys without the finer points of the game battle to to toe in some hair-raising battles. Here is Saturday night's card:

Jack Spencer vs. Battling Siki, main event, eight rounds. Manuel Frayo vs. Billy Manweller, semi-windup, six rounds. Art Molina vs. Freddy Albin, six rounds. Herman Ritterhouse vs. Bobby Pierce, four rounds. Al Hamilton vs. Joe Porras, four rounds.

"GENTLEMAN" HAM JENKINS

Who was robbed of a well earned decision after decisively winning a thrilling battle with Manuel Vasquez at Pasadena, Thursday beat Vasquez again one day afterward at the Main St. A. C., this time getting the decision. Ham is one of the best boxers on the Coast and always fights a clean, hard battle.

Dust From the Campus

BY: EAGLE EYE

Hello Gang! School has reopened and the various campuses, halls, and steps are alive with new people, eager to identify themselves with collegiate life or education. While strolling around, I managed to get considerable dust in my eyes, you know, GOSSIP.

I heard, and it has been verified, that N. S. C. has copped off some of the best athletic material. They will have among the others on their freshmen track team: Bert Ritchy of San Diego Hi, famous as a hurdler and N. Rucker a sprinter who does the century in 9.8, from Santa Monica Hi. That'l git 'im, won't it, gang? Bill Narcises who left school for a while, is returning this year, and is re-entering the College of Pharmacy. Haven't had time to glean over the Bruin Coach's material sheet, to learn what he has in the way of prospects, but them gals out there will really get him. O, you U. C. L. A., live on and continue to make history with your good-looking browns.

That will be all fellows, I just wanted to let you all know that I am here with you alive and kicking. Bring or send in the news.

Bruce Flowers to Get Shot With Sid Terris

New York City, Sept. 21.—Sid Terris, most popular ghetto champion since the retirement of Benny Leonard, has practically signed to meet Bruce Flowers, sensational colored lightweight contender from New Rochelle. With the decline of Baby Joe Gans, rated by close followers of the sport as the best of a poor lot of present day lightweights, Flower's stock has risen fifty per cent. The only defeat he has suffered in more than a year of glove slinging, was that at the hands of Kid Kaplan, tough Hebrew lightweight from Meridian, Conn That fight might easily be tossed out ring with a boil as large as a hen's egg under his right armpit.

Spartan that he is, he fought ten bitter rounds against the strongest lightweight in the world today bar none.

Terris appears to be too smart for Flowers at this present stage of their development. Sidny has fairly annihilated most of the same opponents each has engaged while the New Rochelle star has won, but only after an uphill struggle. Flowers is the better puncher of the two, and in gameness there is little to choose between them, neither being willing to quit under fire at any stage of the going.

WHITE WINS MARATHON SWIM

Kenneth "Dog" White was the first to swim the five mile flood swim area arranged down at the 28th St. "Y" plunge. It took him two and one-half months to turn the trick. The plan was that the first one to swim the length of the "Y" pool 500 times would be declared the winner, White finished last Tuesday night at 9:10. The greatest number of times he swam the pool one time was 139.

Doll Nelson ranked second with a total of 356. George Nelson third, having swam 100. W. Markham was fourth with a total of 60.

THE BLACK SPORT WORLD THROUGH THE EYES OF ART HAMILTON

As the rumble of our press is heard another rumble similar to it will be heard in Soldier's Field and the surrounding vicinity of Chicago. This mighty human rumble will be heard from 160,000 throats as the two millionaire gladiators of the twentieth century Jack Dempsey, the Mannasa mauler and Gentleman Gene Tufney, climb through the ropes to do battle.

They will take us back to the primeval, two men physically perfect and stripped to the waist wait for the bell to send them at each other to fight the way their ancestors did in primitive times.

This battle has rightfully been termed the three million dollar battle and the battle of telescopes. Tex Rickard will have made the largest coup in the history of legalized boxing; as the gate will exceed $3,000,000, the largest gate ever paid to witness a boxing match.

The telescopes will be absolutely necessary to the fans occupying the $5, $10 and $20 seats, according to the diagram of seating Rickard has worked out.

Weighing carefully the opinion of the fight experts at the training camps of both fighters, I pick Dempsey to defeat Tunney via the K. O. route in eight rounds.

The difference in the ages of the two men is small, Tunney being 29 and Dempsey 32. From all reports Dempsey seems to be in the pink of condition and there is no reason at all why he should not regain his title at the age of 32. Bob Fitzsimmons was 35 when he won the title.

I think the Mannasa mauler has a surprise in store for all of us. Here's hoping.

Up in San Bernardino Tony Fuente, the boy general and Vic Alexander fight a return bout. Alexander won the first bout on a foul. Fuente claims there was no foul and the Commission orders a re-match which should be a corking good battle. Fuente was K. O'ed by Long Tom Hawkins last Friday night at San Diego, therefore Alexander should prevail the favorite.

Baby Sal, a promising featherweight of San Bernardino has been knocking all the boys over lately and is improving with every fight. The fans of the Gate City would like to see Baby Sal and Jimmie Black, the whirlwind featherweight of Tom Jones' stable hook up. The fight would draw a full house and is a natural. Both boys are favorites in San Bernardino and have good following. If their managers could come to terms, the quartett would profit from the bout.

This week in Pictures—Production on pictures that are scheduled to employ large numbers of our group, has evidently struck some unforeseen snag. We are as yet unemployed.

The following people worked last week at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studio, in two productions: For Stahl, in "Old Kentucky" were the two principals, Carolyne Snowden and Lincoln Perry, Pete Edwards, Ernest Wilson, Floyd Shackelford, Laurence LaMar, John Turner, Cora Lang, Louise Beavers and Kathreen Garret. For Monta Bell in "Fires of Youth," starring John Gilbert were Pink Harrison, Bessie Lyles, Webb King and George Turner. Also George Turner does a cook for Sedgewick Company. At the F. B. O. Studio were, Richard Colman, in the picture "Jesse James," Willie Neely under the direction of Rolf Ince; and Ernest Wilson as a 'cook.' At the First National Studio for Director Fitzmaurice, in the picture "Louisiana", 24 people were employed. In the picture titled "he Texas Steer," starring Will Rogers, directe dby Richard Wallace, Nathan Curry and George Reed, have excellent parts also John Williams. Next week will be a whang.

Former Lion Quarterback to Coach N. C. Gridders

(By: A. N. P.)

Durham, N. C., Sept. 21.—David M. Waters, Negro quarter-back at Lincoln will guide the destinies of the "Fighting Eagles" at North Carolina College for Negroes, Durham, N. C., for the coming season. Arriving on the scene last week, he found 30 candidates already on hand and proceeded at once to put them through their paces" and whip them into shape.

LINCOLN THEATRE TO OPEN SOON

BEAUTIFUL 2000 SEAT PLAYHOUSE EMPLOYS AN ENTIRE RACE PERSONNEL

Reported as being the finest and most beautiful theatre in the country built exclusively for race patronage at a cost of half a million dollars will throw open its doors to the public about the second week in October.

We are very glad to note that the personnel of this wonder playhouse will be one hundred per cent members of the race. So often have we heard it said that it would be like other big houses of its kind throughout the country. Looking for race patronage but paying their salaries to white employees. The owners of this house have looked at it from a different angle, and say that from close observation and contact they have decided that with the right kind of race personnel that this house can be handled in a way that will reflect credit to themselves, their race and the community.

DOC STRAINE

Curtis Carpentier, a young man, formerly of New York who has been in Los Angeles for two years has been selected as the house manager. Before coming to Los Angeles Mr. Carpentier was connected with the theatrical profession in New York with Miller and Lyles, Sissle and Blake, playing in the original company of "Shuffle Along" later he was executive secretary to Sissle and Blake with "In Bamville and The Chocolate Dandies." Since coming to Los Angeles Mr. Carpentier has been employed as Manager of the Bronx Palm Gardens and Dreamland Cafe, also Ass't. Manager of the Bronx Hotel, during which time his courteous handling of the public caused him to become Los Angeles' most popular cabaret manager.

Curtis Mosby's Dixieland Blue Blower have been signed to a long contract, Mr. Mosby has augmented his popular six-piece band and added five more and from what we heard the other day at his rehearsal when they open at the Lincoln it will be an organization that all Los Angeles will feel proud of. The band will be second to none. Bob Williams will act as conductor and Master of Ceremonies.

The management has signed a six months' contract with Doc Straine of New York and is importing his entire company of musical comedy artists with a beautiful chorus direct from New York. Some of the well known names among them are: Sam Russell, a comedian that will make you fall out of your seats laughing; Alta Oates, a real blues shouter; Jack Wiggins, a marvelous dancer; Baby and Johnnie Lee, as clever a pair of artists as you want to see work; Helen Stokes a real Dixie songbird several others and a high brown beauty chorus of red hot steppers. Every face new to coast theatre goers.

To augment these two wonderful aggregations of entertainment there will be a big feature photoplay first run in the district and latest up to the minute weekly newsreel, and all this at the lowest prices.

The policy of the house is to give its patrons the very best in up to date good, clean, wholesome entertainment on the stage and the very latest and most high class photoplays obtainable on the screen at all times. In equipment this theatre is second to none uptown or down. A $35,000 Wurlitzer organ has been installed, the very latest ventillating system has been installed here that will vie with any uptown theatre. There are fourteen spacious dressing rooms and all modern conveniences for the artists back stage including shower baths. It has no (eye sore) store front, but a roman promenade, a great spacious lobby on the ground floor and a large mezzanine lounge above. Comfortable, deep seats, rest rooms for both men and women, and big divans and sofas everywhere for easier waiting between shows, on every hand are luxury and comfort.

Judging from the class of theatre the Lincoln is to be and the class of entertainment that is to be given the public, we venture to say that it will get behind the management of this beautiful playhouse and give them your utmost support in order that they may be able to continue to give you the very best class entertainment available. It has so often been said that all we want is an equal break with the other fellow and we would support it. Now is our chance to prove that theory because the Lincoln Theatre is as good as any theatre in Los Angeles and by far much finer and more beautiful than a great number of them which we frequent. So "Take Her to The Lincoln" where Good Order and Good, Clean Entertainment is The Watchword at all Times. Maintained by a well trained and disciplined staff of race employees for your comfort and pleasure.

RAYMOND TURNER A REAL STAR

Critics of Filmland predict that it will not be many moons before Raymond Turner's name will appear on the screen with the names of other members of the cast of the pictures in which he plays. The many fans who recognize his expressive features know him all over the country even if not by name. At present he is probably the highest salaried colored actor in the pictures except Jas. Lowe. His work in the Patent Leather Kid and many other features will be discussed in another issue.

Young Harry Wills Fights In Frisco Next Wednesday

Young Harry Wills, the San Diego "Sandman" is back in the ring again with suspension lifted and plans all made to fight hard and often and make up for all lost time. His first start will be at Frisco at Simpon's battle ground. He will go against Billy Atkinson for 10 rounds or less after which he takes on a number of other bouts in rapid succession. Wills was a while back one of the brightest prospects in the country for the welterweight and middleweight championships and he will soon be crowding the contenders as he did before.

Along Fisticuffs Row

"CHICK-EN" Charlie Raymond was asked a lot of questions by Morrie Cohan last Thursday night after his surprising decisions against Joe Diaz when he plainly took 9 rounds and against Gentleman Ham Jenkins when experts there said a draw should have been the worst he should have gotten would have been a draw. The boys are losing the confidence they had in Mr. Raymond for fairness and impartiality.

"Most of Morries" questions were how come? Bum decisions will kill any faint club in existence even Tex Rickard's.

BABY Joe Gans took the Sports Editor out to review the Lindbergh parade. On the way he disclosed the fact that he was not boxing any more for about two months. Taking a much needed rest.

Big Fight Scheduled For Olympic Aud.

Matchmaker "Wad" Wadham's Danny Kramer, the fast, hard-socking boy who has fought himself steadily upward in the good graces of the local fight fans is stacked against Johnny Hill, one of the greatest Filipinos in the game in a 10-round battle at the Olympic next Tuesday night. These two 130 pounders are expected to put up a thrilling battle. A fine supporting card backs them.

Carolyn Snowden Starring In Pictures

To a race that has produced such outstanding figures as Booker T. Washington, Roland Hayes and Paul Robeson another interesting name must be added—Carolyne Snowden, the only Negro girl who is today taking important parts in leading film productions.

This clever actress was unknown four year ago when she was discovered by Fanchon of the famous producing team, Fanchon and Marco. Without previous training as a dancer she was put through her paces by Fanchon and permitted to appear in an act with Frisco Nick.

So rapid was her progress that in three months Miss Snowden was playing a leading part in a Negro revue, "Struttin' Along," which was first produced on the Pacific coast.

From there Miss Snowden quickly was graduated into the ranks of a producer, putting on her own acts in and around Los Angeles. So successful was she that she was almost immediately in demand, both as a solo dancer in pictures and putting her girls through their paces in big dancing acts for important film productions.

A year and a half ago she was given small bits in pictures. Since then she has climbed the ladder of success so quickly that she is now appearing in the important role of the household servant, Lily May, in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer scren racing melodrama, "In Old Kentucky," directed by John M. Stahl, with James T. Murray, Helene Costello, Edward Martin del, Dorothy Cumming, Stepin Fetchit, Nick Cogley, Wesley Barry, Winter Hall, Edward Connelly and Tenen Holtz in the cast.

Miss Snowden has refused tempting offers to appear in Europe as a solo dancer and as producer of her own revues. She says that she prefers to develop her niche in motion pictures, and as she is the only Negro girl now doing important roles in big cinema productions she believes that she occupies a unique position.

She is anxious to be known as a leader in this field and is bending every energy to that end. That she is a tireless worker is the verdict of those who know her best.

For the past year she has been worker is the verdict of those who know her best.

For the past year she has been working by day in pictures and at night has been producing her own revue at an important night club near Culver City, Calif. In fact, she has just closed an important engagement of 68 weeks in that place.

Working by night and day apparently does not phase Miss Snowden. At 8 A. M. she is on the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer lot, fresh and smiling, as if she had had 10 hours sleep instead of approximately four. She attributes her energy to the fact that she is intensely interested in her work and never bored with labor.

"I'd rather work than eat," Miss Snowden says, "and it's to the worker that the plums fall."

When question concerning her interest in dancing, Miss Snowden said:

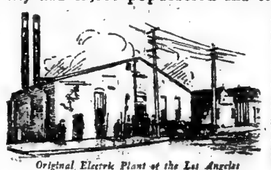
"I never had a lesson until Fanchon spotted me. But all my life, from the time I was a child, I practiced dance steps before a mirror, posing, as youngsters will, in the most graceful attitudes that I could imagine."

Despite the fact that Miss Snowden never studied professionally, she herself is a teacher of repute, having trained such well-known people as Constance Talmadge and Bessie Love in Jazz dancing.

Imbued with dynamic energy, Miss Snowden put all her nerve into her work in pictures. She is especially effective in "In Old Kentucky," which, she says, is the most interesting production in which she has appeared.

Other Negro players—50 in all—take part in "In Old Kentucky." In this original screen play by A. P. Younger, suggested by the race horse melodrama from the pen of Charles Dazey, these Negro players give a superb account of themselves. Twenty-four of them have never been in a film production before, yet they act as veterans before the camera—poised in every scene in which they work.

One aged Negro, John Murr, a 100-year old veteran, is cast as an aged servant. His Civil War stories amused people on the lot during the filming of the production, for Murry had served as the personal attendant of James Comber during that historic period. He was a never-ending source of information concerning big battles in which he had been on the sidelines, cooking and washing for Comber.



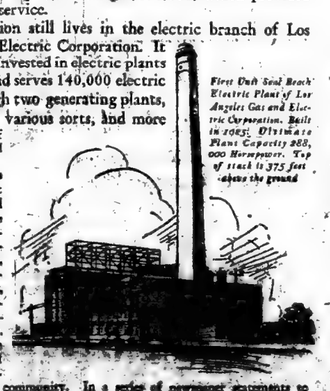
Murry belong as a child to General Joe Wheeler of Civil War and Spanish-American War fame.

Electricity in Los Angeles

No. 1
A Bit of History

Since 1882

SEVEN lighting "masts," 150 feet high and each bearing several arc lamps, provided the first electric service in Los Angeles. That was forty-five years ago—in 1882—when the city had 12,000 population and centered about the Plaza.



Original Electric Plant of the Los Angeles Electric Company at Banning and Alameda Streets. Built 1882. Capacity 400 Horsepower

Horse cars ran on unpaved, gas-lit streets. The telephone had just come into use; and you could buy a 40 by 140 foot lot on Main Street, about where the Rosslyn Hotel now stands, for from $800 to $1300.

It was The Los Angeles Electric Company, organized by five venturesome men, with a capitalization of $150,000, which provided this first electric service.

This organization still lives in the electric branch of Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation. It now has millions invested in electric plants and equipment, and serves 140,000 electric consumers through two generating plants, 19 substations of various sorts, and more than 6600 miles of main overhead and underground wire.

First Unit Seal Beach Electric Plant of Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation. Built in 1905; Divided to Plant Capacity 265,000 Horsepower. Top of stack is 375 feet above the ground

Today, electricity is used for light, heat and power, and applied to every phase of the city's social, commercial and industrial activities—stores, hotels, office buildings, hospitals, apartment houses, transportation, communication and manufacturing of every sort.

The L. A. Service organization is still dedicated to the electrical service of the community. In a series of newspaper statements to follow, illustrations will be given of the actual application of electricity in the processes and operations of Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation.

FANS RIOT AT SCHIFF'S DECISION: STEINER AND BITTO STEAL SHOW

Some of the most tragically thrilling and surprising happenings ever to occur in an arena took place at the Olympic Auditorium, Tuesday night, Sept. 20.

Rudy Steiner, Carl Brashear's great boy first brought the crowd up to seat backs and partition tops by his bulldog battling after a knock down only to floor his opponent Joe Bitto for a long count. Steiner lost but was on his feet at the final bell. When the special event, the biggest excitement of the evening came on when the whole house seemed to make a rush to Johnny Schiff as he escaped into the ring subway. Throughout the semi-windup the crowd booed and jeered Schiff, and the police had to be called to the ringside to protect the referee.

Joe Bitto was given a technical knock-out in the fourth round of the second bout over Rudy Steiner, and Sandy Garrison had a gallop to defeat Twain Mark in the curtain raiser.

More than 9500 persons packed the Olympic.

Following the fight Commissioner Strelinger announced an indefinite suspension for Referee Johnny Schiff.

CALIFORNIA EAGLE AUTOMOTIVE SECTION

Wm. Bachelor, the hustling salesman for the Elcar had a big week last week. He is really putting it over.

We recently paid the Harrison Paint Co. a visit and it was really worth while. This concern is really turning out the job, no camouflage. When it comes to painting autos and putting on the trimmings, they "know their onions," says one of their satisfied customers.

Recent remarks dropped by Mr. Raymond Clark indicates that he is shortly contemplating a belated vacation in his Stude.

Mrs. Garrot whose duty it is to assist Dr. Hudson to know who's next in line has the only educated Chevrolet in town. Moving it without her concent is like trying to move the Strait of Gibraltar by one's self. Don't take our word, try it.

• • •

Two automobiles had an argument last Saturday in front of the Abyssinia Pool Hall, that Rich Baker formerly owned. For a while business was suspended and the main entrance and barber shop looked like a slaughter house only instead of blood it was grease and oil.

• • •

Mr. Shirley Freeman of Lightning Radio fame, and his faithful Ford delivery kar worked overtime during radio week. Both had to take a day off.

Dr. Wilbur Gordon is having a hard time catching up with his practice since returning home from a trip East. His faithful sedan is doing its part.

If you don't believe Los Angeles has some business men just visit the Y. M. C. A., Tuesdays and Fridays, any time between 12 noon and 2:30 P. M. and see the business cars parked in front. Why? The owners are inside indulging in athletics to reduce their diaphrams.

Will someone page Baby Joe Gans? He and his Paige sedan are scarce articles these autumn days.

Eddie Parker parked his car long enough on Broadway last Wednesday to arouse the ire of the Irish traffic cop and get a tag. Looks like five dollars or else.

• • •

Rev. E. E. Lightner, the Christian gentleman who carries the Congregational banner, has moved himself, family and car from the old parsonage to the new location, Vernon and Hooper Ave. They have had a record-breaking crowd all week and it looks like the change is an improvement.

• • •

Paul Alexander is singing the blues. His autos are crying for rubber shoes. The size is too big, they don't make them any more. So it looks like Paul's pocketbook is due for a fall.

Mrs. E. R. Baldwin is again piloting her Dodge after spending several weeks in the East.

The Modern Way

My Granddad studied dog-eared books
Before the wood fire blaze;
My father tramped five miles to school,
Nor thought of asking praise.
'Twas easier in my youth; I worked
In summers and was able
To pay my way through college years
By waiting on the table.

Last week my daughter and my son
Were off in search of knowledge;
She went to Miss Van Schuyler's School,
He to a famous college.
She took her mother's neat coupe,
Though begging for a new one;
He drove his roadster all the way,
An eighty-horsepower blue one.

She lives in her sorority,
He roughs it with his frat;
They'll spend five thousand bucks a year
And think they're pinched with that.
Extravagant and foolish? Yes!
Perhaps I'm being stung;
Yet I would give them all the joy
I missed when I was young!

Watson Burns the spit ball billiard cue artist, manager of some near champion prize fighters, race philosopher, business man about town and last but not least, gentleman, was noticed in a reclining position manicuring the finish on a Cadillac recently. Has he lost faith in the Locomobile?

Traffic Officer Rosenborough is all smiles since they have installed the automatic signals at his corner.

Mr. Geo. Beavers of the Golden State Insurance Company left Monday on a brief out-of-town trip.

Lindbergh's arrival in town Tuesday stopped not only traffic but business and everything else. But it was well worth the while to get a glimpse of the Columbus of the air; a young gent that has accomplished something worth while and at the same time remained perfectly sane and normal.

"Stand back," I say, "stand back, and let the school child view a type of human being that is fast disappearing from sight and the memory of man."

Elsewhere in print we noted an article stating that Ace Foreman is to start an aviation school. Here's hoping it's a success. The young man has the heart and guts to take chances which to the minds of many seem perilous and insane at times. Stick to your guns and compass and time may yet give you the deserving opportunity to be a second Lindbergh. Remember Lindbergh never gained his reputation till white capital raised $30,000. What would Ace Foreman be able to do with half that amount. If you can't help this deserving young man by putting your hands in your pocket and help give him a Lindbergh start, don't use that three or four inch opening located in the front of your head just under your nose described as the mouth for knocking. Someone said Amen! Might we add, ditto.

Noted Auto Drivers Race At Ascot

Noted stars of the roaring bowl will flirt with death before the breathless thousands at Ascot Park, Sunday, in the opening event of the winter's auto races.

WM. BACHELOR

Here is the famous El Car which is in great favor at this time, as the peer of any automobile on the market. Beside the car stand Wm. Bachelor who is making a wonderful record as its salesman. If you are going to buy a car don't fail to get in touch with Mr. Bachelor, who is with the H. G. Pendell Co., Hoover and 12th Streets.

SCRAPPING THE OLD CAR

Many suggestions have been offered in the last few years as to the best method of disposing of the used car situation which has become more or less a nuisance.

Dealers are complaining of having the experience of buying the same used car in a trade in for a new one two or three times. The prospective buyer has gone to the junk yard and purchase for little or nothing an old auto that looks pretty good and keen competition has forced the dealer to consider it in trade for the purchase of a new one.

This kind of a deal has netted the buyer forty or fifty dollars profit. The dealer in turn sells it at a loss and the junk yard receives it and some one buys it again.

Something has to be done to discourage this sort of a transaction and the different dealers are meeting it in different ways. For instance one dealer has a contract with a auto wrecking concern to destroy all models of the one they are agents for over five years old by taking a sledge hammer and breaking the motor block. Another concern only takes in trade their own make and still another simply agrees to sell it for the owner.

On top of these we met a garage man who owns a big garage and repair shop and he stated he refused under any and all circumstances to work on any car over five years old and suggested that if other repair shops would agree to do likewise there would not be so many calamity howlers in the auto business today.

Much thinking is being done as to just what is the best course to persue in disposing of the old car and ere long the auto interest are going to be forced to take some concerted stand in meeting the fast approaching crisis.

Among the Easterners who will attempt to cop the prizes will be Bud Hyatt, Indiana pilot, who recently defeated Ralph De Palma in a special match race in Kalamazoo, Mich., and Harold Dawson, brother of the famous Joe Dawson, veteran speedway pilot.

Care of Tires Overlooked by Many Drivers

If motor-car owners would pay as much attention to their tires and tubes as they do the motor they would save many hours of grief and get much greater mileage. "Too much attention is given to the motor and too little to the rubber of the cars," said E. L. Dorsey the other. "Daily we have automobile owners in our store who appear surprised when we question them regarding the amount of air they carry in their tires. It's hard to believe, but three out of every five persons will tell you that they just fill 'em up and drive away. Such a practice is wrong, very wrong, and the tire man is the fellow that gets blamed for a tire going out long before it should.

"Underinflation and overinflation are not the only causes for tires going to pieces quickly. Misalignment of wheels probably wears out more tires than any other cause. In fact, I venture to say that at least 60 per cent of the cars on the road today have front wheels that are not properly aligned.

"Most of this misalignment comes from some hard shocks or strains, jamming curbs unintentionally, hitting chuck holes or a car backing into the front end or another car that is parked at the curb.

"Now my suggestions to remedy these quick tire deaths are to check air in tires at least every two weeks. Know the actual amount of air to be carried and stick to that pressure. Keep wheels aligned at all times. Do not bump curbs, kick tires or hit chuck holes. Just follow these few rules and watch the results."

New Highway to Ocean

Seminole Road, the first highway west of Topanga, which leads from Ventura Boulevard to the ocean, will be completely graded and opened to traffic within six weeks, Studio City officials announced yesterday.

From Ventura Boulevard to the beach, where it connects with the Ocean Highway, Seminole Road is pronounced to be the most picturesque and scenic road in the new film center.

Passing the 2800-acre Famous Players-Lasky location area, Seminole Road touches Seminole Hot Springs and skirts Crags Club, the millionaire social organization of sixty members headed by John Mott and William H. Garland.

The new highway runs across Malibu Lake, and from it may be seen Lady-face Mountain, Sugar Loaf Mountain, Malibu Mountain and picturesque scenery of every description. Deer and other wild game roam the country.

Las Turas Lake and Sherwood Forest, where "Robin Hood" and more than 200 outstanding motion pictures have been filmed, may be viewed from Seminole Road.

FORD SPENDS MILLIONS

ENTIRE INDUSTRY AWAITS NEW MODEL

The automobile industry seems to be preparing for the anticipated big season not far ahead. Manufacturers are adding new models to their already splendid lines, or preparing to do so in the near future. While keenest competition is anticipated in the light, low-priced field, every indication points to a like condition in the high-class field as well. This is the conclusion reached by those high in the industry when, a week ago, General Motors made announcement of a complete new line of Cadillac cars, followed this week by a similar announcement from the Packard Motor Car executives with a new line of body types in three different and distinct models, and all with important improvements in both appearance and mechanical features.

But the quality field is not yet complete, and before the close of the year other manufacturers will undoubtedly shove new models into the competition ring, and add to the confusion of one's mind when a selection is to be made.

A statement this week appeared in the "Ford News," a Ford Motor Company publication and therefore official, that up to the present time a total of $15,000,000 has been expended on the new line of Ford cars which will eventually be offered to the public. Just what that time will be, or what the cars will look like, is still a secret known to the few Ford executives and a fewer number of Ford engineers.

Fifty per cent of all the company's machinery is affected, and 4500 new machine tools were purchased and 15,000 more altered. These two items involved an expenditure of $10,000,000. One hundred and sixty-six sets of gear-generating machines were completely rebuilt at a cost per unit of $3000 to produce two gears. Alterations and purchases of machinery for production of the new steel-spoked wheel cost $700,000 while $4,000,000 was spent for the new tools, and $4,500,000 spent for rebuilding tools on hand. A total of 43,000 machine tools were already in company plants before the building of the new car began.

A statement from no less authority than John Willys, head of the Willys-Overland Company, is to the effect that the automobile business is sure to experience a boom when the new Ford car finally comes out. No fear, he says, is entertained for the new competitor by either himself or General Motors, for they are of the opinion that nothing revolutionary will be built into the new car. Prospective buyers are awaiting an opportunity to inspect the car, and will then buy it, or others in the low-priced field.

There is a report, not verified or denied, that General Motors are prepared on practically short notice, to show a new vehicle carrying a price mark a trifle lower than their present car, the Chevrolet. The story carries the statement that the car will not be produced, however, unless such a step becomes absolutely necessary in an effort to maintain a high position now occupied as production and sales leader in the industry.

Crossing Rule To Be Enforced

POLICE ORDERED TO MAKE RIGID APPLICATION OF "LAW OF CHILDREN'S SAFETY"

Better protection for school children is expected to result from strict enforcement of the pedestrian-crossing provisions of he traffic ordinance following the issuance of an order by Acting Chief of Police Spellman on request of the Traffic Commission. Chief Spellman's order reads as follows:

"To all officers: Make a special effort to enforce the pedestrian-crossing ordinance, especially where school children are concerned.

"Schools have opened again and motorists are apparently more careless than usual. Last year 26 per cent of all persons killed in traffic were under 16 years of age. This drive will be State-wide. Make Los Angeles the most efficient unit in this movement."

Every police department in the State is putting on a drive to reduce accidents to school children. The provision of the ordinance which will be rigidly enforced is that prohibiting a motorist entering any marked crossing until pedestrians in that half of the roadway have passed in front of his car.

Auto Laws to be Enforced by Three Bureaus

Sacramento, Sept. 22.—Frank G. Snook, chief of the state motor vehicle department, this week announced plans for the abolition of the office of chief traffic inspector and the creation of four bureaus to administer the growing business of the division.

The announcement was made following the suspension of the chief traffic officer around whose office a storm has been brewing.

The four bureaus which Snook proposes to supplant the office of chief inspector are the bureaus of law enforcement, public relations, automotive lights and highway protection.

Each bureau would have a chief who would be directly responsible to Snook.

The bureau of law enforcement would supervise the state traffic police and enforce the speed laws and general rules of the road. It would seek to coordinate the enforcement of the laws and standardize penalties for violations.

The bureau of public relations would supervise registration and the issuance of drivers' licenses.

Rho Psi Phi Sorority is having a Whist Tournament at the Sorority House, 1259 W. 36th Place, Friday evening, September 30th at 9 P. M. sharp. There will be five gentlemen prizes, five ladies prizes and a hot feed for 50c subscription.

HERE'S TIP FOR LEGAL OWNER

Any legal owner of an automobile who sells that automobile to another person must give the new owner a certificate of registration. That is plain and has been a provision of the California motor laws for some time.

A section has been added to that part of the California motor vehicle act which has to do with the registration of cars. The added section is to the effect that any person who refuses or neglects to deliver to a transferee (he person to whom the car is transferred or sold), entitled to the certificate of ownership, under the provisions of the act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

The certificate of ownership is the pink slip which is issued to every legal owner of a car.

Then, within ten days, the buyer must send the certificate of ownership as well as the registration card—be sure not to forget the latter to the Division of Motor Vehicles.

EN ROUTE TO DEMPSEY-TUNNEY FIGHT ON BOARD SANTA FE DE LUX FIGHT SPECIAL

Well, we are off at last, and permit me to tell my readers that we have some train. In fact I would be putting it mildly if I told you it is a palace on wheels. A solid compartment car train, Club car, valet observation and a special car to dance in, with a first class orchestra. Hollywood is well represented on board and if you do not tell anybody I will tell you that Charley Chaplin, Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford, Jackie Coogan and father, Joe Zemansky, J. P. Mills and I could go on naming celebreties for ever and never run out. This is no train for a dry agent to be on he might get his feelings hurt; I never knew why so much ginger ale was sold before. But now I am wise. No rest for the wicked, it's all night long, when I reached a hundred I quit counting the times I have had to go to the club car. Everybody on board is talking fight, several big bets have been made, but I will not mention who made them, nor how the money was placed for fear it might influence some of the Clatter's readers to follow suit, and then if it did not come out all right, I would be in for a panning and maybe a black eye on my return. This De Lux train is not any place for a poor man I can tell you that now. The different prominent passengers are passing back constantly from their compartments to the club car with their pockets bulging out very noticeably. Oh no, not with a bottle, but a roll of money, big enough to choke a cow. They skin off twenties with the same ease that your writer would peel off a dime. About 10 P. M. the ladies begin dressing for their evening dance, and if you were fortunate to glance into that dance car you would think you were in the ambassador, or maybe it would sound a lot better to my readers if I said 15th and Main. This special is something on the order of the Shriners' special, everybody is happy, even the Porters as hard as they are working. We have men on board who are the leading lights in the sporting world, and many of them would bet you two to one that black is white. It's the sporting blood that's in them. I was witness to what one of them called just a little bet last night and the size of it would pay my Pullman salary for the next four years and then some. There is one man on board with a sack of gold, and every time he pays off he does it with gold. Hot dog! I was looking at some of the tickets but it is the same as trying to read a chinese map. They are all ring side seats, but when you take into consideration that there are about 4500 such seats it don't mean much. The only thing the writer is deeply concerned about is that the same people will be just as happy and easy to get along with coming back. But I am afraid for the outcome, I have been on these kind of trains before. It is something on the order of a football game, everything is all right going, but let the team you are hauling lose the game and on the return trip things are entirely different. Passengers are hard to please, and the least little thing that goes wrong they are ready to kick. So here's hoping that everyone on board now comes back a winner. Well boys, I feel sorry for the porters who expected to go to this fistic scramble and were nosed out at the last minute, but then you know that good specials are hard to get. As the writer will not be able to keep in touch with local news he asks his readers to be patient until he returns and digs up some home town scandal. The meals on this train are of the very best kind and the waiters are very kind to us, so why should we worry. The harder we work, the more we eat. But it's service we are trying to give and so far all is well. Will tell you more about it later.

PILLOW SLIPS

Somebody said: That they seen our friend Mr. W. H. Walker in a new Auburn 8. Some class to that boy!

Joe White says that Mr. Snoody up in Frisco is trying the Coast boys out constantly.

Brisco, head red cap at the Santa Fe depot in San Diego left last week on the Navajo for the Dempsey-Tunney fight. He had a $10 seat and will get off at Elgin, Ill.

Tex Rickard is charging everybody but the man in the moon, and he is praying that it won't shine because he cannot collect.

That million dollars must be hard for Mr. Tunney to take for thirty minutes exercise.

I wonder what Geo. Godfrey thinks of those kind of purses?

When he seen figures like them, it ought to make him so anxious that he would knock his opponents out before he gets to the ring.

If Mid big guns leave him alone, he will be the next heavyweight champion of the world.

UNION PACIFIC GOSSIP
By: J. R.

As the tourist season is nearing its end, things are getting back to normal. One section of trains, Nos. 27 and 28 is operating in one section with one diner; observation cars that are caught in Salt Lake City are compelled to dead-head to L. A. on train No. 2. Trains No. 11 and 14, "The Denver Special" will be discontinued September 24th. Two diners operating out of Omaha have been stripped for the season.

HERE AND THERE

Mrs. Willie Johnson, maid operating out of Omaha has been doing extra work on "The Gold Coast"

Fred Lloyd (known to many as Tubby) writes from Evanston, Ill., that he has just returned from Idlewild, Mich. having had a time of his life.

Miss Alma Hayes, Gold Coast maid, has returned to work after having spent several days in Chicago on account of illness.

Maid Alice Haney had the honor of dead-heading to Ogden to catch twenty-eight.

DEMPSEY-TUNNEY SPECIAL

The famous Dempsey-Tunney fight special left Sunday as second twenty-five, with a ten-car train. Equipment of the latest type composed the train, diner 302 in charge of Steward Lorraine and his able crew were fully prepared to care for the appetites. In passing Ogden the second night at ten-thirty dinner was still being served. Meals at this late hour will necessitate a relief for some that have put their money on the fight and are probably staying awake nights wondering just how the fight is going to be.

CHICAGO AFTER DARK

Waiters on one of the fashionable Pennsylvania trains operating out of Chicago are really doing their bit in salesmanship, selling everything from Eskimo Pies to Johnny Crook—some waiters! Boys, don't tell us any more about these crack trains.

What is the attraction at the new hotel, corner of 42nd and Grand Boulevard? The Ghost has his eye on you!

NEGRO BUSINESS SHOULD AMALGAMATE CAPITAL

EMMETT J. SCOTT DISCUSSES SUBJECT

New York, N. Y., Sept. 21.—"One hundred small, sickly business enterprises have practically no potential value as over against the amalgation of such a group into ten, or fewer, militant business enterprises, backed by ample capital and manned by efficient men and women." So says Emmett J. Scott, Secretary-treasurer of Howard University, in an article entitled, "The Day of the Financial Merger" which appears in the October number of The Messenger, a Negro magazine published in New York City, and which is publishing a series of articles on Negro business.

After reviewing the numerous amalgamations and mergers of prominent firms and companies in the general business world in late years, and writing enthusiastically of several of the Negro insurance companies, and the great economies and advantages that would accrue from amalgamation, he says, "If a scientific study were devoted to this subject of the merger of Colored Life Insurance Companies as well as the consolidation of the strongest banking institutions which the race at present maintains and controls, there would be brought into being a tremendously large life insurance company, destined to take its place with the New York Life, the Equitable Assurance, the Prudential Life and the great Metropolitan Life Insurance Companies. What this would mean to the race is incalculable. In the first place it would mean a program of intensive advertising which would redound to the benefit of the Negro press which at present is the media through which most of our affairs reach the Negro public.

I cannot believe that Negro business institutions have given much scientific study to the value of advertising. To speak of Negro business as "over-advertising" is to indicate something which simply does not exist. Budgets for advertising in our business programs are as a rule the least of our calculations and what is needed more than ever is a union of business institutions, seeking to reach the Negro public through the Negro press.

Elimination, consolidation, cooperation,—these three, should be at this time watchwords in the world of Negro business.

CALIFORNIA'S BARE-FOOT CHILD

BY: EVA CARTER BUCKNER

Not a day the whole year round,
Joyful one but you are found,
Like the wild flower, I declare!
Growing, blooming everywhere;
Hatless, shoeless, running wild—
California's Barefoot Child.

You with sunburnt cheek so brown,
Not a worry, not a frown,
With your merry, happy voice,
Youth and age with you rejoice;
Freedom has not you beguiled—
California's Barefoot Child.

Golden treasure! yes you are,
And tomorrow's guiding star;
Prince nor Princess ne'er can be Favored more, dear one, than thee;
Nature's God has on thee smiled—
California's Barefoot Child.

GOV. YOUNG DEFENDS ACTION IN THE GLASS GASE

I have this day issued a Warrant of Rendition in the matter of Edward Glass, whose extradition has been asked by the Governor of Oklahoma to answer a charge of murder made against him in Creek county of that State.

Glass is charged with having shot and killed a police officer in the City of Sepulpa, Oklahoma, on January 2, 1923, and only recently has been located and apprehended in Oakland, California, where he is now held in the city jail, awaiting the outcome of extradition proceedings.

In this case and in another case from another state which arose a few weeks ago a new question in extradition has arisen which appears to me to be fundamentally sound, namely—Is there such an inflamed public opinion in the State of the alleged crime as to render the prisoner physically unsafe, owing to a likelihood of mob violence from which the law is unable to protect him? And if such a condition exists is a Governor bound to return the prisoner?

My answer to this latter question would be No; and this leads me to state certain principles which seem to me to apply to extraditions in accordance wih the Federal law governing such interstate renditions.

If the charge of crime is sufficient and the other proceedings regular, if the identity of the fugitive is established, if he was physically present within the demanding state at the time of the commission of the offense charged and has fled from the justice of that state, and if no ulterior motive for his return is shown, as for example, to return him for the purpose of serving civil process and not to prosecute him for a crime, then and in such case the Governor of the asylum state is in duty bound to return the prisoner.

As to the regularity of proceedings, in this case, as in all others, I have had to reply upon the Attorney General. His office assures me that all the proceedings in this requested extradition are entirely regular and that the papers are sufficient.

The Governor of the asylum state cannot enter into the question of guil or innocence of the fugitive or of mitigating circumstances surrounding the crime. In other words, he cannot try the case, since that is a matter solely in the jurisdiction of the State where the crime was committed. Neither can he assume that State would not give a fair trial; for if that assumption were ever adopted as a cause for refusing extradition, a precedent would be established by which a fugitive from justice might always be safe through arbitrary action of governors in the asylum states.

Although his duty is ministerial, a Governor, however, is not bound to return a fugitive when he would be returning him, not to Law but to lawlessness. In other words, I am convinced that the law of this land does not make it the duty of the Governor or of the Courts of an asylum state to surender a prisoner to possible physical violence because it is asked in due form. Such an interpretation would be a perversion of the constitutional provisions, the purpose of which is to remand a fugitive for trial according to law, and not to destroy him by individual vengeance.

This last proposition has been urged, and properly so, by the friends of Edward Glass. They have presented their case, both in an open public hearing and personally to me in an orderly and dignified manner. They have assured me that, although as law-abiding citizens they believe that the law should be carried out, at the same time they are honestly fearful that if Glass were returned to Oklahoma he would never get to trial, but would be destroyed by physical violence in defiance of Law.

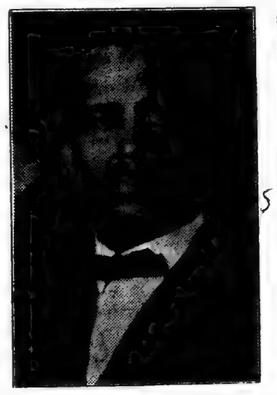
They have urged that if Glass is in danger of lynching or of other such physical mob violence, he should not be returned while such danger exists, and in this I entirely agree with them and commend them for bringing the matter to my attention. Accordingly, I have delayed action for aver a week subsequent tothe hearing, until I could institute inquiries to learn whether any such danger actually exists.

As a result of my investigation, I find that the fears of danger must have been predicated upon a condition at the time the police officer was killed rather than upon any public feeling in Oklahoma at the present time. Nearly five years have elapsed and during that five years I and that even a memory of the occurrence has been largely obliterated.

Within the last few days in response to my inquiries I have received many telegrams from reputable citizens of Oklahoma, in all walks of life, including clergymen, judges, business men, attorneys, physicians, the Mayor and city Manager of Sepulpa, and other City, county and state officials, and such public organizations as Service Clubs and Chambers of Commerce in Sepulpa, all to the effect that there is no excitement whatever in the city, and absolutely no danger of lynching or mob violence of any kind.

Finally, two telegrams from the Governor of Oklahoma assure me that Glass will be adequatcly protected on his return and will receive a fair and impartial trial. The second telegram, received only today, in response to a request for a careful and personal investigation, reads as follows:

"Return of Glass to Oklahome positively safe. There is not the slightest indication of any violence. A fair and impartial trial guaranteed. Trust that you will honor requisition."



In view of these assurances, therefore, it is quite evident that, whatever excitement existed in Sepulpa at the time of the killing nearly five years ago, is now entirely subsided. Oklahoma is as much a sovereign State of the Union as is California and her courts must be presumed to be equally capable of administering justice. The duly constituted authorities of Oklahome are charged with the responsibility of law enforcement and the punishment of crime committed within the borders of that State. Their responsibility to protect one charged with crime, to safeguard his person as well as his rights, and to accord him a fair and impartial trial is fully as great. I have no reason to believe that government in Oklahoma will fail to function honestly, fairly and impartially.

Accordingly, although I entirely respect the motives and sincerity of all those who have been making a plea for Glass on account of a possible physical danger to him if returned to Oklahoma, having satisfied that no such danger exists, I manifestly have no alternative other than to treat his case exacly like any other case when the proceedings are in due legal form, and to return the fugitive as requested in the papers of extradition. To do otherwise would be to forfeit the respect even of those who, through a mistaken impression as to danger, are now making the plea.

C. P. JONES, D. D.

All of our friends of Los Angeles and surrounding vicinity are cordially invited to be with us Sunday, October2, at 11:30 A. M. at Christ Temple Church of Christ (Holiness), 54th and Hooper, to greet our beloved Bishop C. P. Jones, who has been away since July.

Rev. Jones is now our Senior Bishop of the Churches of Christ, Holiness, through the United States. It will do you good to hear him Sunday. If you are spiritually hungry, come to the feast Sunday and be filled. God stirred up Bishop Jones some 30 years ago to go to preach is holy Gospel and to bring the people out of darkness into the marvelous light of Holiness which he has done by the power of God through songs, sermons and Bible lessons.

W. B. Smith, our beloved teacher of Class No. 1, the Men's Bible Class, is scheduled to raise $35 for his class. He is putting forth every effort to come up to the mark and has arranged a splendid program with some of the best talent in the city for the afternoon service. Bishop Jones will at this time, tell of his trip through the east, north and south. Come out and hear his program.

Prominent Attorney Visits City

Mr. J. W. Drake, prominent attorney of Oakland, California, is a visitor in the city this week on business. Mr. Drake is one of the Attorneys which are defending Ed Glass on Extradition Procedings which as are now before the Federal Court at San Francisco. The hearing on last Monday before Judge Kerrigan was a heated session, at its conclusion the judge took the case under advisement for 10 days when a final decision will be given.

A. M. E. CHURCH CONFERENCE

CONVENES IN ANNUAL SESSION WEDNESDAY AT FIRST A. M. E. CHURCH 8TH AND TOWNE AVENUE

The Third Annual Session of the A. M. E. Conference of Southern California convened at the historic 8th and Towne Avenue Church on last Wednesday with ministers and delegates from throughout Southern California in attendance as well as many visiting divines and laymen from other sections of the state with the Rt. Rev. Bishop H. B. Parks presiding. The session was quickly organized, and the reports of the various charges were submitted all of which denoted a steady gain over the previous years spiritually and financially.

INTEREST CENTERS IN THE ELECTION OF DELEGATES TO GENERAL CONFERENCE

Next year being the year for the General Conference which will convene in Chicago, a deal of interest and quite a bit of rivalry is at hand as to who will be chosen to head the Southern California delegation to the General Conference. Therefore, the Conference is in some respects not unlike an embryonic political convention.

Prominently mentioned for delegates to the Conference are the names of Rev. J. H. Wilson, Presiding Elder, Dr. W. D. Miller, pastor of 8th and Towne Avenue Church; Rev. J. M. Brown of Pasadena. To one on the side lines it looks like Rev. Wilson will breeze in with a nip and tuck contest between Rev. Miller and Rev. Brown as runners up for one of the plums.

The election will come off on Friday. Sunday will e a high day for the closing of the Conference. Bishop Parks will preach on Sunday morning and will read the appointments on Sunday evening.

WEDNESDAY EVENING'S RECEPTION

Wednesday evening was a notable occasion when a huge banquet was served to the ministers and delegates by the well known and highly capable caterer W. T. Holt and his wife. After which a huge reception was given and program rendered in the huge auditorium. Prof. Elmer Bartlett's monster choir, in full force, rendered several pleasing numbers. Rev. J. H. Wilson was presented by the pastor as master of ceremonies, who introduced the other participants on the program.

Curtis W. Carpentier

The subject of this sketch first saw the light in Baltimore, Md., where he received his early education. For a young man only 36 years of age, Curtis Carpentier has had a varied and interesting experience. From 1909 to 1918 he was in the navy where he received the training that formed, as it were, the background for his future activities in many walks but all leading to one and the same goal.

Mr. Carpentier was lieutenant in the U. S. Army during the World War, and spent eighteen months in France during which time he took part in the "Battle of the Argonne Forest", greatest offensive of the war and was decorated by the French government for exceptional bravery while in action.

At the close of the World War young Carpentier returned to the states, and became an active part of the World's greatest Metropolis, New York, where he was assigned to the post of advertising and circulation manager of the New York News from 1919 to 1921.

Constantly trying to find his right place in the scheme of civilization, young Carpentier with the Harlem literary touch soon found his way to the stage, and early in 1921 became a part of Miller & Lyles, Sissle and Blake's shows, "Shuffle Along", "In Bamville", "Runnin' Wild", and "The Choc'late Dandies", both in the capacity of artist and executive.

In spite of the fact that New York offered Mr. Carpentier a great future, like other young men of vision he heard, and responded to the call, "Come West Young Man", and at the dawn of 1925 he came to Los Angeles, California.

It is nedless to say that his life has been one of action since his advent in this city. Immediately upon his arrival he entered the Pre-Dental College University of Southern California, during which time he was cited in the college periodical for producing the best college play ever staged in the School Auditorium.

Mr. Carpentier left the University to take a position as hotel clerk at the Bronx. In this position he was soon promoted to assistant manager, and finally before leaving to take the position of manager of the Lincoln Thatre, he became manager of the Bronx Palm Gardens.

As manager of the New Lincoln Theatre, Mr. Carpentier has a brilliant future before him. The Lincoln, which opens its doors to the public, October 7th, is the Eastside's most pretentious theatre; in fashion and design it is equal in every way to the down town show houses, and we are told that the Lincoln will carry bills equal to any furnished by movie houses in the city. So in the capacity of manager of the Lincoln, Curtis Carpentier has a chance to display not only his executive ability, but his professional training in the realm of the theatre.

Member Of Associated Negro Press Visits Our City

We were honored this week with the presence in our city of Mr. R. O'Hara Lanier, who is a member of the Executive Committee of the National Negro Press Association. Mr. Lanier comes from Florida, where he was dean of the Florida A. & M. College, seeking further light he comes to California to enter Stanford University for a post graduate course. While in the city he stopped at a local hotel and was entertained by the Editors of the Searing Eagle.

California Whites Fight Negro Encroachment

Los Angeles, Calif., Sept 15. (By The Associated Negro Press)—A bitter fight is in prospect over the acquirement of the exclusive Parkridge Country Club of Corona by several colored Los Angeleans. This property located in one of the finest residential sections near Los Angeles with 700 acres of land, an eighten hole golf course, tennis courts, swimming pool and other accoutrements which are supposed to belong only to the wealthy is held in escrow, it has been discovered by Dr. Wilbur C. Gordon, Dr. Eugene C. Nelson, and Journee W. White, who are reported to plan a high-class colored sub-division.

The news burst like a bombshell upon the fashionable residents of Riverside County who belonged to the club, which had been sold by its organizer and president, Dan Gilkey without their knowledge. Charging that they had been defrauded, a group of the whites had Gilskey arrested, charged with obtaining money without notifying the membership. Gilkey, when questioned about the sale of the club said that the members did not support the place and that his creditors forced him to sell when they threatened bankruptcy.

Dr. Gordon and his associates were interested in the Gordon Manor development near Inglewood, which recently was condemned for park use. In this latter case when white people learned that Negroes were buying, they got up a petition to have the site set aside for a park. It is said by some that Dr. Gordon is in the East interesting wealthy Negroes in the project. Other say that he plans to wreak vengeance on those who spoiled his Gordon Manor project, for it seems apparent that if the white people desire their removal, it will cost a pretty penny.

Gottschalk-Dones Recital

Monday evening the artistically decorated auditorium of the First A. M. E. Zion Church was the scene of a brilliant display of musical talent by the pupils of Mrs. Bessie Dones, violinist and Miss Hazel Gottschalk, pianist. The occasion was marked by unusual interest displayed in a program of the higher musical art. Promptly at 8 o'clock the music lovers, parents and interested friends of the twenty-two student participants, began to file in so that when the first strains of the violin sounded its heart-call on the hushed stillness of the night, many hundred ears heard the call and many hearts beat quick in answer.

From beginning to end the pupils of both Mrs. Dones and Miss Gottschalk executed their several numbers with grace and pleasing interpretation; displaying careful and intelligent training on the part of their teachers.

The organ solos, "Sextet from Lucia"; Donizetti-Parker and Trovatore; Verdi by Miss Gottschalk received quite an ovation. Each number might be commented upon as creditable to its performer if space allowed.

PICKENS INVITED AS GUEST OF RUSSIA

Kemeneva, sister of Trotsky, in behalf of the Cultural Relations Bureau of the Russian government has sent a radio-gram to William Pickens, inviting him to come as official guest for the celebration of the 10th anniversary of the establishment of the present Russian regime. The celebration will take place October 30th, and the radio-gram states, that expenses will be paid by the Russian Society. Mr. Pickens' previously arranged schedule of lectures for N. A. A. C. P. in the United States may prevent his accepting.

HUGE MASS MEETING AT WATTS—EAGLE EDITOR SPEAKS

The Monster Mass Meeting at Roberson's Hall, in Watts, on last Monday evening, was a history making event when members of our group turned out as never before brimful of interest upon the bone situation which has the people all wrought up over the attempt to locate the Colored people out of the business of conducting a bone line in that section.

THE HINES-OVERR NUPTIALS

The Pleaant Hill Baptist Church was the setting last Saturday evening for the marriage of Miss Hernie Gertrude Hines, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. A. T. Hines of 465 N. Mountain View Avenue, and Carl R. Overr, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Atkinson, 1715 W. 35th Place.

Rev. J. D. Gordon, pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist Church read the ceremony in the presence of relatives and a large number of friends.

The color scheme was pastel shades of pink and green. Each of the Bride's maids carried out these colors in their costumes tither of pink or green georgette dresses made on the basque fashion with pointed velvet bottoms, little yokes with three modest rows of shirring furnished the trimming for the waist. They were the Misses Mae Turner, Marguerite Furguson, Charlie Palmer, Evelyn Thurman and Elsie Hunt, all of whom carried gold shepherd's staffs tied with large bows of pink and green tulle.

Mrs. Beatrice Dunbar who was matron of honor, wore a rose colored georgette dress with velvet trimmings.

The bride wore a gown of white crepe draped gracefully from left side and caught with rhine stone buckle. She came slowly dow nthe isle on the arm of her father, precedeed by two little girls, Pauline Smith and Eva McClennin, prettily dressed in pink and green dresses and carrying baskets of flowers.

Peter Thomas, Clarence Palmer, Joe Hines, Jimmie Norman, McCormick Alves, were the groom's men, and LeRoy Flemming was the best man.

Prior to the entrance of the Bridal Party Mrs. Artie Orange sang "At Dawning", and following the ceremony Miss Hortense Randall sang "I Love You Truly". Mrs. Bertha Hines presided at the organ.

A grand reception was had in the social hall of the church immediately after the ceremony.

The couple will reside at 680 East 47th Stret.

Miss Hines before marriage was one of Los Angeles' foremost young intellectuals, a graduate of L. A. High School, she at one time was an employee in the clerical department at the Hall of Records and was special written on some of the local papers.

Mr. Overr is a member of one of Kansas' oldest and best families.

Golden State Opens Branch in San Diego

Endeavoring to satisfy an instatent and growing demand for the Superior Golden State Service and in accordance with its remarkable program of growth and expansion, the Golden State Guarantee Fund Insurance Company passed another mile-stone when it opened a new office at San Diego, California.

Mr. James A. Hunter, who made a splendid record as superintendent of the Bakersfield district, has been appointed superintendent of the new San Diego District. The new office is situated at 2109 Woodman avenue.

The year 1927 has ben a year of big business and especially so for the Golden State Guarantee Fund Insurance Company which is the only Life insurance company in the west that is owned, operated and controlled by our people.

ON THE SIDEWALK

By C. A. B.

STILL moving along Central Avenue, we wish to call further attention to business activities by members of the race on the Avenue between 9th and 11th streets.

Holding up the banner of business to the breeze we find the Dorsey Super Station, Turner Tailor Shop, Brown New and Second Hand Furniture Co., Williams' Barber Shop, and Lee's Barber Shop.

In these two blocks Japanese and Italians furnish the eating places, and it is needless to say that they get whole-hearted support from their Negro patrons.

The Hub Theatre in this block is considered by the better class of thinkers a nuisance; for from time to time the management, as was the case a few weeks ago, puts on bills that are degrading to body and mind.

IN my personal experiences I have found those who would rather frown than smile those whom it seems find pleasure in making life about them uncomfortable for all concerned. Some of these I am thinking of are Christians, teachers of the word that is supposed to quench the thirst of those who hunger after righteousness for His name sake.

Mr. Alexander was the only race representative, and it being the 56th anniversary of the signing of the Emancipation Proclamation he took occasion to call the body's attention to the same, and made a lasting impression in behalf of the race's cause.

THURSDAY eve., the 22nd the musical program presented at the First A. M. E. Zion Church for benefit of D. T. Slaughter was inspirational. Each number contributed was excellent, the program boasted some of the best musical talent to be found in the city. The effort was commendable in having for its purpose the aid of a blind man, his wife and child.

IT is said that H. Wells, a new comer in our midst, founder and promoter of the community league addressed the Inter-denominational Ministers Alliance last Monday morning and that body of the cloth thought right well of his advice, and bade him God's speed in his effort to do something for the community.

LOS Angeles at this time seems to be destined to become crooks' headquarters for the winter, hence it behooves you to be careful of your hard earned pennies.

IF your home is in danger of thugs don't call the L. A. Police, try and connect up with Mars and help science.

I. MOSES, one of the oldest residents in the Baptist Church in that historic city, fell victim to the pangs of hate last week when, it seems that his house was fired by some of his eraided ....ohae andtnde itgtinofo yoost former friends and co-workers and burned to the ground. Mr. Moses lost everything, and some of his colored friends in and out of Los Angeles have decided to come to his rescue; all of those wishing to join the procession of rescue crusaders may do so by calling at the Slaughter residence at Manhattan next Sunday.

ATTY. Paul M. Nash was the only Negro representative at California Bar Association at Coronado a few weeks ago, and made a splendid showing.

Social Intelligence

Heard or Seen in Passing

Mrs. Minnie L. Perry of Macon, Ga., sister of Mr. Wm. H. Gamble is a visitor in the city.

Miss Marie Jeffers of Oakland is the house guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Randolph of 1454 East 23rd St.

The E Pluribus Unum Club held its regular business meeting on Friday, Sept. 16, 1927, at the residence of Miss Riverdia Woods, 2528 E. 4th St. The meeting was largely attended and it is requested that all members be present on Friday, September 20, 1927 as there is much business to be transacted. The meeting will be held at the residence of Miss Lula Perdue, 1364 E. 55th St., with Miss Marguerite Vincent as hostess. Everyone is asked to be present and on time. The meeting will begin promptly at 4 o'clock.

Prof. Samuel Murphy of the University of New Orleans, senior at University of Southern California, will receive his M. A. degree in February, 1928. Prof. Murphy and Mme. Sewilla were class mates in Samuel Huston College, Austin, Texas.

Our social, civic and educational life have been greatly enrichd within the past three weeks by the arrival in our midst of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. S. Simpson of Gary, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson are educators of note, formrly employed in the public schools of the celebrated steel city of Gary, Ind., with its splendid and unique system of education. The Simpsons have purchased a beautiful 1928 Buick sedan since their return to the city. Mr. Simpson has returned to his work in our local public schools from which he obtained a year's leave of absence to return to his position in Gary and to settle up business matters. They are cozily ensconsed in their home at 5316 Hooper Ave.

Dr. and Mrs. Penn of Washington, D. C., are visiting in the city. Friends of former years are happy to learn of the arrival of the prosperous physician and surgeon and his charming wife, formerly one of the attractive teachers of our nation's capitol.

While in the city they reside with Dr. and Mrs. Wilbur C. Gordon, 1021 East Washington Stret.

The Angel City Bridge Club held its regular bi-monthly meeting on last Friday evening being sumptuously entertained by the hosts of the evening with a delicious Italian supper.

Out of town guests included Dr. and Mrs. Penn of Washington, D. C. and Mr. and Mrs. Simpson of Gary, Ind., who have returned to make their home here after an absence of more than a year.

First club prize was won by Mrs. L. P. Grant with a high score; second prize went to Mr. Jack Hoke and guest prize was carried home by Dr. Mitchell.

The club also used the occasion to celebrate the return of its former club member, Mr. J. W. Young of Dayton, Ohio.

Mr. J. W. Young of Dayton, Ohio, has returned to take up his residence in the Angel City. For a time he will be domiciled with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rivers at their home on the corner of 23rd street and Griffith avenue.

Mrs. Young is expected to arrive in a few days.

IN MEMORIUM

In sad and loving memor yof my dear daughter, Cyrene Allen who left me five years ago today, October 1st, 1922. A noble soul whom God did lend. A wonderful daughter and a faithful friend, always so patient, sweet and kind; what a wonderful memory she left behind.

Lovingly, Mother,
ESTELLA ALLEN.

Mrs. Chas. L. Upton was hostess to a dinner party last Monday night at her residence, 2190 W. 30th street in honor of Mr. W. H. Parker of Berkeley, Calif.

Friends of Miss Ora Johnson will be shocked to learn of her passing last week at San Diego. Contracting a heavy cold which rapidly developed into serious illness she was taken to the mountains with hopes of her recuperation. But failing to improve she was returned to the home of a sister at San Diego, where she peacefully saw her last. Besides a large number of friends she leaves two children, sisters and brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart R. Simpson of 2846 Glassell St., have returned from their vacation after spending one week with Mr. and Mrs. John Scott of Elsinore who surprised them on their first anniversary with a special dinner. They also visited San Diego and Tia Juana, returning by boat—"The Yale"—which they enjoyed very much.

The Y. M. C. A. staff, headed by Prof. T. A. Greene and assisted by Mr. Jefferson Brown, offered no little treat in the form of a delightful breakfast served to the residence men of the 28th street branch Y. M. C. A. on Sunday morning, September 25th at 8 o'clock.

The staff deserves very great credit for attempting to make the branch so homelike and pleasant for its occupants. More than thirty-five young men partook in the delightful affair. Religious songs were sung, prayer was offered, short talks were made and the affair on the whole was quite as intellectual as spiritual in its nature.

It is to be hoped that other branches of the Y. M. C. A., throughout the country might set similar examples and thus create a spirit of warmth and brotherhood within the walls of such organization that might insure long and peaceful happiness for the residents as well as the staff.

A similar breakfast may be had at the 28th Street Branch one Sunday out of each month throughout the ensuing year. Quite an admirable feat to the local Y. M. C. A. program.

TENDER RECEPTION TO RETURNING PASTOR

The members and friends of the Friendship Baptist Church, Watts, paid a splendid tribute to their pastor, Rev. A. P. Ramsey on Tuesday evening last. The impetus for the reception was the return of the pastor from the National Baptist Convention in Denver, Colo.

Many were present and much honor was given the pastor after a report of his trip was given. Following the program all retired to the recreation hall where they were bountifully served with Chicken Salad and trimmings and ice cream and cake. All left happy and wishing this pastor much success.

During the absence of Rev. Ramsey, the Friendship Baptist Church was supplied by Rev. Wm. Shipley, supervisor and sermons were delivered by Rev. A. M. Cobb; Rev. N. Fergerson and Rev. E. Turley.

Mrs. Ralph W. E. Bledsoe was happily surprised with a party last Wednesday evening. After leaving the home of Mrs. Bledsoe the party reassembled at the residence of Mrs. W. R. Knox on Wilmington Ave., where music and games were indulged.

Among the special guests were Mrs. DeCoursey and Mr. Eugene Edgar Page, the latter giving several of his original selections and Mrs. DeCoursey was the soloist for the evening. Refreshments wre served, and the party closed with Mrs. Bledsoe unfolding many useful gifts received, and thanking the friends for their hearty welcome to her to the city.

Who said the Woodmen couldn't do it? Well we are doing it. Join now for $4.00. That includes everything. See us today. 1400 Central Avenue. Phone WEstmore 3479.

NOBLE CHARACTER VISITS AND LEAVES LOS ANGELES

Miss King (white) is quite a notable character having spent thirty-four years as Missionary Teacher between Samuel Houston College and Wiley University. She has played the role in real life—"Mother"—to Mrs. Sewilla La Mar (known in her school days as "Little Motherless Sewilla") and hundred of other colored girls of the South.

Miss King, while here, was happy to visit the labratory of Mme. Sewilla, finding her with her changed title from "little orphan Sewilla" to Mme. Sewilla, our own successful cosmetician. Mme. Sewilla was always known by the Samuel Houston College faculty and student body as the girl with a fearless personality.

LET'S GO! WHERE? To 1364 East 22nd Street, for the week end. Home Cooked Spanish and Italian Dinner. 9-29-1

Mrs. Angelette Moulton departed this life September 14th at the General Hospital after 8 long weeks of suffering. When she went to meet her Maker, at her bedside were her faithful husband, his mother and her sister.

She left to mourn her loss: husband, father, step-mother, aunts, uncles, 2 sisters and 2 small children and a host of friends.

We bow in humble submission to Hiss holy will.

The Golden Poppy Club held its meeting Wednesday, Sept. 21, which was conducted by the new president and proved very successful. The Club haa decided to give its Who's Who dance soon and if any one wants to know more about it, see some of the members.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Jones of Spokane, Washington, are visiting in the city and while here are staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Sellers at 1238 So. Mariposa.

GLADYS GREENAWAY

Dear Loyal Public (don't misunderstand us, this is not the opening paragraph of a letter to elect us to something or other, but just an expression of gratitude to our read public), it behooves us at this time to ask you, "Where goest all the common pins which we see housewives buying by the score every day?" Oh, whither away? As our loyal friend and columnist, Miss Alice Kennedy says, "That ain't the half of it, and how "

Last week we mentioned that Miss Lucille Forby was entertaining Friday, Sept. 23rd in honor of her sister, Miss Marian Forby. We wish now to say that it was the peppiest, most entertaining house party given this year and that the punch Mrs. Forby served was excellent. Miss Forby returns to Wilberforce University to complete her course after a short sojourn in L. A. with her mother and sister. Miss Forby attended Jefferson High School, and had one year at McKay's Business College. During this last summer's vacation she worked at the Bureau of Printing and Engraving and was Private Secretary to Carter J. Woodson, Washington, D. C. Marian visited New York City before coming West, and was lavishly entertained while there. We look for her to conquer the world of business after her graduation and to receive honors galore before graduation which will make her family and friends immensely proud of her. Success Marian!

St. Agnes Guild of the Episcopal Church are planning some very interesting things for the very near future. They wish all the young people's cooperation in the forthcoming entertainments, and guarantee a good time at any dances or teas which they might give.

Certaint hings were done to a certain rather ancient car on a certain night last week in front of the Bronx Hotel, so that two certain couples would be late in returning home. Certain evidence points to two young men who were seen loitering around the entrance to the Bronx by the aforesaid two couples. Suspicion hangs upon these two young men like clouds in the sky, and although one of the culprits is an amateur boxer and the other drives a green sport roadster it's only a question of time. And then ——mmm.

We extend our heartiest congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Williams of West 35th St., who were married very recently. A house party in their honor will be given the latter part of this week and will be written up in next week's paper.

Mr. O'Neil DuBuclet, popular stude at U. S. C. bade a tearful farewell to Miss Cleo Cloumb, fascinating school teacher from New Orleans, Tuesday, 27th. We hope that this very recent catastrophe in young O'Neil's life will not have any affect on his brain or his future life on the campus. (Jealousy of the co-ed's y'know.)

Chairman of different committees of the Girl Reserves were chosen last Tuesday. A class in aesthetic dancing is planned for the near future. A large following is expected.

The Iroquois Friday Morning Club met at the residence of Mrs. Jasper, 746 E. 33rd St., Friday, Sept. 23 with a large attendance. The morning was spent in outlining a program for the coming year and many good suggestions were made.

The subject, What is the meaning of the word Club and what is or should be the object of such an organization was introduced by Mrs. Graves and brought about quite a discussion with some very good definitions.

The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Medlock's, 1383 E. Washington street, Friday, Sept. 30th.

Former Minister to Nicaragua Scores American Occupation

(By: A. N. P.)

Williamstown, Mass., Sept. 10.—More than 2,500 Haytians have been slaughtered by American Marines since this country's ruthless occupation of the little republic, declared Horace G. Knowles, former American Minister to Nicaragua, the Dominican Republic & Bolivia, at the round table of the Institute of Politics here Monday.

The former minister's castigation of America's Latin-American policy brought forth a bitter controversy in which a number of notables were incited to fly in defense against his attack.

So much animosity was evident that Prof. William R. Shephard, leader of the round table, called an extra session for the following day to thrash the matter out. Comdr. John F. Shafroth, U. S. N., led the defense of America's policy.

Mr. Knowles further said that he knew of no greater acts of inhumanity, wrong and outrage committed on any people than the United States had perpetrated upon the people of the Dominican Republic.

When urged to be specific the former minister replied that 5,000 soldiers had swept over the country and had compelled the people to give up all their arms.

At the end of Mr. Knowles' speech frequently punctured with interruptions, Comdr. Shafroth, characterized it as "a vindictive, vicious, and violent attack upon the policies of the government." Defending the Haytian occupation on the grounds of the general conditions of lawlessness and disorder in that country, he said:

"As to marines, we were simply agents of the state department and there is no case of marines being landed except for the protection of American life and property. It is our duty under international law to protect life and property."

"I admit that is international law," Mr. Knowles replied, "but when we proceed to invade the territory of another country, are we not obliged to state whose lives we are protecting?"

Others made attempt to defend America's position.

P. O. Employes Organize Branch of National Organization

BY: JOSEPH B. BROWN, JR.
Editor, The Postal Alliance

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 20.—The National Alliance of Postal Employes has received the necessary credentials and a request for a charter for the organization of a local branch of that Organization from members of the postal employes of the Los Angeles Post Office. With the granting of this charter this Organization will have local branches in every state of the union with the exception of wyoming and Nevada.

Mr. Leonard M. Grimes has been very instrumental in bringing about this movement, he being the first employee from the City of Angels to take up an investigation of the purposes and efforts of the national body. He found generous suporters in Mr. Albert N. Size and other of his coworkers, who, although they had no personal ground for complaint, were readily able to see that with a strong national organization behind their endeavors, more might be accomplished.

The National Alliance of Postal Employes was organized for the primary purpose of protecting the rights of the Negro employes in the Railway Mail Service and made such progress in these efforts that it was decided to change the constitution so that all Postal Employes under civil service might be embraced. It has now grown to a membership of 2,300 and is making rapid progress to reach the five thousand mark by January 1. There are 22,000 Negro Employes in the Postal Service and this Organization is attempting to show them what results may be obtained in the way of promotions, seniority, and preferred assignments if they will only organize and request these things with a solid front.

This is the only Organization composed of civil service workers of Negroes who have the official recognition of the Departmental Officials. The Postmaster General, Hon. Harry S. New, delegated the Second Assistant Postmaster General, Hon. W. Irving Glover to bring to this body his message of a square deal at their convention held in Memphis in July and he told them in unmistakable terms that the Department is behind them and wants everyone of them to have a square deal.

Mr. Roy O. Wilhoit of St. Louis, the National President has just returned from a tour of the eastern cities and laid the foundation for the affiliation of over 1,000 members within the present month. Mr. Wilhoit and Editor Brown visited the Association of Negro Federal Employe in Cincinnati, Ohio, Sunday, Sept. 11, and they voted unanimously to affiliate with the National body. There are 100 members in this group.

The National Alliance of Postal Employes publishes an official organ which is sent to every member of the Organization, gratis. This journal contains the most comprehensive discussions concerning affairs pertaining to the Postal Service of any paper published for this group of government workers, as well as branch notes, topics of the day, and articles of general interest.

The employes of the Los Angeles Post Office are to be commended for their foresightedness in organizing, as in Organization there is strength, and through organized effort all great achievements of the world have been accomplished.

We desire to commend the leaders in this movement in Los Angeles and to request that all postal employes in that section investigate and become members of their own Postal Organization wherein their suffrage will not be questioned and they will have equal privileges and be able to govern with their peers.

Labor Leaders Form Committee To Aid Pullman Porters Union

Under the Chairmanship of Thomas J. Curtis, Vice-Pres. of the State Federation of Labor and International President of the Tunnel Workers Union, a committee representing over a dozen of the most powerful unions in the East has been formed to aid the Pullman Porters Union i nits efforts to create a situation which will necessitate the appointment of an Emergency Board of Arbitration, as specified under the new Railway Act. The Treasurer of the committee is former Assemblyman A. L. Shiplacor, Manager of the International Union of Pocketbook Workers. Frank R. Crosswaith, the former Executive Secretary of the Trade Union Committee for organizing Negro Workers, is Secretary of the Committee.

WHAT IS OUR WAY OUT AS A RACE?

BY: DRUSILLA DUNJEE HOUSTON

There is great diversity of opinion in the race as to our way out of our strained condition in American life. We have had many theoretical solutions. Ours is a condition that will stifle the very failing civilization around us. Let us examine our situation. We are trying to support ourselves and satisfy our longings from the foundation of professional life, menial service, and a little retail business. We send our children off to school to be prepared to enter the same narrow channel, but we cannot satisfy their tastes and remain an honest people.

Our condition in American life is one in which we are cut off from all remunerative avenues. Aryans have filched for themselves all the civic positions excepting a few that are very menial and ill paid. I am not writing this to stir up red-hot protestations or to stir animosity, that will not get us anywhere. We have had plenty of that without advance. I am stating a case that we may SEE our condition. Until we understand a proposition how can we handle it? The channels through which money comes, we have not yet touched, they are banking, manufacturing, and trade. If we must live the white man's life we must win his income.

We cannot have fine homes, expensive furnishings and ride in luxurious cars honestly upon the incomes now open to nine men out of ten in the race. This is why so many American citizens are selling dope, making mash, and doing other questionable things because their tastes have exceeded their training and earning capacity. I do not believe all these people WANT to be law breakers. This is a day that requires technical training for a man to keep his footing. Examination would prove that most of these people shirked training or were unable to get it and now in order to keep up with the demands of fashion must break the law.

I have known Negroes who had been careful, saving, to enter into obligations along property or business lines but finding that their earning capacity did not come up in any way to their optimism they turned to questionable practices rather than lose all that they had. This happens in so many cases and so much money paid down reverts into the hands of whites that we who think ourselves capable of solving any kind of problem ought to be busy pointing out to race leadership that we must have a broader economic foundation, more avenues by which the race may secure revenue, that we may supply growing aesthetic needs.

As a leadership, we must work out other fields that will employ our people. We must tap the world avenues of manufacturing and trade. We must study banking that the millions now in the race may go into Negro banks for the advance of Negro enterprises. The greatest thing in our way is lack of UNITY and the fact that our folk think that we must have thousands of dollars to enter the field of manufacturing (vast sums that would be sunk by inexperience); when the world's masters in trade did not start with any such sums. As long as our great race bodies are not busy solving such problems instead of parading, and gormandizing we can make no protest at being looked upon as a CHILD RACE.

Fresno News

Men's Day was observed at Bethel A. M. E. Church on last Sunday with marked success. James P. Geary preached the morning sermon, while Dr. H. C. Wallace occupied the pulpit in the evening. Solos, essays and a men's chair, all proved to be quite interesting.

Mrs. Ed. Jones has returned from a several weeks' sojourn in the Bay Cities.

Miss Alma Dixon has returned to Los Angeles to resume her studies in high school. She spent the summer here with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. M. D. Dixon.

Rev. Fred A. Hughes, pastor of Bethel A. M. E. Church will head a delegation to Sacramento this week to attend the Annual Conference.

Dr. J. D. Wilson, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, is the proud owner of a new Studebaker sedan.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Bigby, Jr., will motor to Oakland within the week to attend the wedding of Miss Myldred Panskey to Mr. Chauncey O. Long, and will be the house-guest of the bride-elect during their sojourn. The latter's brother, Mr. Thomas J. Dixon, will go up with them for the affair, and will be the guest of Mr. Irving Moore while there.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hemmitt are domiciled in their cozy new bungalow in "F" street.

BLYTHE NEWS

Sunday was a high day in the community. Rev. J. L. Jackson, the able pastor of Bethel A. M. E. Church conducted a wonderful program in which every fraternal society was represented. The Odd Fellows being beautifully represented by Rev. R. A. Harris and after a wonderful short talk he called on all who knew anything of the "Three Links." They responded quickly with more than $14.00. The Mosaic Templars were grandly represented by Rev. E. D. Haywood, pastor of St. Paul Baptist Church. He spoke briefly but wonderfully from these words, "Pull off your shoes," when he had finished the Templars pulled out their pocket books and gave more than $8.00.

The Masons were ably represented by Rev. W. Neal and many wonderful things were spoken by this great minister. The masonic brethren, after being told that the world was indebted to them, came forward to make the occasion indebted, also to them, and quietly turnd over more than twelve dollars.

Rev. J. L. Jackson with that unsurpassed eloquence thanked the audience and announced that he would depart after night service for his Annual Conference to be held at 8th and Towne in Los Angeles. We are sure he has a broad smile for the Royal reception given him at the Baptist Church last Friday P. M. by the Community Bible Class. Mrs. Haywood and Mrs. White with others made things go.

Cotton season is opening up in full. Business is opening up. The hot, dull season is over and Blythe is in full swing.

When in town, stop at Mrs. E. D. Haywood's store for any and everything.

For clothes see Mr. Jenkins on North Main.

Next Saturday night don't miss the Mock Wedding at the St. Paul.

FRESNO NEWS

King Solomon Lodge No. 6, F. & A. M., was host on last Tuesday evening to Raisina Chapter, No. 23, O. E. S. and Court No. 9, Heroines of Jericho at a social "get together" affair. The evening was a grand success, and added to it was the unexpected official visit of Right Worshipful Grand Lecturr A. E. Carter and Past Grand Master John C. Rivers of Oakland. The round table discussion for the evening was, "Fraternal Fellowship, What it Means," and among those who spoke were Wm. A. Bigby, Jr., Worshipful Master, Mrs. E. M. Kennedy, Worthy Matron of the Chapter, Mrs. Lillie E. James, Most Ancient Matron of the Heroines of Jericho, J. E. Triggs, Senior Warden, Ernest Hinds, Junior Warden, Mrs. Irene Hinds, Grand Orator of the Grand Chapter, O. E. S., Mrs. O. M. Clarke, Past Most Ancient Matron of the Heroines of Jericho, Mrs. Lulu Penn, Secretary of the Heroines of Jericho and the two distinguished Grand Lodge visitors. A buffet supper was served at the close of the evening. A recommendation to have a similar joint affair very quarter was unanimously adopted by the three orders.

Rev. Fred A. Hughes and his delegation of various auxiliary representatives to the Annual Conference at Sacramento has returned home and reports a grand session.

Mrs. William A. Bigby, Jr., motored to Oakland last week and will remain for the marriage of Miss Mildred Pankey to Mr. Chauncey O. Long. She will be a guest in the Pankey household during her sojourn. Her brother, Mr. Thomas J. Dixon, motored up with her and will spend the week with Mr. Richard Arguillard.

The very exclusive of young married ladies, known as the Foxette Club, have issued cards for their first anniversary ball to be given at Garibaldi Hall on October 19th. They were very generous with their guest list, and even after the much dreaded blue pencil had been brought into play, they mailed out a hundred or more of the much coveted cards. The personnel of the club includes Mrs. Carl Moulden, Mrs. Henry C. Wilkes, Mrs. William A. Bigby, Jr., Mrs. Joseph H. Holmes, Mrs. Alex W. Clarke, Mrs. Cozey Smith, Mrs. Burke Bilbo, Mrs. Samuel L. Hannibal and Mrs. Clarence P. Graves of San Francisco.

Dr. J. D. Wilson, the eminent pastor of the Second Baptist Church will head a delegation to the General Baptist Association at Stockton next week.

The dinner and card party given by Raisina Chapter No. 23, O. E. S. last Saturday evening was quite a success.

EL CENTRO NEWS

Dr. H. D. Ingham of San Bernardino has located in El Centro and is now available to serve the citizens of Imperial Valley. Dr. Ingham is a graduate from the University of California and the Northwestern University, Medical School. After completing a year of interneship at the Provident Hospital of Chicago, he returned to his native state, took the June State Board examination and is now ready to serve the people. Dr. Ingham comes from a splendid family, has made an enviable record in school, is affable and will succeed in his profession. The citizens of Imperial Valley have given him a cordial welcome. He has a very advantegeous location at Third and Main streets.

Rev. J. H. Wilson, presiding elder of the A. M. E. Church and Rev. N. Butler, presiding elder of the C. M. E. Church conducte services here last Sunday. Dr. Wilson conducted services too in Imperial and Calexico. On Monday evening the St. Paul Church of Imperial tendered Dr. Wilson a banquet, in honor of his twenty-five years' service in church, fraternity and community. Rev. J. H. Green is pastor of the church and presented a most appreciable program.

Miss Octavia J. Payne has enrolled in the State Teachers' College, San Diego. As here she has entered heartily into the community life there and is teaching a Sunday School class of Junior girls. While in San Diego she is making her home with Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dodge, Imperial Avenue.

Mrs. J. A. Hicks of San Diego and Mrs. R. A. Allen, San Antonio, were El Centro visitors last Friday. Mrs. Allen was en route home and Mrs. Hicks accompanied her this far so as they both might enjoy the scenic Carriso Gorge on the San Diego and Arizona Railway.

The public schools opened here Monday, September the 19th with a large attendance in all departments. The teachers express themselves as pleased with the growing interest the citizens are taking in education. No longer do a vast majority of children stay out of school until the seasonable crops are harvested but enroll on the first day. Fourteen of last Spring's fifteen elementary school graduates have enrolled in high school —twelve of them enrolling here. Miss Mamie Pilkinton of Fresno who substituted in the school last year has been elected permanent teacher. Miss Exie Lee Kelley is in charge of the Home Economics Department and brings to the system the experiences of a splendid record, both as student and teacher. She is a graduate in H. E. from the Kansas State College, Manhattan; the U. S. C., Los Angeles and has done post graduate study in Columbia University. She was Home Demonstrator in the state of Arkansas and served as head of the Home Economics Departments in W. V. C. I., Institute West Va. and in Wilberforce University.

R. J. Burleigh, Exalted Ruler of Saltan Sea Lodge, I. B. P. O. E., 627 returned from the Grand Lodge meeting, New York, last Sunday. While away he visited Philadelphia, Washington, Richmond, Chicago and other cities. At the regular meeting of the local lodge last Thursday night he made an exhaustive report of the trip and the Grand Lodge meeting.

Rev. Edward Hayward of Blythe was a visitor last week. Numerous friends are glad to have them return for a visit.

MADE A GALLANT STAND

We want to congratulate the Negro Press of Northern California for the magnificent front they have put up in the fight on behalf of law, order and common decency, also all other forces and individuals as well. They were not fighting especially for Ed Glass but for a principle. Even though the Governor or the courts may decide against them, these forces have demonstrated a clean cut stand and if Glass is returned and becomes the victim of mob violence, his blood will be upon the hands of Governor Young and those who permitted the act to be done. All honor to The Western Outlook, The California Voice, and The Western American.

CO-INCIDENT

The advent of the big moguls of the American Federation of Labor and that of A. Phillip Randolph of the Pullman Porters Union at, around and about the same time seems to be more than a mere coincident, and for all one who is on the outside might know, might easily be a strategic movement in labor circles.

APPRECIATION AND GOOD CONDUCT

It is to be hoped that with the opening of the pretentious Lincoln Theatre that drastic means will be employed to curtail the rowdy rough necks who have so disgraced other houses of amusement where our people gather in large numbers.

As it appears to this writer the people who own and have provided this great theatre, have a right to the appreciation and patronage for their desire and courage in providing just as good an entertainment for this section as it is possible to see in any other section of this great city, and the people who pay we are sure, will be protected from this element who have hretofore challenged the various houses of amusement by their boisterous conduct.

THE COUNTRY DOCTOR

The scarcity of the country doctor as a resource of keen popular interest is matching the scarcity of teachers in the rural districts which has been met by consolidations and the employment of specially trained "teachers' helpers." The country doctor is stronger in tradition than the country teacher and his disappearance even by rumor is disturbing. In the generation represented by the grandparents of today the country doctor was one of the greatest American institutions. He carried his supply of crude drugs in his saddle bags and an exhaustless sunshine in his face and his cheery words. Whatever he may have lacked of scientific attainment to handicap him as compared to his town brother, he compensated for in that rare atmosphere of fraternal cheerfulness which no country doctor was without.

Patients improved when they heard his horse's hoofs on the road. All the people for miles around were as members of one big family so far as the doctor was concrned. As the towns grew the young doctors chose to display their skill there, some because the life was less laborious, some bcause they believed rewards better. Th country doctor of today is at the disappearing point, largely because of his consideration for wife and children. He says frankly cash returns are satisfactory often, but that he wants better conditions for wife and family than he finds in the country.

THE REWARDS OF SAVING

A Chicago banker has found that if the "widow's mite", assuming it to be a cent, had been invested 1900 years ago at 5 per cent semi-annual interest, compounded, it today would reach the brain-tiring sum of $563,100,000,000,000,000,000,000,000.

Now the banker or no other person would say that the widow ought to have invested her mite rather than give it to the cause she did, but every person will point to it as an illustration of the tremendous expansion a small sum of money will experience if placed at compound interest.

The banker gives a more practical example of his point, when he says that $50 a month placed in a savings bank paying 3 per cent will net the saver in thirty years the surprising sum of $29,113, or if invested at 5 per cent in bonds will become $41,609 in the same period of time.

Any school boy can catch the lesson of thrift which these examples teach. Thrift as an abstraction may not have much of an appeal for youth, but in such terms as the Chicago banker uses, the subject becomes practical and interesting and illustrates that haits of indubstry and thrift bring their reward.

Aside from the appointment of the private secretary to Governor Young; Homer Spence to a Superior judgeship and the selection of Hon. Chas. A. Whitmore, state printer, to succeed him; politics "under the dome" has been very quiet. The above changes go into effect October 1st. No need to comment on the efficiency of those appointments. The judicial equipment of Homer Spence is qualified by his known ability as a lawyer, and the journalistic experience and knowledge of state affairs, gained by service on several boards have endowed Mr. Whitmore with all of the essentials necessary for the exacting duties of his position.

A great deal of unnecessary, as well as unwise, criticism has been heard in the signing of the extradition papers requested by the State of Oklahoma for the return of Edward Glass, who, it is alleged, shot and killed a police officer in Sapulpa. A hearing was held and an audience given representative of the Governor's office. Prior to that hearing communication was held and all of the information concerning the case brought before the legal staff of the State's executive office. The Governor, himself, got into personal communication with the Governor of Oklahoma, who assured him, that after visiting Sapulpa, interviewing the prominent citizens and business men of the city, he was assured that should Glass be returned that he would not only have safe conduct, but a fair trial. And pledged himself to see that such was done. To have complied other than he did, Governor Young would have been placed in the position of telling a fellow State Executive that he did not believe him; using the intelligent word—a liar.

We are aware that prejudice of color in the State of Oklahoma is rampant. That its record for mob atrocities would cause Satan to hold his nostrils to escape the stench of charred human flesh. But all things must have an end. The Governor of Oklahoma promises the sovereign State of California that her courts will deal with fairness. The eyes of not only California, but of the entire civilized world are focused on Oklahoma and should she break her promise, Ed. Glass would become a martyr. Should he come to harm after the assurance given by Oklahoma's Governor the whole government of these United States would stand before civilization as an impotent part in its progress. The great and sovereign State of California trusts the word of Oklahoma's Governor. Should any harm come to Ed. Glass, Oklahoma stands responsible to civilization and California.

Sacramento was host to a Conference of the A. M. E. Church. We noticed the presence of a number of eminent theologians—Revs. Ward, Dobbins, Wilson, Hughes and others of the cloth. We had the pleasure of meeting Rev. Dr. J. L. Goolsby. The Dr is considered one of the erudite theologians of the Conference. And there were present many eminent women, among them Mrs. Parks, wife of the Bishop; Madames Ward, Hughes, Grasses, Noble, Winters, Congo, Porter, Foreman and any number of faithful women who are the mainstay of the Church. Sacramento proved a generous host.

Do you remember that some time ago Georgia's legislature passed a law that no black hand should touch a white skin, even in a shave or a hair cut. But it made no money appropriation for its enforcement. At the best the law was unpopular. So it has "died a-bornin."

Seven Western States have, unofficially, declared in favor of the nomination of Al Smith as president of the United States on the Democratic ticket. Ben Davis, Georgia; Perry Howard, Mississippi, National Committeemen; Walter Cohen, Louisiana; Bob Church, Tennessee, it is alleged, will pool their 70 votes in the Republican National Convention. With the passing of Lincoln Johnson, it will be lots of fun watching the scramble. Watch your Antlers herd. Fraternal sovereignty will be maintained only by "Eternal Vigilance."

Panama has passed a very drastic exclusion law. It hopes to maintain a purely Spanish type. The law is drafted to exclude Chinese, Japanese, Turks, West Indians and all dark-skinned peoples. That's like "locking the stable after the horse is stolen." To find a Panamanian unmixed by one of those bloods is like finding the proverbial needle in the hay stack. During the building of the Canal between 30,000 and 25,000 West Indians were employed. The majority of them remained. You know the rest.

Have you read Mencken's editorial in the recent number of the Mercury? If not, read it! How some of the thin skinned "Nordics" must squirm. Oh yes! They all read him. He is the most original critic of today. He tells them that instead of Afro-Americans crossing over the line, that they, the "Nordics" have crossed over to meet them. Then he cites the pre-eminence of the "Afro-American" in all of arts from the culinery on. But to enjoy it,

CARE OF THE TEETH

BY: DR. J. WINIFORD ROUT

THE ALVEOLAR ABSCESS

Just as pain is a warning signal by nature that a part of the body is in danger of destruction, so the abscess is an attempt of nature to wall off certain infections and prevent their penetraction into the tissues.

Abscesses may occur in any part of the body where infections are present. The type we are discussing today are those occurring about the roots of the teeth commonly known as alveolar abscesses. Alveolar abscesses may be grouped under two headings, namely, acute and chronic. The acute abscess being the extremely painful variety accompanied by much swelling and inflamation in the adjoining tissues. In this form the causative infection is either a very high virulence or the infected tissue has a low resistance to the invading germs, consequently the infection spreads rapidly with much pain and destruction of tissue before nature can throw up a barrier against its progress.

The chronic alveolar abscess while usually causing very little pain or discomfort is the most dangerous to the general health of the patient, since it is the localized point of millions of dangerous germs which are constantly throwing their toxins and by-products into the blood stream. A chronic alveolar abscess may result from an untreated acute abscess, an improperly filled root canal, death of the pulp through a blow on the face, etc.

The prime reason for abscessed teeth is NEGLECT. Clean teeth do not usually decay and a sound vital tooth will not develop an abscess. An alveolar abscess does not come on without warning, as both types are usually preceeded by severe pain in the tooth affected—in other words TOOTHACHE, and it is only when the tooth is neglected and the pulp dies that the abscess forms. Or course this does not hold true in all cases as the tooth may decay and the nerve be destroyed by the decay without any pain at all to the patient.

Make going to your dentist a habit once or wice each year, have those small cavities filled before they grow larger. If there are devitalized teeth (teeth from which the nerves have been removed) have them radiographed every year or so, that is the surest way to determine if an abscess exists.

Mrs. Oliver entertained the L. A. Social Club, Friday afternoon, September 23rd. Mrs. Oliver proved herself a charming hostess. The dining room was filled with beautiful flowers. A dainty and delicious three-course luncheon was served.

Prizes were won by Mesdames Shannon, Melton and Lewis.

When A Surprise Was A Surprise

Miss Dorothy Brown was the most surprised and honored guest of her charming sister, Miss Harriette Brown, on Thursday evening, September 22nd, at the home of their mother, 1230 E. Adams St.

Securing the aid of Mr. Oliver Chadeston, a dear friend of———?, Miss Harriette Brown sought out about thirty, of the most prominent people of the Junior set, to assist in the surprise. It was very beautifully arranged.

Miss Dorothy Brown, ths surprise, is a nurse at the County Hospital, and was scheduled to arrive late. The guest as they came were let into the house and then the lights were extinguished. When Miss Brown came home she did not notice anything unusual until she opened the door. Then imagine her surprise when the lights were turned on, all about her were the smiling faces of her friends. She also had to be informed that she was the honored guest, and the occasion was (?) birthday commemoration.

NOTICE

There will be no winter baseball played at Wrigley Ball Park this season. This is the rule of the association heads.

It is plain that the White Sox Park will be crowded to capacity every Sunday to see the great Colored National and Eastern League players under the direction of J. P. White.

On Sunday afternoon, Sept. 18th the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cobbs, 9701 Pace Ave., South Los Angeles was the scene of a group of beautiful children; the occasion being the 7th year birthday of their daughter, Frances Elizabeth Cobbs.

The rooms and the tables were beautifully decorated in merry golds with yellow and green favors baskets. There were 23 children present who were pleasantly entertained during the afternoon by little Eva Nickerson in various dances. Games were indulged in and all had a happy time.

Frances was the receipient of many lovely presents. Delicious refreshments were served.

OBITUARY

Los Angeles, Calif., Sept. 26, 1927

Mrs. Nellie Bradford departed this life Sept. 22 at 6:30 o'clock. Sister Bradford was born August 1, 1861 at South Carolina Barnwell District.

She married Mr. Edward Bradford when a young woman, and she proved to be a devoted wife and mother. She was a widow for 43 years.

She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Fannie MacDonald, and three grand-children.

Sister Bradford was a faithful Christian woman and a devoted church worker and a woman that loved charity work and always found time to do something to help someone.

She was a willing worker in the Missionary of Central Baptist Church of St. Louis for ten years and came to Los Angeles the year of 1918 and joined Trinity Baptist Church before they had a church home.

She worked willingly to help them buy a church home, she was a member of the flower committee and would keep flowers in and out of the church as long as she was able. She was the oldest Deaconess of her church and the mother of her church.

Sister Bradford was a woman like Darcus of old, she was loved by everybody that she came in contact with. She was not afraid to die. She began to tell everyone she saw that she was passing and was ready and willing to go only she hated to leave her faithful daughter that loved and respected and supported her for years.

She died in full triumph and song—"Shall we Meet Beyond the River?"—and told her daughter to have them to sing while they were bringing the body in church.

"Is there anyone can help you
When all earthly friends have fled
And the trump of God shall wake the sleeping dead
Then our names shall all be called
Beyond this vale of tears.
Then you'll need a friend to walk with you
He's the one."

A MEMORIUM

Mendez Was Greatest Baseball Player

BY: ALVIN J. MOSS
(For The Associated Negro Press)

[Editors Note: A black face has kept some of the greatest players of the world off the teams of the big leaguers and is keeping them off yet although it is not believed for always. So from time to time we will publish stories of great players who should have been making history along with the McGraws, Johnsons, Mathewsons and others who have brightened the annals of the national game.]

MENDEZ ONCE BEAT MATHEWSON

It wasn't until the following year, however, that Mendez startled the sport world by the sheer brilliancy of his pitching. No other than John J. McGraw, moulder of champions, invaded the island with an all-star cast of Brooklyn and Giant players on a barn-storming tour. McGraw's purpose was to bring the mountain to Mahomet, and show the Islanders just how American baseball really looked when played by teams of big league calibre. Well, that was just what Mc' didn't do. Christy Mathewson and Nap Rucker, what names to conjure with. Every schoolboy in the land knows their records by heart. Well, these two titans of the raised mound were the pitchers McGraw relied upon to thoroughly initiate the swarthy Cubans. To make a long story short, Mendez beat the immortal Mathewson in a baseball classic that lasted 10 innings to the tune of 4-3; and two days later turned back Nap Rucker and the big leaguers in a game that went the regulation route by a 2-1 count. No fluke about these performances, the steel armed Mendez simply out-pitched baseball's two heroes.

U. of P. or U. of C. to Get New Year's Beating

Berkeley, Sept. 24.—The University of Pennsylvania football team will arrive in Berkeley for its intersectional game with the University of California, December 24. Coach Lou Young of the Pennsylvanians has wired that he will want at least five days' practice here before the game in the Memorial Stadium on Saturday, December 31.

SATURDAY'S RESULTS

The first day of play on Saturday last started off with a bang all over the State with results as follows:

Southern California, 33; Occidental, 0.

University of California, 14; Santa Clara, 6.

U. C. Frosh, 18; Santa Clara Frosh, 8.

Stanford, 33; Fresno State, 0.

Norman Hartford A Credit To Young Sport Writers

Space is plentiful but time too scarce to acquire the data and write the praise due Mr. Norman Hartford who is making the Sports world set up and take notice in his great work in the L. A. Referee. He is of the younger, ambitious type of writers who writes from personal contact and observation, with his pages embellished with real facts. Editor Geo. Bowman most highly appreciates the work of this popular young authority.

Along Fisticuffs Row

CLAUDE NEAL the enlongated but genial proprietor of the popular cigar and news stand at 12th and Central, has not been seen since last Thursday night when the news came in over his radio "Tunney Wins!" Speculative Claude having already dumped heavily on the Gans-Fields surprise had bet even his extra pair of sox on Dempsey. When last seen he had his hat in his hand talking to himself and doing the camel walk to Norwalk.

YOUNG SAM LANFORD is now in new hands with new plans. Sam's manager George Tittington has sold his contract to Wm. Roberson, manager of Lightning Davis. Mr. Roberson is very conscientious with Sam just as he is with Davis and believes he can pilot him up to the top. He has a number of bouts lined up but especially crives one with Jack Spar or any other of the top notchers.

MUSHY CALLAHAN starts training this week. He still expects to carry Baker to the cleaners.

RALPH VOLKE famous trainer of Callahan and other champs and near-champs is getting ready for a busy winter.

JOE DIAZ is crazy about dancing. He can't talk English but he's a hoofin' fool. Say, it gives him good foot work in the ring.

WILLIE HENRY, the famous "Texas Steer" who made a sudden sweep through the Coast last winter knocking out Chevalier and a number of good, big fellows is on his way back from Galveston, ready to clean up the Western heavies, according to a wrie from his manager, Pat Elzy. He will probably fight in the Wrigley Field—Dundee-Hudkins cards.

JOE DIAZ TOPS CARD AT PASADENA

Morrie Cohan's new stadium at Pasadena will be the scene of the fourth appearance of the famous, colorful, lightning, fast fighter and boxer Jose Dias, the champion of Cuba and Mexico. Although Dias was plainly robbed of the decision in his win over Joe Pimenthal in his last battle there his prestige is not hurt because the word of experts who know the game as well as Charley Randolph the referee gave Dias nine rounds and one even.

DUE TO FIGHT KRAMER

But for that bum decision the black Spaniard with the fighting smile would be boxing Danny Kramer at the Olympic instead of Johnny Hill. Kramer and Dias fought one of the best toe to toe battles ever seen in Pasadena. It drew a draw decision but Dias had a shade and would have won handily except for an injured hand. A few more bouts here and Dias accompanies his manager Dan Cole back to Nogales, Sonora, where Dan owns the big bull ring and the only big cabaret in Nogales. The card follows:

THURSDAY

PASADENA—Johnny Lamar vs. Jose Dies, main event, ten rounds. Joe Bailey vs. Twain Mark, semi-wingup, six rounds. Ralph Lincoln vs. Joe Mackrill, four rounds. Young Firpo vs. Clyde Yates, four rounds. Ernie Figueroa vs. Jack Haywood, four rounds.

Two Georges At The Main St. A. C., Sat.

Georgie Rivers and George Brady will fight the battle of the Georges at the Main St. A. C. Saturday night. Bredy is good bait if Rivers is right he should take the other George handily. Another interesting bout ought to be the one between Pee Wee Nolan and the boy the famous photoplay "Chang" was named after. This boy is a Chinese boxer imported by Verry Parker and has a nice string of victories in his kit bag. The whole card reads like this:

Georgie Rivers vs. George Brady, main event, eight rounds. Bert Mazeau vs. Henry Maldrano, semi-windup, six rounds. Yam Soko vs. Bobby Garcia, six rounds. Ray Billalobos vs. Johnny Cruz, four rounds. Dick Chang vs. Pee Wee Nolan, four rounds.

DICK DONALD is headed this way accompanied by Joe Dundee. He is taking no chances on his stupendous pugilistic pageant going blooey, thru Dundee running out on the "Cat". He will have the boys start training in public out-door camps on arrival.

Duck! You Ducks! Here Come Hunters!

With Saturday, Oct. 1st, comes the opening of some of the best sport of California, the hunting of the myriads of ducks that come here to winter. Through Imperial County and along the shores of the Salton Sea reports come in that Spriteail and other varieties are plentiful.

Buena Vista lake in Kern county is filled with water again and appears to be a likely spot with three public clubs on its shores. Salton Sea shootery will again find a welcome and great sport. All the well-known clubs and preserves have every indication of the greatest season in years.

"Wild-Cat" to be "King-Cat After Championship Match at Wrigley Field

ACE HUDKINS-JOE DUNDEE OCTOBER 29TH

All unfortunate bettors who lost money on the Dempsey-Tunney battle at Chicago last week will have a chance to recuperate their losses by pulling a big win when Frank Kerwin, big-voiced announcer turns to the packed grand stands at Wrigley Field and says, "Introducing Ace Hudkins the most sensational fighter in the whole wide world."

For Dick Donald, the Rickard of the West and his able assistant Frank, have been working very angle until they have finally secured for Los Angeles the first championship match in years.

Ace offered to fight him for money or marbles, just so he got a crack at the title, so Dundee's wages will be $60,000 and Hudkins $12,500. Max Mayman, manager of Dundee, first asked for $100,000 but Donald asked him if he wanted the chairs too, while Art and Clyde, the clever managers of Ace told him their brother couldn't work for nothing just because Dundee was a so-called champ.

The California State Athletic Commission has approved all of Donald's plans even to his price scale, which will range from $2 to $10 for this championship affair.

Local faith in Hudkins is such that it will not be surprising to see him a favorite at post time.

Johnny Forbes Refuses $1,200 For Herbi Furchi's Contract

A sale has just missed going over on one of the greatest little boxers around Los Angeles and who reminds one of Young Terry McGovern. In action, he has plenty of gameness and has taken care of himself. In the last 6 pro-fights he has taken part in. Johnny Forbes has had Furchi for the past few years was only recently offered by a well known fight manager Twelve Hundred Dollars for Turchi's contract, but turned it down flat as he looks so good and thinks he will follow in Fidel La Barba's footsteps and go up the ladder of success.

Turchi has just turned 18 years old and looks like the best prospect that has turned up around Los Angeles in the past year.

Little lighting machine he has seen in the past 20 years since turning pro, Turchi has scored 12 K. O's. out of 15 fights, making him K. O. king of the bantams. He is ready for Benny Furrell, Billy Hart, Irish Mickey Cone, Felix Villamore, Mateo Magdelino.

IN MANY words it purports to tell how great a menace and disgrace the sport is to the nation, and says that it must GO! Where we do not question the sincerity of the editor in his beliefs but with the support of millions of brainy men behind us we say he is WRONG. In fact he is doubly WRONG!

BOXING is not a menace and it will not go; and it will not be legislated against by the U. S. Congress. We WOULD like to ask the honorable gentleman a few questions: Were not ancient Greece and Rome, in their great glory when the most attention was paid to their athletic sports? And did not they stars downward when such sports were supplanted by enervating ease and luxury with its attendant licentiousness? Hasn't England always been a boxing nation and isn't it still a great nation? Was Roosevelt a great man? Will not a nation of people who hold self defense as a valued art be always brave in the country's defense when menaced by a foreign power? Roosevelt boxed almost daily and had his sons box. If it were wrong a man like he was would have declared against it. Boxing is supported by the men who furnish the brains of achievement in the United States. The thousands of business men who attend the matches weekly find in them an outlet for the fighting vim and energy that makes them conquer earth, ocean and air to make the United States the greatest of all nations. And a hundred more reasons may be given why boxing should not and will not GO.

THE BLACK SPORT WORLD THROUGH THE EYES OF ART HAMILTON

Well, the old Manassa mauler disappointed us. After having the fight in his hands he let it slip through his ignorance of the Illinois boxing rules or from being over-excited. The question of whether Tunney was down for a 13 count has been threshed and rethreshed by the sport critics. The majority agree that Tunney was down for a long count.

Dempsey would have done what seems the impossible if he had retired to a neutral corner as soon as Tunney went down, but valuable time was lost by the referee having to point out the corner to Jack. A break of the fight game decided the fight and Champion Gene got it.

Tunney fought a cool headed fight, playing a waiting game letting Dempsey charge in and then proceeded to cut him to ribbons with his perfect counter-punch. Tunney is a better fighter than he is given credit for being. Although he doesn't fight the slashing, spectacular fight of Dempsey he is great in his own style. He has a superb defensive style.

Gene Tunney may be the champion and Jack Dempsey his nearest contender in the minds of some people but George Godfrey, the black shawod could lick the two in the same ring the same night. If Godfrey is entered in Rickard's tournament this Spring and is given a fair deal he will be the next heavyweight champion of the world.

Tony Fuente and Vic Alexander fought a furious ten round draw last Thursday night at San Bernardino. The fight was a re-match Alexander having won the first bout on a foul. Fuente and Alexander fought every inch of the way and both were on the verge of a knockout in the sixth round. The bout was thrilling from start to finish and the decision was well received by the fans.

It is said Baby Joe Gans is going to take a month's rest. Gans needs it after pulling one of the worst fights seen in the State. He needs something and it might as well be a rest. Let's hope that that rest takes all such fights out of his system.

The race in the National League for the pennant tightens up with the Pirates and the Cards in the running. Only a miracle could put McGraw's team back in the race.

The Yanks have the American pennant cinched and it's up to the Pirates and the Cards to furnish the excitement for the remainder of the Baseball season.

Babe Ruth has four more games in which to better his former home-run record. It looks as if his old record of 59 is going to stand for some time yet. More power to you, Babe.

Y. M. C. A.

The 28th St. Branch Y. M. C. A. will conduct its Annual Membership Drive beginning Oct. 10th and ending Oct. 20th. Last year in the campaign a total of 668 men and boys joined. This year it is hoped that that number will be increased to 1000. If such can be done, our citizens can be proud of having one of the largest memberships of our group in the country.

This year the 28th St. Branch will be in competition with such Associations as Denver, Detroit, Indianapolis, and Atlanta. Los Angeles led last year, it can do so again.

The 28th St. Branch is equipped with a modern Physical Dept. which can serve 300 more men and boys than it is now serving.

And although the Boys' Dept. has served over 500 boys regularly during the past year it can serve as many more this coming year.

The "Y" is an opportunity for thousands of men and boys to find the way to happier living.

Be on the lookout for the Drive.

King Tut Boxes Loyaza At Olympic Oct. 11

TAYLOR-FOLEY. OCT. 4TH BOUT OFF

Two great featherweights will clash at the Olympic Auditorium when King Tut, well known to local fans chatting with Loayza in their much touted 10-round battle.

Loayza, Chilean, featherweight, arrived here yesterday from Mexico. He is slated to box King Tut, October 11. The boxers will be accompanied by his wife and his manager, Louis Beyer. Loayza is one of the most colorful South American fighters ever to invade this country.

TAYLOR-FOLEY BOUT OFF

Bud Taylor's bout with Vic Foley, scheduled at the Olympic October 4, was canceled yesterday by Manager Eddie Long, who stated that an injury to Taylor's nose would not permit him to box for som time.

Owner Chicago Giants Organizes Football Team

Challenges One or All of the Professional Teams of the Big Four. May Have An Oportunity to Play in The East Against Chicago

Chicago is to have a colored pro-football team this season. Owner Trimble of the American Giants baseball team has decided to put into the Mid-West and Tri-State League a team composed of colored stars, from some of the best colleges and universities in the country.

Nearly all of the colored stars of the mid-west with the exception of Fritz Pollard and Duke Slater will help compose the personnel of the team.

Here is a list of some of the players that will be seen in action every afternoon from 5 to 7 p. m., at the American Giants' ball park:

Holder of Iow aState, Dick Hudson, of Creighton University: Boots Watson of LaCrosse; O. Dials of Southern California; Booker of Northwestern, Harding, Knox College; Sweatt of Kansas State; Bluiett of Lane; Harney, and a great number of other stars.

Sol Butler, famous all-round athlete is coaching the club!

LIGHTNING DAVIS BEING NOTICED IN THE EAST

Judging from the way the Eastern papers are using the news sent them by the Associated Press about Lightning (Clyde) Davis they have become interested in this boy that is living up to all predictions by knocking them over as rapidly as his name implies, and celebrating his return from the movie lots by a string of bad decisions Davis is showing steadily that he has the goods. Big headlines in the Eastern papers telling of his battles on the coast have drawn the attention of the Eastern promoters and a number of inquiries have come to this publication asking if he is really the goods and our answer goes, "he is!" Won't be long now.

Heavyweights and Flyweights at Culver City Stadium

HARRY (BUBBER) JOHNSON ON SEMI

Willie Davies, one of the best all round flyweights in the world, will meet Freddie Imperial, Fillipino, conqueror of Georgi Rivers, in the main event at Culver City, Thursday, night.

Davies was eliminated from the Hollywood flyweight tournament by Johnny McCoy.

Bill Kasababian and Harry "Bubber" Johnson are down for the six-round semi-windup and Oscar Baker, sensational young Venice heavyweight and Albert Duisden will battle the special event. Two fours will make up the balance of the card.

World Series Negro National League Opens September 27

Atlantic City.—The "world series" will get under way in Atlantic City either Oct. 7 or 8, according to an announcement made by Edward Bolden, secretary of Eastern Colored league here Monday.

The resort stars, champions of the league, will meet either the Birmingham club or the Chicago American Giants for the championship of the world.

Chicago and Birmingham now are engaged in a series of games to decide the championship of the Western Colored league, and the winner of the series will provide the opposition for the Bots in the "world series."

The first four games of the series will be played in the west and will get under way September 27. The Lundymen will be obliged to travel either to Birmingham or Chicago for their first four conflicts. One or two extra days will be set aside before the players turn east for the purpose of playing off any postponed or tie games which may occur in the west.

"Africana" Closes; Ethel Waters Signs With Keith

New York, Sept. 21.—"Africana," the Earl Dancer revue starring Ethel Waters, gave its final performance at Shubert's National Theatre last Saturday. Although New York is alive with various tales as to the sudden and unannounced closing, it is generally believed that the impending Daly Theatre suit was the cause. Whatever may have been the reason, the fact remains that the National is dark and Miss Waters is appearing at Keith's Palace Theatre this week.

It is said that every vaudeville artist hopes at some time before he dies or retires from the profession to play the Palace. So Miss Waters, on her return to the Keith circuit at a top-notch salary, is being honored by opening at this coveted Broadway house.

Sorry Judgment in Stopping the Kilrain-Clisby Battle

Should a boxer be disqualified for trying to fight with one hand after breaking the other, and should his opponent be disqualified for trying to get to a broken-handed fighter, who through clever foot-work is putting up a wonderful defense? That is the question that lies uppermost in the minds of the fair-minded fans who saw the referee stop the fight between Neil Clisby and Jake Kilrain last Thurday night at Pasadna. In the second round while slamming a hard right to the body Neil met an elbow block of Kilrain's and snapped a bone in the mitt. But the referee had already bullied them both when giving instructions so disregarding doctor's examination and statement and the fact that the men were still figting he called a no-contest with its 60-ddy suspension, loss of purse and prestige. Now, is that right?

CALVIN BEATS SAILOR LARRY

One of the biggest local surprises among the colored boxers occurred last Thursday night at Culver City when Clyde (Roughhouse) Colvin beat Sailor Larry very decisively. This evened up an old score of nearly a year ago when Larry stopped Calvin in a few rounds. The big hard socking boy was only a comer then but since then he has brought the crowds to their feet at Wrigley Field and the Olympic with his sensational battlings.

Colvin's fighting is not adorned with any fancy thrills but the long list of witnesses both here and while in the army as to how he can sock will be published in our next issue.

Testing Laboratory Will Give The Public Better Gas Service

The general public is securing for better gas service today as a result of the work of the Testing Laboratory of the American Gas Association, according to R. M. Conner, director of the laboratory. It is predicted that within a few years only those gas appliances will be bought by the public.

"The result of the work has been to bring up to accepted standards the poorer grades of appliances," says Mr. Conner. "It has also caused further improvements to be made on the better types.

"Our present plan insures safe and efficient gas appliance operation anywhere in the United States. The requirements are minimum ones, referring largely to the quality of performance and particularly to its bearing on efficiency and safety, rather than how the appliance is built.

"Our standards do insure reasonable construction, but they do not specify how many accessories are to be attached. Modern convenience features, such as warming closets, enameled oven linings, glass doors, and other features to which standards apply but which are not made mandatory, should possess sufficient merit to justify their added cost. Generally it is felt that they do."

Mr. Conner says that at present there are ten manufacturers of gas space heaters and 23 manufacturers of gas ranges who are making only appliances that have been approved by the laboratory.

No. 2

The Department Store

The May Company

THE MAY COMPANY store in Los Angeles, equipped to do an annual business of $50,000,000, is one of the largest department stores anywhere. It has a regular employee force of 3,000, which is doubled for special events. Occupying over 750,000 square feet of floor space, the store operates through 130 selling, and 145 administrative, departments.

Since 1881, when it began as the "People's Store," later becoming "Hamburgers," this institution has served the community well, expanding its activities to keep pace with the development of Los Angeles as a mercantile center.

Some idea of the vital part of electricity in the operation of this great business—scarcely an activity in the store is unaffected—may be seen from the following list of apparatus and devices which electricity motivates:

Twenty-five passenger and freight elevators, eight escalators, twenty belt package conveyors, twenty-five fresh air and exhaust ventilating fans, several hundred desk and ceiling fans.

The general clock system, annunciators, telephones, signal bells, illuminated silent call system.

Air compressors, water and oil pumps in engine room, pneumatic tube blowers, paper balers, floor scrubbing machines, marble floor polishers.

In the Garage—electric delivery trucks, battery charging, electric welding, drills, lathes.

In addition, elaborate electric equipment is used in the Print Shop, Tailor Shop, Piece Goods Stock Room, Mail Room, Music Department, Carpenter Shop and Electric Goods Department.

General lighting is, of course, used also.

Only the most reliable electrical service would be acceptable to a firm of the character of The May Company. We have pardonable pride in the fact that L. A. SERVICE supplies the electrical needs of The May Company.

CALIFORNIA EAGLE AUTOMOTIVE SECTION

Attorney Afue McDowell, successful attorney and useful citizen, was noticed meandering around the outskirts of Pico Blvd., the other day, in his "raring to go" Hudson looking over his new home in course of construction. His wife was along. Some home, Afue McDowell, I say some home, attorney.

• • •

Rev. J. H. Wilson, minister and masonic leader, spent last week sojourning in Saramento and vicinity, while his Hudson enjoyed a rest in the family garage.

• • •

Dr. Baumann pulled off his apothicary's coat, replaced it with a hunting outfit, stepped on the gas and started for dale and valley on a hunting expedition in quest of some doves, last week. We haven't heard the returns broadcasted as yet.

• • •

Dr. Liddell, doctor in title and reality, grabbed himself a handful of shells and an armful of rifle and hurriedly departed for Arizona in his Dodge, Saturday to try his luck at buck shooting. It's an annual event with him and he usually never fails to kill himself a deer. Here's hoping.

Journee White, real estate broker emeritus, financier, and man-about town, so to speak, Diana-ed to Riverside the other day to look over and discuss the possibilities of a country club situation. He took his golf clubs with him.

• • •

Mr. Johnnie Prowd, linotype artist, of the West's great Negro journal, pulled up to the curb of the Eagle last Friday A. M. in a high-powered auto, all smiles.

If you remember, it was the morning after the night before, in Chicago. He had plenty of bacon on him.

Don't tell anyone we said so, but Sammy Baumann, Manager of Baumann's No. 2 was one sick mortal last Thursday night when he tried to tune in on the Tunney-Dempsey fracas and his radio wouldn't work. He tore out for to get his auto to go to the theater to hear them. It was gone. No one's fault but his own. Don't loan your car till you're sure you don't need it. However he's smiling again as his wife presented him with a boy.

John Felix and his Durant surprised 12th and Central last Thursday when they showed up after an absence of over a month. As usual he was all smiles.

Harry Levette, the celebrated sport writer and Dr. H. Bell, tooth specialist got together on a Dempsey-Tunney broadcasting proposition which blocked autos, street cars, and pedestrian traffic at 9th and Central. A riot call normalized conditions again, but not until the 10-round had been reeled off.

HEADLIGHTS ARE OFTEN NEGLECTED BY CAR OWNERS

Why not give as much consideration to your headlights as you do to your gasoline tank and crankcase?

This query is proposed to motorists in an effort to stop the glaring headlight evil, which is reaching a size to cause the State Division of Motor Vehicles to give it increased attention. The division in inaugurating a poster campaign to educate the public, and the Automobile Club of Southern California is urging members and other motorists to keep their headlights in adjustment.

The division of motor vehicles also operates a headlight raiding crew of traffic officers giving special attention to lights on the highways.

YELLOW TAXI GAINS PUBLIC'S CONFIDENCE

The Yellow Taxi Cab Co., whose ad. appears elsewhere, has gained the distinction of enjoying the public's confidence, and patronage through its sterling record of efficiency rendered in the line of service.

This confidence has been built up by years of service rendered under all kinds of conditions until today it stands at the head of its line of business.

Thousands daily patronize this ever-growing concern because they know in doing so their lives are in the hands of safe, competent chauffeurs and the cabs they ride in are kept in the best possible running condition thereby are assured of reaching their point of destination without mishap and in the quickest possible time under rules of safety.

Every driver is drilled thoroughly in courtesy and politeness, and is also required to understand traffic ordinances, and admonished to keep with in the law avoiding any unpleasantness and loss of time which might cause a customer much trouble.

This deserving company is ever at your service, day or night and has service depots all over the city.

TRAFFIC OFFICER RECOVERS FROM SHOCK

'Twas a warm summer afternoon one day last week, traffic was heavy at 9th and Central and the traffic officer on duty, Officer Roseborough was in anything but a normal, happy frame of mind. Suddenly a smart-looking Cad coupe turned adroitly left in the middle of traffic just past the corner, and pulled up sharp along side of the red car going east just in time for the officer to spy him.

The driver was immediately taken to task and severely repremanded.

"But Officer," said he as he tried to explain away the violation of an important ordinance.

"Officer nothing," retorted the policeman. "Your operator's license."

Ye gods and little fishes, "I haven't it."

"Where do you live that you claim you don't know the law."

"Long Beach," meekly returned the offender.

After taking the name of the machine, its license number, and loading the ticket with all the charges possible it came time to hand the ticket to the violator for signing. This feature over the man in the Cad coupe started to drive off but noticed the officer as he put both hands to his head, stumbled and fell.

In a moment traffic was blocked and the man in the Cad hopped out to investigate the incident and offer aid. The officer was tenderly assisted to his feet by the crowd and as he spied the man he had just given the tag, he stutteringly exclaimed:

"Judge, your h-o-n-or, pardon me but really h-o-n-est-ly I didn't know you was Judge Edwards of the Superior Court. I-I truly didn't. You face seemed familiar but I declare Judge, I just could not organize you."

However, the discovered identity didn't seem to help Judge any for he still had the tag attached to him as he resumed his trip to court.

Motor Body Demands Repeal of Excise Tax

Washington, Sept. 17. (Exclusive)—That part of motordom represented by the 390 motor clubs constituting the American Automobile Association moved in a determined fashion today to secure the repeal of the ramaining 3 per cent war excise tax on passenger cars in the forthcoming session of Congress.

Declaring that the tax is burdensome, discriminatory, unnecessary and archaic, Thomas P. Henry, president of the A. A. A., called on all the units of the national motoring body throughout the country to bring to the attention of their Representatives in Congress the insistent demand of the motorists of the nation that they be relieved of the burden of the Federal excise tax at the earliest possible moment.

Mr. Henry stated that the determination of organized motordom in the matter of the repeal of the automobile excise tax would be presented to the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives, which will shortly convene to prepare a new revenue bill to give the taxpayers the benefit of the large surplus in the United States Treasury.

"We shall ask the Ways and Means Committee," said Mr. Henry, "that the repeal of the tax be made a primary item in the new revenue bill. If the committee refuses to eliminate the tax, the car owners of the country must be prepared to force the issue on the floor of the Senate and the House, precisely as they did when they secured the first reduction in this war levy." He continued:

"The position taken by the American Automobile Association as regards the desirability and justice of the abolition of this particular excise levy, which now constitutes a burden of $60,000,000 on the car owners, is indorsed by more than a dozen national organizations, including the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, the United States Chamber of Commerce, the American Farm Bureau Federation, National Grange, Rubber Association of America, National Automobile Dealers' Association, National Battery Manufacturers' Association, Automobile Body Builders' Association, National Association of Taxicab Owners, American Drivurself Association, Automotive Equipment Association and Motor and Accessory Manufacturers' Association."

The reasons why Congress should repeal the tax were summarized by the A. A. executive as follows:

"First the repeal of this tax would benefit the greatest number of taxpayers, since it is now falling on approximately 3,760,000 people, as compared with 2,500,000 people who are subject to income-tax incidence.

"Second, it is a needless supertax on motorists as a class, since there is ample evidence that the government no longer needs this revenue.

"Third, the tax is discriminatory in that it continues the war levy on a single product which has already paid $1,060,000,000 to the Federal government as a contribution on account of the World War. To single out and penalize one product while every other product, with the sole exception of revolvers, bears no excise tax, is thoroughly inequitable.

"Fourth, the tax now constitutes a peace-time levy on one essential mode of transportation, while all other forms of transportation and communication have already been relieved of this war impost.

"Fifth, no other group of citizens is bearing as many forms of taxes or such burdensome taxes as are the car owners. In 1926 the tax levy on them, including Federal, State and Municipal was $712,600,000 and the only relief in sight at the moment is from the Federal government, which no longer needs the contribution it has been imposing on them."

Rounding Corners

Rounding of corners of street to be opened and widened under the Major Traffic Street Plan will greatly reduce the hazard of automobile accidents at intersections, according to Harry A. Lord, president of the Traffic Commission.

In developing the lines for new streets, the City Engineering Department has followed the policy of condemning a small portion of each corner, so that automobiles will be able to make right-hand turns without swinging into lanes occupied by other machines.

"Primarily," Mr. Lord said, "this policy is being carried out to facilitate the turning movements of automobiles, and to reduce congestion along busy thoroughfares. The reduction of accidents, however, is an even greater advantage.

"Statistics show that 74.2 per cent of all automobile accidents occur at intersections. It is at intersections where the paths of moving automobiles cross.

"When a building is constructed to the property line at a corner, the angle of vision is greatly diminished. The motorist must come almost to a complete stop if he is to be sure that he will not collide with an automobile approaching on the intersecting street. The cutting back of the corner will enable the motorist to see approaching cars earlier, and give him that fraction of a second extra time to put on his brakes that often means avoiding a bad accident."

My Lord also called attention to the benefits that accrue tothe awner of the property. In addition to being paid for the land condemned, the business property owner will usually construct his building with a corner entrance. This will enable him to attract pedestrians to his establishment from each direction.

One large chain-store organization always constructs its buildings with the main entrance at the corner, where most streams of potential customers must pass, Mr. Lord said.

"Is the motor car an asset to the church?"

"Yes, brother; it brings a good deal of business to the churchyard."

TAIL LIGHTING THE PEDESTRIAN

Should pedestrians carry front and rear lights for night walking?

This moot question has recently been asked of the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California by autoists who declare that pedestrians are generally hard to see when they step out from the curb at night.

It is argued by one motorist who is fearful of striking jay-walkers that the pedestrian should be made to carry a lighted lamp of some kind. Automobile headlights do not spot the person in the road quickly enough to avoid trouble, he declares. He also suggests that the walker might carry a light-colored article of some kind, such as a newspaper, which would re-

Auto drivers often come perilously

Auto drivers oftn come perilously near striking pedestrians at night because pedestrian traffic control is not in force at night except in the congested dtstricts, it is pointed out.

Cutie: "But, Jack, dear, I haven't a thing to wear."

Jack Dear: "That's perfectly all right; we'll use the closed car."

Although the motorist may scoff at pedestrians, he must admit that most of them die with their boots on.

Says motorist to lady who is waving frantically at him to stop and let her pass:

"What are you waving at me for lady? I don't know you".

Heading for Yosemite,
All on pleasure bent,
Meeting with a rocky road
That fosters discontent;
Bumping over deepened ruts,
Jarred from foot to head—
Bless me! What a jolly trip,
Riding from Merced!

Fifteen miles of shaking up,
Fifteen miles of grief,
Praying for a highway that Might bring us sweet relief;
Blessed with feelings just as soft
As a springless bed—
Gee! But it's a jolly trip,
Riding from Merced!

Quick let the commission act
Under public good,
And into Yosemite
Fix that all-year road!
Mariposa, with its signs,
E'er would welcome spread—
If they mean it, let 'em mend
That highway from Merced!

Cuts Wife To Prevent Her From Going To Dance

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Warrenton, N. C., Sept. 15.—The regular Saturday night function was being held at the Centre Warehouse. Mr. and Mrs. Rhoden Davis had been invited. Mrs. Davis wanted to attend. Mr. Davis did not. Mrs. Davis was determined to attend. Thus the argument started, but it ended with Mrs. Davis in the emergency room of a local drug store where she was carried for repairs after friend hubby had slashed her about the body with a razor. Perhaps the most unkind cut of all was that the drug store was in the vicinity of the dance hall and Mrs. Davis could hear the strains from the orchestra while she was being sewed up.

KILLS EX-WIFE AND LOVER

(By: A. N. P.)

Lake Charles, La., Sept. 10.—In a doube slaying near the city limits, Pearl Goodwill and Allie Mansfield were shot to death. The woman's husband, King Goodwill, whom officers said is suspected of doing the shooting, is at large and a search for him has been instituted. The woman's body was found in the middle of a road and the man's body in a clump of bushes near the roadside. A knife was found in the right hand of each victim. The woman and her husband had separated and the former had recently filed suit for divorce. The woman and Mansfield are thought to have been walking together when shot down.

FIGHT SPECIALS RETURN

Arriving in town at 8 A. M. Monday, the Goodfellow Fight Special De Lux train operated by Bob Goldie brought to an end a trip which will long be remembered by all who were fortunate enough to make it. The train was composed of solid compartment cars. The baggage car was fitted up as a Monte Carlo; money was second consideration as far as comfort was concerned. It was the first time in the history of the Pullman Company of Los Angeles that the entire crew of porters slept in compartments. This had to be, because there were no open cars on the train. There was over twenty million dollars represented on the fight caravan, and for every two passengers there was a special bodyguard of detectives in constant attendance. All of the biggst gamblers in the country were tucked safely on board when the luxurious train shoved off for the Dempsey-Tunney fight. Not all on board were of the opinion that Jack Dempsey would come out victorious, and a goodly portion of them placed their money on Mr. Tunney at the different odds that prevailed. Gamblers are gamblers and a real gambler does not let any personal likes or dislikes enter into his method of betting, therefore the train was divided evenly on Tunney and Dempsey. There was one lady passenger on board that was credited with being worth six million dollars in cold cash, she had a drawing room by herself and a compartment for her bodyguards who never let her out of their sight for a minute. Forbidden spirits flowed freely and the guests slept during the day instead of night. The Pullman crew that handled the train was as follows: H. L. Armstrong; R. Bradford; H. A. Ross; R. Hicks; J. W. Bush; J. F. Howard and the writer; maid Vera Green of the Chicago Eastern District and Pullman Conductor D. J. Weekly of Los Angeles District. The car on which J. W. Bush was in charge was cut out in Chicago and Mr. Bush came back on the Chief. The writer can see now why it is that the Santa Fe gets the cream of the traveling public, the diners are kept opn all night long. In fact, they never did close, waiters working in shifts as did the cooks. A passenger could get any kind of food he desired at 3 A. M. or 4 A. M. just the same as in the day time. It is my duty to remark right here that the Santa Fe waiters were the means of keeping the Porters out of the real money on this special; they had as many upstairs men working as they kept on watch in the diner, and all the Porters could do was to run their legs off giving the different orders and men and waiters made the money. The Pullman crew did little more than on an average trip across the country on a regular line car, although plenty of money was in evidence. diners are kept open all night long. In as the porters were concerned, it was TRY AND GET IT! However, the Pullman crew was fortunate in being made a present of seats to the fights by Mr. Joe Zemanskey. Entertainment was rendered in the club car which had a piano and regular cabaret entertainers. On the way back from Chicago we were informed the next day after we had left that there had been a plan to rob the train that night, it was stopped by special secret service men of the Santa Fe who were on board the train like bees. If the train had been held up they would have been well paid for their efforts —so much for the fight special. The porters did the work and the waiters got the money.

A DIME IS A CRIME

By Arthur Bugs Baer

As published in the Los Angeles Examiner

A friend of mine for a number of years, knowing me to be a humble Pullman porter with an everlasting craving for an honest dollar, mailed me the following clipping from The L. A. Examiner. Although I try not to use the other writers' stuff as much as possible, the following article by Mr. Baer is worthy of a rewrite.

When the landlord refuses the rent, when a baby cancels its bottle, or when a cat spurns a mouse, it's time to call in the alienists and allow them to examine the doorknobs.

But these hypothetical Whoozues are minor miracles compared with the situation just cooked up on the Pulman trains.

Pullman trains, our modern invention for making overland insomnia enjoyable, are manned by courteous gentlemen called Pullman porters.

These lads are obliging, hard working and sincere in their efforts to make you just as comfortable as you can be with your hand in your pocket.

If that mitt isn't in your pocket, then the Pullman porter must ring up no sale in his disappointed cash register. He depends on your sock for salary, which is dished out in nickles and dimes.

• • •

These Pullman cadets have asked the U. S. Government to stop the giving of quarters, half-dollars and fives, or any other substitute for a spooney time.

They want to be stopped from taking them. The boys now get a minimum wage of seventy-five plunks for a month for whisking the mop around fur coats and making up upper berths for people to fall out of.

The rest of their salaries must be made up by contributions from passengers.

Like train schedules, the porter is subject to change without notice, and very small change at that.

• • •

But, the porter is wrong when he asks the government to fix his wakes. The government has a worse idea about salaries than The Pullman Company.

This agitation does not extend to the red caps who juggle hand bags at the depots. Those boys are satisfied to leave well enough alone.

Tips have gone up considerable in the red cap department since travelers are packing so many quart bottles in luggage.

All bags must be handled with care, and devotion, and the voyager is willing to pay liberally for scientific manipulation of perishable freight.

• • •

So the red caps are willing to gamble on getting a law-abiding traveler once a year or so.

• • •

It looks as if the Pullman porters have a legitimate squawk on the stove. No man can travel on seventy-two buttons a month.

The boys may keep up their hunger strike on nickles and dimes, but it looks like the first time a four bit piece is flashed there will be more strike-breakers than strikers. (Copyright, 1927, By Los Angeles Examiner).

J. CARTER MAKES FIGHT SPECIAL AT LAST MINUTE

Funny things happen in this district now and then, changes happen that are least expected, so says Nat Davis, who thought he was all set to go on the Union Pacific Fight special, until they pulled him off for the Hon. Mr. J. Carter.

H. L. ARMSTRONG GIVES GANG THE SLIP

Well! You see it was this way. We all got off the train together, and thought we were going to remain that way until our slick friend, Mr. H. L. Armstrong fell a victim to those yaller taxis, in Chicago, and that was the last we saw of him. Where didst thou go, fleet bird?

• • •

Mr. J. W. Bush stopped with Walter Lyons in Chicago during the fight.

• • •

Mr. White has ben taking Mr. Browning's place at the porters car.

W. H. PARKER RETURNS FROM THE EAST

W. H. Parker formerly of the Pullman service, has returnd to Berkeley, Cal., after an extended visit in the East. He plans to go in business in Berkeley.

Brotherhood Shows Gain in Membership

Roy Lancaster, Secretary-Treasurer of the Brotherhood, announces that during the last sixty days the Organization had added to its membership approximately 410 new members, a large number of whom are new in the service, and come from the South. "The Brotherhood today represents close to 80% of the porters and maids in the employ of the Pullman Company," says Secretary Lancaster.

A. Phillip Randolph, General Organizer and Ashley L. Totten, Ass't. General Organizer of the Brotherhood, are on their way to the Coast, speaking in every Pullman District between New York and Los Angeles, with a view toward cementing the Organization for the purpose of utilising the Emergency Arbitration Board, the members of which are appointed by the President of the United States whenever an emergency arises. W. H. Des Verney, another Ass't. General Organizer of the Brotherhood, is covering the Southern territory with the same purpose in view.

Eighty-Three Year Old Man Tells of Atrocities in Georgia

Boston, Mass. Sept. 12.—A real scene of tragedy and pathos was enacted in Lynn Court last Wednesday when Thomas Murphy, age 83 of Florida, just across the border from Cornelia, Georgia, unfolded the story of his life, envolving his accumulations of wealth up to a half million dollars and his subsequent fleeing from his home and property to escape the wrath of the Ku Klux Klan. Pillage and murder stalked in the wake of his financial successes. According to his story his house was burned to the ground and his wife and daughter were found dead.

Murphey's weird story brought listeners in court back to the slave-days of the Old South and uncovered the sinister activities of the Ku Klux Klan —controlers of the present order of things in Dixie. The story brought them through the drama of the Civil War and the tragedy of later days.

Last Tuesday night Murphy went into the Lynn police headquarters, and asked for a night's lodging. His shabby but well cared-for clothes, and his dignified and intelligent manner impressed the officers on duty.

They took him at the station they would be obliged to charge him with vagrancy if they kept him at the station. He agreed to this, saying he had walked the streets looking for work, but that his rheumatism had finally overcome his strength. He was given a meal at the station before they placed him in a cell. When officers searched his clothing they discovered he had exactly one cent and a jackknife.

The following story of Murphy's life was told in court Wednesday:

"I was born in 1844," he said, "a slave on a plantation near Cornelia, Georgia. My master was James Murphy. Following a slave custom, I took my master's last name and called myself Thomas Murphy.

"When Abraham Lincoln was President, during the Civil War, he paid a visit to our plantation, and I had the honor of waiting on him. In 1864, when slavery was abolished, my master wishes to free me, but I refused and remained with him until he died.

"He left me some land of my own and a little money. I worked the land myself and succeeded in buying more. I became prosperous.

"Four years ago I went across the border into Florida. I had married a woman who was a slave on our plantation, and I had a daughter. In Florida I became more and more prosperous. I would buy a plot of land, work it myself, and sell it at a large profit.

DRIVEN OUT BY KLAN

"Three years ago I made almost half a million dollars. Then tragedy came into my life. One night I returned to my home and found my wife and daughter dead and my home burned to the ground. I had received a warning from the Ku Klux Klan, but had not taken it seriously.

"From that time I was persecuted, my houses were burned, my crops were destroyed. My life was threatened by letters signed by the Ku Klux Klan.

"A few months ago I came north with $400. I left valuable lands in Florida, because I was afraid to stay there. I feared for my life.

"I have tried to get work here, but it has been hard. Nobody seems to want an old man. Last night I was down to my last penny when I went to the police for help."

Mr. Murphy ws released from the charge of vagrancy. He set out, according to a promise he made to police, to visit Lynn employment agencies in search of work. Police say they will give him every possible aid in finding a job.

PULLMAN PORTERS AWAIT BIG CHIEF

EXTENSIVE PREPARATIONS MADE FOR RANDOLPH AND TOTTEN

Jubilant over the securing of the new Lincoln Theatre for their monster Mass Meeting, Sunday, Oct. 2nd, the Pullman Porters are anxiously waiting the arrival of A. Phillip Randolph, who will deliver the address upon that day in this splendid new auditorium. The message of economic organization which Randolph is delivering throughout the country, is a call to arms, not only to the Porters but to all Black workers. The summons which he sounds is for us to do the things for ourselves which should be done so that we may take out rightful place as useful cogs in the wheel of industry. It is a call to manhood and it is being received enthusiastically everywhere.

Many organizations are rallying to the support of the Pullman Porters in their struggle for for a living wage. The splendid spirit exhibited by the management of the new Lincoln Theater is being duplicated on every hand by others who realize the justice and importance of this movement. No doubt this huge auditorium will be packed to hear the General Organizer, A. Philip Randolph. The admission will be free.

Notice to University Women

L. A. MINISTER SENT TO GENERAL M. E. CONFERENCE

REV. A. P. SHAW ELECTED DELEGATE TO GENERAL CONFERENCE

The second time in the history of the great Methodist Episcopal Church a colored man has ben elected delegate to the General Conference.

In 1920 Dr. W. H. Brooks, pastor of historic St. Marks of New York was elected from the New York Conference to represent at the General Conference and now a few days ago while in Annual Session at Long Beach, the California Conference with but four members of the race present elected the Rev. A. P. Shaw fourth on the list of delegates on the third ballot cast.

On the first ballot cast Rev. Shaw received 85 votes on the second 126 votes and on the third was elected, having received 146 votes, 21 more than was necessary for his election.

Not only the members of Wesley Chapel M. E. Church of which Rev. Shaw is the popular pastor are proud of this signal honor conferred upon one member of the race likewise the people of this community.

It was Rev. Beane, pastor of Hamilton M. E. Church and one of the other delegates present at the Conference who rushed into this sanctum santorium a few days ago; brim full of joy not unlike a school boy who had aided in putting over a great athletic feat; and broke the news to us concerning Rev. Shaw's election. So happy was he that his joy was contageous. We mused and said that if the doctrine of the M. E. Church stimulates this sort of feling and relationship among its ministers and flock, then let us have an even greater M. E. Church in this section and state.

Rev. Shaw is a Harvard man, a preacher, lecturer and keen student of economics. His contact in the great Methodist Episcopal of which he is an able part has broadened his scope, and lengthened his vision.

At the Long Beach Conference over which the very eminent Bishop Francis McConnell presided both Rev. Shaw and Rev. Beane were treated as men among men.

At the General Conference where Rev. Shaw will represent we are quite sure the race in its entirety will be benefitted.

HUGE MASS MEETING

LINCOLN THEATRE PACKED TO HEAR RANDOLPH

The biggest meeting ever held on the East Side of Los Angeles was staged Sunday, October 2nd, at 2:30 P. M. The occasion was an address delivered by A. Philip Randolph, General Organizer of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters. The significant thing about this meeting was the fact that more than two thousand poured into this building on a beautiful Sunday afternoon with the inviting, luring sunshine and open road beckoning outside, to hear an address upon an economic subject. It means that the colored people are becoming interested in the things which count—their bread and butter.

Monday, October 3rd, 9 A. M., Mr. Randolph addressed the students of the University of California upon the subject: "The Significance of the Black Worker." He was given a cordial reception and a tremendous ovation at the close of his address. Much interest was evinced by the students and many questions were asked concerning the various phases of the Negro Labor Movement. Mr. Randolph was cheered several minutes at the close of his speech.

Escapes Injury

Dolores Bell, infant daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hugh A. Bell of 849 So. Central Ave., is the luckiest baby in Los Angeles. One day last week, while playing on the stairway adjacent to her father's dental parlors, she lost her balance and taxied down the full length of the stairs.

Dr. and Mrs. Bell were terror stricken and rushed the little girl to the hospital where she was thoroughly examined and pronounced free from injury on account of the fall.

L. A. Man Making Good at Bluefield Institute

LeRoy S. Hart, formerly State Editor of the New-Age Despatch and Pacific Defender, has been appointed director of the Department of Education at Bluefield Institute, Bluefield, West Virginia. He is also instructor in English, Philosophy and Public Speaking.

Mr. Hart holds the degree of Bachelor of Arts from the Williams College, Massachusetts and was graduated from the University of Southern California with the degree of Master of Arts in 1926. He has been appointed a member of a committee named by the Board of Education of the State of West Virginia to assist in making a survey of Negro schools in that state.

A. M. E. Zion Conference To Meet in Monrovia October 12 to 16

Monrovia will be the scene of the meeting of the Southwest Rocky Mountain Conference of the A. M. E. Zion Church, October 12 to 16.

It is said this will be the largest Conference in attendance since its organization seven years ago. Rt. Rev. J. W. Martin, A. M., D. D., is the presiding Bishop; Rev. G. W. Reed is Presiding Elder and Rev. J. E. McCorkle is the pastor. The public is invited to attend the sessions.

Recital Under Auspices First A. M. E. Choir Postponed

The recital dated for October 11th to have been given by the first A. M. E. Choir featuring Clarence Carroll Clark of New York City has been postponed.

"New York, N. Y.

"RAYMOND A. CLARK,

"1145 Sunset Ave., Pasadena, Calif.

"I am very sorry to inform you that my doctors here absolutely forbid me to make the trip at this time. I have suffered a sudden breakdown. I did not tell you, but two weeks ago I had lost the use of my limb. I am better now, however. I would like for this affair to be postponed for at least three months. Let me hear from you at once. If you care to get in touch with my doctor his name is L. A. Wright, two eighteen one hundred thirty ninth street, New York. I am indeed sorry.

CLARENCE CARROLL CLARK."

A. F. Of L. Delegate Will Speak at Forum Sun.

Sunday, October 9th will be a red-letter day at the Los Angeles Forum, when J. B. Vail, official in the capacity of Organizer for the American Federation of Labor now in session in this city will speak upon the A. F. L's. attitude toward the colored worker.

In face of the fact that the National body during the past week proposed sweping resolutions for the admission of the colored workers, skilled and unskilled in all of the trades, etc. The message which Mr. Vail will bring will no doubt be an interesting one. Come early to be sure of a seat as the people have been waiting for some time for just this sort of message. The Forum meets at 4:30 P. M., Masonic Hall, near 12th and Central Ave.

Hotel Proprietress Shoots Bell Hop

(By A. N. P.)

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Mrs. Louvenia Thomas, owner and manager of the Alpha Hotel, was "booked" on a charge of assault with intent to murder at the Pekin Police Court, Saturday morning when she was arraigned for shooting and seriously wounding Lewis Guyot, 19, bell hop at her hotel. The shooting occurred at the Alpha Hotel, one of Chicago's most fashionable hostelries, Friday at 5 P. M.

Young Guyot told police officers that Mrs. Thomas was in love with him and shot him in a jealous rage when she learned that he had purchased a beautiful shawl for a "younger and more beautiful woman." When Mrs. Thomas was approached concerning the charge, she denied that there was any love affair between her and the youth and after stating that the shooting was an accident referred the reporter to her attorney, S. A. T. C. Watkins, who could not be reached. She explained that her attorney had instructed her to do no talking whatever as she would not know what to say, anyway.

Young Guyot was rushed to Provident Hospital, where he was given first aid and then was carried to the Bridewell Hospital where his condition was pronounced serious. The bullet passed through the left side of his abdomen, inflicting a very painful and serious wound.

Give Credit To Whom Credit Is Due

Dear Editor:

In accordance with your policy of giving everyone equal opportunity of expression, I desire at this time, just a little space in your splendid organ, for the outburst of an emotion.

I sat last Sunday and listened to an inspiring speech by A. Philip Randolph of New York, who is champion of the Pullman Porters' cause.

J. H. Sykes

Mr. Randolph's words were inspiring; he spoke of our high-powered men in business—what he said was true in a general way but as far as the Heffin Mfg. Co. is concerned he failed to secure facts before speaking. If this company had within its fold some of the high-powered business men described by Mr. Randolph there would be no doubt about its going on to business perfection.

Yes, I took exception to the young New Yorker's remarks because he failed to mention Mr. Spaulding who is solely responsible for the magnificent building that is to be the future home of the Heffin Mfg. Co.

I care little about the $4,000 that have gone into this concern through my activities, save the $1,000 of that sum which I induced my nephew, W. C. Jones of Minneapolis to put in; and then too, Mr. Randolph was not aware of the fact that $10,000 was deposited before even this building was started.

NEW HOPE CHOIR IN RECITAL

On Thursday night, October 13, 1927, Thelma Dubois Brown presents the New Hope Baptist Choir in its Annual Choir Recital at New Hope Baptist Church, 1523 Paloma. Under the able guidance of Viola Harris Brandon, the Choir won many well deserved ovations. We, with the public mourned the loss of Madam Brandon and dedicate the coming program in memoriam of her.

Assisting the Choir, the famous Angelus Temple Silver Band will appear. Miss Melba Allen, famous Concert pianist; Madam Gaita D. Floyed, soloist and radio artist; Miss Clotilde Curry, able violinist; Madam Ada Ross, renowned reader; Mr. and Mrs. Chas Boston and many others.

Tickets may be secured at the La Republica Tea Room. Admission only 25c. Come early and get a seat. Program.

Changes Agitate Chicago Methodist Conf.

(By A. N. P.)

Evanston, Ill., Sept. 30.—According to old timers more ministers were shifted at the meeting of the Chicago District A. M. E. Conference, which was held here during the past week, than at any previous convention. Dissatisfaction over some of the appointments was expressed by ministers and congregations where strong connectional men had been uprooted.

Bethel Church of Chicago and Ebenezer of Evanston were the only major appointments unchanged. Drs. Tooks and Fountain were returned to these charges. Dr. R. E. Wilson, pastor of the St. Mary's Church of Chicago was made a presiding elder and Rev. Robert Thomas, formerly of Grant Chapel, was appointed to succeed him at the Chicago charge. Other appointments which aroused the brethren were Rev. C. A. Fisher, transferred from Chicago to Milwaukee; Dr. H. E. Stewart to Quinn Chapel, Chicago and Dr. C. M. Taner's transfer to Michigan conference and to Bethel Church of Detroit.

"For the good of the church" was the reason advanced by some, but onlookers thought they saw an effort to break up the political lineup which existed here and which had been expected to fight for the placement of another bishop. Bishop Gaines, the presiding prelate, however, pointed out that in Chicago there were eight major charges. At one of the churches the time limit had ben reached and at four others changes were made, because the congregations demanded changes. Finding men to fill five charges the Bishop explained required considerable adjustment.

If threats mean anything, many ministers will refuse to go to their new fields and many congregations will use the lock-out method to show their disapproval of the action of the conference.

The conference opened Wednesday morning and from then to the closing Sunday night there was something of importance going on. The conference was welcomed to the city and state by Vice-President of the United States, Charles Dawes, who urged the church to take a more active part in civic and spiritual development.

The reports rendered by delegates showed that the work of the A. M. E. Church in this district was going and resolutions were adopted endorsing Rev. H. E. Stewart for the Bishopric as well as Dr. D. M. Baxter and Dr. M. H. Davis. Delegates elected to the forthcoming General Conference were Drs. H. Y. Tooks, J. N. Goddard, H. E. Stewart, Eugene Thompson, J. D. Coston, S. L. Birt, W. A. Fountain, I. N. Daniels, and M. C. Wright. All were pledged to fight for the return of Bishop Gaines to the fourth district.

Among the Bishops present were the Right Rev. S. J. Johnson, J. Albert Johnson and Reverdy C. Ransom and general officers John E. Hawkins, Ira T. Bryant, E. H. Coit, D. M. Baxter, Julian C. Caldwell, J. G. Robinson, R. E. Wright and J. D. Barksdale.

AT SEA!

MRS. SADIE COLE WHILE ON THE ATLANTIC ON WAY TO FRANCE

Atlantic Ocean, Sept. 16, 1927.
On Board Steamer Celtic

Dear Mrs. Bass:

I am trying to fulfill my promise to tell our friends something of our trip, and am writing the first instalment aboard ship.

Mrs. Sadie Cole

This is the seventh day at sea. Very pleasant weather with the exception of one day. Mrs. Webb and I are both good sailors. We embarked at New York City, Friday, the 9th, with nearly 1000 passengers. This ship is 700 feet long with five decks. The Legionaires aboard are from Iowa, Ohio, Kansas (Mr. Bass's state). The Kansas delegation is singing their songs all wearing Sunflowers, I had to leave the lounge and come up to the drawing room to write. Connecticut has quite a few on board, there is also a nice number of our people aboard—Col. and Mrs. Ward, head of the government hospital, Tuskegee; Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of Washington, D. C., friends of Mrs. Maher, Mrs. Macbeth's mother; Dr. and Mrs. Johnson and Dr. King of Tuskegee; Capt. Ferguson of Charleston, South Carolina, delegate at large, elected over five white men, hotel keeper; Cleota Collins-Lacy, Soprano from Columbus, Ohio, who took the passengers by storm last night at the Concert given by the different states. Everyone was delighed with her work. Iowa has a splendid band on board. California delegates left a day before us; we only saw Jimmy Smith, he came to the Y. W. C. A., where we stopped while in New York. Elizabeth Moore Armstrong had just landed from France and came right over with messages from Florence who is awaiting our arrival at Paris. Ralph Bunch we saw at Detroit and New York, he was baptized by Rev. Bradby, Sunday a week ago. Ralph was not so well impressed with New York, too much night life. Mabel White, sister to Norman White and Mrs. Brady, sister to Mrs. Wyndon called and friends of Mrs. Webb took her to Yonkers; I did not go. We spent a day and night at Atlantic City with Mr. and Mrs. John Abury. Of course you all have heard of that famous Board Walk, well, Mrs. Webb walked half of that 12 miles one evening and went back the next day and finished it. I walked one hour then balked. I sat down for over an hour while she walked and like to have frose waiting for them to return; it surely surprised me to know Los Angeles has a champion walker in the person of Mrs. Marietta Webb; she has enjoyed every moment.

Mrs. Webb proved to be a girl friend of my brother, Rev. Arthur D. Chandled, while he was in college at Boston. I enjoyed listening to them talk of bye gone days. We met Mrs. Emma Topp at a diner party at Detroit, she returns soon to Los Angeles. Met Mr. and Mrs. Noah Thompson in New York, she is very happy to be there and keeps up her writing. Mr. Thompson is on the Opportunity Magazine; took me to visit the Amsterdam News, they had me sit for a photo for their paper (last week's issue). Elisabeth Armstrong and friend, Miss Harris, flew from London by air plane, a pleasant experience, they were so tired they slept part the way.

Well, we land Sunday at Cherbourg, France. Sunday will reach Paris in the afternoon. Convention opens Sunday. Big Legion parades Monday. The is a lovely ship. Our nine days [illegible] briny deep is enough for me. [illegible]ell you my impressions of Paris [illegible] Paree).

You'd be amused to hear these Americans trying to talk French; there are two of our group that speak French fluently—Dr. King of Tuskegee and a Mr. Moore of Washington, D. C.

Sorry to hear of the passing of Brother Roberts and Mrs. Campbell; the loved ones have our sympathy.

Sincerely,
SADIE C. COLE,
Care of American Express Co., Paris, France.

Wife Of Eminent Choir Director Passes

Mrs. Maybelle Pitts, wife of Claude V. Pitts, eminent choir director of the city and at present director of Independent Choir, passed away Wednesday, October 5th.

Mrs. Pitts had ben ill for about a week. She was a student of U. C., L. A.

The body is at the Angelus Funeral Home.

Sympathy is extended to the bereaved family by the California Eagle.

Y. M. C. A. Opens Membership Drive

"LEADERSHIP" is the general theme of the Y. M. C. A.'s Annual Membership Drive, leadership in the number of members, leadership in service, and leadership in program.

Mr. B. H. Graham, of the American Woodmen, will serve as the Membership Campaign Manager. He will be assisted by six captains who will have charge of a hundred workers. Each captain and his team workers will be striving for leadership.

The drive will be in full sway Monday morning, October 10th, and will last until October 20th.

A. M. E. CONFERENCE COMES TO CLOSE

DR. W. D. MILLER RETURNED TO 8TH & TOWNE:

REV. J. H. WILSON HEADS DELEGATION TO GENERAL CONFERENCE

The Annual Conference for the year of 1927 of the A. M. E. Church for Southern California closed a remarkable session when the appointments were made by Bishop H. B. Parks on last Sunday evening.

A record crowd jammed every inch of space of Historic 8th and Towne Ave., on last Sunday morning and evening. The Bishop preached at the morning service and his fame is such that wherever he is scheduled to preaced the people turned out in great numbers. In the evening the great interest is in the appointments for the various locations and this is responsible for the overflow meeting.

Eighth and Towne was happy indeed for the return of the erudite and forceful Dr. Miller who proved a record breaker for all departments of church work, in fact his report places Los Angeles third on the list of all churches of the denomination in the United States, New York and Chicago occupying first and second positions in their Conference report.

Aside from this Dr. Miller was elected one of the delegates from this Conference to the General Conference to be held in Chicago in May of next year. Rev. J. H. Wilson, Presiding Elder of this District was elected to head the said delegation.

"A MAN OF JOYS"

"THE man of joys and acquainted with laughter." it was a conscientious objector, new principal of an Oxford college, who, while in prison during the war, wrote on this theme a beautiful study of the Master as the bringer of light and happiness to human experience. The description comes back to my thought as one that there is no irreverence in using with regard to another man who recently passed on.

Dr. James E. Kwegyir Aggrey, the really great African and vice-principal of the Prince of Wales College, the wonderful educational experiment of the Gold Coast Government at Achimota, was the most radiant Christian I have ever met. Humor and patience are characteristics of the Negro race, but there was a something added to these qualities in Kwegyir Aggrey, the pure-blooded Fanti, born at Anamabu on the Gold Coast fifty-one years ago, which made him tower above his fellows, black and white.

He was a champion of mankind, a believer in humanity, of whatever color. "If a man scowls at me, I just smile back," he told me, "he cannot go on scowling long if you do this. This, I believe, is what Jesus meant when he told us to turn the other cheek."

It was not always easy for Aggrey to smile. He knew what it was to meet with insult and with race prejudice. I London reporter in my presence, when he visited me only a few weeks ago could feel him wince at a remark of a during a short stay in England on his way home from West Africa to visit his wife and children at Salisbury, N. C. He did not retaliate, however, but tried to reach to the better man within his visitor. To retaliate would have been, he believed, to betray his own race. It would also have destroyed his chances of winning his opponent by the divine method of love.

"I love to be called 'Africa's Apostle of Laughter'," he said to me once, after he had seen this description used of him. The laughter was an essential part of him, not a pose. As his friend, the Rev. Alec Fraser, principal of Achimota College, whom Aggrey persuaded to accept the position, and who only the post on the condition that he had Aggrey for his lieutenant, has written to me:

> The humor with which he took rebuffs was quite deliberate, and meant great self-mastery. But the mastery was so complete that it appeared easy not only to others but to himself. Once, for instance, when he was traveling, the only African on board a steamer, he was set at a table by himself, and no other sat with him. An intensely social man, he was cut off from all other passengers. Gradually, however, some got to talk with him, and one asked him if he did not resent having to take his meals in solitary state. "No," he said, "that's where I laugh. You people have one steward to every six, while I have one all to myself." This was typical of Aggrey. He refused to take offense and he won men over.

His principle goes on, "He was a delightful man to live with, full of humor, never taking offense, always looking on the bright side of things. He was devoted to his people and country and was unsparing of himself. Men sometimes said he was conceited" (he had a true pride in his ancient race in West Africa and could trace back his ancestry through his father to the eleventh century, while through his mother he could claim five West Afri-

Electricity in Los Angeles

[No. 3 IN THE HOTEL]

Los Angeles Biltmore

TEN MILLION DOLLARS was the cost of building, furnishing and equipping the Los Angeles Biltmore Hotel, at Fifth and Olive Streets. It is an outstanding representative of that national group of hotels which has made the name "Biltmore" a by-word for the finest in hotel construction, service and management.

Los Angeles Biltmore is a small city in itself, with its 1200 employees and 1000 rooms. It entertains from 6000 to 10,000 guests per month.

So great has been its success in serving its patrons that it is now increasing its capacity by 50%, and the investment in it by nearly $4,000,000, through the construction of an addition containing 500 rooms, and what will be the largest hotel ballroom in the world.

The amount of electrical equipment used by Los Angeles Biltmore in catering to the comfort and convenience of its guests amply illustrates how the modern hotel depends on electric service:

13 Motors to operate 15 elevators . . . . . total 612 HP.
10 Motors to operate laundry . . . . . total 90 HP.
28 Motors to operate kitchen devices . . . . . total 44 HP.
26 Motors to operate ventilation system . . . . . total 438 HP.
33 Motors to operate engine room and refrigeration . . . . . total 518 HP.
2 Motors to operate print shop.

All baking of bread, pastry and rolls is done in electric ovens.

The lighting system is, of course, electric.

The new ballroom will be fully wired for special lighting, exhibits, radio broadcasting, speech amplifying, and for photography.

Los Angeles Biltmore now has an average electric current consumption sufficient to supply the electric needs of nearly 15,000 average households. This indicates the part of electricity in modern hotel service.

It is a source of great pride to us that Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation meets the electrical requirements of Los Angeles Biltmore.

should farmers for instance, be forced into the wilderness, while on the outskirts of thriving cities and towns and in the midst of well settled communities there is abundance of unused land—land on which the same amount of labor would produce wealth in far greater quantities.

In the suburbs of every city is to be found a zone of almost unused lands with a few buildings scattered thereon. The disposition so widely prevalent among all classes, to gamble in land gives it an abnormal fictitious value. The price of used land is often so high as absolutely to prohibit its purpose for use in any well producing enterprise. This is the most important if not the sole cause of the phenomenon known as financial panic. A financial panic occurs as follows:

When after a period of dull times, one of the comparative prosperity arises, and many people begin to "save money" much of the wealth which thus accumulates is naturally invested in land. It goes into city and town lots and farm lands and into stocks and securities based in large part on ownership in land, including the ownership of mineral deposits and the right of ways and immensely valuable terminals of railroads and privileges enjoyed by public utilities. Stocks based on land begin once more to slowly increase in price as more and more wealth accumulates to be invested in something from which the ultimate gain or a more permanent revenue may be derived. Soon prices begin to advance more rapidly. This renders such investments attractive from a speculative and gambling point of view and prices advance with greater and greater rapidity. This stimulates further investments and then prices advance with still more rapidity and go still higher and higher.

After a while, a speculative crave takes hold of many people and the prices often reach at which it is impossible for employees to reap any reward in connection with new enterprises upon vacant lands, after payment of prevailing rates of interest on the amount required in purchasing them. This is invariably the case just before the "Boom" bursts and the panic begins, that the natural opportunities for employment such as the vacant farming lands referred to as held at one hundred and fifty dollars per acre, the unused factory sites, mineral deposits and water fronts, the idle business and residence lots, all become so dear and so much wealth is demanded for the mere privilege of using them that capital sees no profit in giving employment to labor, in connection with them.

The panics of 1837, 1857, 1873, 1893 and in our time 1907 were all preceded by great real estate booms and followed by a marked decline in land values. Nor can any period of prosperity be continued so long as conditions exist which often make it more profitable to invest wealth in the mere purchase to the opportunities for employment of labor, which land affords than to invest it in employment of labor itself.

The same obstacles to employment which tend to lessen the demand for labor, also, in numerous ways compel capital and labor to work to a disadvantage and consequently less wealth is produced from the amount of labor expended than would otherwise be the case. For instance, a tennant farmer of Illinois, after years of economy becomes a capitalist as well as a laborer. Being thus the owner a small sum of money, a team and a few agricultural implements, he puts his wife and children and the rest of his scanty furniture into his wagon and starts out to find unused land on which his capital and labor can be profitably employed.

Fisk University

After spending over $15,000.00 in repairs and equipment, and having added many new and important courses to its curriculum, Fisk University opened its doors to 525 full-fledged college students on September 26th. 150 Freshmen have enrolled in Fisk for the first time. The total enrollment lists 256 women and 272 men from all parts of the United States many foreign countries.

In many respects Fisk is a greatly re-vamped institution. The High School department has been discontinued and advanced courses for graduate students have been added. Jubilee Hall, which houses the women's dormitory and the University dining hall, has been thoroughly repaired. The entrance has been enlarged, forming a large reception hall. Fireproof cement floors have been put in the kitchens and nearly all the rooms have been re-plastered and painted. The music department, once a scattered unit, has now been centralized in two adjoining buildings which have been remodeled to meet the needs of additional practice rooms and classroom space for the 200 or more registrants in that department. One large Grand piano and ten Uprights have been added to the musical equipment.

The Library stack space has been increased to house the large collection of books purchased this fall and thoroughly re-organized under the direction of the new Librarian, Mrs. Paul W. Gordon, assisted by Miss Ruby Ethel Cundiff, Librarian of Earlham College, and Miss Margaret Reynolds, Assistant Librarian of Fisk.

Livingstone and Bennett Halls, the men's dormitories, have also been repaired; and, increased classroom space supplied in Livingstone Hall. The science laboratories have been modernized and thoroughly equipped with the most recent scientific appliances. Additional showers and locker space have been built in the men's gymnasium, and the indoor basketball court has been enlarged. Approximately $10,000.00 has been spent to renovate the heating plant of the university.

The college curriculum carries many courses offered at Fisk for the first time, in addition to its regular schedule of courses. Courses in social science under the joint-directorship of Dr. Paul Radin and Dr. C. Luther Fry are offered to graduates and undergraduates. They include courses in anthropology, social psychology, social research, and a course in statistics to be taught by the President of the University, Dr. Thomas Elsa Jones, in co-operation with Professor Hugh Pratt Kean, of the mathematics department.

Graduate courses in research chemistry are offered by Professor Thomas W. Talley and Dr. St. Elmo Brady.

Additional courses have been added in nearly all departments. Majors in fine arts and biology are offered for the first time this year. In the English department there are three teachers instead of two as last year. In addition, the Dean of Women, Miss Susan Mendenhall, offers a course in children's literature, especially adapted for mothers and elementary school teachers, and Mr. John P. Davis, the new Director of Publicity, teaches a course in Journalism.

A decided advance in health conditions of the institution is expected as a result of the new medical clinic being conducted under the directorship of Dr. Charles V. Roman.

WHO'S CHAIRMAN

BY: JESSE O. THOMAS
(For The Associated Negro Press)

In the development of human society it appears that all groups or races pass through certain definite periods, that may be designated as stages of development. The more a group is exposed to organized society, the quicker it reaches and passes through the "retardation or handicapped stage" of its development. The greatest progress is made by a group or race when it reaches the "principle and policy stages" of evolution. Perhaps the greatest handicap is encountered in passing through the personality stage. The brethren are still groping in the latter stage. As a connection with the promotion, development, support and carrying forward of any project is determined by the principles upon which it is established or the policy of its unfolding.

The average member of our group is interested in who is going to be chairman. Of course the possibility of any movement is largely determined by the vision, ability, and engineering qualifications of the sponsor. The inquiry as to who is chairman is not calculated to reveal or ascertain the degree to which the leader of the movement possesses the qualifications referred to above. On the contrary it is to determine whether it is a personal friend of the inquirer. Upon this fact and this alone determine the support that he is to give or the opposition he will stimulate. The merits of the project, the number of people to be served; the number of lives saved, the amount of crime discouraged or the degree to which the community is to be made more prosperous by adding to the sum total of wealth and social well being are secondary considerations.

I was in a city a few days ago where a national association met at the invitation of one of its local chapters. A year previous when the local association invited the national to hold its annual meeting in that particular city, a certain outstanding citizen agreed to underwrite half of the budget necessary to entertain the association. It later developed that this individual had planned to be elected chairman of the local organization before the coming of the national convention. Failing to be elected he repudiated his pledge and would have nothing to do with the entertainment. This is typical of a large majority of the brethren when it comes to group action and mass movement. The writer has seen many propositions that have been obviously sold on their merit and presentation by comprehensive description of how the needs of the community could be served by their inauguration, defeated by some brother arising in the rear of the room at the close of the meeting and stating very solemnly, "Mr. Speaker, I did not quite understand whom you said would be chairman." Thus, "the erstwhile child of mature brains and deliberation came to its death at the hands of parties unknown."

Obstacles to Employment of Labor and Capital

BY: FREDERICK W. WELLS. A. B., M. A., L. LB.

Agriculture is the primary industry and the most important of all industries. About one-third of all the laborers in the United States are engaged in producing wealth directly from the soil. It is the occupation in which the workman most easily learns to do the work required of him and to which any laborer, whether skilled or otherwise, can quickly adapt himself. Under favorable conditions, it is attractive to the man with small means or large means to the inexperienced as well as the experienced, and to the ignorant as well as the intelligent.

The wages of the agricultural laborers furnish the standard guages to a large extent, the wages of all laborers. If wages on a farm are high, wages in other lines of employment will be high also, since a demand for agricultural labor at high wages will retain labor upon the farms and even attract it from cities and towns and thus increase the demand for labor in other agricultural pursuits.

In the settlement of new countries, farmers come first and after them follow mechanics and merchants. Farmers and miners must first be employed in the production of the raw materials before those who work in stores, factories and banks can have employment. The business of the world with all its ramifications and subdivided branches of production and distribution is based primarily on labor applied directly to the soil. It is evident that anything which obstructs the access of capital and labor to land is an obstacle to employment and it may be sufficient to account for much, if not all, that is evil and wasteful in the present industrial system.

It is also evident that anything which interferes with the natural tendency of surplus capital and labor to use the first vacant land nearest centers of population, before going to more remote or less desirable land, is an obstacle to employment. Why

THE BACHELOR GIRLS CLUB
By: M. H.

The Bachelor Girls thank their many friends for their patronage which helped to make their Anniversary Dance on last Tuesday evening at Eagle Hall a grand success.

At the last meeting of the Bachelor Girls Club officers for the next ensuing year were elected: Miss Theresa Van Norton, Pres.; Miss Frieda Hayman, Vice-Pres.; Miss Mary Beatrice, Secy.; Miss Katherine Shealy, Cor. Secy.; Miss Lela Brooks, Treas; Miss L. Robinson, reporter.

MRS. E. B. BROWN ENTERTAINS

The home of Mrs. E. B. Brown of 1338 E. 17th St., Los Angeles, was the scene of a very beautiful and delightful party Saturday evening past. The occasion was that of the birthday of Mrs. E. B. Brown, and reunion of friends and fellow stage workers who compose an all-star cast that will perform at the new Lincoln Theatre.

The home was decorated with rich vine and flowers, the ladies' costumes vied with the profused splendor of flowers for beauty.

Mrs. E. B. Brown, hostess of the affair, wore silk lace over pink satin. Her long and beautiful hair was artistically arranged dressed with a Sphinx Comb set with rhinestones.

After several trials at blowing out candles mounted upon a huge cake, the guests proceeded to dance, play whist and eat ice cream and chocolates.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Miss Gomes Monsant, New York City; Miss Gladys Gregory, New York City; Mrs. E. B. Wells, Chicago; Mrs. Inez Walker, New York City; Henry Barber, Chicago; M. E. Martin, Chicago; L. Middleton, Chicago; C. Miller, Chicago; L. J. St. Clair, Chicago; Geo. Jenkins, Chicago; Milton Redmond, Chicago; Edw. S. Stephens, Eugene W. Roberts, Chicago; Curtis Roffins, Toronto, Canada; Marcellor Dago, Chicago.

Los Angeles guests were: Mrs. Sadye M. Patterson; Miss Inez Dentis; Bellan Hill and others.

In what month were you born? See how beautifully it will be pictured at the Calendar Carnival, St. Paul, Oct. 12, 13, 14.

Mr. A. Hulbert, husband of Mrs. Clara Hulbert prominent club women of the city, has been very ill for the past few days with pneumonia. He is improved at this writing.

Mrs. S. M. Watkins Welch entertained Mrs. A. L. Jenkins of Houston, Texas and her mother, Mrs. Johnson, Sunday, Oct. 2 with a 3-course dinner.

Mrs. Jenkins is a very prominent woman in both social and religious activities. She is also the District President of the Baptist Women's Convention of Texas. She leaves for her home Friday, Oct. 8.

There were eight guests present.

Mrs. Richard Perry on Compton, who has been ill for several days, is improving. She is expecting her daughter from Texas in a few days.

Rev. Curtis, pastor of Macedonia Baptist Church on 114th St. has returned from Detroit where he attended the National Baptis Convention and made an excellent showing for Los Angeles ministers.

Mr. Collins on East 114th St. has gone to the hospital for rheumatic treatments.

Mr. T. Banks, our photographer, has been very ill for several weeks, but is much better at this writing.

U. N. I. A. had a very interesting meeting, Sept. 27th.

Rev. Scott, Methodist minister of Watts, has been appointed to Oakland. We are very proud that he was once our pastor and wish him every success in his new field.

Urban League Reports On Industry for July and August

GENERAL CONDITIONS

July and August were typical of the usual midsummer slackening in industry. These months are chosen for inventories, repairs, alterations and the like necessitating the release of many workers for a short time. An unusually large number of plants throughout the country is still working on part time schedules. Road construction afforded employment to a large number of unskilled workers. What might have been a critical situation in Pittsburgh was aided by the coal mine strike which has provided employment for steel workers freed from their customary labors because of reduced forces and short schedules of the mills. Buffalo, Cleveland, Toledo and other parts of Ohio cut schedules and reduced forces causing more shifting from city to city than is usual even during July and August. From Akron and Minneapolis bulletins were circulated informing prospective newcomers of the scarcity of work and advising postponement of their visit until employment conditions became brighter. So great has unemployment in Fort Wayne affected the permanency of the Negro population that the city's only colored dentist is moving to another section.

GAINS

Nevertheless some marked improvements were reported for July and August. In Cape Girardeau, Mo., work was begun on the $1,500,000 traffic bridge with twenty experienced Negroes as sand hoggers. In Philadelphia the subway which is now under construction is employing a large number of Negroes, some of these are being placed as foremen. In San Antonio several new hotels are employing colored waiters and some cafes have dismissed their white waiters and are employing colored. In Pine Bluff there is a heavy demand for unskilled labor in auto body plants. A night force has been established and an addition to the plant is being built. In the saw mills and on the street car tracks Negroes are finding employment in Hot Springs. There has been a slight gain in the brick mason, plumbing and plastering trades in Winston-Salem and Negroes are being employed on many of the large jobs throughout the city. The West Hotel of Minneapolis has employed a colored chef and kitchen crew. This is doubtless due to the fine record of ten years of service made by the head waiter. This hotel is now using colored elevator girls. Another hotel in Baltimore in the colored neighborhoods are now employing Negro clerks. At least four have begun work already. Another chain store corporation followed the A. & P. in the use of colored help. A white firm in Baltimore has employed a Negro boy as assistant to chemist. A few Negroes were added to the police force in Detroit. A prominent hotel in Boston is now employing colored help. One factory in Brooklyn has recently employed eight Negroes, and an automobile paint shop employed its first colored painter. In Portland a young woman has been placed as an attendant in the Physio Therapy Department of the State Industrial Commission. Two large plants have recently opened up in Milwaukee with a Negro as foreman and two as straw bosses. Negro union building tradesmen are working on Bamberger's store in Newark, a ten million dollar structure which will require two years for completion. Newark also witnessed the placement of twenty girls in a dress factory, the first to be employed as pressers in that shop.

LOSSES

In Portland six regular and two extra waitresses were discharged from a popular cafe because the manager was promised increased patronage if white waitresses were substituted. The colored girls were given written references stating that they were not being replaced because of inefficiency as their work was most satisfactory. Then Pennsylvania Railroad has laid off two hundred or more Negroes in Columbus. Negroes are suffering lay-offs from the mills in Pittsburgh. Most of the mills in that district are running half time to four or five days a week. Considerable loss was experienced in Baltimore due to a strike on the larger buildings. The Bass Foundry and Rolling Mills in Fort Wayne are still working three to four days a week. In Buffalo all industries are running less than 50% capacity. There has been some loss among the factory workers in Winston-Salem.

ORGANIZED LABOR

In Pittsburgh there is a noticeable change in the relation of Negroes to organized labor. Former union men who work as strikers declare that their reason for so doing is that on the whole there is as much discrimination against the Negro within the union as there is without.

DIE WITH YOUR BACK TO THE WALL

BY: DRUSILLA DUNJEE HOUSTON

(For the Associated Negro Press)

Walking along with a thoughtless whirl
A BLACK youth jostled a young WHITE girl.
He did not stop to look in her face;
But as though Guilty ran from the place.
They chased him, lynched him, because he RAN;
If you have to die, DIE LIKE A MAN.

In a Southern city, walking fast
A black man startled as he passed
A white woman. Facing her, he said
"I am an elder, be not afraid."
Thus he proved his manhood, thus he won.
FACE misunderstanding; DO NOT RUN.

In East St. Louis, some Negroes stood
And saw the mob kill men who were good;
But who lacked the courage to face a gun.
The mob strikes the COWARD who will run.
Black men if you ever hear their call
STAND and DIE with your back to the wall.

God's own Son in far Judean day
Felt the hate and insult in our way.
Remember his patience. Our safe guard
Lies in TRUE MANHOOD. Though it is hard
BEAR, as he bore; but always, my son,
Look wrong in the face and NEVER RUN.

—Of—
THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE
Published Weekly at Los Angeles, California, for October 1, 1927.

State of California)
County of Los Angeles)

Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared Joseph B. Bass, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the editor of the CALIFORNIA EAGLE and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily paper, the circulation), etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 111, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to wit:

1. That the names and addresses of publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are:

Publisher—Charlotta A. Bass, Los Angeles, Calif.

Editor—Joseph B. Bass, Los Angeles, Calif.

Managing Editor, Charlotta A. Bass, Los Angeles.

Business Manager, John E. Prowd, Los Angeles, Calif.

2. That the owner is: (If owned by a corporation, its name and address must be stated and also immediately thereunder the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding one per cent or more of total amount of stock. If not owned by a corporation, the names and addresses of the individual owners must be given. If owned by a firm, company, or other unincorporated concern, its name and address, as well as those of each individual member, must be given.)

C. A. Bass.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: (If there are none, so state.)

None.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the boks of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

Blythe News

Sunday was a very busy day in the city. The morning services of the A. M. E. Zion and St. Paul Baptist Churches were well attended.

The Zion Church in the midst of a Revival meeting being conducted by Rev. W. B. Redden, pastor, and Sister Gussie Beufort, Evangelist, sometimes called Oklahoma's praying angel, had three services and enjoyed God's blessing. Rev. Redden does not usually rush collections but due to the fact that his Annual Conference convenes the 12th of October, he has chosen for his text the entire week: "Dollar Money." The many friends who wish to get rid of him can easily do so by giving him a few dollars, he says.

Rev. Haywood is in the midst of a campaign to raise eight hundred dollars. His church is divided into seven clubs and each club must show up something. Brother Adams has named his club the "Winner" and not a single soul shall escape his all-grasping hand. The 4th Sunday will tell the story. We regret very much to report that Lillie Mae Cousar is yet sick and in eminent danger. Her case seems to be hard for the physicians to solve and hope is slim for her recovery.

Mr. George Murray, proprietor of the "Sun Kist Garage," one of the largest in Blythe, reports that his wife who underwent a major operation in San Diego recently is not yet out of danger.

Duck season has opened and the poor ducks are being scared to "Old Mexico," white salmon is the menu at many a home since the Colorado made a rise. With so many cotton pickers in the Valley the rabbits know to keep under cover, but the rattlesnakes defy invasion of their desert claim and still have an unbroken front.

SACRAMENTO'S PROGRESSIVE CITIZENS

On our recent visit to the State's Capitol, Sacramento, we had the pleasure of visiting the newly built palatial home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Scott, 414 Twenty-second St., of that city.

The home is one of the most unique and beautiful from an architectural point of view that it is possible to make it, built of decorated brick and modern in design it stands out as the genius of real home builders. Mr. and Mrs. Scott are among the progressive and highly respected citizens who are pioneers in that section. Eagle readers will remember Mrs. Scott as the former versatile correspondent who wrote the Sacramento news.

Further on we dropped in to see Dr. W. M. Richardson, who formerly practiced his profession in this city. His many friends will be pleased to know that the doctor has built up a lucrative practice in Sacramento and has a modern and well equipped office where he waits upon the populace and rates high up as one of the capitol city's leading physician and surgeons.

EX-SERVICE MEN TO RECEIVE 6,250 ACRES

(By A. N. P.)

Los Angeles, Calif., Sept. 30.—Western ex-service men, both white and colored, are excited over the announcement by the general land office, department of the Interior that approximately 6,250 acres of land in Snohomish County, Washington, are being opened October 10th for allotment to World War veterans.

It will be reopened later to the general public January 10, 1928.

The soil in the region is a dark loam mixed with rock and gravel and is said to contain rich deposits of gold, silver, and copper ore.

EDITORIAL

Women may have the most sense, but it takes a man to marry one.

Another good way to retain your faith in your fellowman is to make him sign on the dotted line.

A trip that formerly took two hours can be made in twenty minutes with the car. And you can spend two hours looking for parking space.

How can parents bring up the child in the way it should go when they allow it to go anywhere it pleases and at any time?

Many Koreans make it a practice to sleep on the railroad tracks. From the standpoint of economy, no doubt. They do not have to tip the porter.

It may be no one is a hero to his own valet, but he can build up a remarkable reputation for engineering skill around the house if he can change a faucet washer without calling a plumber.

Boston announces the return of the five-cent sandwich. The where-abouts of the old-fashioned slice of ham remains a mystery.

LOOKS QUEER

While it may look queer for a member of the Los Angeles Police Commission to be engaged on a hunting trip with a man who is alleged to be one of the cornerstones of commercialized graft, which can only go on with the connivance of the police, if newspaper reports are correct, it is true just the same and inasmuch as this self same commissioner was a star witness in the Jacobson case, it is obvious after taking every angle of the situation into consideration that even a Police Commissioner might perchance give partial evidence in such a situation.

SHOULD GET MADDEN TOLD

Congressman Madden of Chicago, Illinois, who holds his office by the grace of the Colored voters of Chicago, should investigate before condemning a measure which means so much for millions of people and is indeed a measure which will benefit this entire nation. We are firm of the conviction, especially so if the reported utterances prove true, that Congressman Madden has outlived his usefulness and the Colored voters of his district should concentrate upon some man good and true to succeed him.

LABOR LEADERS NOT UNLIKE PHAROAH OF OLD

Despite the fact that resolutions have been offered and favorably reported on that the American Federation of Labor shall go on record as follows:

"The granting of open membership for Negroes in all union on equal terms."

But, Pharoah-like, it is reported that the labor leaders have willed this situation shall not obtain and predict the resolution will be defeated on the floor of the convention despite the fact that president Green stands for the same.

The American Federation had just as well make up its mind now to do the fair and square thing by all peoples if it expects labor to reach the highest pinnacle. For be it known that 98 per cent of the dark people are workers and this great number will ever be a thorn in the side of the solution of the Labor Market unless the present attitude of organized labor is reversed.

THE LOCAL NEWSPAPER

In spite of the fact that the metropolitan press now reaches into nearly every town and village in the country, the local newspaper in the United States is each year getting on a firmer foundation and becoming more and more useful to its home community.

It may be said that the day of the metropolitan newspaper is at hand. This is true, but it is equally as true that the day of the local newspaper is here too.

The metropolitan daily with its world-wide news, its comic sheets and its magazine supplements, while of course essential in our modern civilization, cannot take the place of the home newspaper. The very fact that the big city daily must cover a broad field forbids its becoming local in any sense, and it is in the local field where the home newspaper dominates and where it finds its true usefulness.

For, after all, it is the home news which is most important to most of us. We have the greatest interest in the community in which we live, and in the people who are our neighbors and friends. And it is the local newspaper which records the happenings of the folks at home, and in addition fosters the civic pride and progressive spirit of the community.

We frequently hear it said that the old time independnt spirit of the newspaper is gone, that its editorial policy is now subservient to the business office. Yet this is not true. There is more unselfish idealism in the average local newspaper than in any other business enterprise. It frequtnly speaks out in the way which it belives will be for the good of the nation and of the community, regardless of what the consequences may be from a business standpoint. This is more than the average business man will do or can do.

Of course the local newspaper is now on a firm business basis. This is why it is improving from year to year, why it is giving its readers a constantly better newspaper, and why it is increasing its influence for good in the community. But the local newspaper is still the principal booster for the community, and it does its boosting often without any hope of material reward.

COMMENTS

BY: W. J. WHEATON

Several hundreds of the "Nordic" students attending the Emerson High School at Gary, Indiana, refused to attend classes because of the presence of a score Aframericans who were enrolled. The Gary city council passed to final reading an ordinance carrying an appropriation of $15,000 for the erection, at once, of a temporary building to provide a separate school for the Aframerican students until a new all-Aframerican $1,000,000 school is built.

* * *

It is the boast of this nation that its public schools are the most broadening, teach the view of democracy in most practical sense; are the melting pots for the amalgamation and conglameration of our citizenry. Is that action of the Gary students an exemplification? We venture the assertion that there was not one out of that mass of Gary students who could rate his or her claim to American citizenship with that of students they refused to compete with on equal terms of a civilized scholastic education. The population of Gary is composed principally of a foreign element. The steel works are situated there.

* * *

But who is to blame? The students, the spineless school officials, or the tax payer who is willing to have a million dollar burden placed on him at the whim of a few children of foreign born parents. Indiana is a Ku Klux ridden state. Its propaganda of racial hates has permeated its institutions of religion as well as the secular. It is natural that the offspring of parents who had felt the iron heel of class oppression should imbibe with eagerness any opportunity given to show resentment in kind. The officials of Gary were, without doubt, in sympathy with the action of the students, or else they are as spineless a bunch of bipeds that ever "houked." And where, oh where! are those highly advertised racial leaders of the "Steel" town? Leaders in the educational, fraternal and baseball activities of Aframericans? It cannot be possible that they have slept at the switch, or been blinded by the dazzle of a million dollar separate school.

The fight for equality of American citizenship can never be won as long as there is a separate public school. The Public School is the battleground upon which the fight for democracy, in its broadest sense, will be lost or won. It will be the education of actual contact that will broaden the view and dispel the false impression of color inferiority. There can be no equal opportunity of education in a separate school. Do you notice with what avidity the suggestion for mediums or separate education are always met? Just let some poor, misguided simpleton come into a community where an equal opportunity for education is and offer some fool project for separate schools; see haw many favorable responses from the whites will be given. Oh yes! Even in California. The fight for equality of American citizenship will be won or lost in the Public Schools.

The National Federation of Labor, at this writing, is meeting in Los Angeles. It is said that the fight of Pullman Porters for a "living wage" and the elimination of the tipping system, will be presented by the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters. The move on the part of the Porters has already aroused public sympathy, and many noted public men have voiced their approval. It is rumored that Union Labor is about to dictate to "Uncle Sam" concerning the pay of officers and enlisted men in all branches of military service. They claim that they should be awarded compensation proportionate to that received by civilians.

When the heads of Departments convene about the Governor's Counsel table, you will see seated near his excellency a quiet man whose youthful face under a shock of luxuriant gray hair, belies his his age, for Alexander R. Heron, who head the state department of Finance is yet in his thirties. We venture to say that no man in the State's government is more familiar with its needs, or more adequately equipped to meet them. Governor Young has surrounded himself with a number of capable men and women who head the several departments of the state. He has studiously appointed them for their efficiency, but in none has he been happier than having associated with him as a director of the State's finances, the quiet, unassuming, capable, efficient, Alexander R. Heron.

According to a survey taken by Race physicians, the increase in pulmonary disease and infant mortality is alarming. The needs for more and better equipped hospitals and trained nurses to cope with the inroads being made by disease, should be stressed. Concerted work on the part of our religious and fraternal bodies would go far toward that end. It was reported that in Virginia the infant mortality was 110 per 1000.

According to a published statement in the News of the World, London, England, Layton and Johnstone-Randolph Sutton, are making English feet pitapat to "Bye-Bye Black Bird." That same journal gives a goodly list of crimes. Even banditry. A lengthy article in the issue of Sept. 11th gives an account of the suicide of a married man and who a number of anonymous letters classed, his affinity. Driven out by the tongue of scandal they sought an isolated place and—Death.

It is interesting, amusing and highly illuminating to hear yourself discussed when you are unknown to those who are dissecting you. We had that pleasure recently when two ladies just behind us on a train car held us up to the mirror and we had to go home and become re-acquainted. They were discussing some of our recent allusions to the Race clergy. One was narrow, the other broad. One pictured me as a devil with a spiked tail and accessories, other thought I might prove a very decent fellow. And so on. My destination ended first. Hope that some day I will be introduced.

James Power for Mayor of San Francisco has an able political asset in the support of John Taylor.

"I consider the mayoralty the highest honor within the gift of San Francisco voters. I am in accord with the statement of President Coolidge that this is not a one-man country; that here are available men of ample brains and ability to serve the nation. I believe that two terms are enough for any mayor. With the aid of my fellow citizens I have been fortunate in building up a private business of respectable size, therefore I am a candidate for mayor and not for the mayor's salary.

"To serve as the chief executive of San Francisco is an honest ambition of any loyal citizen, and it is with this spirit that I approach this office and not with cold calculation of salary attached."—From the platform of James Powers, candidate for San Francisco's mayor.

Hypocrisy and deceptions are holding us back more than we realize. Realism is the person of "If I can't you then I," Realism is bad for the adult with the backward chin and forward teeth.

Other fingers or the lips are sometimes sucked and these affect the teeth in the same general manner.

Pacifiers should also be placed on the black list of the child's needs as the shape of the mouth and jaws may be changed through their use.

The question of the most effective means of breaking these injurious habits is one which by no means has been satisfactorily settled, with some children, the task seems almost hopeless while others respond in a manner which is quite encouraging. Whatever method is used, it must be remembered that extreme patience and persistence on the part of the parent are necessary to break the habit.

THE ADELPHIC CLUB

The Adelphic Club held its regular fortnightly meeting, last Friday evening at the home of Mr. William Bowden. A good number of the members we present and attended the meeting with much enthusiasm. A review of the recent past with its failures and achievements was presented to the club by the President, Mr. Raymond Smith, this brought out some very sound criticisms. We hope to profit by this review.

The members of the Club were highly elated over the return to the fold of Mr. George Nemo, one of the organizing members and former president and Mr. Lawrence La Mar, a most dynamic member.

AT LA REPUBLICA TEA ROOM AND CAFE

The added features of music and in front of the building, has placed this coupled with the colored light scheme in front of the uilding, has placed this wonderful Tea Room and Cafe in a class by itself.

It has, in the last two weeks, been the scene of some of the most exclusive gatherings and parties, in several instances two parties in one evening.

Not only do the merrymakers and seekers frequent and enjoy the good food and hospitality of the management, but the more serious avail themselves of the opportunity to meet with one another upon the important side of life. Some of the outstanding characters are: Dr. J. H. Wilson, Bishop Scott and others of the cloth.

This place, with its large dancing floor and spacious and well appointed dining room, is fast becoming the center for society and club life in our midst.

CARE OF THE TEETH

BY: DR. J. WINIFORD ROUT

THUMB SUCKING

Thumb sucking while productive of grave damage to the development jaws and teeth if persisted in over a long period of time, is usually broken early and for that reason is not responsible for all of the deformities frequently attributed to it.

However it is possible for the thumb sucker to displace the upper and lower front teeth of either the temporary or permanent set from their regular position in the mouth thereby throwing the rest of the teeth out of their natural arrangement.

Such results however necessitate the persistence of the habit over as period which extends well beyond babyhood.

Thumb sucking interferes with the proper development of the mouth, the nose, the position of the teeth the ability to masticate the food, and changes the tone of the voice. This habit is one of the best means of destroying the normal rounded lines of the face and bringing up the pretty baby into an unattractive looking adult with the backward chin and forward teeth.

Other fingers or the lips are sometimes sucked and these affect the teeth in the same general manner.

Pacifiers should also be placed on the black list of the child's needs as the shape of the mouth and jaws may be changed through their use.

The question of the most effective means of breaking these injurious habits is one which by no means has been satisfactorily settled, with some children, the task seems almost hopeless while others respond in a manner which is quite encouraging. Whatever method is used, it must be remembered that extreme patience and persistence on the part of the parent are necessary to break the habit.

Bishop W. J. Walls of Charlotte, N. C., at 1st A. M. E. Zion Church

Bishop William J. Walls, A. M., D. D., Tenth Episcopal District of the A. M. E. Zion Church will be in Los Angeles Sunday, October 9, 1927. He will be at the First A. M. E. Zion Church, Pico and Paloma Streets, both morning and evening. At eleven o'clock A. M., Bishop Walls will preach. At eight o'clock P. M. he will tell the Flood Story of the Mississippi with Scripture interpretations. Any attempt to describe the Bishop's ability as a gospel preacher and orator would be but a feeble one at its best.

Tenders Thanks

We want to thank our friends of Los Angeles who so largely responded with their presence at Christ Holiness Temple, Sunday, Oct. 2.

Those who came were blessed with the message that our Bishop gave. Bishop Jones preached from the 10th chapter of Hebrew, 15th verse. The message was powerful and all who heard it were blessed.

The Bishop invites all Los Angeles to come and worship with us again. Every Sunday and at night, Rev. Jones will speak.

May God bless a man like Bishop Jones with a long life to continue to preach the Gospel of Christ Jesus.

Congregational Church to Hold Dedication Services

The Lincoln Memorial Congregational Church, now worshipping in its new location, corner of Vernon and Hooper avenues, announces through its pastor, Rev. E. E. Lightner, a great Fellowship and Dedication service this Sunday, October 9th, at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Representatives of our National as well as our local Congregational bodies, will be present and have part on the program.

Rev. Lloyd Douglass, D. D., pastor of the First Congregational Church of this city will preach the dedication sermon. Dr. Luman H. Royce, D. D., of Cleveland, Ohio will bring greetings from the National Congregational Church Building Society. Dr. Geo. F. Kenngott, Ph. D., Supt. of the Southern California Congregational Conference will bring the greetings of the Conference, and many of the local pastors with their people will be present. You are cordially invited to share the fellowship and inspiration of this service, which marks the Twelfth aniversary of the Pastorate of Rev. E. E. Lightner in this church. Other services of the day as usual. Everyone welcome.

Successful Hunters

After filling the car full of gas and making all the necessary preparations, J. O. Dudley, popular tailor of 2812 Central and "Sunny" Filmore of 1152 E. 51st St., left L. A., Tuesday, Sept. 27 to again try their luck in buck hunting.

They made a successful trip to Utah in the town of Kanab which is about 700 miles from Los Angeles and near the edge of Arizona Grand Canyon. There they killed two bucks which are reported to be two of the largest killed as yet this season.

On their arrival home, they stopped at the Eagle office in their car with a buck tied on either side of the automobile. The trip was made in 5 days.

National Labor Leader To Address The N. P. A. C. P.

ATTORNEYS FROM OAKLAND WILL GIVE US FACTS IN THE GLASS CASE

The Speakers Bureau of the American Federation of Labor now in session in Los Angeles has agreed to send one of the labor leaders of National reputation to address the N. A. A. C. P., Sunday afternoon at 8th and Towne Church. He will bring a message to us as a group dealing entirely with the labor situation as it affects the Colored man.

Attys. Gordon and Richardson of Oakland will give to us for the first time the inside of the fight to keep Ed. Glass from returning to a possible lynching.

This will be one of the most interesting meetings we have had this year. 3:30 P. M., at 8th and Towne Church, Sunday, Oct. 9th.

It's here now—That American Woodmen dispensation. Join today, don't delay. 1400 Central Ave., Phone WEstmore 3479.

GIRLETICS

BY: GLADYS MATHONICAN

Los Angeles has been for the past week the scene of one of the greatest tennis tournaments ever held in Southern California.

Among the women stars we have Mrs. Molla Mallory, who was queen of the American courts until Helen Wills came along and who won the 1926 match when Helen Wills was too ill to play. Mrs. Mallory has not been seen here since about 1921. With the exception of Suzanne Lenglen, no woman player in the world is more famous than Mrs. Mallory, who once blazed across the tennis firmament as Molla Bjurstedst. Mrs. Mallory won the American title seven times.

Kia Bonman, the Dutch champion, has never appeared here in public. It is said that she is a few notches ahead of Mrs. Mary Sutton Bundy and it is the opinion of some that she will defeat Mrs. Mallory. Miss Bouman is rated the best woman player on the European continent and the fourth best in the world. With such competing stars it seems as though all tennis fans who visit the tournament will indeed receive a thrilling treat.

Now that the Y. M. C. A. has opened its swimming pool to girls on Saturday afternoon from 12:30 -2:30, there will most likely be quite a few mermaids developed and swimming more popular as a sport among our girls. We hope so, anyway.

This week has been very quiet in pictures but much could be said concerning some big changes in the casting. By the decision of the Central Casting Office, Chas. E. Butler, has been selected to cast all black workers. Next week is expected to be a very busy week with many features to be made the coming season.

Lightning Davis Battles Jimmy Fox for Beach Cities Championship

As we go to press the road to Culver City is jammed with cars speeding down to the Culver City Stadium where Jimmy Murray has lined up the greatest card of the many he has recently produced. The heavyweight tournament is in full blast and some hair-raising bouts take place each week ending in a series of knock-outs.

Lightning Davis just like his name is the most sensational, fastest and gamest fighter in his weight, produced on the coast as well as one of the most popular. Losing two decisive wins by the wrong decision did not discourage him and he has kept forging to the front. In Jimmy Fox he meets the best boy in the Coast critics who has been beating all the boys he met with his rapid sharp shooting and clever boxing. At that Davis is picked to win and hold the championship of the beach cities.

Along Fisticuffs Row

LIGHTNING DAVIS looked a real champ for his battle with Jimmy Fox; muscled loose skinned, without an ounce of fat and quick in movement as a cat.

"AIN'T SHE SWEET?"

MILDRED WASHINGTON

Los Angeles' own star of the stage and silver screen. The daintiest, prettiest, peppiest, most magnetic little girl that ever deserved the title of a Sunkist Maid.

Miss Washington has perhaps made more rapid strides in her chosen profession than any girl of her race, for barely out of her "teens" with Jefferson High School as her Alma Mater she stepped into the wonderful world of theatricals, and after attracting the attention of thousands who saw her sing and dance in the Plantation Revue and other companies in which she worked she headed her own revues at the Legion Club, Broax Palm Garden and Jazzland. Two months ago she was signed up to bring her revue to Sebastian's Cotton Club, the choicest position among night clubs, succeeding Carolyn Snowden whose name had been in great electric lights there for some time. Mildred works almost daily in pictures at the various studios and has played big parts in some of the greatest features made in Hollywood. Leading directors say that equally with Clara Bow she really has "IT," and predict a great future for her in the field that is so rapidly opening up for colored actors, and actresses is bringing them to the notice of the world at large. Theatre goers everywhere are beginning to say, "I wonder what is his name or her name," from recognising them in so many pictures. In course of time it is believed Negroes of worth will be featured and starred just as Jas. Lowe has been starred in "Uncle

Colored Football Players Scarce

Football started with a boom at U. S. C. However, ineligibility will delay some of our race lads from getting started this semester. But Richie, San Diego prep star, is now on the campus and is a man capable of making any college team in the country. Rufus Mormait is out regularly for end position and hails from Northern California.

Track season is enthusiastically anticipated by Hacker, Santa Monica sprint star, who won the state and Southern California championship in the 100 and 220 dashes last year.

Hacks is starring for Pasadena Junior College, and is the most prominent name in any column describing the activities of individual at that institution.

Drieden, former Santa Barbara "All Star Guard," is now fighting professionally together with Neil Clisby, former gridiron star of Riverside.

THE BLACK SPORT WORLD THROUGH THE EYES OF ART HAMILTON

BANG! Folowing the Dempsey-Tunney fracas we have the World Series next on the sport world calendar staged between the New York Yankees of the American League and Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League. Pittsburgh managed to squeeze through by the skin of their teeth after a thrilling race with the St. Louis Cardinals and the New York Giants.

The victor in the National League was unknown until the eleventh hour, when the Pirates nosed out the Cincinnati Reds in the deciding game by the score of 9-6.

Just the contrary in the junior league, the Yankees have had it their way from the first of the season. New York has been in the top position from the opening day until the present. The Yankees made it a big season individually and as a team. They broke the American League record of 105 games won by taking the rest of the teams down the path to the tune of 110 won to 44 lost.

Individually they shone just as brilliantly. Babe Ruth, the slugger incomparable, broke his home-run record by smashing out 60 circuit runs; his former record was 59. One could safely say that this has been the Bambino's best season of his colorful career. Crowding the mighty Ruth for batting honors was Lou Gehrig, the slugging first baseman. Lou pushed Ruth hard for the home-run laurels up until the last few weeks and he last few weeks and he dropped out of the limelight and ended a most successful season with a total of 47 home runs. The New York Yankees have the hardest hitting team in the majors. With such batters as Ruth, Gehrig, Muesel, Combs and Lazzeri the Yankees should literally burn up the series with their mighty drives.

The Hug men have enjoyed exceptional success in the pitching department with Hoyt, Pennock, Ruether and Moore bearing the brunt of the opposition's attacks.

Pittsburgh has a team that hustles until the final put-out and will give the Yankees plenty of trouble. The Pirates have their sluggers in the persons of the two Waner brothers and Harris, the slugging first sacker.

Donnie Bush's men are fast and are on the look-out for every break of the game that can be accorded them. The break is a vital point in any sport as a break may decide a championship.

CAMPUS DUST

BY: EAGLE EYE

U. S. C. co-eds register joy and gloom. All this happened when our sheik friend with some collegiate ideals, pretends to intend to enter the School of Pharmacy and be with them on the Campus. Pardon me, dear reader, but I have reference to William (Bill) Narcises who is probably now idling among the shrubbery that is in abundance about the Campus of dear old Howard. Bill should go great with girls, you know,—Californian, formerly of the Trojan institution, and all that bunk; but, that goes big for the girls.

The boys who attend the Cardinal and Gold Instittption, are hoping right out loud that Bert Ritchie from San Diego Hight will go out for, and make the varsity football team next year. But until, they must be content to watch him mop up during the track season.

Last Saturday, the preliminary game to the U. S. C.-Occidental game, Pasadena Junior College demonstrated just how much dependant she was on two of our boys, James (Slick) Stocks and Alvin Brownlee. The team is practically built around these two boys.

Them guys out at U. C., L. A., must surely be a selfish bunch, or a drove of sweet boys. They haven't sent in a single line concerning their sport activities. So we must figure out some way to arouse some of that "he" stuff in them. Here's hoping how Grant Venerable who has captured the presidency of the Agenda is probably busy scheduling a heavy social season, and perhaps procured the most promising athletic material for the various social committees. We hope though, that our friends Kenneth Levy sticks to the track and earns his big C, and the other boy Errol Jones continues on the boxing team.

Merry Makers Win First Game

The N. N. B's. suffered defeat at the hands of the Merry Makers on Sunday last in the first game of the season with a tally of 19 to 7.

Bryant of the Merry Makers made a touch-down and kicked two goals, Ateman 1 and Williams 1. Allen made the lone tackle for N. N. B's. and Towns kicked goal. The La Premiers and Olympics play next Sunday.

Date of Music Week Chosen As May 6-12

Organizations and individuals that observe the National Music Week are being asked to enter on their calendars the week of May 6-12, 1928, as the time of the coming celebration. This date has just been announced by the National Music Week Committee from its headquarters at 45 West 45th street, New York City. In view of the fact that the 1927 observance was held on May 1-7, the committee thinks it well to point out that there is no change in the period for the coming Music Week. The festival of music always begins on the first Sunday in May which, next year, happens to fall a little later than usual.

Although not all of the local Music Week committees have yet filed their reports on the last observance, it is already evident that the 1927 figures will considerably exceed those of 1926, when there were nearly 1,400 participating cities and towns.

Foreign adoption of the Music Week idea grows with each year's observance in this country. Following South Africa, where there have been two annual Music Fortnights at Johannesburg, comes a new adherent in British East Africa, where a music festival week is planned for this October in Nairobi, under the auspices of the Acting Governor, Sir Edward Denham. Observances were held last spring in Canada and in several of our own territories such as Alaska, the Philippines, Guam, Hawaii and the Virgin Islands. The Governor of the latter territory, Capt. Waldo Evans, is one of the recent additions to the Honorary Committee of Governors on the national Music Week Committee.

The Woman's Auxiliary to N. A. A. C. P. Begins to Function

The Woman's Auxiliary to the N. A. A. C. P. is calling for members to assist the Branch in putting over its program for the great National meeting that convenes in Los Angeles in June, 1928.

The object of the Woman's Auxiliary is to raise funds for the Branch and for the National Association thru entertainments and other means—to assist in the conduct of mass meetings, convasses and drives—to work with the youth of the community in the Junior Division—to serve as the Educational Committee of the Branch, when the Branch so desires, and to aid in any other way to make more efficient the work of the Branch.

An opportunity will be given those wishing to join Sunday, October 9th at the regular meeting of the Branch at Towne Avenue A. M. E. Church. All women desiring to work for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People under the direction of the Branch and in accordance with the Constitution of the Woman's Auxiliary are eligible to membership in the Auxiliary. All members of the Branch are likewise eligible to membership in the auxiliary.

JOIN NOW! AND HELP THE CAUSE.

Chairman of the Woman's Auxiliary.

BRIGGS SUES FOR $100,000.00

(By A. N. P.)

New York, Sept. 30.—Arthur Briggs, who came into prominence during the trial of the three colored prohibition agents who were on trial during July, has instituted a suit against Major August Heise, former ass't. director of prohibition in New York for $100,000 damages for third degree torture methods admitted by Major Heise during the trial.

Briggs, who was acquitted in the Federal Court on a charge of bribery, alleges in his complaint that empoyees of the Prohibition Bureau, under the direction of Major Heise, beat him and inflicted on him a Chinese torture and the third degree in an effort to force from him a confession implicating certain prohibition agents in an alleged bribery plot.

The charge of brutality made by Briggs, aroused wide-spread protests and resulted in an investigation by the Federal Grand Jury. Heise was suspended, but the Grand Jury exonerated him.

Briggs charges that on the night of December 13, last, he was taken to Prohibition headquarters and without any process of law or warrant, was kept there from nine o'clock until 2 o'clock in the morning.

He complains that Major Heise and others tied his arms and legs to a chair with ropes and wrapped a towel around his head which was then twisted, thus inflicting upon him a "barbarous method of torture known as the Chinese torture." He was then also beaten, bruised and kicked, Briggs charges.

S. B. W. May, real estate broker in Los Angeles since March, 1919, who is now located at 3517 S. Central Ave., is again on the job and invites home-seekers to make use of his eight years' experience in the Real Estate business in Los Angeles. During all of this time that he has served the public, no loss to his clientele has been reported or any mis-representation charged. He is ever ready to serve those desiring to make their conditions better in life. Mr. May makes the statement that a few days ago he was talking to one of his clients, a financier of note, and this client had this to say:

"Los Angeles to double population in twelve years. Metropolis expanding at rate of 100,000 each year. Realty values to record-high jump. He also stated poor vision in other words "nearsightedness" is going to be the real reason why many of us still will be working on a salary ten years from now instead of "clipping coupons" and playing.

We are too close to the picture. Our vision is centered on one little lot or community, and as a result, we miss about 99% of the development going on in other sections and on other lots.

Fate, however, will exact a penalty. That penalty will be work and plenty of it. Someone will be playing in the shoes we should be wearing.

Our present population is around 1,250,000. 100,000 times twelve is 1,200,00. Then, according to this, in twelve years or in 1939, Los Angeles will almost double her present population.

CONGRATULATIONS!

The office is in receipt this week of announcement of arrival of Margaret Helena Danley on September 11th to Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Danley, Jr. of Springfield, Ill.

Mr. Danley will be remembered as former probation officer of this city and is the son of Rev. S. B. Danley of Pasadena.

The California Eagle extends hearty congratulations and good wishes to the young family.

NOTICE

The Southern California Alumni Association will hold its regular meeting October 9, 4 o'clock at Wesley M. E. Church. Mr. Lloyd Griffith will speak on "Choosing a Vocation." Miss Delphina Jackson will also assist with the program. All members and friends are urged to be present.

Circle Tour Includes Diversified Scenery

The visitor to California is always enchanted with the circle tour from Los Angeles to San Diego, Imperial Valley, via the west side of the Salton Sea and through the Orange belt back to the starting point.

Leaving Los Angeles one follows the Coast route, the beauty of which is truly symbolic of California. It lies through green fragrant orange groves and walnut orchards till the old mission of San Juan Capistrano is reached. A few miles beyond this point one has the first view of the magnificent Pacific with its foaming, white-crested waves. The ocean, with its ever changing beauty, is in sight for virtually the whole distance into San Diego. Leaving this city over the Borderland Highway, two routes diverge in the beautiful El Cajon Valley, one leading north from the town of El Cajon to the Mesa Grande, Julian and Palomar districts, and the other thru Bostonia, Alpine, etc., to Jacumba Hot Springs. A drive of 48 miles from this point brings the motorist from an elevation of 2800 feet to El Centro, below the sea level.

Cotton picking, date gardens and scenic side trips to the Painted Gorge and Palm Canyon are features of this route which is a very attractive one to motorists. If visited while in bloom the desert is a thing of beauty and not soon forgotten. Miles of lavendar, white and blue flowers border the highway. A ride of two or three hours brings one into the orange grove country again, after a very delightful sojourn in the mountains, by the seaside and through desert districts which offer the maximum of diversified scenic attractions.

Yosemite Routes Reported in Shape

The Coulterville Road from Modesto to Yosemite Valley is still in good condition, although sections of dirt part of the road are becoming somewhat rough due to heavy traffic during the past months. Most all of the roads to Yosemite Valley are in good condition at this time, according to the Touring Department of the National Automobile Club.

Speedometer Chain Oiling Important

Disconnect the speedometer chain where it connects to the instrument and pour in a small amount of engine oil every 10,000 miles. According to the Service Department of the National Automobile Club, this detail of lubrication is almost universally overlooked, but is quite important to the successful operation of the speedometer.

AUTOMOTIVE NOTES

There are approximately 52,600 automobile dealers in the United States, according to the National Automobile Club.

Loose Fans Cause Motor to Overheat

During hot weather it is very important that motorists check on the tension of the fan belt. Loose fans, according to L. G. Evans of the Department of the National Automobile Club, are responsible for much of the overheating of motors that is often attributed to serious internal troubles.

BIG PINES COUNTRY INSPIRING REGION

In the northeastern part of Los Angeles County, ninety-six miles by the way of the Cajon Pass and one hundred and six miles via Palmdale and the Antelope Valley, from Los Angeles, lies a mountain region that is now giving an ever increasing number of motorists a taste of mohntain beauty and in spiration.

While it lacks the waterfalls of the Yosemite, this mountain country is almost as satisfying as the famous national park itself to those in search of mountain scenery and atmosphere. Los Angeles County officials have sensed its grandeur and have made Big Pines Recreation Camp a county playground.

Construction work is now progressing on the Blue Ridge road which overlooks the park itself, and is making accessible to motorists a section heretofore reached only on foot or with pack animals. The Blue Ridge road when completed will lead into the beautiful Prairie Fork Valley, where trout streams and meadows form a perspective of Antelope Valley and Victor Valley, while North Baldy and Old Baldy appear in the immediate foreground.

Automobile Driving Splendid Exercise

Automobile driving is a good exercise and is conducive to good health. That is the conclusion drawn from a series of tests made by the medical students of the University of Wisconsin.

In a bulletin issued follow the investigations, it is declared that driving gives a great deal of exercise to the arm and shoulder muscles, while the leg muscles get an important amount of work in operating the brake and clutch, especially in downtown traffic. The exercise is not strenuous but is regular and this is said to be an additional advantage, according to the bulletin. It is also pointed out that the car driving of today requires less effort than ever before, but at the same time requires enough effort to provide good exercise.

POLICE BREAK UP LOVE NEST

(By A. N. P.)

New York, Sept. 30.—A triangle which had extended over a period of seven long and bitter years, came to an end early Sunday morning, when detectives and witnesses trapped Eddie Armstead, popular restauranteur, and a pretty young woman, Miss Gertrude Blue, in an apartment house on Edgecombe Avenue in this city.

According to the story, Armstead became enamoured of Miss Blue while she was working in his establishment and some three years ago, left his wife to live with the younger woman.

Sunday morning, the raiding party, including Mrs. Armstead and her mother, visited the fashionable apartment house and discovered the pair there. It is said that Armstead was so intoxicated, he did not know what was happening. Miss Blue was scantily clad, and when the party entered the room, begged the detectives to give her time to dress herself.

The Armsteads have been married for twenty years, coming to this city from the south, establishing the restaurant which has been unusually successful.

Flood Cripples Many Southern Sections

(By A. N. P.)

New Orleans, La., Sept. 30.—The entire United States will gradually feel the effect of the desolation and waste due to the recent devasting Mississippi flood. The interdependence of people and communities is such that what affects one sooner or later reach the other and that which retards blacks, alike holds back whites.

The more than a half million people who lost their crops and had swept away their livelihood had a tremendous purchasing power. Already business in New Orleans, Little Rock, Memphis, and other cities contiguous to the flooded area are feeling the lessening in the volume of fall purchases. White firms are not the only ones affected. In proportion as the large wholesale and retail establishments have their business curtailed so is employments for our group less and numerous colored concerns, insurance companies, mail order concerns, and even schools have felt the economic loss which the flood has brought.

Statistics are beginning to come in after the first confused weeks. In Arkansas 1,338,500 acres were under water, in Louisiana which was next, 1,112,000. In all there were 4,417,500 acres, comprising 124 counties or parishes under water. Much of this was swamp land, but 2,600,00 acres had been planted in cotton and 1,100,000 acres had been in corn. It staggers the imagination to think of all that loss and most of it from our people who could least afford it. It represented clothes, food, schooling, all of the necessities and a few of the luxuries of life. 25,325 mules and horses were lost; 50,490 cattle; 148,110 hogs and 1,276,570 chickens, ducks and other fowl. This latter figure, despite the fact that not ten per cent of the farmers in that area raise chickens or gardens again gives a picture of the great slaughter. What it cannot show is the personal suffering and discouragement which those people are facing.

The Red Cross has replaced many of the animals and helped to reconstruct the cabin houses. It cannot restore the crops, although it is feeding where no work is available and absolute destitution faces families. The Red Cross is co-operating closely with the Colored Rehabilitation Commission headed by Dr. Robert Moton and while it is a drab, dogged job without much graphic attention from the press or the public, a good job is being done. Hopes for a special session of Congress whish might start anew work on levies and repairs has waned since President Coolidge put his foot down on it. There is little migration. The folk are living in hope that the new year and a new crop will be the way out and trusting in the Lord for the present.

PUBLIC PROCLAIMS A. PHILIP RANDOLPH GREATEST NEGRO ORATOR OF ALL TIME

Holds Audience Spellbound with His Fluent Tongue

This is a great week for labor and its exponents. 400 delegates from all part of the world, representing over 5,000,000 organized workers, take their seats in the forty-seventh Annual Convention of The American Federation of Labor. Celebrities and dignitaries bow in great respect to the progress that organized labor has made in the last decade for humanity and mankind; even Governor Young of the State of California, greets the various delegates with the glad and welcome tidings that during his brief tenure of office, no less than 25 labor laws have been passed in the State Legislature. Surely this is good news for the delegates to carry back to their various branches of the sons of toil, to those who earn their bread by the sweat of their brow. Our esteemed Governor of California is quoted as saying in his address as follows: "I am for Labor and I am not against Capital; both Labor and Capital have the right to organize as long as they do not allow the value of the Dollar to transcend the value of Humanity." Great words those, coming from a great man; one whose earnest desire is the welfare of humanity.

But during this busy convention of Labor and uplift of mankind, a Son of Ethiopia has quietly entered the city unheralded. No brass bands to greet him; no Senators or Governors to shake his hands. Still he comes fearlessly and bravely with a message to his people, a message of economic freedom—MR. A. PHILIP RANDOLPH.

What a striking figure he was, as he walked to and fro across the newly finished stage of the Lincoln Theatre, delivering his address to an eager audience of 5000 Black Americans. For one hour and forty minutes he talked with the eloquence of language and speech, as has never been heard before, only in such places as the United States Senate and White House. His message was to no individual, to no set group, but to his Race. He pleaded that they support him in his battle for economic freedom for his people; that they lend both moral and financial support, in order that he might lead them from the status of an oppressed race to the level of his more favored Nordic brother, to a higher standard of living and existence, and we quote him as saying: "POWER alone will do it. We must strive for more POWER, for in Unity there is Strength; divided we stand alone." He pointed out the fact clearly that Lincoln would have never freed the slaves if he could have saved the Union otherwise. To save the Union was his most treasured hope, and to this end he freed the slaves, he knew that in unity there was strength. He spoke of the world's war being started in quest of POWER. Economic freedom must be obtained through higher wages. Higher wages can be obtained by organization. Why organization? Because, organization gives us POWER. This was a part of the message which this most noble, brave and sincere Son of Ethiopia, coming like a bolt out of the sky, delivered fearlessly, faultlessly and honestly to his audience of 5000 Black Americans last Sunday at the new Lincoln Theatre.

As he finished his masterful oration Dad Day, representative of the American Federation of Labor grabbed his hand and shook it warmly, as did other prominent white and black guests on the platform. He was given a hearty welcome by Dr. Whittaker, noted writer and speaker, who also made a brief address! Dr. H. C. Hudson, president of the local branch of the N. A. A. C. P., president Liberty Building Loan Association; Clarence Johnson, Secy. of Local No. 582, dining car employees union; Mrs. Hill, the very brilliant president of the West Side Property Owners Improvement Association and the Rev. L. G. Robinson.

The program opened with an invocation by Rev. L. G. Robinson which was followed by a vocal solo; Carpentier, snappy manager of the New Lincoln made a brief talk on the future policies of the playhouse, stating that it was to be operated from the front door to the back by Black Americans, and clean pictures and wholesome entertainment only would be tolerated. This was indeed good news to all and a healthy patronage of the race is assured.

For many years Los Angeles Black Americans have awaited the day when they could have a clean place of amusement to while away their leisure hours after a hard day's work, and at last our day has come. Let us make the best of it, start it clean and keep it clean. Doc Straine, the leading comedian of the new Lincoln gave a few minutes of Eastern gossip, mingled with humor and spoke the usual California salutation, which is California Here I Come. The writer has always thought the wording should have been changed in this song to California Here I Stay.

Chapel Hall Becomes Impatient

As Rev. L. G. Robinson was making a plea for a healthy collection, a voice like a clap of thunder, although rather sweet in a church choir, was suddenly heard from the extreme rear of the audience as follows: Mr. Chairman, if you will cut out the proclamation and pass the hat you will see your money. Thereupon Dunham picked up what appeared to be a fortune of yellow currency in the form of one dollar bills and passed the hat. Rev. Robinson was heard to say that he was glad to see that the boys were willing to help the cause along.

Pullman Porters Are Organizing

Pullman porters are organizing all over the country. Los Angeles is no exception. Meetings are being held every night in the week. Mr. Dunham, Mr. Bowles, Mr. Nixon, Mr. Hall and Mr. Hill are the boys who are going to open up the new Lincoln. The boys say that they packed baggage till they were blue in the face and all they got was thank you! Some class to them Eastern sports.

Maid Teenie Upton is off for one month's leave of absence, she will return to the road the 1st of November.

Mr. Shores(glass) Supt. Pullman Company has gone on a visit to St. Louis.

Mrs. G. C. Curry wife of G. C. Curry popular Lark porter has been sick but is now on the mend.

UNION PACIFIC GOSSIP
By: J. R.

A washout between Moapa and Crest Line caused trains 7 and 8, 27 and 28 to detour over the Southern Pacific via Sacramento, Calif. Experiences of a thrilling nature were reported by buffet porter Lacy and many others. Diners arriving into L. A. 36 and 40 hours late were compelled to leave out the same afternoon which of course caused them to "sing 'em."

Here and There

Dean King Chef Cook on the Rock Island proved a hero in a recent wreck near St. Louis, Mo., by organizing a relief crew to rescue the injured. It is hoped that this member of our group will be awarded for displaying nerve in a disaster of this kind.

Diners of the very latest type have arrived in Los Angeles, cars of the 390 type are to be replaced with this type.

Diner No. 304 which has had a record of having gone for six months without having caught an Inspector had the misfortune to catch three of them in one trip.

Clifton Johnson (who is about as hard to keep up with as styles are) is on diner 4017.

Odell Duncan has returned to work after recovering from an injury received some few weks ago.

Diner 377 was assigned to the Marine Special from Salt Lake City to San Pedro. (We know prospects were good for a meeting as Whittaker was a member of the crew.)

Wm. Robbins is doing Red Cap duty at the U. P. station.

Baker Heater Report

Rumore that no one but "The Baker Heater Committee" knows the origin, reports that Omaha will again operate trains Nos. 7 and 8, 27 and 28 out of the Omaha Commissary effective November 1st. A change in the present operation of these trains is expected but for anything authentic we are unable to say.

Chicago After Dark

Maid B. E. Marshall of the Chicago District filled the unfinished trip of Maid Minnie Blakemore who was relieved at North Platte to catch Train No. 27.

Diner 302 was put in Special Train carrying delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention in San Francisco.

Owing to the inclement weather that pravails at the present time, waiters that have participated in out-door sports are compelled to indulge in indoor sports. Briggs quarters no doubt will have to put out the "All Rooms Taken" sign.

They Say

That: pantryman Grice, diner 4017, scored another knock-out although he did have to crawl into the kitchen for his victim. (Mr. Reynolds was the referee and rendered a decision with a time check.)

That: Traveling Chef Pruce remained in Chicago to see the Dempsey Tunney fight and his penalty for doing so was two weeks on the K. P. division. That: The recent snow in Wyoming has caused much regret with some of the gang as it was not expected so soon. But if you think it is a joke, keep thinking, but when you reach Canal and Madison it will be "every tub".

That: Maid Minnie Blakemore had to get off at North Platte in the rain to catch 27.

That: A Union Pacific waiter by the name of Dempsey wants to change his name to Johnson or anything since the fight.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey J. Tyre of 516 Catalina Ave. were number among the "Gold Coast passengers on a very recent trip returning from an extended trip East.

Send your news in early. Beginning October 15th I will make a car to car canvass for subscriptions. You can't say No.

DUCKS

Only the wealthy can afford to go duck hunting and play golf these days, even if some of the duck hunters do not know the difference between a duck and a mud hen. Two of our prominent Lark porters, one a sheik and the other a hard-boiled duck hunter, struck out for Big Bear Lake last week. No, they did not walk, they went in the hard-boiled gent's—Mr. M. E. Jackson—flivver. The sheik, Mr. C. H. Levy was a tenderfoot at duck hunting, having spent his childhood day in hunting chickens, but he had plenty of nerve. With about a hundred rounds of ammunition they landed somewhere in the vicinity of Big Bear Lake. Mr. Jackson stepped right out like the seasoned hunter he is and got the limit. The sheik got separated and long about dark came trailing into camp with a limit also. What? A limit of Ducks? No! stupid, a limit of MUD HENS.

BANQUET GIVEN BY LADIES AUXILIARY PULLMAN PORTERS BENEVOLENT AAS'N.

What was expressed as one of the gala affairs of the year was a banquet given at the Christian Tavern by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Pullman Porters Benevolent Association, last Friday evening at 8 P. M. Covers were laid for 75 people, music was rendered by a very capable orchestra, which made dancing a pleasure. No admission was charged. Mrs. D. Hood, Mrs. Fletcher, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. C. H. Washington and Mrs. C. E. Hill were on the entertainment committee. A wonderful program was a feature of the evening: Mrs. Scott of Boston rendered a selection from Dunbar; Mrs. Sorrel read a paper, while a very fine instrumental solo was given by Mrs. Hubert. During the absence of the President, Mrs. E. Jasper, Mrs. C. E. Hill made the opening address; remarks were made by Mr. D. Hood which brought forth much applause. A large attendance was on hand, many of the elite of Los Angeles being present.

New Yorkers Plan Exclusive Colony

(By The Associated Negro Press)

New York, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Plans for a summer colony for colored people in the area which includes the exclusive social colony of Bar Harbor, Maine, were announced here by the firm of Nail and Parker, real estate brokers of West 135th Street.

The proposed summer colony has been made possible by the acquirement of an option to 1,200 plots of about a quarter of an acre each at Sorrento, Maine, a development which faces Bar Harbor across the narrow cove.

The property is owned by the Mann Realty Corporation, which gave an option on the property to Joseph E. Edelman, who transferred it to Nail and Parker.

When questioned at his offices, Mr. Nail, who is a director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said that the development of the colony promises to include a club house, golf links, tennis courts, and a bathing establishment. The latter, it was said, would face the bathing establishment of Bar Harbor.

At Bar Harbor are the summer homes of John D. Rockefeller, Jr.; Mrs. William Pierson Hamilton, a sister of the late J. Pierpont Morgan; Mrs. Henry F. Dimock, sister of the late William C. Whitney; Philip Livingston; Vance McCormick, and Wynant D. Vanderpol, New York millionaires who are widely known for their philanthropy and business associations.

The firm of Nail and Parker is the same firm which negotiated for the purchase of the land on which the late Madame Walker built her country home at Irvington-on-the-Hudson, close to and adjoining the magnificent estate of John D. Rockefeller.

GIRL FOUND DYING

Miss Ethel Nemo, 24, of 2223 Hooper Ave., passed away at the Receiving Hospital early Saturday, October 8th as the result of her successful attempt to end her existence, it is reported.

According to the story she told to police when taken to the hospital in a weakened condition, it is said, was to the effect that for the whole day last Friday she had eaten nothing but crackers and Kellogg's Ant Paste. Friday evening, at about 11 o'clock she left her home where she lived with her sister, Mrs. Jessie Fountain, and went to the city dump where she intended throwing herself into the fire, but her pains were too severe and she fell to the ground suffering, where the watchman discovered her. He offered to send her home but she protested stating that she had no home, he then called the police who rushed her to the hospital where she died while they were trying to pump the poison out of her stomach.

The police were unable to get any reason out of her for her rash act, but from their investigation they conclude that she was despondent over her health accompanied with a few other minor worries over which she brooded.

Funeral services were held at Bethel Holiness Church, Thursday, October 13, at 2 P. M.

Elizabeth Bruce New Theatre Organist

Before the opening of the new Lincoln Theatre, one of West Coast's finest and most luxurious movie houses located in the heart of Los Angeles' black American colony, and entirely under race management, came many inquiries as to who would appear before the console of the massive $25,000 Wurlitzer organ. Prophesies came from all sides that this position, so vital a factor in the entertainment, would surely be filled by a man of the other race. Applications from various expert organists of the city swamped the files of Manager Carpentier until he was at a loss as to whom he should select. Finally, upon the recommendation of the Ellsworth Music Shoppe, Mrs. Elizabeth Williamson Bruce was asked to tryout and before she had finished her number, it was all settled in the mind of the manager that she was the "man" for the job.

BARTLETT PUPIL

The daughter of Mrs. Minnie Williamson, Mrs. Bruce comes from one of Los Angeles' pioneer families. She was married three years ago to Joseph Bruce, a native son. After graduation from L. A. High, Mrs. Bruce began a special course in organ music under Dean Skeele of U. S. C., who regarded her as one of his prize pupils and predicted for her a great future. She also studied sacred music for a number of years under Prof. Elmer Bartlett to whom she gives a great deal of credit for her inspiration and encouragement.

WAS CHURCH ORGANIST

Mrs. Bruce was organist for Phillips Chapel C. M. E. Church for six years; the Independent Church and, at the time of her appointment at the theatre, she was organist at the historic Eighth and Towne A. M. E. Church. Her success as an accompanist for sacred concerts was climaxed by a series of religious concerts for the Bishops' Council recently held in Trinity Auditorium where she won the admiration of that august body with her soulful interpretations of such well-known number as Buck's Festival Te Deum, Handel's Hallelujah Chorus and our own spirituals which she plays in a most appealing manner.

At the pre-view and dedication of the gorgeous new temple of cinematic art last Thursday evening which was largely attended by film notables and prominent race artists, Mrs. Bruce contributed well to the performance and was complimented by scores of musicians and music-lovers of the city.

In an interview with the writer, this young woman, with a modesty that was both charming and altogether intriguing, showed much reluctance to discuss either her art or her achievements but because we believe that some little black boy or girl with a musical bent may be inspired by her success and above all, her almost uncanny ability for diligent study, we have set forth her story for their benefit.

DINNER IN HONOR OF MAYOR OF MANILA

Culminating the social engagement of the Hon. Miguel Romualdez, mayor of the City of Manila and his son, Eduardo Romualdez, who is leaving for Berlin, Germany, to complete his demical studies at the Imperial University of Berlin, was the appointed dinner at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. Lindogan, 1452 W. 37th St. of this city. The Mayor is en route to Washington, D. C. to confer with President Coolidge on political matters.

Mr. Lindogan, president of the In'l. Prod. Corp., the only Filipino Exporting and Importing concern between Los Angeles and Manila, had among his guests, Mr. A. Antenocruz, secretary of the company; Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Ibanes, the latter, formerly official of the Philippine Na'l. Bank, now resident of this city; Mr. Ibanez, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Tubilleja; Mr. and Mrs. Ellison; Messrs. Tamisen, Albuya and Zuelo.

"Chinese Revolution As I Saw It"

This will be the subject of a lecture to be given by Earl R. Browder, editor of "Labor Unity," at Music-Art Hall, 233 So. Broadway, Wednesday, October 19, 8 P. M.

Browder was in the midst of the Chinese revolution; served as general secretary at the Labor Conference in that wonderful country last summer, and, therefore, his knowledge and experience on the Chinese situation is unexcelled. He is touring the country under the auspices of the Anti-Imperialist League. Earl R. Browder will also be present at a banquet held in his honor as well as the honor of Paul C. Reiss, the nationally known subscription expert, at Co-operative Center, 2706 Brooklyn Ave., Wednesday, October 17, 8 P. M. All friends of suppressed peoples are invited to attend both these splendid gatherings of Los Angeles workers. Admission to lecture 25c, banquet 35c a plate.

A colored speaker will be asked to take the floor at both affairs.

Charges "Absurd" Declares New York Mayor

New York, Oct. 7.—Mayor James J. Walker, returning here last week, declared that the story he had drawn the color line in a Rome cabaret is entirely untrue and without foundation.

"Absurd," said the mayor. "I was in no cabaret there. I was too much under the influence of the ancient and modern beauty of Rome. It would have lacked in all that is fine in men for me to have forgone these great and splendid works of art for the mere diversion of a night club.

"I went to see the Dolly Sisters in Paris, then I went to a night club in the same city where Josephine Baker of Harlem is the principal attraction."

This statement was in addition to the news radioed from the ship bringing the mayor back home in which he denied the affair and said he woud like to know who was responsible for the statement.

Club Women and The Public

Hear Mrs. Johanna Snowden, National Organizer of the National Association of Clored Women's Clubs who will speak at the A. M. E. Zion Church, Pico and Paloma Sts., Sunday morning, October 16th at 11 o'clock. All club women are urged to be present an the public is invited.

ECHOES FROM PARIS, FRANCE

Mrs. Mamie White writes the Eagle that she is enjoying Paris. She further states that the Legion Convention was a unique demonstration of the friendly feeling existing between France and the United States.

Paris is a wonderful city, beautiful enough to be the playground of the Gods, and a land in which freedom takes a full, long breath.

Even though Mrs. White was winding up her stay at Paris, and moving on to Switzerland, she impressed us that she would not soon forget her visit to the beautiful French metropolis.

ANTI-NEGRO SCHOOL STRIKE IN GARY

BY: WILLIAM PICKENS
(For the Associated Negro Press)

Of course, it is the white parents who are using their children in the Gary school "strike" in order to force the few colored pupils out of the high school. They are doing dirty work through their offspring.

Just as in the South, those who want to oppress the Negro ush the women. When they want to down the Negro in Mississippi, they dodge behind the skirts. But in Gary, Indiana, they are hiding under the diapers.

This is bad training for the young American of Gary. It will help neither their respect for law nor their inclination toward fairplay.

The students could not support a strike without their parents. The young people are ignorant and the parents ar foolish.

PORO COLLEGE AIDS STORM VICTIMS

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 8.—Five thous and storm victims have been helped by Poro College, according to reports given out Saturday morning. Some fifteen hundred are being fed each day at the college and the auditorium has been turned into sleeping quarters for those who were made homeless by the storm which struck this city last week.

Immediately after the tragedy, Mrs. Malone ordered the officials of the college to join hands with those who were seking to help the sufferers and the announcement was made that meals would be served to the victims each day. The first day found more than one thousand homeless men, women and children in line. This number has increased daily.

The spacious auditorium was transformed into baracks and cots placed therein to accommodate one hundred people. Additional cots were placed in the dressing rooms for children.

There is a great need of money in the storm area and St. Louis citizens are urging Negroes throughout the country to help St. Louis in this crisis.

Major Bradden Objects To Segregation of Legion Delegates

New York City, Oct. 8.—Major William S. Bradden, chaplain of the Eighth Illinois Regiment, known during the war as the 370th, has sent a letter of protest to the chairman of the housing committee which placed the delegates to the convention of the American Legion in Paris, France. According to Major Bradden, all of the Negro delegates were sent to one place by themselves and he writes Edwin Thorn, the chairman, that the "mere housing of twenty Negroes in one place is no mere freak of chance, but the result of a well-worked out plan."

Rev. J. H. Wilson Heads Delegation to A. M. E. General Conference At Chicago In May, 1928

Rev. J. H. Wilson, Presiding Elder of the Southern California Conference had the distinction of election by unanimous vote to head the delegation of his conference to the General Conference which meets in Chicago in May of next year.

Rev. Wilson is well deserving, however, of any honor which this body can confer upon him. He is a pioneer church builder and has accomplished more for his church on these Western shores than any other man. His work has been of a constructive nature and to his genius indeed is the crux of the mighty progress of African Methodism in the great West. The Presiding Elder has made a valiant fight at each session of the General Conference for recognition in these parts and his friends and supporters feel that this year he will gain his goal and bring to this city the great Western Christian Recorder which is the organ of the Church for the West and with its coming Rev. Wilson will, as its editor, automatically become a General Officer of the Church. With the establishment of this concern in the West under the guidance of this intrepid pioneer, the Church will indeed out-do its wonderful progress and gain a greater momentum than ever before.

MOB RULE WINS IN GARY, IND.

(By: A. N. P.)

Gary, Ind., Oct. 7.—Mob rule won in the recent school fight and Monday morning found Emerson High School "white" with the exception of three Negro seniors and these were found huddled together in the back, with an imaginary line separating them from their white classmates.

The fight began last week when a group of white students walked out of the school because of the presence of twenty-four Negroes. The strike grew until the number of strikers numbered 1,400. For a long time Superintendent Wirt stuck by his guns but Thursday night the City Council gave in to the strikers and formulated a plan of settlement which was in keeping with the desires of those students who had defied law and order and constituted authority.

To meet the demands of the white students, the city lawmakers not only proved that they were in accord wih the spirit of the strikers and their weakness, but also voted out $15,000 of the taxpayers money to do so. This fifteen thousand dollars was spent to erect a temporary school for twenty-one of the Negro students, the other three being permitted to remain "providing it was understood that they be assigned to a certain section of the class rooms and would take no part in athletic or social activities."

According to the present plan of the city lawmakers, $1,000,000 will be spent next year to establish a "Negro unit," which will be established in the Negro section of the town. This plan was opposed by the Negroal Aldermn, A. B. Whitlock, Samuel R. Blackwell and William E. Burrus, but they along with Superintendent Wirt were snowed under by other members of the council and "outside influence."

The colored citizens, however, have not accepted the proposals and mass meetings are being held almost nightly. While it is expected that they are fight a losing battle, they intend to figh to be end and much of interest is expected to transpire before final action is taken.

Pre-View at Lincoln Theatre Was Notable Occasion

On last Thursday evening the day before the formal opening of the new Lincoln Theatre, in response to invitations by its management, quite 2500 persons witnessed the very first run of pictures and the high class performance which was presented on this occasion.

First of all when one entered the large and spacious lobby heavily carpeted, with uniform attendants at every hand, they were met by beautiful young women usherettes, specially uniformed who directed you to such seats available at your desire. You cast a glance about you and you at once formed the opinion that you were present and snugly encrouched in just about as fine and beautiful a playhouse as it had ever been your privilege to enter. Every appointment was perfection including the lighting, drop curtains, draw curtains, draperies, etc.

Then for the performance, the grand ensemble, and a period with "Curtis Mosby's Blue Blowers" was a classic indeed. This incomparable orchestra made good with a vengeance as did also its master of ceremonies, Sir Bobbie Williams, if you please. And then there came the Ali Brothers, the boys who made up a trio of just about the niftiest dances which have ever come this way.

From here we saw the famous Doc Strain and his buds the Kings and Queens of Comedy who put on a presentation which took the house of invited guests by storm. Chorus singing and comedy to let and all present were satisfied in the superlative degree.

Doc Straine himself and Sam Russell as comedians made for themselves a home for lovers of real artistic entertainment. Sara Martin's interpretation of the Blues went over great as thunderous applause attested.

Space forbids a detailed mention of each member of a very excellent and pleasing caste.

The picture produced is worthy of special mention.

The large concourse who attended were loud in the praises of Mr. Ramish, the owner of Lincoln Theatre; Mr. Curtis Carpentier, the genial manager, for a delightful evening for the pre-view and visited a theatre outclassed by no other and saw a show which will be very hard to beat.

We congratulate them and the entire staff consisting of Mrs. Elizabeth Bruce, organist; Eugene Jackson, stage manager; James B. Brown, chief electrician; H. Payne, projectionist; Marie Carter, Cashier; Willa Mae Smith, chief usherette; R. H. Pierce, chief superintendent; Fred Cook, Special Officer; Billy Tucker, ticket taker, for a very, very fine evening.

Famous Artists' News Reel To Go Forth From Los Angeles

Pictures of organizations, business efforts worth while and events outstanding by the race, will be taken in moving pictures and shown on the screen in 750 picture houses throughout the country.

This has been made possible by the Famous Artists Company, 121 W. 41st Stret, New York City, and will be dedicated as the Famous Negro News, with this great National Company as producers. They have engaged Mr. Van Trevor of Culver City to take upwards of 1000 feet of pictures each week. Mr. Trevor in return has arranged with J. B. Bass, editor of this paper, to arrange for the subjects which are to be presented.

The first subject was the Independent Church of Christ at Recessional last Sunday; on Monday the o ce and working force of The California Eagle and The Lincoln Theatre. Next Sunday opening of the Winter Baseball season at White Sox Park.

National Ass'n. For Advancement of Colorored People Going Great Guns

The dinner conference of last Friday evening by the N. A. A. C. P. at Pico and Paloma St. Church, was a notable occasion at which the editor of the Messenger, J. Philip Randolph spoke and the first move made toward financing the National meeting which will be held in this city August, 1928, was inaugurated.

Despite the fact of the grand opening of the new Lincoln Theatre on this evening more than 100 persons were present for the big dinner and more than $700.00 was pledged to the entertainment fund for the National meeting.

THE LURE OF THE SILVER FOX

There are vocations and avocations. Ofttimes in these rushing days of life we find men whose daily occupation drain every ounce of their mental energy, turn in their spare time to an occupation that not only relieves and releases the mind but one that serves to replenish and refreshen, not only the mind but the physical man as well. Many times an avocation is taken up, not so much for financial gain but as a secret love of that particular line. Few men are engaged in the work of their heart's desire. Many men whose work in life has brought great financial returns, turn at last in the days when relieved from the anxieties of earning a livelihood to the one work that all their life they have felt called to do. There is a joy in doing the work of one's calling that no material gain can recompense. The person is at once changed from a bit of human machinery, doing a thing because it is the only alternative; to a living, fiery, happy soul.

'Tis this change that we note in Dr. J. T. Whittaker of Pasadena that calls forth these few remarks at this time. Dr. Whittaker has for the past ten years practised medicine in the city of Pasadena. During this time he has built up an enviable reputation, so much so that his physical strength has been over-taxed to take care of the demands on his time. Just how Dr. Whittaker happened to become interested in Silver Foxes, we did not think to ask. It must have been some inherent love of animal life that caused his attention to be directed to this line, for the tone of voice and expression employed in speaking of them tell us that the silver-black fox is dear to the heart of Dr. Whittaker.

Dr. Whittaker's interest in Silver Black Foxes is valued a $30,000. He has a fox farm located near Big Bear Lake. 'Tis the valuable Boreston strain, who fur cannot be imitated, and can only be afforded by the princess of the financial world, which is absorbing his time and heart these days.

"Who is Who" in Our Group in L. A.

In the opinion of M. H. Shelton, L. G. Robinson is the "Who" of Los Angeles.

Shelton's opinion, according to active usefulness to our City and adjoining communities and influence for good and benefit to his fellowmen and influence with both races; that L. G. Robinson is entitled to the crown. Not to enumerate the many things that Mr. Robinson is daily interested in I will speak of one: The custodianship of the Hall of Records that he and his good assistants so peacefully and ably handle, and President of

ON THE SIDEWALK

By C. A. B.

AS we meander along trying to give credit where credit is due. So strong is our desire to see, as you might say, a bulwark of legitimate Negro business; we would build them in printer's ink even as they are already established in our "mind's eye." However we promised to give you the facts in the case and so, even as they are, we now set them forth.

From 12th to 14th St., we find our business activities represented by Pleasant's Barber Shop and Pleasant's Jewelry Repair Shop, 1201 Central Ave.; Brown's News Agency, 1201 Central Ave.; Spike's Bros. & Ellsworth Music Shop, 1203 Central Ave.; McKinney Bros. Electric Co., 1213 Central Ave.; L. A. Dress and Apron Shop, 1211 Central Ave.; Johnson Cigar Shop, 1221 Central; H. Brown, Haberdasher, Tailoring and Cleaning, 1223 Central; Murray & Stewart, Bail Bond Brokers, 1225 Central Ave.; Pat's Southern Kitchen, 1227 Central Ave.; Rhodes Barber Shop, 1229 Central Ave.; Baumann's Drug Store, No. 2, 1300 Central Ave.; Franklin's Tamale Parlor, 1305 Central Ave.; New Age Dispatch, 1307 Central Ave.; Smith & Williams, 1309 Central Ave.; Little Wonder Cafe, 1213 Central Ave.; Child's Smoke Shop, 1312 Central Ave.; Warren's Gas Filling Station, 1320 Central Ave.; Thompson's Barber Shop, 1208 Central Ave.

"THE Time is NOW!" we conclude. Yes, we have said much. It has always been our policy to speak if by word we might cheer on to higher achievement our own, the stumbling, the weak, in the human race.

We have done our mite. Sometimes it has been small but our conscience rests, when we know we have done what we could to relieve those in distress, those who falter by the wayside in the onward, forward march of humanity.

Yet there is room! The words of the man who said, "A stitch in time saves nine," burn brightly, giving light to the pathway we choose. To the Negro youth we turn as if by divine hand appointed. To the child in the groping years of life, the years in which he lays the foundation for a full life of usefulness or an empty one of idleness. We see the wonderful possibilities that lay latent, covered over by skins varying in hue from the softer browns to a questionable shadow, then deeper to a depth as "black as the night." They are ours all of them. We have neglected them. They have not ben lifted u pby us to the pedestal of Encouragement accorded the fairer youth of the land. We have not watched over them with that discerning eye, seeking to draw out all the good that it might overcome their weakness. So it is that in many cases they have become discouraged and failed to achieve many things.

To lessen the possibility of the failures in the link of the human chain, we represent; we would strengthen the composition thereof. We would give those that will compose the link of tomorrow a better start than we had. So it is that we come with a timely appeal to the members of our group to stand by the young people in their respective community in their every effort worthwhile. What are they doing? Have they a club or organization? What is the purpose of it? What have they besides their school and church life as a practical outlet of their energy or expression of their talents. Help them to find themselves knowing that "He who finds himself loses his misery."

We are going to do our bit to help the child who has ambition enough to want the best things that life offers. It is a great task. We have the plan outlined, but we will need the help of every person in the community. We are asking that everyone will become a booster for the most promising child in their own neighborhood. Select a child between the ages of ten and fourteen years, whose general department speaks a desire of attaining the things most worth while. Choose the busy child, the child who reads much, the child that is a lover of games, the

No. 3
IN THE HOTEL

Los Angeles Biltmore

TEN MILLION DOLLARS was the cost of building, furnishing and equipping the Los Angeles Biltmore Hotel, at Fifth and Olive Streets. It is an outstanding representative of that national group of hotels which has made the name "Biltmore" a by-word for the finest in hotel construction, service and management.

Los Angeles Biltmore is a small city in itself, with its 1200 employees and 1000 rooms. It entertains from 6000 to 10,000 guests per month.

So great has been its success in serving its patrons that it is now increasing its capacity by 50%, and the investment in it by nearly $4,000,000, through the construction of an addition containing 500 rooms, and what will be the largest hotel ballroom in the world.

The amount of electrical equipment used by Los Angeles Biltmore in catering to the comfort and convenience of its guests amply illustrates how the modern hotel depends on electric service:

13 Motors to operate 15 elevators	total 612 HP.
16 Motors to operate laundry	total 90 HP.
28 Motors to operate kitchen devices	total 44 HP.
26 Motors to operate ventilation system	total 438 HP.
33 Motors to operate engine room and refrigeration	total 518 HP.
2 Motors to operate print shop.

All baking of bread, pastry and rolls is done in electric ovens.

The lighting system is, of course, electric.

The new ballroom will be fully wired for special lighting, exhibits, radio broadcasting, speech amplifying, and for photography.

Los Angeles Biltmore now has an average electric current consumption sufficient to supply the electric needs of nearly 15,000 average households. This indicates the part of electricity in modern hotel service.

It is a source of great pride to us that Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation meets the electrical requirements of Los Angeles Biltmore.

McADOO "QUITS"

BY: Wm. PICKENS

That's very interesting: to have a fellow "declining"- something which nobody is going to oger him. So McAdoo decides not to be nominated on the Democratic ticket for President of the United States,—and nobody has ever yet decided that he ever could be nominated.

And yet he decides to "quit." That is like the man who shouts back: "I resign!" after he has been emphatically told: "You're fired!"—Perhaps later we may hear that Cole L. Blease, of South Carolina, has decided not to be President of France.

But McAdoo "withdraws." Well, everything means something else; nothing is absolutely meaningless,—not even in the words and deeds of an ordinary politician. And so, there is some meaning in this action and these queer words of McAdoo. It means that the McAdoo crowd have decided on that course as about the only way in which they could hurt the chances of Governor Alfred Smith of New York. They mean to hint: "Now, since McAdoo has declined something which he cannot get,—it's up to you, Governor Smith, to decline something which you have at least some chance to get." McAdoo withdraws for "party harmony." That is supposed to hint that if Smith stays in the race, he will be responsible for all the party disharmony,—as if there was ever any real harmony between northern and southern Democrats, since the days of Stephen A. Douglas. They have compromised and pulled together at times —like those who "compound a felony," but there can be no real harmony between the type of civilization represented by Alfred Smith and that supported by McAdoo,—none between Democratic decency and Democratic Ku-klux-ism.

We have not yet decided whether we want either one of these Democrats for President,—but we have long ago decided that, as between McAdoo and Smith, we would choose Smith a thousand times before we ever thought of McAdoo.

Blythe News

Sunday was a lovely day and many persons turned out to the morning services at Bethel A. M. E. Church, Zion and St. Paul Baptist Church. Sunday P. M. at three o'clock, Rev. Jackson preached a wonderful sermon at the Zion Church. Rev. W. Neal spoke wonderfully and was followed by Rev. R. A. Harris, the newly appointed pastor of the A. M. E. Church at Redlands.

Rev. Haywood, pastor of St. Paul Baptist Church came in late but spoke on the close of meeting and bade Rev. Redden who is to leave for Conference October 11th to be held at Monrovia, to "GO." It is lovely to see the ministers in perfect harmony. These ministers all commended Sister Gussie Buford for efforts here at Blythe.

The St. Paul B. Y. P. U. ha da hot contest between classes, prizes being offered to the captains raising the most funds, Misses Margaret Hodnett and Louise Wilkins were winners. Rev. Haywood presented them their presents with fitting commendations while the membership chered. Mr. John Sullivan of Los Angeles rendered a beautiful Saxophone Solo, while Mr. Leonard with a chorus sang beautifully in the B. Y. P. U. program.

Saturday night Brother J. C. Alexander and his club No. 2, known as the "Wreckers" gave a great entertainment. They sold from peanuts up to roast pig. Mr. H. McDonald was the winner of both prizes offered for pinning the Donkey's Tail on correctly. He is a Pastor Master at this work.

Rev. Redden and wife and Sister Gussie Buford had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bell on East Hobsonway, Sunday P. M.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Lawrence, residents of the North End of the Valley, served a delicious dinner Sunday with Rev. E. D. Haywood and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins of Healer Ben, Ariz., Mr. J. G. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Wheeler of Blythe as guests. Also Mrs. Lillian Bassett and her mother, Mrs. Pinkie Williams of Los Angeles were present. These latter two are sister and mother of Mrs. Wheeler.

Mr. Edward Bransford, one of Blythe's prominent young men, had a serious accident Sunday while driving on N. Intake. He met a car with three men on the front seat. They were driving rapidly and failed to give any road. A collision followed. The three men apparently were drinking and they managed to drag a loose from Bransford's car and continued south. Bradford's car turned completely over and he narrowly escaped being killed. However, as Fate would have it, he is not seriously injured. Who these men are who were so uncivilized and so beastly has not been found out yet. They were Mexicans or white. He was half unconscious for some time.

BY: Wm. MATT SOLOMON

Next Sunday at 3 P. M. the installation of the officers of the Brotherhood and Euzelian Classes will be held in the auditorium of Friendship Baptist Church. The occasion is the launching of the winter campaign under the leadership of Mr. J. H. Stokes as president. The installation sermon will be preached by Rev. Dr. Middleton a speaker of much renown and the event is looked forward to with much interst inasmuch as a majority of the men are interested in this project. A feature of the program will be a solo by Capt. Wm. Reynolds.

The choir of the First A. M. E. Church is undergoing a radical change since the return of their choir leader, Mrs. Cora Morrow who has very recently returned from an extensive visit in the East visiting parents and friends. Without an exception Mrs. Morrow is in an exceptional class as a musician and with the addition of new members and taking on of new life among the older ones of the Choir a master organization is looked for.

An "Old Clothes Day" is being inaugurated by the members of the Friendship Baptist Church when all cast-off clothing wil be assembled on a certain day before the scheduled rally and then disposed of to augment the required amount. This proposition has its originality with the pastor who is very progressive in advancing new ideas. The Fall rally is looked forward to as being quite successful.

The "A Square Social Club" under the guiding influence of Earl Grant as President is fostering many social events for the coming season. This organization is only in its infancy but has already been the source of much enjoyment for the social set. Mr. Earl Grant has but recently come to Pasadena, nevertheless his presence is greatly felt not only socially but commercially being associated with his brother in the wholesale rubbish disposal business and is also a director in the Dayton Street Hall Co., a new innovation in Pasadena enterprises which is rapidly forging to the front.

A movement is on foot to consolidate the Hiram and Jewel Masonic lodged which would work a mighty miracle along Fraternal lines as neither of them individually is strong enough to put over anything big. This contention which has been going the rounds for some time but because of the influence of some of the charter members of both lodges failed in its efforts, now seems more of a certainty. The matter of office seeking has heretofore hampered the project but younger blood has been infused into the ranks with more progressive ideas which lends much inspiration to the movement. They have met for years in the hall at Dayton and Fair Oaks but since the acquiring of the new Dayton Hall have moved to those quarters which are more elaborate and convenient.

WERE OUR ANCESTORS JUNGLE FOLK?

BY: DRUSILLA DUNJEE HOUSTON
(For Associated Negro Press)

We will not carry more of the story of WONDERFUL ETHIOPIANS, the book which is receiving such favorable comment in our great Negro weeklies, but Mrs. Houston will conduct this department, giving us the richest fruit of her farther study of the Ethiopian in Africa and the New World. She has five completed manuscripts. Three on the Ethiopian of the Ancient World, and there will be three on the Ethiopian of the Ancient World, and there will be three on the Ethiopian of modern times.

She contends that no modern book can give justice to race traits and tendencies without knowledge of the primal roots from which these characteristics sprang. The PITTSBURG COURIER in its review column makes exactly this criticism of the book on the African Ethiopian that are considered absolutely authorative but my heart ached as he accurately painted traits of the African ruined by the WHITE slave traffic. He wrote without the background of the great Ethiopian nations BEHIND that ruin. His books therefore harm the race.

"I was talking with a great race leader recently, and he said, "Always in my heart was the belief that we had a great ancestry, but I could not prove it. That belief gave me my ambitions and perhaps made me what I am. My daughter returned from College bringing her sociology, and I sat down to read it. It said that the Negro race had always been a BACKWARD race and that we had always been hewers of wood and drawers of water, and I thought to myself. This white text is forced on our children and we are compelled to send them to school and if we ever teach them anything else it will have to come out of our own race. This book WONDERFUL ETHIOPIANS is what we needed."

It was this thing that set me to work searching for the materials in the book WONDERFUL ETHIOPIANS. In the school room I discovered that the Negro boy is full of high ambitions up to a certain age. Then one day the iron of the untruth of white books against the black race enters his soul. The thought comes to him with blasting lightning stroke. None, none of these fine beckoning rewards that history and literature are for me. We meet him a little later upon the street, out of school, TOUGH is beginning to write itself in his face. I believe in the black boy, and I determined to seek the truth first for them.

If it took a lifetime, they should have the FACTS that would cause them to SQUARE their shoulders and look into the faces of other races with the knowledge that they were MEN. Too long had some types of the race because of untruthful teaching about their race, cringed and crawled at the feet of white people, a race with an inferior ancentry. Learned whites here say that it is scientifically proved in WONDERFUL ETHIOPIANS that civilization sprang from the black race. Prejudiced whites say, "No Negro woman wrote that book, the race could not produce a book so correct in contents and technical make-up. "SO THE WAR GOES ON."

L. A. FORUM TO BOOST AVIATION

Recognizing the imperative need for the youth of our race to qualify along the rapid progress of the aeroplane the Los Angeles Forum on last Sunday went on record as endorsing the movement to mobilize a class of at least 50 of our youth to qualify as pilots for air service.

The Forum therefore will stand sponsor for this movement and asks all of our various religious, civic and fraternal societies to assist in this movement to the utmost. They have appointed a special committee on Aviation, consisting of J. B. Bass, T. J. Norris and G. W. Fields.

The school has been selected which is a high grade and highly competent one and the class is being recruited. All who are interested will do well to get in touch with the members of this committee.

Smart Set Club

The regular meeting of the Smart Set Club met at the home of Mrs. Fanny Smith on Monday evening. The meeting was well attended, all were very busy preparing for our 3rd annual Fall Frolic to begiten soon. After the usual business Mrs. Smith served the girls with delicious refreshments. After a delightful time, the meeting adjourned to meet at the home of Miss Virginia Taylor next week.

SILVER FOX CLUB

The members of the Silver Fox Club were jubilant and somewhat surprised at their last meeting. The reason for this surprise was the announced return of Mr. Willis Dudley, a former member who has been residing recently in the northern part of the State. Mr. Dudley, it is easy to remember, was one of the most popular of Junior Clubmen. Right at this time after the Silver Fox has, for various reasons, been laying low, it doesn't appear unusual that the pack should feel excitable at the short return of the leader.

The Silver Fox Cub was until quite recently one of the outstanding Junior Societies in the city. What they gave was usually conceded to be O. K. They have been idle, awaiting apparently the return of the leader, he's back now, good people, and perhaps before he leaves he will leave with them that courage that will enable them to step out and retrieve their weakened prestige with the public.

Mrs. Ida Ellis of St. Louis, Mo., sister-in-law of Madam Massey, one of Los Angeles' oldest hair dressers, passed away after an illness of ten days. She became ill during the sickness of her brother, Mr. Massey, who is now much improved.

CORRECTION

Miss Della Howard of L. A. and Mr. Earl Smith of Pasadena were married last Mon., Oct. 3rd. Mrs. Smith is a former Jeff Hi student, etc.

PHYS-ART-LIT-MOR CLUB OPENS

After a three month's vacation, the officers and members of the Phys-Art-Lit-Mor Club had their formal opening luncheon meeting at Christian5s Tavern last Friday afternoon. Mrs. A. Hill, re-elected president of the club presided and Mrs. E. A. Johnson acted as chairman of the very excellent program which included quotations by the members, musical numbers and and outlining of the year's work by chairmen of committees.

The Club will hold its regular meetings at Christian's Tavern every Friday afternoon from two until four. The slogan for the new year is "On With the Club House" according to Mrs. Hill and everyone of the nearly sixty members joined in the chorus.

GET-AWAY DAY AT WESLEY M. E. CHURCH

Rev. A. P. Shaw, recently re-appointed pastor of Wesley M. E. Church for his 12th year, is calling upon the members and friends of the church to be present at the services this Sunday Morning and Evening. The Morning Sermon Subject is "Staking our Claim." In the evening he will begin a series of expository sermons on "The Gospel According to St. John." Bring your Bibles.

Special Gospel singing at both services.

Wesley is in for a fifty per cent advance along all lines this year. Come and see the "Get-Away Service."

Miss Pearlita Johnson, popular member of the Dodecagenian Art Club has been seriously ill in the Pacific Hospital. The members of the club and her many friends are glad that she's able to be home and wish her a speedy recovery.

Paul Brwon, young piano teacher of 137 Cheseborough Lane was awarded the nine months' free scholarship offered by Lilias G. Hart, piano technician.

Miss Harriett Jones is entertaining at a Sunday morning breakfast, Miss Lorena Mann from Des Moines, Iowa, at her home on Hooper avenue. Miss Jones will lay covers for twelve.

Wednesday evening classes in dancing were held at the Y. W. C. A. The girls seem to be taking advantage of this opportunity given to them through the work of Miss Jefferson.

Mrs. Esther Morris who left for a trip through out the East on the first of the month, is instructing a class in flower making in Kansas City. Mrs. Morris instructed a class at the Y. W. C. A. this city, and also at the Catholic Center on Essex and 16th Streets and was quite successful in her line of work. For more than eight years Mrs. Moris has supplied one of the largest establishments of the city with a very attractive flower of her own creation. Mrs. Morris expects to return to Los Angeles before the holidays.

Mr. A. Philip Randolph spoke before the Business Girls Club, Thursday at 6 P. M., and was very enthusiastically received. Mr. Randolph's speech, Oct. 2nd at the Lincoln Theatre on behalf of the Pullman Porters was a sensation and the Business Girls were glad of the opportunity to get Mr. Randolph to speak before them.

The first game of the Football season took place Sunday, Oct. 2nd, at Snyders Field, between the Merry Makers (winners of last year's cup) and Nil Nisi Bonum Club, before more than five hundred eager spectators. It was a red hot, fiercely-fought game, and altho the N. N. B's went down to defeat by a 19-7 score, they proved themselves hard working boys, glorious in defeat. The only touchdown for the N. N. B's. was made by Lonzo Allen, Townes making a 21 yard run in the third quarter. Carle Williams made a 70 yard run to a touchdown for the M. M. while Bryant (Red) proved himself the hero of the day by his ability to catch the ball and hold it. "Red" received the plaudits of the crowd when he made a touchdown for the M. M.

Nert Sunday the La Premiers and the Wilshire Olympics will do battle royal at the same field.

St. Agnes Guild is planning many jam-up affairs for the very near future. Watch this column for date, etc. in all probability the race students were their superiors mentally. And yet all students are taught the Constitution of the United States, which is wonderful if carried ou.

The Lone Wolf Club's monthly social meeting Wednesday, Sept. 27th was a decided success. Club meeting was first carried on by Mr. Jordan, President, while the girls played whist and hearts. Dancing to the strains of the syncopated piano player was the order of the evening. Mr. Andrew Thomas introduced Miss Melba Allen, graduate of the Chicago College of Music. Miss Allen is an accomplished musician and rendered several selections during the evening.

The Lincoln Theatre opened with a "bang," October 7th. Crowd! That can hardly bring to mind the number of people who crowded the streets, jostled each other good naturedly and patiently waited in line for their tickets at the box office. And when they got in. What a marvelous structure—likened unto the Metropolitan downtown. And the show—the comedians were good, Sara Martin (Okey Record singer) was jam-up, the orchestra was of course up to their usual standard which is 100%, and Mr. Henry Starr sang with his sofe beautiful voice,———BUT———(we now take a great big breath) the chorus wasn't up to scratch. It isn't that we are prejudiced because we think Los Angeles is better, but because something seemed to be lacking in that chorus—that while it was good it could have been better. On the whole the show was a tremendous success and we hope that it will continue to go over big.

The game at Snyder's Field, Sur lay, Oct. 9, 1927, between the Wils ire Olympic Club and the La Premieres was a very loosely played game. Something seemed to be lacking in their team work and while they played hard, fumbles were greatly in evidence. Kelly of the Wilshire Olympics is worthy of note. He recoverd a fumble and struck out toward the La-Premieres goal, but after making 40 yards he collapsed. Score 0-0.

Next Sunday, October 16th, the Wilshire Olympic and Merry Makers will do their stuff.

Heard at the Lincoln Theatre:

He: "Is she the leading lady?"

She: Uah guess so. She's three measures ahead of the orchestra now."

The Misses Robbie Broyles and Pearl Barnes are now members of the St. Agnes Guild. This Guild is very glad to announce that the two young ladies just mentioned will help make the Dance which St. Agnes is planning to give November 4th at Christian's Tavern, a decided success. Rene and his Hot Band will play.

The Harvest Dance again, with apple cider, ginger bread 'n everything. This time at Washington and Central Hall, Thursday, Oct. 27th with Rene's Orchestra and they such fascinating jazz.

Storm Wrecks Negro Homes in St. Louis

BY: R. G. FISHER

(For the Associated Negro Press)

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 3.—A great valley of death and destruction was cut through the heart of the residential and business section of St. Louis last Friday afternoon by a tornado that struck with sudden and appalling fury. The first checkup of the devastated district disclosed a death list of which nineteen are Negroes. The toll will be doubled by fatalities among those critically injured, and of 1,1?2 known injured 125 were colored.

Estimates of the property damage are placed approximately at $100,000,000, according to Building Commissioner Christopher, where members of our group owned beautiful homes, and along Cook Avenue and West Belle Place, from Sarah Street to Pendleton Avenue, nearly every house in that district was rendered uninhabitable, if not dangerous. Many were but piles of brick.

It was a pitiful sight to see people tramping through the streets in the rain, carrying their personal effects in their arms, seeking refuge for the night.

Probably one hundred bodies were recovered from wreckage in that area and there are as many more it is thought under the twisted mass of brick and mortar.

SPIRITUALIST PREACHER KILLED

The body of Prince Brockman was dug from the ruins of a dwelling at 4031 Cook Avenue, and about the same time firemen and workmen recovered the body of Mrs. E. J. Williams of 4038 West Belle Place, where she conducted a church. Millie Irwin and two other women whose names were unknown were killed at the West Belle address.

Spencer White, janitor of the Berean Seventh Day Adventist Church, a large two-story structure at Sarah and Cook Avenue, was in in the building when it crashed. He was rescued, but was seriously hurt.

While search was being made for other bodies fire broke out in the wreckage and an engine company hastened to extinguish it. Sarah street for many blocks was a mass of broken telephone poles, twisted wires and debris from demolished buildings.

PHYSICIANS ON THE JOB

Physicians with first aid kits in their hands made their way through the stricken areas ministering to the injured.

COMPARED TO 1896 STORM

St. Louis was last visited by a severe tornado in 1896 when 137 persons were killed in St. Louis proper and property damage was estimated at $13,000,000. Comparing last Thursday's disaster with the one of thirty-one years ago, it is easily conceivable the death toll may be much greater and that the property loss will be ten times greater.

Although the storm did the greatest damage in St. Louis proper, it also struck across the river in Illinois. Five persons were killed in Venice, Granite City and Madison and twenty were seriously injured.

After being advised of the extent of the St. Louis disaster, Mayor Miller issued an appeal for the victims, stipulating that gifts be made in cash so that the necessities of life may be made available to the thousands rendered homeless.

SCHOOLS DAMAGED $1,500,000

Seven school buildings, housing 6,500 children were in the wind's path, but the only school fatalities reported were at the Central High School for whites and West Belle and Montgomery Graded Schools where several hundred children of our race were in attendance. The exact number of our people killed was not learned. Within five minutes after the tornado had passed its height hundreds of women were at the West Belle School, weeping, and demanding of teachers, "Where is my little girl?" or "Where is my son?" It will be impossible to restore the West Belle and Montgomery School.

RELIEF WORK IN HAND

General relief headquarters of the American Red Cross was opened in the central part of the city in relation to the storm arear for those who are in distress.

Our large churches were thrown open for the relief of the distressed. Pearl Abernathy, president of the St. Louis Negro Business and prominent real estate dealer, offered the spacious Maccabee Hall and vacant property he had listed to be used by homeless families.

Donations to the immediate Relief Fund for victims of our Race should be made to Poro College, or to Summer High School.

Race Congress Called

League asks race to assemble to prepare for the "Battle of 1928"—4 days Convention at Washington to adopt race petition for Congress—United position on rights and aim—Petition Fund Started.

Boston, Mass. Oct. 7, 1927.

Announcement was made today by the National Headquarters of the National Equal Rights League, at 9 Cornhill, that the 20th annual meeting of the League will be held in the John Wesley A. M. E. Zion Church, 14th and Corcoran streets, N. W., Washington, D. C., from October 25-28, and is to be a national race mass convention or congress under the League's auspices, for a racial preparation for the pre-election Congress and for the political battle of 1928 as concerns the race's rights.

The Convention which is called for a racial get-together whereby a racial consensus of opinion may be secured, a united opinion voiced, united demand made and general program and principles adopted, will have three paramount objectives—abolition of color segregation, determination of the equal rights issues and principles of action for the forthcoming federal voting, and the formulation of a national signatured race petition to be presented as Congress assembles in December.

The 4-days' convention, open to race members individually or as delegates of race bodies, religious, fraternal, equal rights, literary, civic, etc., or of towns or cities through equal rights citizens committees or public meetings, will have three open sessions daily,—morning, afternon and night. The morning sessions will be devoted to organization business, afternoon to general deliberation and adoption, the night to public expression. The delegate fee is to be $1.00. All of the race who believe in aggressive assertion of equality of rights are urged to be represented to meet the challenge of whiter America, to assemble in the 10th anniversary year of the entrance of the U. S. into the World Democracy War, with the American Legion segregating their Colored comrades for democracy in Paris on the soldiers' return.

The Federal Petitions Commission of the League, T. H. R. Clarke, 810 F street, N. W., Washington, D. C., Chairman, asks the race to contribute funds for the expense of getting signatures, checks to be sent to the treasurer, W. P. Dabney, 420 McAllister St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Rev. George Frazier Miller, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is president of the League; Jas. L. Neill of Washington, Recording Secretary; W. M. Trotter of Boston, Corresponding Secy.; Rev. T. S. Harten of New York is organizer, and M. W. Spencer of Washington is treasurer.

Co-Operation---

Did you know that there were more than one hundred thousand colored men, women and children in Los Angeles?

That they are 98 per cent workers? That they earn upward of 5 million dollars per year?

Do you know that 5 million is turned or re-invested more than 6 times a year?

Are you getting your share of those millions?

If not, for best results, place your ad with the CALIFORNIA EAGLE which for 48 years has enjoyed the confidence and respect of the general public.

Our policy is Stimulation and Co-Operation.

For best price terms, address California Eagle, 847 Central Ave, Attention—R. G. Lamar, Advertising Manager. Phone, VAndike 9244.

The First Reciprocity Meeting of the club year was held at the Sojourner Truth Home, Thursday, October 6th. The usual board meeting was held in the morning and club reports in the afternoon. The Scholarship Loan Fund which this section has established as its objective, and by which some worthy boy or girl may continue their higher education, will be put over with sincerity. The first effort will be a Tea at the home of Mrs. E. Monroe Beavers, Sunday, Oct. 30th.

Also a City Federation was organized so club work could reach and include more women. Officers elected beside the two main officers of the State, were Vice-Pres., Mrs. Eva Highbaugh; Cor. Secy., Mrs. M. G. Patton; Treas., Mrs. V. M. Kimbro; Parliamentarian, Mrs. J. C. Banks.

Mrs. E. Monroe Beavers, Chairman of Reciprocity presented Mrs. E. Whiting Young who spoke on Chiropractic.

Mrs. Lauretta Butler, Supt. of Music presided at the piano.

Mrs. J. M. Scott, the newly elected president of Sojourner Truth Club was presented. She expressed to the women her delight in having them present, because she said, Sojourner Truth Home in the beginning was established as a center for club women as well as a Home for Girls. It was indeed gratifying to the club women to be able to meet once more in Sojourner Truth Home, as that privilege had been denied for some time.

Last Friday morning at 11 o'clock at the La Republica Tea Room, the Presidents' Council served breakfast honoring A. Philip Randolph, with Mr. Ashley L. Totten.

A solo was rendered by Mrs. Mabel Massengile of Chicago.

The Council, through its president, Mrs. E. Monroe Beavers, presented Mr. Randolph a beautiful billfold. Many club women and a few men were present.

Mrs. Johanna Snowden of Chicago, National Organizer of the National Association of Colored Woman's Club will be in the city October 14, 15, 16. She will speak at the A. M. E. Zion Church, Sunday morning, October 16th. Mrs. Johanna Snowden is one of the big women of the race and all women should avail themselves to be present at this meeting to hear her.

During the stay of Mr. A. F. Bouttee with his neice, Mrs. Emil Bouttee, a real itinery was planned for him—Beach party by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McWilliam; Card party, Mrs. Hargett; Creole dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Baker; Chinese theater party, "King of Kings," followed with dinner at home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Houston, covers laid for 10; Sunday breakfast given by Mrs. Anna McWilliams and Mrs. Emile Bouttee, 18 guests were present, followed by motor party through Mulholland Drive, returning for late gumbo fila at Mrs. E. J. Boutte making this the end of a perfect day.

MR. RANDOLPH'S SPEECH TO BUSINESS GIRLS

Program

Mr. Wallace Wells from Tuscon, Arizona, and a studen at U. C., sang "Give a Man a Horse to Ride" and "Muddy Water", accompanied on the piano by Miss Juanita Terry. Mr. Wells is an exceptionally fine baritone and his renditions were enthusiastically received.

The Misses Gladys Mathonican and Grace Harris sang "Thinking" and a delightful little number entitled: "Side by Side".

Mr. Randolph then spoke to the Business Girls along general lines of economics as pertaining to Business Girls. Mr. Randolph's speech was declared the best ever heard and continued praise of Randolph was heard on all sides.

Mrs. Turner, a visitor from Sacramento, sang "The Wanderer" which brought much applause.

Mrs. Bertha Spruill sang "Morning" in her exceedingly fine soprano.

Miss Emma Lou Sayers was responsible for the program.

Tea and cake were served to the guests.

Electricity in Los Angeles

No. 4
In the Office Building

The Roosevelt Building

West Seventh Street, between Flower and Hope

THE ROOSEVELT BUILDING cost $3,500,000. It is one of the newest and largest office buildings in Southern California. ...It is a Class A, fireproof, limit-height building (12 stories, basement and two sub-basements), containing 750 offices from the second to the twelfth floors, inclusive.

The four upper floors were designed and equipped especially for the needs of doctors and dentists.

Parking problems for Roosevelt Building tenants are solved by a completely equipped garage, with space for 450 cars, which occupies the first and second basements.

Nine high-speed, variable voltage passenger elevators furnish rapid service in the Roosevelt Building. Freight elevators are, of course, available.

Extensive electrical equipment is needed in the operation of the modern office building and the service of its hundreds of tenants.

The Roosevelt Building, thoroughly equipped in all particulars, uses:

1400 horsepower of electrical energy for lighting.
375 horsepower of electrical energy for supplying power to the X-Rays, Heating Units and Dental Units of doctors and dentists. One such X-Ray apparatus, the largest in the city, is supplied by a special electric line direct to the instrument.
9—35 horsepower motors generator elevator sets.
4—10 horsepower compressor units.
2—15 horsepower house pumps.
4— 7½ horsepower sewage ejectors and fan motors.
5— 1 horsepower fan, fuel pumps and air compressors.
7— 3 horsepower water and ammonia pumps.
1— 1 horsepower fan.
2— ½ horsepower fans.
235 horsepower of electrical energy exclusively for special dental and medical apparatus.

The modern office building is a hive of industry. It houses representatives of numerous professions and varied lines of business. Its electric needs, and those of many of its tenants, are often exacting and specialized. It must have efficient and dependable electric service.

We consider it a mark of approval of the high quality of our electric service, that the owners of the Roosevelt Building chose Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation to supply the electric service needs of this fine structure.

EDITORIAL

RAZZLE DAZZLE AGAIN

The police department it seems is constantly a whirligig affair, as the shifting of Captains L. L. McClary and Lyons from the vice squad after just getting down to brass tacks on their new assignment.

To a layman the whole affair is dazzling and confusing as well. We are principally interested in the stability of things and a sincere effort as we verily believe Captains McClary and Lyons put in vogue for the suppression of crime. It is hard for us to understand the ever present policy of constant and mysterious shitting of highly competent, courageous and efficient officials.

ORGANIZATION

Down at the Bay City of Santa Monica there has been holding forth this week more than 2000 delegates from all parts of California known as the State Convention of Real Estate men. This is but natural with the tremendous growth of California the problem of buying and selling real estate is such that only by organization can any result in keeping with the fair name of California be obtained.

We are now thinking of the army of realty men within our group and the thought is what are they doing along the line of concentration and organization. If the dominant group with all of its power and wealth finds it expedient for a State-wide organization it is aparent if our realtors get anywhere they should at least have some semblance toward co-operation.

BLACKSTONE DISCIPLES

If reports of the echoes from the last meeting of the N. A. A. C. P. are true, the desciples of Blackstone of our group are not wide-awake to the issue and fell asleep at the switch. The train was wrecked and the wrecking crew was unable to clear away the debris.

SLEFISH IGNORANCE

We are fatigued at the sight of narrow, selfish and ignorant persons who essay for leadership in this community. Fronting up to catch the eye of the white politician is a favorite pastime just now and the pity of the situation is that they fail absolutely to make headway with the masses, but leading divines, business and professional men will allow themselves to be invigled and readily allow their names to be used by these parasites in their quest for the coin of the realm with services based purely on hot air. This gentry will come in for a general exposure as the ides of another campaign approaches.

ALL HAIL MR. RAMISH

The establishment of the Lincoln Theatre, a most modern and as beautiful theatre of which any other section boasts, manned by colored people, spared neither time nor means to put on the very best show possible, we are inclined to hail Mr. Ramish the man who has brought these things to pass as a genuine and sincere believer in giving to all people an opportunity to the utmost.

This act of Mr. Ramish should and no doubt will be appreciated by all fair-minded people, regardless of race or creed to the highest degree. We trust that this act upon his part will not be in vain, and that he will in patronage receive a fair return for his investment. Our highest appreciation goes for the fact that he has opened the door of opportunity on these Western shores for our group along the lines of amusement as well as for the delectation of the public.

Thus far the presentation of the Lincoln Theatrue and its first show has met with the universal acclaim and no worth while criticism except constructive have we heard.

All hail, Mr. Ramish, as a real benefactor to the East Side section and their appreciation is both sincere as well as enthusiastic.

ALL MAY STATE THEIR CASE

Oftimes the editor is called upon to shoulder arms and fight out battles of selfish interest for individuals, of course he would not under any circumstance enlist knowingly in any such proposition. For this reason when we are asked to publish matter of public or semi-public nature, we require the article to be contributed and signed. It was in this situation which we accepted the paid reading article from J. H. Sykes in our last issue and of which the secretary of the Heflin Manufacturing Co. complained violently so. Therefore if any concern has fault to find they have a line on the person who assumes all responsibility for Mr. Sykes not only signed his name but had us to run his cut with the article.

So all along dow nthe line we allow all reputable persons to state their case. Only recently we ran a serial on Lower California, a corporation. The serial was signed by those responsible for the same and we could not and would not deny those responsible of the opportunity to state their case.

Of the Heflin Company or Lower California, we have no quarrel and both have our best wishes. We can only hope that those at the head of either will eschew the small, petty things and do business just like business men should. You cannot get away from the fact that real and lasting success can only be gained by standing straight up and seeking progress on a broad gauged and liberal platform in which honesty plays the stellar role.

COMMENTS

BY: W. J. WHEATON

The daily papers carried the news of the passing of a noted character of Aframerican race, "Blind" Boon, who died at his home, Warrensburg, Mo., October 4th, after a heart attack. He was a musical genius, reproducing on the piano any selection, however difficult, after hearing it but once. It has been stated that he born in a federal army camp; his father being a drum major in the Northern forces during the Civil War. A man, by name, Lang of Columbia was attracted by the genius of Boone, and it was under his management that for a period of 36 years, Boone toured the world. He was not born blind, but it was caused by a severe fever in his sixth year.

Politics is beginning to get on the first pages. In the Mayoralty fight in San Francisco a near scandal was precipitated by a couple of unsophisticated political tyros who tried to enmesh that astute veteran of many political battles, Sheriff Thomas J. Finn. Everybody had a good laugh, for whenever the Sheriff can be enveigled into putting his foot into a trap so crudely set, you can cover the entire State of California with a canopy and run up the sign, "Asylum for Idiots." Mr. John H. Taylor says, "Powers cannot lose." Nine times out of ten he is right.

Powers believes that two terms are enough for any mayor. He says, "I consider the mayoralty the highest honor within the gift of San Francisco voters. I am in accord with the statement of President Coolidge that this is not a one-man country; that there are available men of ample brains and ability to serve the nation." And we add, San Francisco has hundreds of citizens with ample brains and ability to serve her, and James E. Powers is one of them.

• • •

The conference between the states interested in the Boulder Dam project is progressing, and the muted hydro electric barrier seems in a fair way to be surmounted. The conference will resume probably in Sacramento. During the debates on the Johnson-Swing (Bouled Dam) bill, the press of the country carried the report that a representative of the Bond and Share Co., N. Y. said, "I represent $7,000,000,000 and we do not propose to let the Government enter the power business at Boulder Canyon." On the floor of the U. S. Senate, February 2, Senator Hiram W. Johnson said, "After what we had done what the Secretary of the Interior demanded we should do, after what we had wrote into this bill what he asked should be written into it, then come $7,000,000,000 into the city of Washington and say, "The Government of the United States shall not be permitted to do anyhing except what 7 billion dollars say it may do." I repeat to you, sir, the challenge was not ours. • • • I say to you that when a challenge comes to me as a Senator of the United States by $7,000,000,000 and the challenge says that the people whom I represent must drown in the Colorado unless those 7 billion dollars shall be swollen to more billions, I accept the challenge, and I accept it upon the floor of the Senate and the Government of the United States, and I leave to the decency, the honor, the courage and manhood of United States Senators to say whether $7,000,000,000 shall prevail in this government or whether men, women and children shall prevail in it." That sounds like the same "Henry of Navarre" whose plumed crest waved in the van two decades ago when leading the onslaught against corporate control of California. The building of Boulder Dam is necessary to progress in industry; necessary to the fertilization of desert wastes and compulsory for the safety of human life.

The Formal Opening of Wilkins Piano Academy Was a Grand Success

The music rooms were artistically arranged and beautifully decorated with large baskets and bouquets of cut flowers.

At one o'clock in the afternoon the many music lovers and friends of the Wilkins Piano Academy began the almost endless chain of visitors. After visiting the various studios used daily for teaching, the guests were escorted to the beautiful Birkel Art Room by members of the reception committee, consisting of a part of the faculty. After viewing this wonderful room, especially equipped with a $1,200.00 "Steck" grand piano complimentary to Prof. Wilkins by the Birkel Music Company through the courtesy of Mr. Edward A. Geisler, vice-president and manager, the guests were invited into the kindergarten department where they were served dainty refreshments by another part of the school's staff. The main floor of the building was uniquely decorated in fall colors and the visitors, teachers, and pupils mingled and danced to the strains of the orchestra until past midnight.

Mr. Wilkins and his wonderful staff of teachers are indeed to be complimented as this was one of the most unique affairs of the season.

The Steck piano was placed in the studio of the Wilkins Piano Academy as a token of appreciation for the wonderful work Mr. Wilkins is doing among both white and colored students. Among the many compliments given Mr. Wilkins in an interview with manager Geisler, he stated, "We know no one more capable of representing our company as pianist, educator, or in any other capacity than Mr. Wilkins."

CARE OF THE TEETH

BY: DR. J. WINIFORD ROUT
PREVENTIVE DENTISTRY

In an Egyptian papyrus, written about 3,000 years before Christ and discovered in 1872 in the ruins of Thebes, is found the first recorded advice on the treatment of dental ills. Throughout the ages, the literature of all peoples has told of the uses and the troubles of the teeth.

In this country, dentistry, in its earliest form was practiced by an altruistic soul, who, whatever his real vocation might have been, thought he could be a "tooth-puller," also. From this beginning dentistry has developed into a highly specialized profession requiring specific training and standards of its members.

Until recent years Dentists were mainly concerned with the replacing of lost teeth and the repair of damaged ones. Within the last few years, comparatively speaking, the pendulum has swung from reparation to prevention. There is no justification for the present-day conditions which exist in the mouths of the people of America. Fully 80 per cent of our adult population have defective teeth; a larger per centage of our school children have diseased mouths—fully 90 per cent. Ravages like this should never have been developed, would not have developed, had people known the fundamentals of preventive dentistry. Dentists are now emphasizing a type of dental service which embodies as its main feature prevention rather than the cure of dental ills. Dentists alone can never bring about the millennium of cavityless teeth, for many people never go to a dentist, while still more do not go until it is too late—until the tooth or teeth are badly decayed. Therefore, there must be a better understanding and a keener interest in tooth truths on the part of every individual if our children and our children's children are to have better teeth and better health.

John Quincy Adams, when asked how he accounted for his vigor in old age, replied the he folowed three rules: First, regularity; second, regularity; third, regularity. Speaking of teeth also, regularity is the factor which deteriorates whose teeth you will be wearing when you are 40. This regularity begins with the expectant mother. Her rest, diet and exercise should be regular in order that her child may be strong and well. Teeth begin to form during the third month of fetal life and their caliber is determined by the mother's care. Later, regularity in diet, with daily consumption of milk and the dairy products, fruits, vegetables and whole grain cereals, regular cleaning of the teeth, brushing down on the upper teeth and up on the lower; regular visits to the dentist, beginning when the child is about two and one-half year old and continuing until the grave—these are the factors in preventive dentistry over which everyone has control and which will minimize dental disease.

SUNDAY'S MEETING, 8TH AND AND TOWNE AVE. CHURCH

Following up the Friday dinner conference was the Mass Meeting at 8th and Towne Ave. Church, Sunday afternoon at which time Attorney J. W. Drake of Oakland was present and spoke upon the Edward Glass extradition case and the fight being waged o keep Glass from being taken back to Oklahoma to be lynched. At the conclusion of Mr. Drake's address a collection was taken up to assist the northern branch in its fight in the case mentioned.

ASSOCIATION REBUKES LEGAL COMMITTEE FOR SLEEPING IN THE LONG CASE

The long deferred report of the Legal Committee was rendered, signed by Attorneys C. A. Jones and Bert MacDonald and was promptly voted down with only two dissenting votes of T. J. Norris and J. C. Banks.

Will Stand Here "Until our Change Comes"

The attitude of the Association on the recommendation of the Legal Committee to move out of their homes, was sat upon with a rousing smack which could have been heard back in New York as by their vote they said, we are going to stand right here on our rights "until our change comes."

In order that all who read may get the low-down on the report of the Legal Committee, we are publishing the same in full as follows:

Popular Chicago Matron

Mrs. A. B. Kastor, of 4735 Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill., has been a visitor to Los Angeles for several weeks. Mrs. Kastor, who motored from Chicago to Los Angeles and, then from Los Angeles to Canada, returned to Los Angeles several weeks ago. Since coming back to Los Angeles, she has been the honored guest on several private picnics and house parties.

On Labor Day Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Chase of East 21st street gave a Picnice at Lake Elsinore in honor of Mrs. Kastor, Mrs. Elizabeth Barton and Miss Elizabeth Oliver gave a dinner in honor of Mrs. Kastor, covers Mrs. Guy Houston of West 37th St., entertained with Luncheon and Cards for Mrs. Kastor, about fifty guests were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Spencer of South Los Angeles, entertained with a sumptuous dinner, covers laid for twelve.

On account of Mrs. Kastor being invited on so many out-of-town trips, Sidney P. Dones arranged an unique affair in honor of Mrs. Kastor at his residence on E. 48th St., Sunday, Sept. 25th. All of her former Chicago friends were invited. There were more than two hundred guests who came to see the Popular Chicago Matron.

considerate child that is interested in the welfare of his home. Choose the child impartially, when the majority of the neighbors have decided on one particular child whether he or she is your individual pick or not be big-hearted enough to see the merit in the child chosen and be willing to do your bit in pushing him or her forward. It will be this spirit that will make our offer worthwhile and bind us together as a strong race, able to protect and provide for our own. We can make for ourselves a race of intellectual and spiritual giants. Let us cease from our envying one of the other and pull together for a common cause—the Cause of Our Youth. Pay attention to the representative and literature that will be sent to your community in the inerest of his cause.

His principle goes on, "He was a delightful man to live with, full of humor, never taking offense, always looking on the bright side of things. He was devoted to his people and country and was unsparing of himself. Men sometimes said he was conceited" (he had a true pride in his ancient race in West Africa and could trace back his ancentry through his father to the eleventh century, while through his mother he could claim five West African thrones), "but though he had conceit, it was never offensive, never at the expense of others. There was no egotism in Aggrey. When he enjoyed himself, he brought all other into his enjoyment. He shared himself. He was a great human being, a friend to men, and interested in all of them, and always kindly. I have had many good things in life, but one of the best is being allowed to know Aggrey intimately and well."

Though he was ever bubbling over with joy, things did not always go smoothly with him, not only because of the daily friction that, alas, is still the lot too often of a man of African lineage mixing with white men of every nationality, but because of the even more hard to bear misunderstanding with which he was sometimes met by his own people.

Some of them have had no patience with his whole-hearted preaching of co-operation with the white race, and his participation in such work as that of the two Phelps Stokes Fund Educational Commissions to East and West Africa, which so much widened his field of service and activity. During the past three years at Achimota, it was often heartbreaking to him to have to deal with the prejudices of some of his own race to this scheme in which he saw so clearly the opportunities not only for giving them the best in western learning, but the chance of a really full development of all the mest in Africa's ancient culture. Added to this was the hardship of having to see his wife go back to America to be with the elder children and to tend the baby son, now nine months old.

"Only a real faith that lifted him above himself could have sustained him during the past three years," writes Sir Gordon Guggisberg, the late Governor of the Gold Coast, most successful of Britain's administrators, and practical idealist. "And he had that faith, the faith of a genuine Christian. The essence of Aggrey was that he was an African, undisturbed by his western education or his long sojourn and brilliant scholastic career in the United States." (He won his Ph. D. and D. D. at Columbia University, besides holding ten other degrees.)

"He clearly saw that changes must come," Sir Gordon continues, "but he felt that these must not alter his people's personality, spirit and character as Africans. It was on this task, brimful of energy, overflowing in long and impassioned speeches that he started in the Phelps Stokes Commission. It was his task he continued when he came to Achimota. It was for this task—'for my people who want me'—that he refused high advancement and considerably greater salary in an American University.

"No trouble was too great for him No help that he could give was ever refused. Aggrey was the finest interpreter which the present century has produced of the white man to the black, and the black man to the white. It was to the better understanding by the one of the other to which he devoted himself. Who that heard him will readily forget his smile of the white and black keys of the piano both being necessary for melody?"

"You have," this little tribute closes, adding thus a directly personal touch, "laid the foundations for the road along which your beloved Africans are marching."

White and black keys! There is an echo of the melody in Aggrey's own life in these words of a British Governor, the melody of mutual service and understanding.

Many another tribute has come from men and women of all degrees. All strike the note that it is joy and helpfulness and understanding which they chiefly associate with their memory of Kwegyir Aggrey.

"This one thing I am most proud of," he wrote to me in June last, "is my conversion to Christianity, and the great spiritual help I daily have from my communion with God." He added, with that touch of childlike simplicity which was so real in his great heart, "God and I are on good terms. He understand me and makes me work harder every day to reach His standard for me, because, wonderful to relate, He has so much faith in me. I pray in deep humility I may never disappoint him."

A man of joys and acquainted with laughter, a man of hope and forward looking thought, an interpreter, a reconciler, these are the happy memories we have of Kwegyir Aggrey, son of Africa. —H. W. P.

C. C. SPAULDING A GRAND DADDY

Durham, N. C., Oct. 15. (By A. N. P.)—Insurance, banking, educational, fraternal and social circles in this busy community all paused last week to extend congratulations to C. C. Spaulding, widely known and revered president of the North Carolina Mutual Company, because of an event which gladdened his heart and those of all his friends. A bouncing baby boy was born to his daughter, Margaret, and her husband, A. Moore Shearin, Jr., general manager of the Southern Surety and Fidelity Company. Mr. Spaulding who has regained his health was jubilant over the occasion and Durham predicts that a new star has arisen to carry on in the financial world.

the Angelus Funeral Home, where such excellent service is rendered.

I dare say that no other one Race man in the Southwest has caused to be paid in salaries to our Race the amount that Mr. Robinson has. I dare say he doesn't know or hasn't thought of it himself. But we can reassured that the amount will exceed these figures: $3,382,500.

Now, the one who is interested in looking up his ability and other activities and placing them beside him as competitors, with information sufficient to change my opinion, is invited to see Mr. S. B. W. May, 3517 So. Central Avenue, and have him write you a Deed to any block of lots unsold in the Portland Tract, adjacent to Phoenix. M. H. Shelton and Geneva Shelton, his wife, will sign the same and deliver to you the deed to said property.

Yours respectfully,
M. H. SHELTON,

OPENING OF NEW BEAUTY SHOPPE

On Sunday evening, October 2nd, 1927 from 2 to 6 P. M., another race enterprise threw open its doors to the pubic. It was The Lillian Beauty Shoppe located at 3826 So. Central Avenue and is the most beautiful and well equipped beauty shoppe with all modern conveniences in the city.

The public showed their appreciation by turning out in large numbers. The beautiful reception room was laden with some of the choicest flowers which adorned the room. Punch and cake was served. The color scheme used for the shoppe is beautifully brought out in blue and grey with jazz painting. Private booths with experienced operators and a well equipped instruction room where the art of beauty culture wil be taught.

One of the best expert marcellers with 20 years of experience in beauty culture is engaged in this Shoppe to take care of your marcelling. She is recently of Detroit, Michigan. No need of worry this Shoppe is prepared to take care of all your troubles in beauty culture work—Marcel Waving, Shampooing, Henna Packs, and Scalp Treatments. Electric and hand facials, Mud Packs and Manicuring, etc. Hair dying a specialty.

Join the class that is now forming. Diplomas awarded. Choppe, 3826 So. Central Ave., HUm. 1262.

Entertain at Breakfast Randolph of N. Y.

BY: MATTIE MAE STAFFORD

The Presidents' Council gave an unusual breakfast Friday Morning, October 7, at La Republica Tea Room, honoring Mr. A. Philip Randolph, General Organizer of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, and Mr. Ashley L. Totten, Assistant General Organizer. The beautiful tea room was a garden of flowers and breathed an air of refinement and good taste. Mr. and Mrs. Gray spared no pains in making this a grand affair.

Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards, sectional president of Colored Women's Clubs was Mistress of Ceremonies. Mrs. M. G. Patton remained standing after the guests were seated and offered thanks. Mrs. Edwards introduced Mrs. Etta B. Moxley, Past State President and she in brief gave the history of the California Federation of Colored Women's Club and their property holdings. Mrs. Mabel Massengill of Chicago rendered two vocal solos and proved a singer of rare ability. Dr. Eva Whiting Young was accompanist.

The Mistress of Ceremonies introduced Mrs. Mattie Mae Stafford, Supr. of Education and Literature of California Federation of Colored Women's Clubs, who introduced Mr. George S. Grant, real estate dealer and Secretary-Treasurer of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters of the Los Angeles Division. Mr. Grant then introduced Mr. Ashley L. Totten and he in turn introduced Mr. A. Philip Randolph, who gave a lecture on "Economic Freedom and Co-operation."

The writer finds her vocabulary too limited to give this intellectual giant what is due him as a great man and an orator. There is great hope for a race that can produce a man like A. Philip Randolph. The Presidents' Council was happy to pay honor and respect to such a noble character.

At the close of the breakfast Mrs. Monroe Beavers, president of the Council presented Mr. Randolph with a handsome Bill Folder with his name engraved on it in gold letters.

Covers were laid for seventy-two.

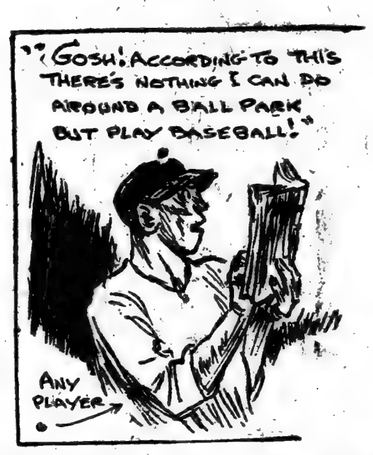
Farr and Taylor May Meet at Olympic



TUT VS. LOYAZO TUESDAY

Johnny Farr, Cleveland featherweight, and Bud Taylor will headline the Olympic boxing show October 25. The match was practically closed yesterday when Eddie Long accepted terms by wire from Chicago. Taylor will return to the coast in a few days. Farr, who came here a week ago to box Joey Sanger, is now training at the Main Street gymnasium. Sanger was unable to fill the date due to a core arm.

King Tut has resumed training for his Olympic bout next Tuesday night with Stanislaus Loayza, Chilean lightweight champion. Loayza boxed Ace Hudkins a terrific draw in New York just after Hudkins had knocked out Ruby Goldstein. Loayza and Tut are making 135 pounds.

BASE BALL SEASON'S FORMAL OPENING SUNDAY, OCT. 16

Pre-Contest Saturday, 2:30 P. M.—Philadelphia Hillsdale Giants vs. Pirrone's All-Stars

What is reputed and vouched for as being the greatest aggregation of colored baseball players ever assembled on the coast will line up Saturday and Sunday in Exhibition games against an All Star team presented by Joe Pirrone, premier baseball promoter, while the Philadelphia Giants are under the guidance of J. P. White who some years ago was instrumental in bringing a great aggregation of colored stars tothe coast.

The Hilldale Team will be the home club at the White Sox Park for the winter season and will play the regular schedule as in years past. The games this season, on account of the talent, promise to be exciting and sensational tothe utmost.

BILLY DONALDSON

Well known to the Los Angeles fans. Played great ball a few years ago on the Monarchs and other teams. He and Arthur Harris will be two of the umpires officiating at the Winter League park. Harris is a resident of Los Angeles and was one of the big five umpires of the National League. He is noted for his fairness and ability in handling a game.

Take Saturday and Sunday's contest, both of which connot help but be real contests; engaged therein, such stars as Bob Mussel of the Yanks, World's Champions. Then we have Arnold Statz, sensational short stop of the Brooklyn Nationals, Babe Herman, also of the Brooklyn Team and others who are real stars. For Hilldale such flingers as Nip Winters, Rat Henderson, Holland and Shaw, backed up by such stars as Mackey, Dixon, Carr, Beckwith, Stevens and others.

While the first game will be played Saturday the big formal opening will be on Sunday, proper ceremonies of the opening day will be held, moving and still pictures of both teams will be taken and amid the assembled thousands the 1927 Winter Baseball Season will be on not unlike the World Series just concluded in New York. Managers White and Pirrone have provided every convenience for the public and the game will be called promptly at 2:30, Park, 65th and Compton Avenue.

The following players will be on hand for the contests:

Philadelphia Hilldale Giants: Tidwell, Dixon, Geo. Carr, Jesse Hubbard, Beckwith, Stevens, Mackey, Fitchers, Nip Winters, Rat Henderson, Shaw and Holland.

Pirrone's All Stars: Arnold Statz, B. Mussel, Ping Bodie, Huff, Jolley, Pick, Haney, Sherlock, McMullin, Jenkins, Beagler, Pitchers, Moody, Koupal, Ludolph, and Williamson.

Andy Bowen Figured in Longest Glove Fight in Boxing History; Was Killed by Kid Lavigne

BY: ALVIN J. MOSES
(For the Associated Negro Press)

The longest glove fight in the history of Boxing was that between Andy Bowen, famous colored Louisiana boxer, and Jack Burke. For more than seven hours these two great exponents of the art of miss and connect fought it out toe to toe on hundred ten rounds being contested in all, according to Marqais of Queensberry rules. It was held April 6, 1893, at the Olympic Club, New Orleans, La.

BOUT WAS DECLARED "NO CONTEST"

After seven hours and nineteen minutes of pier six battling without the slightest letup, the referee rendered a verdic of "No Contest." It was hardly fair to either one of these supermen who at fight time scaled an even 134 pounds each, and lost close to nine pounds each during the progress of their epic struggle.

WAS KILLED BY KID LAVIGGNE

On December 14, 1894, at the Auditorium Club, New Orleans, the amphitheatre where many of Bowen's best fights were held, he met what was termed by a coroner as an "accidental death." Kid Lavigne, then world's champion lightweight boxer, had been challenged by the formidable colored boxer and was there that evening in defense of his highly regarded honors. Throughout the full duration of the battle that lasted eighteen rounds, Lavigne played with Bowen. The colored gamester took a fearful whipping but stood his ground like the spartan he was. At the start of the eighteenth and final round that not only spelled a knockout for Bowen, but it was to usher him unceremoniously into the presence of his Maker, his face was swollen beyond recognition, and his left eye was closed tight as a wedge. A right to the jaw knocked Andy to the floor, his head coming in contact with the unpadded pooring with a crash that brought the patrons to their feet almost as one single unit.

Bowen's skull was fractured, causing concussion of the brain, and thus died one of the smartest, most durable, and best loved fighting men, white or black, the world has ever seen.

ACE HUDKINS

The Nebraska Wild-Cat. Will he be World's Welterweight Champion After October 29th

JOE DUNDEE A REAL CHAMP

THE "CAT" HAD BETTER SHARPEN HIS CLAWS

COLORED BOXERS ON WRIGLEY CARD

Ace Hudkins, the famous Nebraska Wild cat, will need all the vitality of a "Cat", nine lives and all the fighting, striking power of his claws, to offset the thunderbolt attacks of the determined Italian boy, Joe Dundee, the welterweight champion of the whole wide world. Ace Hudkins is so well liked here in his new home that the majority of his followers think he is sure to win, but with all hopes for his victory he is in for the hardest, toughest evening of his career. Dundee is no cinch. If he was not better than the rest he would not be champion.

Joe Dundee, the pride of Maryland, and one of the real gentlemen of the ring, is working hard for Ace Hudkins, the "Nebraska Wildcat", whom he meets the night of October 29th in Wrigley Field. Ace is fast rounding into shape at Baker's Ranch while Joe is working at Manhattan gym. He weighed 152 when he hopped off the train Saturday, but looked to be in fine shape. He will scale 145 for Ace without any trouble, acording to Max Waxman, his manager.

Joe Dundee may not be what is termed a great champion, but he is a wonderful little fighting machine, and a feared ring man. He is a smart fighter and possesses a short right that falls under the heart that has sent some good boys along the road that spells—Oblivion.

COLORED BOXERS TOO

Any of the supporting bouts on the "Fistic Epic" would make a good main bout any time. Donald and his right hand bower Kerwin, always have as many colored boys on their cards as can be well used, and this great championship battle will be no exception. Among the colored boys being figured on are that speed boy Lightning Dana, against Davis Barron; Langford against Jackie Field; Baby Gans against Prince Bundee; also Clyde Colvin, Willie Henry, Jimmy Harrison, Roy Williams, and others are being mentioned.

JACK JOHNSON BROKE!

"HAVE TO SAVE YOUR DOUGH WHEN MAKING IT," SAYS EX-CHAMPION

Chicago, Ill.—Jack Johnson, who knocked out Jim Jeffries in 1910 to win the world's heavyweight championship, entered an insolvent debtor's petition in court on October 3 to save himself from a debtor's cell.

Johnson made the petition because he said he was unable to pay a $2,500 balance on an $11,000 bill for jewelry purchased in 1922 for his former white wife, Lucille Cameson Johnson, in the futile attempt to dissuade her from divorcing him.

"Nobody cares for an ex-champion," Johnson said. You've got to save your dough while you're mak it. When I was making big dough, I would have laughed if anybody had ever told me I would end up in court trying to explain why I could not pay my bills."

La Premiers and Wilshire Olympics Play Air-Tight Game

The Wilshire Olympics and the La Premiers played an air-tight game ending 0-0 at Snyder's Field, Sunday, last. Time will not permit a faithful chronicle of the exciting struggle but a 40 yard run by Kelly and great work by Harris Jackson, Carey and Jones were features of the day.

Next Sunday finds the Wilshire Olympics locking horns with the champion Merry Makers.

FRIETA SHAW
A Very Clever Performer

Says Watson Burns Is World's Greatest Billiardist

New Rork, N. Y., Oct. 7. (By A. N. P.)—Writing of the great Hutchison tournament to begin here next month, Alvin J. Moses names Watson Burns, of Los Angeles, Cal., owner of the largest pool room of that city and manager of Mack House and Sailor Larry, as the greatest billiard and pool artist up till the present time. Moses says:

"Harking back to the days of "Bam" of Chicago, "Old Forks" who represented this city in the 18-2 Balkline Tourney staged by W. H. Willis, head of the Colored Amateur Billiard Association of Greater New York back in 1912; Haney, Kurby, and the great Watson Burns, this city hasn't entertained a high class billiardist at this style of play since that period. Burns, who holds a record of three thousand consecutive markers at the old fashion style of straight rail billiards, was unable to accept the offer of Willis to play in his tournament, but the rest of the field played nightly a brand of billiards that evoked great praise from such keen students and critics as Willie Hoppe, Cauntax and Mr. Benjamin, personal representative of champion Hoppe at that time."

Mr. Hutchinson promises to revive interest in Bowling and billiards as this city has never witnessed before. There will be weekly "Round Robin Tournaments" commencing from November 3, 1927, between Magicians, newspaper men, theatrical performers of both sexes, and the various social workers said their suits.

The Harvest Dance again, with apple cider, ginger bread 'n everything. This time at Washington and Central Hall, Thursday, Oct. 27th with Rose's Orchestra and they much fascinating jazz.

Lew Honora Defeats Shortway in Sensational Bout

New Cork, Sept. 29. (By A. N. P.)—In one of the greatest fights staged by the Madonna Park Boxing, Inc., of Bergen, N. J., in many moons, Lew Honora, fast-coming colored lightweight from the Argentine, administered the first beating of his short but colorful career to Whitney Shortway, pride of Paterson, N. J. The bout looked up in the semi-windup to Paul Cavilier and Harold Mays, erstwhile sparring partner of World's Heavyweight monarch, Gene Tunney, and the consensus of the fans was that it provided the best fight of the evening.

Honora has issued a challenge to Phil McGraw, Eid Kaplan, and Sinoy Turpin, claiming that he is now ready for big game.

Tuskegee Band to Accompany "Tigers" To Lincoln Game

Tuskegee Institute, Ala., Sept. 30. (By A. N. P.)—At a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting of the local members of the Tuskegee Alumni Association held at the Alumni Hut on September 28, plans were formulated to send the Tuskegee 32-piece band to Philadelphia on the occasion of the Tuskegee-Lincoln football game. It was the opinion of many of the graduates that the band played an important part in attaining the game last year, and there was no doubt in the case on Tuskegee's musical invasion of the North that was done on the team's initial appearance.

"No Colored Man Will Get Chance at Title," Declares Tate

Winston-Salem, N. C., Oct. 8. (By A. N. P.)—"No colored heavyweight will get a chance at the heavyweight title," was the declaration made by Big Bill Tate here Friday evening in a conversation with an Associated Negro Press representative.

The big battler further avowed that he could whip either Tunney or Dempsey, but was loyal to the Manassa Mauler, whom he trained for many of his biggest fights. Concerning Harry Wills, Tate said the white people had "built up the Brown Panther because they knew that he was no good."

The article then goes on to give the names and values of various heavyweights who are supposed to be controlled by the trust, but no colored heavy is included in the imposing list, although many foreigners grace the roster.

Feather Tourney At Culver City

Joey Sangor, Bud Taylor, Red Chapman, Benny Bass and Honeyboy Finnegan may fight out the featherweight title tournament in competition with the best 126-pounders on the West Coast if the plans of Jimmy Murray of Culver City are carried out successfully.

Murray expects to get at least one good entry for his tournament tomorrow night when Danny Kramer, veteran newsboy, and Jackie Spanger, beach youth, go to the post in the ten-round main event.

Who said the Westmont boosters do it? Well we are about to hold now for $4.40. That included everything, but no lobby. 1400 Central. Phone Wilshire 1670.

Lightning Davis Wins

COAST CITIES CHAMPIONSHIP AT CULVER CITY

In an impressive battle, Lightning Davis won the Coast Cities Championship from the famous Jimmy Fox. Although the win came through a foul by Jimmy, Davis was evening up the battle and forging to the front to a win. They will probably be rematched in the near future.

Main St. Features Vernon Jackson

The great battle loved boy hunters is carrying the card at the Main St. Athletic club against Benny Terral. The rest of the card reads: Victor Nelson vs Bill Pepple, Days Boyd vs Wallace and Manuel Perry vs Magdaleno Ortiga in the semi-windup.

THE BLACK SPORT WORLD THROUGH THE EYES OF ART HAMILTON

Hail the New World's Champions! —The New York Yankees! The New Yorkers shoved the Pittsburgh club back into the National League with four straight defeats.

The New York Yankees, American League pennant winners, defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates four straight games in the battle for the world's championship. By this feat the hard slugging New Yorkers equaled the world's record in world series games won set by the Boston Braves when they walloped the Philadelphia Athletics four straight games in the 1914 world's series.

The four games were thrilling from start to finish. The Yanks won the first game in Pittsburgh on errors. The Pirates out-hit the slugging Yankees in that first game but the laxity the pinches and glaring errors beat them.

The men from Pittsburgh were supposed to be smart baseball men but the New Yorkers out-smarted and out-hit them and took the series in a walk-away.

The New York team starred as a whole but special attention must be called to the playing of Ruth, Herb Pennock and Mark Koenig and brilliant Yankee short-stop. Ruth, playing his seventh world series seemed better than ever. His home runs in the third and fourth games were the established features of the series.

Herb Pennock, the Yankee portside slinger shone beyond comparison in the third game, holding the Pirates hitless until the seventh inning. For a while it looked as if it was going to be a no-hit, no-run game. Pie Traynor, the Pirate captain, broke the spell will a single after twenty-two of the Buccaneers had walked the plank in a row. This is Pennock's fifth world series and he has yet to meet defeat.

Mark Koenig playing in his second world's series gave a creditable account of himself accepting fourteen assists without an error.

Cofonel Ruppert, owner of the New York team has salary problems worrying him already, although contracts aren't to be mailed out for several months yet. Tony Lazzeri, Lou Gehrig and Mark Koenig, the young stars who performed so brilliantly in the series will undoubtedly demand an increase in salary.

And that ends baseball until next year.

Have you noticed how comparatively few colored oys have been getting in print during this year's football season? Slicker Stocks, the Pasadena Junior College flash is the only one getting any mention at all. Slicker is the start of the Pasadena team, not only in football but also in the Casaba sport. Stocks was the chief cause of the Pasadena Junior College winning the Junior College conference last year, and even greater things are expected of the brown flash this year.

Rufus Norman of U. S. C. is out for end, but according to Mark Kelley, famous Examiner sports scribe, Norman is getting absolutely no recognition from the coaches.

Do you remember last year how long Howard Jones, Southern California coach made Brice Taylor sit on the bench and then put him in the game only when he saw he couldn't get along without him?

I wonder if there isn't the least bit of prejudice at Southern California this year? I WONDER!

Cecil Harris Kay-O'd. By Hartwell

International Stadium, Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 30. (By A. N. P.)—Cecil Harris, Jack Johnson's so-called protege, went down amidst a rain of blows to night before "Big" Bill Hartwell, a local product. Harris, who hails from Chicago, arrived here a few days ago with his manager, Berney Abel, but the big boy proved to be a complete failure before the huge crowd tat packed the stadium.

Can The Colored Man Fly?

Will the colored man fly if given the same opportunity to fly as other races? The Vernon Aero Club sincerely asked these two questions. And the Los Angeles Forum replies in unison, "Yes". The demand for pilots, mechanics, riggers and etc. is now greater than the supply. Also millionaires and business men are buying planes for their own private use, which calls for men to retain the upkeep of their panes. Factories all over America are rapidly being built for the manufacture of airplanes: The Vernon Aero Club will give the Colored people an opportunity to qualify for any or all branches of aviation. They are giving 200 hours in the air for $200.00 on terms; providing if they can get 50 colored people to take the course. Let us take advantage of the opportunity given us. Let us show our courage by enrolling with the Los Angeles Forum or Editor Bass of the California Eagle, 847 Central Ave. Mr. Artis N. Ward would be glad to make an appointment with any one and tell all about it. Telephone Mr. Artis N. Ward, ATlantc 6604.

Death Ends Brilliant Musical Career of "Blind Boone"

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 15. (By A. N. P.)—William John Boone, better known as "Blind Boone," famous pianist, blind from birth, died suddenly Tuesday night, at the home of his stepbrother at Warrenburg, Mo., according to a dispatch received here. Boone was 64 years old. Death was due to acute dilation of the heart.

Boone went to Warrensburg from his home in Columbia, Mo., Tuesday, for a visit with his relatives. He died four hours later. He was born in Saline County, Mo. After the Civil War, his mother took him to Warrensburg.

Boone learned to play the piano by ear, an accomplishment which gave him nation-wide recognition as a pianist. He has given concerts in all sections of the country. Of late years he made his home in Columbia where his body was sent for burial.

LEAVES A FORTUNE

Blind Boone gave his farewell concert at Virden, Illinois on the East Side, on June 1, last, and announced at that time he would retire to Columbia to attempt to regain his health, which failed following the death of his manager, John Lang, who had handled his affairs for thirty-six years. Boone leaves a considerable fortune.

At the age of six, Boone organized a boys' mouth organ and Jew's harp band in Warrensburg, and first attracted the attention of a group of people who decided to send him to a school for the blind in this city.

The school life and lack of opportunity to improve his music wearied Boone, however, and he ran away from school when he was nine years old and organized an urchin's street band in St. Louis.

WHEN OPPORTUNITY CAME

Going to Columbia, Mo., a few years later, he came to the attention of Lang, who was directing a Sunday School orchestra. Lang became Boone's manager and his fame as a pianist spread. He appeared in concert in virtually every city in the United States and in many foreign countries.

Boone's father was a drum major in the Union Army, and it was from him he acquired his love for music.

The blind pianist prided himself on being able to reproduce any piece of music after hearing it once.

Probably his most noted composition was "The Marshfield Tornado," written by him in 1890, and played at nearly every concert he gave. The composition was based by a tornado he went through at Marshfield, Mo.

John M. Avery Only Colored Man Listed

PROMINENT PATRONS OF LIFE INSURANCE
THIRTEEN THOUSAND CARRY OVER $50,0000

In the Special Issue of the September Magazine, entitled, "Prominent Patrons of Life Insurance," there are thirteen thousand names of persons in every state in the country carrying over $50,000 of insurance. There are 194 persons named who carry more than $1,000,000 insurance, headed by Rodman Wanamaker, whose life is insured for $7,500,000.

A noteble thing about the book is that only one colored man is named in the book, that person being John M. Avery, Vice-President and Secretary of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Durham, N. C. Mr. Avery is credited with having $31,500 insurance on his life.

For several months past, an accumulation of data on the amount of insurance carried in large amounts by colored people has been made by Harry H. Pace, President of the Northeastern Life Insurance Company. Mr. Pace states that a few otherwise well educated colored men have refused to give the amount of insurance carried by them, not understanding the purpose for which it would be used. Proceeds of life insurance policies are no taxable, which many do not understand and which seems to be the greatest fear.

But thirteen thousand white men and women—and John M. Avery—carrying from fifty thousand to seven and a half millions were not afraid to tell. All credit to Avery, May his tribe increase.

LINCOLN WORKERS HONORED

Honoring the manager, Curtis Carpentier, and co-workers of the New Lincoln Theatre, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Gray, owners of La Republica Tea Room, entertained with a midnight dance fiesta from 12 to 2 A. M.

The affair was unique in the arrangement of flowers and various colored lights. Although it was an informal affair, many were attired in evening dress.

The members of the staff expressed their delight of the opportunity of meeting their home town friends and returned invitations from the hostess. Miss Della Begins to make La Republica their recreational grounds.

LOST—A Wedding Ring. Initials R. B. to A. B. at E. M. T. Convention, August 25, New Masonic Hall, 56th and Central. Please return to 1504 W. 85th Place. Phone, HEmlock 1215. Reward.

The Blue Monday Club met last Monday at the home of Mrs. Ethel Garner on E. 36th Place. Great interest was evinced in the art work and fancy needle exhibits.

SOCIAL GATHERINGS AT LA REPUBLICA

Miss Heebie Mack entertained the Graduate Chapter of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority with dinner and dance, Tuesday evening, October 11th.

Miss Ruth Lee, popular radio and concert singer, occupied the chief role on La Republica's weekly programme Thursday, October 13th. She was widely received and applauded.

Last Thursday, October 6th, immediately after the weekly concert, the Royals Dozen Club gave a "Kisses Dance" very unique.

Last Friday, October 7th, Mrs. H. Shannon entertained her Whist Club with a luncheon and cake.

Last Wednesday, October 5th, Miss Georgia Jackson entertained the Allensworth Literary and Art Club with luncheon.

CALIFORNIA EAGLE AUTOMOTIVE SECTION

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McCutchson on E. 45th St. have discharged their Chevy and engaged the service of a smart-looking Oakland sedan. Congratulations.

• • •

Brother Winslow, the ice man, who started less than a year ago in the business of peddling ice in a small way in an improvised Ford has built up a business that is a credit to himself and race. He has three delivery trucks in addition to an ice distributing plant. That's what we call progressing.

Statistics on footwear show that the women wear out 33.1 per cent of the shoes produded each year; men wear out 27.6 per cent, and the children use up the rest, and if the men say anything smart about it to the women al the women need do is dig up statistics on automobile tires. Yea Bo!

• • •

Dr. Liddell, S. H. Dudley, the tailor, Doc Eggleson, all rolled into town the middle of last week each with a big buck deer strapped on his car. Deer meat supplanted hog and cow meat while it lasted. Central Avenue butchers were put out of business for several days.

• • •

A. E. Andarsonla is noticed to be all smiles these days as he pilots his roadster about the streets. His friends are trying to figure out just why.

• • •

Mr. Dick Hawkins, beau brummel, U. S. C. student, benedict, and universal favorite, is noticably tamer than he used to be. Even his Nash mobile can't understand. Sometimes we think matrimony has caused the change.

• • •

Mr. Henry Brown of Brown & Hart, Inc., and his Peerless are in the limelight constantly. What next.

The Vellery family have finally decided that there is no place like L. A. It took two motor trips to Chicago to convince them, or her rather, as he knew. They still have their Nash and good health, so they are none the worse off.

• • •

The Eagle's official car journeyed to Long Beach, Monday to do a bit of criminal investigation.

Three efficient reporters were passengers.

Mrs. Cyntuia Cleighton was noticed rambling around in her good-looking Reo sedan. She looked the picture of health and like her trip East agreed with her.

• • •

Rev. Miller who for several years past has directed the religious and financial destinies of Eighth and Towne and recreates in a smart-looking Studebaker, has been returned we hear for another year to the charge. There is much rejoicing amongst the friends and members.

• • •

The National Association had a rather lively session at 8th and Towne Ave., last Sunday. Reckon if Gabriel had blown his horn you couldn't have told who was who. The threatening storm finally subsided and many took an auto airing to catch their breath.

• • •

Boys, watch your steps as there is a smart-looking young lady that pilots a Chevy coupe extracting a dollar or more from those she comes in contact for National Association membership. We don't mean for you to dodge her but be sure and keep a dollar in your pocket so you won't be embarassed and forced to say no. This is a warning.

Hello, help! Police! Mr. Norman O. Houston just rolled up in his Stude and cracked us on the head for a "Y" membership at the same time mumbling something about conscripting us to assist in a membership drive with the title of Lieutenant attached to our papers. We thought the war was over, the army was disbanded, but not so. So General Houston we accept your command.

Walter Davis and his Overland have suddenly commenced consuming gas. We never noticed it till the gas man called our attention to it.

Well, of course you've heard the news but if you weren't there to have seen you can't imagine what 23rd and Central looked like on last Thursday and Friday nights, when the Lincoln Theater came into being. Thursday night was the speak-easy entrance by invitation only and things looked crowded that night but Friday was knock 'em dead night. Seats and parking space were at a premium and smelling salts were in demand. However the excitement is now all over and one may now secure a seat without risking their life.

Fred Price, the doing well young man, drove up in his Hudson to see us last Tuesday. Fred sure knows how to extract the erbs from one's pocket and bank them.

• • •

Captain Smith who many will remember a year or so back as the elusive and ruthenous man about town, paraded down the Avenue last Tuesday A. M. in a vittaged Pierce Arrow. We know not whence he cometh or withar he goeth. But any way we seen him on the wing.

From what we see and hear a new motor car agency is to be born about November 1st. Chas. Blodgett is to be the father and Tommy Pillows the nurse. The infant is to be the Hudson-Essex. We presume and assume someone's going to move to make room for the new arrival.

• • •

Paul Alexander, veteran County employe had his Buick slightly damaged last week when he forgot and left the car door open in backing out of his yard. The car is in the hospital. Better the car than the owner.

Drove by John Caulsberry, the electrician last Tuesday and was informed that he was in court, where he brought suit for personal damages sustained by him in an explosion accident over a year ago.

Folks have already headed their cars for the winter league baseball park and if the opening game runs true to form for attendance there will be just a measely 10,000 black and white folks on hand when the gong sounds and the umpire yels—PLAY BALL! Odds are 2 to 1 that the colored team cops the opener. Personally we don't bet. But for those who do there is a chance to clean up and get well. This dope was extracted from the Claud Neil Smoke House.

HIGHLIGHTS ON NEW MOTOR VEHICLE LAW

Notable among the recent changes in the California Motor Laws are those enacted for the purpose of minimizing the number of stolen cars, according to the Legal Department of the National Automobile Club.

Used car dealers must give notice to the Division of Motor Vehicles whenever a car is sold or transferred. The purpose of the amendment requiring such notice is that of facilitating the recovery of stolen cars.

Other provisions aimed at the stolen car evil are the amendments to section 55 regarding reports of stolen or embezzled vehicles. Two sub-sections have been added to this section of the law.

First is sub-section "B" requiring that if a stolen car is not recovered within one week after the theft of it, the county sheriff or chief of police or peace officer to whom the theft is reported, shall make an immediate report of the theft to the Division of Motor Vehicles. Official forms for such reports are supplied by the Division. This sub-section also requires that any officer receiving information that any car which has previously been reported stolen, is recovered, shall immediately report the fact of such discovery to the Division.

Then, sub-section "C" contains the provision which makes possible the use of the reports for the purpose of checking up. The Division files all the reports of stolen automobiles, indexes the reports and will not transfer the registration of any car without first checking up.

The check will be made on the engine numbers shown in the application for transfer against the engine numbers shown in the stolen car index. If the Division is satisfied that the car to be transferred is not a stolen car, the transfer will be made in the regular way. If, however, the engine number of the car to be transferred, checks with a number shown by the index to be that of a stolen car not reported as recovered, the investigation will start. That is how the system works.

Still another provision will aid in the recovery of stolen cars is that which has to do with reports to be made by garage owners. This amendment requires the reporting to the police or sheriff's office any motor vehicle which has been stored in the garage for a period of more than thirty days, if the owner and address is not known to the garage proprietor.

Parking stations are required to keep a record of cars stored longer than twelve hours.

Inflate Front Tires To Equal Pressure

When the car begins to steer to right or left and is hard to hold in the road, examine the air in the front tires. A difference of fifteen pounds pressure in the front tires will often cause the car to street to the side with ow pressure.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Kemp on Channing Street, motored into town Monday from Elsinore, where they maintain a cozy summer home. Mr. Kemp is still on the mend from the accident he had some time ago.

Harrison Paint Shop To The Front

The Harison Auto Paint Shop, whose ad appears elsewhere in the column of this paper and of which Mr. C. C. Harrison is proprietor is a concern that is standing on both feet and delivering the goods.

This going, growing business is maintaining a standard in efficiency and workmanship that is 100 per cent. This is a true statement minus any attempt at flattery.

"The Harrison Auto Paint Shop," says Mrs. Harrisbn, "is introducing using the latest painting methods and our work is absolutely guaranteed. The interested public is always welcome to visit our plant any time from 7 A. M. to 6 P. M. Prices quoted and estimates given."

Santa Barbara Road Now in Good Shape

For the first time in two and one-half years, the highway into Santa Barbara from the South is clear of all construction hindrances. The road is wide open now, the last remaining section of one-way traffic just north of the Ventura bridge having been eliminated.

High Sierra Report Splendid Hunting

The high Sierra carry promise of excellent deer hunting this year. Hunting is reported unusually good in the vicinity of Fish Camp and Wawona, probably due to the fact that these places are in such proximity to Yosemite National Park. Saddle and pack animals may be obtained at these locations at an average charge of $2.50 per day.

Squealing Brakes Trouble Indicator

When brakes begin to squeal, it is time to examine the lining for exposed rivet heads. Metal rivets coming in contact with the brake drum not only cause this annoying noise but cause the more serious trouble of scoring the brake drums.

Motor Car Accident Figures Presented

Twenty-eight per cent of the non-occupational accidents to which the average person is exposed, result from the automobile. The leading cause of such accidents is collision, while other leading factors are repairing, cranking and skidding.

A Gasoline Still

Synthetic gasoline, they say,
Will chase the old high costs away,
And we can drive the whole long day
And scarcely have a dime to pay.

We'll operate a private still
And make our gas whene'er we will
And let the old bus have its fill,
Nor think about that monthly bill.

We'll brew the juice from coal or coke;
We'll catch and boil the furnace smoke;
We'll put the old ash pile in soak
And touring costs will be a joke.

Now, if some genius wil come through
With ways to make old tires like new
And meet the monthly payments due
Then will our rosiest dreams come true.

AUTOMOTIVE NOTES

Within the next few years, a million American children will owe their high school educations to the motor bus.

Minnesota is planning a $20,000,000 road building program, according to a report received by the National Automobile Club.

• • •

Approximately 275,000 licenses for passenger automobiles have been issued in Virginia already this year.

• • •

Nine-tenths of the automobiles in the Union of South Africa are of American make.

Hawaii automobile license plates for 1928 will bear orange figures on a brown background.

• • •

Motorists should keep in mind the fact that sofe tires not only destroy themselves but consume additional power. Be sure that the tires are fully inflated.

Included in the record breaking United States exports to the Far East during the 1926-27 period, were automotive products valued at $88,382,000.

Sweden now has thirty times more motor vehicles in operation than in 1917, according to a report received by the National Automobile Club.

• • •

Drain the gasoline tank from time to time. This will get rid of dirt and water accumulation.

• • •

Twenty-one new bridges, estimated to cost $3,150,000 are under construction in South Carolina.

RUNS AMUCK WITH HIS HUDSON CAR

Oswald Cruezet, 823 E. 32nd St., driving, accompanied by J. T. Wilson, 1426 E. 18th St., of whom it is said both were intoxicated ran amuck on Central Avenue on last Wednesday at 4 o'clock P. M. They started out by hitting a gravel struck at 22nd and Central Ave., never stopping they hit a touring car between 23rd and 24th on Central Ave., throwing this car across two railway tracks, holding up traffic for 30 minutes, while a L. A. wrecking car came to the rescue to remove the debris.

At this point the driver and his companion were overhauled by the officers and placed in jail where they say they will prosecute under the new law, which is a positive felony. The arrests were made by officers from Newton St. Station.

WOMAN'S ECONOMIC COUNCIL GIVE BANQUET IN HONOR OF A. PHILIP RANDOLPH

Los Angeles railroad circles were pretty well fagged out from the many social activities that were given last week during the visit of Mr. A. Philip Randolph, noted orator, starting the ball to rolling with a dance that packed the hall at 15th and main, and ending the week with an elaborate banquet at Eagle Hall. Those of the steel rails bid farewell to the master of economics as he departed for Oakland, Calif. It has been reported that when the Hon. Mr. Randolph entered the hall at 15th and Main, the crack Sunnyland Band struck up the national anthem—The Star Spangled Banner—and those who were dancing stopped in token of respect to the great leader. It looks as if the race has found another Booker T. Washington with further advanced ideas. His intelligence on economics has taken both the Nordic and Negro races by storm, as is testified to by the University of California, at which institution Mr. Randolph lectured with credit. Other great speakers have come to this city, but when they left they were quickly forgotten. Mr. Randolph has taken much time to explain the fundamental principles of economics, so that even a baby must see the futility of trying to continue on contrary to the plans that were mapped out in his lectures. He has planted a seed of thought with the race that will some day grow into a giant tree of economic freedom. The race proclaims him as the safe and sane leader of the New Negro.

PRESIDENTS' COUNCIL OF THE FEDERATED WOMAN'S CLUB GIVE BREAKFAST IN HONOR OF RANDOLPH

Social Clubs and leaders vieing with one another to do honor to Race leader was considered quite a stimulant to quiet Los Angeles last week, added to the long list of social activities was a breakfast at the Republica Tea Room last Friday morning, in honor of Mr. A. Phillip Randolph. Members of the club have stamped the breakfast as a star in their social crown.

WOMAN'S ECONOMIC COUNCIL TO GIVE DANCE AT MUSIC ART STUDIO

Chiropractors and Chiropodists should make good money during the next two weeks, and it would be a good idea for some of them to get acquainted with a certain young lady by the name of Mrs. Lulu Slaughter, publicly known as the Hon. President of the Woman's Economic Council, for as I am informed, this young lady and her Economic thebas, are the sole sponsors of what is to be a high class dance, commonly known, as a hoof shake, to be given at the Music Art Studio, 232 So. Broadway, Friday night, October 21. The music will be rendered by the famous Harmony Kings, who by the way guarantee to make exceptional good business the next day for the already mentioned Chiropractors and Chiropodists, repairing the many mistreated dogs which will no doubt need their attention after this most wonderful evening. I am also informed that the tickets will be sold for the ridiculously low price of 50 cents which is but a drop in the bucket for so great a privilege as this opportunity presents on the evening of October 21. I know many who would give their right arm to dance with certain members of this high-powered Economic Council, although I will not mention any names. But it is my advice to those who are in the market for an evening of mirth and pleasure to purchase one of the treasured pasteboards as soon as they can find time to do so

J. C. CORBIN RETIRES

Mr. J. C. Corbin, one of the oldest porters in this district lays aside the Pullman blue this week. Mr. Corbin started to work in 1893 and served actively for 34 years. He has a son operating out of Chicago and a son-in-law, A. Allen, who transferred here from Portland, Oregon. He has a record any Pullman Porter would be proud to own and is well able to live comfortably regardless of the pension he will receive from the Pullman Co.

Coming as a surprise, Porter's Inspector, L. A. Coffin announced his candidacy for Grand Delegate to the Grand Lodge in Chicago. Mr. Coffin went to Chicago before as a delegate and expect to considered as new timer.

FINAL ELECTION OF P. P. B. A. IS ON

This is last week of the P. P. B. A. election and it won't be any new. All porters are interested to know who the Honorable gent will be that will travel to the convention as the representative of Local No. 1. It looks like a close race between T. A. Sims and A. Noel. When the final ballot is cast and the votes are counted, Los Angeles porters are expecting to be informed that A. Noel will be the lucky man. So it won't be long now, and we shall see what we will see.

PILLOW SLIPS

They tell me that that wise old bird W. Glenn shipped his family away on a vacation. It looks as if he is going to have to do his own cooking for a while.

Don't forget the Woman's Economic Council dance at Music Art Hall, Oct. 21.

All railroad men should patronize the new Bronx Hotel for various reasons. It is the leading hotel in the city for railroad men.

The Chicago Millwaukee and St. Paul is using the new Simmons bed matresses on all of their cars.

Charlie White and a few others who used to work for the Millwaukee will no doubt be surprised to hear that their former Superintendent, Mr. Junke passed through this city on his way to San Diego.

Union Pacific Gossip

By: J. R.

A coating of thin ice has formed around the rail at the commissary that causes waiters and cooks to creep up to the assignment board with a bit of fear, five cars that were placed into service May 22nd to care for the summer tourist rush have been taken out of service, the sixth waiter on trains Nos. 25 and 26 have been taken off, in fact conditions at the present time have caused a great deal of unrest, seniority seems to be upon the tongues of each and every one trying to get a winter berth.

• • •

HERE AND THERE

Stranton Roy, formerly of the Union Pacific, has gone to the Southern Pacific.

WATTS

By Mrs. M. B. WRIGHT

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell were down Sunday visiting the Jacksons on So. Compton and other friends. They left for St. Joseph, Mo., Sunday evening, but they like California so well that they will return and buy.

Mrs. A. Jones on East 116th Street, entertained with a delicious luncheon in honor of Mrs. Vulgen, Thursday.

Mr. William Jones, who will be remembered by many, who attended Lincoln Institute, Jefferson City, Mo., in 1880 and who taught in St. Joseph, has been dead for two months. He was the first cousin of the Watts News Reporter, Mrs. M. B. Wright, on E. 114th Stret.

Rev. White's evangelist, Mrs. Blake, lady preacher, will close their meetings this week.

We are glad to see our colored doctors making a success of their trade as Dr. Bledsoe and Dr. T. Moore.

U. N. I. A. is having their regular meetings and getting stronger all the time.

Mrs. H. Thomas returned from Phoenex Saturday evening.

Mrs. Andrews, on E. 114th Street is very low at this writing.

Mr. Henry Harvey has moved to 1643 E. 115th Street.

Mr. Edward Sanders has opened up his factory and many are kept busy, on E. 112th Street.

Mr. Bush, who lived on E. 116th St., now living on E. 28th Strert, is very low with a nervous breakdown.

Mrs. Baskett on E. 116th Street has closed her meeting and is glad to know that she has done some good.

Mrs. Bryant, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Huston, on Alabama Street, will return to Kansas City, Kansas, very soon. We all wish she could stay longer.

Rev. Ramsey's rally was a great success. Now they will soon be able to burn their mortgage.

Mr. Ed. Flenries of Reno, Nevada, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. E. Bartholomew, who has just completed their beautiful home on E. Santa Ana Boulevard.

Mrs. Anna Vulgen of Nevada is stopping with Mrs. A. Chism on E. 115th Street.

REV. HARDY FOUND GUILTY

PASTOR FACES 1 TO 10 YEARS FOR MAN-SLAUGHTER

VERDICT REACHED AFTER TWO HOURS SURPRISES DEFENSE ATTORNEY

The Rev. William R. Hardy, Negro minister, was found guilty of manslaughter last night by a jury composed of nine women and three men who heard evidence in Department 28 of the Superior Court of the fatal shooting last July of John Dainty, Negro bootblack. The jury had deliberated only two hours. Penalty under its verdict is from one to 10 years in the penitentiary. Judge James H. Pope set October 18 as date for pronouncing sentence.

The verdict came as a surprise to the defense counsel, which had announced expectation of an acquital from the "self-defense" angle, evidence supporting it having been built up to a point showing the minister to have received warning of threats by the deceased.

The trial began September 30 and was in actual progress 13 days. There were 13 men and women, one an alternate juror, in the jury box, and the verdict was given the 13th day of October.

An extra juror had listened to the evidence to insure against the case being held up through possible illness of any of the regular jurors. Only 12 deliberated in reaching the verdict, which was given at 8:30 o'clock last night. The case had gone to the jury at 6 o'clock, and deliberations began immediately following dinner served the jurors.

Counsel for the defense staked everything on a "self-defense" plea for the Rev. Hardy, who they asserted had been warned of a possible attack and general threats made against American Negroes, as defense witnesses testified having been the statement by Dainty, who was a French subject, coming from the French West Indies.

Judge Pope used up three-quarters of an hour in his instructions to the jury, which was provided with five verdict blanks, one for a verdict of not guilty, one for a verdict of manslaughter, one for second degree murder, one for first degree murder with penalty fixed at life imprisonment and one for first degree murder with penalty according to law—capital punishment.

Members of the jury were Mrs. Leah Measom, Grace C. Hall, Froye Taylor, Etta R. Hess, Mrs. Mollie Hawley, Mrs. Margaret Watkins, Mary E. Murdock, John H. Robinson, Charles Ballard, Stella K. Byler, Mrs. Lillian B. Spannagel and Thomas C. McGuigan. Mrs. Edward served as alternate juror.

The Hardy murder trial was the sixty-ninth murder case for Attorney Perkey of McConnell and Perkey, of the Hardy defense counsel. Mr. Perkey was a former colleague of Senator William E. Borah, the two having served together in the United States senate, representing the state of Idaho. Mr. Perkey is also a former Idaho judge, and at Helena, Mont., was affiliated in cases there with Attorney McConnell, who at one time was prosecuting attorney at Helena.

The Rev. Hardy was at one time a resident of Boise, Idaho, and was known there by Attorney Perkey, who stated the Negro minister stood in best repute in that city.

Deputy District Attorney McCartney who prosecuted, is a former California state senator, a veteran of the bar, and has been in charge of the Long Beach branch of the district attorney's office since last February.—The Long Beach Sun, Friday, Oct. 14, 1927.

Pastor Held in Shooting Asks Re-trial

OCTOBER 27 SET AS DATE FOR ARGUMENT IN W. R. HARDY CASE

Sentence of the Rev. W. R. Hardy, Negro minister, found guilty of manslaughter by a jury in department 28 of the superior court on October 14, was held up yesterday by filing of a motion for a new trial by the defendant's attorneys, A. H. McConnell and K. I. Perky. Judge James M. Willis set October 27 as date for argument, which will be heard before Judge Jas. H. Pope, who was the trial judge.

The Reverend Hardy, in asking for a new trial, asks that the jury's verdict of manslaughter be set aside as having been decided by means other than a fair expression of opinion on the part of the jurors, and that new evidence has come to light favoring the defendant, since close of the trial.

In asking for a new trial for their client Attorneys McConnell and Perky assert that the court misdirected the jury in matters of law, had erred in decisions of questions of law arising in the course of the trial, that the verdict returned by the jury was contrary to the evidence in the case and contrary to law. It is set forth that the court had committed error in alleged refusal to give instructions to the jury requested by the defense, in that the court modified the same by failing to give such instructions as requested, and had erred by giving instructions requested by the prosecution, and instructions by the court's own motion.

VINDICATION OF R. W. WILLIS

R. W. Willis vendicated by the Directors & Stockholders of the Western Star Mines Corporation.

There was a runror that the president R. W. Willis, had used the funds of the corporation for his personal use or benefit, but Mr. Willis as president of the corporation, desired to prove to the Directors and Stockholders that the funds were more than safe and he called a special meeting, that they could examine he accounts and check up every item of money collected and spent.

Mr. Willis instead of using the money belonging to the corporation, had used his own money for the company.

The mining company of which Mr. Willis is president, has examined the book and exonerated him of every charge,and from the figures submitted by Mr. Willis to the corporation, as to the receipts and disbursements, have fully satisfied the company.

That there has been no misappropriate of funds what-so-ever ,and each member of the Board has signed statement to that effect, and are willing and ready to give their moral and financial support to make the company what has been their found expectation and hope.

TO WHO MIT MAY CONCERN:

We the undersigned Directors and Stockholders of the WESTERN STAR MINES CORPORATION certify that we have examined the Books and Papers of the WESTERN STAR MINES CORPORATION and our findings vindicate R. W. Willis from any and all of misappropriating any of the funds of the Corporation and find the Company is in good condition to carry out the policies and purposes of the Company.

In witness whereof we subscribed our names this 15th day of October, 1927.

First Visit Full of Thrill

Miss Gladys Harris of the County Charitiesand one of Los Angeles foremost Social workers of this City and County has returned from a visit to St. Louis, Mo., and Chicago, Ill.

In talking to a reporter on this paper Miss Harris said in part, "One must leave Los Angeles and visit such cities with throbing human interest to appreciate the home town. I like both St. Louis and Chicago. I was glad to visit the Binga and Douglas Banks in Chicago and many other places of interest.

I also note and appreciate the progress being made by members of the race in St. Louis which I was able to inspect because of the kindness of Editor and Mrs. Mitchell of the St. Louis Argus.

I am glad to be back home in Los Angeles for here I don't have to look upon the dingy teniment district such as you see in St. Louis and Chicago. Here the Sun shines bright in my old California home, and the little poverty scattered here and there, is soon banished by the kindness I am able to spare."

Hammer and Knife Figure in Slaying of Hattie Goodson

On last Sunday, about 3 P .M. Daniel Porter was seen to flee from the home of his paramour Hattie Goodson, 1160 E. 52nd St., just after a scream from the woman and words were spoken by her: "He is cutting me to death, call the police!"

When the police arrived Hattie Goodson was found prone on the floor slowly bleeding to death from a knife wound which severed an artery in one of her lower limbs, from which she died in a few minutes.

At the Coroner's inquest beside the other witnesses who testified as above the defendant took the stand and testified that the woman assauled him with a hammer, striking him over the head and cut his finger and wrist and in jerking away from her she stumbled and inflicted the wound which caused her death.

The defendant was apprehended on Main St. on last Monday and after giving officer L. McDuff a merry chase was captured on Los Angeles St., near 5th. Detective Lieut. McDuff handled the case with Lieut. Greene.

The Coroner's Jury believing the story of the defendant, brought in a verdict exhonorating him of all blame calling the homicide as accidental. This does not necessarily close the case for the District Attorney may see fit to put him on trial notwithstanding the Coroner's verdict.

N. A. A. C. P. CALLS FOR MEMBERS

The citizens of Pico Heights district have given us a wonderful example of co-operation. They realized the power of organization and banded themselves into a group for the purpose of raising money to aid the association in paying the Manhattan Beach debt, to carry forward the principals of the Association and to bring in new members. Mr. J. E. Marshall is the presidfent and Miss. Carmelita White, secretary.

At a meeting of the branch last week they reported $40.00 in cash for local defense and several memberships. We urge the citizens of the various communities to organize similar groups and let us make the Los Angeles Branch what it should be. THIS IS YOUR FIGHT!

WHO'S WHO IN LOS ANGELES

BY WHO?

Dear public—Indeed it is a pleasure for me to be priviledged to open this column with Mrs. Homer Dean as the subject of my first sketch.

When we asked for an interview with this modest little matron, she said I have little to say about my early life other than that I was willing to sacrifice in order that my brothers and sisters might be benefitted by every educational opportunity that was in my power to bring about through earnest application to work.

Mrs Dean left Chicago where she spent her early life in 1905 and settled at Seattle Washington as headquarters for her business activities, she being at this time traveling saleswoman for the world known firm of Siegel Cooper Co., of Chicago and New York.

In the Northwest Mrs. Dean enjoyed the confidence and respect not only of her patrons, but of the people. She remained in the State of Washington until 1909 when she came to San Francisco to accept an important position with the San Francisco Electrical Appliance Co., where she remained for five years, and leaving at the expiration of that time filled an even more important place with the F. C. Cunningham Co., of Vancouver, B. C. where she remained for two years.

"Canada is a splendid country and I enjoyed the contact," said Mrs. Dean, but I soon grew tired of being apart from my people, and decided to return to the states. This time to Los Angeles. So October 20, 1914 this city became my future home." According to her policy ,Mrs. Dean was here but a short time before she secured employment. Thru the kindness of Mr. L. V. Stewart she became a part of Bullocks working personnel where she met and soon afterwards married her present husband, Mr. Homer Dean.

MRS. HOMER DEAN

The union with Mr. Dean netted the little mother three beautiful daughters Muriel, Anna, and Sadie the property of Mr. Dean by a former marriage.

Mrs. Dean was a devoted mother to these girls for four years at the expiration of which they went to Texas to make their home with their grand parents.

An Active Club Worker

Mrs. Dean has always been active in club work, but especially since coming to Los Angeles; She is ex-president of Vernon Art Guild, served as both 1st and 2nd vice president of Sojourner Truth club. Pres. of New Thought Club of Boyle Hts. succeeding Mrs. J. W. Coleman, member of the Kensington Art Club, the Red Cross chairman 1926 reciprocity, Supt. of Forestry, founder and first president of the Eva Carter Buckner Club, and an active worker in the Presbyterian church.

IMPORTANAT NOTICE

Mr. John Henry Williams of East 28th Street please communicate with the Eraveler's Aid, TRinity 2867 in regard to your nephew, Milton George Riley of Indio, California.

Rev. Mr. Hawkins former pastor of Wesley M. E. Church many years ago will be the Evening preacher at Wesley this Sunday Evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. Edward Miller of Tacoma Wash. formerly of Helena Montana was a visitor to the Eagle Sanctum this week. He is an old friend of the editor.

MADAME MOZELLE TE OUTLEY'S RECITAL AT ST. PAUL BAPTIST CHURCH, OCT. 6, A FINE SUCCESS

The Piano recital at St. Paul Baptist Church at 21st and Naomi Streets carried through with her numerous pupils, by Madame Mozelle Te Outley, on Thursday evening, October 6, 1927 was a most pleasing, intellectual, artistic as well as splendid numerical success.

It was throughout a most faithful and complete Piano Recital, as Madame Outley has her own very seasoned and decidedly matured ideas of the best modes of raising to a complete artistic success her many pupils, for she stands for Piano teaching for piano pupils, and believes loyally in the idea of no intermixing of strange tonal effects of other musical instruments for children pupils of her piano classes. Madame Outley thinks that the best results can be attained with the practise of piano playing for piano pupils, violin teaching for violin pupils, saxophone teaching for saxophone pupils, just one big, good thing at one time, and no undue interruptions of other tonal effects to supplant her own chosen field of strict adherence to Piano spheres only. In this strong opinion Madame Outley may be quite right, at least, she is most justifiable and gallantly sustained in her noble musical one-instrument attitude by the fine intensity and skilful display virtuosity of her many charges of pupils, who seemed to prove her correctness of her principle of "strict application for Piano pupils to the piano both in her lessons and the practising exercises thereafter!"

Madame Outley has a motherly control over her loyal children; they respond with fervid spontaneity to all her gentle requests and all of her orders go through with great precision, fine tact and her own inimitable warm smile. Perhaps 30 of the 40 announced number were played as sickness and last minute happenings kept 9 or 10 at home, but in no way lessened the quality and the fine triumph of the big occasion. The classes showed an almost endless variety of players, from two-months beginners to girls and boys, already well-seasoned and perhaps 7 or 8 years or longer in Piano harness. Judging by the rich applause, the flower, the candy and other tokens that the pupils received from their parents, relatives, friends and Madame Outley, and also estimating the kind-hearted and genuine applause that this capable woman, Madame Outley, herself, got, her well directed efforts to lift up her many children to big successes are well-sustained by the parents and their guardians of the tots, a positive guarantee that the teacher is on the prosperous path of success. The small dainty pieces of the little ones, and the heavier classics of the ripe scholars were all played with deft hands, wide-awake minds and sincere hearts and throughout the one and three-fourths hours of playing the audience of 500 people never flagged in interest and acted as if they would have liked to hear even more.

Sister C. D. Robinson who returned safely and happily from a recent Eastern mountain trip, made several important announcements as did Madame Outley and others pertaining to art, church work and racial matters.

Madame Outley spoke very gratefully as well as gracefully about the nice piano she had secured for the recital from the well-known firm of Barker Bros. and she asked all of her friends to purchase their instruments from this firm through their representative. She also paid a very handsome tribute to the race florist, Mr. H. F. Warren, who had contributed many fine flowers to the event.

All in all the affair was a big success.

Mrs. Mozelle Te Outley, besides her capacity as a capable and dignified Piano Teacher, is also one of the most lustrous and picturesque directresses of choirs and lyrical ensemble combinations in the country and very much sought after by leading racial

NOTED DIVINE VISITS LOS ANGELES

The Rev. McGee was speaker at the First A. M. E. Church Sunday morning, and it is said that his was a burning gospel message.

HEALING SERMON NOW ON PHONOGRAPH RECORDS

By: BISHOP F. W. McGEE

A most unique and extraordinary development of the further good to be accomplished through the medium of the phonograph record has just come to our attention. The Victor Talking Machine Company of Camden, New Jersey have just released a record, one side of which contains the famous healing sermon entitled: "With His Stripes We Are Healed." This recording was obtained through the good graces and kind cooperation of the very reverend Bishop F. W. McGee and members of his congregation of the Church of God in Christ.

Bishop McGee has for years been rendering aid and comfort to the sick and injured through the medium of his prayers and meetings held throughout the most important cities of the country. Testimonials are given nightly by members of his flock concerning the suffering which has been relieved, and often times entirely eliminated, by the prayers of Bishop McGee and his congregation.

On last Wednesday and Friday nights mass meetings, attended by thousands were held in the Church located at 3326 Prarie Ave., Chicago, Ill., at which time ths record of "With His Stripes We Are Healed" was played for the congregation. The reception of this recording was the most genuine and spontaneous ever witnessed by this writer. Literally hundreds of the attending were so impressed by what they heard that arrangements were immediately made whereby those wishing too were permitted to then and there place their order for one or more of this marvelous record. Many in the congregation bought one of these records to send to ill or injured friends in some distant spot or place who, unable to attend the meetings, might derive the spiritual good from hearing Bishop McGee's voice and sermon so beautifully recorded.

Certainly, through this record, Bishop McGee will be able to carry the word of God to all parts of the world —into homes, hospitals, army camps and other places where in the past, he has not been able to reach—and most of all, to those who might be bed ridden or hopelessly incapacitated to whom his voice and this sermon, together with the beautiful singing, will serve as an eternal and constant ray of glorious sunshine.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF REMOVAL OF OFFICE

Dr. V. C. Hamilton announces the removal of his office to 917 East 28th St., near Griffith Avenue, Telephone HUmbolt 5206.

The concert, rendered by the Song and Entertainer's Club of Douglas Temple, on last Monday evening was a great and grand success. The house was full and everybody was happy and some are asking for a repition of the same. Thanks to those who cooperated with us in making this a big success. We hope to meet you again at the Get-Acquainted Club at the same place next Thursday the 27th admission free.

Yours truly

ON THE SIDEWALK

By C. A. B.

It is rather a pleasing as well as hopeful experience to move along the avenue (Central I mean) and see the human procession as it babbles in and out—

Some are busy and some are not,
Some are remembering and some forgetting;
That the stearner responsibilities of life are facing them
And that they must cease from imitating and create.

Slowly but surely we shall march along this great thoroughfare until we come to the very end of the trail.

This week we are inviting your attention to the business territory lying between 14th and 15th streets.

Near the comer of 14 and Central is the Urban League presided over by Mrs. Katherine J. Barr, on the S. E. corner is The American Woodmen with B. Graham at the helm, opposite which is the city's only fire station manned by colored men.

N. E. corner of 14th and central Brown Oil Station, 1406 Wagners Shoe Store, corner of Central at Newton Burdette's Pie Shoppe, 1415 A. J. Roberts and Son's Undertakers, 1472 Unity Beauty Parlor, 1472½ L. A. Valet Service, and housed i nthe same building is the Missouri Cafe, Bennie St. Mary's Barber Shop, 1492 A. A. Thomas Tailoring establishment 1490 Eddie's Cafe, corner 15th and Central Walker's cash grocery, 1453 Flowerland with Ralph Porter proprietor, 1429 Imperial Barber Shop, 1423 The Walker Beauty Salon Eggleston's Pharmacy and Ye Waffle Shoppe.

In these few blocks that we have covered there are other very small eating places two numerous to mention.

Appreciation

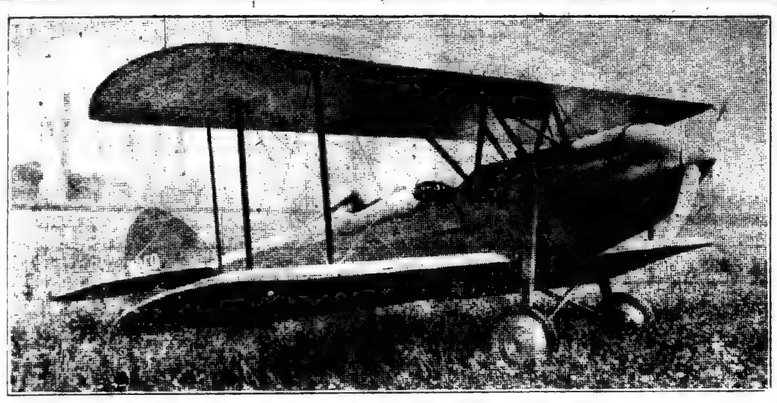
Through the columns of the California Eagle, I wish to express to the management of the Lincoln Theatre, my appreciation and gratitude for my father to the extent of placing in this beautiful theatre a life sized painting of him who was to me both father and teacher, as well as one of the recognized leaders of his race during his lifetime.

BOOKER T. WASHINGTON

There is no doubt that this institution of high class amusement will fill a very important need and place as a most pleasing and unique neighborhood moving picture and amusement center.

The opportunity it affords in giving employment to the Colored people is exceptionally pleasing and should not be overlooked, as I have been informed by the management that about sixty race persons are now receiving employment through this medium.

It is hoped that the conduct of those attending this theatre will be becoming to the magnificance of the structure, and prove that my people can and will appreciate the effort that is being made to develop them along a cultural as well as artistic line.



Again thanking the management for the recognition in memory of my deceased parent, and hoping that the true spirit of Booker T. Washington shall prevade the very atmosphere of the Lincoln Theatre to the extent that boys and girls who gaze upon his likeness from time to time will catch the inspiration of hope to accomplish something in life worthwhile for themselves and their fellowman.

BOOKER T. WASHINGTON, Jr.

Speeding On Central Ave. Result In Death of C. B. Massey

Last Sunday evening driving North on Central Ave., near 49th st. it is said at a terrific speed ran afoul of a Central Ave car striking same lost complete control of his brand new Buick machine and wrecked both his own car and street car as well.

Crushed the life out of himself and his wife was miraculously saved with painful and serious bruises. The Buick was a complete wreck and the street car was badly damaged.

Blythe News

On Monday, Oct. 10th, after Women's Home Mission Society was over the people of Blythe accorded to Rev. W. B. Redden a wonderful reception as he was leaving for the A. M. E. Zion Conference. Rev. Redden left many friends in Blythe by the demonstration given him.

Sunday all morning services were well attended. The St. Paul B. Y. P. U. had a lovely union but it was reported that the president, Mrs. V. Toiar, was seriously ill. The most spectacular feature of the Union however was to see the "Ever Ready" class composed of children from eleven to fourteen being so beautifully handled by a small girl, Minnie Hodnett and the "True and Tried" class composed of children from eight to eleven being taught by a small girl, Catherine Hodnett. Cloma Wilkins and Euelena Adams are captains of these respective classes.

Mrs. G. W. Murray has returned from a short visit to San Diego and reports Mrs. Murray is doing nicely Lillie May Consar is yet in a doubtful condition. Mrs. Jenkins, the wife of Mr. J. G. Jenkins, the tailor, took suddenly ill Sunday and was seriously ill throughout the day. We wish for her a speedy recovery.

Club No. 5 entertained Saturday night and brilliant results were attained.

Sister Emma Haywood, Pearl White and Eunie Peewy with others have made for themselves worthwhile names as unselfish and untiring workers to make others happy. Every program put over for the general public; these three women can be found back of all and in all we appreciate these kind women.

There are many things needed in Blythe, but at present one of the most outstanding needs is a music teacher. There are numbers of eager girls and a few boys who have spare hours and they fairly "howl" for something to do. If we could only make our cry "come over in Blythe and help us" heard over on Central Avenue, where hundreds of competent musicians promenade in "the Great White Lights," we would be happy. At present the community wants a Brass Band, instruments are available but where will the instructor come from? True we live in the desert, but here we hear the whispering voice of nature telling us that He who made the hills around us and decreed that few clouds should ever obscure the sun from our view is also the Ruler of our lives and has a work for us to do in this desert. Pioneers is the name that suits us best, but it seems as if this name cannot fasten unto musicians. Like others who desire someone else to build a city for them, they are evidently seeking paved streets, electric cars and over-crowded conditions.

Fresno News

Theodore Lewis, a young medical student at U. S. C. spoke before the B. Y. P. U. at the Second Baptist Church last Sunday evening on the subject, "Life's Opportunities as I see them Today." His lecture was very interesting in every detail. Several selections by the Los Serenados Glee Club completed the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robinson (nee Willie Townsend) of San Diego, who are enjoying their honeymoon in our city as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alex W. Clarke, have been lavishly entertained by the younger married set during their sojourn. Last Sunday evening Mrs. Henry C. Wilkes, Mrs. Carl Moulden and Mrs. William A. Bigby, Jr., were joint hostesses at a formal affair in compliment to the popular visitors, using the spacious Bigby residence for the setting. Their guests included the members of the Foxette Club and their husbands. Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Clarke entertained a large number of the younger contingent in honor of their house-guests. Dancing and cards afforded the evening's entertainment. Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. James L. Clarke gave a dancing party in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Robinson which was enjoyed by nearly two score of the younger married clique.

The Rev. J. H. Holder of Los Angeles arrived in our city this week to conduct a series of revival meetings at Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church. He preached the sermon for the Ministers Alliance last Tuesday evening.

James P. Geary and Joseph B. Morgan have returned from a trip to Los Angeles.

Dr. G. C. Coleman, the eminent Moderator of the Negro Missionary Baptist Association was a distinguished visitor in our city last week and was the house-guest of Rev. and Mrs. M. D. Dixon.

A meeting of the Junior girls of the city was held at the home of Mrs. Butler for the purpose of organizing a girls' club. Las Golodrinas, as the club was named is made up of the following: Corinne McGee, Louretna Keen, Portia Grear, Clarissa Hundley, Jane Dunlap, Inez Conley, Anita Jenkins, Ozell Lewis and Mrs. H. O. Johnson; Mrs. W. I. Dunlap and Mrs. S. A. Butler as Matrons. Motto: No victory without labor. Object: Improve self and help others. The club meets every third Saturday at the homes of the different members. The next meeting will be held at the home of Inez Conley, 2000 Ninth street. The officers are: Pres., Anita Jenkins; Vice-Pres., Portia Grear; Secy., Clarissa Hundley; Ass't. Secy., Inez Conley and Treas., Jane Dunlap.

The Modern Priscillas are again in full bloom. This year (school year) they have adopted many new plans. They are making some very new, attractive uniforms to replace the old, adopting some by-laws, and planning for a big year's work. The first event will be the initiation of two new members, Anna Mae Formen and Alberta Penn. The officers are: Pres., Clara Van Slack; Vice-Pres., Regina Holland; Treas., Evelyn Kennedy; Secy., Audrey Dunlap and Parliamentarian, Dorothy Van Slack.

Miss Ella Bluett broke her knee cap recently when she slipped on a hardwood floor where she was working.

The following entertainments will be given in the near future. The Art Club's Hallowe'en Ball, Oct. 31st at the Memorial Auditorium; Capital City Court of Calanthe Dance, Oct. 29th; Mrs. T. M. Davis in Recital for the benefit of Shiloh Baptist Church, Oct. 27th, and the Fashion Review and Dance given by the Ladies' Monday Club, Oct. 22nd at the Turn Verein Hall.

The Trojans and Tausants are again in full sway. Both clubs are planning a big year's work.

The Independent Cubs trimmed the Franklin Club 13 to 5 in a one-sided game Sunday, October 16th. Miller for the Cubs starred on the mound. J. Smith and Keen were the leading hitters with four each. Pickett certainly can cover some territory in center garden. Stutz Denick will fill in at second in the future.

20,000 SLAVES TO BE SET FREE

London, Oct. 15. (By A. N. P.)—It appears that public opinion in England was somewhat aroused when it learned that slavery was legally existent on territory included within the Empire and the return of fugitive slaves was legally enforceable. To think of Britain still countenancing slavery touched the British pride, and its boast, and the reaction is shown in the unanimous adoption of a resolution by the Legislative Council of Sierra Leone abolishing slavery in the adjoining protectorate from next New

Woman Accuses Senator With Beating Her

New York, Oct. 7.—State Senator Charles E. Russell is the defendant in a suit brought against him and his wife by Miss Rebecca Bumbry, comely young woman, formerly employed by the Russells as a maid.

According to the story told by Miss Bumbry, she was first employed by the Russells on August 31. She stayed with them for about two or three weeks, and on the fourth of September served notice that she was leaving on the fifteenth.

Thinking this sufficient notice, she quit the job on the fifteenth but the Russells refused to pay her the amount due her. Miss Bumbry left, but did not take her clothes with her.

Later, accompanied by her sister and friend, Miss Bumbry called at the Russell mansion to get her money. She was ushered in by a new maid and directed to the kitchen. When she got there, she says Senator Russell came in and rudely inquired what she wanted. Mrs. Russell came in also and shouted, "Get the hell out of my house." Then Mr. and Mrs. Russell forcibly ejected the three callers. Miss Bumbry states that in pushing her, Senator Russell struck her in the chest and injured her right hand by shoving her against the gas stove.

She further states that Mr. and Mrs. Russell further injured her by beating her on the body. Mrs. Russell makes a general denial of the charges, but the senator admits he forcibly ejected Miss Bumbry from his home and has a counter suit for the same amount instituted by Miss Bumbry, $3,000 for injured, which he says he suffered.

BRUTAL WHITES BEAT NEGRO TO DEATH

(By A. N. P.)

Shelby, N. C., Sept. 30.—Because he testified that four white men had beat up a small colored boy, Claude Long, a 35-year-old colored man, was beaten to death by the quartett of whites' Wednesday night.

Long presented his testimony at the courthouse Monday and identified the four whites. Wednesday night as he was en route home, it is alleged that the accused white men set upon him and administered a severe beating resulting in Long's death in a local hospital a few hours later.

The attackers disappeared but the officers are certain that they will be found and arrested soon as they are well known in this district. The missing men are said to be Ernest Hicks, Jack Westmoreland, Marcel Fortune and Hoyle Allen.

Monday, 24th, Educational Day at Sojourner Truth Home. Mrs. Evelyn Clark of the Helen Hunt Library will speak. A good musical program will also be rendered. Come and bring your friends—2 P. M.

Miss B. Brown of this city who is a visitor of New York as honored guest at a most beautiful midnite luncheon at the love nest of Mrs. Gertie Williams Lamb.

Mrs. Lamb is a native daughter of Los Angeles who with her sister, Mrs. Hattie Robinson Cooper, has adopted New York as their future home.

During the evening, the guests were wonderfully entertained by Mrs. Lamb's nephew, Ulysses Robinson. Young Robinson is an eccentric dancer who with his ambition we expect to soon be one of our Broadway stars.

Miss G. Lorena Mann of Des Moines, Iowa, was the incentive for a well appointed breakfast given by Miss Harriette Jones, at the beautifully decorated residence of Mrs. Maude Bird, 4307 Hooper Avenue, on Sunday, October 16, 1927. The guests were presented with corsages of sweet peas and maiden hair fern. Promptly at 11 o'clock, a delicious three-course breakfast was served.

Those participating included: Misses Helen St. John, Lillian E. Jennings, Emma Lue Sayers, Helen Hawkins, Gladys Greenaway, Alice Kennedy, Juanita Warren, Isaelle Clifton, Helen L. Wheeler, Ruby Jefferson, the honoree and the hostess.

The Y. M. C. A. Membership Drive is now in full swing. Daily reports portend a victorious campaign. The teams are running neck and neck with L. G. Robinson's "Brownies" slightly in the lead.

Mr. B. H. Graham, the Campaign Manager has called a meeting for Sunday, October 16th at 3 P. M. in order to plan for the final spurt before the close. Every Captain and worker is urged to be present. There will be a peppy program led by Assemblyman Roberts.

"Every man on his toes," is Mr. Graham's watchword.

Mrs. Maggie Wright of 914 E. 32nd street was hostess to the La France Club, Wednesday, the 12th. The rooms were lovely with their variegated table covers and shaded lights, a most delicious luncheon was served. Out of town guests were Mrs. Winston, New Orleans, La.; Mrs. Miller, Little Rock, Ark.; Mrs. Gray, El paso, Tex., and Mrs. Turner, Pasadena. City guests were Mesdames Vera Winston, Bessie Dones, Jennie Worsham, Florence Ellsworth, A. B. Williams, Hudspeth, Bennette, A. Feurtado, Naomi Booker, Eliza Johnson and Ernestine Royal. Club prizes, Mrs. Odessa Hudson, first; Mrs. Lillian Kelso, second; Mrs. Duncan, booby; Guest prizes, Mrs. Miller first, Mrs. Eliza Johnson second. New members now coming into the La France Club are Mrs. May Oliver, Mrs. Clay and Mrs. Irma Robinson.

The Golden Poppy Club wishes to thank their many friends for making their Who's Who Dance, their first social affair of the season, a success. The club girls carried out the idea of a Who's Who dance by dressing as Kiddies. Music was rendered by Miss Caunchey Dudley and Mr. Claude Williams. Every one enjoyed it immensely.

Miss G. Lorena Mann of Des Moines, Iowa, who has ben visiting her sister, Mrs. Beatrice Prentice, of 1308 East 50th street, will leave for her home on Sunday, October 23, 1927. The many friends who met Miss Mann while she was here wish her a very pleasant return.

Monday, 24th, Educational Day at Sojourner Truth Home. Mrs. Evelyn Clark of the Helen Hunt Library will speak. A good musical program will also be rendered. Come and bring your friends—2 P. M.

"The Western University Trojan Club" had its second meeting Thursday nite at the residence of the Secretary, Miss Dorothy Williams, 1039 E. 41st St. After business the club enjoyed a social hour during which refreshments were served. It is the wish of Pres. W. J. Gordon that all former students become members. Information may be had by calling the secretary, HUmbolt 4131-J.

Next meeting will be October 20 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Irvine, 1448 W. 36th St.

MR. AND MRS. C. S. FAULEY CELEBRATE TWELFTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

On September 22nd at their home, 1150 East Fifty-Third street, Mr. and Mrs. Fauley celebrated the Twelfth Anniversary of their marriage, their beautiful home was tastefully decorated with ferns, palms and baskets of choice cut flowers.

At 8:30 o'clock Mr. James B. Warren, accompanied by Mrs. W. H. Markham, played a violin solo, and Miss Hazel Gottschalk began playing Lohengrain's Wedding March. Rev. A. P. Shaw stood in the arch, the bridal party composed of Mr. W. Watkins, best man, Mrs. C. S. Fauley the groom in tuxedo, Mrs. Emma Rose-Watkins the bride's sister in pink taffetta trimmed in blue velvet, silver slippers, marched in followed by the bride attired in Apricot-colored Georgette dress heavily beaded in silves and wore silver slippers, the bride and bridesmaid carried shower boquets of white and pink bridal roses. The ceremony read by Dr. Shaw was beautiful and impressive. Refreshments were served in abundance. Mrs. Ida Rose-Coleman of New Orleans, the bride's sister, made the beautiful bride's cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Fauley take this means of thanking their friends for the many useful and valuable presents.

CARD OF THANKS

To the many friends of Edward W. Settles who on last Monday rendered us loyal service, the sermon by Rev. J. D. Gordon and the lovely music by Mrs. A. Lewis and Mrs. M. Smith. The car service and beautiful floral offerings.

MRS. STERLING SETTLES, Wife
MRS. M. DAVENPORT, and
M. WRIGHT, Sisters
MR. L. C. & J. W. SETTLES, Brothers.

LET'S GO!

THE LOUISIANA CLUB ENDS ITS SECOND DRIVE

The club's picnic during September, and the enjoyable meetings held at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Reese, and at Mrs. Thomas' have created renewed enthusiasm among the members to accomplish their goal both socially and economically.

Mr. Amos Smith, who brought in 16 new members was awarded Five Dollars at the meeting last Friday night for having led the list in bringing in the largest number of members in this second drive.

The club now has 97 members from those who have reflected credit on their race and native state since being here. The meetings aside from the social aspect in the future, will devote part of their program to talks by those who have acquired prominence in the business and professional circles of their respective communities here in Los Angeles.

The next meeting on November 11, will be held at Mrs. Hattie Rayford, 1455 W. Thirty Fifth Place.

MEMORIAL

In memory of our dear mother, Maggie Williams, who passed away 3 years ago, October 7, 1924.

"We think of you long and constantly and we vow anew our thanks to God for having loaned us such a darling little mother as you."

Visitors Leave For Their Homes

Mrs. Author Clanton Lowe, of Beaumont, Tex., house-guest of her sister's, Mrs. W. E. Jackson, 1538 E. 22nd St., and Mrs. Agee Teemer, 1238 E. 47th St. And Mrs. Butler Watts, a popular society matron of Shreveport, La., house-guest of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Eaden, 924 E. 28th St., left for their homes last week. They were royally entertained during their short stay here. Those who honored them were as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Waifman Starkes, a lovely dancing party at their home, 1555 E. 22nd St., Thursday eve., July 28th.

Mrs. J. C. Wright, a Spanish dinner party at her home, 1127 E. 27th St., Tuesday eve., Aug. 2.

Mrs. W. E. Jackson and Mrs. Agee Teemer, a pink tea, Sunday, August 7th, at Mrs. Jackson's home, 1538 E. 22nd street.

Mrs. Wesley Fairchilds, a dancing party at her home, 1379 E. 40th St., Monday eve., Aug. 8th.

Annual Conference In Session

The California Annual Conference of the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church is now in session at the C. M. E. Church on Glorietta Street at Pasadena, California.

Bishop Phillips, A. M., D. D., of Ohio will preach Sunday at 11 A. M. The public is cordially invited.

RT. REV. BISHOP C. H. PHILLIPS, Presiding
DR. W. B. BUTLER, Presiding Elder
REV. G. L. HAYS, Pastor.

Mrs. Kastor Enjoys Stay in California

Mrs. A. B. Kastor of Chicago who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Chase, of 1235 E. 21st St., for two months, will be leaving for her home next week much to the regret of her many friends in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Kastor has been entertained almost every day and night since coming to our city and will leave with pleasant memories of the golden west.

MRS. A. B. KASTOR
Who Returns to Her Home next Week

Friday afternoon Mrs. Henry Starr had as her guest Mrs. A. B. Kastor for a sight-seeing tour of Hollywood and Beverly Hills and afterwards journeyed to see the "King of Kings."

Mrs. Wm. Roan of 1539 E. 22nd St., complimented Mrs. Kastor with a trip to Catalina Island. The invited guests to join the party were Mrs. Chas. Wicks of Watts; Mrs. Thos. Stewart of Denver. An ideal day and visit long to be remembered by all present.

Mrs. Mabel Bell of 25th and Griffith gave the prettiest party of the seasou Saturday evening in honor of Mrs. Kastor. A most wonderful time was had by everyone.

We see by last week's Eagle that The linotypers have mispelled our name. We hope that no more "s" will appear in said name. We hope they won't feel hurt.

The Young People's Fellowship met at the Parish Hall, St. Philips Episcopal Church last Sunday at 4:30 P. M. The discussion, "Popularizing the Law" lead by Atty. Ivan Johnson, was very popular. Mrs. Senola Reese talked on the subject, as did Miss Gertrude Chrisman. After a closing talk by Father Cleghorn the meeting adjourned.

"Spotless Town" showing at the Lincoln this week was very good. The chorus showed to much better advantage this week than at the opening. Albertine Pickens was especially good. The Ali Bros. as usual were the hit of the show, along with Sara Martin. Bob Williams as Master of Ceremonies was very funny, but did I or did I not see a stocking cap under the straw helmet he wore as a Chinese character?

Miss Harriet Jones entertained at a breakfast party ten young ladies at her home on Hooper Ave., Sunday October 16, in honor of Miss Lorena Mann who is leaving very shortly for her home in Des Moines, Iowa. The guests were the Misses Ruby Jefferson, Helen Wheeler, Helen St. John, Emma Lou Sayers, Lillian Jennings, Juanita Warren, Isabell Clifton, Alice Kennedy, Helen Hawkins and Gladyce Greenaway. A very delightful breakfast was served and each guest was given a corsage. Pictures were taken later in the day and the guests left, thanking the hostess for a perfect day.

Miss La Vera White's 18th birthday party on October 14 at the La Republica Tea Room, was an exceedingly successful affair. Over two hundred guests were present and danced to the strains of Rene and his Syncopators. A beautiful cake occupied a position of prominence on the table and ice cold punch was served at intervals. A flashlight picture was taken of the group towards the close of the evening. Many useful and beautiful gifts were given Miss White which she will treasure as momentoes of her 18th birthday. Mrs. Neves, Miss Whites mother made a charming hostess.

Things One Should Know

That Christmas is almost here.
That Walter Gregory has a good-looking water wave.
That Alton Graves is a graceful dancer.
That thin people should not wear Russian boots.
That Willie Middleton has nice, shiny white teeth.
That Kenneth Levy sometimes goes without a hat for obvious reasons.
That the Merry Makers think they are going to win the cup again this year.
That the N. N. B's hope they dont.
That it's too warm to write any more.

The game last Sunday between the Merry Makers and Wilshire Olympics was a much faster one than that of the previous Sunday. Although the score was 26-0 in favor of the well-known Merry Makers, it was a hard fought game. Touch downs were made by Blackwell, Carle Williams, Billups and Buff Ware. Carnegie of the Olympics fought like a demon and we expect great things from him in the forthcoming games. Sunday, Oct. 23d the N. N. B's. and the La Premiers will battle at the Manual Arts grounds —42nd and Vermont. It promises to be one of the most interesting of the season.

Messrs. Ira Young and Chas. M. Dawson will give a Hallowe'en party, Saturday, October 29th on W. 57th St. They expect to give their guests a jam-up time.

Letter of Appreciation

Golden State Guarantee Fund Insurance Co.,

P. S.: I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to all of you for your kindness during my long illness.—M. E. L.

Oh boy, don't miss this Big Masquerade and Military Ball, Hallowe'en Nite, Egyptian Dance Hall.

Federated Clubs

BY: MARY E. REED

Last Sunday morning at the A. M. E. Zion Church, Mrs. Johanna Snowden, organizer of the National Association of Colored Women's Clubs spoke to an appreciative audience. Her theme was Unity, Co-operation, Solidarity. She brought greetings from Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, National President, asking the club women to help her put over the program, and boost for National headquarters.

Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards, section president, presided. The Scripture was read by Mrs. E. A. Johnson, Supt. of Religious Work, and a solo by Mrs. Corine B. Hicks, past State President.

A collection of $10 was taken by Mrs. M. M. Stafford, Supt. of Education and Mrs. N. D. Reese, chairman of Juvenile Work was given. Mrs. Snowden.

The club women are indeed grateful to the A. M. E. Zion Church who always so kindly open its doors in their behalf.

The Presidents' Council met at the home of Mrs. M. G. Patton, last Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Johanna Snowden, National Organizer, was the main speaker of the day, stressing that the big job of Federated Club Women was service. Mrs. Edna Steward, vice-president at large responded. Five dollars was donated to Mrs. Snowden. New members were added—Mrs. M. D. Scott, Pres. of Sojourner Truth Club; Mrs. Lillian Robinson, Pres. of the Kensington Art Club; Mrs. Eva Highbaugh, Pres. of the Home Art Club. The hostess served delicious refreshments.

Last Monday afternoon the Women's Art and Literary Club met with Mrs. Clara Safford. It was program and visitors day; the main speaker being Rev. A. E. Liles, pastor of Ward's Chapel M. E. Church.

Mrs. Johanna Snowden, National Organizer was present and made most interesting remarks. Remarks were also made by Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards, sectional president.

This club has planned that each program day will be headed by a different chairman, thereby causing more interest, and not working one chairman to death.

Many visitors were present and enjoyed the club's and the hostess's hospitality.

WHAT IS WRONG?

In face of the fact that a man's head is not made to beat on and that a group of men did involve a sum of money amounting to approximately two million dollars to see two men meet in a fistic contest of about thirty minutes duration to decide which one could give the other's brain the hardest jolt, together with the fact that my brethren nearly three thousand miles away were so intensely interested in this smashing affair that they failed to respond to a distress call of a brother to whom they had taken a sacred oath of Charity, Justice, Brotherly love and Fidelity, two questions have arisen within my mind, namely:

First—Where is our progress of moral standards in modern civilization?

Second—Where is my brother?

"AL" SMITH SAVES SLAYER'S LIFE

New York, Oct. 14. (By A. N. P.)—Governor Alfred E. Smith granted a last minute commutation of sentence to James Mason, convicted of the murder of James Hiss. Mason, known as "Young Harry Wills," was sentenced to be electrocuted Friday night. Maintaining his innocense, Mason fought the case for over a year, declaring he was the victim of mistaken identity.

Mason's death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment and he was removed immediately to another part of the prison to begin his long sentence.

FAMOUS SPIRITUALIST CREMATED

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 14. (By A. N. P.)—One of the odd requests made some time ago by Mrs. E. J. Williams, 52-year-old trance medium, who was killed when the terriffic windstorm struck St. Louis last week, was that after death her body should be sent to Chicago for cremation. Mrs. Williams' request was carried out following her funeral obsequies, held jointly for her sister, Mrs. Susie V. Hartgraves, who was also a tornado victim.

The funeral ceremonics were conducted for the two sisters at Saint Paul A. M. E. Church last Monday afternoon.

ORGANIZED SPIRITUAL CULT

Mrs. Williams was organizer and president of a local Theosophical Spiritual Society that attracted people of both races, who sought knowledge of the mysterious and occult side of life. Her erstwhile residence was a beautiful brick structure located at 4058 West Belle Place, which was known as the Theosophical Spiritual Church.

Funerals of many of the victims of Thursday's tornado were held last Sunday during a heavy rain. The rain increased the discomfort of many remaining in the devastated district and hastened the removal of some families, who piled their goods into the rain was falling in torrent.

NEW JERSEY HAS A MYSTERY

New York, Sept. 30.—Jersey officials are hunting the perpetrators of one of the most heinous crimes that has happened in that state in the past decade. As usual, the first objects of the hunt were "two colored men, one light and well-dressed, and the other short and with a husky voice."

According to the story of Mrs. William Lilliendahl, the wife of a prominent physician of Hammonton, N. J., while they were driving along a lonely road, Thursday night, the two colored men jumped on the running board of the car and forced Dr. Lilliendahl to drive into a dark, densely wooded road, where they robbed him of his cash, jewelry, and then proceeded to divest the woman of her valuables.

She said the doctor resented this treatment and made some kind of a remark to the men. Whereupon one of the men pulled a gun and fired a bullet through the doctor's temple.

Immediately after the doctor was killed, the men brutally assaulted Mrs. Lilliendahl, she says, and beat her into unconsciousness. She lay on the ground unconscious for quite a while, her moans attracting a passerby, who sounded the alarm.

An armed posse was quickly formed with the intention of finding the two mysterious colored men. Threats of lynching were made on all sides, but no men could be found who answered to Mrs. Lilliendahl's description. Later in the day, two suspected colored men were arrested at Merchantville, but they were released when they proved their whereabouts at the time of the murder and assault.

But state officials investigating the scene of the crime, which was in a sandy roadway, could find no traces of a man's foot. They only found the imprints of a woman's shoe, which tallied exactly with the imprint of Mrs. Lilliendahl's shoes

Mrs. Lilliendahl is being detained as a material witness while sixty school children are searching the woods for traces of the gun which did the fatal shooting.

Police authorities questioned Mrs. Lilliendahl at length on the murder, but were unable to shake her testimony that "two unknown colored men shot her husband and attacked her."

This story is not believed by the officers who are investigating the case and they are searching for the "other man" believed to be involved in the murder.

Yellow Cab Co.

"Save yourself as much as possible when you're not up to par," says the doctor. "Driving a car thru traffic, or traveling tediously with crowds is not good. That is why I recommend to you, and to all my patients who may have suffered some shock, to go home in a Yellow Cab. We use Yellow Cabs a lot around here. They give a patient a slow, relaxing ride."

ARRESTED FOR STEALING JEWELS

(By A. N. P.)

New York, N. Y., Sept. 29.—Robert Brown, 38, address unknown, is being held for attempted extortion in connection with the theft of $8,000 worth of jewels and a purse containing $400 in cash from an actress at Lake Ronkonkoma, Long Island.

The actress, Miss Lorraine Brox, featured in the Ziegfeld Follies, was attending a party at Ronkonkoma and while in bathing the jewels were stolen.

Later she received a notice to come to the Public Library at 42nd street, and Fifth Avenue, where she would receive information about the missing jewels.

Accompanied by detectives, Miss Brox went to the library carrying the sum of money she was supposed to bring. As soon as she entered the Library, Brown approached her and told her one Billy Clark, a white man, had the jewels. Clark was said to reside in Brooklyn, but no person by that name could be found at the address given by Brown.

Bail was fixed at $10,000 when Brown was arraigned in court on the charge. Unable to raise the sum, he was remanded to jail pending further investigation.

L. A. Forum Takes Lead In Encouragement Of Aviation

Echoing on down the line from the efforts put forth which sent Ace Foremon over the Sierra Nevada Mountain range, the Rockies and the plains of Kansas to Chicago by air of which which Dr. H. C. Hudson, Dr. Albert Baumann and this paper played the leading role and which movement was aided by the Los Angeles Forum and the people in general, the public will be pleased to know that the Forum has endorsed the Movement to qualify 50 of our young men for air service.

As stated in another article the school will be the Vernon Aero Club which will qualify our boys just the same as any other aviator. This is the first time in history that such an opportunity has been offered the colored race. It has been difficult to obtain primary instruction let alone advanced teaching. With the result of the Forum's effort it is now possible to receive training it is now possible courses, primary flying, solo flying, cross country flying, night flying, fog flying, advanced training flying, also aero dynamics, sky building and rigging, motor work, meterology, navgation, wireless sending and receiving, all of these courses are studied in brief form with the exception of all the flying courses, navigation and radio which are compulsory, and are dealt with by extensive training.

The primary instructions are given by Sergeant Art White, Solo and advanced training by Lieut. Jack Patterson, Navigation, Meterology and Aero Dynamics by Capt. T. Cameron Wilkinson.

A class of 50 will be formed of men classified and picked according to their training and ability and as soon as organized they begin training under the above instructors at the Vernon Aero Fielr. Through the special efforts of the Los Angeles Forum arrangements are such that students to obtain the course on the partial payment plan of $50 down and thereafter every 30 days until the $200 has been paid.

It developed during the recent negotiation between the Los Angeles Forum and the officers of the Vernon Aero Club, that there was a serious doubt in the mind of these officers of the club as to whether or not there were 50 in the colored race who would really appreciate learning to fly and follow it for an occupation. It also developed that qualified aviators are receiving from $100 to $135 per week. After careful consideration by the Los Angeles Forum the officials of the club were notified that there would be considerable over fifty applicants for training in this occupation.

A. M. E. Zion Closes Banner Session At Monrovia

The Southwest Rocky Mountain Conference of the A. M. E. Zion Church, closed its Seventh Annual Session at Monrovia last Sunday night. It was the banner session of all previous meetings.

All pastors reported "round." Every session of the conference was largely attended. The church was filled to overflowing each night.

One of the great features of the conference was the sermon by Bishop W. J. Walls of the tenth Episcopal District. Bishop Walls remained in attendance until Friday. He also assisted Bishop Martin, the Presiding Bishop of the conference to conduct the "School of the Prophets." The visit of Bishop Walls is considered a rare treat.

Bishop Martin delivered the Episcopal Address, Wednesday afternoon. The address was a splendid one. In the address he cited the remarkable growth of the district during the quadreunium. Three churches have been built, and other property has been acquired, valued at $20,900. The Southwest Rocky Mountain Conference has doubled in appointments.

Another outstanding feature of the conference was the report of the Presiding Elder, G. W. Reed. The Bishop and others spoke commendingly of the accomplishments of the Presiding Elder. His service having been of much value to the district, Rev. Reed was reappointed Presiding Elder.

The conference closed Sunday night, with the reading of appointments by the Bishop.

Delegates to the General Conference which is to meet in Saint Louis, May, 1928, are I. A. Moore, Los Angeles; G. W. Reed, Monrovia. The lay delegates are Mrs. J. C. Banks, Los Angeles and Mrs. Lelia F. Jackson, Monrovia.

FLOGS RIVAL IN THE COURTROOM

New Orleans, La., Oct. 15. (By A. N. P.)—Not even the courtroom of the night court was too sacred to prevent Wilhemina Keeling, 18 year old girl, from fighting another woman over the man of her affections. Police answered a call at Howard and Perdido streets and found Wilhemina, who is of small stature busily pounding Mary Gaspar who is of large proportions. The two women were arrested and lodged in the parish prison. Back in the cells Wilhemina began working on Mary again. After being brought before the recorder and the usual fines assessed, $10 or thirty days, Wilhemina again in the presence of the judge proceeded to finish the work of putting her opponent under the table, for which she drew an additional $50 and sixty days.

"ARMY OF MERCY" ENROLLING

Enrollment of a vast army of volunteer workers is under way this week for the fourth annual appeal of the Los Angeles Community Chest, which opens on the 31st inst., according to reports received at headquarters from campaign leaders in the various districts.

With the opening date of the appeal for $2,750,000 but slightly over two weeks away, colonels, majors and other officers are rapidly enrolling workers who are willing and anxious to devote their time and effort in collecting the fund which will make possible the carrying on of the important work of the many social welfare organizations.

Marshaling of forces for the appeal is one of the major tasks of the campaign, officials declare. With this work completed leaders will center their efforts on impressing upon members of the organization the importance of reaching the minimum goal of $2,750,000 without fail. If more than the bare subsistence budget is not subscribed much needed welfare work will not be possible during the year, officials pointed out in a statement issued yesterday.

When the 15,000 volunteer workers, the largest number engaged in community welfare work in any city, start the appeal on the 31st inst., they will stress the Chest's slogan, "Give One Day's Pay." Every wage earner, as well as all others, will be given an opportunity to make a contribution to the Community Chest, leaders declare.

THE ADELPHIC CLUB

Last Sunday, October 9th, the members and their escorts with some close friends, met at the home of Mr. Russel Washington, 1614 E. 14th St., to form a motor caravan into Griffith Park. They met at 10:30 o'clock A. M. and there were a goodly number, six cars loaded to capacity, picnic boxes, lunches, desserts and refreshments. Games were played and a very excellent time was had by all.

Thismode of occasional outing is highly recommended by the members, to the other clubs. It affords a wonderful opportunity to escape the city, its noise and other silly monotonies and catch a much needed glimps of naure and her simple beauty.

EDITORIAL

YOUR BEST BET

Dr. J. E. Walker, President of the Universal Life Insurance in his Annual Message to the National Negro Life Insurance which met in Memphis in no uncertain sound or mincing of words gave to the Negro Press of the Nation its due; we quote a paragraph from his speech:

"Strike out the Negro Press and its advocacy of our institutions, if you please, and it would be like blasting Gibraltar from Constantinople, like taking the altar from the religious homes, like blotting the stars from the night—the work of the Negro Press is indespensable. If fights our battles, pleads our cause and holds high the torch of hope urging us on toward our goal in science, art and commerce."

We can very clearly discern the reason of the success of the great company of which Dr. Walker is the head, he is broadgauged and certainly does not hesitate to give due credit to every angle which contributes to the success of his wonderful organization.

All over the country (unfortunately so) we have concerns which are war-ted and failing to function, all because of some narrow and selfish pinhead at its head. They fail absolutely to look out for the greatest number, trying to favor some particular person or faction and as for the value of publicity they are always and at all time slooking out of the window the window.

After all it cannot be gainsaid, to even the big things the Press is your very Best Bet.

ONE DAY'S PAY

How many days' pay—or days' earnings—does the average person spend carelessly, inconsiderately, during a year? The question need not take account of money spent at the theater, on week-end outing at beach or in mountains, at ball games, or even, if you wish, at boxing bouts or billiards. There is a human need for amusements, and ever though a sternly aesthetic individual may hold these things to be vanity, and theretore to be depreciated, the normal person will go ahead and enjoy himself.

But there are days' pay that are spent without adequate returns in satistactions. How many readers of this newspaper will say they have not wasted a good many days' pay during the last twelve months; that they have not spent a good many dollars for which they got little return in things worth while?

A day's pay, then, is relatively a small thing. Every now and then we toss one away with more or less of abandon, and if conscience prick us later, we save the following days' pay with a display of thrift that is intended to be compensating.

There is one way of spending a day's pay that always can be counted a good investment. It is to contribute it, intelligently, to the assistance of persons who need assistance. Call it charity if you will, but charity is a universal duty, which it is in everyone's power sometimes to practice, since every degree of aid given to another, on proper moiives, is an act of charity.

In the appeal once a year of the Los Angeles Community Chest there is a means of investing a day's pay that wil' bring a triple return. Relief of sorrow, sickness or misfortune is one; lessening the chances of the recurrence of these conditions in the future is another; personal satisfaction in helping one's city and one's fellow-man is the third.

Will you spend a day's pay this year in that way?

GROWTH OF RURAL DELIVERY

It is 32 years since rural free delivery was introduced. Great caution was exhibited in trying out the idea. It had been advocated for a number of years, but aroused interest slowly on the part of those destined to benefit most by it. Evidently congress did not grasp its possibilities, for there was reluctance to appreciate the funds to give it a trial. At first but three routes were established as an experiment. The spread of the idea was not speedy, but when it finally was realized that it possessed virtue, demands came in great volume for the establishmnt of additional routes.

At the close of the last fiscal year there were 44,260 rural routes in operation covering 1,205,714 miles and nearly 30,000,000 individuals were served daily by rural carriers. The initial appropriation of $10,000 had grown to an annual expenditure of $89,250,000 to keep the service functioning.

Of course, the adoption of the plan resulted in a frightful slaughter of fourth-class postmasterships and no small part of the earlier opposition to the extension of the system came from these officers. Their objection could be undrstood asily. Discontinuance of the postoffice meant financial loss to them. Yet, the benefits to the dwellrs on farms accruing from daily receipt of mail without having to go after it, sometimes far, is innumerable. The rural fee delivery is one of a trio of facilities removing isolation from the farm. It does not take a subordinate position to the other two—the telephone and the auomobile.

It is significant, too, that all three of these means of facilitating communication between farm and t vn were fairly coincident in arrival. All three may be credit d with accelerating the march of progress. If any one excels the others in value it is the rural free delivery.

PRIDE IN ———.

There is in many towns a conflict between people whose first thought is to make money, and those whose first thought is to make an attractive home town. The first named people are constantly seeing chances to make money through some kind of developmet enterprise. If such promoters lack good taste, they are apt to cut up real estate in an undesirable way, or erect flimsy looking dwellings, put up unsuitable business buildings or erect them in places where they injure the looks of the town. They may sincerely believe their projects help the town grow and are commendable.

COMMENTS

BY: W. J. WHEATON

In a prior Comment the sentence: Governor Young would have been placed in the position of telling a fellow State Executive that he did not believe him; using the inelegant (not intelligent) word—liar.

* * *

Racial antipathies are nothing new. The pages of history are replete with them. No race that has not had its full share of them; none who have not tasted of the wormwood and gaul of oppression. The Jew seems to have been singled out as special targets for persecutions and banishments. Yet, somehow, he has always succeeded in making the world dance to the music of his financial orchestra. Strange too among themselves there has been lines drawn. After the Jews had been readmitted to England after being banished by King Edward I., in 1290, the Spanish and Portugese Jews, some families who boasted a descendency from Saracen Kingdoms, looked askance on the Polish and Lithuanian Jews who were fleeing toward the West to escape the vengeance of the Cossacks. They would have nothing to do with them. They refused to admit them to their Synagogue, saying that they were uncouth.

* * *

But those antipathies were not the result of Color; they were based on other factors—Wealth, Culture, Religion. That is one of the reasons that the United States is ridiculed by the world. They cannot understand why Color. In the few years past Europe, Asia and many parts of the world have been in contact with Aframerican citizens of wealth and culture who have given the lie to the propaganda sent out by the color-prejudiced tourist from the United States. Artists, of ability; professional men and women, tourist who have impressed by their cultured manner, all these have caused the nations to wonder—WHY COLOR? In his youth Benjamin Disraeli, who later became England's Prime Minister was made to feel the ostracism of race—not of Color. I have been trying for years to figure out where the Race comes in of the Aframerican. Find any fifty of like type in a community?

* * *

Lathrop Stoddard in his controversial with Alain Locke says: "The results * * * * of interbreeding are clearly shown in the chronic political and social instability of Mexico and the Carribbean republics. Those populations are largely hybrid mixtures of whites, Negroes and Indians in varying proportions. Perhaps the champion of color supremacy has spent his days cloistered in New England.—We know that he has not—never seen a so-called Negro audience of a hundred or more.—We know he has—it will be hard to find one whose Negro blood has not been contaminated. And, oh! under what revolting circumstances! Yet, through it all he has kept that one feature of Negro character—Loyalty to ideals.

* * *

Would to God that racial identities had been preserved. "That White America would continue (should have always held the ideal) to feel that it must preserve its racial identity which it regards as an infinitely precious heritage." Parenthesis the writers. Again, "Since the Negroes form nearly one-tenth of the population of the United States we are statistically light mulattos. In the last analysis, the only thing which keeps us from being biologically mullattos is the Color line." But Mr. Locke! How come that more than three million "so light" mullattos that they are accepted as the real thing? Somebody must have let down the bars of the infinitely precious heritage."

* * *

Mr. Stoddard mentions and quotes, the late Booker T. Washington as the exponent of a school of thought which meets his approval. And yet, Booker Washington was the innocent victim of that pernicious system which condones illicit miscegenation. The thesis on biracialism is, "Biracialism is not discrimination; it is separation. Bi racialism does not imply relative "superiority" or "inferiority" it is based on the self evident fact of difference." Fallacy: where there is separation there can be no understanding. Where there is no understanding there can be no mutual helpfulness. Separation does create caste and caste is the millstone about the neck of progress. But after all, Mr. Stoddard admits that biracialism is an abstract theory. "Not a perfect solution," and will not eliminate race-friction. It may cause some of the colorphobists to wipe the smudge from their spectacles and have a clearer vision. There will be no "race war" and that seems to be the obsession of Mr. Stoddard.

Here is an interesting bit of news, and the outcome may have a far reaching effect. Martha Lum, an American born Chinese was refused admission to a public school in Mississippi. The Rosedale School District in Bolfvar County required the Chinese to attend a public school provided for Aframericans. The case has been carried to the U. S. Supreme Court. Counsel representing Martha Lum contended that she had been unlawfully excluded from a white public school. Counsel for the school argued that State laws for the segregation of children by races in the public school were valid and that a child of Chinese parents must go to one provided for Aframerican children. The decision of the Court will make interesting reading, and far reaching in its results.

If Congressman Madden makes many more such blunders as the one accredited him in the Hoover-Johnson, Boulder Dam remarks, we will begin to think that a Smile ward in a hospital will be better far than a desk in the U. S. House of Representatives.

As the race the mayoralty draws near the finish, San Francisco voters, the final judges, will give their decision. As the matter now stands, Jas. Powers figures to have his hand raised. The attempted $10,000 fiasco, proved a boomerang. It proved one of the crudest attempts to "Roor-back" pulled in many days.

Sheriff Finn is due for re-election by one of the biggest majorities ever given him. During his tenure of office he has earned, and kept, the confidence of the electorate. It has been thus through all of his public career, Assemblyman, Supervisor and Sheriff. The administration of his trusts has been efficient, capable, fearless. He has proven equal to every emergency which the exigency of his onrous duties demand. As an administrator of prison discipline his fame is national. Strict, but tempering all with a humane Justice, men leave the Bastile with scarce a feeling of resentment and often are redeemed for society.

Nothing of importance "under the Dome." The Social Welfare Board, Mrs. Anna L. Saylor director, has organized and laid out its programme. Mrs. Saylor will see to the State's hospitals, corrective schools and prisons. Miss Esther de Turberville, county institutions and boarding homes; Miss Mabel Weed, orphans and children generally. Miss Turberville will make a survey as to the feasableness of an old-age pension law for California, as ordered by the last legislature.

The Crime Commission, headed by former Warden James A. Johnston, has organized and is ready to function. An elaborate programme of surveys—Criminal—has been outlined.

The deplorable condition which exists at Gary, Ind., where the offspring of men and women who sought asyl in the United States, challenged constituted authority. The first setting for anarchistic control of Government was when the weak-kneed Council gave way to the demand of white pupils for the exclusion of 24 colored students from Emerson High School The situation at Gary that phrase—"Eternal Vigilance." At a meeting of Fire Chiefs, this writer heard a speaker say, "Concentrate on the flame; keep it from spreading; put out the fire!" That demonstration at Gary is no insignificant thing. No need saying, "It can't spread;" It can. Even to California. Our apathy in seeing the weed grow to proportions instead of plucking it at first signs of growth, has either cost us loss of many civil right, or caused us a struggle to regain them. The fire can spread, to say that it cannot is sheer nonsense. The great draw-back of the last fifty or more years has been the, "Oh that can never happen," but they did happen and all because of apathy. The N. A. A. C. P. has entered the fight at Gary. Upon the success of this fight depends the future of our racial education. This manouvre at Gary is but the forerunner of the plan of battle. Now is the time for the I. B. P. O. E. of W. and every organized fraternity as well as every man, woman and child of Aframerican birth to join with that Association and help win one of the most important issues that has ever confronted the Race. All hail! to Whitlock, Blackwell and Burrus. But they cannot win without support.

It has been stated so often in this column—the lack of vigilance in striking a deadly blow at the separate schools—that we hesitate to repeat. But the recent occurrence at Gary, Ind., when the white students virtually terrorized the Board into acquiesing to their demand that Aframerican students be barred from Emerson High School brings us to think that the men and women of Gary who pose as champions of equal advantages for the Race were "asleep at the switch," or else they are lacking in the virality and aggressiveness of which champions are made. We have passed the prime of life, but we pray to live and see some young man develop that courage, and vision which inbued the spirits of our fathers. They fought with the handicap of illiteracy, but they fought well. Eternal Vigilance.

We are wandering if it is utterly impossible for the small cafes along the avenue to get together pool their finances and open one commodious eating house with up-to-date accomodations.

DR. W. F. BOTTS OF OMAHA, NEB. AT ST. PAUL

A trinity of interest is being manifested in a series of services as this divine continues to deliver the burning messages in lifting Christ, at St. Paul Bapt. Church, 21st & Naomi.

Dr. Botts will soon return to Omaha having come in interest of our Annual Rally, November 13th, but was here in time to participate in our Woman's Day Program that noted a success under direction of some of our great women. Closing this occasion was Mrs. C. A. Bass of the Calif. Eagle, a beacon light to the race and a woman of great merit.

November 6th is Men's Day here. An excellent program is in store for all who come. This will determine the successful candidate in this duel: Madam Mozelle Te Outley and Mr. C. H. Rankins being prominent contestants.

LA SMOOTH

La Smooth is a new preparation just placed on the market. Its aim is to change, without damage to scalp or blood, the appearance of Bad Hair. It leaves rough, nashy, unruly hair straight, glossy and smooth after constant and proper use for even a short period of time.

Directions: Call for no hot irons, just dampen the hair with warm water and rub La Smooth on and the job is finished not unlike the work of Mother Nature.

La Smooth is a home product manufactured by the Roberson Laboratories, 1540 E. 39th Street, Los Angeles, California. 10-14-r

CARE OF THE TEETH

BY: DR. J. WINIFORD ROUT

THE TEETH AND EFFICIENCY

That the health and efficiency of the individual depends to a great extent upon the condition of the masticatory apparatus was forcibly demonstrated in the recent world war. The officials of the United States Army though in urgent need of man power to carry on the great war were very careful in the examination of the teeth of the recruits, many were turned down completely while others were held in camp until their teeth were put in such shape as to properly chew their food.

Napoleon once said: "An army marches on its stomach." He could have well used the word "Teeth." since without good teeth food cannot be masticated properly and one is soon liable to be troubled with stomach ailments.

Firms employing large numbers of individuals are rapidly falling in line with the idea that oral health means more efficiency among their employees and to that end the employees of numerous large concerns throughout the country are required to have their teeth examined periodically by a dentist just as they are required to submit to a physical examination by a physician. This action on the part of the various firms in attempting to keep their employees health up to a high standard is not so much a personal regard for the individual but merely a matter of dollars and cents. The heads of these companies know that the loss of time caused by ill health resulting from decaying teeth and other preventable diseases means loss of money not only to the employees but to the company.

Authorities on educational work have long realized that children are less efficient in their school work when troubled with defective teeth and prominent authorities on juvenile delinquency have gone so far as to state that diseased teeth have a tendency to increase delinquency among children.

WHAT TO READ AND WHERE

BY: FAY JACKSON

Now that summer time is past and the cool, gray days of the autumnal season call for more serious and studious mood, boys and girls and their parents, too, are invited to browse through the Helen Hunt Jackson library—that cozy little Spanish Bungalow reading room on Naomi near Twenty-third street—where you may find the latest and most interesting in Fact and Fiction. For instance:

"CASTE," by Cosmo Hamilon—A narrative moving swiftly forward, against a background which shifts from New York to London and Paris. Entering into it are pride of race, attitude of the younger generation towards parents and life, and the reactions of husbands and wives who suffer from the fashionable complain known as "incompatability of temper."

"WITCH WOOD," (John Buchan)—Offers an exciting morsel to lovers-of-the-mysterious. David Sempill, the hero of this novel encounters witchcraft, plague, warfare, spies and at last, alas——love!

As everyone knows, a neat, correctly written business letter often means success; and conversely, a poorly written letter can do a great deal towards disgusting a prospective client or employer. Study Roy Davis' "Business Letter-writing" and learn how to write correctly.

For the young woman just entering the domestic scheme of things, M. J. M. Watson has compiled a goodly number of recipes in HOME PRESERVATION OF FRUIT AND VEGETABLES that are both time-saving and economical.

"THE GRANDMOTHERS," by Gladway Westcott—is the Tarper prize novel. It tells a story of a modern grandson who draws a picture of antebellum (Civil War) days through the past generation to present times. It catches the spirit of past times in a way that makes one proud to be an American.

Next week we shall give a review of COPPER SUN, a new book of poems by Countee Cullen, popular young Negro poet of the first magnitude (H. L. Menchen notwithstanding), and a number of other interesting literary releases.

More than three hundred of Los Angeles most elite society set was quite happy to accept an invitation to a reception and dancing party given at the La Republica tea room on Monday evening Sept. 19, 192 7with Messrs Pulford L. Johnson, Hugo Hunter and Edward Kelly as co-hostess, honoring Mrs. Butler Watts of Shreveport, La. and Mrs. Arthur C. Lowe of Beaumont, Tex.

These ladies formed a very beautiful line and in a most charming way presented their honored guest, who in turn most graciously accepted the courtesies extended them. Delicious Frappa punch was served during the entire evening by a bevy of charming young matrons.

The hostesses were ably assisted by their many friends to see that each and every one had a most delightful time.

The Rene jazz orchestra furnished beautiful music during the entire evening and at the close of the party more than half of the guest retired to the beautiful home of Mrs. Hugo Hunter 1364 East 49th St. where they were served to a delicious hot buffet lunch.

WON'T BE LONG NOW!

HUDKINS-DUNDEE IN FISTIC EPIC AT WRIGLEY FIELD

Tramping across the hills out Saugus way while his two dogs give up in disgust at the healthy young "Wildcat" that can out-hike them, Ace Hudkins has been having the time of his young colorful life as he trains for his big championship match with Joe Dundee, October 29th at Wrigley Field. Riding broncos, hunting coyotes, boxing, wrestling, and sleeping in the open, has not only made him the idol of the cowboys up at Baker's ranch where Ace and the whole family were quartered during his training, but has put him into as near perfect shape as a human fighting machine can get.

Hudkins and Dundee should furnish one of the most thrilling bouts seen in years. It is the first real championship go in more than thirteen years. It makes the old-timers of twelve and fifteen years turn back to the old days at Vernon and Naud Junction. A little Italian who rose to a title within eight years, is defending it against one of the worst terrors of the ring—Ace Hudkins. Damon Runyon picked Ace to be one of the most feared fighters in the game. And he is.

Joe Dundee, on the other hand, is as shrewd as he is fast. He punches hard and possesses a deadly right that will ruin the hopes of the Nebraska if he gets him in close. It is a short right hand that falls just below the heart. It will defeat Ace, in the opinion of men like Jack Kearns, Ed Frayne and Larry McGrath.

Sergt. Sammy Baker, who gave the Wildcat one of the most bitterly waged battles of his career, picks Hudkins to win. He thinks Ace will cut the little Italian to pieces.

Win or lose, there is one thing certain: Los Angeles will offer the fans of the state one of the first real championship bouts in years, and secondly, Promoter Dick Donald deserves a lot of credit for the effort he has made to bring boxing to its highest point in Southern California. More power to him.

Salem Crescent Athletic Club To Stage Weekly Amateur Boxing Bouts

New York City, Oct. 17. (By A. N. P.)—Pete White, former Metropolitan 100 and 220 yard champion, has announced his intention of staging amateur boxing bouts weekly in the gymnasium of the Salem Crescent Athletic Club, 209 West 129th Street. He has asked Al Moses, sports editor of the N. Y. News to act as referee or timekeeper, and capable judges and other officials will be selected by him during the month. He expects to put over his first show on or about October 25th.

Jack Johnson's Pupil Knocks Out Another

Culver City, Cal., Oct. 17. (By A. N. P.)—Nathaniel (One Round) Hogan knocked out Jack Moore in the first minute of the second round. Hogan, a Chicago University boy, was taught step by step by Jack Johnson at his gym there and has copied him even to his banter. He says he will win the heavyweight championship and then finish school.

Dust From the Campus

BY: LAWRENCE F. LAMAR

The air around the various Fraternity and Sorority houses is vibrant from the buzzes emanating therefrom concerning the pledging of the popular Miss Gwendolyn Diggs to the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority. And it is as it should be, isn't Miss Diggs the charming daughter of the prominent physician Dr. Chas. S. Diggs? Wasn't she before and after graduating from L. A. Hi, the leader of a very popular set? And it is rumored that while at Spellman College she carried the magic wand of leadership. So, why shouldn't the entrance of Miss Diggs to Collegiate Societies be felt throughout the breadth of them? Miss Diggs inception into the Delta Society should be very beneficial. Congratulations.

Oh, my! I never seen so many healthy sick people in all my life; and heard such moaning of the blues. Man, if you want to know what I mean, journey out on the U. S. C. Campus, and witness there, the downcast countenances, and listen, there, the awful wailings of the dissolutioned Trojan subjects. All this happened because some of the over zealous, or somethings, went so far with their enthusiasm, as to bet that the invading army of Trojans into the North would without qualifications be successful. The Cardinal team of Stanford successfully withstood the invasion by tieing the lead of the invaders and left the final score 13 U. S. C., 13, Stanford. But, down here it was empty pocket books, empty stomache and dissolutioned souls.

SAYS DEMPSEY WANTS MITCHELL

Boston, Mass., Oct. 17. (By A. N. P.)—According to report here, Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion of the world is attempting to buy the contract of Roy Mitchell, colored heavyweight sensation from Halifax who is to fight Tom Sayers of Detroit at the Arena Monday night under the direction of the Suffolks A. C.

HOLMES LOSES TO DELMONT

Boston, Mass., Oct. 18. (By A. N. P.)—Connie Holmes, featherweight of New York, lost the decision to Al Delmont of Dorchester in a fast and furious eight-round out at the Suffolks A. A. Show in Mechanic building, Friday night.

Spady Moulden Loses

Los Angeles, Calif., Oct. 20. (By A. N. P.)—Clarence (Speedy) Moulden of Memphis, lost his first start here against Amadio Terrazas (Young Terry) Moulden possessed plenty of speed but lacked hitting power and aggressiveness.

Charlie Parker Beats Tony Gappon

El Rio, Calif. (By A. N. P.)—Charlie Parker, a boy "wonder" beat Tony Gappon, the little Mexican star Wednesday night. Gappon is a tough, hard-hitting Mexican, dangerous at all times. He was floored in the first round by Parker's hard socks and several other times during the six-round bout.

KANSAS CITY HAS A NEW "BLACK HOPE"

Sedalia, Mo., Oct. 18. (By A. N. P.)—Climaxing a huge Democratic statewide rally that was attended by forty thousand people, "Big" Bill Hartwell of Kansas City, Missouri, pounded "Preacher" McMahon of Sedalia, helpless in two minutes of what was supposed to be a 10-round main event.

The bulky battler from Kansas City, who is making a record with consecutive knockout victories had the "Preacher" down eight seconds after the bell sent them to the canvas again ring. Arising after a nine-second count he was sent to the canvas again to repeat his former rest period. Another rain of blows sent him down for the final count.

It was in Sedalia where Hartwell battered another aspiring heavy to the mat a few weeks ago. Taking the measure of the venerable Tut of Chicago, in three rounds, and the much touted Ceil Harris of Chicago, in three rounds, Hartwell is looking for larger worlds to conquer. A match with Bob Lawson is being arranged by Nata Becker, manager and promoter of the Dundee Community Club in Kansas City for the near future.

L. A. Fans Welcome Visiting Hilldale Ball Club With Mammoth Ball and Cabaret Dance

Last Tuesday, October 18th Los Angeles Baseball fans formally welcomed the Hilldale Giants, visiting baseball team. The popularity of the team was demonstrated by the dense throngs that crowded the huge ballroom at 15th and Main and overflow crowds at the Cabaret following the ball.

The rest of the team has arrived and next Sunday should give the Pirrone All-Stars a sound thrashing at the White Sox Park, 38th and Ascot. However, watch out loyal fans, Pirrones has reinforced his team also, with some real baseball timber.

Sam Bruce Beats Joe Geararden and Toney Tavar in Week

Los Angeles, Cal. (By A. N. P.)—Sam Bruce, classy Memphis battler, won so decisively over Joe Geararden at Oceon Park Pier, Oct. 6th, Thurs. night, that it was impossible for the referee to give him anything but the decision. Bruce won every round and showed he was complete master of his opponent, with a series of lightning left jabs and hard right crosses. The following Friday night at San Diego he beat Tony Tovar, a Mexican, all the way only to get a draw decision. The fans booed.

MAIN ST. A. C. JUST ONE BIG SATURDAY AFTER ANOTHER

In a veritable glove whirlwind last Saturday, Propio beat Newman, Dugan beat Boyd Dick Chang and Preito drew, Ortego won over Frayo and Vernon Jackson the boy wonder beat Farrel the second time, this time getting the decision.

With the usual eye for hard bouts supplied with K. O's. Carlo Curtis the matchmaker has this lined up, Bobby Fernandez vs. Eddie Macey; Ham Jenkins vs. Young Firpo; Ritchie Aguayo vs. Bert Simpson; Henry Walker, another good colored boy and Lucio Agala vs. Joe Hernandez.

Macey and Fernandez in the main bout are billed to furnish the thrill of the evening.

ACE HUDKINS

The Nebraska Wild Cat. He don't look so wild in this close-up but wait till you see him with his fur up October 29th.

Joe Diaz, the glove whirling Cuban champion is stacked up against a heavy hitter a new go to press.

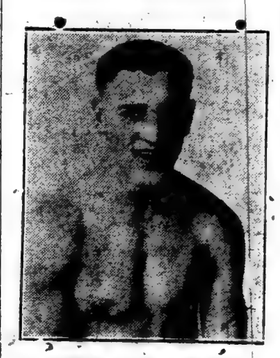
BUD TAYLOR, WORLD'S CHAMPION BANTAMWEIGHT VS. JOHNNY FARR AT OLYMPIC, TUESDAY

"Wad" Wadhams has made another good match. Johnny Farr, one of the most promising contenders for the bonnet that adorns the blonde brow of the Terre Haute terror is the lucky man to get a date with Bud next Tuesday as the event of the evening at Olympic Auditorium. Johnny is anxious to win over Taylor and fully believes he can while Bud is just as determined to wipe out his recent loss to Sangor by making every opponent he meets from now on a sacrifice on the altar of fisticuffs. A lot of the sport writers back East threw a few typewriters at Bud after he lost to his rival Joe and ballyhood the fact that his engines are in reverse; but the weight at which Bud fought was far from being his own, and had a tendency to slow him up. He is in great shape; trained while in Chicago and started right in on his arrival here as usual so it should be a great battle. As we go to press the supporting card is not yet completed.

BUD TAYLOR
King of the bantam kingdom, taking a reckless chance against Farr next Tuesday.

CAMERA!

In answer to the many queries concerning the closing of the motion picture employment office on 12th and Central. It is hoped that this answer in this column will suffice. The Central Casting Office, that does the hiring of extra talent for all of the Major Studios has heretofore allotted the business of supplying "Negro type" to Jimmy Smith. There was no monies alowed by Central for the mantenance of an office or any other centralizing point, it being implied that collections for the expense would be taken up from the boys.



There has been for the past 10 years before the coming of Jimmy Smith considerable opposition to paying a commission for a job. Jimmy Smith's coming into the game brought with him many intelligent improvements dealing with the casting and distribution of the 'types.' This put the studios squarely behind Smith, and he was able for about six years to withstand this opposition.

The constant hammering of the opposition and the corresponding decline of the efficient control of the management, and other phases of disharmony, foretold the fall of this office. As a last desperate effort Smith put the management of the office in the hands of Chas. E. Butler, a very capable and efficient man. He put upon him the task of saving the old waterlogged ship. It could not be done; time had taken its course. All the while Central had been watching this struggle and was quietly meditating some expedient course to take. They have at last arrived at the solution. They have decided to discontinue the office—that is, any office downtown of any description—on account of that it has served its purpose and is obsolete. They have decided, however, to keep quite ample theefficient and capable Mr. Chas. E. Butler. They have given him a desk, phone, in one of their spacious uptown offices with a sumptuous salary.

WALKER MUST FIGHT FLOWERS OR GET OUT, SAYS COMMISSION

After the Kalker-Kearns-Yanger robbery, a lot of hunk went round that the great little gentleman sportsman helped frame on his great fighter. The same applesauce was heard after the fight with Lomski. No bigger lie was ever told as Tuesday's developments prove.

Toledo, O., Oct. 13. (United Press)—Mickey Walker, world's middleweight champion, may be forced to defend his title against Tiger Flowers, Georgia Negro, from whom he won it at Chicago last December 3, according to action taken today by the national boxing commission.

Welterweight Champion of the World

Y. W. C. A. Activities

The Business Girls Club of the Y. W. C. A. and their guests were greatly interested and inspired by the beautiful address delivered to them by Mr. A. Phillip Randolph on the occasion of his recent visit to our city. The suggestions given by the speaker relative to young women entering into the business world well read as to current world history and thoroughly abreast of the times, familiar with the names and deeds of such personages as Cales, Clemenceau, Mussolini, H. G. Wells and others and not mere typing machines, were well received by the girls.

The High School Girls Club recognition service will be held on November 1st. The girls are very busily preparing their uniforms and learning their songs for this auspicious occasion.

Much interest is being manifested in the Women's Sewing Class which meets every Monday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A., from two until four o'clock. You are cordially invited to attend bringing your sewing.

The girls and their older sisters and mothers are enjoying the dancing classes being held at the "Y" on Wednesday evenings from 7 to 8 and from 8 to 9. All girls and those who used to be girls are welcome.

Don't forget the Vesper Service at the "Y" on Sunday evening, October 30th at five o'clock. Come and bring your friends to hear an interesting program and the lovely new piano.

THE YOUNG PEOPLES FELLOWSHIP

Among the new and interesting societies recently organized in the city is the Young People's Fellowship of St. Philips Episcopal Church. This society is extremely liberal in its scope inviting young people between sixteen and how old are you into its membership and not inquiring as to their religious affiliation. While the Fellowship is religious in its character it has outlined an extremely interesting and instructive program for the winter contemplating presenting boys and girls and young men and women of the educational and business life of the city in brief talks on topics of the day followed by a snappy discussion with a wide-awake leader to direct it. Mr. Lloyd Griffith spoke at the first meeting on the subject, "Choosing A Vocation." The discussion was led by Misses Juanita Ellsworth and Mafory Bright with numerous others participating. On last Sunday afternoon at four-thirty at the Parish Hall, the young Attorney, Ivan Johnson, spoke on the subject, "Popularizing the Study of Law." Mr. Johnson did not advise everybody, as might seem apparent from his subject, to enter into competition with himself and become lawyers, but he did urge upon everyone the need of familiarizing one's self with as much law as possible in order to give the ordinary, busy man or woman the ability to protect himself in the matter of agreements, contracts, etc. Miss E. Gertrude Chrisman opened the discussion which soon became quite animated. Delightful musical numbers were rendered at these twe programs by Miss Frieda Shaw in solos with her charming, rich contralto voice, ably assisted at the piano by Mrs. Jack Smitherman, and by Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Anderson with a piano and saxophone duet.

Watch for notice of the next meeting of the Young Peoples Fellowship and the interesting program. All invited.

GREAT CROWDS SEE WINTER LEAGUE BASEBALL OPENING

BANDS, PARADE, CELEBRITIES, NEWSREEL USHER IN SEASON, ALL-STARS 12, GIANTS 5

Never in the history of Winter Baseball in California has there been as auspicious an opening as that last Saturday, which opened the track for the pennant race this season. A long line of busses and cars, paraded thru the principal streets with both competing teams, the Hillsdals Giants and Pirrone's All-Stars in line. Motion pictures on the streets were taken for the famous Pictures Corporation and also for the Kinograms.

The "Soaring Eagle's official Press car headed the parade and bore Editor Bass, Advertising Manager Lamar, Sports Editor Levette, and the cameraman. Arrived at the park, both teams paraded on to the grounds to the strains of Stars and Stripes, and as they lined up side by side all were photographed and introduced in turn. Dixon, Carr and Shaw, all well-known to the fans got big applause as did Pirrone, Sherlock, Murray, and others of the All-Stars, but Bob Muesel perhaps received the biggest ovation of all.

Mr. J. P. White, manager of the Giants had made his arrangements well and every thing went on ship-shape. Joe Pirrone has a splendid aggregation lined up which he has been picking all summer, and they looked good in their natty white uniforms, contrasted against the grays of the Giants. As the cameras ground came the shout, "Play Ball!" and the battle was on.

Lack of three star players coming in from the East and the fact that the men had just arrived that day tired from the long journey is considered the principal reason for the Giants' loss of the Saturday's game by such a large margin. Although Shaw pitched well neither was he able to do his best, nor were his mates able to give him the proper support.

Babe Herman of the All-Stars stole the show Saturday with two home runs and Bob Muesel starred with four hits. Runs brought in by Dixon and Butler were hits with the cheering fans and a sensational one-hand catch of a long fly by Thoman were features of the Sunday's game the same teams play again Saturday and Sunday, October 21 and 22 with assurance of a tight fight with the Giant's strengthened team.

Pimenthal and Sauce Fight Winner Take All

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 18. (By A. N. P.)—In the first "winner take all" battle staged here in years Bernardh Sama won the decision over Joe Pimenthal in eight of the fiercest rounds fought recently. The bout took place at the Main Street Athletic Club, the result of bad feeling between the two from a former bout.

Mr. Butler, undoubtedly is the most efficient man of our group connected with Pictures. He knows casting from A to Z. Central Casting made a wise and intelligent selection.

Mr. Butler reports sending to Catalina Island for two to four days 30 men at $10 per day, for First National Studio, the picture Louisiana. He says stand by, plenty work in sight!

THE BLACK SPORT WORLD THROUGH THE EYES OF ART HAMILTON

What's the matter with those high school teams? Don't the high school boys know that the news of their athletic activities also gets mention in this column? Bring or send in the news, felows, concerning the athletic ability of some boy of our group in your school, or pardon me, any other news where they excel. So far the only inkling of Hi School news we have obtained, has been some concerning Silver Creecy of Jefferson, ripping off yardage by the mile, against the strong team from Manual Arts. Atta boy, Silver, we want to hear more about you during the season.

Reviewing the football results for the past week we run into a great many surprises. Some of the top-heavy favorites in the East have fallen by the wayside, being defeated when the dopesters had them carded for easy wins. Purdue lost to Coach Stagg's Chicago Maroons, Ohio lost to Northwestern. These were the big upsets in the Big Ten.

The Big Three, Princeton, Yale and Harvard were victorious; Yale carried Brown down the path to the tune of 19-0 gaining sweet revenge for the shellacing Brown gave them last year. Holy Cross, considered a strong contender for Eastern honors was defeated by Harvard 14-6. Princeton white-washed Washington and Lee 13-0. Notre Dame sunk the Navy's hopes by defeating the Middies 19-6. Flanagan, the boy who gave U. S. C. so much worry last year was a thorn in the side to the men from Annapolis. Flanagan passed and ran circles around the Navy men.

Out here on the Coast the game that provided the thrills for the Westerners was the U. S. C.-Stanford game. The Trojans were leading up until the final minutes of play 13-7. In the last few minutes of play Hoffman, Stanford fullback threw a long pass to Wilton, Stanford end to put the ball in striking distance. Warner then sent in Fleishhacker, the boy who saved the day for the Cardinals. Led by this brawny sub-fullback the weary Cards made their last attempt to even the score with the boys from the Angel City. After bucking the ball to the Trojan three yard line Fleishhacker then flung a short pass to Vincent to tie the score. They failed to convert the extra point making the score 13 all.

Alabama, Southern Conference champions met their first defeat in three years at the hands of Georgia Tech 13-0. Alabama will be remembered for their hectic struggle against Stanford at Pasadena, New Year's Day.

California beat Oregon 16-0, playing a wonderful game both on the defensive and on the offensive.

The real hero of the California-Oregon game was Bob Robson, flashy Negro quarterback for the Webfoots. Robson entered the game with his hand in a splint, but battled his way to the Bear's two yard line and was then carried battered and bruised off the field on a stretcher.

Slicker Stocks, Pasadena Junior College star may be out of the game for the rest of the season with a bad knee. If this is so Pasadena's chances for the Conference Championship go glimmering, for Stocks was the main stay of the Pirate's backfield.

* * *

On the 29th Dick Donald stages his Championship bout between Ace Hudkins and Joe Dundee. This will make Donald's third open-air bout this year. He brought Hudkins and Baker together in his first; Natural, Baker and Adams in the second and now we have Hudkins and Dundee in a match for the World's Welterweight title. $150,000 gate is expected. This will exceed the gate of any other bout held on the Coast.

go to the Lincoln."

The editor of The Eagle was the principal speaker. Enthusiasm ran high and at the conclusion of his address a permanent organization was formed headed by W. R. Fulks, which will work for the interest of the people in the premises.

Another meeting is scheduled for the same time and place on next Monday evening. Every citizen of Watts is invited to be present.

Tennis Chatter

BY: JAS. S. HARRIS, JR.

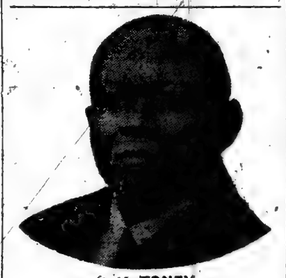
Well folks, this week marks the rejuvenation of the tennis activities on the Coast, for Wednesday night, Oct. 5th, at the regular monthly meeting of the Western Federation of Tennis Clubs, a set of peppy new officers were elected, with the exception of a quintet of former office holders, who succeded themselves. From the looks of the new administration things will be humming pretty loudly in a few days, for there is evidenced among this administration certain individuals that are capable of preventing a hungry cat, in his most supreme moment, from catching a tantalizing mouse. At this time it gives us great pleasure to congratulate, collectively, the retiring officers on this splendid work which they have undertaken and accomplished. They indeed guided this great "Ship of State" in all of its activities, which are, oftimes, of tremendous magnitude, very efficiently.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

In the matter of giving the account of the election of the new officers the writer can think of no better way of expressing it that to term the W. F. T. C. as a lighthouse, metaphorically and figuratively speaking, and every lighthouse must have a keeper to see that its light is kept burning through storms and turbulous conditions conditions which have to be confronted in order to guide some forlorn season and give him new hope and inspiration. After the respective members had deliberated a few moments, and, figuratively speaking, had searched the pages of history reviewing the life of Caesar; after they had gone back to the beginning of the centuries and noted the character and accomplishments of Cicero; after they had dissected the personal qualities and natural aptitudes of Plato; after they had taken up extensively every angle and step of the learning of Socrates; after they had read and listened to the eloquence of the impassioned Demosthanes, they unanimously deemed it tactful to place at the head as keeper or president of the W. F. T. C., as fully capable in every respect of making her light shine brightly through trials and tribulations, the provident Mr. Clarence W. Mills of Pasadena. Of course every lighthouse keeper must have several assistants for in times of trouble and emergency the assistants serve to encourage and inspire the keper, and in extreme cases must oftimes assume the entire responsibility temporarily. According to the President succession act, Attorney Richardson of Oakland seemed to have exerted some of his immortal power, that the almighty, in lure of his omnipotent grace, we presume has endowed him thus, for although absent physically the Federation, collectively, seemed to feel his spirit vibrating in their presence and he was unanimously elected as first vice-president. Mr. Jones Stocks of Pasadena gave the members a wicked wink and he succeeded himself as second vice-president. Miss Juliaette Harris of Los Angeles exerted some of her personal charm, of which she possesses much, to such an extent that she also succeeded herself unanimously to the office of third vice-president. The Misses Natelle Brownlee and Geneva Stocks, of Pasadena also succeeded themselves respectively to the offices of fourth and fifth vice-presidents, thru more penetrating glances which they said to be able to almost literally talk with their eyes. And Mrs. Josephine Brown of Los Angeles gave one of her winsome, soul-scorching, heart-throbbing, pulse-quickening smiles, so that it set up a tin-tin sabulatiente the tune of being elected executive and corresponding secretary. Mr. Philip L. Davis for an instance grew a few feet higher and appeared to be a Goliath, in that he was elected treasurer and in addition succeeded himself official referee. The writer must have appeared for the moment to be another Longfellow, for he was given the position of scribe. No, not a scribe in the days of Scribes and Pharisees but to be more explicit, he was elected manager of publicity.

NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED

Installation of new officers for the ensuing two years will be held at the next regular monthly meeting, Wednesday evening, Nov. 2, 1927, at 8:00 o'clock at the East Side Realty Office, 1136 E. 12th St.



FORMER PREXY TO LEAVE THE CITY

The many friends of our former Prexy and Publicity manager, Mr. Wm. N. Watson, will regret very much to hear that he is to leave in a very few days for the interior of Mexico, where he will take up residence for two years or more. The entire city and county as well as the various communities will lament the temporary loss of such an individual who possesses such unexcelled sterling qualities. We all sincerely hoped that he does not become so closely attached to some of those Senoritas down there that he won't return. More power, Mr. Watson.

CALIFORNIA EAGLE AUTOMOTIVE SECTION

Last week was a wek of accecidents. Too many to enumerate but we pause to mention the one that took place in the neighborhood of 52nd nd Central last Sunday night, which nearly killed two or three and the other at 42nd and Ascot which also was a serious one. Both might have been avoided if someone had taken the stand that safety was more important than time.

• • •

Friend Carr the expressman who parks his car at Newton and Central is taking residential inventory of several homes we hear. We have an idea why but why mention it? Go slow, brother, we admonish you, go slow!

• • •

Attorney Chas. Darden and Mr. Brown, the furniture man, were seen motoring out 9th St., Sunday. We suspect they had Elsinore on their mind. Mebby not.

• • •

Who is the young chauffeur who eats at the Entertainer's Cafe, that let the chef fool him into trying to purchas 25c worth of goofer feathers.

• • •

Mrs. Geo. Talbot of Frisco was noticed autoing around with some friends the other day. Glad to see Mrs. Talbot.

• • •

Mrs. Ethel Atkinson refused to take an identification bet last Sunday and lost an opportunity to make a haul. When you are motoring around popcalling and meet a friend don't let them bluff you out of betting on a sure thing.

• • •

Mrs. T. L. Woods and brother, Mr. Guess, returned from a trip to the Valley last Monday in her Lincoln. They report everything fine.

Joe Lane has moved off 14th St. and hung out his shingle for business on the Avenue.

• • •

Miss Lewis the popular beauty culturist had the unpleasant thrill of butting into the rear of a railroad boy's Chev. Coupe, the other day with her car. She was real game and patched up matters satisfactorally. The best of drivers have their troubles.

• • •

Dr. Cooley, the medicine man with the grip in his hand complained the other day that folks won't stay well long enough for to allow him to take his Franklin for a vacation.

Edwards Hawkins was hailed into the small claims court by a lady who claimed this honest young man had $5.00 of hers. When the case was called by the judge, the lady was found to be absent. The judge asked Mr. Hawkins what church she attended.

"Your Honor, I understand she is a member of the Christian Scientist Faith."

"Thank you, young man," replied the judge, "case is dismissed, she only thought you had $5.00 of her's."

Mr. Hawkins and his battery of several attorneys and advisors left the court room all smiles.

National Boxing Board And the Negro

Justice is a strange animal. Indeed one seldom recognizes him as he traving indeed to learn and know that as an ambassador of right, justice is still champion despite reverses, despite the wilful attempt of even such characters as Jack Kearns, the fox, who in the field of pugilistic sport has done more to hurt the cause of the Negro along with Tex Rickard than any one knows to the game today we find Justice still at the helm pursuing the enemy of all mankind guiding the ship of State of Religion of, yes, even that of the prize fighters.

Time has not erased from the mind of man that little fistic controversy in Chicago between Tiger Flowers, then middleweight champion, and Mickey Walker, who was given an unpopular decision over Flowers, after 10-rounds of furious milling a la carte Jack Dempsey viz. Mr. Tunney's decision, Chicago.

Nor has time erased from our memories the knowledge of a contract drawn in good faith by the Flowers camp in which a return engagement was to be held in 90 days if Flowers lost. We will accept the referee's decision so far as the fight, that we can't change, it's history. But Mr. Walker and his Manager, Mr. Kearns, who always has a pocket full of excuses and alabis forgot purposely or otherwise that little contract and started capitalizing on Mr. Flower's title handed them by Chicago Commission. They jumped to England and ballyhooed themselves into a $100,000 fight but have ducked, dodged and continually evaded any effort made that would force them into a return engagement with the Tiger.

And now comes Justice, cloaked in the guise of the National Boxing Board, who tertly, politely, but positively reminds and informs their pugilistic dodgers following the appearance of Walker Miller, the Tigers manager before it that they MUST accept a return encounter within 60 days or else go on trial with the possibilities of being outlawed and stripped of the title. It remains to be seen just how far fetched this decision will go but at that Justice has poked out its head when the issue looked like a lost cause when Mickey looked like Nim and Jack was about to escape, touched the pal'ron the shoulder handed them the ullumatum and passed on to await results. Today justice has made new converts, new friends and caused the infidel the non believer to exclaim. Help us to get right the dead yet live. Justice still exists.

Who said the Woodmen couldn't do it? Well we are doing it. Join now for $4.00. That includes everything. See us today. 1400 Central Avenue. Phone WEstmore 3479.

MAIN PLANT, BLUE DIAMOND COMPANY, LOS ANGELES

Electricity in Los Angeles

[No. 5 In Industry]

Blue Diamond Company

THE BLUE DIAMOND COMPANY does an annual business of many millions in more than forty-two kinds of building material products.

It manufactures and produces sand, gravel, crushed trap rock, ready mixed lime, lime putty and other lime products, plaster of ill kinds, and stucco.

Blue Diamond also handles a widely diversified line of such materials as reinforcing steel, Portland cement, wall board, lathing material, and the like.

The main plant of the firm is at 16th and Alameda Streets, in Los Angeles.

It occupies 22 acres and employs several hundred people.

All production and manufacturing machinery (except, of course, steam shovels) is motivated by electricity.

A connected load of 2500 horsepower, working through some 180 motors of various sizes, is used for . . .

1. Elevating, grinding, conveying, agitating and sacking Blue Diamond hardwall plasters, casting and moulding plasters, finish plasters, etc.
2. Mixing, sacking and handling Blue Diamond exterior and interior stucco.
3. Operating cranes, cutters, bending machines, etc., in Steel Plant.
4. Operating lathes, drill presses, etc., in Machine Shop.
5. Agitating putty, mixing mortar, etc., in the manufacture of Blue Diamond Lime Mortar.
6. Driving conveyor belts in sand and gravel pits, and operating washing and screening machinery, electric shovels, etc., in sand and gravel plants.
7. Elevating and other operations in Lime Kiln and Trap Rock Crushers.
8. Operating furnaces, crushers, grinding machines, etc., in Chemical and Physical Laboratories.
9. Dozens of other general uses all over the company's 22-acre main plant.

Blue Diamond service and Blue Diamond products have had no small part in the remarkable construction development of Southern California.

Efficient and reliable electric service is a necessity in the operations of the Blue Diamond Company.

It is gratifying to us that the electric service of Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation is of a quality to meet every need of an industry whose requirements are as heavy and various as those of the Blue Diamond Company.

UPTON'S RAILROAD CLATTER

By Chas. L. Upton

The Railroad Clatter congratulates the following porters on the Anniversary of their birth this month (your brith stone is the Opal, symbolic of Hope) A. Payne and N. Davies.

S. O. HOPGOOD DUE TO RETIRE OCT. 22; WELL KNOWN IN LOS ANGELES DISTRICT

Young men in the service who have had such a hard up-hill climb in holding good lines are gradually becoming encouraged over the fact that one by one the stumbling blocks in their path to betterment are dropping out. Now comes the announcement that Mr. S. A. Hopgood, one of the pillars of this district, is on the verge of retirement, after serving 20 years for the Pullman Company with a record hard to beat; Mr. Hopgood is considered by the men in this district as the father of the famous "Lark," having the distinction of bringing the first "Lark" out 18 years ago this coming May the 8th To those who have followed his remarkable career, it is needless to mention what a fine example Mr. Hopgood has always set for the younger porter. He has always taken a great interest and active part in the local affairs of this district, and for many years he was a great leader to the boys, always giving good sound advice in the many different problems that came up from time to time. He is known as a man that will always speak up for the right thing, and not bite his tongue about doing it. Many hot debates over the rights of the porters has been headed by Dad Hopgood, having served for two years on the E. R. P. as committeeman, and as its chairman for 6 months. He was the first chairman of the Local Benevolent Association, which was organized in 1907. Was elected for two terms as its treasurer and once as vice-chairman. When questioned during an interview with the writer in regards to some of the notales he has served during his career on the "Lark," Dad Hopgood true to his traditions would not mention any notables of the Nordic race, but took great delight in making known the many times he had served Mr. Bob Owens, a Black American and leading citizen of Los Angeles. The porters of this district will miss a good friend when Mr. Hopgood lays aside his uniform. One whose place will be hard to fill.

FINAL ELECTION OF P. P. B. A. ENDS THIS WEEK

By the time my readers are reading this hard to digest news, which the writer laboring under many difficulties endeavors to rake up each week, the P. P. B. A. election will be over; although it will be too late to give the results in this issue, one does not have to do a great deal of figuring to know who will be the Grand Delegate to the Grand Lodge. There is only one thing that the writer regrets, and that is that he has not got the power to take a black jack along with him and try it out on the Hon. J. W. Botts' head, in such a manner that the Hon. J. W. will realize that he has not served 12,000 Pullman Porters to their interest; but HAS left no stone unturned to serve his own selfish interest, and feather his own nest in a most selfish way. Since Mr. Botts has taken office in Chicago, there has been more mistakes in the fees of the porters than at any time during the history of the organization. Twice in succession the writer has had the maximum fee of $7.50 taken out of his check, which is far in excess of the amount really due, many other porters are complaining of the same treatment, and together we put it on a silver platter and lay it at the Hon. J. W. Botts' door. Why these gross mistakes? And never any in our favor. Somebody's head is surely made of solid ivory, thicker than an elephant's tusk in Barnum and Bailey's circus. How much longer must we put up with these mistakes? By and by resignations will pour into the Chicago office like the St. Louis tornado. Somebody better wake up and get on the job if they know how. If the Hon. Grand Delegate will stop by my house before he boards the rattler for Chicago, I will take great pleasure in seeing that he is armed with a black jack to soothe that gentleman's head when they meet in Chicago. Never mind the proposals, bring the hide of J. W. Botts.

JOE WHITE PUTS ONE OVER

Girls we sure hate to tell you this sad news, but since this young sheik has taken such great pains to keep it a secret from the Railroad Clatter, we take great pleasure in announcing that it has been reliably reported that Mr. Joe White has done that thing again; and living happily at the home of his mother on West 35th St., with his WIFE. Oh yes! for some time. Didn't you know it? Well, don't let him fool you any more, because he is now in the writer's class—a very much married man. Congratulations.

WM. WHITE CELEBRATES WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

These Whites just won't behave! Wm. White is having a wedding anniversary at his home this Thursday evening, and I am sorry that it will be impossible to give you the full reports in this issue, but wait till next week.

ROBBERS HOLD UP SANTA FE BAGGAGE MAN; TAKE DIAMONDS AND ESCAPE

Recently two bandits waylaid the baggageman of the Santa Fe Depot at San Diego as he was on his way home about 2 A. M. and made him get in their car and drive them back to the baggage room, unlock it and give them diamonds valued at thousands of dollars, which were in a trunk going out on the morning train. They then drove him over to Pasadena where they put him out. The bandits escaped.

FOOTBALL SPECIALS COME JUST IN TIME

Football specials operated over the Southern Pacific last week to Palo Alto to came just in time for the many men who were on the extra board 46 porters were about to run Mr. V. V. Ross out of the office for work. The specials came just in time.

* * *

PILLOW SLIPS

Jack Prayer has just returned from a trip abroad (when we say abroad we mean New York).

Whoever it was that took the clipping of the Railroad Clatter down from the wall in Mr. Taylor's office, would do well to subscribe for the paper, instead of stealing the news that was put up there for other porters to read.

BAKERHEAT TALK

The porters and waiters have been discussing the matter and have come to the conclusion that they will pull the Union Pacific De Lux train off about the 13th of next month.

Full reports of the highlights of the dance being given by the Women's Economic Council at the Music Art Hall, Friday night, will be published in the next issue.

Mrs. Ed. Garey has returned from a short vacation in San Francisco, where she visited friends. Garey is now eating three squares again.

They are making big preparations on the border for this year's racing season. The boys expect to get well this year picking the winners. H. L. Armstrong has been figuring the dope out all summer, and expects to make a killing.

THE REASON THERE WAS NO PULLMAN NEWS

Porters eagerly grabbed their Pullman magazine this month, and scanned it for the Los Angeles dope; but it was not there, and why? Well, it was this way, Mr. Diebert came thru with the news that he is now the father of a 7 lb. girl. All porters who go up to the office, call for your cigars.

MARIE CARTER NOW CASHIER AT THE NEW LINCOLN

Marie Carter, former Pullman Maid, is now holding down the position of head cashier at the New Lincoln on Central. The writer is one that she is well qualified in the art of grabbing off the nickels, as she held this position down for some time in Chicago at the Grand Theater, when it first opened up. We are glad to see her back in her old line of work.

* * *

The Porters who operated the fight special over the Santa Fe were highly complimented on their service by Mr. J. P. Mills, in a letter to Mr. Arthur.

* * *

A. J. Kimbro paid the writer a visit last week in his 1776 super Hudson.

* * *

J. Holmes has got a new running mate on the Golden Coast, in place of J. L. Barnett, Mr. Otto Johnson, Lawd!

* * *

Southern Pacific waiters are requested to mail their news to 2190 W. 30th.

UNION PACIFIC GOSSIP

By: J. R.

Owing to the consolidation of trains Nos. 10 and 28 out of Omaha to Chicago, Maids operating out of the L. A. District are cutting out at Omaha on train No. 10, returning to L. A. on second 27. This change will be much welcomed by the Buffet Porters, who have complained of being lonesome in Omaha.

* * *

Here and There

Edward Vaughn who accepted a position some few weeks ago with the Heflin Manufacturing Co., was a visitor recently and reports business good.

Albert Murray was seen on the rail sporting a pair of knickers. We presume he was on his way to the Country Club.

Prent Henderson was a recent visitor at the Commissary. We hope to see him on the cars again.

Charlie McKinney is really living the simple life in a nearby town, in fact he boasts of his ranch; why, of course he raises real chickens.

Robert Dehaney had the pleasure of being bumped off the swing although he is serving in the capacity of a mule with Steward Mochow.

Maid Marguerite Hamler evidently must be light-housekeeping in L. A. from what we see of her purchases in the poultry market in Columbus.

Maid Wiley operating on the "Overland" contemplates taking a ninety day leave of absence.

Chicago After Dark

Eugene Collins, a Chicago sheik, was arrested and charged with carrying concealed weapons—the weapon was a meat cleaver. Why not style him, "The Butcher Sheik?"

* * *

They Say?

That train No. 28 will consolidate at Ogden, November 1st.

That the recent conference held in Omaha to take the excess fare off could not reach an agreement and that no change will be made other than a minor change in the schedules.

MAN HELD FOR MURDER

Man Re-arrested for Slaying of Lover

DETECTIVE LIEUTS. McDUFF AND GREEN CONVINCE DIST. ATTY. HATTIE GOODSON MURDERED

Despite the fact that the Coroner's Jury brought in a verdict exhonerating Daniel Porter of all blame in the killing of Hattie Goodson, after he had told his story; Detective Lieuts. McDuff and Green, after viewing the case from all angles, convinced tha District Attorney of the guilt of Porter, caused him to be re-arrested and held for Manslaughter.

Sunday afternoon, October 16th, a woman's scream was heard: "He is cutting me to death, call the police."

At the same time a man was seen to flee from 1160 E. 52nd St., the place from which the screams came forth. The man fleeing was recognized as David Porter.

Arriving upon the scene the police found the woman, Hattie Goodson, dying, bleeding to death from a gash about 12 inches long, in her abdomen.

Porter escaped and was at large until Monday, when the discerning eye of Officer McDuff, detected a man of suspicious actions at Main and 5th Sts. When approached by officers McDuff and Green, Porter fled. The officers gave chase and arrested the man in front of the Army and Navy store on its Los Angeles street side.

Porter5s story ran thusly: The woman attacked him with a hammer, striking him over the head and that she also had a knife in her hand with whch she cut his finger and wrist and in jerking himself away from her, she fell on the knife and cut herself.

The Coroner's Jury believed his story and exhonerated him of all blame, calling the homicide accidental.

Not satsfied with the verdict of the jury, believng Porter, from his own actions and the kind of wound inflicted to be guilty, Detectives McDuff and Green contnued to give the case their serious thought. The conclusive evidence furnished by the officers causing the immedate re-arrest of Porter was that a person could not fall on a knife and inflict a gash 12 inches long across the abdomen, that the wound would have to be inflicted by one other than the victim.

OVATION AT ST. PAUL

DR. W. F. BOTTS, Pastor-Elect

The occasion was one of those few that centered upon one purpose. Therefore necessitated little consideration, unusual as to the question of the man. His record in himself was without question. The only question that did arise first and last was as to method, irregularity, and salary—but finally a compromise, and all was well as to the membership present. Dr. Botts' visit here was a pleasant and profitable one, bringing many friends and new acquaintances within our gates. It is hoped that Dr. Botts shall have closed affairs that he may return to the Pastorate of St. Paul early in 1928.

Presiding:
DR. W. D. CARTER, Moderator
Wm. MOORE, Clerk.

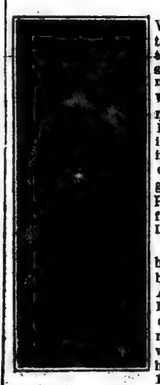
WINS $10,000 SUIT FOR DEATH OF SON

(By: A. N. P.)

Clarksdale, Miss., Oct. 22.—A jury in the circuit court has rendered a verdict in favor of the defendant in the case of Willie B. Scott vs. the Virden Lumber Company for $10,000 damages. The woman was suing this sum for the death of her five-year-old son, Leslie T. Scott who fell in a pool and was drowned on the property of the Virden Lumber Company.

Ralph Bunch Writes Los Angeles Forum

413 Broadway,
Cambridge, Mass.,
October 14, 1927



MR. H. DUNCAN,
Pres. Los Angeles Forum,
Los Angeles, Calif.

Dear Mr. Duncan: Now that the initial rush of enrollment, first lectures and lessons in new classes, etc., is all over and the academic year is finally underway, I can find time to take a deep breath or two and give a thought to the many very dear friends and supporters whom I have left behind me at home. It scarcely seems possible that two full months have elapsed since my rather reluctant departure from Los Angeles, yet such is the case. My sole wish is that all of the months pass as rapidly, until I once more tread the good old terra firma of Californa.

WHO'S WHO IN LOS ANGELES

BY WHO?

Miss Callie Washington came to Los Angeles in the year 1919, a graduate of Freedman Hospital, which is in connection with Howard University. Mrs. Washington had a wide experience as a graduate nurse in Philadelphia before coming to Los Angeles.

She had not been here long before Mr. Simon Alexander, one of Los Angeles' pioneers and most respected citizens was attracted to her. The year 1913 saw a culmination of this attraction in marriage.

Mr. Alexander departed this life in the early part of 1926, leaving his wife to be identified with the largest property owners of this city. Mrs. Alexander is owner of property at 18th and San Pedro and at 24th and Griffith. She is a member of the Second Baptist Church and the Nurse's Association.

Ku Klux Klan Still Working at Manhattan Beach

Notwithstanding the fact that the high class citizens of Manhattan Beach got together some months ago on a basis of commonsense and decency for the good of all and repealed all obnoxious ordinances aimed at Colored people, there are left degraded and ignorant individuals who are determined that justice and decency shall not prevail and are endeavoring to terrorize and instill fear into the hearts of the Colored residents of the Beach.

KU KLUX KLAN

While it is generall conceded that Ku Klux Klan is disintegrated, it develops there are remnants of the hooded order yet in existence at this particular spot. On the night of October, the 18th, in the dead hours of the night the motly hooded cowards crept up to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James Slaughter and literally covered the gas meter under the house with oil soaked waste, excelsior and cotton and applied a match to it. Fortunately the fumes of smoke awakened the family, they turned in the alarm, but succeeded in extinguishing the fire before the department arrived.

The very next night, right across the street, the fiery cross of the K. K. K. was burned.

We are pleased to note that the Slaughter family is not of the running kind and the cowardly midnight prowlers will meet their just deserts before they get far with the rough stuff they are attempting to pull off.

THE SIMMONS' TWINS

Reading Left To Right: George and Alonzo Simmons, two prize twins of which Mr. and Mrs. George Simmons, who reside in South Los Angeles are the proud parents. They are the joy and delight of all who meet them, and the California Eagle names them as the coming prize winners of the Baby Contest.

Aviation Day At L. A. Forum, Sunday

As the L. A. Forum, in its campaign on behalf of aviation quite a deal of interest is manifest by our ambitious Youth and even those of mature years. They want truly to be in on and a part and parcel of the rapidly approaching means of universal transportation.

Class of Fifty

The Forum anxious to contribute its quota to this forward and progressive movement will on next Sunday put on a program which will demonstrate the value and importance of aviation. Formost and skilled aviators will be on hand. Mr. Tuggles president of the Vernon Aero Club will demonstrate and give to those present the benefits of Aviation and unfold the remarkable opportunity which his company offers to our particular group. Artemus Ward who has scaled the Sierra Nevada mountain range will give the details of his experience. Prof. Wells eminent scholar and community worker will speak on the advantages and necessity of quality to master the air.

Therefore next Sunday will be a red letter day in the annals of the Forum and marks a distinct step of progress as that body goes forth doing its utmost to contribute and build a foundation upon which future generations may stand.

The young men and women with ambition to do the things worth while are especially asked to turn out as well as all people who stand for progress. 5:30 P. M. is the time, Masonic Temple Central Ave. near 12th is the place, come early to procure a seat.

Moderator W. D. Carter At San Diego

The one wek Installation Service in honor of the newly elected pastor Rev. G. W. Hill, beginning October 17 reached its climax last Sunday when the whole days services were under the direction of the Western Baptist Association. At the morning service Rev. Chas. Hampton, Colportor preached a very inspiring sermon; in the afternoon the moderator, delivered the installation sermon which will be long remembered, at the B. Y. P. U. have Mrs. E. O. Solomon addressed the young folk who were out in abundance. Rev. Hill comes to this charge with a wonderful reputation as being able to put over big programs. He is young and energetic with a vision for a bright future. More than $100 were raised Sunday evening and 4 additions to the church. This financial effort was not a rally only a free will offering. Mrs. Hill was on hand to assist the pastor in making it pleasant for the congregation, at the close of a well spent day, Mrs. M. R. Cannon sang a solo, "I've done my task," which was enthusiastically received.

The Federated Voters League will hold its next Conference on Monday evening, Nov. 7th at Eagle Hall, 332 Central Ave. Reports of activities for the past quarter will be submitted.

Sidney P. Dones Loses Long Legal Battle

PIONEER REALTY DEALER BEGINS SERVING 90 DAYS' SENTENCE

Sidney P. Dones, well known and pioneer realty dealer who was tried and convicted some months ago of usury, a misdemeanor and who received a 90-day sentence in the City Jail, appealed his case to the Superior Court. The appeal was duly heard before Judge Albert Lee Stephens and the judge sustained the lower court and it is this judgment which Mr. Dones commenced serving on last Thursday, October 20.

The case is just one of the many cases which are now agitating the public mind as to whether one may charge more than the legal rate of interest. In this instance it has said no. This man is among the lowly and humble. The Julian case contains the high and mighty who charged ten times the legal rate. Dones of the lowly is paying society for his, what will be the fate of the mighty and high?

We do not write this in extenuation of the fate of Mr. Dones, but rather to reiterate our stand for law and order and that all citizens who violate the law should receive the same treatment before the courts of our land.

FRAUDULENT MIS-REPRESENTATION

There is much activity just at this period by fake solicitors plying their trade of mulching the merchants out of money by any means possible. It seems that some of them find it very convenient to represent themselves as the agents of this publication and go about their nefarious work.

For instance, we are informed by the Dell Sweet Shop, near 23rd and Central, that one person, known as Billy Tucker, had procured money for some "paper" supposedly published for the Lincoln Theatre, this said paper failing to show he (Tucker) represented to the man that in lieu thereof he had run the ad. in the Eagle, New Age and Pacific Defender, all of which is absolutely false and his action is a reflection upon legitimate business. Therefore all who advertise should beware of Tucker who is a menace to the community.

Another "fake" has paraded up and down the Avenue representing himself as an agent of this publication, we have his number. We will appreciate it as a favor for any person to report to us when such suspicious ad. skarks appear and we will surely prosecute them to the limit. Solicitors for the Eagle are plainly identified as they all carry the proper credentials.—THE EDITOR.

Young Man Forging To The Front

Mr. Ben H. Graham, Manager of the membership campaign just concluded by the Twenty-Eighth Street Branch of the Young Men's Christian Association for seven hundred new members. The campaign which began October 10th and closed October 20th was a notable success.

A graduate of Atlanta University, Mr. Graham has had considerable experience in Y. M. C. A. activities. Following a period of training at the "Y" school at Harper's Ferry, W. Va., in 1918, he served as membership secretary in the Industrial Department at the Du Pont Engineering Company's shell loading plant near Williamsburg, Virginia and later for a brief period at East Saint Louis, resigning to become Ass't. Principal of Gibbons High School at Paris, Texas. In 1922 he came to Los Angeles as organizer and Supervisor of California for the American Woodmen, a Fraternal insurance society, the position which he now holds.

Sarah Martin in Popular Blues Concert

Miss Sara Martin, Okeh record artist now starring at the new Lincoln theatre will appear in a courtesy blues song recital at the Spikes Bros-Ellsworth Music House, 1203 Central Avenue, Monday afternoon beginning at 2 p. m.

Miss Martin is said to be a blues shouter supreme and she puts over her sorrowful songs in a style full of pathos and honey-toned melody. Although her first personal appearance on the Coast was at the Lincoln where she is filling an indefinite engagement, Miss Martin has many friends and supporters here as evidenced by the large number of her records sold at the Spikes Bros-Ellswoth Music House and elsewhere in the city.

The concert Monday afternoon is free, being just a small way in which the blues artist expresses her appreciation to her patrons. A large crowd is expected, so come early and avoid the rush.

N. A. A. C. P. TO HOLD ELECTION

The annual election of the officers and executive committee of the Los Angeles Branch will be held at A. M. E. Zion Church, Pico and Paloma Street, Sunday, November 13th at 3:30 P. M.

All members of the Association are expected to be present. We again urge all friends to secure as many new members as possible to report to this meeting. THIS IS YOUR FIGHT!

Earl Carroll Out— Garvey Stil In

BY: WILLIAM PICKENS

(Bor The Associated Negro Press)

Eugene V. Debs, and others who have had the experience, have said that jails and prisons are for the poor and weak,—not for the rich and powerful. Debs went so far as to claim that when the rare phenomenon of a rich man going to jail does happen, it is because he has come into conflict with some other rich man, more powerful than he; usually a rich man is sent to jail, if at all, by some richer rich man. Even then, averred Debs, he doesn't stay long; he is just sent are other powers more powerful than he,—to teach him his very proper "place," so to speak, which riches are so apt to make any man forget.

But even so, as Debs alleged, the rich man seldom stays in prison for long. He goes for a short while, and generally stays for a shorter while than he goes for. The prison doctors will find out that he is "about to die" (especially if he stays in prison), the attorney general will be appealed to (perhaps in many various ways), the President's heart will be melted, and the poor rich man will be pardoned or paroled—to live happily for a generation afterwards.

Now, there's Earl Carroll. His crime was much more deliberate than that of Garvey. Carroll had a whole bathtub of wine with a girl in it on a theatre stage, more wine than the law permits in a public place, and less clothes on the girl than is usual even in "Earl Carroll's Vanities." And besides spoiling all this good "licker" and wasting all this one-hundred per cent scenery on a "select" company of his associates, he then went before a federal grand jury and deliberately lied about it,—committed perjury. Earl's crime was, to say the very least, much more deliberate and useless-of-ends than was the crime charged to Marcus. Earl got one year and served four months. Marcus got five years, and is still in.

Furlong Tract A. M. E. Church Gives Big Reception to Returned Pastor

Rev Austin was given a huge reception celebrating his return to the pastorate of the 2nd A. M. E. Church in Furlong Tract on last Friday evening.

The church was crowded for the occasion and a well arranged program was rendered. Several very pleasing musical numbers and readings were rendered. Addresses were made by Reverends E. T. Hubbard, E. W. Kyle, F. H. Hines, Mrs. W. D. Miller of the First Church and the Editor of the Soaring Eagle also made short addresses.

At the conclusion of the exercises the huge crowd was invited to the banquet hall of the church where a most sumptions repast was served. Truly Rev. Austin and his very amiable help maie received a most flattering reception which reflected the esteem in which they are held.

Demands Colored Jury In Murder Trial

(By: A. N. P.)

New Orleans, Oct. 25.—For the first time perhaps in a hundred years a white New Orleans attorney, defending a Negro charged with murder demanded that Negroes be included in the list of prospective jurors. He argued "some Negroes are entitled to serve on juries in Louisiana." The attorney is Edward L. Mahoney. His client is Arthur Russell, who is alleged to have murdered Peter Pesso, a 67-year-old watchman for the Southport Mills, February 28. Judge A. D. Hyatique before whom the motion was filed deferred a ruling on the matter and continued the case indefinitely.

ON THE SIDEWALK

By C. A. B.

WELL, friends and patrons, we're back from our weekly stroll along the Avenue. This week we covered the territory lying between 15th and 20th streets, and these are they, in most cases on a very small scale, who are striving to do something in a business way in these blocks:

X—XX—X

SUNDAY was Woman's Day at the Independent Church of Christ and Evangelist Montgomery being the morning speaker, a wonderful message was delivered to women.

X—XX—X

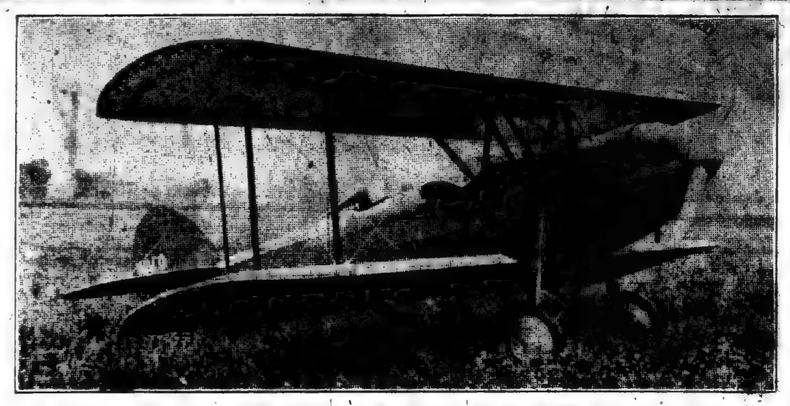
SUNDAY evening, an advertisement announced that Rev. Gustav A. Briegleb, D. D., pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, would use as his evening text: "Our Colored Neighbors," caused us to turn our steps in that direction.

It is needless to say that St. Paul opened her doors and started her program according to schedule at 7:30 P. M. The evening service was featured with several songs by the John Hall Jubilee Singers.

In discussing "Our Colored Neighbors," Dr. Briegleb announced that on the Sunday before they had enjoyed an evening with the Japanese people and that in the coming events of St. Paul others of the dark peoples would come on for review.

We came, we saw, we heard. The Rev. Mr. Briegleb's discussion of "Our Colored Neighbors" lead us far beyond our expectations; for the good pastor in this particular evening's travelogue took us into the green fields of Africa and there beneath sunny skies he painted a most beautiful picture of a dark continent unbleached by white religious civilization. "Africa," said the speaker," is as large as Europe and the North American continents, and upon the occasion of my visit there I traveled over much of the territory surveyed by Livingston and Stanley. I saw the great mahogany forests, and the world's diamond producing fields, rubber and ivory in abundance, but above all I was impressed with the beauty of this country known as an heathen land."

In certain parts of Africa the white man has gone in and taxed the Black Man in his own land; has carried in alcohol, and introduced the lowest school in vice and corruption. "But," said the speaker, " I want to ask you, who brought the black man to this country?—THE WHITE MAN.



With the asking of this question, Rev. Briegleb shifted the scene from Africa to America, and to our way of thinking contradicted his plea for fair play for all God's children, regardless of race or color, by referring to that passage of Scripture which reads: "For of one blood He created all nations," by explaining that this does not mean that there should be amalgamation or that Negroes should be permitted to live in the same neighborhood with whites as for instance our West Side. Said the preacher: "I do not blame the Negroes for coming into this section so much as I do the white real estate agents who buy a piece of property and double the price by selling it to Negroes."

And in refuring to the Gary, Indiana school incident, Rev. Briegleb said that it was alright for white children to want their schools apart from Negroes, but that they should be willing that Negroes enjoy equal privileges as to educational advantages in every particular.

In watching the minister's words as he soared along from Africa to the United States, peeking in from time to time at some example or incident wherein the Negro, as for instance, Booker T. Washington, wrought well; we were reminded of a beautiful white kite that we once attempted to fly, but failed to succeed in our effort until we had cut her loose from the long, dingy tail that held her fast to the earth.

As, Dr. Briegleb regarded with his subject, he cried as if pleased to cut himself away from the proposition that held him and in some way clear up the racial differences that to date as far as the white man is concerned

Mrs. Maggie Brown the wife of Rev. Brown of the First A.M.E. Church is expected home the latter part of this week after having spent a couple of months in the East visiting relatives and friends. She will be accompanied by Miss Ruby McKnight, a former school teacher in Topeka, Kansas, who will spend the winter with her mother, Mrs. Etta Butler.

They say that human nature is alike in all races which it is, but there is a difference in the hair and we suggest tht some of the prents use a bit more care and discretion as to the looks of heads of some of their children (as the old folks used to call it) before sending them to school. We opine however if some of the parents would use a bit of the energy they use on their own heads on that of their children they would look a bit more presentable when they entered the school room. Some of the pupils even go to school without even brushing their hair and in most every case it is where the hair is of the worst sort There is no necessity for such a condition of affairs, but just a case of negligence on the part of the parent. A hint to the wise should be sufficient.

There seems to be some doubt in the mind of a certain judge as to whether whisky and baths go together, when we learn that a gentleman of color was assessed 500 dollars and ——. There seemed to be some misunderstanding as to why certain things were in possession but they were so the sentence. Moral—be careful where you go to take a bath.

There is something dead up the creek again in the Crown City and has continued so lo these many years as far as those of our group is concerned when it comes to getting anything in particular out of the city administration regardless as to whom the personnel of the city Fathers are. Since the nearing completion of the city hall there has been considerable speculation as to whom would go the job of head custodian and as matter of fact one would think it belonged to the Senior man in the old building—nay not so. We would naturally ask why? It seems that an efficiency expert hired by the city went over the grounds and found out that it would take Fifteen men to do the work and do it right so he says and of course the already head man set what he thought was a living wage for the men whom he had picked out to do this work, but——nay not so again. Mr. G. George got onto the scheme some bow and said he could do it for less than a living wage consequently all these high hopes of these said applicants were at once lost in the shuffle. Then comes the aftermath ——an indignation meeting which will do about as much good toward restoring the lost sheep as it would to pour water on a ducks back. Its the same old gag that has been handed those of group for the past twenty years and we are no closer together now than we were then yet we expect to demand recognition. Through the efforts of the N. A. A. C. P. this meeting is launched which if solidly supported could get a hearing but it is disgustingly the same old story, not thoroughly organized as far as the individuals are concerned. Peradventure we did get a hearing it would only be a matter of one official passing the buck to the other so there isn't a thing to be gained. These mushroom organizations and indignation meetings hatched up over night never did and never will have the desired effect. We have continually preached get together but what constructive has been accomplished? Until this Big "I" and little "U" is cut out you need not expect to do anything in Pasadena.

Grades 6 - 8 of The East Side School rendered numbers at a special show given by the Management of the Valley Theater and sponsored by the women of The Ten Thousand Club. The chorus of children rendered the following numbers:—My Own United States, Pale Moon, and By The Waters of Minnetonka. Mrs. Lucille Culberson directed the chorus, and Miss Thelma McCoy played the accompaniment.

Prof. and Mrs. W. A. Payne entertained at dinner last Sunday, Prof. and Mrs. W. F. Hubert and family of Imperial and Mrs. Lucille Culberson.

The Citizens' Business League gave a banquet last Thursday evening in honor of Dr. H. D. Ingram who recently located here. The teachers of the East Side and Dunbar Schools were special guest. A splendid menu, witty and timely toasts, and a pleasant evening were enjoyed by all.

Miss Exie Lee Kelly had as dinner guest last Sunday, Mrs. Ruth Johnson of Imperial.

The Women's Civic Improvement Club gave an excellent program last Sunday afternoon at the C. M. E. Church. Mrs. A. E. Prince accompanied the several musical selections; Mesdames Toland and Lincoln read papers and Miss Mamie Pilkinton and Prof. W. F. Hubert delivered addresses. The Club has planned regular monthly meetings, having as its object a united community effort.

Mrs. Lorena Martin and children spent the last week end in San Diego.

Mrs. Sarah McPherson of San Diego is spending the week in El Centro. She has large property interests here and is checking over business matters.

Mrs. W. A. Payne attended the Y.W.C.A. County Board meeting last Thursday. She is a member of the County Board and presented to the meeting a report of the group's progress and needs.

Rev. R. H. McClendon left last Tuesday evening to attend the District Conference of the C. M. E. Church being held in Pasadena.

Bishop C. H. Phillips of the C.M.E. church paid the Valley a visit last Thursday and Friday. While here he was guest of the pastor in charge Rev. McClendon and was escorted to the coast by Presiding Elder Butler, Bishop Phillips preached an excellent sermon Thursday and afterwards was tendered a reception by the members of the church.

Misses Mamie Pilkinton, Exie Lee Kelly, Emily Roberson, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Prince, made up a party that spent Sunday afternoon at the picturesque Sand Dunes, near Calexico.

Last week Rev. Haywood while driving on N. Intake, stepped from his sedan while it was in motion and sustained a bruised knee. For about 3 days, he couldn't get around, but now he is able to attend to his duties.

Sunday morning, Rev. J. L. Jackson preached another one of those great sermons for which he is noted. He outlined his subject on the board and step by step, he led his audience into the deep truths of his text. The Bethel A. M. E. Church of which he is pastor will begin a rally in the near future.

For the past weeks St. Paul Baptist Church has been hard at work to raise money for the rally which was on the 23rd.

Rev. W. R. Carter, pres. of the Western Bapt. Ass'n. and the Missionary, Rev. James, came to Blythe last week. Rev. Carter remained throughout the week and had general charge of the campaign. These two ministers say that they really enjoy coming to Blythe. The 7 clubs headed by 7 deacons each raised much money with Club No. 6 "California Southern" leading with $125 with James S. Brown at head.

The total amount raised was $550.-99 with enough pledges to make this sum over $600 by the 5th Sunday.

In the near future the Palo Verde Lodge G.U.O.O. of O.F. will make 2 new members. The goat is being highly fed and Mr. Johnnie Neal has requested that his "will" be made to Miss Marie Wise if the goat devours him.

Perhaps the most lavish and brilliant affair enjoyed by the ultra exclusive set in a decade was the first anniversary ball given by that select coterie of lovely young married ladies known as the "Foxette Club." Garibaldi Hall was used for the setting of this fashionable function, and was gaily decorated for the occasion, the dominant attraction being a huge fox resting on a pedestal. Music was furnished by Bosts Orchestra, and the personnel of the club was greeted with a wealth of applause when formally introduced to the guests by Mr. Leroy Calhoun.

The superb gowns of the ladies and the conventional black evening clothes of the men added greatly to the splendor of the evening. Mrs. Carl Moulden was attired in a lovely gown of velvet blue taffeta trimmed in wide bands of black velvet and gold cloth, and Mrs. Cozey Smith wore an attractive creation of pale pink georgette, embellished with cut steel beads and rhinestones. Mrs. Alex Clarke wore a stunning frock of orchid georgette, enhanced by a wealth of minute ruffles with touches of silver, while Mrs. Samuel L. Hannibal was very becomingly gowned in apricot georgette trimmed in gold braid. Mrs. Burke Bilbo wore an attractive frock of pea green georgette, colorful with its hand-painted cowers in shades of red rose and silver and Mrs. William A. Bigby, Jr., was attired in a lovely two-tone gown of pale pink and black crepe-de-chine, the skirt of which was made in accordian pleats. Mrs. Henry C. Wilkes wore one of the most gorgeous gowns in the entire ensemble, being a striking original creation of shell pink georgette, with a bodice of rhinestones and crystal beads, and having an overskirt of heavy fringe of the same tint, while Mrs. Joseph Holmes was lovely indeed in a dainty frock of baby blue crepe-de-chine over pink and trimmed in gold lace.

Mrs. Robert Robinson (Willie Townsend) of San Diego wore a lovely creation of white duchess satin, with an overskirt of hand-made lace and rhinestones, and Mrs. Henry Sims was becomingly gowned in stunning gown of black jet and chigon over black satin. Mrs. Robert Thurman wore ashes of roses georgette, lavishly embellished with multi-colored sequins, while Mrs. Ernest Hinds was gowned in black Spanish lace over silver cloth. Mrs. James L. Clarke was attired in a frock of maroon crepe-de-chine, cut low in the bodice, and enhanced with striking hand-painted designs, and Miss Manhoma Thurman was a vision of loveliness in a dainty frock of white georgette, made in straight lines, and completely embellished in white sequins. Mrs. Jessie Morris wore black crepe-de-chine, figured with rhinestones and pearls, while Miss Dorothy Hinds was modish indeed in a frock of pea green taffeta trimmed with velvet of the same shade. With it she wore a lovely Spanish shawl. The affair is still the choice bit of gossip over the tea cup.

les. Mrs. Wright has been a conspicuous character among the conferences for several years yet unassuming character among the conferences for several years yet unassuming and for her consistent endeavors has been given this position without an opposing vote which speaks well for the denomination. With the ability to go that she already possesses there is no reason why she should not meet with success.

The musical program given under the auspices of the choir of the First A.M.E. Church directed by Madam Cora Morrow was conceeded to be the best that has ever been rendered in the church. Because of the rare ability of Mrs. Morrow it is little or no effort to render a musical program that is second to none. Mrs. Morrow is highly recommended and the soul power she executes in her singing and playing is beyond description and the congregation should feel justly proud of such a talented acquisition.

Electricity in Los Angeles

The Motion Picture Theatre

Carthay Circle Theatre

OVER a million people a year visit the Carthay Circle Theatre.

The Circle is exclusively a "first run" motion picture house, noted for the record runs of such great pictures as "The Volga Boatman," "What Price Glory," "Seventh Heaven," and their lavish prologues.

Its huge, white tower, visible for miles in all directions, is a landmark of the community. Brilliantly Neon-lighted at night, it serves as a beacon for aviators.

The Theatre itself is in typically early California style of Spanish design, and embodies many unusual features of theatre construction.

A circular auditorium affords splendid sight lines and gives a feeling of intimacy not found in many other large theatres.

Thirty-two hundred electric light combinations of color effects are incorporated in the design of the great Spanish wood ceiling surmounting the auditorium.

An unusual feature of the Circle is its location, eight miles from the heart of the city, in the center of an exclusive residential section, and yet of easy and quick access to all parts of the community.

Well towards a million dollars was spent in building the Carthay Circle Theatre. It seats about 2000, and is thoroughly up-to-date in every particular and fireproof in construction.

The absolute dependence of the modern motion picture theatre on electricity is shown by the electrical equipment used by Carthay Circle Theatre:

12,000 Electric Lamps in use
Electricity for Projection—most vital, as constant service is required
Two motors for Picture Machine Generators
Two motors for Automatic Dimmers used for unique lighting effects
Motors for Arc Strikers, Automatic Rewinds
Motors for Roof Signs and Searchlight
Neon Tower and building Flood Lights
Motor for large Elevator for raising and lowering Orchestra Pit
Radio Broadcast
Motor for Sewage Pump
Organ effects, Traps, Battle effects and Aeroplane effects
Motors for Washing and Drying Air
Blower motors for Furnace
Nineteen motors in all for ventilating
Dozens of small motors for Stage Effects

It is a source of great satisfaction to us to have this approval of our electric service expressed by the Carthay Circle Theatre in a recent letter:

"In fair weather and foul, under every and all conditions, Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation has given SERVICE PLUS. Not for an instant during the period that this theatre has been in operation has it been without service."

LA SMOOTH

La Smooth is a new preparation just placed on the market. Its aim is to change, without damage to scalp or blood, the appearance of Bad Hair. It leaves rough, kinky, unruly hair straight, glossy and smooth after constant and proper use for even a short period of time.

Directions: Use like an hot iron. Just dampen the hair with warm water and rub La Smooth on and the job is finished not unlike the work of Mother Nature.

La Smooth is a home product manufactured by the Pacific Laboratories, 1540 E. 12th Street, Los Angeles, California. 10-14-

MEMORIAL

In memory of my darling Mother who departed this life, October 27, 1926.

Since you've gone away Mother,
One thing is dear to me
You were dearer than dear to me.
From the moments you left
Evenings didn't seem the same
I dream of you when day is done
And think of all the joys we knew.
All through the day I miss your tender love
But most of all when day is done
There's a silvery star away at the edge of the sky
Waiting to take me home some day to you.

daughter,
LOUISE L. CARTER

LADIES' PLEASURE CLUB

After which a wonderful 3 course luncheon was served. Next meeting at the residence of Mrs. Edna Dogins 836 E. 24th St. Mrs. A. Holly, Pres. Mrs. Ester White, reporter.

THE PASSING OF MRS. MAY BELL PITTS

The V. I. F. Club suffers a great loss in the untimely passing of Mrs. May Bell Pitts, the organizer and past president of the Club. Under her ideal leadership, the club made wonderful progress. During the last year of her activities she proved to be as faithful a follower as a leader, and for these things we want to live in the memory of her good deeds, and join her family to whom she was so loyal, in this time of bereavement.

MAXINE E. HEFFLIN.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to the many friends of Mrs. Maybelle V. Pitts for their kindness during her long illness. We also thank those who rendered loyal service on Monday, October 10, 1927.

CLAUDE V. PITTS, Husband
MR. & MRS. G. T. MOORE, Parents
MR. & MRS. Wm. DICKERSON, Sister
MR. & MRS. THOMAS MOORE, Brother.

BLACKSTONE CLUB MEETS

The Blackstone Club, consisting of practically all the colored attorneys of the city and county of Los Angeles, met in special session, October 24, 1927 at the Christian Tavern with Hon. T. C. Ridgeway, President of the Bar Association, and Hon. F. M. Roberts, member of the Assembly, as its honored guests.

Many things of vital importance were freely discussed and everyone seemed to have been benefitted in some way by being present. Your reporter got the idea from the discussion that if any strained relations exist in this neck of the woods between the better element of the races, it is simply because they do not understand each other and not a hatred.

President Macbeth assured the club that with the assistance of the other members of the club, he would have other luminaries out to our meetings to address the members from time to time.

Dr. Chas. A. Jackson of Houston, Texas, has moved to Los Angeles and is residing at 4016 Naomi avenue. Office location to be announced later.

Mrs. Robert Steward entertained at dinner last Monday complimenting her nephew and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. McAlister of Topeka, Kansas. The house was beautifully decorated in ferns and cut flowers. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. McAllister and Mrs. S. E. Webb, R. N.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. McAllister motored to Santa Ana last week and while there had dinner with Mrs. A. Floyd, on W. 5th St.

We are pained to learn of the accident which befell Mr. S. Oliver, prominent member of the Independent Church, treasurer of the Forum and all around useful citizen, who was painfully injured by falling out of a tree at his home last week. We hope for his speedy recovery.

Mrs. J. E. Moxley of 618 E. 36th Pl., who has been ill for the past ten weeks is now on the road to recovery.

The death of her father, Wm. C. Hailstock on Sept. 27th caused a relapse in the illness of Mrs. Moxley.

Mr. Halstock was a native of Ohio, but lived in Michigan and Iowa many years. The last 6 years of his life was spent in California with his daughter and at the Soldiers Home. He died Sept. 27th and was buried Sept. 30th fro mthe Soldiers' Home.

FAREWELL PARTY

Nearly fifty guests gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Rhodes, 1508 E. 20th St., prior to the departure of Mrs. Rhodes' sister who will leave in a few days for Dallas, where she will visit before returning to her home in New Orleans, La.

Don't let anyone make a "Boston" on you at the Whist Lovers Club's whist games at Eagle Hall each Saturday night from Oct. 29th to Nov. 19th.

The members of the Dodecagenian Art and Literary Club were entertained by Miss Alicia Allen, Thursday, October 20. The meeting was called to order by the President, Miss Marguerite Robinson. After new and old business was discussed the meeting was adjourned after which delicious refreshments were served. The club has many things planned for the near future. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Arnita Benton Brazley.

MISS MELBA ALLEN IN RECITAL AT THE TRINITY BAPTIST CHURCH, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1927, 8 P. M.

The Trinity Baptist Church present in her Initial Recital in Los Angeles, California.

It goes without saying that this young lady has become one of the outstanding pianists of the West. She has recently finished a course on the piano, also in voice culture. She has everything at her command that goes to make an accomplished musician.

To hear her once, one appreciates the art that this young musician portrays. It will be a real treat to those who are music lovers.

We are hoping that everyone who desires to encourage young people who have prepared themselves along this line of their life's work, will come out on Tuesday, November 8th.

vember 8th.

Don't forget the place; Trinity Baptist Church, 36th and Normandie, Rev. W. H. M. Dickerson, Pastor.

GLADYS GREENAWAY

Well, well, well. Here we are again. Right in the same old space. Hope everything has been going on fine since last week. News is very scarce but perhaps we can scare some up. Follow your nose to the following.

The game last Sunday at Manual Arts Hi between the N. N. B's. and La Premiers was a rather one-sided affair the score being 31-6 in favor of the N. N. B's. Despite the score, there was much fast playing on both sides, thrilling the on-lookers in the bleachers. During the first three minutes of play, the Premiers made a touchdown but after that touchdowns for the N. N. B's were made by Billy Boyce, Alonzo Allen, Boy Dade, and drop kick by Buck Rosser. All these boys played like demons and made the game very interesting. C. A. Hunter of the Premiers is little, but—how he can play. Talk about fast! Others on the Premiers who are worthy of notice are Charles Jones, the cleanest player on the team, Cunningham, center and former Compton man. The captain and star back of the Premiers, B. Jackson, did not play Sunday and his work on the gridiron was greatly missed. All in all the game was greatly enjoyed and everyone is looking forward to next Sunday's game at Jeff Hi between N. N. B and Wilshire Olympics. The crowd was very well behaved at Manual, quite a difference between that and the usual crowd at Synder's Field. Come out everyone and give the boys the glad hand!

The Semper Fidilis Club met Friday October 21, at the home of Miss Carita Harbert, 1647 W. 37th St. Many important topics were discussed, chief among which was a play to be given soon. Refreshments were served by the charming hostess, with Halloween motifs. Watch this column for particular concerning the play.

Mrs. Ernestine Wade (nee Jones) former Secretary of the "Eagle" says keping house beats banging a typewriter any day. Mrs. Wade is a very recent bride and her happiness is contagious.

Elliott Qualles, beau brummel of the West side says the reason he dislikes Santa Monica is because Rucher comes from there.

The dancing class at the Y.W.C.A. is progressing very favorably. In a few months the girls hope to be able to do all the dances, from Irish to Russian, without any after effects. The class meets every Wednesday from 7 to 9 P. M.

Our favorite waitress says she knows some excellent hairdressers whom she could recommend to the chorus at the Lincoln. But of course we didn't have a thing to say. Now you tell one.

Fairy tale—There was once a pretty young lady who could walk down Central Avenue and no one would stare, whistle, smile or grin.

The "Smart Set" gave a very delightful semi formal affair last week at Symphony Hall on Hill Street. The members of the club made very charming hostesses and everyone thoroughly enjoyed theirselves. Rene and his orchestra played and excellent punch was served to the guests.

According to local papers, a man stooping over to pick up a dime someone had lost, lost his own wallet. Moral—always leave the small change for the street cleaner.

Famous last words—"My how funny you look in your Halloween costume."

Princess Illeana of Rumania says this princess business is not all its cracked up to be, especially when Queen Marie is all hipped about one being made a Queen.

Well see you in my dreams.

After I had began taking treatments from Mme. Lillian in three months time I seen a wonderful improment in my hair. I am continuing to use her treatment and today I have a beautiful suit of hair. I highly recommend her preparations to those who desire beautiful hair.

MRS. E. SMITH.

The W. C. Club of Santa Ana, Cal. was entertained by Mrs. Branch at her home 1164 E. 27 St. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Jones' on E. 3rd St. Miss Cherry and Miss Elgin were guest of the Club.

La Golandrina Club had its regular business meeting on October 21, 1927 at the home of Miss Thelma Lowery. The girls were entertained by Miss Juanita Terry and Miss Florine Shaw. The meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Lowery. After the business meeting had adjourned, the girls were seated at the table which was beautifully decorated in Hallowe'en decorations and served with delightful refreshments. There were two visitors present, Miss Helen Ross and Miss Florine Shaw and two new members, Miss Harriet Brown and Miss Willie Wilson. There were twenty-two present at this meeting.

I guess there is something doing in the near future.

The next meeting will meet with Miss Myrtle Mims.

"Well, I am now."

HOW TO CARE FOR YOUR HAIR

Dear Madam:

Many people envy the beauty of others. They manifest surprise that others seem so singularly beautiful, meanwhile overlooking opportunities before them that should magnify their own beauty. For instance, have you ever thought how many diseases of the hair are due to imppoper attention to the scalp? For one reason or another the hair is neglected. Years later, if a disease fortunately does not develop thin hair is the result, hair that is brittle, unattractive and which has not attained its proper growth. Many young ladies and women have improved their appearances by availing themselves of our services. The hair represents a feature that often mars the beauty. We take pleasure in bringing before you some particular preparations of ours that have been used with wonderful results where others have failed. Preparations that is widely used now within your reach—namely The Mme. Lillian's Hair Grower. When used according as directed will give to you a luxuriant growth of hair. The Mme. Lillian's Temple Grower for baldness of the temples, so often found among women, The Mme. Lillian's Pressing Oil, for making the hair straight and natural. Beauty is within the reach of all, provided proper efforts are applied. A beautiful suit of hair adds strength and character to a person's bearing. So often one looks aged long before, on account of neglecting to give the scalp and hair the proper attention. If you will use the Mme. Lillian's Hair preparations you will soon possess those lovely charms, so often desired by all women. Have your Beauty wants taken care of at The Lillian Beauty Shoppe by Expert operators. Marcel Waving, Manicuring, Hair dressing, Shampooing, Facials Hand and Electrical, Eye brow arching etc. We make a specialty in hair dying. Evening work by appointment. Hum 1252, 3826 So. Central Ave.

A Few Testimonials

To whom it may concern—

About one year ago I began to take treatment from Mme. Lilliam for my hair. My hair was very thin, out on the sides, today I am proud to say I have a beautiful suit of hair, I don't have to wear my switch around my head. I recommend her treatments to any one.

Football Player Dies; Neck Broken

(By: A. N. P.)

New Orleans, La., Oct. 24.—A broken neck received in football practice at Straight College, September 21, caused the death of Edward Carline, 20-year old Negro acording to the corner's jury. Carline's neck was broken when he dived on a football at the college campus. He was treated at the Flint Goodridge Hospital for a few days, and allowed to return to his home. Later he was returned to the hospital where he died.

Legal Committee of L. A. Forum Makes Its Report

Los Angeles, Calif.,
October 6th, 1927.

To the Executive Board of N. A. A. C. P.,
Los Angeles Branch, Los Angeles, Cal.

We wish to call your attention to the situation in the Entwistle Tract, where several Colored folks purchased property, and subsequently occupied the same in violation of a racial restriction clause in the deed of conveyance which prohibited occupation by persons of Negro descent. Suits were brought against the Colored occupants for a forfeiture of their title to the property.

You will recall that the Letteau vs. Long case was the first case to arise in that tract and brought to trial. This case was subsequently lost in the lower court. In the meantime a number of other cases were filed against the Colored purchasers which cases are now pending.

On advice of your legal advisers, who at that time thought the case a representative one, the Long case was sponsored by the Association because of its desire to assist in the maintenance of the right of the Negro to occupy property that he owned.

At the time the Association agreed to sponsor the Long case the other suits against the Colored occupants of property in this tract were not filed, or at least had not been brought to the attention of the Association.

In view of the numerous suits that were subsequently filed against the Colored occupants in the Entwistle Tract, and the inability of the Association to finance all of them, and the inability of the defendants themselves to adequately finance and maintain their separate defenses, a plan was devised whereby each of the defendants who wished, could safeguard and secure his interest in the property, and in addition thereto the great and fundamental principle of the Negro's right to occupy property that he owned was too fought out to the end.

The plan was this:

1. The Plaintiffs agreed that any three or more of Negro owners who would move out of their property, they could retain every other right in their property except the right of occupation by Colored people, that is, they could sell it, rent it, or lease to any person except a Negro, and all of their equities in the property would be preserved.

2. The second provision of the plan was this, that one representative case would be selected and carried through every court to the highest for the purpose of testing the validity of the clause restricting the occupation of property by Negroes.

It was further agreed that regardless of the outcome of any or either of the test cases selected, whether they were won or whether they were were lost, the Negro's property would not be taken away from him. He could sell if he liked; he could retain it as an investment or he could lease or rent it. In other words every right he had when he bought it would be retained.

The plan was a simple one. Its advantages are so clear that no one could fail to grasp them.

The advantages of the plan briefly set forth are as follows:

FIRST: Each individual owner would be relieved of the heavy financial burden of having to carry his case through the gauntlet of all the courts with its inevitable costs and worry and loss of time.

SECOND: Each individual owner whether the test cases were won or lost would retain his equity in his property.

THIRD: And of most importance to the Negro as a group the great principle of the Negro's right to occupy property that he owned would be fought out through every available court and with greater hope of ultimate victory, because all energy, time, money and ability, could be centered on a representative case or cases which have not yet been brought to trial and which offered more points of attack than the Long case already tried.

It was for these reasons that your Legal Committee approved the plan. We then presented to you the plan in your regular session and secured your approval to present the same to the persons effected by the litigation. The plan was presented to the property owners for their approval or rejection at a special call meeting for that purpose and so far as we have been able to learn, they have not taken advantage of its provisions.

On the matter being again brought before your Board, your approval of the recommendation of this committee was again sought and obtained.

In view of the above mentioned recitals, an appeal of the Long Case was not advisable and even though the appeal had been taken, it would have been advisable to have dismissed the same and directed the recources and energies of the Association to another of the cases arising in this tract to which more defenses were available; and which would offer greater hopes of ultimate victory.

A STUDENT'S QUESTION: ARE WE SINCERELY INTERESTED IN THE ADVANCEMENT OF HIGHER LEARNING FOR OUR PEOPLE?

BY: LAWRENCE F. LAMAR

(This will be the California Eagle's Contribution to the Advancement of Learning)

This question, good people, is put forth in good faith. It seems clearly obvious that we are not serious about the acquisition of higher knowledge at all. Some among us, in order to pretend some desire for it say, in words to this effect, that if when they were much younger and their parents had possessed the means they would now be enjoying the benefits of some professional knowledge. Others go so far as to say or acknowledge that if they now had the means, they would employ a good portion of their time in order to procure this advantage.

Good people, as I have afore intimated, these excuses are not sound. Opportunity along educational lines is now wide awake and eager for someone to come along and grasp her. In every imaginable endeavor that can be undertaken by human beings, in everything that pertains to Western Civilization, there is that nevitable qualification: questions one's mental capacity. We as a group are more embarrassed both by our race and our mental deficiency, that is, ignorance of the physical mechanics or lack of professional training.

Now, in relation to this question, here is the test: The city of Los Angeles, through its educational department, leads the world in Adult Education. Her night schools are teeming with those, who, for some unfortunate reason, have been denied this chance in their youth. For the more advanced student, there are many courses corresponding to a college course. All of this—FREE.

Out at the Poytechnic Evening High School, they have a professional Law Department, complete in all details. This department is approximately 4 years old. There are about 400 students enrolled in the department. About 10 of those are of our group. Now this is deplorable; why can't more of our people appreciate this opertupnity to correct this deficiency in their education. It is because they are either indifferent or ignorant of the existence of these opportunities.

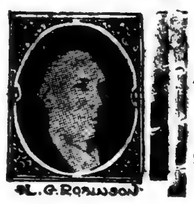
In order that they may know of the existence of this Law Dept., I will call to their attention, a little of the history, the aims, purpose and the class of students that may apply for admission.

This department was organized in February, 1924. It is conducted as a part of the Adult Educational Division of the Evening Schools. The aim and purpose is two-fold: First to offer to mature men and women an opportunity to prepare for the practice of law, free of expense in an institution giving the highest type of training and maintaining the highest scholastic standards. Second: to make available to men and women a knowledge of legal principles for use in life either by way of culture or in furtherance of business pursuits.

In maintaining this double aim, the school does not in the slightest degree, alter the standards of knowledge required for admission to the bar. The same pre-requisites are required of each class of students. It is the purpose to make education demonstrative—to open opportunity to all, and then by rigid training and selection, to offer only the best to the professional world.

The greatest possible emphasis will be placed upon the mental and moral characteristics. Only those are welcome who are of the highest type and all available means will be used to determine the character of each student.

The admission requirements are easy. Students under 21 years of age must be high school graduates. Students over 21, but under 25 should preferably, come with high school education, but will be received without it upon a showing of ability and experience. Students over 25 are not required to show any particular amount of academic knowledge.



Now let us see if we cannot disprove my suspicions. Let's make this admisston of ten, fifty.

DON'T FORGET! Rene and his Hot Syncopators at Christian Tavern, November 4, 1927. Dance given by St. Agnes Guild. Admission gives chance on a 2 lb. box of candy. Here's your chance! Don't fail to come.

Here is shown George Alexoff, a 15-months-old baby, who is doing his best to join in the appeal for the Los Angeles Community Chest campaign, which opens the 31st instant. Young George is displaying the Chest's slogan, "Give One Day's Pay."

EDITORIAL

The Federated Voters League with its executive Committee in action at all times will very soon submit a report of its accomplishments which will justify its existence to the utmost. in these strenuous times it is imperative if we are to get anywhere as a group, to have agencies constantly at work and by this co-operation of various organizations and individuals, the Federated Voers League is at last bringing things to pass. The members therefore may well look forward to the things in store for them when they meet in their quarterly session on November the 7th.

ADDING PRESTIGE

The confirmation by unanimous vote of Mr. Dell Sweitzer as a member of the police commission is a high compliment to that gentleman, and deservedly so for all the years of his residence here he has ever been to the forefront for the things which has made Los Angeles great and grand. As a member of the Police Commission there will be no question but that he will add to the prestige of this body and take a lead in bringing order out of chaos and placing the department to the very forefront for the good and growth of this community.

CROOKS AND FAKERS

The good which the race press accomplishes is through great trials and tribulations, and strange to say it is hampered mostly so by charlatans and petty thieving gangsters who prey upon an unsuspecting public by soliciting merchants who have as their clientele members of our race. We have false newspapers to deal with. That is to say papers like mushrooms which spring up and have no intention to live only long enough to beat some printer out of his work and some merchant or politician out of his money. This situation naturally hurts the legitimate newspaper and is but one of the many weights upon their progress. Then we have the subscription dead beat to contend with as well as the publicity beggar who is ever present with voluminous rolls of copy which they expect service without charge or price. As a matter of fact newspaper space is an actual commodity and is worth according to circulation so much per inch, and no person except those with what is news in the estimation of the publisher should either expect or ask to have propaganda selfish to individuals or organizations unless they expect to pay the legitimate charge incident thereto. Our mind is well made up for a relentless warfare on false journals, crooked solicitors, political parasites and all the riff raff which stand in the way of our onward march.

NOVEMBER

No shade, no shine, no butterflies, no bees,
No fruits, no flowers, no leaves, no birds—
November. —Thomas Hood.

The whimsical poet tells the truth about November in these clever lines, but not all the truth. He perceives the motif of the month and straightway proceeds to exaggerate the same—a privilege which belongs to all poets, and is assumed by some who are not.

Every mont hof the twelve has its characteristics and November an individuality quaintly its own. The vivid and varied color scheme amid autumn gives place to a study in gray monotony. The trees are leafless and they stand sharply silhouetted against skies that are leaden and bleak. The wind rustless amidst the fallen leaves as if searching for something it has lost, and the fitful gusts scatter promiscuouly the leafy heap of brown and buff. There are hints not vague, but broad, that winter is near at hand and snow may fall any day.

There is a sombre charm in November days and nights. The air is often crisp and invites the pedestrian to fill his lungs to their peak with deep breaths and pure. The landscape is alluring, even in its undressed effect. Rarely there is a sunset of such weird beauty as would have moved John Ruskin to exclaim "It was well worth seeing." The twilight comes early and deepens quickly into night. The constellaions keep pace with the calendar, and shortly after supper mighty Orion makes his appearance and begins his triumphant march across the heavens.

The insignia of November is the fodder shock, the pumpkin and the turkey gobbler, strutting to his doom. History and romance meet and mingle in this month, mellow with the memories of those days when America was young. It is easy now to see things at night. In the frosty twilight the rows of serried corn-shocks resemble a village of Indian tepees and in fancy one sees the shadowy forms of warirors, their women and the children moving to and fro beneath the light of a harvest moon.

The time of the frying of doughnuts has come, the making of mincemeat and the baking of pies; the cranberry sauce blushes furiously for they are grinding knives in anticipation of Thaksgiving dinner "out at old Aunt Mary's."

COMMUNITY PROGRESS

While Los Angeles has much to boast of as it considers past achievements, it would be sheer folly at this stage of its community development to rest content with past laurels and cease striving for further advancement.

Los Angeles's present high standing among centers of equal population has been won by foresight and aggressive policies in the past. This generation should be just as eager to assure an enviable future for the community as were those men of former generations who often fought a stiff, up-hill fight to gain those things upon which the city's present prestige rests.

Never before in is history has Los Angeles been in such good position to go forward in rapid and substantial development as right now. It has all its pristine attractions plus many of relatively recent acquisiion.

But to do the things that must be done if the community is to progress along desirable lines of commercial, industrial and residential expansion and betterment, there must be no diminution of that spirit of cooperation and willing effort on the part of a considerable number of citizens which has been manifested in all its past accomplishments.

And just as men and women of vision and civic conscience have always been available in the past, so will they come to the service of the community in future hours of need.

COMMENTS

BY: W. J. WHEATON

The Swing-Johnson (Boulder Dam) Bill, has more than a fighting chance to pull through this coming Congress. Representative J. Q. Tilson, Republican floor leader, and former advocate of the lower dam, declared after a recent survey that he believes the high dam at Boulder Canyon is essential. After his report to the President, Governor Deven of Utah, after a conference with President, quoted him as saying that he (the President) "Believes that a high dam at Boulder Canyon is absolutely necessary to protect Imperial Valley from the danger of flood." He said "that he hopes that we will look upon the project in a broad way and that the conference of governors will agree upon a program that is adequate and feasable."

With the weight of the administration thrown into the balance, that, and the dynamic energy of Senator Hiram Johnson, will be too much, too great a handicap, for even the vaunted $7,000,000,000 power trust to overcome. The laity of the territory which is to be benefitted by the building of that vast water storage will never be able to repay the doughty, conscientious, and able representatives who have fought to obtain for them their rights. Senator Johnson has labored unceasing in the struggle against selfish cooperate interests. He has challenged it openly; threw down the gauntlet and on the floor of the United States Senate, he defied it. But let us not believe the battle won with the skirmish. Every effort wil be put forth by the interests to relegate to private life the men who block their way. Vigilance should be the watchword of California's electorate.

San Francisco is in the last throes of a strenuous political campaign. At this writing the forces of the several canddates are sharply alligned. The contest for Mayor has developed into a beautiful scrimmage for votes between the two major contestants—James Rolph and James Powers. The third candidate, Geo. Uhl, does not seem to be taken seriously by the electorate. While the heavy artillery is trained against Sheriff Tom Finn, he does not regard his opponent, Fitzgerald as dangerous, and is centering his strength and political strategy for the success of Powers. The meager Aframerican vote of the city is hopelessly divided. No concrete massing of their little strength. Every man and woman a leader and every man and woman their lone follower. The only outward sign of organization is seen for James Powers. John Taylor is the guiding mind.

* * *

This question: "Should churches be used for furthering the interests of political candidates? has come to the front since a political mass meeting was held for that purpose in one of the leading race places of religious worship. It does seem a shame that we should so far forget the words which consecrate the church to its spiritual uses that for a paltry sum the doors will be thrown open and the pulpit—from which messages of spiritual uplift should come—resound with the plea for votes. Yes! We believe that the church in its community life should be a factor for betterment in civic life. But partzan politics should never pollute its sacred environs. But our preachers continually enlarge on the "Widow's Mite," very seldom do you hear a sermon on "Christ Scourging the Money Lenders from the Temple." Let the candidates hire a hall.

SOCIETY MATRON WINS DIVORCE

Mrs. Luvenia Harper-Patterson, pretty and accomplished society matron, music teacher and former organist at the Second Baptist Church, was awarded her interlocutory decree of divorce from S. D. Patterson last Tuesday in Judge Brown's Court on grounds of extreme cruelty.

The pretty Mrs. Patterson is widely known in social circle in Los Angeles and Oakland, and maintains a class of musical students at her home. She was represented in her divorce by Attorney Curtis C. Taylor with office at 1400 Central Avenue.

JAPANESE PASSES

BY: E. L. DORSEY

On last Monday morning, the many friends and neighbors of Mr. Sanshiro Fujita were shocked to learn of his passing.

Several week ago, while driving his automobile, Mr. Fujita was struck by another auto and received severe injuries from which he never recovered.

Mr. Fujita who was well known and enjoyed a large circle of friends amongst his countrymen was a man of sterling character and high ideas.

He resided at 1309 E. 28th St. with his wife and both had endeared themselves to the neighborhood by their touch of human kindness and little friendly acts that make for better understanding between all mankind regardless of race, creed or color.

He has left an indelible impression upon all who knew him and having lived an exemplary life in a country whose laws unjustly denied him freedom and citizenship in its broadest sense has done much to soften the heart of all true Americans who truly believe in justice, the Fatherhood of Good and the Brotherhood of Man.

'Tis to be hoped that America may yet see the injustice being done this enterprising colony of people by its methods of dealing with immigration and colonization for truly they are a deserving groups.

The funeral of Mr. Fujita was held on last Tuesday afternoon from the Japanese Temple on Hewett St., where impressive religious services were held. Many were present and followed the funeral cortege to Evergreen Cemetery, where cremation followed. The ashes will be shipped to his mother in Japan. Many beautiful floral offerings were in evidence.

The widow has the sympathy of the entire community in her bereavement.

cannot even be eradicated by religious fervor.

On the first page of Dr. Briegleb's weekly calendar, under the caption: "This Church Believes", we noted this statement: "This church believes in a literal Heaven and a literal Hell".—Well, after listening to the learned Dr. and digesting as best we could every word he said, we left that sanctum wondering if there would be segregated districts in this literal Heaven and Hell for Black and Whites that the great St. Paul Presbyterian Church believes in.

RALPH BUNCHE WRITES

Needless to say, I find the East somewhat different from my beloved West. Up to the present time, however, the more of the East I have seen, the more I can appreciate the blessings of California. We folk out there have a great deal to be thankful for if we could only come to a realization of it. The Eastern weather is abominable. Economic conditions, health, recreation faqilities, and many other things are much better and much more consistent in the West than in the East. The business of living is a much more serious undertaking here than out there. What one might live comfortably on there, one would undoubtedly starve on in this section of the country. And, if by chance, one should not starve to death, he still has an excellent possibility of freezing. My advice to the grumblers out that way is to come back here for a month or two,—only I'm serving a warning now, that I can't help them rake up the fare back to sunny California when conditions get the best of them here.

Cambridge and all New England is very quaint. This is a very oft section of the country and all New Englanders are proud of their landmarks. I do think I am very fortunate in being able to attend the oldest and greatest educational institution in the western hemisphere, for that is the boast which Harvard can truthfully make, and does. It is a great treat and inspiration to sit in lectures under the most famous teachers in the nation—men whose books I have been reading for years, and who have reached the summit. And when I think how fortunate I am to be here, I cannot help but breathe a prayer of gratitude to the many kindly, generous people in Los Angeles who have made it possible for me to realize my fondest dream.

The Forum will always retain a prominent niche in my heart and memory. I often think of the many interesting experiences I have had there. I recall that my extempore speech before an adult audience was given at the Forum several years ago. I'll never forget how forbearing and kindly an audience it was that listened patiently to my excited jabbering. Only the other day, Professor Sly, whom you must remember as my very excellent supporter from the University faculty, and who is now teaching at Harvard, mentioned the very interesting afternoon he spent with me at the Forum. I'm sure you recall him too. A purer hearted, more likeable man I never hope to see.

The work here is exceptionally difficult and there is a great deal of it—just as I had anticipated. So I am not in the least disappointed. I am concentrating all my talents and energies now in an attempt to make a scholastic record which I may later be able to say, with pride, is truly representative of the Negro population of Los Angeles, and I may say, the West. Under the supervision of my department, I am about to begin the writing of my first book, in the near future. The subject and title are not definitely selected as yet, but when they are I shall let you know. Of one thing I can assure you—it will be upon some aspect of the Negro Problem.

I must close now. Please extend my sincere personal regards to all members of your organization, and any other of my friends in Los Angeles with whom you may come in contact. Please tell Mrs. Duncan that if I could do so, I would sit down and cry like a baby because I will be unable to be present at that good old Thanksgiving dinner she is sure to have. I presume that George will prove capable of disposing of my rations. If you should find time I would greatly appreciate a line or two.

Sincerely,
RALPH J. BUNCHE.

CARE OF THE TEETH

BY: DR. J. WINIFORD ROUT
INDIAN DENTISTRY

Examination of an Indian skull, found near Conesus Lake, 30 miles south of Rochester, N. Y., has revealed to antiquarians that the Indian braves of a century or more ago practiced rude but effective dentistry, without worrying about dentists' bills. Several teeth were missing from the crumbling jaws of the skull, and their places had been taken by wooden pegs, whittled from hardwood and wedge into the empty sockets, says a correspondent of the New York World.

Inquiry among the old settlers has brought to light the fact that within comparatively recent times wooden incisors and canine teeth enabled venerable Indians to enjoy their solid food. The last of the chieftains that went equipped with the artificial teeth was John Miller, who in the eighties was a familiar figure throughout Western New York. Miller lived on the Tonawanda Reservation, but used to make regular and frequent begging trips. He said he was 110 years old, and looked it, according to those who remember him.

John had lost all the front teeth from his lower jaw, and had replaced them with sharpened, stout pegs whittled from oak knots. The pegs were firmly wedged into the jaw bone and apparently caused him no discomfort. They seemed to be stout enough for all ordinary purposes. John never refused any kind of food that was offered him. He could of course gulp cornmeal mush with speed and comfort, but he could also masticate cold beef with ease. He disdained the use of knife and fork, preferring to hold the chunk of meat in his hands and chew off mouthfuls in the good old primitive fashion, tearing the tough morsels from the bone with his natural upper teeth and their wooden companions below.

Occasionally one of the wooden grinders would splinter under the strain, and the wrinkled brave would promptly produce a chunk of oak knot, whittle out a crude semblance of a tooth, polish it on a convenient stone, and tranquilly insert it in the place made vacant by its wooden predecessor. For years John Miller employed his oaken teeth, refusing the offer of a country dentist who would have made him a plate free of charge.

Federated Club News

BY: MARY E. REED

The Allensworth Literary and Industrial Club met at the beautiful home of Madam Outley, 912 E. 54th. St., this was the opening of the club. The chairman of the program, Mrs. M. G. Hoard had prepared a splendid program. We highly appreciate the words of encouragement from our state officers Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Stafford; Mrs. Reed and Mrs. Beauesch.

The speaker of the day was Rev. N. H. Jones, pastor of Zion Hill Bapt. Church, whose theme was "Selfishness". Many visitors were present and made remarks among who was Dr. W. F. Botts of Omaha, Neb.

Wednesday evening, the Eliza Warner Literary & Social Club had its years opening at the home of the president, Mrs. E. Westheimer in Boyle Heights. This is one of the newly federated clubs. They are striving hard to live up to the motto, "Deeds not Words." Mrs. E. Edwards, section pres. spoke encouraging them in their effort to organize and unite.

Mrs. Holland, a club woman of Oakland, also gave encouraging remarks.

This club meets in the evenings so the husbands may visit if they so desire, and a few did avail themselves of this opportunity.

The Friday Morning Iorquois Social & Civic Club celebrated its 11th Anniversary last Friday from 4 to 11 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Edwards on E. 17th St.

It was a gala affair for this most active hard worked and leading club who has fostered and put over so many big things; outstanding is the purchasing of a Club Home and the creating of the Ralphe Bunch Scholarship Fund.

Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards, the organizer of the Club and the other members were all smiles deservedly and many congratulations were showered upon them. An excellent program was rendered.

Sojourner Truth Home was alive with women last Monday. It was Educational Day and also the ending of the membership drive that had been in progress.

Many new members were pledged and old timers came flocking home with renewed energy Mrs. M. D. Scott and Mrs. M. Kelley tied in bringing in new members were pledged and old timers came flocking home with renewed energy. Mrs. M. D. Scott and Mrs. M. Kelley tied in bringing in new members, each was 26. The total number brought in was 93.

Mrs. Evelyn Clark of the Helen Hunt Library spoke of Books for Children to read. Mrs. Tyler, one of the Clubs' benefactress had promised to give the Club $100 if it raised $100. Needless to say the Club went over the top and won the $100 from Mrs. Tyler.

Miss L. S. Maxey of Indianapolis, Ind. was a visitor to the Soaring Eagle this week. Miss Maxey plans to make this her home.

The Iroquois Friday morning Club celebrated its 11th year with a Historical Anniversary at the residence of Mrs. Edwards, their organizer and First President, on October 21, 1927. There was a continuous program and a never ending line of Guests from 4 until 11 p. m.

The program opened with Mrs. Stafford's greetings from the Federation which was responded to by the President, Mrs. M. G. Patton. Mrs. Wells rendered a vocal solo accompanied by Dr. Eva Whiting Young, and Rev. Bean followed with congratulatory remarks then Mrs. Edwards was introduced as the organizer gave the history of the life of the club and its usefulness both civic and social. One of the most outstanding was the fact that they furnished milk for the Day Nursery for a period exceeding 5 years. Mrs. Massengil then rendered a vocal solo and Mr. Floyd a reading, Mrs. Starr a vocal solo, then Mrs. Patton who has the honor of being the first President ever to succeed herself gave a very interesting talk of her work with the aid of Club in assisting young Ralph Bunch to enter Harvard University. Mr. Geo. Longest then rendered a vocal solo and, the Silvertone Quartette with Miss Melba Allen at the piano ended the evening's program.

A great deal of credit is due Mrs. Graves, the club's first Treasurer as the idea of the Historical Anniversary was hers and the entire program was carried out by her assisted by Mrs. Maurine Abernathewho acted as Mistress of Ceremony.

The guests of honor were Mrs. Edwards, first President, and Mrs. Eva Whiting Young who passed the State Board of in July of this year and the present President Mrs. M. G. Patton and Mrs. Edna Stewart.

The Iroquois Friday Morning Club had its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Graves Friday morning October 21 with a large attendance.

The outstanding feature of the meeting was the program which was arranged by Dr. Young and Mrs. Stewart.

Mrs. Abernathe's book review on God's Step Children was very interesting and held every one's attention. Mrs. Banks also brought in two very interesting articles on, How to control your temper and, Snobb.

Mrs. J. B. Brown who was one of the first members of the club and has been inactive for some time returned to us and we feel that we have gained a great deal because of what she will mean to us as a worker.

The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Murray, 1300 W. 35 st. next Friday morning October 28th, at 10:30 a. m.

Bishop To Speak

Bishop C. H. Phillips, A. M., D. D., LL. D., of Cleveland, Ohio, will preach at Phillips Temple C. M. E. Church, 971 E. 42nd street, the 5th Sunday, Oct. 30th, at 11 A. M.

The public is cordially invited to hear this distinguished lecturer and preacher.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. Membership Drive netted a total of 615 new and renewed members. Much credit is due Mr. H. B. Graham for the successful manner in which he conducted the campaign. Although our local Y.M.C.A. failed to reach the goal of 700 members which would have enabled it to defeat the Denver Y on a 7 to 4 basis, for Denver reached a total of 400, Los Angeles is proud of the manner in which its citizens responded to and supported the Drive.

Foremost among these supporters was Capt. L. G. Robinson who probably contributed more than any other one man. Capt. Humphreys' Grays and Capt. John Porter's Reds finished first and second respectively in the local contest. Splendid work was performed by Captain Kenner's, McClanahan's, and Houston's teams.

FRIENDSHIP BAPT. CHURCH WATTS

Friendship Baptist Church is still doing a great work for the Lord under the leadership of our pastor, A. P. Ramsey. We hope to pay the church out of debt by the last of November. We want to thank all who helped us in our struggle.

Come to Friendship and hear the words of the Lord.

ALL SET FOR FISTIC EPIC OF THE WEST AT WRIGLEK FIELD

Ace Hudkins And Joe Dundee Ready for Gong

GREAT INTEREST AMONG COLORED FANS

Just a few more hours now and the first championship battle in California in 13 years will be on. Joe Dundee welterweight champion of the world will meet California's idol, Ace Hudkins the Wild-Cat of Nebraska. Interest was never greater among the colored fans even when one of our boys is the principal on a card for they all like Ace, for his gameness, fairness and absence of color prejudice. All feel sure that if Ace wins any colored boxer who can qualify will get a chance at the championship.

One of the biggest crowds here in many months will be in town on the 29th. In the afternoon the U. S. C.-California game will be held with Dick Donald's title fight for the welterweight championship of the world that night. It looks like a gala day for Los Angeles.

It appears that there will be bitter feelings between the two when they step into the ring tomorrow night, October 29th. There is going to be more than a title at stake, for Dundee and Hudkins are going to settle this recent score. Waxman has caused Hudkins plenty of mental unrest and rumors have it that the stories the big boy from Maryland has floated haven't aided Ace's condition any.

Two other big tens add to an already stupendous card.

Promoter Dick Donald has announced that the Boxing Commission will select the referee. Dundee's manager, Max Waxman has been making plenty of noise about a referee, but the Commission has stifled his howls. Dick Donald took no chances on having his show ruined by Dundee or Hudkins kicking about a referee, so he inserted clauses in ther contracts to protect hs own interests.

It looks as if the astute little promoter cinched a natural in this one and the people of Southern California are indebted to him for his nerve, foresight and tireless effort. New York wanted the scrap. Los Angeles got it. A lot of people said Los Angeles couldn't support a fight of this size. It is. Thanks to the nervy, cigar chewing promoter, Dick Donald.

"JUST BEFORE THE BATTLE MOTHER"

Ace Hudkins, the Nebraska Wild-Cat, is climbing into the ring decked in his famous bath robe and old good luck cap. He expects to climb out with Joe Dundee's crown under his arm.

Jake Kilrain Beats Mike Arno—Gets Draw At Denver

Jake Kilrain, according to Denver papers, had all the best of a battle with Mike Arno a week ago. The referee called it a draw.

Guards—Bailey (Olympic Club) and Horrell (California).

Center—Bettencourt (St. Mary's).

Quarterback—Kelly (Monana).

Halfback—Ingram (Pacific Flee) and Wilson (Washington).

Fullback—Nevers (Stanford).

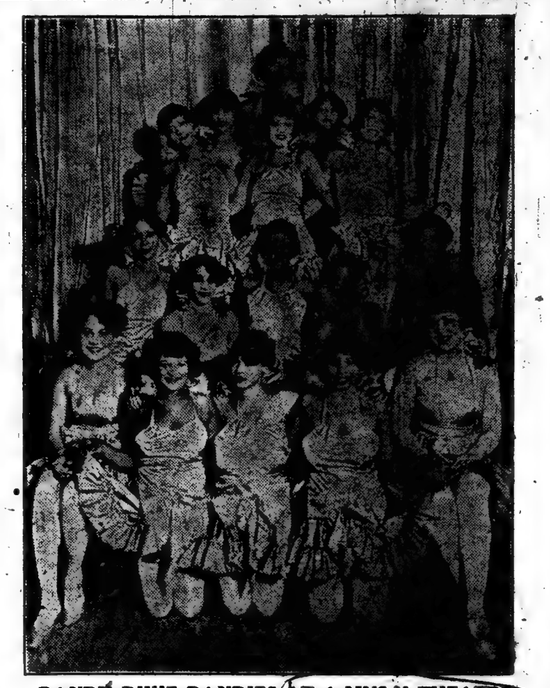
Dust From the Campus

BY: LAWRENCE F. LAMAR

The forthcoming struggle between U. S. C. and California, for what might really decide the football supremacy of the West, Saturday, at the Coleseum, has the college student now-a-days, so occupied figuring the outcome, that it is nigh impossible to get any other news from him. He alternates from the thinking of the probable score to a try at visualizing the type of beauty that will visit the city with the California caravan from the North. That last speculation is O. K., it's got me some.

The various sororities and fraternities were well pleased for my mentioning the college societies last week; they expressed a desire that I keep it up. We want to tell them now that this is their column and that we are very anxious that they become friendly with it; submit your news, Sorors and Fraters, and it will surely be printed.

Sorry, Folks, but we must cut this interview short, as our attention must be centered on finding something to wear (you know, rent one—Tuxedo) for some of those red hot collegiate affairs all day Saturday. You know the Delta Sigma's and the Rho Phi Si's are going to be join hostess to the visitors and we must see how they do it. Then that night the Kappas—Oh Boy! at 50th and Central. Now, don't you see what we mean. Get on, if you're going.



Vernon Jackson vs. Bud Taylor, New York, October 22nd

Madison Square Garden was packed to the roof as the bantam champion climbed through the ropes to rousing cheers, followed closely by the cool-headed little colored kid from California.

ROUND 2—Taylor tiring from the terrific pace, Jackson seemingly fresher every minute. He batters Taylor with his famous right cross and left hook. Taylor plainly angry and battling desperately. Swings left, right, left again; misses all. Jackson jabs away at Taylor's newly broken nose. Lands right to jaw, left to body. Taylor is down from terrific overhand right. Up at nine count Jackson dances around pecking away at Taylor's closed eye. Measures the reeling champ and crashes a zipping right cross to the chin and Taylor goes down and out. 18,000 yelling Harlemites carry from the ring on their shoulders the new champion—VERNON JACKSON.

No, No! gentle reader, this has not happened yet. It is only written a year ahead in 1928. But the way that jazz playing little trombone tooter is stepping on the 118 pounders in his spare time from school and Blanchard's band he will be champion next year this time, whether he wants to be or not.

Josephine Brown Beats Tennis Champion Juliette Harris In Mixed Double

In the first night match to be played at the new grounds of the Congregational Church, the League of Youth Club staged a tennis match under the Big flood lights on Friday last. Two matches were played, a mixed single which ended, Mr. Eason 6—Miss Harris 4; and a mixed double ended Josephine Brown and Chas. Eason 6, Juliette Harris and T. Johns 2. Miss Brown showed remarkable improvement in both service and returns and it is considered a great victory to win on a team against the champion, Juliette.

Young Harry Wills K. O's. Freddie Lewis

Seattle. (By. United Service)—Young Harry Wills of San Diego knocked out Freddie Lewis, local Indian welterweight, in the ninth and final round of their bout here.

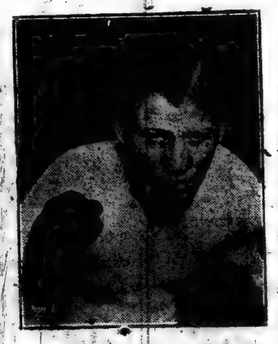
ROY WILLIAMS

Direct from Dempsey's training camp where as the chief sparring partner of the ex-champ he was named by Dempsey as the best in the lot. Williams was virtually robbed of a draw decision in his first bout at the Olympic with Mike Hector. His attire manager, Mr. Lipsie says, if he can beat such boys as Wolcott Langford, Dave Shade and others, he is too good for the Coast middles.

Vic Alexander Threw One More Rock in Way of Negro Boxers

An honest white sports authority remarked recently that a colored man in any line of sport must always do extra good to get equal credit, so should always do his level best, run hard, play hard or fight hard, whatever it may be and if he loses go down trying.

Last Thursday night a boy who has been known as a game, hard-hitting fighter and who all the gambling fraternity of Spring St. knew could outslug Oscar Baker, the bally-hooed hero of 21 (really only nine) knockouts tossed one more brick, not only in his way, but in the hard way of the colored fighter. When one colored man does something wrong there is a certain element of the other race who declare they're all alike, and it can readily be seen that those fake flops, and dives that Vic Alexander clumsily pulled at Culver City last week may be used by enemies of colored boxers to say they'll all sell out.



It is supposed Vic sold out, but if he did it was a sorry deal. He would have made much more getting the money in his hand than going out and knocking Baker for a row of ash cans before that packed and jammed arena of staring fight fans. Everybody on the inside bet on Baker, while poor fish on the outside bet on Vic for they knew Vic would win.

Meanwhile the rest of the boys will have to be careful and Vic can take the back seat that "laying down" earned him.

Lake Elsinore To Have 26 Mile Marathon Swim

The blanket challenge issued by Ernst Vierkoetter, German swimming ace, was accepted by David L. Cooley in behalf of Kyle Leonard, 24-year-old life guard of Long Beach, Cal.

Cooley says his new marathon will be held at Lake Elsinore, Cal., "where the water is not icy cold, but deep and ideal for swimming."

The bell bangs and the fight is on. The Wild-Cat start in ripping and tearing.

Score by Warfield Saves Hilldale Shut-Out in Winter League

The fact that it was "Lazzeri Day" and also that the series stood game-game, brought 9900 fans out to White Sox Park Sunday, October 23nd to see the second week-end struggle between Pirrone's Major and Minor League All-Stars and the Philadelphia Hilldale Giants.

Large delegations from Italian societies and clubs helped to swell the crowd in honor of their famous countryman of the N. Y. Giants. The band played some stirring music and the Italian National Hymn as the Italian Consul came from his flag-decorated box to present a huge bouquet of flowers and a handsome present to the smiling Tony Holland, the star pitcher from Brooklyn started off in good form but in the second inning the All-Stars made six for the eighers of the first session by tacking up two runs and three hits.

ROY WILLIAMS is attracting a lot of attention in his workouts at the Manhattan. He is the latest sensational entry into local boxing circles and has been brought from the East by manager Lipsey. Roy is one of the best colored boxers in the country.

MACK HOUSE—says he is dead in earnest now, no foolin'. He wants to win back his position in the knock-out trust.

• • •

LIGHTNING DAVIS—has developed into an aggressive fighter that will carry his next opponents off their feet and get them carried out of the ring. Some name! Some boy!

• • •

SAMMY MANDELL—is about to "get the air" for failure to defend his crown according to late reports.

"PA STRIBLING'S boy, Young Stribling goxes Harry Dillon at Portland, November 1.

TIGER FLOWERS—was deeply grieved over the accident in which his car hurt a child last week. A gentleman like the recognized middleweight champion would rather be hurt himself than hurt anyone.

• • •

SANTIAGO ZORILLA—and his hard socking little stablemate Amador, both pulled impressive wins in the past two weeks. They are both an honor to Panama and their proud pilot Wirt Ross.

• • •

GENE TUNNEY—craved a lot of social equality when tottering old Harry Wills could have helped him by giving him a fight. Now he glances up from his "Bull"-ological studies to say in perfect grammar, "After extended comprehension and exhaustive contemplation of the Negro Nationalities I presume to exercise to their composite supremacy, my autocratic perogatives and privileges by not recognizing any Senegambian contenders."

In other words, "he ain't goin' to fight no "Black opes," an' he don' mean maybe."

CLYDE COLVIN—has been offered a trip to Australia. Charley Long has just returned bringing plenty of "Jack." A hard-socking, game fighter like Calvin ought to make good over there.

CHARLEY RANDOLPH—the referee, has always stood high in our estimation. We christened him "Chuck 'Em Charlie" because he seemed to frown on stalling. Now we learn to our sorrow that he hates everything black, especially black fighters, and a friend of his tells it. Is that true, Charlie?

WILLIE HENRY—has been changed from a south paw to a right hander, so writes his manager, Pat Elsey, from Galveston. He was just too good for the Coast light heavyweights when out here last Spring. Now, as a double hander, he will be very lonesome when he arrives next month.

• • •

JIMMY HARRISON—is picking up more speed every day. Cherokee Tom Cox can talk for hours in praise of him.

• • •

BABY JOE GANS—may not have looked so impressive in his win over Payan at San Diego last week so they say but any way he won' and that's that. He will beat Joe Rivers too.

• • •

CLYDE COLVIN—is not getting near the fights he deserves. Now, there's a boy will smear Oscar Baker over the scenery if they meet.

• • •

JAKE KILRAIN—got a draw verdict in Denver with Arno. That means he won. Referees there are like some here, they have the "yangeritis."

• • •

LIGHTNING DAVIS—has been working out every day, with Jackie Fields to train him for his fight at Wrigley Field. Each bout looked more like a fight though than a workout and Fields always knew he had been in a scrap.

THE BLACK SPORT WORLD THROUGH THE EYES OF ART HAMILTON

Keeping tob on the leading football teams of the country, this week, we again run into a great number of surprise packages given us by these said leaders.

The big upsets of the past week are as follows: Yale twisted the Army's mule tail, defeating the West Point men by the score of 10 to 6. Old Eli gained sweet revenge for the disastrous game of last year, when the future second Lts. beat them 33 to 0. Caldwell was the starring ace in the backfield for Yale, while Cagle and Wilson drew the honors for the Army.

Chicago, coached by Daddy Stagg, defeated Penn 13 to 7. The Chicago men were primed for this battle because this makes the first win the windy city can boast over Penn. Over a period of twenty-nine years the teams have met six times and Chicago has always been on the bottom except for one game which was a tie.

Yale and Princeton in the Big Three were victorious. Princeton won from Cornell 21 to 10. Yale beat the Army 10 to 6, but Harvard went down to defeat at the hands of Dartmouth 30 to 0.

Purdue seems headed for the ash can, Wisconsin smothered them 12 to 6.

Michigan took Ohio State 21 to 0 with Bennie Oosterbaan, all American end and captain, droppeing three times to pass for the touchdown.

The Nevy men had an easy day schellacking Duke University to the tune of 32 to 6.

Notre Dame beat Indiana 19 to 6. Christy Flannagan, last year's All American, starred. When Flanagan was out, Nemic carried on for the Catholic boys.

The leading Pacific coast teams had an easy day of it Saturday. Stanford pulled a dazzling attack to smother the Oregon Aggies; 21 to 6.

The Golden Bears sharpened their claws for the U. S. C. game by sending the Olympic Club of San Francisco down to a stunning 21 to 0 defeat. Price used his reserves for this game showing that he has a sub for every position as good or better than his regulars.

Washington State was beaten 14 to 0 by the Huskies, this defeat taking the mout of the Conference race.

The Trojans had a field day at the Coliseum Saturday defeating Calter 51 to 0. Every regular and reseve was thrown into the game except Dury. Dury is being rested for the big game with the men from Berkeley.

The leading contenders for the Pacific Coast Conference title this year are: The Huskies from Washington, the Golden Bears from Berkeley, the Cardinals from Stanford, and the Trojans from the Angel City.

I pick California to win the Conference.

Let's talk Junior College football for a while.

Pasadena J. C. conceded the leading team for the J. C. Conference title met defeat at the hands of the San Bernardino J. C., 12 to 6. Berdoo had drilled to stop Slicker Stocks, flashy colored halfback of the Pirates, and they stopped him. Slicker saw he could not gain by carrying the ball so he passed accurately thrown spirals. Pasadena scored first on the kick-off Arnold receiving the ball and then worked the criss-cross by handing the ball to a team mate who ran for the touchdown. They failed to convert. The Pirates came near tying the score in the last quarter when Stocks threw a long pass to Arnold, Pasadena quarterback, but Arnold caught it out of bounds and the ball was called back. The final whistle found the teams battling in midfield.

* * *

On Saturday, Dick Donald, Tex Rickard of the West, stages his boxing classic. Donald presents Joe Dundee, welterweight champ, against Ace Hudkins, his foremost challenger.

I have always looked for a Hudkins victory in any of the wild-cat's former battles, but this time when I hear the final report of the outcome of the the final report of the outcome of the retains his title.

I see by Damon Runyon that there is a new black menace on the horizon, other than George Godfrey, in the person of Jake Warren. Warren's manager claims that his protege can take the Shadow. Talk is cheap. The only way to prove it is to match the boys and let them go to it.

That reminds me. Godfrey is matched with Leo Gates giant Indian for a bout Thursday night in the East.

Signing off.

Heard at 12th and Central: "Lincoln Bound."

WARFIELD SCORES

Classy stick work by Pirrone's men held the Giants to a shut-out up until the 9th innng when Dixon made a 2-base hit which was in reality a triple, but he was called back by the umpire.

One of the reasons for the defeat suffered by the Giants was poor catching by Burnett but who too late was replaced in the last inning by Pullen. Mackey, Hubbard and Carr, all did good batting. Carr, Dixon and Mackey being on bases when the game closed.

Meusel and Laserri are playing their last game of the season, next Sunday in accordance with the new ruling on professional baseball players. A deal of amusement was accorded the spectators by a clown carried by the All-Stars who juggles, dances, sings and executes various other antics between inhings. Considerable interest too was centered on the box where sat Vic Alexander, the colored heavyweight boxer who laid down to Osiar Baker at Culver City last Thursday night causing wholesale suspensions and controversy by the Commission.

The same teams play next Sunday, October 30th and with growing interest an equally large crowd is expected.

The box score follows:

La Premiers Receive Severe Drubbing at the Hands of Powerful Orange and Black Eleven

The N. N. B's, whirlwind football team is all that they said it was only they didn't say enough. If there were any doubts on the subject they were effectually dispelled Sunday afternoon on the Manual Arts High School gridiron, at the expense of the desperate but fighting Premier Eleven. The final count was 31-6 in favor of the orange-shirted men that represent the N. N. B. team. The score might as well have been 100-0 so far as the La Premiers were concerned, because the Premiers never had a chance.

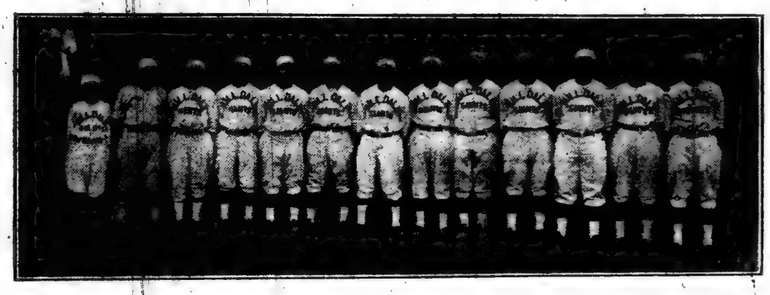
Three of the greatest running backs seen on the local gridiron flashed at the head of the powerful N. N. B. eleven. "Warpie" Dade, "Runt" Boyce and "Greasie" Townes, displayed a running attack that is seldom seen in these parts. The line plunging of "Bode" Benjamin was one of the high-lights of the game. Time and time again Benjamin hit tackle for large gains.

The fireworks started when the N. N. B. received the ball and was penalized five yards for too much time. On the next play Johnson fumbled and the ball was recovered by Jones of the La Premiers on the N. N. B's ten-yard line. It was La Premiers' ball, first down and 10 to go, and on the next play a pass from Carey to Jones netted them a touch-down, but they failed to convert and the score was 6-0 in favor of La Premiers after 3 minutes of playing, but from then on they were unable to penetrate the N. N. B's. defense for any substantial gain.

"Buck" Rosser playing right guard displayed some of the stuff that Brice Taylor made famous. "Buck" was a demon on defense and many times broke through the line to nab the Premiers back before they could get started. Allie Drisden, the big tackle and former Bakersfield star was one of the outstanding players of the game. Drisden is one of the fastest big men who is playing today. Too much cannot be said about this boy for he is a real football player and could make any Varsity in the State. "Ponzo" Allen, an end is the classiest boy to be seen this year. Out of four passes he completed three. One which resulted in a touchdown and the other two for a twenty-yard gain. All in all every man in the team played jam-up football.

In defeat some of the Premiers stood out like the Lindberg beacon. Especially "Chuck" Jones, he was all over the field knocking down passes and spilling interference. Jones is a bear at snagging passes. Charley is a clear cut chap and plays a clean game.

"Slippery" Carey played a fine brand of ball at full. He displayed the stuff that has made "Bull" Edelson famous. Carey is a real ball toter and can smack the old line for gains any old time. Carey was tackled by Rossen and the impact was so solid that Carey suffered a fractured collar bone.



"Chuck" Hunter, acting as pilot did credit to himself and his team. Chas. is a demon at grabbing the old pigskin out of the air and was a constant threat.

"Brains" Goodwin, subing at quarter was another Premier who played a swell game. Goodwin is a former Wilberforce man. He is the smallest man on the team but he is also a dangerous small man. He runs interference like a veteran. All the boys show up well.

Next week the Wilshire Olympic will try to stop the onslaught of the powerful Orange and Black team. The game will be played at Jefferson High, at 2:30 P. M.

Metro Goldwyn Mayer Studio Takes Lead in Presenting The Higher Type of Colored Characters in Dignified Roles and Played by the Most Advanced Extra Talent

This studio is busy making under the very able direction of Mr. TOD BROWNING, the picture entitled "THE BIG CITY". The star of the picture is our popular friend, Mr. Lon Chaney with Betty Compson. This picture besides being a very interesting story, is of added significance to our people. In this, they will have the opportunity to see themselves advertised as they really are; they will not have to be content with seeing themselves pictured as the ludicrous, or hideous, or the to be anticipated, buffoon.

There will be shown scenes, with ample footage, fashionable people of New York society. We will have the pleasure of seeing how our folk live and dress in the big Eastern cities. In the colored scene taken in the heart of Harlem, there are views of our people in finery and manners, never before screened before an American audience.

When it is said, and added significance, the phrase means all it suggests. This will have a tendency to show people in some of the isolated, or, backward portions of the country that the colored man does live, exist and have being, precisely as the white man; that he is actually a part and parcel of the American Republic, and perhaps, have the effect needed to convince certain writers and directors that he should be given fair representation as such, before the camera.

Picture in your minds an interior of a cabaret. Now, a very beautiful one. Then imagine such a cabaret filled with people fashionably gowned women and tuxedoed men. Add a red hot orchestra, plus a dazzling revue of high-brown babies, charming entertainers singing the blues and fast stepping papas doing the black bottom. Now, mix in mirth, girations, and all the other light heartedness associated with a live cabaret crowd. There you have it! Now, isn't this class? Old timers in the picture racket declare this picture to be the most significant with the most far-reaching effect ever produced on the screen.

After viewing one or two thousand machines and several thousand paid admission spectators at the ball game Sunday we wonder if the colored boys can attract a crowd like that and play the brand they dished up, why organized baseball has not noticed their value as a financial attraction and taken down the barrier. At least a world's series between them would be a scream, and the financial end a world beater. Some day organized baseball is going to find out that they have been overlooking a thing or two.

The Blodgett Motor Car Co. promises to be a real automobile agency. Charlie Blodgett never heads a failure and the Hudson-Essex is not a bad line. Success to the new enterprise.

THE NEW MOTOR VEHICLE LAWS

Important among the changes effective in the California Vehicle Act by the recent amendments is that which has to do with the reporting of accident.

The legal deparment of the National Automobile Club lays particular stress on section 142 of the vehicle act as revised. This section has been rewritten and under it, the driver of any vehicle involved in an accident resulting in injuries or death to any person, must report to the police headquarters within 24 hours if the accident occurs within an incorporated city or town When such an accident takes place in an unincorporated territory, the report must be forwarded to the Division of Motor Vehicles. These reports are made compulsory by the new law.

What this means, then, is that when there is an automobile accident within the city limits of a town or city and one or more persons are seriously or fatally injured, a report must be taken to the police station of that town or city.

Details of the report should include the time and place of the accident; so far as possible, the names and addresses of all persons involved, and any details which may have a bearing on the case. The police department will forward the report, or a copy of it, to the division.

Reports of accdents which take place outside of any city limits should be forwarded at once to the division. Offices of the division are maintained at Sacramento and at other large towns in California.

Supplementary reports and reports from witnesses of accidents may be required by the division. Accident report forms calling for necessary details may be supplied by the division to police and sheriff offices and to other suitable agencies.

Purposes of this law, are to prevent the "covering up" of accidents, and to allow the division to keep a record of highway accidents. This record will be tabulated and analyzed and from time to time information will be published based upon the statistical information gained from the reports.

Another part of the section provides that such accident reports will not be admissible as evidence in any trial which might arise out of any accident, except as evidence that the report has been made in compliance with the law.

If a serious accident occurs, the motorists' duty is to report it or see that it is reported to the proper authorities as soon as possible after it takes place. Violation of this law is a misdemeanor. It is to the advantage of every motorist to obey this law.

1927 Record Year For Park Visitors

That 1927 will be a record year for the National Parks is shown by recent reports from those areas which indicate a 30 per cent gain or more in the number of visiting tourists and automobiles this year.

In 1926 the total number of visitors in National Parks was 1,930,865, while 406,248 automobiles entered the parks for a 9½ per cent gain over 1925.

Four-Wheel Brakes Don't Prevent 'Pivot'

Motorists should not think that four-wheel brakes have made it impossible for an automobile to "pivot," the engineer's term for skidding around. Such brakes have made "pivoting" somewhat slower than the two-wheel brakes did, but it does not pay assume that the latest brakes have stopped the process altogether, according to the Service Department of the National Automobile Club.

MANY SCHOOL CHILDREN SLAIN BY AUTO

Sacramento, Oct. 18.—Aroused over records showing that more than a score of school children were killed or injured by careless autoists during the first two weeks of the new school term, Frank G. Snook, chief of the State Division of Motor Vehicles, todays took steps to eliminate the menace.

Orders were issued to all traffic officers to arrest any motorists driving past a schoolhouse where children either are entering or leaving, faster than fifeen miles per hour. The officers have been instructed to charge all persons arrested with reckless driving. Snook issued his order under authority of Section 113-B of the Motor Vehicle Act, which prohibits a speed in excess of fifteen miles per hour in the vicinity of a school where children are entering or leaving.

"The best way to avoid hitting children," declared Snook, "is to keep your speed down. Watch carefully at intersections and between parked cars. Children are liable to dodge out at any moment on their way to and from school. Remember your hurry to get to your destination may rob someone of a loved one."

Snook also released figures today showing that joyriders, "petters," "cuddlers," etc, were reported for 85 per cent of the automobiles stolen in California last year.

"Lovelorn swains might of pocketbook, but long on nerve," said Snook," "appropriated 18,115 automobiles during the year, in order that flaming youth might have its fling. In about 90 per cent of the cases the cars were recovered ,minus a few accessories."

During the year which ended June 30, last, 22,644 cars were stolen in California, as compared with 26,402 for the previous year.

Exhaust Gas Proven Harmless to Trees

Sometime ago there was a great clamor to the effect that trees in Central Park, New York, were being gradually destroyed by the fumes from automobile exhausts. But along came a famous and well-regarded tree doctor and made an inspection. After looking into the matter thoroughly, the doctor decided that a small microscopic spider was causing the defoliation and that carbon monoxide from care exhausts had nothing whatever to do with the condition of the trees.

Now motoring is going on as usual in the Central Park district, and a fight is being waged against the little spider that caused all the trouble.

Who said the Woodmen couldn't do it? Well we are doing it. Join now for $4.00. That includes everything. See us today. 1400 Central Avenue. Phone WEstmore 3479.

Uneven Brakes May cause skids

If there is the slightest unevenness in the brakes, use them cautiously in turning a corner when the streets are wet and slippery. Unequal brakes encourage the wheels to skid. It is best to slow up before starting to make the turn, according to the National Automobile Club.

Experiments Show Brake Lining Need

Experiments at the United States Bureau of Standards indicate that motordom is a long way from an ideal material for brake linngs

The trouble seems to be that linings are not able to stand up without a saturant and that the saturant is responsible for he wide variation of efficiency. At the moment a large measure of the greater success with brakes is due to better systems rather than to better linings.

Two States Adopt National Auto Laws

Both North Carolina and North Dakota have recently passed automobile laws based on the principles established at National traffic conferences.

These laws concern driving rules, registration of cars, weight, supervision of trucks, and restrictions as to lights, tires, brakes, horns, mirrors and mufflers.

A. NOEL IS ELECTED DELEGATE TO GRAND LODGE BY A LARGE MAJORITY

Well! That's that. The honorable A. Noel went over the top in no uncertain manner in the final results of the P. P. B. A. election. The distinguished gentleman who was supposed to give the son of Watts a hard run came out third, with L. A. Coffin in second place, and inasmuch as this is not a horse race, we cannot concede 2nd and 3rd place as in the money. Mr. R. J. Murray has proven that the men have faith in his jurisdiction and policies for local No. 1 by polling a vote of 127, his closest rival getting 39. The election brings out one point—that being a scarcity of leadership material, looking over the names of those who were elected, and those who were nominated in the primaries we find the same old gang who has controlled P. P. B. A. affairs for years in this district. Although we make a big fuss each year in electing officers and a still bigger fuss in electing a Grand Delegate, what good does it do? It means nothing more than picking out some porter and giving him a vacation to Chicago, where he is wined and dined by the Honorable Perry Parker and associates, and then sent home with a brief case of the minutes of the sessions, which amount to about the same thing every year. When our delegate can return and announce to the members of this local that he has succeeded in getting the five-day clause eliminated; one fee for every body regardless of his age; no excess charge to the man that leaves the service; J. W. Botts removed from office—THEN, and NOT UNTIL THEN, will we consider the Hon. Delegate's mission something other than a vacation. The writer is not making this statement as a slam to Mr. A. Noel, he has a perfect right to get that vacation to Chicago as Mr. Coffin or Mr. Simms, or Mr. Charley Levy has got, and we cannot blame him, the poor fellow has been working hard this summer and he needs a rest. Too bad the P. P. B. A. couldn't be made to send our Delegate back the same way Will Rodgers went to New York the other day. There should be by this time enough interest accumulated to defray his expenses in style. We wish him success and hope he will not have to work his way back on a tourist car to mar his vacation. But please come by and get that black-jack.

MR. AND MRS. Wm. WHITE CELEBRATE WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Looking over our social etiquette book we find that after one has been married for the period of one year, he is thereby permitted to give a wedding anniversary in honor of the event. Not that it is such a great accomplishment to live harmoniously that long, other people have been known to do much worst. However, we find that your reward for the accomplishment is paper. I do not know why it should be paper other than perhaps during the first year period you are traveling on very thin ice. But such is the case. Last week Mr. and Mrs. Wm. White entertained the following guests in their newly furnished home on West 35th Pl.: Mrs. M. Seay; Mrs. William Grant; Mr. and Mrs. Summie; Mrs. Sallie Turner; Mr. and Mrs. Geared Barnum; Mr. and Mrs. William A. Turner; Mr. and Mrs. O. Lee Harrison; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd, Mr. and Mrs. Martin; Mr. and Mrs. John J. Worthen; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Joyce; Mr. and Mrs. L. Luke; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Skinner; Mrs. Wood; Mr. and Mrs. James Stasher; Mr. William Stovall and sisters; Mr. and Mrs. Sarah Turner; Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Le Herrisont; Mr. and Mrs. Hall; Mr. and Mrs. Fleming; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Jones; Mr. and Mrs. Big Bee; Mr. and Mrs. Henderson and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. L. Upton.

The house was beautifully decorated and refreshments were served by a bevy of school girls.

PORTERS LEAVE ON BANKERS SPECIAL

Last week the Kings of Finance boarded a palatial special train en route to Houston where they will attend their annual convention. The following crack Los Angeles Porters were in charge of Pullman service de luxe and were planning on having a wonderful time along with the bankers after they landed in Houston: J. W. Bush; Willie King; W. Carter; E. Woods; H. Crouch and A. Franklin.

The writer sincerely hopes that the boys will leave their Western ways and habits in Los Angeles when they arrive in Houston, then he will not have to report any casualties.

KINGS ARE HIGH

Last week a little drama was enacted by the following porters: W. King; L. High and J. E. King, and this is the way it happened. Willie King was bumped, so he in turn bumped L. High from the Fresno run. Mr. L. High looked the ground over and bumped Mr. J. E. King from his soft spot on the San Diego tourist car, breaking up that red hot combination of King and Daddy Jack. From now on the Hon. J. E. King will buck the extra board—So Kings are High.

MR. A. SEESE, SUPT. PULLMAN CO., CHICAGO, VISITS BROTHER IN SAN DIEGO

The writer was sitting on his trusty camp stool on the vestibule platform last week wondering how many bites it was going to get to the square inch on the mug that was coming in his direction by easy stages, he was surprised to see his former Supt. Mr. A. Seese of Chicago board his car. Mr. Seese has a brother in San Diego, whom he makes it a point to visit every year.

PILLOW SLIPS

Walter Lyons made a flying trip from San Diego to Los Angeles last week on business.

Mr. Blossom, Claim Agent for the Western zone made a trip on the San Diego Owl last week.

J. Carter is still holding down the Lark, and is showing them old birds how to railroad.

Maid B. Marshall has returned to work after a short leave of absence, during which time she visited San Francisco.

Maid Tennie Upton returned to work after a leave of absence of one month.

G. W. Bethea is still running up the Valley although he is looking at his former run to Seattle with tears in his eyes. Must be some attraction up that way.

Mrs. J. A. Worthen has fully recovered from the auto acident she was in a few weeks ago.

C. Smith is still running up to San Francisco and bringing his paper bag home full of provisions each week. One thing our friend Smith will do, and that is eat.

Dan Hood has been having a wonderful time on these elections.

J. D. Banton must have a wonderful time going to Fresno, and then to Calexico. Wonder why they don't make him make a trip to San Diego too.

They tell me Banton has fallen heir to a new car. Hot Dog!

Somebody said that J. Ponder is going to join the Aviators' Club.

Harry Levette is some sheik! Last Tuesday he was seen in a big closed Studebaker gliding down Central Ave. and he was not by himself, either.

UNION PACIFIC GOSSIP

By: J. R.

As the tourist season is nearing its end she boys are beginning to say, "It won't be long, now!" Some of the gang that have worked untiringly during the hot summer days and are very much in need of the much needed rest are already completing their plans to separate the nickels from the dimes on a vacation—Elsinore, Watts, Central Avenue and other resorts seem to be the destination of some.

• • •

Here and There

Ed. Grice, waiter on Diner No. 4017 is scheduled to take the marriage vow Christmas Day, we are very glad indeed to see the spirit being manifested by the boys; this is the third to go on record this year.

An antique joke was played on O. Alexander of Diner No. 4017. A purse stuffed full of paper was placed under his table and of course he fell for it. Some joke! Some fun!

Waiters should inform their wives that they are purchasing their groceries from the corner grocery for fear that friend hubby may cause little wifey's temper to hit on all six and the results may be that she may ring the man and tell him that you are bringing Mr. P. Union's stuff home.

California Jack was a visitor this week from the Pacific Coast Club at Long Beach. Jack says that one day out of every six in L. A. is just enough for him.

• • •

They Say:

That—Clifton Johnson contemplates taking a trip during the holidays (No, Cupid is not going to accompany him).

That—One of our maids (formerly of the Santa Fe) was taken off the "Gold Coast" at Barstow, California for giving out Baker Heater information as to taking the "De Luxe" off. (We did not know that they could do this—Can they?)

That—Charlie McKinney says that he has found the hardest job in the world—trying to convince Willie Billups that Finnan Haddie is kept in all pantries on the P. Union.

That—Robert Upshaw's only method to successfully bump anyone is to alibi to the man.

Chicago After Dark

Allan Williams was compelled to remain in Chicago owing to a swell jaw. Although Allan hit the South Side broke, but at this writing he is really getting service. Allan, the boys want to know how you struck the right key at the right time.

Doc. Madison and Sherman Brouton, formerly in service out of Omaha, are confined in the hospital in Chicago. It is with regret that this news comes to the many friends of these boys. The Gossip wishes for them a speedy recovery.

The Chicago Evening American, under date of October 18th, says that "Coast Trains May Cut Time." A conference of officials of the Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Rock Island and Santa Fe are in conference as to maintaining a 63-hour schedule to Chicago, or probably less.

TENNIS CHATTER

BY: JAMES S. HARRIS, JR.

All of ye skillets, pots and pans, of subordinate clubs: no, don't line up, but hear thou me. It is imperative that ye of this nobility eatest a gang of tomatoes and beans and coughest up those ducats that you owest this body, the W. F. E. C., in annual dues and tournament tar. Ye knowest just who thou art, so it won't be necessary for the writer to enumerate ye. This matter of being unfinancial on the parts of some of the clubs was deferred last meeting, when the period of grace really was up, until the next regular monthly meeting, which is November 2nd, precisely at 8 P. M., so in view of this fact govern yourselves accordingly.

Plans for Thanksgiving Tourney to be Formulated

Ye champions and enthusiastic racquet wielders, you will obtain a chance to demonstrate your ability in all probability Thanksgiving Day. It is rumored that one of the subordinate clubs is going to obtain permission from this body at its next meeting to hold the Annual County Tennis Championship Matches which was so successfully held last year by the Crown City Tennis Club of Pasadena. From the looks of the number of "Sheiks", "Shebas" and real cat-gut swingers seen on the court recently by the writer this tourney should be a "corker." Full details later. The 1928 Rankings will be out soon, so watch for them.

TANNER RESIGNS DETROIT CHARGE

(Special wire from Detroit, Nov. 1, 1927.) As a result of the tremendous protest of the members of the big A. M. E. Church against the appointment of Dr. C. H. Tanner, the resignation of the distinguished prelate was offered and accepted amid the greatest excitement ever staged in a church controversy.

At Sunday morning service the Bishop, Rt. Rev. W. T. Vernon was accompanied to the pulpit by the police, notwithstanding the fact that no disturbance of any kind has been manifest since the fight began. Therefore he was sung out and was unable to speak a word. As the church receded the Bishop has put the matter in court. The case is still pending, the members are determined to get a square deal or else.

YOUNG PEOPLES DAY AT LINCOLN MEMORIAL

Young Peoples' Day at Lincoln Memorial Congregational Church last Sunday, October 30, went over big with a large and appreciative audience at both services. Mrs. A. Hill, president of the Phys-Art-Lit-Mor Club, is supervisor of the young people. Miss Cornelia Edwards acted as Mistress of Ceremonies.

A splendid address was given in the morning service by Frank Bowdan and it was enjoyed by all.

At the evening service, a musical program was rendered. Some of the feature numbers were Miss Naida McCullough and Miss Winona Winder, instrumental solos; Misses Mae Turner and Antoinette Gamble, vocal solos.

Miss Vesta Edwards, president of the Young Peoples' League, gave the welcoming address. The excellent speaker for the evening was Miss Helen Wheeler, recent graduate from U. S. C.

The entire services throughout the day were good and the "Day" really went over the top. Mrs. A. Hill is given much credit for the success of the affair.

Rev. I. Albert Moore, Pastor 1st A. M. E. Zion Church

All Los Angeles indeed were pleased when it was announced that Rev. I. Albert Moore had been returned to Zion church for another year, for during the period of his pastorate here, he has indeavored himself to all who have come in contact with him. His high Christian character and keen interest in every movement which stands for the advancement of all peoples has indeed caused him to become a distinct and outstanding asset to this community.

Under his leadership Zion church has took its rightful place and is growing in popularity every day. The "Soaring Eagle" with a discerning eye places him high up amongst the churchmen of our group. We have ever found him sympathetic and ready to assist in all causes which stand for a real and lasting progress and we hesitate not in giving due credit to a man who has come into our midst as Rev. Moore and who has brought things to pass and we predict for him a greater success for the coming year of his pastorate.

All streets lead to Beth Eden, Tuesday, November 8th to the Big Education Community Meeting. Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, president of Los Angeles City Schools, principal speaker.

Madam Murdock, Miss Anna Mae Griffith, Miss Nadia McCullough, Miss Thelma D. Brown and others will appear on the evening's program. Mrs. Senoia Maxwell Reeves, supervisor of Los Angeles City Schools will be the mistress of ceremonies and introduce speaker.

There is no admission. Big Educational Night, at Beth Eden, Tuesday, November 8th.

Negro Pastor Gets 1 to 10 Years for Shooting

Sentence of one to ten years in San Quentin prison was pronounced today on the Rev. William R. Hardy, Negro, who was convicted several days ago of manslaughter in connection with the fatal shooting July 14 of Y. Dianty, Negro bootblack.

The sentence was passed by Judge James H. Pope of the Long Beach branch of the Superior Court, Thursday, October 27th, after he had denied the motion of Attorney K. L. Perky, former United States Senator from Utah, who defended Hardy, for a motion for a new trial. Perky announced that an appeal to the California Supreme Court would be made immediately on the ground of error in the Court's instructions to the jury.

Announcement of appeal will cause a stay in execution of the sentence. Meanwhile Hardy is confined in the County Jail.

The courtroom was packed, mostly by Negroes.

The fatal shooting of Dianty occurred in California Street. Hardy asserted he shot Dainty in self defense. Evidence was brought to show that at least one of the shots was fired when Dainty was running and Hardy was chasing him.—from Press Telegram, Long Beach.

Negro Woman Hits White Woman in Alabama and Lives

(By: A. N. P.)

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 1.—Miss Ethel C. Adams was given a fine of $50 and costs and a sentence of thirty days in jail for slapping Irene Whcaton, a white woman, who is alleged to have attempted to push the colored woman off the sidewalk.

The two women met on the street, and it is reported in attempting to pass each other, the white woman grabbed Miss Adams and tried to throw her off of the sidewalk. Miss Adams pulled away from the white woman and slapped her face. Officers were summoned immediately and Miss Adams was placed under arrest and the white woman was permitted to go free, as usual.

Aviation Day at Forum Sunday Notable Affair

Those who missed going to the Forum on last Sunday missed a rare treat indeed. For the program presented by the program committee on Aviation was indeed a rare treat.

The same was presented by J. B. Bass in the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Lula Slaughter. Mr. Otis Ward who scaled the heights of the Sierra Nevada mountain range as the mechanic for Ace Foreman on his attempted trans-continental flight to New York and who is striving to accomplish things on behalf of aviation for the group was the first speaker and gave a narrative of the trip with Foreman and by his droll humor and interesting descriptions entertained his hearers to the highest degree. In fact Ward stole the show.

Captain Tuggles of the Vernon Aero Club was the next speaker and gave in detail the advantages and opportunities for those of our group who would qualify themselves as aviators. Mr. H. Wells was the next speaker and gave his endorsement to the movement to create and qualify our young men to master the air.

It was one big day and Aviation received a big boost as the result of Sunday's meeting. The class of fifty is being rapidly recruited and those who are ambitious will do well to get in touch with Mr. Wells or Mr. Ward at the Y. W. C. A. on E. 12th St.

SANTA MONICA CEMETERY MAKES MOVE TOWARD SEGREGATION

The entire Negro population of the Bay District is indignant over what is suspected as being an attempt to segregate them in the Woodlawn cemetery.

It is alleged that certain city and cemetery officials have made the suggestion that Negroes have their bodies removed to a secluded and obscure section of the cemetery.

Suspicion was first aroused when Mrs. Althea Braye, widow of the late J. Goodman Braye, actor and playwright was notified that the expensive tombstone in which her dead husbands picture was engraved had been annihilated.

Previous to this event, a Mrs. V. Ross (white) had her daughter's body removed on discovering that Mr. Braye was colored. Another white family by the name of Heinkle followed Mrs. Ross's example. Mrs. Braye has been asked by the cemetery superintendent to remove Mr. Braye's body from that section of the cemetery which of course, she refuses to do.

A number of prominent white citizens of Santa Monica are behind another move at discrimination in the Boy Scout Troop which heretofore has been a mixed group. —E.R.H.

Former Houston Physician Opens Office in Los Angeles

Dr. Jackson has been practicing 21 years and has spetialized in Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat for 16 years. However, he will not treat these diseases exclusively, but will devote his time as well to genral office treatments and surgery.

Eyes scientifically examined and glasses accurately fitted. Office phone, TUcker 4875; residence phone, HUbbell 2127; 4914 Naomi Street.

LIVELY TIMES, SO IT IS SAID

There were lively times, so it is said, out on E. 49th Street in the 900 block on last Tuesday evening when Mrs. Henrietta E. Johnson surprised her husband while visiting another lady in a convivial drinking party. It is further said the last seen of Mrs. Johnson's better half he had all his clothes and was walking and talking to to himself.

Philadelphia Winners Entertained by Wanamaker Store

(By: A. N. P.)

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 2.—The Robert Curtis Ogden Chorus and Band of the Wanamaker Store held a dinner and reception in honor of the successful Philadelphia Entrants in the National Negro Musicians' Contest for the Rodman Wanamaker Musical Composition, on Friday evening. The dinner was held at six o'clock, the public reception being given at eight o'clock. The successful contestants had been awarded the prizes at the recent convention of the National Negro Musicians in St. Louis, Mo.

The affair was well attended and was a marked success throughout. Practically all of musical Philadelphia was in attendance.

Aside from the reception and dinner tendered to the successful contestants, the home-coming of the director of the Robert Curtis Ogden Chorus, Mr. Fred Cardin. Mr. Cardin has just returned to this country after an absence of two months spent in studying at Fountain Blau (just outside of Paris) where he had a scholarship.

The contestants, Mr. Cardin, Miss Marion Anderson, and Hon. Edward W. Henry were guests of honor, and were each presented to the large audience amid rounds and rounds of applause.

Mr. Vernon Cuffee directed the band. John W. Lowe is president of the Robert Curtis Ogden Association, and Major J. Harry Scoggins is president of the chorus.

High-Wade Nuptials Solemnized at Early Mass

Thursday morning at seven o'clock Miss Luella High and Mr. Gonza J. Wade were united in holy wedlock by Father Edmund Schlecht at a nuptial mass in St. Odelia's new chapel.

Accompanied to the altar by her brother, Mr. Walter High, the bride was radiantly charming in a gown of white satin and lace, featuring the uneven hem-line, banded with pearls and rhinestones. The artistically arranged wreath and veil did much to enhance her loveliness and she carried a bouquet of bride's roses, lace and tulle. Miss Rubeline Glover, maid-of-honor, was engagingly attractive in a dress of rose crepe, piped in black, and picture hat of black velvet. She carred a bouquet of pink sweet peas and ferns.

Mr. Wade was attended by Mr. Henry Moore, and both appeared in the conventional frock coat and striped trousers.

After many the bridal party enjoyed a delicious breakfast given by Mr. T. Hyde Wade at the home of Mrs. Seneve Jones on 42nd St. Those in the party other than the bride and groom were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Moore, Miss Glover and Mr. and Mrs. T. Hyde Wade.

The Lincoln Theatre

Perhaps one of the most beautiful show houses of its kind in the city, the Lincoln Theatre portrays everything one would term the last word in playhouses. The exquisite architecture and general appearance of the house is given its finishing touch by the two beautiful paintings of Abrahm Lincoln and Booker T. Washington that adorn its walls.

On entering and having been comfortably seated, one's attention is drawn to the attractive group of mulatto and octoroon usherettes whom Mr. Curtis Carpentier has so carefully selected to direct the patrons and patronesses to their seats. With the large number of handsome dark girls to be found in the city one wonders why the ushers are not mixed with a little color.

The show itself can be termed only fair. Curtis Mosby's band a well balanced and gives the performers excellent support. Although ti jass selections are very good the writer was much disappointed in the eastern beauty chorus. Local talent that has been presented here from time to time could give this group a spirited contest for honors in beauty chorus dancing and singing. Mrs. Elizabeth W. Bruce who plays the massive Wurlitzer organ has an excellent opportunity to prove herself an excellent organist as well as the foremost colored organist of Los Angeles with such a remarkable instrument on which to display her ability. At present Mrs. Bruce does not appear to be thoroughly acquainted with the instrument before her. A good many organists whose training has been almost solely on church organs will find a great deal of difference in the theatre organ.

The present attendance at the Lincoln Theatre is not up to the standard. It is up to the show and to its management to change this state of affairs if it expects to receive the support of the large Negro population of the Angel City.

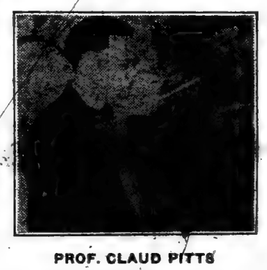
Men of Independent Church Win Honors For Efficiency

The great and progressive Independent church of which Rev. N. P. Gregg is the pastor has just concluded a unique contest for honors between the female vs the male communicants of the church. The efforts of both were commendatory to the highest degree. The contest was on points and the judgment was of general deportment and efficiency of the different Sunday services put on wholly first by the women and secondly by the men. After a careful and painstaking survey by five eminent persons chosen as judges for the occasion, the award was given to the men and the points were 97 for the women to 96 for the men. In every instance excepting the financial which was forty points alone the men shaded the women, which for finance, the womn raised eight hundred odd dollars to six hundred for the men in other words the women raised more than two hundred dollars more than men.

Bear in mind that each side was alert and made valiant efforts to excell, as a result the women on their day put over what was thought to be an unbeatable program, however on the very next Sunday the men came forth with demonstrated genius and swept everything before them. For instance they had the foresight to procure the versatile and erudite bishop of the A.M.E. Zion church, J. W. Martin to preach the morning sermon and the men's choir excelled. In the evening the slight male chorus featuring solos by M. Sloan and others and finally the court of justice swept the women away with all the pains and tears which they had created. However they were beaten but retained fight honors for their efforts and we verily believe that the next contest the verdict will be reversed.



The Temple of Justice presented by the men as well worthy of special mention and we are informed were the result of the labor of that virulent worker Geo. A. Beavers Jr. Mr. E. L. Thomas as judge for the occasion was a pleasing and inestimable jurist and acted his role to perfection.

Also the Mr. Coles as advocate performed his part and the pleas of Rev. E. L. Robinson for religion, Mr. S. P. Johnson, for industry, Mr. Norman Houston, for war, Mr. Johnson for Education and J. H. Shackleford for Fraternity were all great and presented one of the most dramatic and telling pleas which has ever been presented, all pattes to this spectacle are entitled to the highest praise for the parts which they portrayed.

Prof. Claude V. Pitts To Direct Big Choir

Leading Lyric Tenor of the Pacific Coast, Who Will be in Charge of the Great Choir of the Peoples Independent Church Sunday Morning

Prof. Claude V. Pitts was born, in Georgia, of parents who were humble but devout, reputable and of unquestioned integrity. They had none of this world's good with which to enrich him, but they gave him that which was, by far, more precious and priceless,—a strong physique, a pliable mind, an undaunted courage, an unconquerable ambition and a strong personality. He is, what the world calls, a self made man. Denied from his very birth, the luxuries, favors and indulgencies enjoyed by children of the well to do class, he has been forced to battle his way up from ignorance and out of obscurity. But he has not spent his valuable time bemoaning his fate, but, early in life, set about the task with a grim determination that has brought him through, with flying colors.

In 1915, he discovered the possibilities offered by his remarkable voice. He was accepted, as a pupil by Prof. Patric O'Neal, the leading tenor of the O'Brien Opera Co., of Ireland. Mr. O'Brien thought so well of the rising young star, that he used his great influence to have him introduced to the fans of radioland. Here, he made good, from the start and for a long time was in great demand on all programs broadcasted by the Evening Herald and also over K.F.J., to the great delight of all who listened in.

Mr. Pitts is, now, studying with Prof. Manuel Sanches DeLara, the director of the DeLara Co., who thinks so well of the ability of his distinguished pupil, that he has offered him room to teach in his studio.

He has sung, with telling effect, be-

N. A. A. C. P. NOTES

The Woman's auxiliary of the Los Angeles Branch is holding a special meeting Sunday November 6th for the purpose of devising plans by which the women can actively cooperate with the branch in carrying foward the work of the organization. In June we will have the annual meeting of the association; this will require a great deal of time and preparation. Los Angeles must so conduct this conference that it will be a credit to the City, to the West and to our group. The fight against residential segregation must be taken up anew. This meeting will be called at 4:30 and will not last longer than one hour. November 6th at 4:30 P. M. A.M.E. Zion Church, Pico and Paloma Streets.

The following Sunday Councilman Virgil A. Martin will address the association. THIS IS YOUR FIGHT.

ON THE SIDEWALK

By C. A. B.

THE passing of Florence Mills of National fame comes as a shock to the Nation. Her paradoxical ascendancy to stage fame attracted not only the attention of her own countrymen, but likewise the peoples of Europe.

Miss Mills who came to New York a few weeks ago from London, England passed away, Tuesday, November 1, at her home, 233 W. 132nd St., New York City, after undergoing an operation for appendicitis.

Some of the plays through which Miss Mills passed to fame were "The Black Bird Revue," "Dixie To Broadway," the original "Shuffle Along."

It is interesting to note that Mr. Sam Kramer, originator and builder of the new Lincoln Theater, first starred Miss Mills on her theatrical career at the Grand Theater at Chicago in the Panama Trio with Cora Green and Bricktops.

Producers were attracted by Miss Mills' singing and dancing and it was while she was featured in "From Dixie to Broadway," a successful musical comedy that she was given her chance to tour Europe and London heading that well-known "Blackbird Revue." She was abroad for over a year and while there, she won many admirers and friends.

Miss Mills was in her early twenties and her work had drawn much attention. In private life she was Mrs. U. S. Thompson, wife of the world-known eccentric dancer, better known as "Slowtime" Thompson. She leaves, besides her husband, a mother and sister, Maud Mills.

The race and stage mourn her loss.

THERE is room enough for all. I mean at the top of the ladder of success in whatever trade or profession you are engaged, and it is not necessary for you to decry the efforts of anyone in order to succeed.

"As one lamp light another no grows less," so says Longfellow.

Don't try to blow out the candle of someone who struggled when you were frolicking because of petty jealousies—get wise and light your candle from his; cease muttering, and go ahead for there is someone just back of you waiting to fill the place you now occupy.

THIS IS MY PRAYER

FATHER of Heaven and Earth and all that therein is,—
When the winds of adversity beat upon me thou gavest me shelter
When I had not food thou didst feed me,—
When friends were few thou raised up many.

AND oh! the long hours of groping in despair,
The time when nothing loomed on life's horizon, but fear,
How well—Oh! yes,
How well I remember that benighted Little corner to which I went to seek Thee in solitude.

TWAS there I prayed for success,—
Prayed that I might work and toil and build,
And now, O! Father, as I look out upon life's pathway—
I see success in the distance—
But there between me and my goal, trials pile up like hills grown into mountains
And I turn aside in fear—
So it's back to my little corner—
Back to my God of hope.

THIS week we are calling your attention to business sites lying between Washington and 22nd on our great Central Avenue. As we move along we find Negro business diminishing, not only in numbers but also in capacity and activity.

A. Pearl, Physician.

ACCORDING TO latest reports the whites of Santa Monica are attempting to segregate the Negro dead, to the Woodlawn Cemetery. The only other places where segregation has not been attempted are Hearts and Mars, and we fancy that as soon as Air Service is adequately established, the white race especially Anglo-Saxon will go there.

Well, Black Folk, let's step about playing in the white man's back yard, and in our subconscious minds build stately mansions that neither segregation nor 4th arm carriage

Sacramento News

By: Dorothy Van Slack

On Sunday last a gay party of Oaklanders motored up to Sacramento to spend the day with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Slaughter in their beautiful hospitable home at 2512 X Street. Needless to state that all had a wonderful time and loudly proclaimed Mr. and Mrs. Slaughter ideal hosts. Those making the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burrill, Mr. and Mrs. Barbera, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Long, Mrs. Maymie Clark, Mrs. S. B. Pankey, Mrs. Marian Pankey, Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Nell McClanahan of Los Angeles, Miss Gladys Pankey, Miss Ernestine Clark, Mr. Lenear Temple and Mr. Chas. Stone.

A Hallowe'en party and hike were enjoyed by a number of the young set Saturday, October 29th. The participants started hiking from thirty-fifth and first avenue to fifty-sixth and L streets and back to M street where the rest of the evening was spent in playing games, dancing, and etc.

Those present were Misses Dolores Prentice, Alberta Penn, Evelyn Kennedy, Norma Hughes, Margaret Terry, Marion Dunlap, Madeline Hughes, Dorothy Van Slack, Victoria Hale, Nellie Miller, Messrs. Willie Parker, W. D. Wilson, John Coleman, John Ware, John Irving, John Evans, Chester Wells, Eugene Pickett and Mrs. Hopkins.

The Modern Priscillas will hold their second initiation Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Geo. Dunlap. Those to be initiated are Anna Mae Forman and Alberta Penn. Also on November eleventh the Priscillas will have a dance and card party at South Side Club House, each member is to invite eight guest.

The Tausants will hold their initiation at the South Side Club house on November eighteenth. Those to be initiated are Marguerite Williams, Margaret Terry, Anna Mae Formen, Inez Conley, Winona Louis and Geraldine Elebeck.

The very generous Mrs. O. Hall motored the following to L. A. last week: Misses Ruth Hall, Anna Mae Formen, Messrs. Tommy Myles, Earl Lewis, Louis Rosser, and Guest Ricketts.

Byron Rumford, Todd Smith, Hovey Moore, John Irving and Thornton Betts spent the week end in the Bay District with their zoology class.

The purpose of their trip was to visit the zoological building and other buildings of natural science in Golden Gate Park.

STABS MAN WHO INSULTS SISTER

According to witnesses, Horn was standing on the corner of Thirty-second and State Streets and Daniels' sister passed. He addressed a word or two to her, but no one understood what that remark was, except Miss Daniels and Horn. A few minutes later Daniels appeared on the scene, directed a few remarks to Horn and a fight followed in which Horn was stabbed. Daniels made his escape after the cutting.

Electricity in Los Angeles

No. 7

The Mail Order House

Sears, Roebuck and Co.

MORE than 11,000,000 families throughout the country are served by the sixteen or more mail order and retail stores of Sears, Roebuck and Co.

Two of these great stores are in Los Angeles.

A $5,000,000 mail order and retail plant is located at Ninth Street and Boyle Avenue. It comprises basement, nine large floors, and six more stories in a massive tower—a total of 450,000 square feet of floor space.

A complete retail department store occupies the entire first floor. General offices and a cafeteria are on the second floor; while the upper floors and tower are devoted to the mail order activities and more offices.

The dependence of this great institution on efficient electrical service is apparent from the list of apparatus operated by electricity:

Passenger and freight elevators, belt package conveyors, air washing motors and ventilating system.

General clock system, annunciators, telephones, signal bells, autocall fire and watchmen's supervisor service.

Air compressors, water and oil pumps in Engine Room, pneumatic tube blowers, paper balers, floor scrubbing machines.

Adding machines, bookkeeping machines, money sorting and wrapping machines, cash registers, time stamp machines, addressographs, graphotypes, mimeographs, multigraphs, letter openers, stencil machines, stamping and pin ticket machines, shoe repairing and finishing machines, hat buffing machines.

Electric ranges, dish washers, bread and meat slicers, waffle irons, toasters, drink mixers, orange crushers, dough mixers—in the Kitchens.

Electric refrigeration; and electric equipment of many sorts in the Print Shop, Tailor Shop, Stock Rooms, Mailing Rooms, Carpenter and Plumbing Shops, and the Electrical Goods and Auto Supply Departments.

Batteries of 500-watt flood lights for illuminating the great tower and the store's free parking spaces.

Thousands of electric lamps for general and window lighting, of the most up-to-date type.

The Vermont and Slauson Avenue store of Sears, Roebuck and Co. is exclusively a retail department store, complete in every detail.

It is a two-story and tower building, comprising 78,000 square feet of floor space and employing 350 people,

Vermont and Slauson Avenue Store

Here, also, electricity is used to run hundreds of devices necessary to an institution of its kind.

Only the most reliable electric service would be satisfactory to a business of the character of Sears, Roebuck and Co.

Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation supplies the electric service to both of these great mercantile establishments in this city, and we deeply appreciate the approval of our service denoted by this fact.

BEAUTIFYING THE HOME AND YARD

(Requested by the California State Federation of Colored Women's Clubs).

Forestry Department

Whatever we do pertaining to our outdoor home surroundings, should be with the idea of making it beautiful and attractive. There is no excuse for a homely, unkept yard in this beautiful clime where things will grow the whole year around with a little attention and care. A homely yard can be converted into a thing of beauty. At any flower store you can obtain a book giving general directions on plants and planting. We would advise observing Arbor Day by planting a tree, bush or plant of some kind at some of our club homes. Easter is a good day for giving a potted plant. Have an exhibit of plants or flowers by members of the clubs. Give a small prize of some kind to the one growing the best plant or flower or the greatest variety.

Yours for continued success,

MRS. HOMER DEAN,
Superintendent of Forestry, phone Drexel 8711, 2843 Hyans St., Los Angeles, California.

HOLD SPLENDID SESSION

California Council No. 1 I.B.P.O.E. of W. held their session for September at the home of Loyal Dt. W. E. Jones with Loyal Dt. Bertha Triplett presiding. There were several remarks by different daughters on subjects pertaining to the good of the Council.

After the close of the session, a most pleasant social hour was spent, Dt. Jones serving delicious refreshments.

Dt. S. A. ADKINS, Ch. Pub. Com.

BACHELOR GIRLS CLUB

One of the most unique affairs of the season was a Pre-Hallowe'en Party given by the Bachelor Girls Club at the home of Miss Catherine Shealey. Everyone had an enjoyable time.

Washingtonians Charge Catholic Priest Urges Segregation

(By: A. N. P.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—Negro Catholics charged Father Cornelius J. Dacey of St. Paul's Church with attempting to promote Jim Crowism here last week when it was reported that Sunday he made the statement that "those of you who are members of the St. Augustine and Holy Redeemer Parishes should take your support to them. We do not desire you here, and it is best for you to go to your own church."

So angered were a number of the Negro communicants that it is reported that they left the Church immediately. In explaining his version of the affair, Father Dacey declared: "I used no term that would apply to a distinct race when I made the statement. It was made immediately following an appeal to the members of my own parish for their whole-hearted support. Members of St. Augustine and Holy Redeemer Parishes are not members of St. Paul's; hence, I have no right to ask their support.

SURE 'NUFF

BY: AGNES BERRY MONTIER
(For the Associated Negro Press)

Full of hope, he came here from the Southland,
And hard luck seemed just waiting for him.
And at each blow dealt out with a full hand
He came back again, fresh, with a grin.

He had pluck, he had faith, and endurance;
And with these three you can't help but win.
He'd tackle any hard job with assurance,—
Say, "That sure 'nuff was hard," then he'd grin.

Mattered not to him, when streets were icy,
Or the water came through soles too thin;
When the old clothes no longer looked nice, he Made you see not the clothes,—just that grin.

He brought cheer that made dark skies to brighten;
Though oft hungry and drench to the skin!
Brave, brown boy, how you caused hearts to lighten.
May success "sure 'nuff" wait on that grin!

High Praise For Colored Movie Actors

Atmosphere-plus was furnished by talented Negroes who worked recently in the picture, "The Big City," starring Lon Chaney. Over a hundred of these extras proved to be veritable veterans under the guidance of Tod Browning, who directed this picturesque tale of New York gangster life.

These extras worked with such enthusiasm that they won plaudits from both Chaney and Browning. Their vivacity in the cabaret scene was infectious, everyone in the picture acting with high pressure speed owing to the gaiety in this colorful episode.

Browning said that this production, which he is directing for Metro-Goldwyn-Myer would doubtless be one of the most glamorous ever put on the screen, owing to the fine work of the Negro extras and the marked fidelity to life that the picture bore.

He remarked that these extras in the big cabaret scene did not really act—they lived their part. He said that ordinarily it was rather difficult to handle such a big crowd—that in such scenes the mass action often became stereotyped, lacking in color and punch.

Not so with this cabaret scene. Each Negro player worked, Browning said, as if he were an individual unit, with the result, of course, was both picturesque and distinctive.

"Indeed," Browning said, "the Negro as a race has the gift of patomime in the highest degree. They feel keenly and respond to direction quickly, being about the most plastic material I have ever worked with."

Some of the colorful features of the Lon Chaney production included dances by talented Negro players, suggesting the origin of the Charleston. So animated was the work of performers in this scene, depicting a haunt of the underworld in New York, frequented by Chaney and his followers, that onlookers were fascinated by the efforts of the solo dancers; indeed, several times spectators burst into unthinking applause, forgetting that they were not in an actual cabaret.

The set was an elaborate one—many small tables at which were diners out for a merry time, giving a semblance of unstudied gaiety. Candelabra on each table, the dancers, the animated crowd of Negro extras and numerous vaudeville turns made this sequence an out-of-the-ordinary affair.

The barbaric note of certain of the Negro dances lent an exotic touch to this scene, making it one of the high water marks of the production, Browning said.

That M-G-M uses large numbers of Negro players in their most important productions is a known fact, for instance, over 100 were employed in "The Big City," while even more worked in the glamourous tale of horse racing, "In Old Kentucky."

This tremendous film organization also features Negro players from time to time, a notable example being the well-known dancer, Carolynne Snowden, who had an important role in "In Old Kentucky."

Negroes are popular at the M-G-M studio; they have made good as actors, with an emphatic emphasis on the capital G. for Good.

Real worth is always recognized, and Negro players consistently get a splendid "break" in M-G-M productions.

White Man Sentenced For Fleecing Negroes

(By: A. N. P.)

Starksville, Miss., Nov. 2.—John Johnson, a white man, indicted for fleecing Negroes, has been sentenced to the penitentiary for three years. Johnson operated a small grocery and represented that he was connected with a company which granted pensions to "antebellum Negroes" upon payment of $48.10.

Improved Farming to be Discussed at Tuskegee Conference

(By: A. N. P.)

Tuskegee Institute, Ala., Oct. 31—How to improve and standardize quality of produce and how to market advantageously are features of a selling and producing program for farmers that will be discussed at the thirty-seventh annual Tuskegee Negro Conference which meets here jointly with the southern boys' and girls' Four H. Clubs, December 5-8.

"What the farmers need to realize is that they can only get the best returns for their produce when they improve the quality," declares C. J. Calloway, Director of the Extension Department under the auspices of which the conference is conducted. "With an improved quality and a better knowledge of the market the farmer can expect a more equitable return for his labor."

The Workers Conference, which together with the Farmers Conference comprises the Tuskegee Negro Conference, will consider the relation of health and education to a producing and selling program for farmers.

The committee on promotion of National Negro Health Week will meet during the conference to make plans for the annual observance of the week. The executive committee of the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools will also meet during the sessions of the conference.

Negro Candidate Withdraws From Aldermanic Race

(By: A. N. P.)

Boston, Mass., Nov. 1.—Because of political dissension in Ward 9, J. Scicon Gaines, well known politician, and secret order man, has withdrawn his name as candidate for the City Council in the forthcoming election.

Although the required number of signatures necessary to qualify him for the race were received, members of the ward committee felt that the number of voters Gaines could win on election day would be negligible.

PROMINENT BOSTONIAN PASSES

(By: A. N. P.)

Boston, Mass., Nov. 2.—Funeral services for Mrs. Arianna C. Sparrow were held Saturday from the Church of St. Augustine and St. Martin.

Mrs. Sparrow, who was the first colored graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, died at St. Monica's Home, Wednesday morning after a brief illness.

Mrs. Sparrow was one of the oldest and best known citizens of Boston.

Beware of Schemers

Several persons in business on the Avenue have been stung by a set of schemers, representing themselves as having been commissioned by the management of the Lincoln Theatre to secure advertisement for a "Lincoln Theatre Newsette," a publication supposedly to be issued by the management; containing the theatre program. Having secured monies for advertising space in this "ethereal" publication, the parties representing the same seems likewise to have "evaporated."

We hereby declare and announce that the only person and publication authorized by the Lincoln Theatre to be Idell Bateman and the regular weekly program. Persons or organizations wishing space in the Lincoln Theatre Program may get in touch with Mrs. Bateman at the California Eagle Office, 847 Central Ave., Phone VAndike 9144.

We further state that we believe the Lincoln Theatre Program to be one of the best advertising mediums for persons wishing to reach the class of people that have money to spend and don't hesitate to spend it, providing you offer them something they want. You will reach the entire wide-awake Negro population of Los Angeles through space in the Lincoln Theatre Program.

CURTIS CARPENTIER, Mgr.

Should Railroad Waiters Receive a Liv-Wage

BY: E. C. MOSLEY

It is true that every man that is working for another or for a corporation, firm or company, should render the quality and quantity of work contracted for without complaining and with the understanding that he (the employe) in his position and about his duties is a representative of the firm, company or corporation which employs him, as the Employer is known by the class of employees in his employment.

But for an employer to have and hold the class of workers we are speaking of he must have preferable positions and jobs to offer.

The positions and jobs must be preferable in three ways, namely: First, there must exist means and the tools for doing the work required; Secondly, recognizance of the quality of the work when finished satisfactorily, and Thirdly, the employe must be able to realize a living wage from his labor without depending upon any contingency.

We shall eliminate the first of the fore-mentioned conditions that must exist to make the position or job preferable and take the last two in the order named, for it can hardly be said that the railroad waiter, of whom this article is about, does not have the necessary tools and means to do his work, but it cannot be said that the other wo conditions exist, for as to the first of the last two, it is often and very frequently the case that the waiter has done all that is in his power to do to bring his work up to par or to please some very inconsiderate passenger or inspector and yet has failed, and because of the waiter's helplessness in pleasing this inconsiderate passenger or inspector he (the waiter) is penalized or fired without in many cases a chance to tell his side of the matter. Of course in a passenger's case, the passenger must always be right owing to the fact that he is a passenger paying his way with the presumed right to do and say what he pleases. But in an inspector's case it is different. There comes to my mind a case which I shall ask you dear reader to judge.

There was a certain assistant pantry man on one of the trans-continental trains and one of this particular road's dining car inspectors got on and was looking over the pantry and noticed a small kettle that needed scrubbing and told this waiter to clean same after the meal, which the waiter did right after the meal, but in the mean time this inspector got off before the meal was over therefore he did not know whether the waiter did as he was told or not. So the very next trip across this same inspector gets on the car and came in the pantry and this is what was said:

Insp.: "I thought I told you to scrub that kettle."

Waiter: "I did sir."

Insp.: "I don't believe you did, and in fact I know you didn't, now scrub

Now it is plain that this inspector it."

could not have known for a fact that this waiter had not done as he had been told. But if this waiter had not admitted by his action that he was lying when he said he had done as he was told, but would have contended that he was right, no doubt there would have been an argument and in the end the waiter would have got 30 or 60 days on the ground for insubordination.

This is only one case but it is possible to write an article as long as this one of just such cases, but time and space won't allow us so we will proceed on and take up the last condition which is not the least.

For the benefit of those who do not know I will give the average wages of the railroad waiter which runs between $60.00 and $65.00 a month and you may add $2.50 per month to the Pantry-man's salary and there is only one pantry-man to a car. Now, this is all that they are sure and positive of making and out of that they have got to pay house rent or room rent, feed his family and self, buy his clothes and clothe his family (and many of them are fathers of families as large as 9 and 10 children) must school his children, besides if the wife or any of the children takes sick he must provide medical attention for them. Of course, he can carry insurance upon them, but don't you see that that increases his monthly expenses which must come out of his monthly salary? It is true that the railroad furnishes the waiter medical attention when he is sick but not those dependent on him when they are sick, although there is deducted each month from his salary so much for hospital fee.

Yes, he makes tips, which helps him make ends meet, but is this right that he has to depend on this uncertain income? Or is it conducive to good service and make first class waiters? Let's see if it does.

We will say that Mr. and Mrs. A come in the diner to eat and pays the waiter 35c or 40c for serving them. Then Mr. B comes in and eats but only gives the waiter a dime. Then the next meal both Mr. and Mrs. A and B enter and sit with the same waiter or any other waiter as far as that goes of which of the two couples you find will get the very best service: The answer is obvious. But suppose this waiter was receiving a living wage and regardless of who gave him a sizeable tip or not, can't you see he would have no motive to discriminate.

If it is not possible to raise the waiters' salary for any reason, why not try the bonus plan, allow so much off each check issued that month, pool the same and divide equally among the waiters of that crew and give it to them on their regular pay checks, twice a month. This plan is in vogue in many of our modern clubs and it is being found very satisfactory to all concerned.

It sure is not right for the railroads to shift their burden onto the shoulders of the traveling public. When a person rides the trains they pay for it, when they sleep on the train they pay for it and when they eat they pay for it, then what right has a passenger to pay a Steward, Cook or Waiter for serving him when that is what the Steward, Cook or Waiter is hired for. There is an actual contract between the R. R. and its help to which the passenger is a stranger to and is therefore not legally or morally liable for the performance of the same.

It is the railroad's duty to pay for the service rendered by its employees.

And I want to say here that the public is waking up to this unjust demand made upon it by the R. R. and its help and tips are getting smaller, and smaller and fewer and fewer and the good R. R. waiters are finding better and other means of employment.

So Mr. R. R., wake up, if you want or wish to retain your first class dining car help.

A GREAT ANNUAL CONFERENCE CLOSED

The 19th Session of the California Annual Conference closed one of the greatest sessions in its history Sunday night, October 23rd. Bishop C. H. Phillips, A. M., M. D., D. D., LL. D., of Cleveland, Ohio, presiding; Rev. G. L. Hays, pastor.

The ministers were quite jubilant and full of glee, having conducted splendid Revivals during the year.

A NEW CHURCH

A new church was built this year by Rev. G. L. Hayes. The conference was held in this church. Too much cannot be said in regards to Rev. Hayes and his good people, who so wonderfully cared for the Conference.

The California Conference has grown beyond the expectation of many and it is said that another annual conference will be organized pretty soon.

Bishop Phillips is full of smiles because of the growth of this Conference. Not many changes in the appointments. Bishop Phillips preached a wonderful sermon at 11 A. M. He was at himself and held the vast crow spell-bound for 55 minutes. It was said by many that this was the greatest sermon delivered by the Bishop on the Coast. The following sermons were preached by Dr. Seldon, F. W. Haynes, R. B. Edmunds, J. W. Parham and Rev. M. Thompson, A. B., of Phoenix, Arizona.

The Bishop was full of smiles over the reports of the Conference. The entire General Funds were raised with an increase of over three hundred dollars. The Missionary Sisters raised a handsome sum for the cause of Missions. Mrs. R. W. Underwood is the president of the Annual Conference Missionary Society; Mrs. A. E. Seldon is secretary.

Bishop Phillips and the entire Conference is spending the week in Los Angeles.

Long Beach News

Mrs. Anna Jenkins, known as Anna Sudduth, of 1109 E. Pico, L. A., who was arrested for the theft of a diamond ring from the home of Phillip Swafield at 211 Quincy Ave., this city, was released by the Long Beach police when she produced the ring. She had been working at this place as maid and she is known as the wife of Larry B. Sudduth who worked with her but was not held on the charge.

On Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Higgins, 1225 Molino Ave., gave a delightful party celebrating their Fourteenth Anniversary. There were fourteen guests present, and all departed early in the morning wishing the host many more years of happy wedded life.

Miss Charlotte Davis of 1032 California Avenue gave a beautiful Hallowe'en Birthday Party. Hallowe'en colors were used throughout the house. Many beautiful presents were received by the hostess.

Mr. Fred Wilkerson and Miss Hannette Hawkins are to be married this week.

Mr. D. B. Brooks is very sick at this writing.

Geo. T. Mosby, Jr., is back in the city having been in Kansas City, Mo., for the past month at the bedside of his father, Rev. G. T. Mosby. He reports his father doing nicely. Mr. Mosby, Jr., will be found at his regular routine of work at the Curtis J. Mosby Music Co.

The Outlook upon the national political situation is far from a runaway victory for any aspirant for the republican nomination for president of these United States. This situation is as certain and sure as the fact that president Coolidge is definitely out of consideration.

PEACE AND QUIET

Peace and quietude reigns supreme all along the line of effort and it is perhaps the calm just before the battle begins to rage again. The portals of the city hall are just now free from combat and except from the wails now and then of the Rev. Bob Shuler all is well. In the county, since the sensational grand jury report of the charities department, everything goes on in the even tenor of its way. Now the state despite the fact that Governor Young has failed to recognize all parts of his constituency in his appointments the machinery of State moves on its way. Truly therefore in political affairs peace and quietude reigns supreme.

WE WANT THAT RUNG

At this moment we are thinking of a situation some months hence in the selection of a standard bearer from the 74th assembly district. Our present assemblyman the Hon. Frederick Roberts has served faithfully for a period of ten years in that position. Long enough to go up higher, we do not know what his aspirations are as to this phase of the situation, but we do know that as far as the editor of this paper is concerned that we want that rung that he has occupied for ten years and in due time will do our utmost to secure the same.

In this situation there has been no conferences, no one has asked us and very freely of our own accord we will freely say we want that rung that Mr. Roberts is roosting on.

LAUGH!

"Laughter, while it lasts, slackens and unbraces the mind, weakens the faculties, and causes a kind of remissness and dissolution in all the powers of the soul; and thus far it may be looked upon as a weakness in the composition of human nature. But when one considers the frequent reliefs the human body receives from it, and how often it breaks the gloom, which is apt to depress the mind and dampen the spirits, with transient, unexpected gleams of joy, one would take care not to grow too wise for so great a pleasure of life," is one of the rarest gems of wisdom that ever came from the pen of Joseph Addison, English man of letters.

These words from the seventeenth century are as true today as they were when Addison conceived them. Men and women in every walk of modern life recognize the value of laughter, how it smoothes life's pathway and lengthens it also.

Shakespeare said "Smile in men's faces, smooth, deceive and cog." But laughter exposes its own deception. The hearty laugh dings true. "Laugh and the world laughs with you;" but seeks to cover dark thought behind your laughter and the whole world knows it.

Among the illiterate and impoverished laughter is natural and unrestrained and even cultivated. It makes life endurable. But with those classes which aspire to culture and refinement as society defines them it is usual to bridle one's laughter. A boisterous laughter is conidered crude and one who has given vent to such a spontaneous outburst of enthusiasm and good merriment, upon recovering his of her composure, is apt to experience a feeling of depression and humiliation, not because the laughter afforded no relief but because of what others will think. The fault, and it is a fault, is with society not with culture or the cultured individual.

For health's sake let us not "grow too wise for so great a pleasure" as at least one good laugh a day.

DEBTS

There are two sides to every happening and issue, and debt is no exception to the rule. In one direction debt leads to prosperity and plenty but in the opposite direction it arrives at worry and want. It is as well to get into det of the former sort as it is to get out of debt of the latter kind.

In dealing with debt it is necessary to distinguish between mere foolish running into debt and investment; between borrowing to buy non-essentials and borrowing for profit by investing the borrowed money in property, safe securities, household necessities or business. Debts wisely created pay themselves but the reckless borrower stands to lose all.

None has been oftener forewarned than the foolish borrower. For many centuries the Book of Proverbs has told him "The borrower is servant to the lender." He has heedlessly passed over in Shakespeare that admonition, "Neither a borrower nor a lender be; for loan oft loses both itself and friend, and borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry." While from the philosophical Ben Franklin is learned, "He that goes a borrowing, goes a sorrowing."

One is not truly in debt who exchanges his loan for its equivalent in something else and preserves the latter until the debt is dissolved, for it is always available for the satisfaction of the importunate creditor. The true debtor is he who dissipates his borrowings before the debt is satisfied.

THAT HAMPTON STRIKE

A number of the "patent leather heeled, wide-bottomed pantaloned gentry of Old Hampton, went on a "strike;" left the Campus because the administrative board would not heed their demand to dim the lights in the Assembly Hall during the showing of moving pictures. Shades of the fathers? It seems but yesterday when the doors of Hampton were thrown open for the education of the Indian and but recently freed, Negro. How they rushed to take advantage of that new opportunity to enrich their minds and fit themselves for the new responsibility of citizenship. They cared, not so much for the artificial glass which is the pride of the present regime. They entered Hampton for a purpose and that purpose was a gainful knowledge. One cannot even imagine Booker T. Washington spending more time in plastering down his hair or measuring the inches in the bottom of his trousers, than in the application to his studies; yet the Hampton of those days produced a Washington; a Moton and hundreds of others who have proven worthy of the confidence of leadership. "He that would lead must first learn to obey." That is discipline. It's what those obstreperous youngsters need. The present generation of "knowledge seekers" see no disgrace; no shame in expulsion from an institution of learning. We hope that the parents have not forgot, and that they will impress it on the recalcitrants that the needs of the Race are too many; the opportunities too few for any indulgence in frivolous insubordinations. We hope ere this that the parents have turned the faces of the erring once more toward the light of knowledge. We have an idea of just how, in the old days, that turn would have been made, but wood sheds have gone out of style. The firm stand taken by Prexey, Gragg should receive the support of every parent as well as the alumni.

JIM CROW NEGRO TO BLAME

The following from the Portland Advocate we send without comment. It's from the pen of one of the editors and the logic is so obvious that it should be passed along in its entirety.

"The colored people in Gary, Ind., especially that class which advocates and practices segregation, have no one to blame but themselves for the strike and walk-out of the white children in the high school. It is a well known fact that not long ago some of the colored people of Garyy demanded a separate fire department—they got it; they demanded a separate Y. M. C. A.—and got it. Now it stands to reason if they wanted a separate fire department, a separate Y. M. C. A. and they already had a separate church, that a separate school, if not actually welcomed, would certainly not be opposed. The Advocate believes that colored firemen should be employed by the fire department; that colored young men and young women in the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.'s throughout the country, should be admitted to membership just as other young men and young women are admitted. The Advocate believes that colored teachers should be employed in the public school systems; not especially to teach colored children, but to teach CHILDREN. We believe that Negro policemen should be on the police force; that Negroes should have positions in the city and state and in the nation's governing force in proportion to their percentage in the population. We believe that our youth should aspire to whatever the youth of any other race aspires to. These are the only ways in which manhood may be stimulated and character grown. But when the race or any portion thereof starts out after separate things and institutions, they usually get some they don't want, yet nobody is to blame but themselves for their selfish shortsightedness."

Our only comment is that the Advocate, in common with all who preach true Americanism, will be classed among "the traitors to the race."

The Mayoralty contest in San Francisco, Cal., has attracted nation-wide interest. The results of the campaign are being awaited as a possible barometer to the political learnng of the State in the coming campaign of 1928. While this is being written the present mayor, Rolph, is fighting with his "back to the wall." The main contention of his adherents is that, should his opponent be elected, the city will revert to the old days of "Bossism" and vice. The police department is engaged actively in the big stick menace. Go into any of the so-called clubs and surreptitious buffet flats and whatever may be their personal choice you will see nothing but Rolph pennants. Go into the district where reside the "Sons of Sunny Italy" who make the beverage from the lucious grape, the sentiment is Power, but da policeman he say, 'No maka da wine.'" In spite of all the pressure the administration seems doomed. The imperturbable, Sheriff Finn, is in no manner concerned over the attacks of his opponents. His record as a public servant turns off the assaults with the ease of an armored battleship casting off the patter of a pea shooter. Whatever the outcome Tom Finn is secure in the confidence of the electorate.

Doctor Lillendahl, a New Jersey physician of prominence was mysteriously murdered on a highway in his automobile. His wife claimed that two colored men jumped on the running board, killed the doctor and assaulted her. Diligent search has failed to reveal any indications of masculine footprints. Those discovered at and near the tragedy were feminine, and fitted the shoes of Mrs. Lillendahl. Slight credence was given to the story of the wife by the officials investigating, but withal the murder remains a mystery. The national office of the Association for the Advancement of Colored People has offered a reward of $2,000 for the apprehension of the murderer or murderers. We hope the reward will help clear the mystery.

The Hon. Mayor of Chicago, William Hale Thompson came to the conclusion that certain historical textbooks were inimical to American citizenship inasmuch as they had a pro-British tendency. The patriotic mayor sentenced the affronting books to certain doom. They were to go up in smoke. A bonfire was ordered for the lake front, and the flare from that blaze was to be a warning to any who failed to revere the name and land the heroism of America's patriots of the Revolution. But one day the mayor was caressed gently by a tenacle which whispered encouragingly into his ear, "Bravo! Am I not the originator of 'America for Americans?' Did I not inaugurate the idea of intolerance? Am I not the parent of hatreds, religious, national, racial? I am your boon companion and laud you." But glancing about the mayor noticed that the caressing tenacle was attached to a loathsome body branded K. K. K. and that other tenacles were streaching out to embrace him. The mayor concluded—and wisely—that a little pro-British propoganda was preferable to the companionship of slimy Americanism.

ON THE SIDEWALK

BISHOP Martin of the A. M. E. Zion connection was the morning hour speaker for Men's Day at the Independent Church, Sunday. The Bishop used as his subject, "The Value and Spirit of Service." It is impossible to quote herein his sermon in entirety, but to say the least it was a message that rang straight through to the bottom-most part of man's soul. It was a passionate message of hope; a red signal pointing to the one and only highway that leads to right living and thinking.

"Not what society thinks of you," said Bishop Martin, "but what you really are; for society sometimes sets its value according to the amount of gold and silver in your possession, not stopping to find out how this wealth was acquired.

To better prepare himself for service, he is, now, taking special lessons in directorship with Prof. DeLara.

Prof. Pitts was elected director of the great choir of the Peoples Independent Church, more than a month ago, but the passing of his faithful wife and co-worker, so upset him that for a while he thought that he would never lift a baton again. And, even now, goes again into the work, only, at the expressed wish of his sainted wife, expressed, only, a short while before she left. He believes that, in obeying her last request, he will have her spirit to guide him, in his work. He will, therefore, be in full charge of the choir, next Sunday morning and attempt the interpretation of some of the master-pieces of some of the Old Masters, and also some soul stirring melodies.

A. CORENSON & CO. MORTGAGE AND LOAN COMPANY SIGN CONTRACT WITH THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE

The new firm which is advertising in the California Eagle this week is the firm of A. Corenson & Company, who specialize in mortgages and trust deeds. This firm is the only firm in Los Angeles that gives what is known as a one-day service. If you come in this office at 10 o'clock in the morning with your papers, before the bank closes they get you your money. This is a new idea, this firm has been very successful in securing a patronage by their quick methods and wonderful treatment to their clients.

A. Corenson and Company are the only mortgage company who are daily represented over the radio. Their announcements are made over Warner Brothers Station, K. F. W. B., between 5 and 6 every evening, and K. G. F. J. between 7 and 8 every evening.

Now the Taxes are due and the Tax Collector is sending out bills. This is an unexpected debt that is coming up and those who have not looked ahead in this matter will appreciate the fact that all they have to do is to go to A. Corenson & Company, 345 S. Hill Street, and in a day's time get their money and pay their taxes and other special assessments.

This firm does not discriminate and appreciates and solicits the trade of the readers of The California Eagle.

WHAT TO READ

The charge that Black Americans are not extensive readers is rather sadly borne out by their conspicuous absence from the public libraries. Further evidence of this fact may be observed in the dearth of personal libraries in our private homes. It has always been a wonder to me how a self-respecting family could build a modern home, oftimes expensive to the point of extravagance, and yet leave no sign of a space for books—man's best friend. What do they do in the quiet evenings for amusement; ho wdo they spend the shut-in period when inclement weather will not permit out-of-doors activity? Is it because we are afraid or ashamed of being daubed; "intellectual" that we neglect this important feature of our mental lives? It certainly cannot be due to the expense either of money or time that prohibits the accumulation of a decent library and the use thereof considering the amount of money and time we devote to useless entertainment of a "social" nature. One book a month at an average cost of Two Dollars ($2.50) and fifty cents a month and three (3) hours a week in a public library would do a great deal towards erasing this disgraceful stigma from the race.....since every individual sin committed by a black person is extended to the entire group.

On a visit to one of the branch libraries in the heart of the black colony, I was informed that circulation there is so poor as to make the maintenance of the branch almost a dead weight for tax-payers to carry. And yet, if there were no library, what a howl of protests and a storming cry of "discrimination!" would go up from members of this group. The point is that while we have to pay for the pleasant privilege of having a library within a stone's throw of our doors, we may as well use it and since we owe it to our personal development and it costs so little, we should cultivate the gentle art of reading extensively or otherwise.

This week I found at the Helen Hunt Library, Copper Sun—(Harper and Brothers, N. Y.), a collection of poems by Countee Cullen, popular young Negro poet and author of "Color" and "The Ballad of the Brown Girl."

Copper Sun is decorated by Charles Cullen who, by the way, is not related to Countee. It is said that Charles' father, being interested in anyone whose name is Cullen, bought the poet's first book and sent it to his son. "It later developed that Charles was an artist.....hence these very beautiful drawings which he did for Countee Cullen's book and truly they are beautiful to behold." (Gwendolyn Bennett in Opportunity). To say that they resemble the art of Aubrey Beardsley is only suggestive, for while there may be a degree of similarity in decorative effects, there is decidedly more of sheer loveliness and beauty and artistic symbolism in Charles' work and none of the sordid, sophistication and realism to be found in that of Beardsley. Space will not allow a detailed description of Copper Sun's decorations—they alone are worth the price of the book and more—but we are forced to give you an idea of what you may expect from The Dark Tower, dedicated to Charles S. Johnson, for which Chas. Cullen has done an especially striking illustration to these lines:

".....there are buds that cannot bloom at all
In light, but crumple, piteous, and fall;
So in the dark we hide the heart that bleeds,
And wait, and tend our agonizing seeds."

Countee Cullen, the poet.....and if is his book we review, Charles' drawings notwithstanding.....who 'must have sweets to remember by' and finds a 'mouth the best of sweets to suck; for the oldest wine's on the tip' sings his best in Copper Sun with love as the principle theme as: to "Yolande" with a gay, fantastic game called Name Me a Name, played beneath an apple tree. A sweet, red apple rolled between the lovers at their feet. They bite and "lose no Paradise".....a gay, fantastic game as old as genesis, yet ever new. Such are his themes, for the most part of love: staunch love, rejected love, love like common clay.

But, in Threnody for a Brown Girl, the poet leaves his love-strain to sing in a pantheistic-spiritualistic mood of her whom death could not with one, trenchant blow snatch out of reach. And the combination of these two contrasting philosophies seems anything but paradoxical. We read:

"Now she knows the Why and Wherefore,
Troublous Whence and Whither,
Wise as Solomon.

And at the same time.....
"Pluck no flower lest she scream;
Bruise no slender reed,
Lest it prove more than it seem,
Lest she groan and bleed."

If Copper Sun does not give Countee Cullen a ranking place among America's foremost poets, it is because he has been judged by some standard other than poetic principles, for his rhythm is as pulsing and impelling as the 'accent of the whirlwind'.....full of the "beauty born of murmuring sound"; and his imaginative and emotive expression never fails to awaken emotions in the reader that correspond to his own suggested moods. His diction is adequately chosen to give utterance to his joys and sorrows, moving his readers by its beauty, charming by its rhythm.

LOCAL RACE MAN APPOINTED FIELD SUPERVISOR BY THE NATIONAL UNDERWRITERS CORPORATION

The National Underwriters Corporation, California Managers for the Atlas Life Insuance Company, General Agents for the Great American Casualty Company, Local Agents for the Fidelity Union Fire Insurance Company, and the Fidelity Union Casualty Company, have made the announcement that Mr. Wm. R. Fulks, 10501½ South Compton Avenue, has been appointed a Field Supervisor with authority to present to the public a very attracive Sick and Accident insurance policy. This policy, although selling for only $10.00 per year gives an excellent coverage for the amount charged.

Prior to this time the National Underwriters Corporation has been a closed corporation, no capital stock having been released to the public. However, Mr. M. C. Reese, President of the corporation, has intimated that, due to the rapid development of the corporation's business, a small portion of the capital stock may be sold to policy holders.

At present, Mr. Fulks will devote his time and efforts to the development of a field force of salesmen and saleswomen to handle the aforementioned insurance policy. This will be a wonderful opportunity for men and women who desire connections with a rapidly developing corporation to obtain work that is both pleasant and profitable. Anyone interested in such a proposition should immediately get in touch with Mr. Fulks at his office, 10501½ South Compton Avenue, Los Angeles, when an interview will be granted. Experience in insurance salesmanship will not be necessary for applications will be given special training and instruction according to the policies of the National Underwriters Corporation.

GIRL-ETICS

By: GLADYS MATHONICAN

Th fact that colored boys are being used in a kind of prelude game at the opening of a big Hollywood Skating Palace may be the forerunner of teams of colored games being admitted to compete in ice hockey. Investigations are being made by the Sports editor of this publication and if accepted girls teams for the thrilling game will be formed at once.

Girl rooters really did their bit at the big Trojan classic Saturday. It was, rah! rah! rah! and some noise.

Now that night Tennis has been instituted at the Congregational church Courts other churches should fall in line. It is a splendid way to keep the young people in close touch with the church.

The Girl Reserves amid many squeals and chatter are fast developing good swimmers at the Saturday "Y" splash classes.

And now a little news from the far away East:

Chicago, Ill.—After much difficult work and painstaking care, the committee, in charge of rating the Chicago tennis players, hand in the following list:

Ladies—First Ten

Mrs. Dorothy Ewell, Miss Moseley, Mrs. C. O. Seames, Miss Rose, Mrs. J. B. Stallworth, Miss Irma Moore, Miss Lula Porter, Mrs. Celia Howard, Miss Mignon Burns, Miss Gertrude Miller.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—As result of excessive infant mortality throughout the country among all classes, Dr. Chauncey L. Butler, white, of the American Association for Medico-Physical Research, has made the startling announcement that 60 per cent of all babies born from cigarette smoking mothers die before two years old."

Dust from the Campus

BY: LAWRENCE F. LAMAR

Oh boy, ren't you glad it's over? It was really grand and thrilling while it lasted. But, alas! The Golden Bears have gone by the way of no harm—and took me with them for a "buck."

The past gone, Univeraity of Southern California vs. California U. has created every bit of effect that was expected of it. The game brought into the city people prominent in the social and professional world. We have been beyond a doubt, wonderfully blessed by this infusion of added culture among us.

The game furnished the proper rivalry between the schools as well as the natural rivalry that exists between people of the northern and people of the southern part of the State.

To offset this mild rival spirit furnished by the occasion of the game, countless parties were arranged to display the hospitality of the Southerners for their northern visitors. It can be safely said, that they succeeded admirably. There have been intimations that when we visit the north next ysar to accompany the Trojan warriors there will be exerted every effort to outdo us. We hope they succeed.

Well, that ends it; that is, as far as we are particularly concerned about Western football. That deadly rivalry that excites us all for the moment, has been consumated; a victory for U. S. C. and a defeat for California.

Now Gang, watch for the opening of the Y. M. C. A. Basketball League, they really have some swell teams practicing. More next week. Read in the news, fellows.

GIANTS STRIKE THEIR STRIDE

DOWN ALL-STARS 5-0; 8-2

Murky skies and the great Babe Ruth and Gehrig as counter attractions did not prevent over 3000 Winter League fans from watching the Hillidale Giants line up to their names. They were a bunch of pill swatting base stealing, fly catching battlers who went on the diamond determined to win. No need to follow Babe Ruth. Most anyone of those colored boys if white would be big leaguers and famous as the Bambino. Beckwith's fielding Hubbards home run, Warfield's and Dixons double steal following Dixons two base hit and Flomnoy's pitching were some of the big features Sunday. The boys rapped Ludolph so that he was pulled in the 7th and Wilkonson substituted but too late as the damage was done. Stevens made a sensational run and put out at third but was unluckily spiked. The game was not won easily though for the Pirones Major and Minor League All Stars played good ball. Sawyer Muesel and Herman made two base hits, matching those made Flomnoy and Dixon. Muesel also drew a big hand by catching a fly off the left field fence.

Beckwith with the same performance on the right field fence was another sensation of the day. Next Saturday and Sunday November 5th and 7th marks the official opening of the Winter League with the All-Stars playing Rube Ellis' Orange team at the Orange County fair grounds Anaheim and the Cleveland Stars great colored leaguers tackling the Giants at White Sox Park 38th & Ascot.

The Cleveland club's roster includes many players who participated in the 1926 race, including Outfielders Stearns and Halloway, Infielders Methel, Allen and Wells; Catchers Pullen and Duncan and Pitchers Hatney and Cooper.

The score follows:

"How's that for a high one?" says Thomas, star centerfielder of the Hillidale Giants

SNATCHING UP A HOT GROUNDER

"They shall not pass," says Stevens heading short stop of the Hillidale Giants.

Even if "Deacon" Tiger Flowers never gets to win back the title from Mickey Walker, that "Cutie' Kearns "Yangered" him out of in Chicago style he has plenty of bucks to last him the rest of his life. He is still middleweight champion in the eyes of the world and still adding piles of jack to the nearly half million he already has in the old sock to show for the socks he has given and taken.

McVey Challenges Tiger Flowers; Winner Gets Mickey Walker

New York.—Morris Cain, manager of Jack McVey, middleweight, appeared before the state athletic commission with a request for his boxer to oppose Tiger Flowers to decide who would be best qualified to challenge Mickey Walker, the champion in the division. The commission sanctioned the proposal for a McVey-Flowers bout.

Baby Joe Gans Beats Rivers At Wayy

Only his toughness enabled Arizona Joe Rivers to weather the storm of Baby Joe Gans' lightning hooks and jabs at Oakland, Friday, October 19th. The "Young Master" dropped the durable Mexican four times in the first round and six times more during the other nine rounds, but each time through covering and holding he managed to keep the sleep portions from entirely fading him away. A large crowd saw Gans do battle there for the first time in several months and he received a rousing welcome. An unquestioned decision was rendered by the referee.

Lightning Davis Heads Main St. A. C. Card

Clyde Davis, the clever 130-pound boxer who beat Jimmy Fox at Culver City three weeks ago, has been signed to meet Eddie Macey, local Mexican boy, in the semi-ground main event of Saturday night's boxing card at the Main-Street Athletic club.

Macey lost a close fight to Bobby Fernandez for the featherweight championship of Mexico a few weeks ago, and seems to be getting along the fine another crack at the title. It has not been learned what he predicts will happen Friday night, but Davis says he will be in there with fighting from every end at the bell sounds and he will be a hard chance to lose.

HUDKINS AND DUNDEE READY FOR THE GONG

A brief rest, the resumption of training, then the short wait for Thursday night. That was the program of welterweight champion Joe Dundee and Ace Hudkins, the principals in Southern California's most important title fight in years.

Promoter Dick Donald postponed his show from Saturday until Thursday night because of bad weather. Rather than bring thousands of fans from long distances, only to have them disappointed at the last moment by postponement, the little promoter announced in plenty of time that there would be no fight until Thursday night, November 3.

In spite of all unfavorable handicaps, Donald was ready to go ahead with his show, yes—with a $100,000 investment in jeopardy. It was and is the biggest shot he has ever had, yet rather than disappoint the public he would have endangered a lot of money. Donald is entitled to more than a little credit.

Challenger Ace Hudkins weighed in at 147 at three o'clock while the champion tipped the beams at 144.

Both Dundee and Hudkins are in the pink. The lay-off period came as a disappointment at first, with both fighters ready to step into the ring.

Money is even with indications that Dundee will be made the favorite at ring time. The boys along Spring Street and Central Avenue, however, are stringing along with the Wildcat. He has made the money boys "doughray-me" and they're ready to put it on his nose.

Kenneth Wallace Earns Draw with Ortega at Tia Juana

Kenneth Wallace, known as the Boy Wonder, fought a hard battle to a draw at Tia Juana, Saturday, October 29th against the tough, hard-hitting Mexican, Joe Ortega, in the main event. Ortega and Wallace brought the large crowd to their feet as they dashed away at each other toe to toe. Kenneth was a little too clever for his Mexican opponent and although most of the fans were Mexicans they cheered the efforts of the colored boy roundly. Wallace who is getting good breaks at last is to fight against an unnamed opponent at the big opening of the season's races.

HERBI TURCHI AND VERNON JACKSON NOT TO MEET

Vernon Jackson just about the only real good colored boxer in the bantam class at present on the Coast and Herbi Kid Turchi the sensational little 18-year-old Italian have had almost parallel careers; both about the same age, both in school and both got going in the boxing game less than a year ago. Now they have both climbed so near the top that fans are clamoring to see them fight it out. So persistent has been the call that Pop Haberly, manager of Jackson, agreed but Johnny Fortes, manager of Turchi did not. His reasons were that while both boys are at the top and fighting often beating the same boys, when they are thrown in the ring together one or the other is sure to be eliminated. This which is really logical would work a hardship on that end so to stop all further clamor papers went drawn up between the two agreeing NOT TO FIGHT both other for a year.

Vic Alexander Was Over Cautious in Baker Battle at Culver City

DECLARES NEITHER "OUT" NOR SCARED

Vic Alexander the heavy-hitting winner of ten battles in a row and close to the top rung in the welterweight class, is not scared of Jack Baker, declares that the Frisco lad is all wrong about being either scared or walking out. He explains he was not party to any frame-up and that he had no fear whatever of Baker but he was cautious because he knew Baker was dangerous. He says that in fighting a leaper from his knees as Baker did against a tough boy like Jack Britton a year ago in which after receiving a knock-down he jumped right up and ran into another on Baker's part any more fights. THE BLACK SPORT WORLD THROUGH THE EYES OF ART HAMILTON

The biggest upset on the gridiron during the last week in my estimation was the California-U. S. C. game. I figured Nibs Prices' men to defeat the Jonesits by at least 2 touchdowns.

But U. S. C. played airtight football and made their own breaks and took them when they came.

The Bear ball packers just couldn't get started. Eisan was the only California man to make any yardage that amounted to anything. The Trojan forwards rushed Lom when he attempted to pass, and they had him spotted when it came to carrying the ball. The U. S. C. men out-played California in every department of the game except the kicking, and Lom lived up to his reputation as a wonderful kicker, averaging approximately 52 yards a boot.

The Eastern favorites did not suffer many set-backs. Yale seems to be a wonderful team after a poor start. The Eli boys smeared Dartmouth 30-0. The Army beat Bucknell 34-0. Harvard ran over Indiana 26-0.

• • •

I was watching the football game between the Wilshire Olympic and the N. N. B. Clubs. If that was a football game I'm a Chinaman. After the first quarter I lost count of the score. The N. N. B's. scored touchdowns at will if the boys had had their track suits on the spectators would have thought it was a field meet.

Let's talk boxing! George Godfrey added another scalp to his belt Monday night, October 31 by knocking out Tom Sayers, eastern heavyweight, in one round. This makes Godfrey's 17th straight K. O. If Godfrey keeps up his present pace he will undoubtedly land at the top of the heap.

TENNIS CHATTER

BY: JAS. S. HARRIS, JR.

Due to the fact that witches and goblins were abroad, this past week, and people were somewhat reluctant to venture on the court for fear of being carried to heights unknown; and also due to the segregation from the north that invaded this city for the big football game over last week-end, causing things to be ill a whirl, there has been very little tennis activity locally.

Johnny Conde in Picture With Lon Chaney

Johnny Conde who wrote the summer season's baseball news for the "Eagle," has been signed for a special bit in a new unnamed feature by the great Lon Chaney beginning next week. Johnny is an ex-fighter having made himself famous on the Coast in many thrilling lightning-fast battles of the four round days. He recently furnished a good part in the Main Event which called for his prowess in the ring. He is also an ex-Negro ball player having played some steadys with the "Aakes." Shipyard worker, sailor, timber cutter and various other occupations have fitted Johnny for a promising career in depicting characters both of the work-a-day world and the Underworld.

Townes, Benjamin and Dade Run Amuck and Orange Tornado Jolts Olympic 63 to 0

An improved N. N. B. team defeated the Olympic Club on Jefferson High School football field, before a colorful crowd of 500, Sunday, October 30. The Orange team may not be the best football team in the country, but they can play until the best team comes. The squad was at its peak last Sunday and played a brilliant game of football. The game got under way when "Greasy" Townes received a kick off and returned it 20 yards to the Olympic 40 yard line. After a success of line bucks and off tackle plays, the oval rested on the Olympic Club's 20 yard line and the next play Benjamin hit left tackle for a gain of 15 yards and first down on the Olympic Club's 5 yard line. On the next play Benjamin crashes off guard for touchdown, but Rosser failed to kick goal, and this started the slaughter of the Olympic Club.

There is one thing that can be said about the Olympic Club—they may not have the best team in town, but there is not a cleaner team than they are. Every man on the team is a thoroughbred sport and everyone plays a clean and scrappy game. Of course you must give the Olympic Club credit for their game stand but they were superiorally outplayed from start to finish.

The N. N. B's. went like a house on fire and displayed championhip class. The only department of the game that the Orange Team is lacking in, is against an aerial game which, if they wish to beat the great Merry Maker club, they must polish up, which is no easy job.

W. TOWNES UNSTOPABLE

"Greasy" was the star of the game. He carried the ball for large gains throughout the game. His judgment at quarter cannot be questioned. He piloted the team like a veteran and showed the earmarks of a general. This boy is on his way to land a berth on the all-club team. Townes made four touchdowns. Townes was unstopable on his off tackle plays and his interference was perfect.

"Warpie" Dade performed just as brilliantly while acting as pilot in the squad. "Warpie" is a little man but he is some football player. His work was the potent factor and the success of the team's brilliant showing.

The entire N. N. B's. forward wall was impregnable and the Olympic's attack was nullified. Horton, Brown, Cook, Dridden, Townes and Rosser tackled fiercely. Rosser's terrific tackling was responsible for injury of Harris, an Olympic club's back who was hit hard by Rosser, and caused hm to fumble, the pigskin being recovered by Rosser.

BENJAMIN WAS THERE

"Budie" Benjamin—that's what they call this plunging fullback, repeatedly smashed the Olympic line for a large gain. Benjamin went in with a bad leg but never let up in his terrific line plunging. Ponzo Allen showed same stuff that has made him famous. He was in there snagging passes and spilling interference time and again. This boy is really easy to look at and is a first class footballer.

ORANGE SQUAD UNCOVERS A FIND

H. Clay, subbing at full, was a real find. On his first play, an off tackle smash, he went over for a touchdown, from the 15 yard line, and from then on he was unstopable.

Capt. Townes at tackle played a wonderful game and is sure to make a name for himself and push the other competitors for a place on the All-Club Team. He is a deadly tackler and can also gallop with the pigskin. Martin at end played his best game. Time and again he went through the secondary defense of the Olympic club to nag the player before he could get started. This boy will bear watching as he is improving with us and he will be A-1 condition when the Merry Makers and N. N. B's. hook up.

"RUNT" BOYCE MISSED

The work of "Runt" Boyce was missed very much. Billy is really a nifty little ball lugger and can be relied upon any old time to deliver the goods. He will be ready to go when the referee blows his whistle on November 13, the game which will decide the championship. Johnson and Moore, taking turns at half, showed some class and these boys will be hard to stop later on in the season.

The Olympic Club can say for themselves that they have a fighting bunch of players who never give up until the final whistle. The club will be in much better shape on its next showing. The work of Carnegie and Hines were the outstanding points for the Olympics. Carnegie is a big man and is dangerous as long as he is on his feet. The fleet-footed Norman was unable to get going and that is the reason for the Olympic Club's defeat.

Next Sunday, the Merry Makers will tangle with the La Premiers. This is going to be a great game and everyone should come out. Game to be held at Synders field.

TUNNEY OFFERED $700,000 TO MEET GEO. GODFREY

Philadelphia, Pa.—Local business men have authorized the publication of an announcement that the sum of $700,000 awaits Gene Tunney the day he agrees to take on George Godfrey in a ten-round bout in this city, it was revealed today.

The announcement was made in a local daily paper and carries the sanction of "Gentleman Jim" Dougherty, manager of Godfrey, who agreed to accept $50,000 as his share of the gate.

Bethune-Cookman Wildcats Swamp Selden Institute of Brunswick Ga., 23-6, At Daytona Beach

By: (GHOST) MUNGEN

The Wildcats turned in their second victory of the season Friday, October 21, by defeating Selden Institute, of Brunswick, Georgia. The game was a hard fought one from the time the whistle was blown starting the game until the referee ended the game. Fifty of the sixty minutes found the ball in Selden's territory, far beyond the forty yard line, and the Wildcats scored at will.

The Wildcats' front wall saw much opposition, but they conquered it like real gridders. The backfield met with much less difficulty, for while the invincible line was holding, the backs were skirting the ends for from six to eight yards at a time. "Tim" Lundy gained more yardage than any other Wildcat, while "Snag" Waldon of the second team made the longest run, intercepting a pass on his thirty yard line, and not being stopped until he had raced to the opponents' eight yard line.

George Godfrey K. O's. Tom Sayers

George Godfrey the "black Shadow of Lupesville" knocked out Tom Sayen in 1 minute and 54 seconds of the first bell. The fight took place at Philadelphia.

Those who read the editorial in the columns of this paper last week on November truly must have smiled at our famous editor and the article. There is always an exception, and he must have dreamed what he penned. Dreamed that once more he was in Kansas spending November where all he wrote comes to pass. But here in California and especially Los Angeles, where flowers reach their perfection, where autumn leaves are ever absent, where as one motors over the highways the air is ever charged with the sweet and fragrant essence of numerous citrus groves, where mild welcome rains moisten the earth, and gentle zypher breezes instead of wild winds stir the atmosphere. Lawns look like velvet, snow is barred, old Jupiter Pulvis and the man in the moon conviving make overcoats a burden and artificial heat unnecessary, truly dear editor, we know not such a November as you speak of. As for turkeys, pumpkin pies and doughnuts, we readily assent but then we forgot, pardon us. We humbly apologize. Just came to us, you were writing of conditions on earth, while we were mentioning facts as they exist here in Heaven—we apologize.

Bootlegging in Traffic To Cease

Bootlegging in traffic is henceforth to cease. Of course this may be a new term applied to an old existing evil—that of tag-fixing.

No chance to look up your favorite cop, hand him the tag to have fixed and forget about it. When that dear, affable, sweet-liking, smiling, uniformed traffic policeman with the six-shooter strapped to his side accompanied by some 50 rounds of ammunition and a billy at his side reinforced by the authority of the law, hands you a tag just accept, for Los Angeles' new patent, quadruplicate, nonfixable traffic tag is now in effect. After this, according to Capt. Clyde Plummer, the only way to dispose of a traffic tag will be to post cash bail, make a court appear, or leave town.

"Taggees" will have five days in which to visit the new Traffic Bureau in the International Building, 118 West Temple street, after which, according to Captain Plummer, warrants will be issued. In minor offenses, bail equaling the usual fine can be deposited; in major ones the motorist will have to appear in court.

However, there is a silver lining to the situation. Tags will be issued, according to Captain Plummer, only for real violations of the traffic code, ending the present "borderline" citations.

HENRY ON HIS WAY

Henry Ford is finally on his way to production we hear. And everyone is glad of that. Especially the hundreds of Ford agencies who have witnessed a lean year. Many have been forced out of business, none have prospered. Then two thousands of employes have suffered a loss in wages and purchasing power, running into millions of dollars. All business has been slowed down waiting on Henry.

The first of the new models has been turned out and from now on production will pick up till it reaches 11000 a day, the new normal output. Thousands have placed orders ahead for a machine they never have seen but the Ford reputation is all they want, they are willing to take a chance and it looks like a sane one.

When your wife says, "You may say what you want to, but I know this is the right road," do you ever take advantage of your opportunity?

Why not a prize to the first girl who walks home a total of one hundred miles this fall?

OVER PRODUCTION

According to the government there is an over-production at present of oil and the waste is running into millions of dollars a day. This no doubt is true but from the present price of gas the motoring public can't realize or believe it. In the same breath one might state there is an over-production of automobiles. The saturation point has for the present been reached. Many dealers are advocating car owners buy good cars and keep them at least five years. Statistics tell us the average life of an automobile is now thirteen years, yet folks no more than get the old one paid for before they talk about purchasing a new one.

This brings about a tremendous waste of raw material that will give posterity something to worry about in years to come perhaps.

The thing to do is to try and take care of your auto and in doing so you will save money and too leave some material for posterity to work with.

Big business reminds one of some individuals who thing only of the present and themselves at the expense of coming generations.

You can't gauge a man's income by the size of his gas tank.

Jim: "How many will your car hold?"

Tim: "Pints or quarts?"

Highlights On New Motor Vehicle Law

A summary of the new automobile legislation which became effective last July and a reminder of the important points for motorists to remember are contained in the following discussion by the Legal Department of the National Automobile Club.

The speed-limit on open highways is now 40 miles an hour. Important to be remembered in connection with the new speed-limit are the facts that there is absolutely no "five mile" leeway and that reckless driving is in more disfavor than ever before. Remember that no matter at what speed a motorist is driving, if he is arrested for reckless driving, he will incur a severe penalty.

Hereafter, all applicants for drivers' licenses must submit to an examination. Tests of hearing and of eyesight must be passed; the successful applicant must show that he has a general knowledge of the California laws concerning the operation of motor vehicles, and must prove to the satisfaction of his examiners that he is competent of driving and of exercising proper care in the operation of a motor vehicle.

It is now mandatory upon the Division of Motor Vehicles to revoke for a period of twelve months the operator's or chauffeurs license of any person convicted of manslaughter resulting from the operation of a motor vehicle; or of any crime constituting a felony under the California Vehicle Act; or of any other felony in the commission of which a motor vehicle is used; or convicted upon three charges of reckless driving within a period of twelve months from the time of the first conviction.

The driver of any vehicle involved in an accident which results in death or serious injury to any person must make a report to the police station if the accident occurs in a city or town, or, if the accident take place in unincorporated territory, he must make a report direct to the Division.

Two headlights, no more and no less are the required equipment of every automobile. Not more than two spotlights are to be carried on any car. Any motor vehicle with a body or load width of more than eighty inches, must carry two clearance lamps. Lamps and bulbs used in sidelights are not to exceed four candle power. Sidelights include any lights the rays of which shine forward, except headlights, spotlights and auxiliary lights.

Failure or refusal of any person selling a car to deliver to the buyer a certificate of registration is a misdemeanor under the law as amended. Used car dealers must notify the Division of Motor Vehicles of every sale or transfer made.

Garagemen are required to report any cars remaining with them for a period of thirty days if the name of the owner is unknown to them.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 1.—Dr. R. R. Moton, prominent colored educator and successor of Booker T. Washington as president of Tuskegee Institute, took the rostrum during the first session of the fourth annual meeting of the National Council of the Y. M. C. A. at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, and led the group of 375 members of the Council in the singing of Negro spirituals.

"If you all were Negroes, I could lead you better," he remarked before the songs.

Out concluding the second song, "Lord, I want to be a Christian in my Heart," Dr. Moton said: "If we lived that, it would solve all the problems of the world."
